Mme. Sarojini Naidu, a leader of the Indian Nationalist movement and a delegate to the convention of the International Woman Suffrage Association, at a conference held June 10, explained publicly the status of the feminist movement in India, and in a personal interview with the Tribune correspondent she gave a highly interesting resume of the condition underlying the present position of women.

Where any European influences were manifested in India, according to Mme. Naidu, virtually complete equality of the sexes prevailed. No woman was ever prevented from taking a part in political affairs. This condition has persisted up to the present, in so far as strictly Indian assemblages are concerned, and Mme. Naidu stated that it was not at all unusual for a woman to be chosen to preside over some native assemblages numbering well over the thousands.

Suffrage up to Provincial Council.

"Look," she said, pointing around the hotel lobby in which she was seated.

"There were at least 1,000,000 women delegates to the convention. Do any of us look especially downtrodden? Do we apepar to have been held in bondage?"

The interviewer readily admitted that neither hypothesis seemed tenable.

"Two years ago," continued Mme. Naidu, "the British government decided to institute electoral reforms in India. The result was that 5,000,000 men were given the franchise based upon property qualifications.

"There were at least 1,000,000 women who would have been eligible to vote had the same qualifications been adopted for them. All of the political delegations which stated the suffrage case before the British Parliament

Asked that the vote be allowed both sexes—a striking proof of the manner in which men and women work together in Indian affairs.

"Parliament decided however to leave the determination of this matter to the new provincial council, which will meet for the first time next March. Inasmuch as the leaders of all the progressive parties—and the progressive element is greatly in the majority—have agreed in inserting equal suffrage planks in their platforms, it is very probable that equal suffrage will come soon after the council meets.

No Sex Discrimination.

"What I wish to emphasize is that the women in India are not engaged in a struggle to secure their rights from Indian men. Their interest is the interest of the men. There never was, and there never will be any sex discrimination in India."

In contrast to the colorful and picturesque attire of the Indian delegation was the modish European garb of Mme. Hanife Seidamet, wife of the president of the Tartar Parliament of the Crimea, who with her husband, is at present residing in Lausanne, Switzerland. The State of Crimea is one of those nations which as yet exists only by its own proclamation; that it it will not be found on a map, and has not been recognized by any of the great powers. It figures usually as a part of the Ukraine but it has petitioned the Supreme Council that the mandate for its development be given to Poland, with which state it claims close political and national ties.

Mme. Seidamet is proud of the fact that her country is the first Moslem one in which women have ever received a vote. Shortly after the Russian revolution in 1917 representatives from different parts of the Crimean peninsula met and proclaimed their independence. A part of the proclamation was the inclusion of universal suffrage.

Women in Tartar Parliament.

At present there are 68 members of the Tartar Parliament ,of whom five are women, and in the municipal councils of the Crimean Tartar Republic, as the country over which the Parliament claims sovereignty is officially styled, women are represented on a basis nearly equal with that of men.

Asked if the extension of suffrage to women was not contrary to the Moslem religion, Mme. Seidamet smiled.

"We have already noticed its beneficial effects," she said.

The old order changes and the Westerner's notion of the Orient as the one place where women still are held in absolute subjugation, a notion that has been held long and universally, aparently will have to be revised if it is to be kept in accordance with the facts.

IBANEZ DISCLAIMS CAVE MAN IDEAS

WANTS TO GET THAT "TREAT 'EM ROUGH" TALK STRAIGHT.

NEW YORK, — Vicente Blasco Ibanez, Spain's foremost modern novelist, who was represented as being an advocate of "treat 'em rough" tactics as the best way to control the overindependent American woman, says he was misrepresented and he wants to get the matter straight before he returns to Spain—he expects to sail about June 9. He wants to correct the "unfortunate" impression creater by an "inaccurate" account of an interview given by him to a Philadelphia reporter a few months ago.

"I don't hold it against that Philadelphia reporter," he said in a recent interview," but he doesn't speak good French. At any rate, he did not understand me on that occasion.

"Certainly I am not an advocate of cave man tactics. I do not believe in rought treatment for the women. I have never treated them roughly. I am just the opposite myself. I am even abashed in the presence of women.

"The articles, published and republished all over your country about my criticism of the way American women are treated, got me into no end of trouble A woman in Europe who is a friend of mine, after reading the article wrote me a note saying: "My! How you must have changed in New York!"

Other friends in Europe wrote him asking "how he got that way?" or words to that effect. And he had to write letters of explanaion.

"And acquaintances that I had made in America," he continued, "stopped me on all corners to congratulate me on the marvelous success of my publicity venture. And lots of people still believe I really said it in order to get my name before the public.

What He Really Said.

"What I really said to the Philadelphia reporter was this: American women have too many liberties—much more than in any other countries. Some of them take advantages of these liberties; I should say less than half of them do take advantage of them.

"I do not think I am narrow in my views on the subject. I am in favor of woman suffrage, and I approve of women in business. I think women should have all reasonable liberties.

"But many women, you know, have the tendency to become tyrants. All they need is the chance to become tyrants, and on the hither side of that chance is where I think a limit should be established. I do not want to be a tyrant myself, but I certainly would not consider a situation bearable where womankind had the upper hand.'

"Do you think the American woman less modest than women of other nations, and then she should be?"

"That can't be explained in five words," he said. "You Americans want the biggest problems solved in the fewest words and the shortest time. You are all like Gordon Bennett in that. Gordon Bennett went to lunch in Paris one day with a member of the Institute of Astronomy. Durin gthe lunch Mr. Bennett said to him 'One of these nights I want you to explain in fifteen minutes all about the stars and the heavens.' "

Informal as to Attire.

The interviewer refrained from arguing the question, for Senor Blasco Ibanez is a very impatient man, and at times perhaps a little irritable.

Also he is of a very informal sort He doesn't worry about morning, afternoon or evening dress, but apparently considers one type of costume fitting for all "at home" functions. The reporter has visited him at his quarters in the Felix-Portland Hotel on three occasions, and on each he was wearing pajamas and a bathrobe. Visitors come and go, ladies and gentlemen alike, and Blasco Ibanez, in a nice old bathrobe, easy slippers and black and white pajamas, sits and talks to them all and doesn't seem a bit abashed.

"Is America money-mad?" the reporter asked.

"America is a business country," Senor Ibanez replied. "People are busier here than in other countries. There are many people seeking money but there are others who are not. But New York—you've everything, every sort of person here."

Five American Groups.

"But what about America's profiteers—men who are becoming disgustingly rich by robbing other men?"

"Oh, the same thing is happening all over the world," was the answer. "Profiteering is bad, very bad; but, as a whole, humanity is not good. The party who complains will do the same if he gets a chance."

Ibanez has travelled in all sections of the United States. When he gets back to Spain he purposes to write several novels which will carry his impressions of America. He intends to weave his stories into American settings, but he admits that he has had more to learn about America than he had imagined.

"In my mind," he said, "I have divided the people of the United States into about five groups. The people of New York form a separate group, for New York is not like any other part of the United States. Another group are the people of the east, as represented by the people of Boston, Philadelphia and such cities. The central figure of a third group is Chicago. The other two groups are the people of the Far West, for example, California, and the people of the south."

Senor Ibanez would not point out any characteristics that distinguish the people of one group from these of another, but he did admit, when pressed and encouraged, that least of all his groups the people of the south have forgot how to be happy. The reason he would not go into detail, he said, is because he is going to write a book on the subject.

CONTROL OF MUNICIPAL EXPENDITURE

Pressure is being brought to bear on municipal councils in all parts of Canada towards raising expenditures to new levels based upon present inflated values. Considering the fact that cities are faced with a severe business depression, which will be accompanied by falling real estate values, reduced revenue, and much unemployment, a strengthening in municipal finances is much more important at the present time. Public works undertaken now would mean abnormally high interest charges over a difficult period. Municipal employees, in a spirit of opportunism, are trying establish permanent wage scales at present levels, and have not hesitated to use their extensive political influence in this direction. It is usually overlooked that wages prevailing in industry vary more than those of public officials, and that while they have risen more rapidly than have the latter, they will also fall more quickly and to a corresponding extent. Public expenditures are reduced only with great diffuilty, and municipal councils should, therefore, strive to prevent their rise.

The difficulty is aggravated in some cities by the delegation of too much authority to bodies other than the council, where such bodies are not required to submit their estimates in detail, the best practice in public finance is violated. In national government in Great Britain, the United States and Canada, and in states and provinces on this continent, detailed estimates are placed before the legislature, which is thus enabled to reduce appropriations to amounts suitable to the wishes of the taxpayers. Municipal councils are just as competent in proportion to their responsibilities, and methods which have worked so well in national and provincial governments are equally applicable in the municipal sphere. In Toronto, the board of education and the board of police commissioners, the finances of which are not subject to a detailed examination by the council, have submitted estimates for greatly increased expenditure, including new wage scales which are even higher than wages paid for similar work elsewhere, yet the most the city council can do is endeavour to have the totals reduced. It is to be expected that such bodies should be in sympathy with their employees, but the final decision on questions of expenditure should rest with the elective council which is looked upon as being responsible for the tax rate, and which, therefore, best expresses the wishes of the electors.—Journal of Commerce.

TOLD SOVIETS TRUTHS UNHEARD OF SINCE

AMERICAN ENGINEER DISAPPEARED LAST WINTER.

LONDON, June 19.—(By Letter).—Royal C. Keely, an American engineer, recently arrested by Bolshevik authorities as he was about to leave Russia where he had executed an industrial commission for the Soviet Government, incurred the displeasure of the Soviets because he "told the truth, plain and unvarnished," Nicholas Isnard, chairman of the All-Russian Central Council of Trade and Industry, said upon his arrival here. Isnard fled from Russia where, he declared, "the misery and disclocation of life is complete."

The fate of the American has not been learned. According to Isnard, Keely went to Russia in September, 1919, at the invitation of the Bolshevik Government, and as an expert on technical and industrial organization was asked to make a complete report to the Soviet Government "on ways and means to save the Russian industrial situation."

"On his arrival in Russia, Keely was received with great honors and exceptional facilities were afforded him to travel all over the country," Isnard said. "He visited the industrial concerns of Petrograd and Moscow, travelled to the great textile centre of Ivanovo-Vosnesensk, and to the coal mines of the Donetz, and completed his trip by a tour in the Urals.

"Upon his return to Moscow in January, 1920, Keely was lodged in the commissariat of foreign affairs, in the famous palace whether othdistinguished visitors later found a sumptuous welcome and the Kremlin intimated its great desire for his report. Here the American committed his first and greatest mistake. In his report he told the Soviets the truth, plain and unvarnished. The gist of his report can be resumed as follows:

"The industrial concerns of Petrograd and Moscow are ruined completely, and it will need years to get them into some sort of working order. The machines and tools are in a disorderly condition, rapidly deteriorating, and many vital parts are lacking. All skilled labor seems to have disappeared completely. The Donetz coal mines are in a very bad position also, and will need two or three years to put them straight. The work in the Urals are in a better condition and could be tuned up quickly. But nothing useful can be achieved until alf decrees against property and personal security are annulled."

Isnard declared Keely, in an explanatory note gave "extraordinary examples of Bolshevik administrative incompetence," one of which was that boilers of the electrical station in Petrograd were kept going for some time by stoking them with all the great stores of mahogany accumulated in the car-building shops there.

After this report Keely's position changed completely, Isnard continued, and although he prevailed upon the foreign commissariat to give him a permit to leave the country, he was arrested at the frontier, and since then nothing has been heard about him.

PRISONERS CONFESSED TO BURNING CHURCH

SUDBURY, July 7.—Ferdinand Rochon and Felix Courchesne arrested on a charge of setting fire to the Roman Catholic Church at Bigwood recently, admitted to Detective Storey that they committed the crime. This face was brought out at the preliminary hearing which took place before Magistrate Brodie, and Detective Storey said that when arrested Courchesne said that he had helped set fire to the church. Rochon made a similar confession at the time. He claimed that they had started the blaze with birch bark and gasoline and that Courchesne had put planks on top of the birch bark so that it would not burn up too fast. No defense was offered and both men were committed to be tried by Judge and Jury at the next criminal assizes.

MIDDLE WEST CROPS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

NO DANGER OF THE COUNTRY STARVING THIS YEAR.

(The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 8.—Marked improvement in the principal food crops of the middle west has been reported in the last few weeks, in contrast to unfavorable prospects earlier in the season which gave rise to some alarm. "There is no danger that the country will starve this year," is the comment that J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, made on reviewing the situation.

President Howard reported that the corn prospect was now very fair and that wheat was really better. Corn production promised to be a little under normal, but it was well cultivated and clean and would turn out well with good weather in July and August.

While the wheat crop would not be normal, the crop condition was very fair. As against a lighter acreage there was a heavy carry over. Mr. Howard estimated that 30 per cent. of last year's wheat remained on Kansas farms today. In Kansas and Oklahoma a better wheat crop than last year is expected.

Oats were very short and showed no improvement, Mr. Howard added. Crops are reported late.

North Dakota sends words of better crop conditions than for several years.

TO CONSOLIDATE EXPRESS SERVICES

WILL AVOID DUPLICATION—SPECIAL EXPRESS TRAIN WILL BE RUN.

The services of the Canadian Express Company and the Canadian National Express Company are now being co-ordinated in accordance with the general plan adopted in connection with the railway lines of the two systems. The changes made will avoid duplication of service and secure increased efficiency.

Officers of the two companies are working in close harmony under direction of the Board of Management, and already arrangements have been made whereby at common points where both express companies have maintained separate offices, staffs and waggon service, they will be consolidated and managed under a joint agent in the interest of both companies. Consolidations have been effected at the following points: Hawkesbury, Brockville, Napanee, Kingston, Belleville, Trent, Port Hope, Cobourg, Oshawa, North Bay and Pembroke, Ont.; Regina, Moose Jaw and Saskatoon, Sask.; Calgary and Edmonton, Alta. Similar steps will be taken at the larger cities as soon as details can be worked out.

Arrangements have been made for the operation by the Canadian Express Company between Toronto and Montreal (also serving intermediate points) of a train carrying express shipments exclusively. This train will leave Toronto, eastbound, at 9.30 p.m., and leave Montreal, westbound, at 8.30 p.m., arriving at destination in time to secure delivery to express in the cities concerned early on the following morning. This special express train will be made up of cars that have hitherto been hauled between these points on the night passenger trains. It will ensure the prompt handling of express and at the same time present the possibility of delays to passenger trains.

A daily express service, instead of tri-weekly as heretofore, has also been established from Montreal and from Toronto to Winnipeg, Man., and Vancouver, B.C., in connection with the new passenger train service which has been inaugurated.

The service of the Canadian Express Company has been extended over the Halifax and South Western Railway from Halifax to Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, thus giving the public in that portion of Nova Scotia a through direct express service to the West.

Mrs. Galyon Notifies Church That She is "Revealed' 'as Leader.

BOSTON.—Carrie Barbour Galyon, a dissenter from the Christian Science situation which arose when the directors and trustees became involved in litigation, has proclaimed herself "revealed as the successor of Mary Baker Eddy," and has served written notice of the revelation upon the boards, attorneys and parties in the court controversy.

Mrs. Galyon resigned from the Mother Church a year ago, after she charged the board with an attempt to oust her. She went to New York, but returned here several months later at the request, it was said, of a large number of adherents.

She has since been the leader of a group opposing the directors and trustees, whose court action Mrs. Galyon characterized as "a disgraceful wrangle, which would have been avoided if the officers of the church obeyed Mrs. Eddy's law and permitted her successor to be chosen by the people."

FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP UNDECIDED C.G.E. AND G.W.V.A. A DRAW, 2-2

BOTH TEAMS START WITH TEN MEN—C.G.E. OPENED THE SCORING—SHARMAN VETS MARKSMAN—AN EVEN FIRST HALF—BOTH DEFENCES GOOD—NORMAN HITS THE BAR—GRIFFINE'S SPECTACULAR SAVE—VETS LEAD UNTIL FIVE MINUTES TO GO—TURNER SCORED—A DRAW.

A very gratifying attendance of spectators witnessed the League Championship Game last evening at the Exhibition Grounds and in spite of the heavy downpour of rain previous to the game the players and officials were ready for the fray as the rain stopped.

The official referee—Mr. Alex. McKinley—examined the ground and considered the pitch unsatisfactory, but he immediately consulted the two captains who were agreeable to play on the sodden field of clay and pools of water.

The Vets captain, as per usual, lost the toss and left the choice of ends to C.G.E. When the teams lined up the C.G.E. were minus Mann (left half back) and Peel (left half back) of the Vets an absentee.

The Teams

C.G.E.—J. Naples, goal; B. Mason and J. W. McDonald, backs; A. Parkins, H. Turner, and A. Bestard, halfbacks; A. Manders, C. Hotston, A. Gash, T. Bartley, and T. Hotston, forwards.

G.W.V.A.—C. Griffine, goal; Harry Gamble and A. Bishop, backs; H. Burrows, P. D. Ryan, and J. Peel, halfbacks; C. Curtiss, T. Monks, H. Norman, A. Edwards, and J. Sharman, forwards.

Referee—Mr. Alex. McKinley.

Linesmen—Jack Cridland and Alex. Dick.

Goal Referee—Wilfred Jones and Stewart McMillan.

The Game

On starting both teams had only ten men and Manders on the right wing caused the first flutter when he centred beautifully to Ted Hotston to put past. Play went to the other end for McDonald to punt down again into the Vets' goal where Ted Bartley skied the ball over the bar. From the goal-kick Sharman tore down the wing to beat Parkins, then crossed to Curtiss who was dilatory in front of goal. McDonald cleared down to mid-field. Ryan caught on and shot across to Curtiss on the wing and from a peculiar position made Naples look smart to clear his goal.

Peel Came on the Field

Bestard filled Mann's position and Peel arrived about 7 minutes after the start. He made himself conspicuous right away by spoiling the C. G. E.'s combination. Then the famous wing returned again ("Wag") to test Griffine with a close drive. The goal keeper kicked up the field for Turner to place the ball back into goal, he jumped to stop the shot but before he could clear the slippery ball, three C.G.E. players were right in on him.

Ted Hotston Touched the Ball Through.

Griffine tried hard to clear the situation but he let the ball drop fof Ted Hotston to touch it through easily. A foul against Hotston gave the Vets a chance to raid the C.G.E. goal, but Mason cleared to Manders and Hotston. They worked nicely down the field until Wag was brought up for offsides. An individual effort by Edwards made things lively in C. G. E. area when he lashed the ball across the goal mouth to Harry Norman who was checked in nick of time by McDonald.

Sharman Made No Mistake

Burrows returned the play to Curtiss on the right wing. Bestard tried to intervene but the Vets' outside right left him standing as he lifted the ball over McDonald's head to Norman who tested Naples but it came across to Sharman who made no mistake with his parting shot. Manders and Hotston were getting all the play with Peel holding the pair in check. The crowd were entertained to trick football by the C.G.E. right wing in the corner but the Vets' left halfback took no chances when it came to getting rid of the ball.

Gamble Forced the Play

The Vets' captain was giving his team mates great encouragement and many a time he was noticed up in the forward line but it might have caused some trouble as was demonstrated a few minutes afterwards when Bishop headed past for a corner. From the resulting kick McDonald punted over the cross-bar. Edwards and Sharman carried the ball into the corner but a foul was awarded the C.G.E. for some illegal tactics. Mason took the kick that went to Turner who gave Griffine a hot one to handle. Immediately thereafter a foul throw against Gamble made the Vets hustle as McDonald shot hard into the goal. Griffine jumped into the air with his two arms outstretched to clear in a masterly style that brought cheers from the spectators. Peel lashed the ball forward to Norman who made straight for goal and just about beat Naples. Play was in mid-field when half-time was sounded.

Half-time

From the blow of the whistle the Vets raided the C.G.E. through Sharman to go past. Offside against Ted Hotston on the C.G.E. left wing gave Harry Gamble a free kick. He placed the ball up the wing to Curtiss and Monks who was just a trifle late to catch the ball as it rolled past. Just afterwards the Vets' right wing bewildered McDonald in nice combination and a timely pass to Norman in front of goal left Naples in good position to stop the ball as the Vets' centre-forward tried to lift it in below the crossbar.

Norman Hits the Crossbar

The Vets had the best of the game so far and it was only good fortune that saved the C.G.E. citadel when Norman struck the bar with a rocket shot. A break-away by Monks left the C.G.E. backs behind until Alf. Parkins came across to block him as he let drive for goal. Norman returned again and slipped a nice pass to Sharman, but Parkins fell upon the ball to stop the game. Play went to the other end where Peel was compelled to kick to touch when the C.G.E. wing were making a promising raid. From the throw-in Manders worked a corner of Bishop that was fruitless. Ryan punted past at the C.G.E. end and from the goal-kick Peel landed the ball to Edwards. He passed to Sharman but Mason kicked the ball against him that slightly winded him.

The Vets Scored

The Vets' outside left made a beeline for goal to slip a nice pass to Monks who compelled Naples to save. The ball seemed to be through but the custodian held on until the Vets forwards carried it through. Encouraged by their success the Vets overrun the C.G.E. but could not penetrate the excellent defence of Mason and McDonald. Offside against two Vets relieved the pressure. A solo run by Curtiss on the right left all the players up the field and from the corner touch line made Naples come out to clear his oblique shot. He came back twice in succession a little while later to keep the C.G.E. goalkeeper busy with nice tries.

A Parkins Winder

While the Vets were pressing, Parkins and Sharman made from the ball at the same time that left the Vets player with it but Parkins was winded and required attention.

Griffine's Excellent Save

Quick as a flash "Wag" got the better of Ryan and running at a fast pace with the ball at his foot into the Vets goal was robbed of a sure goal when Griffine threw his whole body with his arms outstretched right across the goal to save. Even and interesting exchanges took place until Ted Hotston placed a beautiful corner into the middle of the goals for Turner to equalise for the C.G.E.

C.G.E. Players Rampant

As usual the C.G.E. were rampant during the last five minutes and have pulled many a game into a victory during the last few minutes. The Vets took things too easy while they had the lead and fell away in last period that gave the C.G.E. a chance to make havoc. Nothing of interest happened from this until the end of the game.

Final—C.G.E. 2, G.W.V.A. 2.

Analysis of the Game

The following analysis will give the referee's decisions and run of the play:

G.W.V.A.	1st half	2nd half	Total
Goals	1	1	2
Goal-kicks	5	7	12
Corners	1	0	1
Fouls	1	1	2
Offside	1	1	2

C. G. E.	1st half	2nd half	Total
Goals	1	1	2
Goal-kicks	6	11	17
Corners	1	3	4
Fouls	1	1	2
Offsides	1	3	4

NOTES ON THE GAME.

A great mount of credit goes to Referee McKinley, who gave both teams a fair and square deal in every decision he made. He was the hardest-worked man on the field.

Griffine, the Vets' goalkeeper, carried off the honours of the game by his spectacular saves in goal.

The full backs of both teams were excellent. At half-back Peel was a demon in checking and placing and held the C.G.E. wing from doing any harm. Burrows was next in line, and Ryan had an off-day.

The C.G.E. team owes Turner a debt of gratitude for scoring the equalising goal with the head. He arose from a sick-bed to play the game and still does not feel well.

All the forwards played a nice clean game and particular mention must be given to Sharman who was the outstanding player forward and repeatedly fell back to aid his comrades.

LACROSSE

The lacrosse team will practice this evening at the Exhibition park in preparation for the game with Hastings at the Orange celebration here on Monday. The team for Monday's game will be picked to-night. All the players are asked to attend.

Following his doctor's order Jack Creighton is giving up the game although he may turn out for some of the practices in order to help the younger players. Dr. Harvey advised him against continuing in strenuous games.

COMPENSATION FOR LOSSES IN IRELAND

GOVERNMENT TO INTRODUCE BILL —LOCAL AUTHORITIES ARE OPPOSED.

DUBLIN, July 8.—The net result of the recent county council elections is that now both in the cities and in the counties in 28 out of the 32 counties the local government is in direct hostility to the central government.

The first conflict between them will arise out of the question of paying compensation for outrage. Every day the judges are awarding to the relatives of murdered policemen, to injured policemen, and to the owners of burned police premises large sums as compensation chargeable on the local rates. The total already runs up close to £750,000.

The local authorities have refused to collect taxes for these payments. In the case of some of them the government can secure money by deductions from the sums payable to the local authorities by the imperial exchequer in relief of local taxes.

In the majority of cases the parties awarded compensation have only acquired a right to sue the local authorities in the courts for the money. It is believed that even after judgment is given, the local authorities will refuse to pay. Many of them have passed resolution saying they will recognize no authority save that of Dail Eireann.

The government has decided to introduce a bill in Parliament to enforce payment of this compensation money.

LARGE FAMILIES.

(Orillia Packet.)

Bonusing large families is favoured by the Lindsay Post. Also by the Mitchell Advocate, no doubt, whose editor some years ago announced the arrival of a daughter as company for 11 (or was it 12?) brothers who had 11 (or was it 13?) brothers who had preceded her. The promise made then was that the little girl would be christened "Enough," and perhaps she was.

CAMPBELLFORD BASEBALL TEAM GAVE PETERBORO OUTFIT REAL BAD SCARE

THE LOCALS PULLED THROUGH BY A NARROW MARGIN—A CLOSE UP OF THE GAME—HOME TEAM MADE A GRAND FINISH.

After nicking the Campbellford defence for a total of five runs, in their holiday game at the Trent River town yesterday afternoon, Cressman's Big Store nine encountered some red hot opposition from the home crowd in their last of the ninth, the Campbellford lads jazzing along the runways for four runs, and turning what had all the earmarks of a shutout into a wild and woolly finish making the score 5 to 4 for the visiting team.

The Campbellford athletes had everything but uniform and Gillespie their gunman, gave Cressman a mighty hard struggle. This heaver's appearance in Campbellford was surrounded with much mystery and somebody was pleased to call him an "import". But he delivered the goods and was backe d up in good shape by his teammates.

The game was splendidly contested Twenty-three putouts were made at first base, DeGraw getting thirteen of them, on which Bartley had eight assists. Holmes, the Campbellford catcher missed the third strike on three batters but by quick and accurate work caught them all at the bag, Killeen, playing second base for the home gang had a double play unassisted when he spreared a hard drive from Bartley and nipped DeGraw off the second pillow. Weston at first base picked up everything his only miscue being a bad throw to second in trying for a double killing. Holmes went into the crowd and grabbed two difficult foul flies. Blakely playing left field put a dent in the run getting by taking hard hit flies from Hunter and Pearson.

In six innings, Bartley retired the side in order and nobody got on till the fourth when after two were gone Holmes beat out a hit down third, White was deadheaded but the rally was nipped by Willis Pearson who took a hard chance on Westons fly.

But Campbellford's finish was immense, Blakely started it by sending a grounder to Hunter, the ball bounding badly at a small "ravine". Montgomery lined to Pearson who threw to Sage, the ball getting through and both runners were safe. Holmes singled scoring Blakely and Weston dropped the ball in short right field Whitlow making a gallant but unsuccessful run. Montgomery scored on the hit and Weston made second. Both Holmes and Weston scored when Pearson in an attempt to head off Holmes at the plate threw low to the plate the crowd near the line adding difficulty to the play. Cobb took a pop fly from Welsh and De Graw nabbed Killeen's liner in time to retire the runner at the bag.

Fast work by De Graw gave Cressmas their first run. Hitting to right field and taking advantage of the fielder's slow work, DeGraw made third and scored when Bartley's foul fly was taken by Welsh who had to go far from his bag to field the ball.

Two more come in the sixth, Whitlow drew a hit and stole. The next two fanned. Bartley hit through the shortstop and Whitlow scored. Cobb hit Bartley home, Pearson tried to keep up the good work but Blakely robbed him of a hit by a well-judged catch.

Another tally arrived in the eighth Whitlow getting his second hit. He stole second and third and went home on DeGraw's hit.

In the ninth Cobb singled, Pearson was thrown out by the catcher. In attempting to get Cobb going into second, Weston threw wild, the runner taking third. He scored when Rutherford hit through short. Graham hit into left, a nice peg by Blakely getting Rutherford at third, retiring the side.

The box score:

TWO GAMES IN THE CITY LEAGUE

Last night's downpour resulted in the postponing of the City League fixture between Canadian General and Canadian Woollens.

The City League will, however, stage a double-header at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon, the Thistles and Woollens clashing in the first game at 2 o'clock and the C.G.E. and Vets in the second contest. Both games promise to be hard fought and interesting, for the quality of ball played in the League is steadily improving.

BELLEVILLE-LINDSAY GAME.

On Wednesday of next week, 14th July, the Belleville ball nine are due to visit Lindsay. The Greybirds are finding themselves, and have taken heart at their humbling of Cobourg recently, says the Lindsay Post.

The boys are practising hard and will give a good account of themselves. The fans are urged to reserve the date to witness a good ball game.

BASEBALL PARK A MODERN FORUM OF FREE SPEECH

The lure of the sport plays no favorites. Its appeal is universal. The crowd which jams the grandstands at a ball game constitutes the most informal assemblage in the world. This crowd is 110 proof democratic and unconventional. Judge, doctor, banker, baker, newsboy, clerk, clergymen, laborer—they can all sit in the same row of seats in the grandstand, and all feel perfectly at home. No introductions are necessary at the ball game. All you have to do to get acquainted with the man next to you is to make some remark against some player he happens to admire. Then you will remember him for life.

The ball park is the open forum of free and untrammeled speech. It is the one place in the world where you can speak right out loud and get away with it.

It is a mental relaxation to the man with a tired brain. The game gets a man out in the open air during the best time of the afternoon. A pitching battle, a rally of heavy hitting, sparkling gems of skillful fielding and daring base running—all these things are likely to happen in any ball game, and it is the joy of the unexpected which keeps the spectator on edge for nine innings.

The ball park is a graveyard for grouches. A man goes to the playground with a sad face and heavy heart, and before the game is two innings old a player has grabbed the ball out of the air with one fin and this same grumpy citizen is on his toes yelling like a fifteen-year-old kid. You can't carry many worries in your top-piece and follow an exciting baseball game at the same time.

COBOURG HERE FOR A GAME ON THE "TWELFTH"

The visit of the Cobourg team on Monday for a Central League game with the Petes, will give the glorious Twelfth visitors as well as local fans a chance to see a fast game of ball. Cobourg gave the Petes one of the hardest battles they have had this season in the game two weeks ago at Cobourg, the Solomon crew winning out in the ninth by one run. The Lakeshore gang will be out with their strongest line-up on Monday and the local crowd will have to fight all the way for the verdict. It promises to be a snappy ball game and a great crowd is expeted. The game is called for 3.30 o'clock, which will give the fans plenty of time to see the big Orange parade.

FOOTBALL GAME SATURDAY EVENING

RE-PLAY AT EXHIBITION GROUNDS BETWEEN C.G.E. AND G.W.V.A. AT 6.30 PROMPT.

The Football Executive heid a meeting after the draw game last evening at the Exhibition Grounds and decided to play the replay on Saturday evening at the Exhibition Grounds with the same officials acting accordingly. Kick-off at 6.30 and to play full 45 minutes. Price of admission will be 30 cents (including war tax) and tickets can be had from any of the players.

SAYS JAKE WOULD BE A MOVIE STAR

The Port Hope Guide says: Jake Solomon is some pleader for his ball team, and the way he paced up and down that room at the Executive meeting last evening telling all the good qualities of his team would make a real interesting book. And when necessary Jake can produce the tears without the assistane of a bag of onions under his collar as is used by the moving picture artists. Jake can shed the real crocodile ones and he is losing time managing a ball team. He should be playing the leading role in some sad scene with the movies.

LOCAL FOOTBALL GOSSIP

SPECIAL MEETING TO-NIGHT AT 7.30 SHARP.

A special meeting of the Football Association will be held in Mr. Fred Sutcliffe's barber shop to-night at 7.30 prompt. The business to be discussed is the proposition of cup ties for a football trophy, that has been returned to the Association.

Mr. George Coleman and Mr. Andrew Muir were appointed as G.W.V.A. football representatives on the Association at a recent meeting.

Mr. Alex. Dick and Mr. Alex McArthur are the Caledonian representatives.

Mr. Rae and Everall the C.G.E. representatives and Mr. Cook De Laval.

The Canadian Woollens will appoint their representative to-night at a special meeting to be held in the Windsor Hotel.

The Comrades are requested to send their representatives.

Members are requested to be on hand promptly at 7.30, as the business will be through in twenty minutes.

GAME IN LAKEFIELD.

The Bohunks ball team play in Lakefield next Tuesday night the East Peterborough aggregation, and a battle royal will result. The youngsters have a string of wins to their credit. They defeated Keene on their own grounds. Keene and Lakefield are tied in the league, so it promises to be a lively fixture.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

The Wm. Hamilton Co. hereby accept the challenge of the Peterborough Lock Works to play a game of baseball in the Nicholls Oval Friday evening, July 16th, at 6.15 o'clock. R. C. Flitton, Secretary.

NO SHOOT TO-NIGHT.

There will be no shoot of the Peterborough Gun Club to-night, but next Friday night there will be a spoon shoot at which a number of visitors are expected.

Yes, Rose, when a man is engaged in beating a carpet it's up to his wife to be around and see that he doesn't put his thoughts into words.

CHALLENGE FOR FOOTBALL GAME

Warsaw, July 9th, 1920.

Sporting Editor Examiner:

Sir,—Perhaps it may be of interest to know that Mr. Hilliard Darling (capt.) and N. E. Crowe (manager), of the Warsaw intermediate soccer team, have been busy organizing a junior team in Warsaw. The players are between the ages of 12 and 15 years, and under the management of Clifford Selkirk, capt., and Wesley Stark, manager. They will gladly meet any team at this age. I am,

Yours truly,
HECTOR MUNRO.
Sec-Treas. Warsaw Juniors.

POOR SPORTSMANSHIP

From the Toronto Globe

To the Editor: I was present on July 1 at a ball game at Peterborough between the local nine and the Belleville team. The game was very close and exciting, and upon the base umpire making an obviously bad decision a section of the crowd of spectators rushed upon the field, took hold of him, and would but for the timely interference of the police and players have thrown him into the river, and very likely have handed him even worse treatment.

Now this is not the first time that such incidents as this have occurred of late years. A similar incident occurred at Kitchener, Ont., last fall when an Alderman was badly maltreated by a cowardly mob—because it can be called by no other word than cowardly for a mob to attack a single man, no matter how reprehensible his offense. I maintain that this is a very poor spirit to show, and it should be cried down by press and pulpit, and the young should be taught a higher ideal of sportsmanship than that which obtains in a baseball following.

In baseball both players and spectators as a rule show poor sportsmanship. If a man while doing his very best makes an error, why should he be boohed off the field, and similarly if an umpire makes a mistake on a job which is notoriously hard to fill satisfactorily, why should players run at him as if he had committed a crime?

The fact is in nearly all sport there is too much of the win-at-any-cost spirit shown. The idea is to win, no matter how you do it. It is even thought clever and quite right to play dirty if it is going to help win. Now, obviously, the correct thing should be to play a good clean game and win if possible, but not at the sacrifice of one's honor. How much more enjoyment there would be in a game of baseball for all if it did not matter much about winning.

The way to remedy this, in my opinion, is to have appointed specialists in sport at all public schools who should teach boys and girls not only how to play games properly, but also teach them to have high ideals concerning sport. We are away behind the Old Country in this matter of sport in the schools, and certainly a lot could be done at small expense. Sport plays such a large part, and rightly so, in everyone's daily life that it is worth while to spend a little money to make higher ideals prevail.

CONTINUOUS AVDERTISING. THE BEST.

Ten failures are caused by too little advertising to every one that is caused by too much advertising, members of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce were told at their annual meeting and banquet by S. F. Fannon, one of five experts sent though the country by the National Cash Register Co. to deliver addresses on "The Troubles of the Retail Merchant and How to Stop Them." "One of the axioms of modern business is that advertising pays," said Mr. Fannon. "Continuous advertising in the same newspaper advertising and advertising in the same newspaper space steadily are best."

HAIL, HAIL, THE GANG'S ALL HERE

There is no telling what the 'movies" will do next. They try to hold the mirror up to nature, and sometimes they succeed. But often the "movie" mirror has a crack in it, and nature isn't reflected exactly as she is. Yet nature herself often does the unexpected, as when she brnigs forth a cowboy motion picture star wh ohas a peculiar knack in confusing his ranching songs with the patriotic airs of his country.

Louis Bennison is the cowboy who is guilty of such misdeed, and he gives evidence of it in his latest Betzwood-Goldwyn picture, "A Misfit Earl," which will be shown at the Allen Theatre Frday and Saturday. In the picture Mr. Bennison plays the role of an American cowboy who journeys to England to claim his share of his grandfather's estate. But the old castle is a lonesome place with three frigidly polite relatives and a host of servants who keep religiously to themselves. The cowboy, who has always been accustomed to good cheer and lively company, cannot bear the loneliness of dining by himself. So he adjournes to the servants' quarters and forces himself upon the help. At first their reecive him coldly, but later warm up to his jolly manner and strange American ways. Finally, when they are thoroughly in accord with his mood, he announces that he will teach them the American national anthem. The servants express their willingness, and the cowboy begins to sing:

"Hail, Hail, theg gang's all here."

Little by little the servants master the words and the music. But up in the drawing room the American's aristocratic relatives are horrified at the words of the song and come trooping down to lecture the "help." But they find their "impossible" cousin, who lines them up in the scullery and teaches them the noble words of the song. Then he leads his full chorus at the point of a gun.

Several humorous incidents in "A Misfit Earl" give Louis Bennison the opportunity to reveal his unusual gifts as a comedian. The star is surrounded with an unusually able cast, headed by beautiful Claire Adams.

CORN FIVE FEET HIGH.

Mr. Knight, the agricultural representative at Lindsay, sent in some corn from Victoria County, measuring just five feet inheight. This is wonderful growth for the beginning of July. The corn was grown by George Whetter, of Woodville. It was sown 28th May. This looks like a lasting corn record—a foot a week. Can anybody beat it?—The Farmers' Sun.

OBITUARY

MARY JANE LOVEYS

The death occurred this morning at 10.20 at her home, 155 River Road (Auburn) of Mary Janes Loveys, the beloved wife of George Pratley, in her 79th year.

She was born in Chudleigh Knighton, Devonshire, England, coming to Canada in May, 1873, and locating in Peterborough, where she has resided ever since.

Besides her sorrowing husband, she leaves to mourn her loss two daughters, Mrs. John Beverley, of Methuen, Mass., Mrs. Mary E. Wells, of Three Hills, Alberta, and two sons, Mr. G. G. Pratley of Toronto, and Mr. A. E. Pratley of Watertown, Mass. She was a member of St. Luke's church for 47 years.

Funeral announcement later.

HAROLD CAREW

Mr. Harold Carew of this city aged 25 years, passed away in Toronto this morning. He is survived by his father, Mr. Nap. Carew, resident on the river road below the locks; three sisters, Mrs. Harper, of Peterborough, and Gertie and Vera of Toronto also by one brother Fergus, at home.

Deceased has been in Toronto some time under medical treatment. The remains will arrive in Peterborough on the C.P.R. local this evening.

Funeral announcement will be made to-morrow.

YOUNGEST PREMIER FIRST ONTARIO MAN

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

FRANK WEEKS' CASE GOES TO THE COUNTY COURT.

Frank Meeks, the alleged C.G.E. striker, was committed for trial at the General Sessions Court next December on a charge of assaulting Charles E. Martin on Saturday, July 3rd, and committing grevious bodily harm yesterday afternoon before Magistrate Dumble. The case was continued from the morning court. Bail was fixed at $1,000 for which G. N. Gordon, Meeks' counsel, gave surety.

Frederick W. Gardener.

The first witness called was Frederick W. Gardener, a machinist employed at the C.G.E. Witness corroborated the testimony of the morning's witnesses regarding the attack on the two cars containing Charles E. Martin and nine other C. G. E. employees about 6.30 o'clock on the morning of Saturday, July 3rd, at the corner of Park and Townshend streets with stones and rotten eggs, when cross-examined by Crown Attorney Hatton.

Shot-guns in C.G.E. Plant.

Cross-examined by G. N. Gordon, counsel for the defence who attempted to gain a knowledge of his past with the purpose of securing his deportation to the United States on the grounds of a breach of the Alien Labour Act, witness stated that he, like the other alleged strike breakers, had obtained work at the C. G. E. through an employment agency in Toronto. He had been a machinist for 10 years and gave a long list of American firms for whom he had worked. He stated that he came here because the job "looked good to him." Asked by Mr. Gordon if he carried any weapon he replied in the negative but admitted that at the C.G.E. plant where he and his fellows slept, there were a number of shot guns.

George Reiley.

The second witness called was George Reiley. Witness stated that he was in the second car at the time of the attack. He saw Meeks throw an egg which struck him (witness) on the neck.

Cross-examined by the counsel for the defence, he stated that on entering Canada he declared to the immigration authorities that he was entering on a visit. He also obtained employment at the C.G.E. through the Toronto agency. He said he came to Peterborough "because he thought he'd take a job in this nice little town for my health."

Percy McGlynn.

The next witness was Percy McGlynn, a chauffeur employed by Joseph Fontaine, garage keeper. McGlynn stated that he was driving the second car. He corroborated the testimony of the other witnesses as to the attack. He produced the curtain of the car, ripped as by a stone, but could not swear that it was not ripped before the car left the garage that morning. The driver of the first car, Kiloran, was in Toronto.

Michael Collins.

This ended the prosecutions evidence and the defence then called its only witness, Michael Collins. Collins stated that he was a machinist and had been employed by the C.G.E. for about three weeks. He had come to Toronto from Windsor about the 16th of June and there had obtained employment with the C.G.E. through an employment agency. He had declared to the immigration authorities that he intended to spend the summer in Canada.

Cross-examined by Crown Attor-

(Canadian Press.)

BELFAST, July 10. — It is announced that delegates from Canada are to take part in the big parade of Orangemen which is to be a feature of the celebration of the Anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne on Monday.

Notwithstanding the sensitive condition of public feeling, confidence is expressed by the officials that the order will not be disturbed. Elaborate preparations are being made for the celebration.

PETERBORO NURSES INCLUDED IN LIST

SEVERAL GRADUATED AT BELLE VILLE HOSRITAL.

BELLEVILLE, July 10.—At the Belleville General Hospital eight nurses who have finished their courses received their diplomas: Misses Rachael Finnie of Peterboro'; Edna Howard, Mallorytown; Jean Cunningham, Peterboro'; May Henry, Peterboro'; Sepha Clarke, Trenton; Evelyn Cunningham, Hamilton; Zeda Pue, Baillieboro', and Edna Huston, Peterboro'. Judge Wills presided.

Dr. W. J. Gibson, on behalf of the Medical and Hospital Board, presented the diplomas and delivered an address on "Ideals." He urged the graduates to maintain their esprit de corps. Te said that with the present fair fee which nurses are obtaining they should give increased service.

Mrs. W. C. Mikel, President of the Women's - Christian Association, which conducts the hospital, presented nurses' pins to the graduates. Prizes were awarded as follows: Gold medal for highest marks, Miss May Henry; in anatomy, Miss May Henry; in general proficiency, Miss May Finnie.

After the graduation the guests inspected the new maternity building, and were later entertained at a reception on the hospital lawn.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, July 10. — Prices were irregular at the opening of the New York stock exchange to-day.

The opening prices were: U.S. Steel 94 7-8 up 1-8, Stromberg 90 off 1-2, Texas Co. 47 7-8 off 1-8, Baldwin 124 off 1-4, Reading 92 up 1-4, Retail Stores 91 off 3-8, New York Central 70 unchanged, U.S. Rubber 102 up 1 1-2, Mexican Petroleum 196 1-4 unchanged, General Motors 27 unchanged, Vanadium 90 3-4 up 7-8, American Woollen 95 1-2 off 1-8.

Following an irregular opening early declines in other parts of the list amounted to from 1 to 2 points. Pan Amn. was down 2 points; International Paper 1 point, and other stock in proportion. The volume of trading on the decline was said to be comparatively small.

MANY TOWNS EVACUATED ALONG THE POLISH LINE—BOLSHEVIK DRIVING AHEAD.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, July 1.—Polish forces are withdrawing from Brest-Litovsk, Vilna and Pinsk, as a result of the great Russian Bolshevik offensive, according to a telegram received by L'Inforamtion this morning.

Evacuations of these towns would seem to indicate general withdrawal of the Polish line to frontiers of that new republic. Latest dispatches from Warsaw show Poles to be struggling against Russian Soviet armies a considerable distance east of Brest Litovsk, although Pinsk would seem to be threatened by the advance of General Dudenny.

Brest-Litovsk is approximately a hundred miles east of Warsaw and is strongly fortfied. Pinsk is located on the Pripet river, nineteen miles further east, while Vilna is the principal city of Lithuania.

Germans Accused

PENDING TRIAL DISCUSSED BY THE BRITISH COMMISSION.

(Canadian Press.)

SPA, Belgium, July 10.—The German contentions that the list of Germans accused of violations of the laws of war must be reduced if the collapse of the Berlin Government was to be averted, were discussed by the Commission which met yesterday afternoon, according to an official announcement.

Baron Birkenhead, the British Lord Chancellor, declared that the Commission had decided that the trial at Leipzic should be accepted by the Allies as an experiment, and that the Commission would confine itself to producing evidence from countries other than Germany. He asserted that the German authorities should be entrusted with information regarding the charges made against the Germans, and also the nature of the evidence to be adduced, although he thought the responsibility must rest with the Supreme Court.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT BRAUNDPORT

Mr. Charles E. Sisson, member of the Utilities Commission, will address the Sunday morning service at Braundport, on Sunday, July 25th. Mr. J. T. AS MOTHER AWAITS DEATH TWINS BORN

CASE OF QUEBEC WOMAN SENTENCED FOR KILLING STEP-DAUGHTER

QUEBEC, July 10. — Marie Anne Houde Gagnon, under sentence of death here for the murder by cruelty and neglect of her step-daughter, Aurore, gave birth to twins, a boy and a girl, in the jail infirmary.

The father, Talesphore Gagnon, is serving a life sentence in St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary for complicity in the murder of his daughter. The boy weighed nine and the girl seven pounds.

PRICES ON THE MARKET

GOOD LOCAL MARKET TO-DAY —PRICES LOWER FOR SOME COMMODITIES.

To-day's market was not large. Eggs brought 55c early in the morning and later sold for 60. The farmers' wives asked 60c for spring chickens but the older varieties could be had for 35c.

There were many pails of currants displayed upstairs, the black variety bringing 35c a quart or 25c a box, and the red and white ones 25c a quart. Some gooseberries were exhibited but not in any large quantity at 20c a quart. New potatoes sold for $1.40, and one farmer asked $1.50 a peck, while the old ones brought $1 a peck, or $6 a bag. There were cauliflower at 15c, lettuce at 5c and 10c, rhubarb at 10c, nice tender radishes at 5c. Crisp(new celery sold at 30c a bunch. Beets and carrots of exceptional size and quality sold at 10c bunch. Green beans and green peas were measured out at 10c a quart. The peas are just about done but the beans will be in profusion next week they say.

One farmer had many quarts of gooseberries, but at 20c a quart the housewives ventured only a quart or two for pies. "Sugar is too high for preserving," they declare.

One grower asked 28c for his berries but another had a fine load and asked only 25c. "It's the last of the crop," he remarked to the buyers.

Inside a small crate on one wagon five pigs were on exhibit but instead of putting on their best graces they preferred to snooze and wallow in the straw. $14 a pair the farmer wanted for his little six weeks old ill-mannered porkers.

In the upstairs market one industrious lady displayed Plymouth Rock and Rhode Island Red chicks. "How much are they?" 'Twenty-five cents, and they are just two weeks and two days old.

Chirp, chirp, twittered the little balls of feathers as they clambered one over the other in their cardboard prison, and the lady explained their many good points and exceptional qualities to poultry raisers.

DEATH OF R. BURGESS NEAR 91 YEARS OF AGE

LIVED UNDER FIVE SOVEREIGNS— FAMILY SETTLED FIRST IN PETERBOROUGH.

The late Robert Burgess who died at his home in Norwood on Sunday, the 4th inst., had lived under five sovereigns, having reached the ripe old age of 90 years and ten months. Born in the year 1829 at Baillieboro, County of Cavan, Ireland, he came with his parents to Canada when a lad of eight years. The sailing vessel on which he crossed the Atlantic Ocean was most of the summer in making the trip.

The family came to Peterborough where for three years they resided and then settled on the farm in Belmont four miles east of Norwood, where he lived until about ten years ago when he retired to the village.

During his long reidence in Belmont he not only proved a good neighbor but a worthy citizen who took an interest in the affairs of his township and the community. He was for several years a member of the municipal council, afterwards assessor, and for upwards of twenty years collector for the township, and during his long tenure of office gave the highest satisfaction. He was also for many years a director of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society. But his interest was not confined to agairs of State alone, he was deeply religious, and for over forty years was an elder in the Presbyterian church and a life long member of that communion.

His wife, who survives him, is a native of the township of Dummer. She was of Scottish descent, her maiden name being Mary Ann Kempt. Their marriage took plate in January 1859 and in January 1919 they celebrated their diamond wedding—an event which comparatively few couples are permitted to see.

Three sons and two daughters also survive him. They are: Mrs. W. T. Buck, Hastings Road, Kenneth, of Belmont, John of Dummer, Williamson who lives on the old homestead, and Edith who resides at home. One sister, Mrs. Thomas Rork, of Peterborough, also remains, besides eight grandchildren and four greatgrandchildren.

The remains were laid to rest in Norwood cemetery Wednesday afternoon, Rev. E. J. Wolland, B. D., assisted by Rev. A. J. Terrill, B.A., B. D., conducted the obsequies.

Why don't you make the promised visit to the invalid? She is looking for you day after day; and hope deferred maketh the heart sick.

IN FAVOUR OF PEACE LEAGUE

DEMOCRATS WARMING UP FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

(Canadian Press.)

DAYTON, Ohio, July 10.—Governor James M. Cox, Democratic nominee for the Presidency of the United States, is in favour of ratification of the Versailles Treaty and the League of Nations with two reservations, according to his campaign managers. They will form the keynote appeal in the forthoming campaign. Reservations provide: First, that the United States sign the agreement with the understanding that all signatories are bound only to keep the peace of the world. Second, that without any suggestions that the United States sought to shirk obligations, League participants should clearly understand that war-making power is vested in Congress and the United States could not act except in harmony with the constitution in complying with any League decision.

MANY INDICATIONS OF IMPROVEMENT IN FINANCIAL CIRCLES —NEW NOTE ISSUE

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, July 10.—The stock market this week was active and strong, affording striking contrast to the dullness and heavier trend of the preceding fortnight. Apart from the greater confidence shown by speculative interests, there were many indications of improvement in investment demand.

This was borne out by successful flotation of Swiss government loan of twenty-five million dollars and a large over subscription to Aromur and Co. Sixty million dollars note issue, which were marked on terms yielding 8 and 7 3-4 per cent respectively. Pools resumed their operations in many of the better known specialties, the movement later embracing some of the less prominent shares of miscellaneous character as well as transportation, especially junior or low priced issues. While industrial and commercial conditions remained sensitive to the credit situation, general business proceeded towards further stabilization as a result of additional reductions in many staple commodities.

Fresh encouragement resulted from agricultural prospects and market for call money relaxed visibly even though it effected no material alteration in time funds. Foreign exchange was moderately responsive to better economic and political conditions abroad. The British rate, however, fluctuated ebtween nominal times.

THE WEATHER

All complaints of a lack of rain, and parched conditions, should be silenced for a time at least, as rain has come down in abundance recently. Wednesday's all-day rain totalled .92 of an inch; Thursday's thunder storm of the early evening brought .95; while yesterday's fall was .23—or a total of 2 inches and 1-10 for the three days. The soil should now be supplied with sufficient moisture for some time.—W.P.

RECKLESS DRIVER GETS SENTENCED

Louis Bowles, of Uxbridge, was sentenced to thirty days at the jail farm for criminal negligence by Magistrate Kingford. Bowles, who is a colored man, was alleged to have been driving at a reckless rate of speed and struck Eli Hyman, tearing his trousers and injuring his leg. Witnesses stated that Bowles was going almost 40 miles an hour. In his defence the accused attempted to evade the responsibility by claiming he had blown his horn, but the magistrate ruled that such an action was not sufficient.

The above is No. 1 Plant of the Nukol Fuel Company, Limited. To shareholders of the above Company, this illustration of the Company's Plant at Toronto should be very gratifying, assuring them as it does, their winter's supply of NUKOL.

You are constantly advised through the public press by those who know the situation, that there is bound to be a great shortage of fuel this winter. You must accept their warning and protect yourself immediately, and the logical way to do so is to get in touch with our representative, Mr. McFee, who is now in Peterborough for a short period only, with the direct intention of explaining to you the advantages of NUKOL, and how we are endeavouring to solve Ontario's Fuel Problem. To those who have seen service overseas, the briquetted form of fuel is no stranger. The majority of the fuel consumed in Belgium, Holland, Northern France and Germany is of a briquetted form. It is used both for Industrial and Domestic purposes. This Company is the only Company in Canada that is using the Dutch Process of binder for their briquette, which process is the only one producing a briquette which has proved a commercial success.

In justice to yourself and as a Citizen of Canada, you should investigate NUKOL, and we feel assured that after you have made every investigation, you will be convinced of its merits, both as regards the fuel and the investment. We feel no hesitation in stating that NUKOL is bound to become one of Canada's largest Industries, and that we can solve the fuel situation here in Central Canada with your co-operation. The co-operation that we request is that you become a part owner of this growing industry in addition to a consumer of this product. With the limitations of production, owing to one plant only being in operation, we are compelled to restrict distribution to shareholders, of which there are now over 5,000, as it is owing to their co-operation that our efforts up to the present have been crowned with such wonderful success.

Shares are still selling at this low figure of $2.00 each, and by becoming an investor you not only insure your fuel supply for the coming winter at greatly reduced prices, but you also secure an investment that will bring you handsome returns through Dividends, and through the increased value of the stock.

Get in touch with our representative, Mr. McFee, at 543 Water Street, or write to us and we will gladly give you full information on request.

DELAY IN LUXURY TAX STAMP ISSUE

DUPLICATE SALES SLIP MUST CONTINUE UNTIL AT LEAST AUGUST FIRST.

OTTAWA, July 10.—Merchants who have had to resort to duplicate sales slips to register all sales of articles affected by the luxury tax in order to comply with the taxation proposals embodied in the act amending the Special Revenue Act, 1915, will have to adhere to this system for some time, as the special revenue stamps to be affixed on all articles coming under the heading of luxuries will not be available before August 1 at the earliest, and possibly not till September 1. Saturday, July 10th, had originally been set as the tentative date when the tax stamps would be ready for distribution. The stamping method for the collection of the luxury tax has not yet been finally authorized by the Government, but it is understood to be the method which will be accepted.

Be First of August Now.

Mr. George W. Taylor, assistant Deputy Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue, stated that every effort is being made to have the stamps ready for distribution at all the inland revenue and customs offices throughout the country by the first of August. The stamps will be of the same size as the Inland Revenue stamps which have been issued in the past. These stamps will be in denominations of from 1 to 10 cents, both inclusive, 13, 20, 25 and 30 cents; also in multiples running from 30 cents to $1.00. There will be in addition luxury tax stamps of $2, $3, $4, $5 and $10 denominations.

Consider Means on Cancelling.

The officials of the Inland Revenue Branch of the Customs Department entrusted with the enforcement of the act have in contemplation just now a method of cancellation of used stamps which will probably require a certain kind of perforator somewhat similar to the device used for the perforation of checks. Many thousands of these perforators will be required, and Mr. Taylor hopes to secure them at a low price. If perforators are adopted for the cancellation of used luxury tax stamps, they will be supplied at actual cost. The perforators are designed as a protective measure against the use of the stamps a second time. Due notice of the change of the system of collection from the duplicate sales slips to tax stamps will be given to the public and otherwise as soon as the stamps are ready for distribution.

Questioned regarding the operation of the taxation measures to date, Mr. Taylor imparted the information that the sales taxes presented the most difficulties, but these are gradually being overcome. All citizens on whom devolves the task of collecting the tax are evidencing a real desire to become acquainted with the requirements of the law. This desire for information is reflected daily in the large number of people who apply to Mr. Taylor for interpretations of the act. These demands for information are made in person, but more often by mail or telegram. The volume of requests for information has been deminishing of late, much to the relief of Mr. Taylor, who has been literally besieged at times.

ONE STUMBLING BLOCK REMOVED

THE HAGUE, July 10.—One real stumbling block in the creation of a high court of nations was passed when the Jurist Commission to adopt in principle the Root-Phillimore plan for the makeup of the court. Though there will probably be a number of minor changes in the plan, the Commission by a vote of 8 to 1 accepted Mr. Root's most important principle—his method for the election of the judges by the Council and Assembly of the League of Nations voting separately on lists submitted by the League tribunal.

Those candidates who are named by both Council and Assembly will immediately be considered elected, and in the event of conflicts in the conference committees, the Council and Assembly will try to come to some arrangement. In such cases where there is failure to agree the judges chosen by the two bodies jointly will have the power to name the other judges.

The jurists will now take up the Root-Phillimore plan paragraph by paragraph and decide upon the number of Judges and their terms.

"We have made great progress," said Mr. Root after the session. "While there is much important work yet to be done it is largely a matter of mere editing and getting drafts of the scheme into proper shape."

REDS CHALLENGE BRITISH IDEALS

AMBASSADOR DAVIS SAYS DEMOCRACY MUST DEFEND ITSELF.

LONDON, July 9.—Ambassador Davis, presiding over the anual assembly of college faculties at the University of London said there were pressing on the world problems as great as humanity had ever encountered, needs as imperative as the race had ever felt, and dangers as great as ever had been known. They might like it or not, but they could be sure that this generation would be called upon to take stock of all th dangers that faced them. There was not a science, art, literature, form of economics, politics or religion that would be protected from security.

Either by antiquity or universal acceptance, the English-speaking people had made their way to the highest form of political government, planted on a base as wide as the adult population of the country. The supreme duty of every Government was to protect and preserve each individual in his rights of person and property; but that doctrine was challenged to-day. They were invited to believe that the mass was more than the individual and that any tyranny, no matter how despotic, must be submitted to if it was practised in the name of the common good

The chief protagonists of that principle assured them from Moscow that it was folly to recognise that democracy achieved its by the use of the vote. The very idea of democracy was challenged by the doctrine that in some mysterious fashion the part was greater than the whole and that men were to be entrusted with Government who carried no authority form the very people whom they professed to serve. This generation must strengthen itself to meet these doctrines.

If democracy, as we know it, was to survive in the world it must be by the spread of intelligence and education among men. There was one encouragement amid the clashing discords of the present world, and that was to be found in the noblest promise that ever sounded in the ear of the human race: "You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

WILL PROSECUTE DEVONSHIRE TRACK

TORONTO, July 10.—In order to test out whether this week's racing, which is being carried on at the Devonshire Park: Windsor, is legal, charges of keeping a common gambling house are being brought against the directors and officials of the Devonshire Racing Association by the Department of the Attorney-General. The cases will be taken before a Windsor magistrate for trial. The point at issue has to do with the legality of the charter under which the racing meet is held. According to the provisions of the Miller Bill, betting can be carried on only at tracks which have been granted a charter since March 20 of 1912. The Devonshire Park charter was issued prior to 1912, but subsequently supplementary powers were given to the association. As a result the directors claim they have the right to carry on regular racing meets with betting, while the Department of the Attorney-General, in placing the charges against the directors, takes the attitude that the supplementary powers do not include the right to permit betting on the tracks.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

SATURDAY, JULY 10TH, 1920.

A SIMPLE PRECAUTION.

If the inquiry proposed by the Drury Government into the Hydro-Electric scheme is carried out at once and entrusted to commissioners in whose sincerity of motive and business judgment the people have confidence, it is difficult to see why Hydro enthusiasts should raise such a storm over the appointment of a commission. The radial scheme is one of the biggest propositions that has been undertaken in Ontario and the people are entitled to fuller and more definite information in regard to the details before the province is finally committed. No good business man would rush into a deal of large proportions before he was satisfied that it had a reasonable chance for success, and Hon. Mr. Drury in following the present course in connection with the Hydro scheme has simply adopted the precaution that a private firm or an individual would adopt in a similar situation. If the Hydro scheme is as promising as its supporters claim the commission's report will establish that fact beyond the shadow of a doubt, while on the other hand, if there are elements of risk in the scheme, and its prospects are dubious, the Province would be much better to find this out now, instead of afterwards, when the knowledge will be too late to be of service. The success of the Hydro radial plan cannot in any way be injured by an inquiry, if it is honestly conducted and the scheme is judged on its merits.

AN INTEI STING REPORT.

Some very interesting information is contained in the reports on the trade of Canada and of Ontario by F. W. Field, the British Trade Commissioner in Ontario, which has just been issued as a British Government Blue book and which will give Canada and Canadians some splendid advertising in the Mother country. Mr. Field's report deals with many varied angles of trade conditions in this country and makes a number of suggestions that might well be adopted in the interests of strengthened relations within the British Empire. Incidentally the commissioner says that he finds a strong desire in Ontario and Canada generally to trade with the United Kingdom and other parts of the British Empire whenever Canadian industries cannot supply local wants.

Here is an interesting extract from the report:

"A review of the year which has elapsed since the signing of the Armistie, suggests that economic, industrial and commercial conditions are sound, and that given more stable political and social conditions throughout the world than those obtaining at the beginning of 1920, the Dominion should achieve a degree of development far surpassing that achieved hitherto. Canada has gained a larger sense of nationhood through the war, and this feeling will become more pronounced as the time passes and conceivably find expression in the economic sphere. Her achievements in finances, in production of every kind, as well as those of her Expeditionary Forces, have engendered feelings of the kind mentioned. In common with her Allies, she is confronted with grave problems, but is dealing with them with characteristic energy and hopefulness. With her vast resources she has reason to hope that in the difficult times ahead, she will create sufficient wealth to liquidate her heavy burden of debt and to play a more prominent part in world economy."

MONDAY'S VISITORS.

Thousands of visitors, perhaps the biggest crowd that has ever been in the city, will be in Peterboro for the celebration of the "Glorious Twelfth" on Monday, if the weather man does his part by providing the proper conditions. The people of Peterboro can give their city some splendid advertising in connection with the demonstration if they will do their part in welcoming the visitors and in making their stay here enjoyable. The business men, the staffs at restaurants and hotels, all of htose who come into contact with the visitors, can send them away strong boosters for Peterboro if they will give them the best service possible and treat them with kindly courtesy. No characteristic of a community makes a more vivid impression upon strangers than does the treatment accorded visitors and the people of Peterboro have an opportunity to convince thousands of those who will be here on Monday that this is the finest city in Ontario. The motorists can help to create this impression too by keeping off the route of the parade while the latter is in progress, and thereby adding to the comfort both of the marching Orangemen and of the thousands of spectators. The automobile has many uses but rushing by processions and throwing dust over the marchers and crowds cannot be included among these. The Examiner hopes that every citizen will do what he or she can in placing Peterboro in the best possible light before Monday's visitors.

A LABOUR CANDIDATE.

Already the political pot has commenced to boil as a result of Mr. Burnham's resignation from the House of Commons, and the consequent throwing open of the local seat. Last night the Examiner pointed out the possibility of a three-cornered fight, to day it is possible to predict the presence in the field of a Labour candidate. The Independent Labour Party already has its eye upon the vacancy and within the near future a convention will be held for the selection of a candidate to contest West Peterboro for the Dominion House. The Labour Party, still flushed with victory in the Ontario fight, is full of confidence that a similar result can be obtained in the bye-election for the Dominion House, especially as Labour feels satisfied that its candidate will receive the support of the Farmers' Clubs in the rural sections of the riding. There is little chance of a U. F. O. candidate in West Peterboro, and Labour leaders claim that they can count upon the support of the farmers. That of course remains to be seen for while the U. F. O. has been compelled by force of circumstances to enter into a working alliance with Labour in the Ontario Legislature, there is no guarantee that the farmers will be impressed with the idea of helping to elect a Labour candidate to the House of Commons. The partnership in Ontario is a forced one. It has, however, weathered one session and on the whole there has been a somewhat surprising lack of friction between the two wings. In the wider field of Federal politics, however, conditions are different and a Labour-U.F.O. alliance scarcely seems a possibility, although in these days of political upheavals the people are prepared to accept, without surprise, almost any kind of a working arrangement.

HAVE WE OUTGROWN THE STRIKE?

Not so long ago it was held that the strike was Labor's most effective weapon, the one that did most damage to its foes and that won most victories for the men who used it. Yet even when the strike was most effective thinking men recognized that it was a clumsy weapon, and one which might just as easily injure the one who employed it as the one against whom it was directed. And of late there have been very decided misgivings as to the value of this method of reaching the ends at which Labor aims.

The Statesman, of Edmonton, the organ of the Alberta Branch of the Dominion Labor Party, voices this feeling in a recent issue. The editor says:

"The results of the great steel strike, the Winnipeg strike, and the general strike of the C.G.T. in France do not seem reassuring to those who hold that the strike is Labor's greatest weapon. Indeed, there are not a few persons to-day, both Labor leaders and others, who think that the strike is fast becoming obsolete. It is 'tactics' for which there is too small a measure of success. It is symptomatic merely; it does not remedy or suggest a remedy. And if the success of the strike for industrial purposes is questionable, the strike for political purposes is futile and doomed to failure. Perhaps its only real benefit to Labor consists in the impetus it gives to strengthened organization and solidarity."

In the early days of the strike the sympathy of the general public was often, perhaps usually, with the strikers, and even when they lost their prestige remained largely unimpaired. But as Labor has extended its organization and consolidated its forces, the strike has assumed a new feature. The strike of ten years ago caused the general public a good deal of inconvenience, and perhaps some little loss; but the strike of to-day is a different affair, and it is rapidly assuming, if it has not already assumed, through its sympathetic features, a much more ominous character, until now it sometimes threatens directly the health and the very life of the community. And when it does, it arouses in the masses of the people a feeling that the time has very nearly arrived when such strikes must be resisted to the bitter end.

In the recent public debate between Samuel Gompers and Governor H. J. Allen, of Kansas, the latter asked Mr. Gompers plainly whether such a strike as we have referred to was a matter in which the public had any rights, or whether it was simply "a private war between Labor and Capital?" President Gompers took a week to consider the question, and then replied that "the public has no rights superior to the toiler's right to live and to his right to defend himself against oppression." But this very reply tacitly admits that the public has rights at least equal to the toiler's, which is all that the public will claim, and we may fairly change President Gomper's answer and put it this way: "The toiler has no rights superior to the public's right to live and to its right to defend itself against oppression."

There can be little question that whenever a strike directly menaces the health and life of a great city, whenever it hits women and children, and whenever it threatens to tyrannize over free men—that moment a revolt springs up in the hearts of the public, and the strike becomes a thing of evil portent which cannot be tolerated. The sympathies of the public are with Labor, and there is a well-nigh universal desire that Labor should receive full value for its toil, and be accorded its rightful and dignified place in our civilization; but organized Labor should not war on unorganized Labor, and it should remember that unorganized Labor is much more numerous than organized.

It may be that the time has not yet arrived when the strike can be dispensed with as an effective weapon for securing Labor's rights, but the time certainly has come when we should consider other methods of securing the ends in view. The ballot wisely used should do more than the strike, and reason and conciliation will prove more effective than fights to a finish. The truth is that just now Labor and Capital cannot afford either to strike or to sulk, and there is not a problem of either wages or hours which should not be settled sanely and satisfactorily, without recourse to threats.—The Christian Guardian.

CHANGE OF CHAPLAIN FOR DRAGOON GUARDS

OTTAWA, July 10.—After nearly 14 years' service as the chaplain of the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards, Rev. W. T. Herridge, pastor emeritus of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, has retired, and has been placed on the reserve list of officers with the rank of honorary lieutenant-colonel. His successor as chaplain has not yet been appointed, but it is understood that Major Rev. George D. Kilpatrick, D.S.O. the new minister of St. Andrew's, has been recommended for the appointment by Lieut.-Col. J. R. Munro, commanding officer of the Dragoons, and other officers of the unit. It is quite probable that Major Kilpatrick will receive the appointment.

Dr. Herridge acted as chaplain of the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards since September, 1906, and received the rank of honorary lieutenant-colonel during the war for valuable services rendered. His passing from active ministerial labors was co-incident with the reorganization of the Dragoons, so he took the occasion to be asked to be relieved of his duties.

The appointment of Rev. George Kilpatrick would be a popular one. During the war Major Kilpatrick served with distinction as a chaplain at the front for several years, and was awarded the Distinguished Service Order for his services in the field.

POISON ON STRAWBERRIES CAUSED WOMAN'S DEATH

CAYUGA, Ont., July 10.—Evidence given at the adjourned inquest into the death of Mrs. Robert Gill, North Cayuga, held at York, showed that death was caused by the eating of strawberries on which deceased had put strychnine. The strawberries were served at the Sunday evening meal on June 10. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the evidence. The analysis of the stomach showed the presence of one-third of a grain of the poison.

OBJECT TO REMOVAL OF QUEEN'S MONUMENT

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 10.—A special meeting of the Lundy's Lane Historical Society was held on the 6th inst., at which the following resolution was passed unanimously:

"Whereas, the Mayor and council of the City of Niagara Falls, at the meeting on June 21 last, have ordered the demolition and removal of the patriotic and historic memorial to her Majesty the late Queen Victoria, which stands at the corner of Lundy's Lane and Main Street, without the consent or approval of the loyal citizens who erected it, or of the City of Niagara Falls generally, and whereas, this memorial of the great Queen who wrought her people lasting good, is an artistic object of interest and education to visitors, and the pride of all loyal citizens, be it resolved, that the officers and members of the Lundy's Lane Historical Society do hereby strongly protest against the removal of the memorial in question."

A committee composed of the following officers of the society, R. W. Geary, Rev. Canon Bevan, H. L. Morphy and J. C. M. Morden, was also appointed to wait upon the Mayor in reference to the matter and request the reconsideration of the city council of the action re-specting the removal of the memorial.

RT VIII.

When th left the men for the parlor, the uvais quart d'heure which Amy feared began. Mrs. Dellabarre, yet decided to accept such a for ble rival, turned her over to the cy of the others. Amy, after a mo t of hesitation, drew up her chaeside Mrs. Challoner and Mrs. Lbody.

"Mrs. Chner, I have been admiring you through dinner," she began timid "I have never seen anything so ling as your gown."

"This ra Oh, really! I was about to th it away," said Mrs. Challoner, fring her with a stare and, turning Mrs. Lightbody, she added, "I'm e with Prandish. The line he give ou this year is something abomle."

"Gracious adys, I should say so! There ly is only one place in New Yo said Mrs. Lightbody, without deeg it necessary to specify such common knowledge.

"And who is that?" said Amy, and, determined to be agreeable, she moved her chair around Mrs. Challoner's half-averted shoulder.

"Why, Francelfne, of course!"

Both ladies turned in astonishment, while their glances traveled over her own, which, though sufficiently expensive, was not from Franceline.

"Rudy was certainly leaning hard on his fork to-night," said Mrs. Lightbody, in a confidential whisper, which was her slangy way of describing his familiar condition.

"Poor Irma, he does hang on!" said Mrs. Challoner.

"They had another row this morning."

"About whom?" said Mrs. Challoner, interested.

"Monte, of course."

"I don't see how she stands it. I shouldn't blame her for anything."

"What's Jack doing?" said Mrs. Lightbody, in quiring of the husband.

"How do I know?" said Mrs. Challoner amiably.

"I say, Gladys, everything's poky around here," said Mrs. Lightbody, "what do you say to getting up a party for to-morrow? I can 'phone."

All at once, as though aware of an eavesdropper, she stopped and looked at Amy, who, unable to utter a word, had sat rigidly, completely isolated.

"What do they expect me to do?" she thought angrily. "Get up and move away?"

"We'll talk it over later," said Mrs. Challoner significantly.

At the moment when this public snubbing had become evident to every one, Mrs. Bracken rose and approaching them, held out her hand to Amy, saying:

"Come over and talk to me a little. I want to really know you." This unexpected overture changed on the instant the attitude of all toward Mrs. Forrester. Mrs. Bracken came of a family which for five generations had never deviated from its ideals, producing men of distinction and women educated to be helpmates and mothers, whose conduct did not vary with the wind of fashion, but rested on the rock of self-respect—one of those families, the true moral aristocrats of America, who continue steadfast in their traditions, despite the torrential spread of a new polyglot society. She had the reputation of being difficult in her friendship and implacable in her judgments, but the entree to her house was a passport everywhere. "Here is a quiet corner," she said, and, still holding Amy's hand, she drew her to a window seat removed from the general conversation. "What a child you are! But you held your ground beautifully!"

Amy's eyes filled with tears at the gentleness of her tone. She looked at her, and it seemed to her, as she met the clear, untroubled eyes, that she could have opened her heart to her on the instant. Mrs. Bracken perceived the emotion she had caused and gave her a little pressure of the hand.

"There, my dear. They are cats, but it is a tribute, you know."

Amy hardly heard what was said. She was gazing at her, carried away by an impulse she did not comprehend.

"I wish I could be your friend," she said abruptly.

"Perhaps you will be."

"I feel that I could talk to you about anything," she said quickly, "but I know to be your friend is a great privilege."

"Yes; I don't give my friendship easily, but I believe I could be a friend to you—a real friend."

They looked at each other for a moment, surprised at the abruptness of their liking, yet knowing that their sympathy was mutual.

"Oh, please, I wish you would, Mrs. Bracken; it would mean so much to me!"

"Then that's decided," she answered with a smile. "This is not the place for a serious consideration, but some day we'll have one—if you wish it. Now tell me a little about yourself."

When, later, the men came in, Allan and Monte Bracken joined them, visibly surprised at the cordiality of their attitude.

"Well, that is a compliment," said Monte Bracken when the dancing having begun, they installed themselves in the conservatory for a breathing spell. "I never saw Claire go to any one like that before."

"She took pity on me."

Bracken looked amused.

"The ladies were showing their claws, eh?"

"And I felt them."

"You won't be let in without a fight, you know."

"I don't know whether I want to," she said pensively. "Is it worth it? Tell me about your sister-in-law. She must be a very happy person."

He picked a sprig of ivy from a near-by bower, nodded and said solemnly,

"Very—very happy."

"I wish I were like her," she said impulsively.

He smiled.

"Worried about my prophecy?"

She looked at him and then, drawing back into her chair, half covered her face with her fan. Her blue eyes looked over at him, big and eyes looked o... round and a little apprehensive.

"Go on."

"You defy the oracle?"

She nodded.

"Why are the cards stacked against my husband?"

The situation amused him, nor was it new. He looked at her with a slanted, quizzical glance and began slowly, with a mixture of impertinence and light good humor with which he knew how to make acceptable the most personal disquisition.

"Because you are destined to become a professionally beautiful woman, like Mrs. Challoner over there." He nodded toward the dancers, who flashed across the doorway and, with an assumption of impersonality, continued: "If I were seeking to compliment you, I would not put it in the future. You are not there yet. You are on the threshold. There is a whole art to acquire—or a profession, as you wish. That's what interests me about you—what is coming. To me, every beautiful woman is a potential tragedy."

"In what way," she said, too interested to be self-conscious.

"A tragedy to those she consumes and exhausts." He drew back, studying her with more interest as he became interested in the subject. "You see, a beautiful woman—the professionally beautiful kind— quite a distinction, you know—is a social adventurer. She arrives as self-made men arrive: there is much in common between them. He smiled, adding more lightly: "I suppose at the present moment, you have made all sorts of good resolutions and you believe in them. Futility! Throw them away! You are doomed, my dear Mrs. Forrester. Society needs you. You will rule it and be its slave. You don't believe me;"

"I should not let him be talking to me this way," she thought, "and yet it is quite impersonal." Her curiosity was aroused at the half-serious, half-humorous way in which he dissected her. Was he only amusing himself?

"Can't I have a will of my own?" she said.

"A what?"

"A will of my own."

"You will have fashions of conducts, fashions of thinking, but will— that does not exist! professionally beautiful woman must always be in style. She dresses, acts and thinks as other beautiful women do—because her life is to compete with them, and to compete with them she must attack them on their own territory. You are not convinced? Look at the dear things to-night?" He reassured himself with a glance as to the modesty of his companion's decollete and indicated, with a wave of his hand, the daring shoulders and throats of the dancers, adding: "Women, women, you are a perpetual delight! You are unfathomable. If you had suggested, five years ago, to any woman present that she would come to dress like this, how indignant she would have been! You may have the same feeling to-night—but next year you will do what Irma and Mrs. Challoner do, because they do it."

Amy, thinking of her cerise gown which Andrew had found too daring, laughed guiltily.

"Well, yes; but that's only a question of dress."

NOT CONDUCIVE TO READING

The Automobile Is Not on Very Friendly Terms with Literature.

A reader of The Journal brings what is perhaps an entirely new charge against the automobile; he asserts that it does not conduce to literature.

The charge is just. The motor car does not comport with the reading habit. It is no chimney corner, no easy chair, no bookish den. It belongs to the open road, and the field and wood, and its only books, to paraphrase the poet, are running brooks, and joy is all they've taught us.

The Journal reader says that once on a time he used to travel by trolley between his downtown office and his home out Olneyville way. He read his paper religiously on the journey, but now, employing an automobile instead of the electrics, he gets no chance to read. Whether he uses his own conveyance or a joggling jitney, the motion is too severe over the city pavements to permit him to keep up his old custom.

What is true of him is true of innumerable other people. Take the old-time commuter on the steam road, who was formerly wont to bury himself in a paper or book en route to the city. If he gives up the train for a motor car, his reading habits go too. In fact, the automobile is everywhere a Foe of Letters. Its business is to lure us away from the printed page.

The statisticians of the 1920 census might devote some of their energies to discovering the effect of the motor on public knowledge. If there are 110,000,000 of us in this country and the automobile has diminished by at least 50 per cent. the daily reading of a large fraction of the population, what are we coming to?

Dr. Johnson declared that a ride in a coach was the sum of human felicity. What would he have thought of a ride in a modern motor car? We fancy he would have been entranced by it, but that after he had been whisked through the English country for two or three hours and set down at his modest door, he would have turned back at once to his bookish friends on the shelf and forgotten for a long, long time the pleasures of his outdoor spin.

Unfortunately, most of us are not like Dr. Johnson.—Providence Journal.

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

Not Aspirin at All without the "Bayer Cross"

For Colds, Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, and for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuritis, take Aspirin marked with the name "Bayer" or you are not taking Aspirin at all.

Accept only "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in an unbroken "Bayer" package which contains complete directions. Then you are getting real Aspirin—the genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years. Now made in Canada.

Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

ENGLISH BABIES WILL GET PLENTY OF SUGAR

English children will not have to suffer from sugar rationing or shortages, according to a system which went into operation in England early in the month. "The London Daily Telegraph announces:

"Under a new arrangement arrived at by the Ministry of Health, in consultation with the Ministry of Food, which comes into operation to-day, the system under which food control committees were authorized to grant extra allowances of sugar up to a maximum amount of 40 ounces a week for children under two years of age attending child welfare centres on the production of a medical certificate stating that an extra allowance was necessary has been discontinued, and in future such supplies will be obtained under the general regulations of the Ministry of Food.

"The effect of this change will be that whereas under the present system an extra ration of four ounces can only be, obtained for children between the ages of six and eighteen months attending centres who are certified to be in need of an additional supply, under the new procedure the extra ration can be obtained for all children under two years of age who may be certified to be in need of an additional supply of sugar. The certificate may be issued by the medical officer or the superintendent of the centre, as is done under the present arrangmnts, or by a duly qualified medical practitioner, and should then be sent to the local food office for the necessary permit to be issued granting the extra ration, which can then be purchased direct from a retailer instead of through a centre as at present."

REDUCE SUBJECTS IN HIGH SCHOOLS

REPORT ON ONTARIO SYSTEM TO BE SUBMITTED NEXT WINTER.

OTTAWA, July 10. — Early next winter it is expected the committee appointed by Hon. R. H. Grant to make reforming changes in the Ontario High School system will have meetings and make its report to the Department of Education. Two Ottawa representatives on the committee are Dr. A. H. McDougall, principal of the Collegiate Institute; and Dr. A. E. Marty, now a Public School inspector, and formerly of the Collegiate staff here. Dr. McDougall stated he had no official intimation of what the committee would do, but he expected recommendations would likely be put into effect during 1921. General complaint had been made that pupils had to take up too many subjects at one time, and this would probably be one of the reforms.

CIVIL SERVICE COUNCIL MEETS SAT. AND SUNDAY

IMPORTANT MATTERS AFFECTING PUBLIC EMPLOYEES TO BE CONSIDERED.

OTTAWA, July 10.—The general council of the Civil Service Federation of Canada meets here Saturday and Sunday to plan closer organization of civil servants, and discuss problems facing their membership. Officers of Dominion-wide organizations will be present, and it is expected the meeting will be representative of practically all workers in the public service. Mr. J. C. O'Connor, president of the Civil Service Commission, will preside at the sessions.

To Banish Wrinkles and Freshen Up Quickly

After a strenuous day outdoors, when winds, heat and exhaustion have combined to take away one's freshness and caused the skin to wrinkle and sag—or after a tedious or fretful day indoors—one often has urgent need for some quick rejuvenator. Maybe there's a dance on for the evening, or some other social event. How in the world can one make herself presentable, looking as she does? It's quite easy.

Just get an ounce of powdered saxolite and a half pint witch hazel at the nearest drug store, mix the two and bathe the face in the solution for two or three minutes. Then look into your mirror and behold the wonderful transformation! Wrinkles have vanished, loose, tired muscles have been rested and "firmed up," marks of fatigue have flown, and you look so much brighter and younger you can hardly believe your eyes. No one need hesitate to try this, the witch hazel and saxolite being so perfectly harmless.

$2.50 A WEEK FOR ALL, WORK OR NOT

LONDON, July 10. — Free and equal basic income for everybody, a pleasant plan which for centuries has been the aim of countless utopian reformers, is now proposed by sixteen trade unions of Great Britain.

This plan, in the form of a resolution, will be proposed by these unions at the next conference of the National Labor party and the Trade Union Congress. Under the program advocated, the weekly sum of $2.50 would be paid to every man, woman and child.

The resolution to be introduced follows:

"1. For the nationalization of 20 per cent. of all incomes into a central pool.

"3. For the equal distribution of this pool in the form of a minimum subsistence allowance to every man, woman and child irrespective of earning capacity and without qualification.

"In the opnion of this congress, such a scheme would improve the distribution of incomes and would be a step forward complete freedom from wage slavery. This congress therefore, requests the Parliamentary Committee to take the necessary steps to secure legislation to this effect."

Laborities refuse to prophesy regarding the vote on such a resolution, but the favorable vote of every boy and girl in the country is confidently expected.

GIVEN HEARING JULY 21.

LONDON, July 10.—The Winnipeg Labor appeal will be heard by the Privy Council on July 21.

PAY $17,000 TO ALAN WILSON

FOR SEWAGE DISPOSAL PLANT SITE AND INTEREST TOO.

The Finance committee met yesterday afternoon with Ald. Copping presiding in the absence of Ald. Turner. Those present at the meeting were Ald. Morrison, Ald. Hamilton, Ald. Phelan, Mayor McIntyre.

The only matter before the committee was the request of Alan Wilson to have the first payment of $6,000 that had been authorized by the committee changed to $6,500. This payment was to be advanced by the Bank of Montreal, but it was pointed out that on this amount they would have nothing but a bald receipt for their money, whereas if they made the full payment of $17,000 the deed of the property would be given. The members decided it would be better to pay the whole amount if the Bank of Montreal would advance the money. Mr. C. C. Abbot, the manager, was called.

"I don't see why the bank would offer any objection," he said, and promised that they would pay the cheque. The payment was due on June 30th, so there must be paid accrued interest from that date. The motion of the chairman, seconded by Ald. Morrison, carried, that the Bank of Montreal be requested to advance $17,000 with the accrued interest from June 30th to July 9th, for the payment of the site for the sawage disposal plant to be constructed under the order of the Provincial Board of Health and that the amount be included in the debenture by-law and that the treasurer be authorized to issue the cheque on the receipt of the deed of the property.

PROSPECT FOR OIL IN NORTH ONTARIO

In a report submitted to the Minister of Mines by M. Y. Williams, geologist, upon the possibility of finding oil deposits in the Hudson and James Bay districts of Northern Ontario, and which has now been made public by the Minister, it is pointed out that there are many conditions present which would indicate that there should be petroleum deposits in that part of the province. Mr. Williams recently made a detailed tour of the district, studied the surface and rock formations, and reports that the extensive area to the South and West of the Hudson and James Bays contains formations of the same age as oil-bearing strata elsewhere. During his investigations Mr. Williams was unable to find any surface seepage of oil, but he explains that this is not to be wondered at owing to the long period of weathering along the rivers which may have dissipated any oil formerly present, and owing to the heavy burden of clay, silt and muskeg moss which covers the interstream areas. Along the Nelson, Churchill, Albany, Moose and intervening rivers, he reports, there are formations where one might expect to find oil if boring could be carried out. Whether or not the lower construction of the rock is such that oil would accumulate in sufficient quantity to make it pay to develop the district is a matter which could be determined only by actual experiment and boring.

Mr. Williams adds that in the region drained by the Moose River and its tributaries there are limestone and Salina shales, beneath which, in other districts, dolomitic beds of this formation have produced large quantities of oil in parts of Southwestern Ontario, chiefly in Kent and Essex Counties. He adds that the particular limestone which has been the most uniformly productive formation for oil in Southwestern Ontario outcrops at the surface over wide areas. Shales outcrop on the Mattagami River, and it is reported that there are evidences that the whole Ohio shale section may be present in the North. Along the Abitibi River there are shales dipping at the proper angle to form oil beds beneath. The shales vary in quality and thickness, and tests have brought out the fact that they also vary considerably in oil content. Analysis of shale samples taken from the Long Rapid district of the Abitibi River show that the oil yield ranges from 3.9 to 5.5 per cent. As these shales were taken from the bank of the river it is reported that they must have suffered much from weathering and that doubtless the deeper buried portions would have a somewhat higher oil content.

PRAISE CHANGES TO ACCUSATION

CHICAGO MAN NOW SUSPECTED IN MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

CHICAGO, July 9. — Lieutenant Carl Wanderer, who less than three weeks ago was being praised for his bravery in killing an unidentified man who, he said, had murdered Mrs. Wanderer, is to-day in a cell of the Central Police Station as the principal figure in what the police call "the most mysterious murder case Chicago has had in years."

Early in the morning of 22nd June, neighbours aroused by shots in the vestibule of the Wanderer apartment found the lieutenant with a pistol in his hand standing over the bodies of his wife and a roughly dressed young man. The man was dead and Mrs. Wanderer was unconscious and dying.

Wanderer said that the man, whom no one has yet identified, had followed him and his wife into the vestibule as they were returning from a theatre, and ordered them to hold up their hands.

"My wife started to turn on the light and he shot her. Then I shot and killed him," Wanderer added.

The detectives found a pistol lying beside the dead man in the vestibule. They accepted Wanderer's statements, and the case was seemingly closed. But a careful tracing of the pistol supposed to have been used by the unidentified man showed that Wanderer had become the owner of the weapon two weeks before the shooting while he had purchased the other revolver while he was in the army.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a Government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. HYDRO EMPLOYEES ARE NOT SATISFIED

WAGE SCALE AWARDED BY CONCILIATION BOARE IS DISAPPOINTING.

TORONTO, July 10.—The electrical workers in the employ of the Toronto Hydro Commission are none too well pleased with the increase in wages awarded them by the Board of Conciliation which met recently in the city. The finding of the board was announced at a meeting of the men's union at the Labor Temple. After some discussion, in the course of which disappointment was voiced that the increases granted were so small, it was decided to leave the question of acceptance or rejection of the award to be determined at a special meeting to be held on Sunday next.

The award of the board was unanimous as regards wages and it gives the men an advance of 15 per cent. over the old scale. The men's representative submitted a minority report on the question of classification and this apparently was the stumbling block to the acceptance of the award Thursday night. Under the award meter installers are placed on the same grade as journeymen linemen and are advanced from 57 and 59 cents to 78 cents per hour. All other mechanics working on the hourly scale are to receive 81 cents per hour. Those on a weekly wage are to be paid as follows:—Line foremen, $41.40; service foremen, $36.80; troublemen, $30; patrolmen, $33.40; meter testers, $29.90; apprentices, linemen and operators, also meter installers, hourly rates, varrying from 38 to 52 cents per hour, according to length of service and experience. The iginal demands of the men called for a minimum rate of $1.00 per hour with corresponding advance for those drawing the maximum rates under the old agreement. M. John M. Godfrey was chairman the board, Mr. F. R. Ewart represented the Hydro Commission and Mr. L. Braithwaite the men.

CUT YOUR HND?

Heal It.—Prevent Infection by Using "ABSORBINE JR."

The same liniment that takes the soreness out of sprains, bruises and rheumatic joints is equally effective in healing cuts and lacerations.

Apply a few drops (strength "ABSORBINE JR.") to the raw surface. It will promptly stop the pain and bleeding—keep the parts surrounding the wound healthy—kill germs—prevent infection—proud flesh—and promote rapid healing.

Wherever there is pain in head or body—rub in "ABSORBINE JR."

Only a few drops at a time, for it is concentrated. It is a viable germicide; absolutely safe; may be used diluted as a mouth wash. Pleasant odor; no stain or grease.

Gingerbread that delights the kiddies!

The EASIFIRST way

Be a Successful Cook!

EVERY woman realizes that one of the big secrets of successful cooking is in the shortening used.

Discriminating cooks use EASIFIRST. It is a pure, wholesome shortening, always of the same high quality. Everything cooked or baked with it is light, dainty, appetizing and easily digested. It is very economical—to buy and to use, for three-quarters of a pound of EASIFIRST goes as far as a pound of many other cooking fats.

Here is a Splendid Gingerbread Recipe

½ cup EASIFIRST
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup molasses
½ cup sour milk
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
2 cups flour
1 tablespoon ginger
½ teaspoon soda

Cream EASIFIRST and brown sugar, add molasses and well beaten eggs. Add sour milk, then the sifted flour, salt, baking powder and ginger. Beat thoroughly and add the baking soda, dissolved in a little sweet milk. Pour into a greased shallow pan and bake 45 minutes in a slow oven.

Your grocer will supply you—but get EASIFIRST—then you're sure of results. Sold in cartons and tins.

ENLISTMENT RECORDS SHOW FARMERS WERE NUMEROUS

STATISTICS PREPARED BY. F. H. DOBBIN GIVE LABOURERS HIGH PLACE IN THE NUMBER OF SOLDIERS FROM THIS COUNTY —146 FATHERLESS CHILDREN.

FORTY SMITHS FROM PETERBORO

A voluminous if not a complete war record of the men of Peterboro City and county has been compiled in book form by Mr. Frank H. Dobbin, who has been the local secretary of the Patriotic Fund. Lacking the enlistment details, which are known only at Ottawa, Mr. Dobbin adopted the expedient of working backward from the discharge and casualty returns with which he was regularly supplied by the Militia Department.

This method entailed a great deal of work and Mr. Dobbin spent many nights preparing his lists. He realized that it was next to impossible to obtain all the names of Peterboro's volunteers because many of them were attested in other military districts.

The omissions, however, are comparatively few and blank pages have been left for any names that were missed. There is nothing pretentious about Mr. Dobbin's book whose typewritten pages comprise a bulky and a decidedly neat volume, that is probably not duplicated anywhere in Canada. Mr. Dobbin's skill in bookbindery enabled him to perform the entire work himself and the lettering of the cover is so finely cut that it looks like the impression of a printing press. These are merely the exterior evidences of the care with which Mr. Dobbin finished this unusual chronicle of a period to which future generations will look back with an interest that can be fully appreciated to-day. The book has been copyrighted and the only copies available are the two which are being presented to the city by Mr. Dobbin. One of them will be kept at the Public Library, and the other at the City Hall.

Some of the Figures.

The present summary shows the following:

Officers returned	80
Nursing Sisters returned	15
Rank and file returned	3010
	3105

This was the capitulation of the soldiers and nurses who returned to Peterboro.

The major casualties in the following represent those who fell in battle or who died of wounds or diseases:

City casualties	256
County casualties	147
Total	403

There were also 95 men discharged overseas who didn't come back to Canada. Including these three categories the total of those who went from Peterboro county and city was 3603.

146 Fatherless Here.

In his investigations of the records in his possession Mr. Dobbin found that there were 140 children of Peterboro county and city who had lost their fathers in the war, and there are 123 widows and widows mothers, the latter of course losing sons.

Since Mr. Dobbin's work became known his attention has been called to same names he had overlooked, or rather which were not shown in the discharge and casualty sheets. The lists are approximately complete, and although there is no basis for this estimate it is unlikely that the omissions number one hundred. In other words the opinion is ventured that the total enlistments for the county, between 3,600 and 3,700, may be nearer the larger number than the smaller.

Many Farmers and Labourers.

"One fact stands out that has not been hitherto appreciated," Mr. Dobbin comments in his preface, "and that is the very large enlistment of men classified by occupation as being farmers or farm labourers, especially from the eastern part of the county Other avenues to service were open to these men besides enlisting at Peterboro. Many men from the eastern townships proceeded to Belleville, Kingston, Brockville and other points, and so into the ranks."

Mr. Dobbin says that quite a number of men enlisted at Cobourg in the Heavy Battery, many of whom did not appear in the return sheets forwarded to Peterboro.

Smith Family Top the List

A cursory count of some of the largest family groups in Mr. Dobbin's book shows that in Peterboro city and county 40 Smiths joined the ranks. This famous family acrries off the honours for providing the most soldiers in this county and it is understood that they bulked largest in the resignation for the whole Empire.

Other families gave the following numbers to the colours in this county —Taylor 24; Johnston 23; Woods 21; Edwards 19; Armstrong 17; Jones 16; Graham 15; Anderson 14; Thompson 14; Miller 13; Wilson 12; White 12; Hall 11; King 10; Nicholls 10; Hill 10; Simpson 9; Kelly 9; Jackson 9.

Casualty Records.

A large section of the book gives all the details of the service of those men who gave their lives in the war. There are the names and addresses with regiment and regimental number, together with the battle in which the men were killed or mortally wounded. There is other information closing the volume which with his history of Peterboro comprises a service which places the city and county and to the people of Peterboro deeply in Mr. Dobbin's debt. His initiative and painstaking work deserve some fitting testimonial, tangible or otherwise, for he has performed a service that will be approved by his contemporaries and prized by future gtnerations.

PUTTING SUBURBAN ROADS IN REPAIR

NEW COMMISSION AT WORK IN SEVERAL SECTIONS.

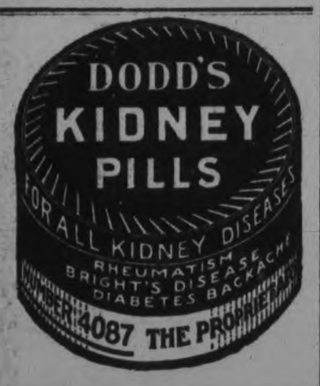
The Peterborough Suburban Road Commission, of which Ald. Frank Whitehouse is the chairman, is having done under their supervision, good work on suburban roads in most of the County of Peterborough Townships. Practically re-constructing and grading of the western section of the road on the fourth line of Smith, leading to Chemong, is proceeding at a rapid rate, and very shortly this piece of much travelled near-Peterborough highway will have been converted from a rough, rutty and bone-shaking road, full of holes and snares for the unwary, into a public thoroughfare of smooth and even surface, assuring comfort and ease to automobilists and riders in other vehicles.

Another piece of work now under way by this commission is on the Lakefield road, west side of the river, near the waterworks. At this point there is a steep rise of the highway, which is also flanked by a small but view-obstructing hill around which the road bends sharply. This has always been a danger spot to travellers, for the grade is steep, and the turn acute, rendering drivers of descending conveyances subject to a spill at any time. Then the hill stands between the vision of motorists and equestrians approaching each other from opposite directions, and thus the menace of collision has been very real indeed. But the Suburban Road Commission, with commendable foresight are now having this piece of swerving, ascending road straighted by cutting its flanking hill in half, and thus giving a clear right of way exposed to the vision of travellers from either direction.

The Commission have six suburband roads under their care at present, all marked on their clearly defined blue print for drastic treatment, under the good roads scheme by which Peterborough city pays 30 per cent., the County 30 per cent., and the Ontario Government, 40 per cent. of the cost.

This is a move in the right direction and of benefit to both City and County communities, for many of our suburban roads have been shamefully neglected in the past, and the condition of their surface wretched in the extreme.

The other members of this Commission are Messrs. Ernest Deyell and William Brown, with Mr. E. M. Elliott officiating as Clerk.



AURORA SUFFERERS FROM MINIATURE FLOOD.

AURORA, July 10.—The most severe lightning and rain storm of the season occurred here. Rain fell for two hours and some of the streets of the town were flooded six inches deep. The rush of water on Temperance Street washed out 100 feet of the concrete sidewalk. In the surrounding country many fields were under water for some hours after the rain ceased, but no permanent injury to crops is reported.

The Aurora L.O.L. will celebrate the 12th of July at Brampton, leaving here by special car on the Metropolitan Railway at 7.30 a.m.

TO REPRESENT U.S. AT CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, July 10. — The United States will be represented unofficially at the Brussels Conference under the League of Nations, July 23rd, Secretary of State Houston announced here.

The representatives will be chosen within a few days. It is planned, the secretary said, to send three representatives to observe the proceedings and consider the discussion and official report. The United States cannot be bound by any of the Conference deliberations, Mr. Houston declared, adding that it was assumed that none of the various foreign representatives would have authority to make any agreements in behalf of their Governments.

Britain is sending three unofficial representatives, all economic experts, and it's likely that the majority of nations will send experts on economic and reconstruction problems.

Shock-Absorbers For False Teeth

CLEVELAND, March 8. — Non-Skid Shock Absorbers for false teeth are the latest thing. Heretofore the principle of shock absorbers has been limited in application but now a Cleveland chemical concern advertises a powder which sprinkled upon "store teeth," forms a smooth cushion, holds them firmly in place, and gives a "non-skid" effect while they romp over the toughest ears of corn and chew the stickiest candy.

One who has lost his natural teeth can supply himself with this antiseptic, adhesive comfort powder—Corega—at a drug store, and proceed to laugh and sneeze, chack nuts and do other hazardous things without the risk of shaking his prized false teeth from their upper and lower berths. 50c at druggists.—Adv.

WOMEN JOURNALISTS TO MEET IN OCTOBER

OTTAWA, July 10.—At the forthcoming meeting in October of the Canadian Women's Press Club at Montreal, a number of amendments to the constitution will be discussed. The club has had no triennial meeting since before the war, and there is a large amount of business to be transacted.

Among the proposed amendments are provision for a vice-president to be elected from each province having members in the C.W.P.C., and the insertion of a clause outlining the duties of the recording secretary with regard to triennial meetings.

The powers of the Dominion Executive to protect or discipline members are outlined in the proposed amendments, and it is also proposed to relegate to the class of associate members, without power to vote or hold office, those who have done no active professional work for a stated period. The question of eligibility for membership will also be dealt with in considerable detail.

BABIES COPPOLD.

"After-effects of Measles removed by Virol."

791, Champagneur Avenue,
31st March, 1919. Outremont, Montreal.

Dear Sir,—As it may be a matter of interest to you, I am enclosing a photograph of my two little sons, aged respectively four years and one year and a half, which photo was taken in Montreal in July, 1918.

The photo may be interesting to you in view of the fact that the two boys have taken VIROL continuously from infancy on the advice of our doctor, and they certainly love their "candy in the tin," being the name by which they know the VIROL, and I really feel that their robust health and splendid development is due entirely to the regular use of your preparation.

When the elder boy was three years old he had an attack of measles, the after-effects of which trouble were speedily rectified by the use of VIROL.

I never lose an opportunity of recommending it to my friends.

Yours truly,
Mrs. A. COPPOLD.

Virol is invaluable for the expectant and nursing mother herself, whilst for children it supplies those vital principles that are destroyed in the sterilising of milk. It is also bone and tissue-building food of immense value. Virol babies have firm flesh, strong bones and good colour.

NO MONEY FOR THE CADET CAMP

PETERBORO CADETS WILL HAVE TO POSTPONE THEIR HOLIDAY.

(Special to Examiner.)

KINGSTON, July 10. — The annual school cadets camp will not open at Barriefield Monday having been postponed. The date for holding it cannot be arrived at until all of the instructors of the various units in the military district have been communicated with and reports have been received from them showing what success they have had in securing a parade of their units. The authorities are anxious to have the camp before the last week in August when the Ontario Rifle Association meets, because the cadets corps should have teams entered in the different competitions including the King's Cup, that was won last year by the Kingston Collegiate Institute. This cup will be competed for on Aug. 27th and 28th. It was hoped that the holding of the camp early would have resulted in producing a number of good rifle teams from each unit, but the delay of Parliament in voting this apropriation was the cause of the cancellation of the order to hold the camp on Monday.

LOYAL TRUE BLUE AND ORANGE ORPHANAGE

Twenty-seven years ago the members of the Loyal True Blue Association undertook the work of endeavouring to assist unfortunate little ones who had been bereft of either parent. After a few years, owing to the many requests made upon them to shelter those who had been deserted by father or mother, it was decided to assume greater responsibility, and on 23rd August, 1899, in the name of the Master, who said, "Suffer little ones to come upon me," we opened what has commonly been known as The True Blue Orphanage, situated at Picton, Ont.

Since that date, close upon five hundred children have found succour and shelter within its walls. When there has been room, no child has ever been refused admittance, whether any stipulated amount could be paid towards its maintenance or not. The Institution during all these years has been entirely maintained by the self-sacrificing efforts of the members of the Loyal True Blue and Orange Associations. In the year 1917, the True Blue Association and the Orange Grand Lodges of Ontario East and West united and formed a joint Board of Directors, and the Institution is now managed by these two Associations, and known as the Loyal True Blue and Orange Home. No public request for assistance had ever been made until the summer of 1919, when we appealed to the Protestants of Ontario to assist us in erecting a new building, the present one being too small, also non-fireproof, and in addition, not centrally located.

From the appeal issued, we received close upon $75,000.00. A generous friend and sympathiser in the work has also guaranteed $20,000.00 when building operations are commenced.

Out of the amount collected, we have purchased thirty-seven acres of land on the east side of Yonge Street, adjoining Richmond Hill, within twenty minutes' ride on the radial line from North Toronto.

Our aim is to erect a building which will accommodate at least one hundred and fifty children, and we are again asking every friend of the children to assist us to make up the amount which is required, viz., $200,000.

We desire to draw special attention to the fact that this institution is not exclusive. It is open to receive all children, as over 65 per cent. of those that have been already befriended, the parents were not members of either Association. A child in need is our first consideration.

At the present time the Institution is crowded to the doors, and to be in a position to meet the ever-increasing demands that will be made upon us, we must have greater facilities.

Our object is an unselfish one, and we feel justified, in the name of Christ's little ones, in earnestly soliciting your hearty and tangible support in the work in which we are engaged.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE SPECIAL OPENING FOR ONE DAY ONLY

Monday July 12th., for the benefit of the L.O.L., with continous show from 10.30 a.m. until 11 p.m.

The one big outstanding feature picture of the year is "When Bearcat Went Dry," which will be the attraction at the Grand on July 12 for one day, only, continuous show.

The famous and widely read novel of Charles Neville Buck, of the same title, has been made not a photoplay that teems with dramatic intensity and suspense.

The characters of the picture are those hardy mountaineers of eastern Kentucky who, from time immemorial, have shown slight regard for man-made laws. They are the descendants of the hardy pioneers who blazed a trail from the shores of Virginia through the mountains as that State and Kentucky. They fought the treacherous savage and settled the "Blue Grass State." They made it possible for an empire to be founded that gives to us and our children that follow, a land that knows no counterpart for riches.

It is of such kind of men and women that "When Bearcat Went Dry" has to do, and needless to say a picture-play of unlimited entertainment qualities is provided.

PROVINCIAL ROAD TO LINDSAY AND NORTHWARD

The meeting held at Rathbun recently to discuss the route of the proposed Provincial highway through Mara was well attended. Two advocats of each of the three routes were permited to state their case The final decision was in favor of the Udney road as far as the 11th Concession; thence west on the 11th Concession to the Fair Valley road; north to the Monck Road, and to Washago This is the route Mr. Widdifield will be asked to recommend.

A deputation from North Ontario went to Toronto July 8th., to urge upon the Minister of Public Works and Highways the construction of a Provincial road north through the country, as well as across the southern end to Lindsay. Among those who were present were Mr. Givens of Mara, Mr. Walls of Beaverton and Mr. McKinnon of Cannington. The Minister gave the deputation to understand that the road would be built north as far as Sunderland this year and would run east from here to Lindsay. Later it would be continued north through the country, but whether to Orillia or Washago the Minister did not say.

HOW TO OVERCOME NERVOUS TROUBLES

A RETURNED SOLDIER TELLS HOW HE REGAINED HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

Nervous troubles of all kinds, particularly nervous debility, work a remarkable transformation in the patient. The change is both physical and mental. The sufferer loses weight and strength, and frequently becomes irritable and fault finding. Troubles that were once thrown off without any difficulty assume exaggerated proportions. Other symptoms of this nervous condition are poor appetite, headaches, exhaustion after little effort, and frequently distress after meals.

The cause of this debility is generally starved nerves. The blood, which gives the nervous system its food and power to work efficiently, has become thin and weak, and until the blood regains its tone and strength there can be no improvement in the condition of the nerves. In cases of this kind Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found the very best medicine. They make rich, red blood which feeds and strengthens the starved nerves, and in this way restores the sufferer to full health and strength. Proof of this is found in the case of Mr. Fred Sander, London, Ont., who says: "While on service with the Imperial forces in Africa I completely lost my health through continual hardship and shock. I was sent back to the base hospital suffering, so the doctor said, from nervous debility. After spending some time in the hospital I was invalided back to England as unfit for further service. After spending a long time in Netley Hospital, I was given my discharge, but was still a weak and nervous wreck, absolutely unfit for work. I had neither the strength nor ambition to do anything. In London I doctored for three or four months with a civilian doctor, who finally advised a change of climate. I was terribly nervous, suffered from sleeplessness, smothering and sinking spells, and pains in the heart; my hands and feet were always cold and clammy. At this time I decided to come to Canada, and shortly after reaching this country was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After I had taken the pills for some weeks I found myself improving. I continued taking the pills for several months with the result that they fully restored my health. My nerves are now as steady as a rock; my appetite the best, and my eyes and skin, which had turned yellowish, are clear and healthy looking. I feel like a new man in every way, and fit for anything. I have since recommended the pills to several friends, and know of several cases where they were beneficial in the influenza epidmic. I am of th opinion that should any of my returned-soldier comrades use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for shell shock, they would be a great help to them."

—You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ORANGEMEN LOOK FOR A RECORD BREAKING CROWD ON MONDAY NEXT

PREPARATIONS HAVE BEEN MADE TO TAKE CARE OF THE VISITORS—SHEESLEY SHOWS WILL ALSO OPEN HERE ON THAT DAY.

The arrangements for the July 12th celebration here are being completed by the local officers and everything points to a real old live celebration that will make the citizens sit up and take notice. Never will such a gorgeous parade of multitudinous colours or such a blare of Orange music have been seen or heard here. One hundred and eight bands of various descriptions but all with a marvellous volume of noise will liven up the parade. The fifes and drums will be out enforce, the white horses will be much in evidence and silk hats, sashes and the other paraphenalia will be cleaned and scintillating for the annual display.

First Contingent.

The first train comes in at 7.45 on the C. P. R. from the east. There is a celebration at Madoc but this will not seriously affect the numbers here, it is stated. From the on trains on both lines will arrive hourly. A special C.P.R. train will bring the Toronto lodgers at 10 a.m. and another large special arrives from Lindsay at 9.50 carrying Orangemen from as far west as Burketon and north to Bobcaygeon.

The 11.30 special on the G. T. R. from Belleville will convey hundreds of Orangemen it is expected. From Lindsay 700 Orangemen alone are coming and with their families and adherents well over 1,000 will be here Hundreds of Orangemen have declared their intention of motoring here and the cars will groan under the greatest load of Orangemen they have even carried.

1916 was the last year of a big celebration here and those who recall it will recall the monster crowds that swarmed into the city. This celebration will be similar. In 1916 the celebration was small because of the enlistments from their ranks but this year will see the large majority of these men once again behind the fife and drum.

Hot dinners will be served at George Street Methodist Church from 10 o'clock on, at Murray street Baptist, at the Salvation Army, at Mark street Methodist and at the Charlote street Curling Rink.

While he does not wish to build up any expectations recording secretary, H. Dodds, stated to-day that there was just a glimmer of hope that Sir Sam Hughes who was to speak may yet be here. R. W. Bro. Dr. J. Edwards D.G.M. of Kingston, is unable to attend having sailed recently for Ireland.

Sheesley Shows.

Included in the list of attractions for the day will be the Sheesley Shows. This is guaranteed to be one of the best shows of its kind. It will remain in the city one whole week commencing Monday. A street parade is also included in the programme of the Show.

GIRLS! USE LEMONS FOR SUNBURN, TAN

Try it! Make this lemon lotion to whiten your tanned or freckled skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion whitener, at very, very small cost. Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see how quickly the freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless and never irritates.

LAURIER MONUMENT FUND.

TORONTO, July 10.—The colored children of Halifax collected $31.85 for the Laurier Monument Fund and remitted it through Councillor Diggs of Halifax, N.S., to Mr. P. C. Larkin, honorary treasurer, of this city.

GERMAN ROADS FREE OF AUTOS

FAMINE OF GASOLINE AND TIRES MAKES MOTORING ALMOST AN IMPOSSIBILITY.

BERLIN. — In traveling through Germany to-day there is no fact which is calculated to impress an Englishman, and in an even greater degree an American—more than the entire absence of motor cars.

In the course of a journey I made by road from Greifswald to Berlin, passing through Stettin, I did not meet a single motor car. The journey covered some 160 miles, and passed through the town of Stettin, a city of a quarter of a million inhabitants. Not only did we not meet a single car on the way but the obvious sensation which our car created showed how rare an event it was.

Few Berlin Taxis.

There are a few taxis in the centre of Berlin and perhaps a dozen or so in cities like Leipzig and Hamburg, but private motor cars there are none, literally none, on the roads, and the shortest taxi ride costs a sovereign, for the fares have been raised by 800 per cent in Berlin and 1,000 per cent. in Hamburg.

The explanation of the disappearance is simple enough. There is a famine of everything here, but even in the general famine the lack of rubber and petrol is exceptional. The wife of a diplomatist, once well known in England, told me the other day that motoring had ceased to be possible, because a pair of new tires cost 24,000 marks (£1200.) It may be possible to afford that once, she said, but no one can go on affording it. And another person in the company added that a litre of benzine now costs as much as a litre of champagne did before the war.

And though the internal value of the mark has declined less than the external value, it is not worth more than a sixth of its pre-war level. The shilling is now less than six-pence, but the German shilling is not worth more than twopence even in Germany. In these circumstances, the problem of living, hard enough in England, is here a nightmare that overshadows all other topics. It is a nightmare associated not with simple inconvenience, but with the prolonged experience, now passing into the fifth year, of chronic hunger, supported only by food of desolating sameness and tastelessness.

Still have war Rations.

As the result of innumerable inquiries which I have made in all the towns I have visited and among all classes of people, it may be said that the population of Germany is to-day existing as it has existed for four years, on potatoes and bread eked out with a few vegetables and an occasional egg or a scrap of meat. This statement does not rest on German evidence only but will I think, be endorsed by every external authority in a position to speak, like the British military mission at Berlin or the various American and British Quaker relief organizations.

And even here the limits are severe. Butter is never seen at the Hotel Adlon, which is the Ritz of Berlin, nor margarine either. Indeed I have not seen margarine anywhere; and I am told that when obtainable it is so evil-smelling and evil tasting, owing not only to the lack of materials, but also to the high percentage of water used in manufacturing it as to be almost uneatable. In going through an open market and a great provision and general store at Charlottenburg, I made a note of the following prices, converting the mark into the shilling:

Some of the Prices.

A reel of cotton 22s, oranges 2s to 4s each, combs 7s to 20s, a pair of laces 3s, turkey 20s a pound, duck 18s a pound, goat's fat 24s a pound, a cauliflower 8s, hake 4s 4d a pound, salt herring 1s (very cheap), sole 7s a lb (also I was told very cheap), smoked herring 7s a pound, cocoa 27s 9d a pound, coffee fifth quality—imagine it! 33s a pound, tin of preserved pears, 6s, a tin of pork and beans (American army ration' tin) 9s, dried milk 18s a pound, currants 20s a pound, sultanas 30s a pound, dried cabbage which looked like wood shavings) 2s 6d a pound, dried green peas, 5s 4d a lb., dried beans, 7s 6d, rice 13s 6d, chocolate 45s a pound, goat's meat sausage 17s a pound.

POLES SEEK HELP.

(Canadian Press.)

COPENHAGEN, July 9. — The Letts have gone to the assistance of the Poles around Drinsk, according to the Kovno correspondent of the Berlin "Tidende." The Poles requested the Letts to take war material which Poles were unable to move in their retreat. Letts are reported to be crossing the Dvina and operating in the direction of Skudzelyns. The Poles also have asked Lithunia for assistance, the correspondent says.

COBOURG WILL GIVE PETES A MERRY BATTLE IN MONDAY'S FIXTURE

The Central League game between Cobourg and Peterboro on Monday afternoon has been called at 3:30 o'clock, an hour that will give the fans a chance to see the big Orange parade and still be in time for the ball game. That there will be a big crowd out goes without saying for the Peterboro fans will be out in droves, while many of the visitors will take advantage of the opportunity to see a classy ball game. And this fixture promises to be just that if the Cobourg crew deliver as snappy an article of ball as they did at home against the Petes two weeks ago. The Solomon crew were lucky to get out of that game without losing their scalps and they are prepared for another battle of the same sort on Monday. It will be the last chance to see the Petes at home until Aug. 3 so the fans cannot afford to miss the engagement.

WINNIPEG ATHLETES ARE GOOD OLYMPIC PROSPECTS

WINNIPEG, July 10.—That Manitoba will be well and strongly represented in the Dominion Olympic finals at Montreal on July 17 was demonstrated at River Park here when the local boys, competing in the Western finals against the crack athletes of Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia and Thunder Bay, captured the major share of the honours. John Cameron, Vancouver, Canadian all-round champion, met his match in the weights, winning only one of the four events and losing to McEachern, the local star, and a couple of companions from the Coast in the others. Cyril Coaffee, of Winnipeg, made good time in the two sprints, and looks certain to secure a place in the Dominion finals. Stafford, of Thunder Bay, made a brilliant showing to win the walk. Among the Western athletes who figured in the spoils of victory were Hammond, of Regina; McLeod, of Unity, Sask., and McIlvena, of Lethbridge.

Cyril Coaffee and Jack McEachern, of Winnipeg, and Tommy Towns, of Brandon, who made such a fine showing at the Western Olympic finals here yesterday, will go East to represent the province at the finals on July 17, the Manitoba Amateur Athletic officials announced last night.

An effort will be made to raise enough money to send Jack Beckett and Jack Harris, also of Winnipeg.

LINDSAY WOMAN COMPLAINS HUSBAND DESERTED HER.

A Lindsay woman has notified the police that her husband has deserted her, having, she alleges, left for parts unknown with another woman. The wronged wife, it seems, is not so much concerned about the loss of her husband as by the fact that she was left the sole support of two children. Her mother love naturally objected to handing the children over to an institution, and she wished help. The case will be attended to.

MISS OLIVE HAGER, feature rider in the motordrome of the Greater Sheesley Shows, which open as attractions de luxe on Monday afternoon at the Exhibition Park, and remain all next week, under the direction of the Peterboro Exhibition Board. Miss Hager's feats around the perpendicular wall of the drome are reported to be as sensational as the tales of racing demons from the lower regions. Speeding and daring were two conditions manifested by her at the early age of ten years when she stole out in her father's automobile at Nashville, Tenn., and incidentally achieved the distinction of being the first girl to drive an automobile in that city. She sustained several injuries as a broken left forearm, scalp wounds, and compulsory trips to dreamland, through the faultiness of her riding mates two years ago. But her courage prompted her to return to the drome as soon after the accident as her recovery permitted. Few women speeders in the outdoor show world equal her in skill and daring.

No use having a bike unless it is always ready to ride. Might as well have a poor old lame horse in the stable eating its head off. When you have a wheel keep it running right. Let us keep it going nice and smooth for you.

CORRIN STILL LEADS CITY LEAGUE HITTERS

HARRISON AND SWANSTON CLOSE ON THE HEELS OF C.G.E. FIRST BASEMAN—THISTLES HEAD THE LEAGUE IN HITTING AND THE ELECTRICIANS IN FIELDING—THE OFFICIAL AVERAGES.

The City League averages to date show that Harry Corrin, first baseman of the C.G.E. team, is leading the League in hitting, with "Hap" Harrison and Max Swanston, of the Thistles, running neck and neck close at his heels. Swanston is far in advance in the number of hits made, having slammed out 20 safeties in eight games.

The Thistles's standing in the League is explained by the fact that they have no fewer than seven regulars hitting over the .300 mark.

Swanston and Murray of the Thistles are tied for the run-getting honours, each having crossed the plate fourteen times, while Lowe of the same club is next with eleven.

The Canadian General team lead in team fielding, while the Thistles have a wide margin in team batting, having made more hits than the G.W.V.A. and C.G.E. teams combined.

Here are the figures:

TWO FOOTBALL TROPHIES WERE RETURNED TO LOCAL ASSOCIATION

CUP WILL BE HANDED OVER TO-DAY—BURNHAM SHIELD TO BE RETURNED BY "WAG" HOTSTON—EXECUTIVE ORDERS THE GAME TO BE PLAYED.

Last evening in Mr. Fred Sutcliffe's Barber Shop the Peterborough Football Executive met to discuss the proposition of Cup Ties but the question was referred to the annual meeting of 14th July. The cup that is being handed over to the Association to-day is one of the many football trophies that used to be competed for a few years ago.

Burnham Shield.

The executive was treated to a surprise when they were informed that Mr. "Wag" Hotston had in his possession the Burnham Shield and he was willing to hand it over to the Association providing Mr. Burnham would agree to said conditions.

League Championship Game.

Representative Everall of C.G.E. informed the members present that the C.G.E. team wanted the game postponed if not, they would concede the championship.

Vice-president Baldwin replied that the executive met after the game and decided that the game be replayed on Saturday evening at 6.30 p.m.

"But our players have made other arrangements to go on an excursion. It does not give the team a chance by playing so quick after the first game," replied Mr. Everall.

"I was instructed by the G.W.V.A. Football Executive that they wanted the game to be played as ordered by the Executive and make a motion to that effect," answered Mr. Frank McKinley.

The motion received a seconder with no amendment against it.

At this point the C.G.E. representative left the meeting.

Some other minor details were discussed then the meeting adjourned.

EXAMINER INTERVIEWS SECRETARY CLARK—C.G.E. AND G.V.W.A. EXECUTIVE.

When The Examiner interviewed the secretary of the C.G.E. relative to the executive ordering the game to be played he replied "Well it is like this, Turner, Parkins, Mason, and Bartley are sick and we cannot get a team to play to-morrow evening."

"For the benefit of the sport and not to disappoint the public, will the C.G.E. team play to-morrow evening?" asked the reporter.

"You can use my statement publicly that the C.G.E. conceded the championship to the Vets owing to the sickness amongst our players," answered Mr. J. Clark, secretary C.G.E.

Will Score a Goal.

When the Vets' executive was questioned on the subject they stated that the team would be right there to play the game as ordered by the executive.

If the C.G.E. team does not turn up the Vets will have to score a goal so as to claim the championship.

Mr. Joe Parkins informed the Examiner this morning that he had spent a few hours trying to get C.G.E. players to play to-night but the only answer they would give was, "they would be willing to play on Monday night."

LOUIS BENNISON NAS CAPABLE CAST IN 'A MISFIT EARL'

Louis Bennison, the Betzwood-Goldwyn star, whose latest picture, "A Misfit Earl," will be presented at the Allen Theatre to-day is usually fortunate in surrounding himself with a cast that knows how to act without rehearsing each scene in minute detail.

In his newest photoplay Claire Adams, a young and experienced player, has the leading feminine role. Miss Adams is a young Canadian girl, born in Winnipeg, who received her early education in Western Canada and then went to England to study in an English university. Miss Adams has played with Edison, Famous Players, and Betzwood. Her youth and beauty added much to such pictures as "The Spirit of the Red Cross," "The End of the Road," and "The Key to Power." In "A Misfit Earl" Miss Adams is the demure companion to an aristocratic Englishwoman, and her knowledge of British customs and manners assure the picture of a true portrayal of British mannerisms.

Herbert Seanding is a well known actor who has played on the stage with the late Sir Henry Irving and Sir George Wyndham. On the screen he has played with Douglas Fairbanks in "The Man from Painted Post" and "He Comes up Smiling." Mr. Standing also played with Mary Pickford in "Amarilly of Clothesline Alley." He has appeared in the support of the best known film stars.

An unusual bit of child acting is furnished by six-year-old Samuel Ross, whose understanding of the work demanded of him resulted in an intelligent and wholly delightful performance. The boy's scenes with Louis Bennison were play to both actors, and they had a glorious time romping through their many humorous scenes together.

Ida Waterman, whose statuesque beauty is well known to film enthusiasts, play the part of a grande dame in "A Misfit Earl" with poise and fidelity.

Charles Brandt, Barbara Allen and Neil Moran complete a well chosen and competent cast.

VARDON AND RAY COMING.

Noted British Golf Professionals to Visit Canada this Summer.

LONDON, July 10.—Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, the noted British golf professionals, will visit Canada this summer and will play in matches on a number of courses in the Dominion. This announcement was made by Vardon and Ray this morning just before they left London to board the steamer Celtic at Liverpool for New York. They stated that the details of their engagements in Canada have not yet been arranged. In the United States Vardon and Ray will compete in the open championship and in the Western and Metropolitan open competitions, before proceeding to Canada. With them on the Celtic will be Jim Barnes, professional of the Sunset Hills Club, St. Louis, who played in the British open championship. Barnes finished fifth and declares that he will come to England again next year to try his fortune once more in the open event.

We are advised by the Fuel Controller that all the Hard Coal we can get will be required in this district this year.

Shortage of cars for Hard Coal Shipments into Canada has been so acute that we have arranged shipments of D.L.&W. Coal from Oswego to Cobourg by water, and rail to Peterboro.

This is Best quality Coal.

Orders will be taken for this shipment of Nut, Stove and Egg sizes, on Monday, July 12th.

ney Hatton, witness corroborated the evidence of the others regarding the attack and added that upon reaching the corner of Rubidge and Townshend streets the car stopped to allow the men to clean up and a stone was found in the bottom of the car.

Crown Sums Up.

Crown Attorney Hatton in summing up the evidence, stated that this was a preconcerted assault for the purpose of intimidating employees in peaceable employment going to and from their work. Stones and rotten eggs had been thrown and one stone had wounded the complainant, Charles E. Martin. There was evident intent to commit aggravated assault. That the charge was not manslaughter was due to the fact that the stones did not come in contact with any vulnerable part of the body.

If the magistrate did not believe that the evidence warranted a charge of assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm, Mr. Hatton continued, he could reduce the charge to one of common assault.

Assaults of such a serious nature if not stopped would come to such a pass that not assault but manslaughter would be the charge.

Peterboro was a quiet, law-abiding city. The C.G.E. was a plant any city would be glad to expropriate. The men had a right to strike but not to interfere with others who were trying to earn an honest living.

Here the magistrate interposed and declare d that the evidence did not say anything of a strike at the C.G.E. plant or that Meeks was a striker.

The crown attorney then pointed out parts of the depositions which evidently satisfied the magistrate on this point.

That these employees of the C. G. E. were not strike-breakers was shown by their entering Canada independently at different points and by accident securing work here as Peterboro men might do in going to the United States.

Defence Sums Up.

G. N. Gordon, summing up for the defence, stated that the whole issue was whether grievous bodily harm had been done to the complainant, Charles E. Martin. Only when brutal force was used could a charge of assault with doing grievous bodily harm be brought for this case where the only injury received was a slight abrasion on the wrist it was no more than common assault.

If the magistrate should dismiss the charge of assaulting and doing grievous bodily harm then a charge of common assault could be laid. But the cost to the county of a trial in proportion to the smaliness of a charge of common assault should prohibit such a course.

Meeks Committed for Trial.

In reviewing the evidence, Magistrate Dumble stated that it was certainly a case of premeditated interference with the liberties of the employees of the Canadian General Electric Company who, so far as the court knew, were in legitimate employment. The assault was undignified and demeaning and the smearing of a man's face and body with rotten eggs justified heavy punishment. He looked on it as a serious offence that a body of men should take it upon themselves to attempt to run the Canadian General Electric plant.

The magistrate then committed Meeks for trial at the General Sessions Court next December. Bail was fixed at $1,000, for which Mr. G. N. Gordon supplied surety.

TAKES OVER HIS NEW OFFICE TO-DAY

MR. PETER THOMPSON LEAVES FOR NEW HOME IN STATES.

Mr. Arthur Metheral takes over the duties of plumbing inspector and assistant to the Sanitary Inspector today. Mr. Peter Thompson leaves today on the 3.20 for Cleveland where he has already taken a house and moved his family. When he was asked if he did not think the salary paid the new man a litele high he declared no and stated it should be $2,000. He had only received $1,000 but he was slightly incapacitated and a young man with the extra work devolved upon him should receive that salary.

"It certainly isn't too high." Mr. Thompson leaves the city with regret From the Council he has received an extra month's salary and a letter of appreciation and this letter he prizes highly. He expects to carry on some light work in Cleveland and next summer looks forward to a trip back here again.

When seen this afternoon and questioned in regard to the Charles Thompson (alias Hutchison) the "Human Fly" who was hurt at Welland sometime ago, being his son "Raffles" Peter Thompson declared it could not possibly be or he would have ben notified by his wife.

The last he heard of his son was in Boston and he also drew attention to the fact that his son's name was Stanley. He could not believe it was "Raffles" who has never been noted for his climbing stunts but for his straight jacket and handcuff escapes.

MR. TOM MOORE AWAITS DEFINITE ANNOUNCEMENT

OTTAWA, July 10.—Mr. Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, says that he had not yet received definite information concerning the possibilities of another National Industrial Conference here this fall. Mr. Moore said when the Commission on the Co-ordination of Labor Laws was sitting, he understood a conference would be held. Mr. Moore intimated he was not prepared to state the Labor planks until the question of whether the conference would be held was definitely settled.

THE DOMINION DUSTLESS SWEEPER COMING INTO ITS OWN

PETERBOROUGH HAS ANOTHER NEW INDUSTRY—SPLENDIDLY EQUIPPED MACHINE SHOP AND FACTORY FOR THE MANUFACTURE OF DUSTLESS STREET CLEANING MACHINERY AND OTHER AFFILIATED LINES.

The men who have put through the initial stages that have culminated in the busy manufacturing establishment of the Dominion Dustless Sweepers, Limited, are to-day being repaid for their efforts.

Along with influential local business men interested in promoting the city's welfare and this valuable utility, in particular, a representaive of The Examiner was agreeably surprised on visiting the new bustling factory and machine shops of the Dominion Dustless Sweeper Co. These commodious factory premises occupy the large building known as the Peterborough Machine Co., 226 George street, recently used for the manufacture of war material for the allies in the recent world war. The southern section of the building has been remodelled and specially fitted up for the production of the metal parts of their products.

Commendable Progress.

The development of this plant for construction work and the preliminary building of the first of these sweepers called forth astonishment, remembering what had been accomplished in so short a period of time. Here was seen as efficiently an equipped machine shop as could be found in any city, embracing lathes, drills, millar, planers, shapers, hydraulic press, air riveters, air drills, electric drills, forges and the fine complement of tools, and other accessories, necessary for a first class machine shop. Every machine was fully manned and in motion, in charge of expert machinists.

If there ever was any doubt about the bona fides of the Dominion Dustless Sweepers Co., Limited, the demonstration here provided was witness to the fact that the initial stages had been safely passed and all apparent apprehensions of its future success completely eliminated.

A Real Public Awakening.

It was plainly evident that the general public, generally speaking, had failed to grasp the real significance of this enterprise, about which so much had been said for the past year or more. There are a few in Peterborough who have never got over the habit of cold-shouldering this much needed utility because of some of the common mistakes incident to the inception of such undertakings. Now, however, new interest has been awakened—every one of the visitors realized that Peterborough was closely linked up with another new, live manufacturing industry, and that, too, without the city having been asked for bonus or assistance of any kind.

The First Battery of Sweepers.

A strong force of factory employees were busily engaged producing the various parts composing the Sweepers. Two batteries of Sweepers were under construction which have been urgently demanded by several of the large Canadian cities and whose further orders are booked and under consideration. A very large production programme is planned and the early construction of these machines are expected at an early date.

It has taken some energetic work to make Dominion Dustless Sweepers Limited what it is to-day. Such an achievement is not to be attained in a single year. No matter how sincere the desire, no matter how complete the equipment, no matter how capable the executive, time is indispensable. And the company must have a growth and an unfoldment. This may have excited the contempt of some of whom it may be said that, with them, "A prophet has no honor in his own country." Such tangible evidence, however, of the bright prospects of this Company, which may be verified any day, puts to silence the picayune inuendos of cold water powers.

Every evidence available points to the mechanical efficiency of the organization, and its substantial financial condition. The only apparent drawback at present is the difficulty of procuring some of the material required for important parts of the machine. But this is a trouble that is general with all metal workers.

Wood Working Department.

The Company propose to utilize the north section of the factory building for the operations of a wood working factory designed for building the cabs for the Sweepers, and for other new and important developments, which will require additional machinery and a large increase to the payroll.

Honor to Whom Honor is Due.

Mr. W. T. Blaney, the painstaking inventor and patentee of the Dustless Sweeper, superintends the mechanical department. He is not a mere shrewd business man. He is a thinker who makes sure of his facts upon which he bases his thinking, and is not afraid to pursue their deductions to the most logical conclusions. He is fully aware of the necessity for preserving all existing incentives towards production, knowing as he does the extent of the market that awaits his product.

Mr. H. M. Bishop, the undaunted Manager of the Company, has earned the Company's unstinted praise for the energy shown in promoting the interests of stockholders. It has been found difficult to temper the enthusiasm of this member of the executive. His intense interest in increasing the stock list is not due to a mere greed for increased capital. It is the result of strong views concerning his faith in the proposition and the splendid legacy, which he hopes, will be left as a valuable addition to the sanitary improvements of the world.

To educate the people is the foundation of all progress. They'll do the rest themselves. Every stockholder in the Dominion Dustless Sweeper Co., Limited, have a right to know how his project is progressing. A genuine, practical demonstration awaits them. The Company is being urged to rush production from various large cities; and as earnestness seems to be a characteristic of the executive, there is not likely to be any danger of lost time.

12TH OF JULY TAG DAY FOR ORPHANS

TO AID TRUE BLUE ORPHANAGE AND SERBIAN CHILDREN.

The True Blue and Orange Orphanage of Tntario and the war orphanages of Serbia, constitute a call and an irresistible appeal to every true friend of the Orange order and to every lover of Liberty at home and abroad.

These orphans, in many instances in Ontario, and in every instance in Serbia, are the children of the men who made the supreme sacrifice in snatching victory from defeat and saving self-determination to the weaker nations, civilization to the world and the religion of Jesus Christ to the human family;

The children of the men who conquered the vandals who were dismantling Cathedrals and the very altars of God, carrying off the sacred vessels of His holy house, robbing the world of its religious relics, razing art galleries to the ground, stealing earth's antiquities and other treasures of art—despoiling the house of God and man;

The children of the men who met and mastered the fiends who were firing oil fields and fuel mines, cutting down forests, plugging and poisoning wells and running waters, scuttling and sinking ships and sending to the bottom of the sea vast stores of precious food stuffs destined for the firing lines and famine stricken fields, and sacrificing men immortalized in war and peace, in literature, in art, in science and in social circles—immortalized for faith and for good works;

These are the children of the men who fought and fell in our defence by land and sea, and saved the liberties of the world. Shall we who never missed a meal, who never knew the pinch of poverty or saw the ravages of war allow these little ones to lack for any necessary of life? Far be it from us!

The Brotherhood Federation of Canada is co-operating with the True Blue and Orange Order of Peterborough in a joint tag day on next Monday, July 12, 1920, on behalf of the True Blue and Orange Orphanage in Ontario and our orphanages in Serbia.

This is a splendid piece of home and foreign missionary effort that will commend itself to all irrespective of denominational lines.

Indeed, it is an unusual opportunity for a display of loyalty and fidelity on behalf of our war orphans and others at home and abroad.

Many of the leading ladies of the city are already in line to help make the effort a success.

Will young ladies and gentlemen willing to assist in this worthy work kindly communicate at once with Mrs. J. H. Knox, 481 Gilmour street, telephone 788w.

Your assistance spells success!

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN MENOGUE

There passed away early this morning, at her late home, 476 Driscoll Terrace, Mrs. John Menogue. She is survived by three daughters, Margaret, Mary and Josephine, and five sons, Patrick, John, Dennis, Stephen and Michael.

FLORENCE MORENCY

The death occurred yesterday of Florence Morency, aged 30 years, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swailes, 285 George street.

The deceased who was of English birth had been a resident of Peterboro for about 6 months.

The funeral will be held this afternoon to Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. B. Greatrix officiating.

MRS. THOMAS TIMMINS.

Midland Free Press: Death came suddenly on Saturday, July 3rd to one of Midland's oldest and most esteemed citizens in the person of Mrs. Thos. Timmins, who had been ailing for some time. Mrs. Timmins was born in Cavan township in 1837 and was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston, who resided in Lindsay for many years. In 1860 she was married to the late Thomas Timmins, and the family came to this town from Janetville some forty-two years ago, and with the exception of a few years' residence in Peterboro and Lindsay, have resided here, and witnessed the growth of Midland from a bush village to its present standing. In 1910 Mr. and Mrs. Timmins celebrated their golden wedding.

Mrs. Timmins was a woman of unselfish disposition, always ready to sacrifice her own comfort for the good of others. She was a life-long member of the Methodist church.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Jas. Hastings, and Miss Lila Johnston, of Midland; one son and three daughters, R. J. Timmins, of Calgary; Mrs. W. H. Pethick, of Peterboro; Mrs. W. T. Lane of Fort Sassatchewan and Miss Tilly, of Midland, all of whom were present at the funeral Tuesday. Other relatives present were, Mrs. Jas. Timmins, Toronto, Mr. W. H. Pethick and Miss Cora, of Peterboro, and Mrs. Harold Weeks of Orillia.

S. A. TEMPLE.

Very special services are being conducted over the week end by Brigadier Southall, of Toronto, sometimes called the Silver Tongued Orator of the Army in Canada. The Brigadier is not unknown in Peterboro and the week end he spent here before still lives in the memories of those who listened to him at that time.

The morning open air service will be held at the corner of Park and Hunter Streets. Every bandsman and soldier is requested to be present.

The night service will be of a special character when the local Orange Lodge will arade to the Temple to attend the service. They will be headed by the Temple Band and addressed by Brig. Southall.

There will also be welcomed to the city Ensign Nabb who is taking charge of all young people's work in connection with the city also Bralley and Brownton.

Special music by band and songsters a llthrough the day. Everyone is welcome.

APPENDICITIS!

Is inflammation or excessive heat in the vermiform appendix. It is an anatomical fact that the appendix contains glands which secrete a fluid that lubricates the intestines, proving that the appendix is a very useful organ. Chiropractic adjusts the cause of the inflammation. The "itis" (which means inflammation) disappears, and you still have your appendix to perform the function which nature intended it to perform. RIGHT P. O. ADDRESS.

By the way, it may be worth noting that J. H. Burnham, of West Peterborough has resigned again. Last time he did it, he squibbed. He made a mistake and sent the resignation to the Premier instead of the Speaker. Before the mistake could be rectified, Mr. Burnham changed his mind. This time, however, he appears to have the right post office address. Consequently he may have to stay resigned. Most people wonder how he ever got elected in the first place.—Toronto Telegram.

Thousands Orangemen Congregate in the City To-day

LARGEST ORANGE PARADE IN PETERBORO'S HISTORY

ORANGE LODGES FROM FAR AND NEAR GATHER IN PETERBORO FOR ANNUAL CELEBRATION.

A BIG PROGRAMME

From early morn to-day the streets resounded with the inevitable fife and drum bands and the tramp of marching feet. Cars carrying Orangemen began to arrive long before citizens had thought of getting up and as automobiles whizzed into the city from all directions heads night-capped and tied up in paper curls were projected out of the upstairs windows to see what all the racket was about, forgetful that to-day was the glorious care-free Twelfth. Not a few were aroused from peaceful slumbers by the monotonous trilling strains and the clickety-clack of hoofs on hard pavement as the marshals were on early duty.

Early Trains.

The C.P.R. regulars, the 5.30 and 6.30 from Myrtle and Toronto started the influx with a fair number., The G.T.R. 7.50 from Lindsay brought a large number and the 9.50 on the C.P.R. from the same district The 8 o'clock from Port Hope brought the boys from the port town and Carmel, Millbrook and other Orange centres. The special C.P.R. from Toronto at 10 brought ten lodges, while the G.T.R. specail from Port Perry and Seagrave at 10.30 carried that district, and the special 11.30 from Belleville brought the ones the earlier trains failed to carry.

Parade Route.

The parade route was changed slightly th is afternoon and the route followed was from Murray to Aylmer, Aylmer to London, London to George, Ge to Dalhousie, Dalhousie to r, Aylmer to Romaine, Romaine to George and south to the Exhibition ground. The route was lined with thousands of people all the way and upwards of 20,000 Orangemen participated in the never to be forgotten event.

The programme at the Exhibition Grounds was changed and the Mayor's address followed the playing of "The King" by the 57th Regimental Band. The following is the program:

"The King" 57th Regimental Band.
Address of welcome by Mayor McIntyre.
Chairman's address by Brother J. Edgar.
Band selection.
Song—Bert Caldwell.
Address (Capt. Brother J. H. Burnham.
Vaudeville—LaTure Bros.
Address—Brother J. Bradford, (P.C.M.) Lindsay
Valdeville—Bondo Clown.
Address— (Lt.) Brother M. G. O'Brien, Ottawa.
Presentation of prizes—W. G. Hancock, District Master.
Band selection by band winning first prize.
Song —Bert Caldwell.

Tug of War.

To save time the tug of war was held at the same time as this program was run off. It was followed by a ball game between Oshawa L.O.L. and Lindsay L.O.L. and lacrosse match between Hastings and Peterboro.

Dancing commenced on the platform as soon as the programme was over and continued till 10 p.m.

Mayor's Address.

"It is my pleasant duty this afternoon to welcome you to Peterborough," said Mayor McIntyre. "This is a day that is looked forward to from one year to another, a day when you assemble in large numbers to join in the celebration of this anniversary. One of the most pleasing features of the occasion is the gathering of people from all parts of a wide district and the meeting of friends who perhaps do not have the privilege of meeting often.

"It is four years", he continued, "since you held this celebration in Peterborough and we remember well that on that occasion the great war was in progress, and our minds were filled with anxiety, for it was on that day that he Peterborough Battalion, the 93rd left, the District Headquarters at Kingston for overseas, there to join our brethern and our allies in turning back the ruthless German invaders. And the Peterborough young men, as well as those from this district and from the whole of Canada, did their duty nobly. Their heroism and the great deeds they accomplished are now history, but we need no written records to keep in mind the bravery, the suffering, the dash and gallantry of the Canadian soldiers and the victories for the great cause which they won. It is our duty to protect what they saved from destruction," he said, "and in that all Canadians I feel certain are united, for the British Empire and the freedom for which it has stood and stands are dear to all of us.

"I wish that I could make myself heard by everyone in this assembl-

COAL IS GOING UP IN PETERBORO

Supplies Are Low--A Difference in Prices.

Coal is going up. One local dealer who has just received a shipment is raising his price to $18 a ton, an advance of 50c. Another dealer who at present is out of coal, states that if he succeeds in getting a shipment, he will have to advance his former price, which was $15 a ton.

Advance in the cost at the mines, higher wages, and provision for the difference in New York exchange, are the various reasons given.

A further jump in prices is probable.

NIAGARA FALLS CLAIMS VICTIM

STEPHENS WENT OVER IN A BARREL AND FAILED TO RETURN.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., July 12.—Charles G. Stephens, of Bristol, England, died in an attempt to go over the Horseshoe Falls in an oak barrel yesterday. Stephens maintained great secrecy as to his plans for taking th trip, fearing the authorities would stop him, and as a result few saw him take the fatal plunge.

No attempt was made to interfere with his plans, however, and Mayor Henry Stephens, of Niagara Falls, Ont., was the last one to shake hands with the Bristol man before the barrel started on its voyage down stream.

Forty-five minutes after the barrel began its voyage it plunged over the precipice of water at a point one -quarter distance across the Horseshoe from the Canadian shore. It took the plunge head first and slid down the face of the cataract in plain view of the watchers until it was midway between the crest and the foaming water below. Then it went behind a cloud of spray and was lost to sight. For several hours watchers waited for the barrel to re-appear below the Falls. Pieces of the barrel were picked up and Stephens was put down as another victim of Niagara. The body has not been recovered.

VESSEL CRASHED THROUGH LOCKS

SECOND TIME ACCIDENT HAS HAPPENED AT WELLAND.

(Canadian Press.)

ST. CATHARINES, July 12.—for the second time in the history of the Welland Canal, a down-bound steamer yesterday smashed through the footgates of the lock, and plunged into the level below.

The steamer Maple Grove, of the Canada Steamship Lines, entered the lock cautiously, and when near the footgates, the captain signalled for reverse to check the craft, but the order was misunderstood, and the engines began to work full speed ahead.

The boat literally sprang into the footgates, breaking them open and plunging eighteen feet into the level below.

Chief Engineer Charles Gray, of Port Robertson, collapsed from the shock, and Captain Bryan prevented further trouble by running the boat into the bank, where the keel is now embedded in the clay.

The boat or cargo is not thought to be seriously damaged, but the damage to the canal is placed at $7,000.00.

FREIGHT WRECK ON THE C.P.R.

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $100,000.

(Canadian Press.)

SHERBROOKE, Que., July 12.—Approximately one hundred thousand dollars' damage was done to rolling stock and freight on the C.P.R., two miles east of Lennoxville on Saturday, when a special double-header freight train load, consisting principally of lumber and pulp, bound from Megantic to Sherbrooke, was derailed.

The crews escaped with slight injuries.

About thirty of the sixty loaded cars were telescoped.

EASY ON THE WHEEL.

Truck drivers should be taught not to move the steering wheel when the car is standing still. This practice strains the joints between the wheel and the front road wheels. Of course, there may be times when it is necessary to move th wheels when the car is at rest, but, as a practice, it is bad and should be avoided.

Blames Hopkins

INVESTIGATES MURDER CHARGE AGAINST SON—SAYS STUDENTS BOOTLEG.

Special to The Examiner.

CHICAGO, July 12. — Upon investigating the charge against his son, Robert T. Meads, a student at Dartmouth College, of shooting and killing Henry E. Maroney, a fellow student ,the father of the accused, Albert H. Meads, an attorney of Lagrange, Ill., has demanded the resignation of President Ernest M. Hopkins, of Dartmouth. Attorney Meads returned yesterday from Hanover, N. H., the seat of the institution.

In giving reasons for his demands, Mr. Meads says that the shooting resulted from quarrels over whiskey smuggled in from Canada. Bootlegging by the students is said by him to be highly systematized and a regular business in which hundreds of youths are engaged in the practice. He laid the blame for this deplorable coudition on President Hopkins, and said the first st most fitting in the sequel of the shooting would be the resignation of the educator.

In reviewing the facts of his trip of investigation, Mr. Meade said:

"I went to Hanover, N.H. to help my son the moment I heard of the regrettable affair. What I found was so revolting as to be almost unbelievable.

"There are on file in the office of County Solicitor Noonan of Grafton County, the dispositions of more than 100 students, in which they state that they either engaged in or knew about the traffic in booze. To see an intoxicated student on the campus is a common thing.

"It seems," continues Meads' father, "that the boys hire an automobile truck for $100 a night, go over into Canada, purchase liquor at very low prices, and then return selling it in Hanover for from $16 to $20 a quart. It is true that my son was one of the bootleggers.

"The fact is that on the night of the shooting, Maroney came into the room where my son was studying for the June exams., and purchased a quart of whiskey for $16. He returned later with another student and demanded a quart for 8.

"On being refused he assaulted Robert and took the liquor. Robert followed him to a fraternity house and demanded the money. They fought and Robert shot him.

"This slaying should be blamed on the president of Dartmouth College, and its other officials. If President Hopkins did not know of the whiskey traffic the students were engaged in he was among a very small minority in the town.

"If he was aware of the bootlegging it is worse, for he failed in his duty to protect the youths entrusted to his care."

THE WEATHER

The last district celebration of the "Twelfth" was held here in 1916. As will be remembered by some it was an exceedingly warm day, in fact one of the hottest of that summer. The temperature went up to 93 degrees in the shade, and was over 90 most of the day. The lowest during the night was but 70 degrees, and the average of the 24 hours was unusually high.—W. P.

"FISHING" THROUGH THE SIDEWALK

"Fishing" through the sidewalk grates is coming into popularity with some of the youngsters of the city. This morning three little boys were patiently engaged in the sport, which is a remunerative one, on the sidewalk grate of a Hunter street store.

The method of procedure is as follows: First the "fishermen" carefully examine the terra firma under the grating and if any spoils are sighted a long stick with chewing gum on the end of it, is pushed through the grating and manipulated until the gum catches the spoils, and then is pulled up.

Small change, pocket knives, and other articles, which are lost through sidewalk gratings and remain there undisturbed, reward the efforts of the boys.

JULY 12TH

SOME INTERESTING HISTORICAL SIDELIGHTS ON TO-DAY'S CELEBRATION—THE BATTLE OF THE BOYNE.

The Orange Association, which is to-day celebrating in many parts of the world, really developed from a body of Protestant enthusiasts in Ireland, known between 1680 and 1795 as the "Peep-of-day Boys."

The first Orange Lodge was established in the village of Loughgoll, County Armagh, Ireland, September 21st, 1795.

The Name.

The name of the Orange Association is taken from the Prince of Orange, William III, in honor of that Prince who in Ireland has been popularly identified with the maintenance of the Protestant faith.

Prince of Orange.

William III, Prince of Orange, was the posthumous son of William II of Orange and the eldest daughter of Charles I of England. In 1686 he became head of league of German Protestant Princes whose object was to curb the power of Louis XIV of France, who in turn had as an ally James II of England. James and Louis were staunch Roman Catholics. On November 5th, 1688, William, Prince of Orange, landed in England at the head of army of 15,000, composed of English and Dutch. His success was rapid and bloodless: James fled to France. On December 18th the Prince entered London in triumph and was subsequently proclaimed King with the title of William the III of England. The adherents of James held out for some time in Scotland, and for two years in Ireland.

Battle of Boyne.

The Battle of the Boyne was fought on July 1st, 1690, between a combined English, Scotch and Dutch force commanded by William in person, and an Irish army with James at its head. Save Derry and Enniskillen, all Ireland declared itself for James, between whom and William the struggle in Ireland was really a contention between these two sovereigns for the crown. At the Boyne James suffered defeat, and two days later sailed in a frigate for Brest, to the land of his exile.

The mess of one British regiment retain to this day a relic of the Boyne. The spurs worn on the battlefield by Major Toby Purcell, who led the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, are still preserved by the corps, and are always in possession of the senior major for the time being.

In spite of his sterling qualities, King Billy, as William is familiarly referred to by most Orangemen, was never really liked by the English nation. His principle object in accepting the crown was assumed to be to enlist the power of England on the side of those German princes with whom he had affiliated as Prince of Orange against France.

The Boyne.

The Boyne, where the great historical Battle of the Boyne was fought, is a river in the east of Ireland, rising in the Bog of Allan, and flowing through Kildare, King's county, Meath, and south to the Irish sea.

Organized in 1795, by November, 1798, the Orange Society reached the dignity of a Grand Lodge of Ireland, with a Grand Master and a Grand Secretary and a formal establishment in the metropolis; and in the following years the organization extended over the entire Province of Ulster, with ramifications in all Protestant centres in Ireland.

The Association.

In 1808 the association extended to England and a Grand Lodge was founded at Manchester, from which warrants were issued for the entire Kingdom.

The seat of the English Grand Lodge was transferred to London in 1821.

In 1813 the Grand Lodge of Ireland was dissolved, but its functions were discharged vicariously through the English lodge.

In 1827 the Royal Duke of Cumberland was elected Grand Master for England, and on the re-establishment of the Irish Grand Lodge in 1828 he was proclaimed Imperial Grand Master.

In 1829 and subsequently, lodges were organized in Wales, Scotland, Canada, the Mediterranean and in other colonies.

But the most formidable part of an Orange propaganda was its introduction into the British army. Between 1824 and 1826 no fewer than 32 regiments had warrants for holding lodges in Ireland, and the English Grand Lodge had issued warrants to 37 regiments.

Strange Tragedy

CARL WANDERER CONFESSED TO THE KILLING OF BOTH HIS WIFE AND A "STRANGER".

(Special to The Examiner.)

CHICAGO, July 12. —A fortnight ago Chicago was willing to pin another decoration for bravery on Carl Wanderer, former army lieutenant and wearer of the Croix de Guerre.

He had, according to the story he told police arriving at the bullet riddle entrance of his home, just killed the robber who had fired on his wife and himself as they returned from a theatre, killing his wife.

At his feet was the body of his 24-year old wife—whom the neighbors called "The Litle Songbird," because she was so happy that she was about to become a mother. Beyond was the body of the alleged robber, ten bullets in his body. He was never identified and the police called him the "Ragged stranger."

"If I had only been a second faster with my gun," Carl Wanderer moaned that night. "Just one second faster."

The police sympathized with him in his ostensible grief.,

The public sympathized with him for the loss of little Ruth Wanderer when they saw her pictures in the newspapers. She was beauty.

Everybody sympathized with the former crack shot of the 14th Machine-gun Battalion—except Detective Sergeant John Norton.

Wanderer has confessed to the killing of both his wife and the stranger, who has been partially identified as Al Watson, said to be the son of a New York "millionaire turfman."

The identification was made by Mrs. Catherine Vanos of this city, who visited the morgue after reading the newspaper descriptions of the body.

Watson is said to have been a member of the Canadian expeditionary fores. It is presumed he made the acquaintance of Lieut. Wanderer while in the service.

Mrs. Vanos said she met the man in Manchester, England. He was at that time a member of the Second Mechanical Transport Engineers of the Canadian forces, and that he told her he was the son of a New York millionaire horseman.

Mrs. Vanos is an elevator operator. She accompanied several police to the morgue where, immediately on glancing at the body, she identified it.

Detective's Curiosity.

Norton first wondered why Wanderer, who said he had entered the house first ,and who said the robber shot without warning in the dark hallway, had not been killed instead of his wife, who was following him.

Then Norton traced the automatic army revolver that lay beside the "ragged stranger" and exactly like the one the former lieutenant used and found it had been sold to Wanderer in France by the Army Quartermaster Corps.

Then he found that the day previous Ruth Wanderer, the mother-to-be, had withdrawn $1,500 from the bank and hid it in a dressing table drawer. Then he found that Wanderer was preparing to go back into the army and to leave his wife, at least temporarily, despite her condition.

EMPRESS HAD BEEN IN FEEBLE HEALTH

WAS ARRANGING TO PROCEED TO LONDON WHEN FATAL ILLNESS OVERTOOK HER.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 12.—A despatch to the London Times from Madrid says that although lately the Empress Eugenie had been in feeble health due o her extreme age, her death was quite unexpected. She had been going daily into the garden of the Duke of Alba's residence.

The Empress had arranged to proceed to London next week, but on Saturday was stricken with an intestinal disorder, and took to bed.

EXAMINER ISSUED TOO EARLY FOR A FULL REPORT

To-day the Examiner went to press earlier than usual for this reason the complete report of to-day's Orange celebration could not be recorded in this issue. To-morrow's issue will contain additional news of the big celebration and the speeches given at the Exhibition grounds.

POLISH ARMIES ON OFFENSIVE

BOLSHEVIK FORCES ARE STILL ADVANCING.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 12.—Polish armies struggling to stem the advance of the Russian Bolsheviki on the southern front have taken the offensive near Rovno according to an official announcement issued at Moscow, received here by wireless. Further south Soviet forces are continuing their drive successfully north of the Dneisetr river and have occupied the town of Nova Ushitsa, north-east of Kamenetz-Podolsk, the statement declares.

CABLEGRAM SENT TO LLOYD GEORGE

PROTEST AGAINST GOVERNMENT REFUSAL.

(Canadian Press.)

N.S., July 12.—Following over one thousand last night, a cablegram was sent Premier Lloyd-George, protesting against the "refusal to extend to Ireland the principle of self-determination, for which the Nova Scotian soldiers fought in the Great War."

A large number signified their intention of joining the league of Self-determination for Ireland.

FIRST WOMAN M.L.A. STRONG FOR SOCIAL WELARE

MRS. EDITH ROGERS, MEMBER FOR WINNIPEG, SUPPORTER OF GOVERNMENT.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 12.—Mrs. Edith Rogers, who was one of the successful candidates elected out of a field of 41 to represent Winnipeg at the recent provincial elections, is the first and only woman elected to the Manitoba Legislature. Mrs. Rogers is a Government supporter.

Mrs. Harriet Dick, Independent, made a good run, being out on the thirty-second count.

Mrs. Rogers based her appeal to the electors upon her record of social welfare work in connection with soldiers' independents. Before the war Mrs. Rogers was one of Winnipeg's society leaders, and although always interested in philanthropy, her efforts were mainly directed to membership in several of the women's societies. With the outbreak of the war, she became secretary of the Central Council of the Battalion Auxiliaries. This work developed in conjunction with the administration of the Patriotic Fund, and five years ago Mrs. Rogers opened an office in the Board of Trade Building, which office is still doing business, with Mrs. Rogers continuing in charge. She has welcomed soldiers' brides and families, found them accommodation, looked after them in sickness, advised and befriended them in every way possible.

"My interest in the Government is mainly in social welfare measures," she declares, "of which my work has shown me the importance."

Mrs. Rogers is the only woman member of the General Hospital Board. She is a native of Manitoba, having been born at Norway House, where her father was McTavish of the Hudsonn Bay Company.

KEEP RADIATOR FULL TO PROTECT ENGINE.

In the thermo-syphon cooling system it is important to keep the radiator full, or nearly so, in order that there may be adequate resistance to keep the water forcing its way forward. It is better to add a little water frequently than to let the matter go until the engine begins o knock for help.

EIGHT HOUSES PLACARDED ON SATURDAY—BOARD OF HEALTH MEETING DID NOT MATERIALIZE.

Sanitary Inspector Stapleton reported that on Saturday he quarantined eight houses for measles, and one for small pox.

Anonymous Letters.

Sanitary Inspector Charles Stapleton in talking of the opposition from a certain class of citizens he runs up against in the discharge of his duties, wishes it distinctly understood that he will positively take no notice of anonymous complaints, of which he receives not a few. Some residents, he says, resort to anonymously reporting to him alleged breaches of the sanitary bylaw as a means of venting personal spite on their neighbors. He is wise to this pernicious method of retaliation by people who canot agree among themselves, having found in the past no foundation whatever for the majority of charges forwarded him under cover of anonymous signatures.

Board of Health.

The local Board of Health was scheduled to meet at ten o'clock this morning but there were not sufficient members present to constitute a quorum. Chairman George H. Duncan is away, and Mayor McIntyre could not attend, being otherwise engaged in his executive duties.

THREE MEN HELD ON THEFT CHARGE

MEN FOUND HIDING IN BUSHES ON DUBLIN STREET.

Charged with stealing an automobile, owned in Trenton, three men, Walter Hall, Frank Harris, and Edward Lewis, who claim to hail from Kingston, are being held by the local police, awaiting the arrival of the Trenton chief of police.

About 7.30 o'clock on Saturday evening a woman on Dublin Street notified the police that three men were hiding in the bushes on Dublin Street, and shortly afterward a man on Edinburgh Street telephoned the police that a car with a broken wheel was standing across Edinburgh Street.

The police investigated, and arrested the three men, who admitted that the car on Edinburgh Street was one which they had stolen in Belleville.

ODDFELLOWS HAD A GOOD OUTING

The Triple Link Club's excursion to Harwood on Saturday afternoon per steamer Stoney Lake was attended by a large number of the Oddfellows of the city, and was a most enjoyable event.

Excellent music was provided on board for dancing, and supper was served at Harwood. A closely contested programme of sports, including everything from boxing bouts to pie-eating contests, was run off.

Ideal weather prevailed throughout, and the return was made about ten o'clock.

HIS CRIME

"For what are you incarcerated here man poor man?" asked Mrs. Strongminded.

"I married a new woman," answered the prisoner.

"Impossible! You couldn't be put in for that!

"But I was! I married a new woman and the old woman I already had kicked about it, and had me put here for bigamy."

TELL FORTUNES IN SAND.

Method by Which Arabs "Entertain" Travellers in East.

There is a tremendous fascination in telling fortunes—likewise in having your fortune told, says Answers.

All travellers bound east make up their minds to have their fortunes told by one or other of the divinations known to the Arab or the Egyptians.

A very old but little known method of telling fortunes at the Pyramids is by what is called "sand diving."

The Arab, who is usually the fortune-teller, decoys his client into some secluded corner. It is of no use to refuse him, for he begins by telling something which he knows will arouse your curiosity.

You make a heap of sand in a corner of the stones, similar to a pyramid, then you are bidden to flatten out your handiwork and choose one of the imprints of either your fingers or your thumbs. When you have done this the Arab goes off into a trance, beginning to chant in a low voice.

This goes on for several minutes until, with a quick jerk of the head, he brings himself back to the life of this world. He then makes several passes over your sand and utters some apparent prayers; he commences to tell your fortune, always starting from the chosen imprint of your finger.

You get a remarkably correct forecast of coming events. The method remains a mystery, but it is generally thought that the Arab has the gift of second sight, and this faculty, aided by the supposed mystery concerning your choice, which, according to the astrologer, has some fatal meaning—that some hidden power controlled your hand when you made the mark in the sand hill.

An astonishingly correct fortune is exchanged for your piece of silver.

PLAYTHING OF FASHION.

The Waist Line Subject to as Many Fluctuations as a Thermometer.

The waist line is an imaginary ring around Rosie, which of late years is by no means as fixed as the equatorial circle which girdles the earth. Once self-appointed and apparently immutable, it is at present subject to as many fluctuations as a thermometer. Sometimes it discloses itself immediately under the armpits; its next vagary is in the direction of the knees. At times it has been a mere line often obscured among draperies, anon it has pre-empted the space between the shoulder blades and the floating rib, and threatened to overlap all creation.

However, this matter of the waist line is not to be approached with levity. Neither is it to be defied. Upon its ups and downs depend that indefinable quality which places the stamp of style and modernity upon a garment or takes it off. It is the waist line that makes the suit which was expected to do duty the current season a benefaction to the laundress instead. The distinction between French and American fashion at present is a matter of the location of the waist line. The American woman, debouching upon Paris in her long-waisted gown, finds herself looked upon as a country cousin just dropped in from Back o' Beyond. Or is it the other way round? A mere man gets so fuddled among fripperies!

The tailors who decree what the outward and visible sign of the gentleman shall be have been "monkeying" with the masculine waist line, the placing of which is now the deciding feature of man's fashions. The elevated waist seam is essential to the new overcoat. The belted Norfolk, an ungraceful garment on the average male figure, beguiles many who should avoid it. The waist line is, therefore, a matter of moment to both sexes in this struggle to be in style, but the rear view of the short-waisted man and the long-waisted woman walking together is as funny as anything in the movies. —Detroit Free Press.

Spoon Corn Bread — Spoon corn bread gets its name from the fact that it must be served with a spoon from the dish in which it is cooked. It is economical. It calls for a cupful of cornmeal, two cupfuls of sour milk, in a little of which half a teaspoonful of soda is dissolved, a tablespoonful of sugar, a teaspoonful of salt, two eggs, well beaten ,and lard the size of an egg, melted. Mix the ingredients together in the order mentioned and beat hard for three minutes. Then pour into a greased earthen dish and bake for half an hour in a medium oven. This bread should be eaten hot with butter. should be even hot with butter.

SKELETON IN EVERY CUPBOARD.

There's a quaint, common adage I've heard since my youth
Though me thinks very few will avouch, for it's truth,
And, doubtless, you've all heard the proverb, as well,
Which with sighs, and heads shaking, the wise acres tell.

How in every home in some nook dark and dim,
Is hidden a skeleton, hideous and grim,
No matter how princely the mansion or fair,
Or poverty stricken the shack, he is there.

Now, if by some ill chance this old adage be true,
Then surely the sane and safe course to persue,
Is to still keep him locked in the cupboard so tight
That no gossip may catch of his visage a sight.

If you have a skeleton hidden away,
Just leave him, fast bound safe in ward, come, what may
To your best friend disclose not the uncanny Elf,
Be his careful custodian and warder yourself.

If once he escapes from confinement in vain
Is the hope to recapture and hide him again,
For though you persue him with loud hue and cry,
T'will but cause him still faster and further to fly.

And who can condemn you or censure or blame
When all have as guest a gaunt spectre the same.
Both neighbours and friends will find plenty to do
To keep their own in the cupboard from popping out too.

—Mrs. A. F. Calder.

THE MAJORITY of the publishers of this Country believe that their advertising space is a real commodity and well worth the price demanded.

They believe that the right price of space should be determined by circulation.

They invite the closest scrutiny of their product and provide positive proof of its value and by their membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

Through membership in the A.B.C., they also endeavor to discountenance the unfair competition of publishers who misrepresent circulation facts to advertisers.

The advertiser who buys space in an A. B. C. paper invests his money wisely and encourages a high ethical standard in the publishing business.

RECIPES

Flandered Halibut.

Cover the bottom of a baking dish with sliced onion and on this place a thick slice of halibut. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and more onions. Dot with pieces of butter and bake brown or until the fish is done.

Tomato Salad.

Slice the tomatoes rather thick and lay in a salad bowl. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and chill. Just before serving add several spoonfuls of thick cream and on top of the cream sprinkle chopped olives.

Broiled Mackerel.

Wash the mackerel and rub with the following mixture. Beat together a tablespoon of olive oil and a teaspoon of lemon juice. Broil over a good fire and, when brown, squeeze over a little lemon juice.

Cocoanut Pie.

Mix a cup and a half of grated cocoanut with two eggs, a quarter of a cup of sugar and one cup of milk. Turn into a pie plate which is lined with pie crust and bake in a slow oven. Serve cold.

Cherry Shortcake. Mix two cups of flour, add three teaspoons of baking powder, three tablespoons of shortening and just milk enough to be able to handle. Pat into a round tin and bake. When brown and done, split open, spread with butter and pitted cherries that have been sprinkled with sugar.

EXODUS OF FOREIGN BORN FROM STATES.

Two and Half Millions Waiting to Sail is Report.

NEW YORK, July 8. — More than two and a half millions of foreign-born residents of the United States, are waiting to go back to the land of their birth, P. A. Baker, superintendent of the Department of Immigration, said to-day. Lack of steamship passenger facilities, the unsettled conditions in Europe, and currency deflations, are some of the reasons for their being unable to return to their homes, he said.

Of those who have been able to obtain accommodations and gone to Europe, with the intention of settling, there, he said, a large majority return to this country within a few months. They have discovered the H.C. of L. has made the trip to Europe likewise and their hoard of lire, rubles, kronen, reis, marks, francs or whatever the unit of currency is in their country, upon which they expected to retire, has lost its purchasing power, Baker said.

...s, departures have exceeded ... and immigration has been ...ad not comparable with ...war days, he said. The ... this, he said, include more ... passport laws, both here ...oad and the present European ...

...n small nations are at war, ...quire the services of all their civilians to aid in production, he said, citing Poland as an example. Poland, he said, is supporting an army of one million men fro ma population of but nine millions.

The Only Dessert of This Kind

There are numerous forms of quick gelatine desserts. But Jiffy-Jell is the only one with the real-fruit flavors sealed in glass.

They crush the fruit, condense the juice and seal it. A bottle of the liquid fruit essence comes in each package of Jiffy-Jell. In a moment's time you can prepare a delicious fruit dessert.

Sugar is used in Jiffy-Jell—not saccharine. And real-fruit flavors in place of artificial. It will give you a new conception of these delightful dainties.

Jiffy-Jell is often used in place of jam, marmalade, etc. Additional sugar may be used to suit the taste.

WARSAW NEEDS HOMES.

Polish Expert Is Here to Study the Housing and Transportation.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The city of Warsaw, Poland, is to be modernised along American lines, according to plans recently made public by the Government of Poland. Directly in line with these plans, the city government has sent Ladislas Michalski, city architect of Warsaw, to America to study transportation construction, with particular reference to subway and elevated railway construction and modern housing.

According to M. Michalski, tentative plans for remodeling the city have been drawn up by a committee of the leading engineers of Poland, who estimate the approximate cost of the work they have planned at one hundred million dollars, to be spent over a period of twelve years.

Subways will be built for city passenger traffic, and new viaducts and bridges will be constructed over the Vistula River to bring all passenger trains into a union station to be situated in the centre of the city.

The housinh problem by itself is tremendous and the construction of houses and apartments for all classes of people, particularly working men, will be begun immediately. Warsaw to-day stands in need of 40,000 single family houses.

In explaining the necessity for this development M. Michafski said:

"Greater Warsaw to-day has a population of 1,000,000 inhabitants, and it is necessary that the development from now on be directed along most modern lines. For that reason a City Planning Committee has been organised, which includes in its membership some of the leading architects and engineers in Poland. The committee has sent me to the United States on a six months' tour to collect data on which to proceed with our reconstruction."

FOR THE VEGETABLE AND FLOWER GARDEN

Aphis. — Attacks peas, melons, roses and so on. The nicotin preparations or kerosene emulsion, two or three applications at intervals of three or four days, reaching under sides of leaves.

Asparagus Beetle — Use arsenate of lead on summer foliage; cut and burn all vines in late summer.

Aster Beetle.—Use arsenate of lead, strong; or pick by hand in early morning while bugs are still groggy.

Caterpillars.—Various kinds attack cabbage, tomatoes, tobacco, and so on. Use arsenate of lead, Paris green or hellebore; or pick by hand.

Cucumber Beetle, yellow and black striped. Use tobacco dust as preventive; beetles carry the germs of wilt. Pick by hand the first bugs in early morning.

Flea Beetle.—A small, hard-shelled, jumping beetle, which punctures leaves of tomatoes, potatoes and seedling plants. Use tobacco dust or kerosene emulsion on seeding plants; Bordeaux and lead on tomatoes and potatoes.

Mealy Bug.—A scale-like insect with cottony covering, attacking some flowers. It seldom appears in the vegetable garden. Use kerosene emulsion, brushing with alcohol.

Potato Beetle.—Use arsenate of lead or Paris green. On eggplants use lead only, and pick by hand.

Rose Beetle.—Pick by hand and use strong arsenate of lead.

Squash Bug.—A lively, flat, black fellow, use tobacco dust, or pick by hand to get rid of old bugs and eggs; use kerosene emulsion for the young ones.

Squash Borer. Slit stem near base of plant, and destroy the borer. Cover wound with fresh soil.

EGYPT, MARVEL OF THE AGES

Egypt is termed "a perennial Rip Van Winkle of history" in a bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society, which makes the Egyptian home rule agitation the occasion of a review of that country's glorious past. Quoting from a communication to the society by James Baikie, the bulletin says:

"We owe the framework into which we try to fit the facts of Egyptian history to the ancient historian, Manetho, scattered fragments of whose history of Egypt, dating from the third century, B.C., have come down to us in the works of various ancient authors. He recognized thirty dynasties of Egyptian monarchs. Manetho's assertion that one of the kings was slain by a hippopotamus, and that in the reign of another the Nile flowed with honey, may be mere fables; but the men were there, and their royalty was a very real and tangible thing. Since the early nineties investigations have been carried out which have resulted in the discovery of the tombs of many of these ancient royalties and the accumulation of a most interesting mass of information in regard to the civilization of their time, the organization of their courts, and the attainments of the race over which they ruled.

"The kings of the earliest dynasties reared no pyramids. Their tombs were great structures mainly underground (that of Aha (who is possibly Mena, the first King of Egypt) at Nacada measures 75 by 88 feet and contains twenty-one chambers, but sometimes of brick, with lining of wood, and sometimes floored with stone, as in the case of the tomb of King Den at Abydos, whose granite floor furnishes the earliest known example of the use of stone in building.

The furniture of the tombs reveals an amazing proficiency in the arts and crafts. Ebony chests inlaid with ivory, stools with ivory feet carved in the shape of bull's legs, vessels cut and ground to translucent thinness, not only out of soft alabaster but out of an iron-hard stone like diorite, finely wrought copper ewers, all tell us the Egyptian of the earliest dynastic period was no rude barbarian, but a highly civilized craftsman. Perhaps the daintiest and most convincing evidence of his skill is given by the bracelets which were found encircling the skeleton arm of the queen of King Zer of the first dynasty, and for the skill with which the gold is wrought and soldered are admirable.

"Petrie places the beginning of the first dynasty at 5510 B.C., while another school brings them down to 3400 B.C. Like many of these ancient Kings, Zeser was not content with a single tomb. He had another at Saqquara, near Memphis, where the chambers of the interior were lined with fine blue and green glazed tiles. A King who could rear such a structure had evidently at command the resources of a very well-organized State and capable architects.

"Accuracy 'equal to opticians' work, but on a scale of acres instead of inches,' is scarcely what one expects in buildings reared nearly 5,000 years ago. But the huge blocks of the great pyramid, 2,300,000 of them, weighing on an average 1 1-2 tons apiece, while some run to 40 and 50 tons, are squared, fitted and leveled with an accuracy which puts to shame our best modern work and compels our respect not only for the strength, but for the skill of these mighty builders before the Lord. The question of how the Egyptians made fire was one that often exercised archaeologists. No representation of the process existed on the monuments, nor does the nation appear to have attached any religious significance to the origin of fire. The question was settled by the discovery of Kahum of a regular bow drill for making fire, together with several sticks showing the burned holes caused by fire drilling.

In February, 1905, an American explorer, T. M. Davis, discovered the tomb of Yuaa and Thuaa, father and mother of that Queen Tyi whose influence played so great a part in Akhenaten's religious information. The tomb was intact and the objects it contained were as perfectly preserved as if they had been shut up only a few weeks. One of the archaeologists described his sensations on entering the place as being very much like those of a man who enters a town house which has been shut up for the summer. Armchairs stood about, beautifully carved and decorated with gold, the cushions on one of them stuffed with down and covered with linen so perfectly preserved that they might have been sat upon or tossed about without injury. Two beds of fine design decorated with gold occupied another part of the chamber, while a light chariot in perfect preservation stood in a corner.

An individual who is so meek that at his home or his office he never raises his voice above a whisper, can go to the ball park and deliver a loud, scathing philippic against a ball player when he strikes out. It is one thing to sit across the table and argue with your family, but it is quite a more delightful thing to sit in the grand stand and merrily pan a ball player who is fifty yards away in front of a wire screen. Baseball fans turn loose more excess steam than an overheated boiler.

It is the sovereign right of every man to argue. In the ordinary walks of life one must be careful about his opponents. The ball park is one place where you can argue with anybody and everybody. The millionaire and the clerk may sit side by side and can tell each other just what they think about each other when they happen to disagree.

Where outside of a ball park is it so easy to borrow a match? No one would ever dream of refusing to give his neighbour a light at a ball game. The spirit of democracy which takes possession of a baseball crowd would not permit of such unheard of snobbery. If one happened to be sitting in that crowd of New York natives which inhabit the grand stand back of third base at the Polo Grounds and did anything which didn't meet the approval of the overwhelming majority, he would have to square himself immediately or move. He'd probably move.

It is a great place to learn to control your temper. If one happens to wear a straw hat too early in the season and some one removes the hat and kicks it full of holes, a display of temper is inadvisable. One may be boiling inside, but it is best to grin and look as if you enjoyed the joke, for if you go up in the air and try to protect you property rights you are apt to lose your collar and necktie in the bargain. The spirit of play is apt to get a bit rough in these cases, but fun wins out in the end.

Another reason baseball is so popular is because the public knows so much about the players. No one in the world gets as much publicity as ball players. The baseball reporter handles the most intimate affairs of the diamond hero with alarming frankness. If you keep an eye on the baseball columns of a newspaper you will know more about the private life of a ball player than you know about your own family.

The papers chronicle every move of Babe Ruth. The public reads that he is a big, overgrown, irresponsible boy. The sporting page tells just what an odd uck he is. He pokes the ball harder and further than any of the sluggers of bygone days. Naturally there are any number of men who would willingly pass up an important business engagement to get a peek at an individual so important. What better excuse for taking an afternoon off?

IS THIS A TIME OF MUCH DISTRACTION

The contemplative person these days has to contend against many distractions. If he raises his eyes from their point of concentration in such semi-seclusion as may be had, he looks upon an environment of whirling activity. If he is so fortunate or so opulent that he may have a "den" in his home for personal privacy, the buzz of the vacuum cleaner or the hum of the electric-motored, up-to-date washing machine (which is such a gorgeous and tidy instrument that in many households it is given a place beside the piano) comes as a modern efficiency protest against the apparent idleness of one sitting quietly with a book or in nudemonstrative meditation. Into the office the raucous discord of "business" percolates even through closed doors; upon the streets the clang and clatter of traffic and the peril involved in negotiating a crossing preclude mental preoccupation. He must keep such wits as he has alert to avoid being listed in the day's casualties.

"Miserable in mind is he who in his own home hath nowhere to be to himself; where he may particularly court and at his pleasure hide or withdraw himself," wrote Montaigne more than three hundred years ago. But the noisiest noise that ever resounded in the streets of Paris in those days would seem to use a "deafening silence" compared with the clash and clangor of the hedlamic, hysterical activity in our highways of commerce. It is not surprising that the neurologist is becoming our chiefest medical practitioner. One must be as thick-skinned as a rhinoceros to mingle in the chase without having one's nerves rasped into rawness. Happily we are developing this sort of physical armor. Our nerves or sensibilities are becoming toughened to withstand without quiver sights that would have appalled the gentle Montaigne. Yet that philosopher was a vividly person eager for the varied sensations and emotions of life, and not at all the recluse one would infer from the declaration quoted. He was much concerned with the education of the young. He sought to send young men to become aggressive citizens, upstanding and ready to meet every demand of patriotic duty. His teachings are no small part of the approved educational theories of the present; and one of his postulates affords us an illustration of the vast change that has come about quite recently and suddenly in the relation of occupations as Montaigne viewed them and as we are now forced to accept them. Discussing the appropriate education of young men, he wrote:

"If it chance that the pupil be of such inclination that he prefers a fanciful tale to the story of some fine voyage or of some deep problem, when he hears one; or if the sound of the drum, which arouses the young fire of his companions only inspires him to turn to some one who will play battledore with him; if by choice he finds it less pleasant to return all dusty and victorious from a wrestling bout than from tennis or ball with the prize to be won at those sports, then I know of no remedy, even thought he were the son of a duke, save to make him a pastry cook in some country town; for Plato's counsel is that 'we must deal with children, not according to the capacities of their fathers, but according to the capacities of their own minds.'"

The reader will remember that a couple of months ago the scale of wages for the pastry cook was elevated to a minimum of $7 (or was it $9) a day—which probably is more than Montaigne was able to earn with his pen. And if one looks about now to choose an occupation for the young man, the bakeshop, the paintshop, carpenter shop, and printshop offer, and the labor unions guarantee more in the way of compensation than the young man may reasonably expect to get out of the first five or ten years of a learned profession. This is the day of the apotheosis of the mechanic; brawn is exalted above brain; and if Montaigne were living in our land today and depending upon philosophizing for an income he would be lucky if he made enough to buy one of the despised pastry cook's ten-cent butterhorns and a cup of coffee for dinner.

In the language of the astute colored brother, "the world do move", and in the last few years we have added the vertical to the horizontal movement. Things are going up as well as forward; and "wages" are hopping right in the van of the procession while "salaries" and professional compensations of the unorganized are lagging and are likely to come under a schedule fixed by the wage earners in accordance with their view of the relative importance of muscular and cerebral service in the social organization which is now being revised.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

KING OF STOAWAYS MUST RETURN HOME

NEW YORK, July 10.—Michael Gilhooley, christened the "champion stowaway" by immigration officials here, is again in trouble and may be sent back to Belgium. Representatives of Mrs. Marion C. Curry, who adopted him and furnished a bond to support him after his fifth unsuccessful attempt to enter the country, telephoned to Ellis Island to-day to inquire how she could be relieved of her ward and have him sent back to Europe.

Gilhooley, the 14-year-old orphaned son of Irish father and Belgian mother, found himself without a home during the third year of the war. He wandered aimlessly over Northern France and Belgium seeking shelter and nourishment in camps of the various Allied armies. Finally he fell in with United States military units, who took care of him.

After the armistice was signed, and the soldiers started homeward, Gilhooley became lonesome. He made his way to a base port and secreted himself aboard a transport only to be discovered and turned over to immigration authorities on arrival here. He was sent back brokenhearted, but not discouraged. He tried again, but met with little success, and soon became a human shuttlecock on the high seas.

Gilhooley's various rebuffs at the hands of immigration authorities won him wide notoriety and considerable sympathy. Mrs. Curry, who among those who was attracted by the boy's story, induced Ellis Island officials to release him in her care. She first took him to live with her in the Hotel Vanderbilt, and later sent him to an exclusive private school. Reports received at Ellis Island showed that the boy had made excellent progress in his studies, but apparently his deportment outside was not as good.

Mrs. Curry was informed that the Government cannot now deport the boy, but that if she wants to get rid of him she must pay his travelling expenses to Europe. She did not indicate what action she would take.

MEMORY TREES ALL OVER.

War Has Given a Great Impetus to Tree Planting.

NEW YORK. — Schools of the country are writing the names of their heroes on the honor roll of memorial trees being compiled by the American Forestry Association at Washington. Such has been the impetus given tree planting by the association that in hundreds of schools tree planting associations are being organized.

The most unique organization of this kind is the Force School in Washington, which Quentin Roosevelt attended when living at the White House. The pupils planted a tree in memory of the former pupil, the only one to lose his life in the World War. Miss Janet McWilliam appointed a member of each class on a committee to care for the tree. Each one of these twelve pupils, upon graduating from his class, appoints for the incoming class a member of the Quentin Roosevelt Memorial Tree Committee. Thus there will be at Force School forever a committee to care for this tree for the son of the former President.

Reports to the American Forestry Association, which is sending free tree planting instruction and tree day programmes to any who ask, show the schools of Louisville to have taken the lead thus far in tree planting. Under the direction of Emile Yunker, more than a thousand trees have been planted by the victory gardeners. At Indianapolis the Technical High School planted 223 memorial trees in honor of her boys in the service. A remarkable tree planting service was held. All these trees have been registered on the honor roll of the American Forestry Association. If you know of memorial tree planting the association at Washington is anxious for you to report it. In York County, Pa., the teachers have organized for tree planting.

A GLIMPSE FROM THE TRAIN.

(Thomas Hardy in London Mercury.)

At nine in the morning there passed a church.
At ten there passed me by the sea;
At twelve a town of smoke of smirch,
At two a forest of oak and birch,
And then, on a platform she,

How I could see, though she saw not me;
I queried, "Get out to her do I dare?"
But I kept my seat in my search for a plea,
And the wheels moved on. Oh, could it be
That I had alighted here!

Unearthed by the police of different cities from Boston to Chicago, a well-organized band of motor thieves has been working on a large scale by dissembling and rebuilding cars for resale.

A LAKE OF SODA.

There is a lake in British East Africa, Lake Magadi, that is famous for its vast deposits of soda. Until within recent years few people knew of it, for it lies in the midst of a barren and waterless waste but the railway that was started some time ago by an English company to transport the soda to the coast is now finished, thus opening a way to this curious natural phenomenon.

Ordinarily the lake looks as if it were frozen and covered with a coating of snow partially thawed, then frozen again. The temperature gives the lie to this appearance of roughened ice, for the heat is extreme, and at midday almost unbearable. The soda burns one's feet even through his shoes, and the sharp frosty spikes will pierce any except the thickest sole. After the rains there is a layer of water over the greater part of the lake, which has turned a beautiful shade of pink. By moonlight the scene is weirdly beautiful.

The lake contains millions of tons of soda deposits, and both surface and underground streams of saturated soda liquor continually feed it. The present supply of soda is enormous, and as fast as it is removed a new surface, formed from the mother liquid beneath, replaces it. Natives have collected soda from the same spot year after year without making the slightest difference in the abundance of the supply.

It is possible for a plain cook to be a pretty one.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

MONDAY, JULY 12TH, 1920.

THE NEW COMMISSION.

Much depends upon the personnel of the Commission which the Drury Government is to appoint to investigate the Hydro radial scheme and to report to the Government upon the merits of the proposition as soon as possible. The Examiner believes that Premier Drury is justified in the stand that he has taken, provided that he shows that he is sincere by appointing men in whose sincerity of motive and judgment the people can have confidence. There have been names suggested for the Commission that are known as opponents to public ownership and foes to the Hydro scheme. It is to be sincerely hoped that no such appointments will be made by the Premier for the presence on the Commission of prejudiced citizens who have made no secret of their dislik for the whole Hydro policy would make the inquiry a farce. To be of any value, the investigation must be honestly and sincerely conducted by men who will judge the whole scheme on its merits. A verdict from such a body would be of the utmost assistance in deciding what action the Province will take in the matter. But an inquiry carried on by men who have their minds made up in advance and whose decision would be ready before the first evidence was heard would only be a burlesque.

APPROVES THE INQUIRY.

Some of the most ardent supporters of the Hydro Radial scheme would have it appear that only those who are opposed to the principle of public ownership approve of Premier Drury's plan of investigating the scheme by means of a commission. That is an utterly false and uncalled for conclusion, for the proposed inquiry is endorsed by a number of newspapers who are free from any suspicion of hostility towards public ownership. Among them is the Brockville Recorder and Times, which says:

No person will deny but that the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission has accomplished a great deal. For years Western Ontario received the greatest share of attention from the Commission. The East was starved out for want of electric power. The reasons advanced for the delay in this section were the difficulties in securing the necessary power. Later a supply was received, and it is in operation now. The future is likely to see a big development of power on the St. Lawrence system. Granting it to be true, what has been accomplished for the public in the way of Hydro development, there is no doubt but that under the Hearst Government too much mystery or secrecy in its financial movements. Such secrecy has created in the public mind warranted or unwarranted suspicion. Therefore, Premier Drury is justified in appointing a commission to probe the Hydro radial situation. It is the Province in the final analysis, not the individual municipalities involved, that must be held responsible for whatever obligations are assumed. Also at the present moment the transportation problem of the entire country has reached a critical point in a stupendous experiment that calls for the greatest caution in the launching of new railway schemes.

Furthermore, the public much too long has been kept in ignorance of the inner workings of Hydro-Electric undertakings. There has been too much taken for granted. Under the Hearst administration it was impossible at times to get a clear, open statement of Hydro finances, to which the public is at all times entitled. Evidently Mr. Drury proposes to end this unsatisfactory condition and wil begin by probing the radial scheme.

As the Premier points out, the transfer of the Guelph radial lines from the Dominion Government to the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission is only a part of a single vast scheme, and therefore comes under the direct jurisdiction of the Government. Mr. Drury would be neglecting his duty to the people of Ontario if he did not make certain that the radial project was sound financially before permitting it to be carried out.

AN OLD BOYS' RE-UNION.

Kingston, Belleville, and other Ontario cities are announcing Old Boys' Re-unions and planning on a large scale for demonstrations that will be worthy of the occasion. "Native sons," and daughters, too, for that matter, are coming from all parts of the United States and Canada to see the old home town, and renew acquaintances, and there will be an enjoyable re-union that will be good both for the cities and the visitors.

It is too late this year for Peterborough to arrange an Old Boys' Week, but the Board of Trade, as a body representative of the entire citizenship, might look into the possibilities of such an event for next summer. Peterborough's sons and daughters are most of them doing well out in the world—some of them near the top of the ladder of success—and we would like to have them all back together to tell them how proud of their success are their old friends at home.

At the same time we realise that the town they left has not been standing still while they have been away. We are proudly conscious that in many lines the home city has made progress during the past few years, that it has put on a more metropolitan appearance, that it has grown industrially, that it has many advantages that a decade ago we did not dream of as possibilities. We want all our old friends to come back and see what has been going on while they have been making progress in their adopted homes.

An Old Boys' Week on a large scale for next summer is a worthy ideal for the Board of Trade.

FARMERS AND LABOUR.

Labour leaders in West Peterborough declare that a Labour candidate will be placed in the field in this riding, and that he may have the support of the U.F.O. clubs in the constituency; in other words, that the alliance that has been created between the two parties in the Ontario House is to be also operative in Dominion politics. This joining up of two elements of Canada's citizenship whose views on most points are so widely different is one of the strangest features of the involved present day political situation. Even the parties themselves do not seem to be able to understand how it is possible to maintain the alliance very long.

"Political alliance with labour is all right," says the Farm and Ranch Review of Calgary, "just so long as labour does not attempt to impose its views on the farmers of Canada. When that time comes their ways must part radically. They dwell in opposite camps and have few interests in common."

This declaration may be taken as fairly representative of the opinion of Western farmers. What does Labour think of the frank warning contained therein, and of the one-sided nature of the Review's idea of an alliance? Will labour be satisfied to remain always secondary to the farmers, supporting their policies, following their leaders docilely, making no effort to further their own interests? Anyone who thinks so is making a bad mistake, and if this Western farm journal is correct in its opinion, and Farmers and Labour must sever their connections as soon as labour "attempts to impose its views on the farmers," then the parting of the ways, notwithstanding the apparently successful arrangement in Ontario is not far distant.

THE CHANGING TIMES.

What has become of the old-time fish story? Here is the fishing season nearly a month old and no one has yet invaded The Examiner sanctum with the graphic details of catching a record lunge or a mammoth bass. Even the citizen with the mournful story of the big one that got away has deserted us. The times are changing and the fish story seems to have departed along with the big potatoes and the early berries and the other record-breakers that used to help fill the editorial columns and the editorial stomach. The vegetable stories are, of course, still with us, but the high cost of living has made a considerable difference in the method of procedure. No longer does the citizen with a fine showing of early new potatoes drop in with a bushel of the tubers for "the staff." Not with potatoes at their present price. He still comes in, but he carries a couple of potatoes carefully wrapped up, and he takes off the covers as cautiously as if he had diamonds instead of Irish Cobblers. Ye editor is permitted to feast his eyes on the rare sight for a fraction of a second and then back into the wrappings go the potatoes, and the proud possessor, after making sure that his right name and address and the correct name of the tubers will go into the paper, gathers up his treasures, and departs. So, too, with the man with the big strawberries and his comrade with the early raspberries and the poultry fancier with the huge hen's egg. As Raymond Hitchcock used to warble in "The Yankee Consul", It was not like this in the olden days!

THREAT TO CARDINAL LOGUE.

Irish Primate Tells of Warning That His Time is Set.

DUBLIN.—Cardinal Logue, Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of Ireland, said while speaking at Maynooth College that he had "received warning his time was set."

The Cardinal declared he was grateful for this warning because it "gave him time to prepare," adding:

"I have always tried to do what I could for my country, and have never consciously said a word to offend anybody, no matter what was his religion or politics. If I come to a sudden end there will be no justification for those responsible."

No indication of the source of the warning was given by the aged Cardinal.

LOWER DUTY ON WINES.

LONDON, July 7.—In the House of Commons during the discussion of the finance bill, J. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, accepted on behalf of the Government an amendment to the bill lowering the ad valorem duty on sparkling wines from 50 per cent. to 33 1-3 per cent. as a concession to French wine growers. The Chancellor promised to take into consideration a similar reduction on cigars.

ATTACKED HIS MOTHER.

Constable Chas. Kirkwood has taken to Lindsay and there placed in goal a demented young man to await the arrival of Mimico officials. The unfortunate person is a young man about 27 years old, who has had a weak intellect from birth. Recently he became dangerous and made vicious attacks on his mother. Reeve Sawyer, of Guilford, where the man resides on a farm, brought him to Minden, where Magistrate Jordan consigned him to Mimico.

DON'T FORGET THE ORPHANS

TO-DAY IS "TAG DAY" FOR THE TRUE BLUE ORPHANAGE AND SERBIAN CHILDREN.

The True Blue and Orange Orphanage of Ontario and the war Orphanages of Serbia, constitute a call and an irresistible appeal to every true friend of the Orange order and to every lover of Liberty at home and abroad.

These orphans in many instances in Ontario, and in every instance in Serbia are the children of the men who made the supreme sacrifice in snatching victory from defeat and saving self determination to the weaker nations, civilization to the world and the religion of Jesus Christ to the human family.

AS HE IS.

The children of the men who conquered the vandals who were dismantling Cathedrals, and the very altars of God, carrying off the sacred vessels of His holy house, robbing the world of its religious relics, razing art galleries to the ground, stealing earth's antiquities and other treasures of art—despoiling the house of God and man;

The children of the men who met and mastered the fiends who were firing oil fields and fuel mines, cutting down forests, plugging and poisoning wells and running waters, scuttling and sinking ships and sending to the bottom of the sea vast stores of precious food stuffs destined for the firing lines and famine stricken fields, and sacrificing men immortalized in war and peace, in literature, in art, in science and in social circles, immortalized for faith and for good works;

These are the children of the men who fought and fell in our defence by land and sea, and saved the liberties of the world. Shall we who never missed a meal, who never knew the pinch of poverty or saw the ravages of war allow these little ones to lack for any necessary of life? Far be it from us!

AS HE WILL BE

The Brotherhood Federation of Canada is co-operating with the True Blue and Orange Order of Peterborough in a joint tag day on Monday, July 12th, 1920, on behalf of the True Blue and Orange Orphanage in Ontario and our Orphanages in Serbia.

This is a splendid piece of home and foreign missionary effort that will commend itself to all irrespective of denominational lines.

Indeed it is an unusual oportunity for a display of loyalty and fidelity on behalf of our war orphans and others at home and abroad.

Many of the leading ladies of the city are already in line to help make the effort a success.

Will young ladies and gentlemen willing to assist in this worthy work kindly communicate at once with Mrs. J. H. Knox, 481 Gilmour street, telephone 788W.

Your assistance spells success!

THE LITTLE BOY.

I have a sunny kitchen, with the door
Wide to the green June world, an apple tree,
Looks in at the broad window, pleasantly,
And scatters golden pennies on my floor.
I have a breakfast table, neatly set
With all the good and proper things it ought—
A bowl of honeysuckle, freshly brought,
And little garden roses sweet and wet.
And, too, a little boy have I,
And in my kitchen's all my earth and sky
Until the paper comes, and all the world comes, too,
With party politics and wars and Kings,
With wit and fashions, all disturbing things,
And sorrow—sorrow woven through and through.
Then, as I read, my kitchen disappears,
A little boy above his porridge bowl
Becomes a gaunt and worn and tattered soul,
Fighting alone the strange and sordid years.
And I, who fain would shield him well—
Is my bright kitchen a strong citadel?
Such pebbles come into a woman's hand,
Instead of rocks—frail pebbles, like a stream's,
Almost like shells, with little rainbow gleams,
And all these build a fortress that will stand?
Only the goodness of fresh buttered bread,
Forgiveness for a stocking torn in play,
High celebration on a holiday,
The evening charm of stories told or read,
"Surprises" from each little journey brought,
The graciousness of "parties" 'neath the tree,
And at the elders' parties, cambric tea,
Just to assure that one is not forgot—
These, and a kitchen sweet with spice have I,
My little boy to shield and fortify
Some whimsic memory in a day apart,
To sweetness and to faith may save his heart.

FARMERS READY TO BUY ONE MILLION MOTOR TRUCKS.

(Wall Street Journal.)

Farmers are gradually becoming converted to the use of motor trucks, W. C. Durant, president of the General Motors Corporation, believes that the United States will be producing 1,500,000 motor trucks annually within a few years; and that American farmers will take a substantial part of this enormous output is revealed in some statistics gathered by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

About 42,000 of all classes of farmers in the United States were reached by questionnaires sent out by the Goodyear Company. It is believed that the replies received were typical of two million out of the nearly seven million farms in the country.

VIRTUOUS WIVES

By OWEN JOHNSON

"Pardon me—question of style, and everything else will be a question of style. The dear ladies who tried to snub you to night will become your inseparable friends the moment they see they cannot down you. And you, on your part, will give more time to them, your dearest rivals, than to your own family. You will have a sort of collective morality. You find Irma surrounded by a collection of young fetch-and-carrys. You'll establish your own brigade or try to steal hers from her. You'll flirt as Irma flirts. You'll dare as Irma dares. You'll break the conventions as Irma breaks them."

"Why always Irma?"

"Oh, Irma is the perfect type of a society model. She has wit, she has taste, and she has a thorough instinct for avoiding the ice where it begins to grow thin. She is thoroughly convinced of the innocence of all her intentions—in fact, she is quite capable of founding a school of modern social philosophy."

"Aren't you making us out very immoral persons?"

"Immoral? Of course," he said cheerfully. "You are all profoundly immoral, but not in the sense you attach. You are immoral because you are irresponsible, because you are not really necessary. Immoral in another sense—no! That's the worst and the best of you. You avoid great emotions. They are too disturbing, and you can't take the time in society. You seek safe little emotions— to be constantly amused. The strongest emotion Irma has is jealousy of Gladys Challoner. They spend their lives attacking each other, poaching on each other's preserves. They outrival each other in display; they are indispensable to each other; they call each other up on the telephone every morning and tear each other to pieces every night. Do you think any man can compete with the strength of of such an attachement?" He stoped, laughed as a man who verges on an epigram, pleased at his discovery. "Gladys is a moral lightning-rod to Irma—it's what keeps her moral, in the ordianry sense of the word."

Womanlike, while listening to this diatribe, delivered half playfully, half seriously, she was seeking the personal explanation. Was he still in love with Irma Dellabarre? At the thought that this might be the reason of the satire, she felt a sharp pinch of annoyance which caused her to say acidly,

"And this is what I am to become? Thank you. You have a very bad opinion of me."

"I? Not at all! You'll see—society needs you. You will be one of its martyrs. You must be admired, imitated, and torn to pieces regularly, or society would be a very dull place. In a year or two, when I come back again, I shall hope to be your very good friend. Who knows, when next we meet, I may be foolish enough to lose my head!"

She laughed at the casual way he declared this impertinence, as thou, offering her an atoning compliment.

"Even with all your wisdom?"

"Oh, the wisest is the most vulnerable!"

"You know, I should be very angry at you, but you have the most amusing way of saying the most impossible things. Tell me, why do you talk to me like this? Is it just to amuse yourself?"

He looked at her and said solemnly,

"I am prophesying, you know!"

"So, in your eyes I am doomed?"

"There will be compensations,' he said, with a smile.

She droped her fan for a moment, and raised her eyes, meditative, solemn, disturbed, in a long glance of inquiry.

"I believe you are more than half serious!"

"Serious—never! I never would be so impertinent as to tell the truth in a serious manner."

"But if I—permit you," she added, after a slight hesitation.

"Very well, then, I warn you—you can't play the game like Irma. If you have a spark of real emotion, it is dangerous to feed on sensation, even little sensations. They who live by sensations shall perish by sensations! A man with a conscience and a woman with a heart have no place here! In the end"—He hesitated a moment; his eyes met hers and looked down through them into the secret caverns with an impetuous boldness he had not shown before—"yes in the end, there will be trouble. Ah, not just now—later, when you wake up."

"You don't think I am now, then," she said, avoiding his glance.

"No, I do not."

There was a long pause, during which she brought the soft, undulating feathers of her fan back against her face.

"Are you really leaving soon?" she said, presently.

"Yes; I am going to take up my post in Madrid immediately."

"You are really a terrifying person to talk to," she said, "I don't know whether I'd care to repeat this experience."

"If I have told you the truth," he said quietly, "I have tried to keep to generalities."

She nodded—Andrew had not been mentioned.

At this moment, Tody Dawson descended on them like a runaway tower.

"Here, I say, Monte! Amy, we've been sending out search parties for you!"

She sprang up, genuinely glad for the interruption, startled at the intimacy which had grown over them. She felt annoyed, angry at herself, for the ease with which she had revealed herself, resenting also the impersonal quality of his curiosity, so utterly devoid of any tribute to her. No one had ever approached her in that attitude.

"He thinks I am only a child," she thought impatiently.

She determined, she did not know exactly why, that she would give him no further opportunity. When, later in the evening, he came up to ask her to dance, she refused.

PART IX.

It was well after two when the Forresters went to their rooms. The maid, dozing in the hall, sprang up hastily. Amy sent her away after the mystifying process of unhooking had been accomplished and slipping into a negligee, vibrantly awake, stood at the ivy-clad window looking down on the spectacle of the departing cars: the awaking throb of the motors, the sweeping, monstrous eyes searching the night, the will-o'-the-wisp flights across the countryside.

The echo of many compliments were pleasant in her ear, the consciousness not only of the evening's success but of all that the future would bring hung in her imagination like a disturbing perfume. She found herself recalling many things Monte Bracken had said to her and admitting their justice. She had seen her worth in the eyes of the women, feminine mirrors, which told more than the lip-flattery of the men. But she was still an amateur, as Bracken had said, and she found herself thinking of Irma Dellabarre, of her poise, her exquisite taste, the charm of her manner, the ease of her silences, the naturalness and elegance of her movements.

"If I were a man, I should be crazy about her," she said to herself. "I wonder if he really isn't."

"Not sleeping," said the voice of her husband.

"No, indeed!"

She left the window. Andrew wandered in, a cigar in hand. His lawn tie was pulled loose. He had thrown off coat and vest, preparing to retire. He was in flowered suspenders, rosebuds on a satin background. The sight of these suspenders affected her disagreeably — the disillusioning intimacy of marriage.

"Didn't you bring a dressing gown?" she asked irritably.

"No—why?"

"You'll catch cold after dancing," she said hastily, surprised herself at this first critical impulse toward her husband.

"I did very little dancing," he said shortly. "I must take some lessons to keep up. I didn't know you were so fond of it."

He started to light the cigar, took a puff and stopped guiltily, quenching it.

"I beg your pardon. I'm absent-minded to-night." He looked at her with shining eyes. "Very proud of you this evening, Yum Yum."

"I'm glad of that," she said, ashamed of her annoyance.

"The prettiest there," he said, nodding. He stopped before her, his head on one side, his eyes half closed, studying the dainty figure.

"What is it? Did I do something wrong?"

"No, no. I was just trying to figure out. Let's see."

He took up a scarf and freeing the negligee, draped it about her shoulders. The decolette thus exposed was in the manner of Mrs. Challoner.

"What a boy you are!" she said, with sparkling eyes.

"Turn around. A little lower in the back."

When he had contemplated the delicate slope of her shoulders, the whiteness of the skin, the slender and graceful column of the neck, he said:

"I knew it! Not one can touch you! As for Mrs. Challoner, we'll settle her!" he added proudly, eve defiantly.

She watched him, amused at this sudden conversion, perceiving the working of new ideas behind his contemplation.

"So the cerise gown—"

"Mrs. Dellabarre dresses beautifully," he interrupted, smiling guiltily. "Young lady, some new dresses at once!" He looked at her again. "Mrs. Challoner, indeed!" he said indignantly.

Following his gesture she turned to the mirror. The daring of the deep decollete he had arranged, the flaming scarf playing over the soft slopes of her velvety skin, brought to her eyes a glow of pleasure. She stood staring at the prophetic figure which confronted her.

"Don't spoil me, Andrew!" she said, turning abruptly and drawing her negligee hastily about her.

He had flung himself down in an armchair, plunged in a brown study, so absorbed that, forgetful of the past offense, he had again lit his cigar.

"What now?" she asked surprised at his unusual mood. The satin huspenders, worked in rosebuds, stood before her eyes whenever she looked. What had possessed him to get them? Other men, like Monte Bracken, would never appear at such a disadvantage. He put his hand up as though to open the collar which cut into his neck.

"If he does, I shall scream," she thought.

But he contented himself with an easing of the corners. He blew out a great smoke ring.

"It's quite a revelation—coming here," he said, speaking to himself. "What do you think it can cost to run this place?"

"Heavens! How do I know?"

"You like it?" he said looking at her fixedly.

"I adore it—naturally."

"Nothing second chop here," he said, wagging his head. "When we go back—we'll make a bonfire of what we've got."

"But Andrew—"

"It's trash. This has opened my eyes. Make a friend of Mrs. Dellabarre. She can teach you everything. Look at the way she runs her house, the order, the charm of it! I don't know how she does it—but I'm going to learn. Yes, sir, I'm going to have a home like this."

"Andrew, but how can we?"

"Why, all we need is a million," he said, unable to resist a touch of that humorous braggadocio which is the zest of the American parvenu. "Best and damn the expense! Amy, do you want it—say the word—you shall have it!"

Years before her father had dedicated his existence to her in almost the same words!

"Yes—but—"

"It means a few years plugging, but by love it's worth it," he said boisterously. The feeling of his own unimportance in whatever sphere was one his mounting nature could not tolerate, and the lesson of the evening had been a hard one. He rose with the dogged fighting face of the old athlete. "Look here; we're going to enjoy life to the fullest, you and I. We're going to have everything life can give—and we're going to have the best. Andrew B. Forrester is going to surprise a few people around these parts!"

She understood.

"You've decided to accept Mr. Gunther's offer!"

"Within ten minutes after I got here," he said beaming. "What! Aren't you pleased?"

"Yes, yes; I suppose so—if you want it. You take my breath away," she said soberly. She could not have told herself why, but the prospect frightened her. It seemed to her that she was dragging him out of his existence into a world she coveted.

"My, how serious we are!"

"But this afternoon, Andrew, you said we had enough," she began.

He dismissed the objection with a wave of his hand.

"This afternoon, my dear girl, I didn't know what money was worth."

Home Applied Tire Mileage

YOU can add a thousand or more miles to the life of tires with inside breaks by the timely use of a Goodyear Reliner.

This Reliner is a complete new tire lining made by Goodyear to reinforce tires weakened by long, hard driving, road shocks or accidents.

You can apply the Goodyear Reliner right in your own garage without expert help. Shaped to fit the casing, it can be cemented in and the tire ready for running in half an hour or so.

If you prefer, your repairman will apply it for you for a small service charge.

Watch your tires carefully for fabric breaks inside.

If any appear, see a Goodyear Service Station or your tire repairman about Goodyear Reliners at once.

FUTURE OF FRANCE DEPENDS ON FISH

PARIS, July 10.—England's victories of the past may have been won on the roast beef of old England, but France's future depends on a fish diet, if the energies of the Fishing Director of the Ministry of Merchant Marine can be taken as a criteron.

The government apparently supports the view of scientists that fish is an excellent builder of brawn and muscle and has voted a credit for this year's development of fishing ports and the replacement of small vessels lost during the war. The principal ports to be remodelled immediately are Boulogne, La Rochelle, Lorient and Port de Bouc on the Mediterranean, and experts are confident that the cost of fish will decrease until whole families may be fed for less than the cost now of a small-sized beefsteak or horse cutlet.

TO STOP DIVORCE FOR ANY REASON

Rev. Dr. Gwynee Forms Organization to Respect Sanctity of Marriage.

NEW YORK, July 10—With its avowed purpose to make divorce impossible, an organization has just been formed by the Rev. Dr. Walter Gwynee, of Summit, N.J., according to an announcement made yesterday, and the body, calling itself the Society for the Upholding of the Sanctity of Marriage, would accomplish its end by amending the United States constitution.

Episcopal clergymen of New York and a number of judges are said to have given the movement their endorsement, and the plan of the organizers is to compaign for recognition by every Christian denomination in America. Among its demands is that no minister re-marry any divorced person.

The society would allow legal separation for "sufficient and weighty cause, but with no right to re-marry for either innocent or guilty party."

BE SUSPICIOUS OF TENDER GUMS

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unenameled tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system. Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

CONVENTION OF NEGROES DENOUNCES LYNCHINGS

NEW YORK, July 10.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has telegraphed Postmaster-General Burleson requesting him to order an investigation into the lynching of James Spencer, a negro postal clerk at Enterprise, Miss., on July 3.

The association also wired to Governor W. P. Hobby of Texas asking that he bring to justice the member of the mob which took Irving and Herman Arthur from the county jail at Paris, Texas, on July 6 and burned them at the stake.

SPANISH ROYAL COUPLE ON A VISIT TO ENGLAND

LONDON, July 10.—A large crowd cheered King Alfonso and Queen Victoria of Spain on their arrival in London yesterday evening for their visit to England. In the Royal Party were Prince Jaime, Marquis de Vaina, Marquis de Bendaur and the Duchess de San Carlos.

WENT SUDDENLY INSANE.

The Smith's Falls police engaged in a chase this week for Russell Meadow, a returned soldier belonging to that town, who suddenly went insane as a result of gas poisoning and shell-shock suffered overseas. He was finally captured and placed under the care of Dr. Kerfoot, who made arrangements to have the man placed in a military hospital.

BLACK BEAR RAIDS.

Make Forays in B. C., after Pigs and Chickens.

SOUTH VANCOUVER, B. C. July 12. — The prevalence of black bears is evoking much criticism in this district. One large black bear visited the thickly settled district between Main nad Fraser streets at midnight recently. It killed four ducks, and badly mauled several pigs. The loud squealing of the pigs aroused the neighbors, whose shouts alarmed the bear. He then scrambled out of the pen and ambled away in the darkness. A few days ago a chicken coop was raided by a bear. Local experts in wild animal lore are at a loss to account for these unusual forays.

NEARLY FIVE HUNDRED ORANGEMEN ATTENDED ANNUAL CHURCH PARADE

THE SALVATION ARMY TEMPLE WAS FILLED TO ITS CAPACITY--SERMON BY BRIGADIER J. F. SOUTHALL.

Upwards of 500 members of the Orange Order, both male and female, representing eleven lodges, attended the annual church parade at the Salvation Army Temple last evening, on the eve of the monster celebration Peterboro witnesses to-day.

Only every seven years it happens that this celebration is the day after the parade, and the Orange celebration to-day profits thereby.

The City Lodges District Numbers parading were L.O.L., Nos. 50, No. 1175 and 346 (True Blues. District No. 1 was represented by L.O.L. Nos. 457, Nassau; 321, Downer's Corners; 2440, Byersville; 494, Keene.

In addition, Juvenile Lodge, District No. 3, L.O.L., and Juvenile Lodge, No. 457, L.O.L., paraded, and Vimy Ridge Lodge, L.O.B.A., came forth forty strong.

From six o'clock on the streets were filled with Orangemen hurrying to their respective gathering places. The red, orange and yellow sashes, the badges, the silk hats, and gay ribbons, laid away for nearly a year, once more enlivened the streets, but the never ceasing music of the fife and drum, and the usually high spirits, the carefreeness characteristic of the 12th, was lacking. The walkers that followed the Salvation Army band up George street from the lodge room own Brock to Aylmer and thence to the Temple, were a quiet, subdued group.

Temple Packed.

The Temple was packed as it has not been packed for many moons, with Orangemen, and what few outsiders and the congregation could squeeze in, could choose, between standing in the aisle, in an odd corner or on the platform. Many took the latter course and found a seat amongst the songsters and the band.

"Stand up for Jesus," was the first hymn, followed by a saxophone solo by Bandsman J. James, "In Thy Heart There's Mercy," in which the Songsters joined in the chorus. Bandsman James displayed the wide versatility of his instrument and the solo parts were well carried.

The Scripture reading was from Judges 7th chapter, 2 to 7.

Welcomed Order.

Adjt. Buntin welcomed the order to the Temple and assured them that no small honour was given to the Salvation Army in the service being held there. The Orange Order he declared forcibly had always stood for the right and upheld the principle that right was might. They had brought to Christians freedom and right, and they stood for freedom and right for all humanity. July 12th he counted a very sacred day, for 230 years ago, one man stood up, not for himself, not for any great honours that might be conferred upon him—but for Jesus. He knew he was one of the men who would bring thousands, yes, tens of thousands, out of bondage. "We must go back to those days—we must refer to them," said Adjutant Buntin. "There was just as much need for and more need for, loyal Orangmen and True Blues now as there ever was in the history of the world. The Orange order stands for good, righteousness, and truth," he said.

The speaker recalled the faith and heroism of the early Orangemen, and how they were ready to go to the stake for the principles that they held dear.

"We welcome you for we believe in you, and what you stand for, as the right thing."

Latimer's execution was recalled, and how he said "that it was going to light such a candle in England as will never be put out." "The light burns brighter to-day than it ever burned before, and God grant that it will never be put out."

Broken Drum.

He hoped there would be a campaign to get people to come over on the right side. The Orange order would never fall for it stands on too sure foundation, he said. He urged them to make the parade a memorable one. "Don't be afaid to beat your drums. Ours is broken but we have got another one. Ten drums were offered them," he declared. The big drum with both heads slashed out of it, was exhibited to the large gathering present. The multitude cheered adjutant Buntin's words, and laughed when a bandsman shouted "There is a drum you can't beat!"

Brigadier J. F. Southall of Toronto, the preacher for the evening, welcomed the Orangemen and hoped that the meeting would prove one of remembrance. He took his sermon from an interesting human incident in the life of Jesus Christ, that, he said, made him the reality he is to us to-day. It was taken from St. Matt., chapter 8.

Jesus had just descended after the sermon on the mount, which has been the foundation of all sermons since then. The Roman centurion in the story, was in charge of a small garrison to keep order amongst the Jews due to the jealousy between the towns. His servant was sick with the palsy at home. He had heard a good deal of this man Jesus who had gone up and down the country doing wonderful things and performing wonderful miracles. As he himself was a ruler in his sphere, he concluded that Jesus was one in his.

Imperial Rome was then mistress of the whole known world. Without knowing Jesus' true mission, he thought he was a ruler. He saw the crowd descending from the mountain side and he thought he could appeal to Jesus on behalf of his servant. Jesus offered to heal him.

The centurion answered and said, "Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof, but speak the word only and my servant shall be healed.

9. For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another Come, and he cometh; and to myservant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10. When Jesus heard it he marvelled and said to them that followed, Verily, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

13. And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the self-same hour.

The speaker pointed out how the discipline of the Roman army was shown in the story. Such a discipline as permeated the home and the whole fabric of the social life of Rome, and we require much of the same thing to-day, he said. Success in business or social life depends on discipline. The Roman soldier shows us the importance of faith and how he recognized Jesus' control over the powers of nature. What a reproof is the faith of that Roman soldier to some of us who are weak in the faith of God!

"There are many things taught us in the ritual of the Orange order. Have you merely joined the order or are you a part of it? Treasure those rituals but let their spiritual meaning be reflected in your own life—a life of service and help to others. Let faith bring you into a closer relationship with Jesus Christ, that his life and his purposes are made yours."

Just as the Orangemen began to disperse, Brother F. J. Reid, secretary Lodge No. 50, took a chair as an impromptu platform. "In the face of the dastardly and low mean trick that was played on the association we are visiting to-night, he moved, that a special collection be taken up to help repair the instruments and damage done this week.

The motion was promptly seconded and endorsed by every Orangeman, with cheers from all sides, and a substantial collection resulted.

F. J. Gandy replied thanking them on behalf of the band. "In our heart of hearts, we say, 'God bless you.'"

Shortly after nine the different lodges dispersed at the George street rooms with the usual ceremony, and with happy thoughts of the morrow evident in every face.

VICE-PRESIDENT MAY BE CREATED

FRENCH CANDIDATES FOR THE POSITION.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, July 12.—The state of President Deschanel's health has revived the talk in Parliamentary lobbies of the necessity of taking measures to meet the possibility of the prolonged inability of the President to discharge the duties of his office.

The proposal to create the office of Vice-President, which does not exist under the French constitution, is again mooted, and among those mentioned for the position are Premier Millerand, Leon Bourgeois, Charles Jonnart, Raoul Peret, Georges Leygues, and General de Castelnau.

NO CHANCES.

"Two penn'orth o' glue, please," said the urchin to the shopkeeper.

"Certainly. What sort of glue do you require?"

"I dunno exactly, but it'll have to be jolly strong," replied the boy.

"We keep all sort — 'Holbite,' 'Bulldog,' 'Gripfast,' and half-a-dozen others. Which will you have?"

"It don't matter as long as it'll hold the ball tight. Our side is batting first, and we ain't takin' no risks."—Tit Bits.

MR. J. H. BURNHAM'S ADDRESS TO MEMBERS OF THE ORANGE ORDER

Addressing the Orangemen to-day Mr. J. H. Burnham, who a few days ago resigned his seat in Parliament as member for West Peterborough, took for his subject,

"The Present Apostasy."

The 12th of July was the birthday of British Liberty, and we must see that we keep it so, said Mr. Burnham. I will take as the text of my address to you to-day the following item appearing in The Globe and other papers on Wednesday, 7th July.

"The Inter-Church World Movement was described as a noble dream which became a nightmare, and this and other similar movements were declared to have 'left a dark brown taste in the mouth of Protestant Christianity in the United States,' in an address delivered by Dean Charles R. Brown, of the Yale School of Religion, before the International Congregational Council to-day. Dean Brown was one of the final speakers of the Council's decennial session, which came to a close to-day after a week of meetings."

The propaganda against the inspiration of the Word of God, the attempt to have the people believe that Governments should invade the home and compel the people in their private affairs just as is done in public affairs and just as was done in the days of The Terror, and thus lay them completely under the power of those who rush to seize the reins of Government, the substitution of social service as an ideal distinct from the natural fruit of religion and as an improvement upon the old way of relying upon the all-sufficient power of the Saviour, the way of the fruit of the Spirit—all combine to make this age the most tragic in the world's history. Both amongst certain of the clergy and certain of the people there is a deliberate attempt to dethrone Christ and to substitute human laws for Divine laws. It is the boldest and the worst of all attempts to date. Drunk with self-esteem and the power of money unto salvation these people witness the decay of the rural church, the decrease in numbers of the clergy and the spread of contempt of the Bible as if whatever mistake there is lies at the door of God and not at that of the self-styled wise men and women of to-day. Flaunting their furious fashions in the face of the world, demanding rights for themselves and then labouring to take those of others away, ignoring the Word of God where it does not suit them, and thus minister to their vanity, modern women have conspired, with their victim the modern man, to treat with contempt the presence of God in the world and to act as if they alone were the rulers of it. Against this monstrous propaganda Orangemen and all good citizens must fight. It is not a popular nor a politic move to stand against such a mob where mere mass counts, as it does at the polls. But politic, popular or otherwise, I am so impressed with the need of fighting this infection that I will henceforth largely devote myself to it both in public and private life. To the scoffers let me say that if they scoff at the Creator they at least do not deny creation, do they? To decry the struggle of the human mind in its effort to pierce the veil and see the vision beyond is not less foolish than to deny the fact of this very life which we all must live and acknowledge here.

The Irish Question.

The first time the little boy sees the inside of a big circus it is like a dream, and much of it proves mere cardboard and unreal, but much of it proves real. It all help to give him his first view of life.

When great events occur in the world most of us get our first peep at the workings of civilisation behind the scenes. Much of it proves real and much of it proves unreal, just as in the case of the circus. Some people think it is all real, and some people think it is all unreal. Wise people look carefully into these matters and sift out the real.

Now the only real things in this purely human view of life besides nature itself are the necessities of life and our rules of conduct. The one keeps us living, the others enable us to live and trade with other people.

Rules of conduct, such as justice, liberty, etc., are capable of great use and of great abuse. But they all are made to give way in the last analysis to the foundation of them all, namely, the law of nature or necessity—that law which we call the law of desperation, and which is the very opposite of all that religion teaches us.

Let us consider then this great fundamental law of necessity first. It is a law that admits of no discussion. When we get down to necessity we are at rock bottom. It is then a question of life or death.

The only thing left to do when we get where we can go no farther in case of difference of opinion is to fight. The strongest or best prepared will survive. We have this struggle going on in Canada to-day. But God is not mocked. Our struggle is, after all, only with ourselves.

The Struggle.

This struggle is, however, plainest just at present in Ireland, where more than twenty centuries ago the forefathers of the present Irish revolutionists drove out and dispossessed the earliest Irish settlers and established that Ireland for which they are fighting to-day. Great Britain admits that the Irish have a right to liberty so far as the safety and existence of Great Britain will permit. Many of the Irish think differently, and as the safety of Great Britain is the rock-bottom of necessity with Great Britain, she and Ireland are now fighting it out. Those who think with Great Britain will back her up and those who think with the dissatisfied Irish will back them up. The original Irish had no friends.

It is well to make these things clear since an appeal to rules of civilisation, such as liberty, justice, etc., only befogs the real state of the case. Britain admits much that the Irish claim and much of it is what the British themselves fought for and won after many years of struggle. But when we reach the last ditch in the differences of our opinion there is nothing left to do but fight it out or obey the Spirit of God speaking in the heart.

It is plain, therefore, why half of the world is involved in the Irish question. We have all now to say to ourselves whether we are with Great Britain and the British Empire or in favour of allowing it to be broken up.

At such a time and in such a struggle every conceivable energy must be bent to the task on both sides. It is no time for little ambitions or the play of children. It requires the best we can do, said the speaker in conclusion.

TRIALS OF A NOMINEE COMING HOME TO HARDING

Cook Is Interviewed on His Diet—Has to Tell if He Plays Poker—Cigar Named For Him.

WASHINGTON.—Trials of a Presidential nominee have been brought home to Senator Harding every day since he was named at Chicago. Here are some that he had to contend with:

Having his negro cook interviewed on what he eats for breakfast.

Having 'Elder" John Sims, the colored barber, who prayed for him, interviewed on the text of his prayer.

Having a cigar named after him without knowing its quality.

Having to make a speech into a talking machine, so the records may be distributed for campaign arguments.

Having to explain to prohibitionists how he happened to own three shares of brewery stock.

Having the question asked: "Is it true that you play poker?"

Having to identify his picture in one taken of the Caledonia Silver Cornet Band.

Having to buy presents for children named after him.

Having photographers spoil your drive on the golf links.

Having persons ask you for jobs ranging from porters to Cabinet posts.

Having women reporters write that Mrs. Harding wore frayed gloves when she came home from Chicago after the nomination.

Having fond parents ask him to kiss their children.

Having to deny that he was born in a log cabin.

Having to act pleasant to the fellow who always says: "I just wanted to shake your hand."

THE BAND DAMAGE WILL RUN HIGH

THE LOSS TO SALVATION ARMY IS ESTIMATED AT $850.

The smashing of the big drum and the damage done to the band instruments of the Salvation Army has caused expressions of regret from all sides. Between seven and nine o'clock on Thursday morning Adjutant Buntin was called up on the 'phone by a person who called himself secretary of lodge 50 and asked to give him a text for his sermon on Sunday. Adjutant Buntin thought it was a joke and answered jocularly. It has since developed that it was not the secretary at all and a ruse to find out if Adjutant Buntin was at home. The depredation evidently was carried out that morning for the night before there was a Corps meeting. When the members left everything was all right.

The deviltry was first discovered by Victor Boorman on Thursday night before the songsters practice.

One cornet and a baritone horn are missing and the ten instruments from which parts were taken have to be sent to England to the factory for repairs. This involves time and expense and the total cost of the destruction to the Army is estimated at $820.

At last night's service a special collection was taken up by the Orangemen to help the army out and any donations from citizens in sympathy with this work will be appreciated.

AUSTRALIA MAY EXPORT EGGS TO UNITED STATES

The following is an extract from a letter received by the New York Produce Review from a firm in Sydney, Australia, with regard to the possibility of exporting eggs to the United States:—

"It is yet too early to say what the next export season will be like. At time of writing, supplies are extremely low and fresh new-laid suburban eggs are selling here at 3s 3d (about 55c) per dozen, with every prospect of being higher in the near future. Poultry farms, as a result of last season's export trade, are getting 'ideas' as to the value of their product, and talk about fixing a minimum price for next season. A good deal, of course will depend on what price is fixed as to what volume of trade will go through. With the experience learned last season, we feel sure we will be able to send over eggs that will meet the requirements of trade in America."

Every dreamer expects to accomplish something when he wakes up.

TORONTO COUPLE PUT IT TO TEST

MUNN AND WIFE PRAISE TANLAC FOR THE WAY IT RESTORED THEM TO SPLENDID HEALTH.

"Both my wife and I have put Tanlac to the test, and we think it is a splendid medicine and are glad of the opportuniyt of recommending it to others," said Edward Munn of 128 Ross Ave., Toronto, the other day.

"For three years I was in a general run down condition, feeling tired and languid all the time, and always getting up in the morning as worn out as though I had been up all night. My stomach was all out of order so that the little I did eat gave me indigestion and never seemed to give me sufficient nourishment. After a meal the gas would form and cause me great distress and keep me in misery most of the time. I was badly constipated and I had frequent dizzy spells when I attempted to stoop over I felt as though I would fall. I was always having headaches which upset me for my work and towards the last I got so weak I was fagged out all the time.

"I heard so many people tell of the wonderful results they got from taking Tanlac that I decided to give it a trial myself. I hadn't got far on the first bottle before I knew it was doing me good. My appetite improved right along and in a short while I could eat anything I wanted without dizzy spells or constipation, and I feel stronger and better in every way.

"When my wife saw the way Tanlac was helping me, she started taking it also, for she was in a badly run down condition at the time. It was just as effective in her case as in mine and we are now both enjoying excellent health."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Turner, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Tringle & Son.

FEW MENNONITES WILL LEAVE CANADA

Canadian Press.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 12. — Comparatively few Manitoba Mennonites are expected to leave the province this fall, acording to R. Fletcher, the Deputy Minister of Education, who states that he considers it unlikely that any large number would leave, even if the church ordered an exodus. He estimated the number of Mennonites in Manitoba at over 20,000, but stated that the total number of the orthodox group known as the "old colony" would not number over 8,000 in both Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The small group, he said, comprises the ones who would be most likely to move away.

COLONIAL HIDE CO., Peterboro, Ont.

MEMORY OF EARLY PETERBORO SETTLERS HONOURED BY DESCENDANTS WHO HELD A FAMILY REUNION ON THURSDAY, JULY 6TH

THE FIFE AND EASON FAMILIES OBSERVE ONE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR FIRST LANDING IN THIS DISTRICT— THE ORIGINATOR OF FIFE WHEAT.

INTERESTING FAMILY RELICS

A family re-union of local historic interest was that of the Fife and Eason families in the Bethel Church grounds on Thursday, July 8th. One hundred years ago the ancestors of the Fifes and Easons, John Fife and George Eason, and their families sailed from Scotland and settled in this district. They and their descendants have played an important part in the shaping of the history of this district and the family history read at the reunion on Thursday was almost a history of early Peterboro and district.

Three Hundred Present.

About 300 descendants of John Fife and George Eason attended the reunion, about fifty of whom were from Peterboro. Supper was served in the church and there was an interesting programme consisting principally of addresses relating to the history of the family and exhibits of family relics.

Fife Wheat.

David Eason read a paper by Miss Gladys Fife on the Fife wheat which has now become under the name of "Glasgow wheat," one of the leading hard wheats. The paper related how the wheat had been first grown by David Fife in 1842 on his farm in Otonabee and how it had since become one of the leading hard wheats, especially of Manitoba.

A poem written in 1897 on the occasion of John Fife's 100th birthday was read by Miss E. Fife, of Peterboro.

Interesting Family Relics.

Among the number of family relics exhibited were a 160-year-old piece of china, John Fife's and George Eason's snuff boxes, family photographs and an old baking kettle.

Fife and Eason History.

The principal part of the programme was the reading of a sketch of the Fife and Eason families from the time of their coming to Canada by Herbert Fife, of Peterboro, which was compiled by Mrs. L. Fife and Miss E. Fife, of Peterboro. The sketch is as follows:

Battle of Waterloo.

"After Waterloo business was very dull in Scotland and work hard to secure. John Fife, Jr., was disheartened at not being able to get work and meeting his neighbour, George Eason, who said that he was considering emigrating to Canada, John decided to accompany him. They talked it over with John's parents and both families decided to go to Canada, and early in May, 1820, they bade old Scotland good-bye forever—with the exception of David Fife, who afterwards visited Scotland. They left their native town, Kincardine, Tully Allen Parish, Perthshire, sailing on the good ship "Hope."

A Long Voyage.

"In those days there were no dining saloons on board; passengers had to provide for themselves. The little company consisted of Mr. and Mrs. John Fife, Sr., and their sons, John, William, Thomas, Hutchinson and Alexander. (James remained in Scotland following in two years). Mr. and Mrs. George Eason and their sons, Thomas, Danie Robert Alexander, and daughters, Janet and Nellie. They landed at Quebec and then came up the St. Lawrence past Montreal and Kingston to Port Hope. Part of the trip was made by a ferry drawn by horses on the shore.

Tramp Overland.

"The women and children were left in Port Hope, John Fife Sr., John, Jr., and George Eason walked to what is now Otonabee Township to see the land, guided by the blaze of the axe. An Indian took them across Rice Lake in a small boat. At this time crossing the lake was rather a costly matter as a man and boat could seldom be secured for less than $4. Boats were often upset, lives endangered, and luggage lost. They landed upon what is now the 4th line of Otonabee, about September 14th, 1820. They struck their flint, kindled a fire, and mixed some flour with Rice Lake water, using the fine powder of the ashes as a leaven for their cake. Then it was baked in a kettle buried in the ashes and covered with coals. John, Sr., often said that it was the sweetest cake he ever ate.

"Again following the blaze of the axe they made their way to John Stewart's shanty where they received a 'guid' Scotch welcome. They spent the night, sleeping on the hearth with Stewart and his guest, Sandy Spiers.

"Next morning they came up to this locality. The Township of Otonabee was surveyed in 1819 in 1,000 acre lots, the first line running some place near Mr. Timothy Walsh's farm, the next between James Fife's and Herbert Kay's farms. On arriving here, being hungry in a vast wilderness, they again built a fire and set their oatmeal to boil. Alas! they had left their spoons behind at Mr. Stewart's. They whittled spoons from wood. While busy, the shavings caught fire and before they were aware of it, a stubb was burned, which fell on their fire, upsetting the porridge and leaving them without food. They decided that they had gone far enough. Mr. Eason said, 'We may as well take this land where we are. I will take this on the south.' And Mr. Fife took the land on the north, thus establishing homes for themselves and future generations.

"They returned to Mr. Stewart's for the night. They then returned to Port Hope. Mr. Eason and John Fife, Jr., walking straight on to Toronto through the forest for deeds of the land which they secured.

"The first thing in those days required of a settler was to go before the land agent who resided in Toronto and take the oath of allegiance. For administering this oath the fee was 7 shillings and 6 pence. He was furnished with a location ticket for any land he might select. This ticket entitled him to a free grant of 50 acres, on performing certain settlement duties, the second 50 acres on payment of £4, and an additional 200 acres on paying £36. These rates were lowered later.

Settlement Duties.

"Settlement duties consisted of chopping and clearing out the trees and brushwood in front of the lot on the line to the width of two rods and slashing down the timber to a width of 4 rods were required, thus making an opening 6 rods wide. In addition, a clearing of 2 acres had to be made and a house or shanty 18 by 20 feet had to be built. These duties had to be performed within 18 months.

"They returned to Otonabee, leaving the women and children in Port Hope. They built their shanty, Mrs. Fife and her children coming first. Margaret Eason (known to most of us as Aunt Margaret or grandma) was born November 10, 1820, in Port Hope. Mrs. Eason and her children followed to Otonabee. The baby was drawn on a hand sleigh by her husband.

Three Shanties Built.

Three shanties were built of logs with poles on top coveredwith green boughs. Beds were made by placing poles in the walls and covering them with hemlock boughs. Their tea was wild peppermint and hemlock. Sometimes they had tea but were often without.

"Aunt Margaret was one of the first white children to be born in Port Hope. Jennie, Isabel and George were born after coming to Otonabee. When Mrs. Eason was sick someone gave the family a hen which laid an egg a day thus providing Mrs. Eason with nourishment much better than the coarse oatmeal.

John Fife, Sr.

"John Fife had a step-mother who was not good to him and when 9 years old he ran away from home to live with a sheperd and never returned until his grandfather's funeral, thus starting a family and home of his own. He married Agnes Hutchinson who was a sister to James Hutchinson, Land Surveyor to Admiral Lord Keith. Lord Keith had Napoleon as prisoner on his ship at one time. John Fife was post boy in Lord Keith's estate in Scotland and had the honor of carrying the news of Waterloo. Riding a white horse he announced his coming to each town with a bugle. As he passed through each he was decorated with ribbon.

First Winter.

"John married Eliza Carter in Cobourg. They had the honor of bringing the first Methodist minister to the Keene circuit and held services in their house once a month. Mrs. Fife walked to Hiawatha carrying her baby, John helping her across the river on a log. The next service both went down taking their baby, William, with them. They brought the minister home with them and ever since we have had the Methodist service in the community.

"James married Betsy Malcolm, David married Jane Beckett. To David we owe the Fife wheat. William married Mary Beckett, Thomas married Janet Beckett and Hutchinson never married. Alexander married Margaret Eason (Aunt Margaret—the Port Hope baby).

All Passed Away.

"Mr. Eason had what the Scotch would call a "heap o' siller." Mr. Fife had quite a little bit of money. Those were the times to try man and women. Bravely did they stand and well did they endure the privations of the forest. They have all passed away and we, their children, grand-children great and great-grand-children enjoy the fruits of their labor to-day and by our presence here to-day do honor to their memory by celebrating the hundredth anniversary of their coming to Canada."

Wives and Mothers of Canada

Stratford, Ont.:—"I am very enthusiastic in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic for expectant mothers. I have had experience both with the 'Prescription' and without it, and am in a position to know that there is a vast difference. I was never nauseated or sick at all with my 'Prescription' babies but I was extremely uncomfortable with the others and my suffering was greater when I had not taken the 'Favorite Prescription'. I shall always take pleasure in recommending it to expectant mothers."—MRS. LEOTA M. PEPPER, 114 Grange St.

COULD NOT SLEEP

Halifax, N. S.:—"I was in a run-down, nervous condition for over two years, had been treated by several doctors and only found temporary relief. I could not sleep at night my heart palpitated so, and I was almost afraid to close my eyes. Being persuaded, I wrote and stated my symptoms to the Medical staff at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., I was advised to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with the 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Pleasant Pellets'. I did so with the very best results. I could sleep and became my natural self again. I certainly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all sufferers, for they have done for me what doctors failed to do and they have saved me doctor bills, too."—MRS. JOHN HOMANS, Clam Harbor.

Toronto, Ont.:—"For over thirty years I have been a user of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I have taken them for liver trouble, biliousness, constipation and sick-headaches and they always gave me the relief wanted. I am sure the 'Pleasant Pellets' have saved me many a sick spell. I can highly recommend them."—MRS. HANNAH BOWNESS, 60 Strange St.

In Toronto.

Mr. Jack Thompson, of Mount Julian, was in Toronto last week attending the funeral of his father, Mr. Emerson Thompson. The late Mr. Thompson was well known in Burleigh Township, and his many friends will be sorry to hear of his death. When past military age he enlisted as a trooper in the Canadian South African contingent by the simple device of subtracting a few years from his age. He was one of the foremen of the Trent Valley Canal during the time it was being put through Lakefield.

Trip Up the Trent.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foy, Misses Miriam and Bessie Foy, and Mr. Donald Stevenson, of Toronto, in Mr. Foy's launch Snookums, passed through the Trent Canal to Bobcaygeon. They went from Toronto to Trenton and from there up the Trent Valley waterway. They are delighted with the trip, and are loud in their praises of the Kawartha Lakes.

Thunderstorm.

Stoney Lake was visited on Friday afternoon about four o'clock with the sharpest thunderstorm of the season. The storm did not do any serious damage, but the rain fell in torrents.

JAPAN'S PROVERBS OF WOMEN

"New" women are created to replace good women.

If you want to love women begin by spending money.

Women who remember shop signs and trademarks make good wives.

Pride goes before a fall, especially in beautiful women.

Women and mountains should be looked on at a distance.

Women fall in love with their protectors, men with women.

Men who neither brag nor flatter need not fear being loved by women.

Rather than make love in clumsy language bite your tongue out.

Plain women bewail their misfortune in proportion to their learning.

When marriage agents praise any woman for her virtues you may be certain that it is another way of saying that she is ugly.

Women who seek liberty too often loose it.

A wife who does not know how to please her husband makes him commit no end of blunders.

Men who like to take photos with their wives are henpecked.

'Tis women ... ow they are ugly that powder their faces.

Women admire women of their own type.

The secret of winning the woman who jilts you is—perseverance.

ALLIED MINISTERS NOT IMPRESSED BY GERMAN SUBSTITUTE

(Canadian Press.)

SPA, Belgium, July 12.—Allied ministers, it appears, are not very favorable impressed by German reparation plan. The prevailing view, the correspondent was informed, was the situation was somewhat indefinite on essential financial points.

It is understood that the Germans have in reserve another plan or amendment of much greater importance than the plan submitted yesterday. The plan now before the conference is considered a substitute for this original plan which the Germans are withholding, being unwilling to disclose the original proposition because they were not given satisfaction on the coal question.

Polish conference here is understood to be very much dissatisfied with the terms of the Allied note to the Russian Soviet government proposing an armistice between Bolsheviki and Polish armies. They feel, however, that they will be obliged to accept it.

SHEESLEY SHOWS OPENED TO-DAY AT EXHIBITION PARK

BIG SHOW REACHED THE CITY YESTERDAY AT NOON.

The Greater Sheesley Shows were all set this morning for the gala opening at the Exhibition grounds.

The big show train which was hauled in two sections, rolled into the city yesterday at noon. Hundreds of people gathered about it as it was transferred to the show grounds, and within an hour the grounds resembled an energetic city.

Men, women and children alike were curious to see the fantastic city come into being ,to watch the huge structures being erected and the massive tents spread out. They flocked around the animal tent, listening to the lions roar and the panthers screech. Then they heard the bell of a locomotive clang, and looking up saw the mimic railroad engine of the Sheesley aggregation running right into the show grounds. The locomotive then became the cynosure of inest for all. It was an automobile done in the form af a locomotive as a novelty and it was due to take part in the parade this afternoon.

That a week of unbounded joy is in store for Peterborough was evidenced by the enormity of shows and rides that constitute the Sheesley aggregation. Some of the tents were large enough to quarter regiments of soldiers, especially the big three pole animal tent. The motordrome looked like a circular fortress, and the side show tent appeared to be a block long. Over 400 people are on the Sheesley personnel.

The system with which the men worked yesteray and this morning was characteristic of the Sheesley management. There was an absence of confusion and growling although the men were hard put because of working 36 hours with but little sleep from Saturday night at Oshawa to this morning here. The same system is said to be creditable for the work done at Bellevue, Ky., three months ago, when the men rescued their show from a nine foot flood that had stolen in over night.

TALK ON HOUSEWORK

NEW ENGLAND WOMAN GIVES ACCOUNT OF LIFE EXPERENCE.

It fell to the lote of a New England woman of good birth and generous culture to assume active household duties at an age when leisure makes strange appeal to women who have led active professional lives. More in soliloquy than pronouncement this particular woman was heard recently to deliver herself to the following effect:

"All my life I had been a teacher. I loathed housework, or thought I did. But I have discovered that I was ...ng violence to some of my fine instincts—instincts which I share with every normal woman. I find that I hated not housework but the state of mind that often goes with housework. At first I was rebellious: but presently common sense asserted itself, and with the best philosophy I could muster I set about adjusting myself to conditions. Circumstances compelled me to do all of my own housework.

"I decided to master my work, not to allow my work to master me. I determined to treat work respectfully, and to insist upon respectful treatment from my work. Instead of employing the breathing intervals in my day's routine in complaining of the hardships of my lot I lived every spare moment in the inspiring company of good books. If I stopped a moment to rest my arms from sweeping I had a word with Browning. While I stirred up cake Keats was within communing distance. I found time to look away for a moment from the most homely task. Matthew Arnold, Tennyson, and a distinguished group of poets and essayists were always ready to respond to my call for inspiration and help to live above the routine of the day's work.

"I am called a good housekeeper; an excellent cook. I consider it high credit; and I trust and believe that it is credit to which I am entitled. I cannot say that I have learned to regard housework with consuming affection; but I dare say that I have come to get great and peculiar satisfaction from the consciousness that I can do housework year in and year out, do it well, and at the same time keep in vital and intimate contact with the finest expressions of human inspiration and wisdom. I know the joy that comes at night from honest and efficient discharge of the day's work. The degree of the work has ceased to trouble me. All useful and necessary work fits into the great scheme of things. Emerson did his work; I do mine. We are comrades. The spirit of usefulness joins us in the great freemasonry of service."

This New England woman had her schooling in a humble school, perhaps. But she has learned one of the profoundest of life's lessons. And there is inspiration in her story for the great company of her school mates.—Hartford Times.

A SUMMER SANCTUARY.

I found a yellow flower in the grass,
A tiny flower with petals like a bell,
And yet, me thought, more than a flower it was—
More like a miracle.

Above the sky was clear, save where at times
Soft-tinted fleeces drifted dreamily,
Bearing a benison of sunny climes
From altars of the sea.

In vestments green the pines about me gleamed
Like priests that tend the sacrificial fire,
And the faint-lowing cattle almost seemed
Some far intoning choir.

It was a place and an occasion meet
For some high, solemn wonder to befall;
And, when I saw the flower at my feet,
I understood it all.

LITTLE CHILDREN OF SERBIA.

(William Heal, Author of "Idylls of the Brotherhood."

Thunderous cannon and shattering shell,
Swept away homes in Serbia.
Ambition of Kaiser turned into Hell
The valleys and hills of Serbia.
Her sons stood bravely in battle array,
And nobly fought in that blood stained fray.
These souls heroic were ready to pay
With life for beloved Serbia.

Splintering shard and hail of lead,
Claimed toll of the women of Serbia;
The road they travelled was strewn with dead.
Murdered mothers of Serbia.
Cold and still they lie on the dreary wayside,
The grey old mother, and the fair young bride.
The old and the young, together died,
In the trek from stricken Serbia.

Gaunt famine strode on with grim grey death,
By the side of the children of Serbia,
As they staggered along with pain-drawn breath
Weary little children of Serbia.
With aching limbs, and bleeding feet
They forward pressed in the great retreat
Then exhaustion came, and they fell dead beat
Sobbing little children of Serbia.

The wind moaning sadly on outstretched wing,
Brought news of the children of Serbia.
Sympathetic souls can hear it sing,
Of the woes of the children of Serbia.
It tells of little ones homeless there,
Of children robbed of a mother's care,
Of young souls numbered with grey despair,
Hopeless little children of Serbia.

Warm hearted people in England fair
Will help the children of Serbia;
And Canada, generous beyond compare,
Will aid the children of Serbia.
Free America's Sons will respond with joy,
To the need of the motherless Serbian boy
And the kindly methods that we employ
Will save the children of Serbia.

This poem by William Heal, was inspired by the sights witnessed by him on the evening of his arrival in Serbia. William Heal made a fortune by hard work and he is spending it in Brotherhood and War Relief Work.

LIFE OF A BUTTERFLY.

It is an old belief, and, like many old beliefs, a totally erroneous one, that a butterfly lives only a day, say Answers.

There is naturally tremendous variation in that length of a butterfly's days, weather being the deciding factor. But most of our British butterflies live only a month or two. The males die before the females, for a butterfly has no other duty in life than the reproduction of its own glory. A few months' flitting about glory of the summer that is to follow, and the butterfly's course is run.

There are a few hardly specimens, especially the well-known tortoise-shell sleep through our winter into the following spring, and this is why sometimes we are startled by the sight of one on a warm winter's day.

Such butterflies take up their sleep and recommence their activity in the early days of spring. The butterfly mother seems to know that, however warm the autumn, it will never produce the necessary food for her babies, while, though there may be none at hand in the early spring, yet it will be abundant by the time her infants need it.

A QUIET NIGHT ULSTER COUNTY

MANY WILD RUMOURS FROM BELFAST—TROOPS CONFINED TO BARRACKS.

Canadian Press.

BELFAST, July 12. — Last night passed very quietly in Ulster and as the great Orange parade was formed in the city this morning there was no evidence that the day would be marked by anything out of the ordinary for the celebration of July 12th.

Telephone messages from Londonderry and other points report everything quiet, and it was stated that they were expected to remain so.

Troops in regular garrison here have been confined to barracks until Tuesday morning, but the military officers have taken every precaution against disorders even to arranging for special hospital services.

Many wild rumors were about in Belfast this morning, one being that a trainload of Sinn Feiners was coming from Cork to attack the city.

Investigation proved this as many other reports of trouble untrue.

POULTRY RAISING

Late hatched chicks must be given fresh, clean ground and be kept away from older chicks if the best growth is secured.

It is always best to use head lice ointment or vaseline on the heads of little poults, the same as on little chicks, to prevent danger from head lice.

Be sure to furnish plenty of fresh, green food to all fowls and chicks which are confined in yards, for the best results cannot be obtained without this very important part of their ration.

Do not throw out a lot of salt where the hens can get it, because they will often consume considerable of it, and while a little salt is good, too much of it causes trouble.

If there is not plenty of other shade available, it is a good plan to leave clumps of weeds growing on the range or in the yards. Chicks prefer the shade of bushes and, tall weeds to any other kind.

Do not keep the chicks too long on chick feed. After they are a month or so old they will prefer larger grains and will do better on them. Coarser grains usually are quite a bit lower in cost than chick feed.

It is a good plan to take all windows out of the poultry house and to keep all doors open during warm weather, so that the fowls may be as comfortable as possible, for comfortable fowls ar ethe only ones which make a profit.

THE ENGLISH METHOD.

"It makes me laugh," says a prominent New York financier, "to see how the English fool us. That last 50 million of gold was sent here enroute to Argentina—but it ... the exchange rate up 90 points and they held 70 of the 90.

"Now maybe 200 millions more will come in, but all of it is en route to South America. They are great people, the English.

"New York, the banking centre of the world!—with no real bankers—just a lot of traders. It makes me laugh.

"In five years, England will be back and we will be in second place for good or bad. Same is true of marine situation and world trade. I fear. We have thrown away the chance of many centuries."

THE CELESTIAL SURGEON.

(R. L. Stevenson.)

"If I have faltered more or less
In my great task of happiness;
If all I have moved among my race,
And shown no glorious morning face;
If beams from happy human eyes
Have moved me not; if morning skies
Books, and my food and summer rain
Knocked on my sullen heart in vain:
Lord, Thy most pointed pleasure take
And stab my spirit broad awake;
Or, Lord, if too obdurate I,
Choose Thou, before that spirit die,
A piercing pain, a killing sin,
And in my dead heart run them in!"

SHE OVERLOOKED THAT.

"Gracious! Forty cenes a box for those strawberries? Why, they're such misgrable little, half-ripe things they'd be sure to give one colic."

"But look at de size of de boxes, lady," returned the huckster. "Youse don't get enough o' dem to do youse any harm."

AMAZING STRENGTH OF THE HUMAN FRAME

Some years ago visitors to a well-known London musical hall witnessed a remarkable sight. It was announced that a Pole named Lettl, would perform some amazing feats of strength.

There appeared upon the stage a little man only five feet in height and weighing but ten stone. Not young, either, for he was only three years off forty, says Answers.

The audience rubbed their eyes. Was this the much-advertised strong man? A huge anchor was brought in and four men clung to it. This burden, weighing no less than fifteen hundred pounds, was at once lifted by Lettl, who thus beat the record lift by no less than four hundred pounds.

When His Foot Slipped.

He then stood between two eight horsepower cars, to which he attached himself by means of hooks, which he held in his hands. The cars were started simultaneously, but, by sheer finger-strength, Lettl held them so that they could not move, although the engines were working at full power.

This feat of holding two cars may perhaps be taken as pretty well the limit of human strength. That it is a fearfully risky feat is proved by the horrible accident which recently befell the famous strong man known as Apollon.

When Foot Slipped.

At Vichy, before a large audience, he essayed a similar feat, his arms being harnessed by chains to two cars which were driven in opposite directions. He accomplished the performance safely, and then, in answer to applause, tried it again. To the horror of the spectators, he was seen to lose his balance. Before the motors could be stopped, all the muscles of the right of his chest were torn out. He died almost instantly.

Man is a truly wonderful animal. Although the majority of the human race ruin their strength and constitutions by unwise eating and drinking, by lack of fresh air and by unnecessary exposure to all sorts of infections, yet, even so, man can more than hold his own with the brute creation.

Not, of course, in muscular strength. A tiger with one pat of his paw can reduce a human skull to pulp; a hare can run two yards to a man's one. It is in endurance that man beats the lower races. For a short distance a racehorse can gallop nearly thirty-five miles an hour, but in a five hundred mile race a trained man will easily beat any horse that ever lived.

Marvelous Walker.

A man fifty years old has walked from London to Yarmouth in less than twenty-eight hours. The distance is one hundred and twenty-four and a half miles. It would take a very good horse to equal such a feat. Another man, C. A. Harriman, tramped a distance of over one hundred and twenty-one miles without once resting.

William Priestley, at Hull, in 1803, jumped one thousand hurdles, each three feet six inches high, in sixty-one and a half minutes. That is equal to lifting his own weight nine times the height of St. Paul's, and running six miles into the bargain.

There are many cases on record of professional fasters doing without food for forty days. Some few years ago a French soldier, Corp. Desrats, fell into an old mine shaft near Brest. He lay there, unable to get out, for twenty-eight days, and that without a morsel of food or drink. Yet at the end of that time he was still able to call for assistance, and when got out, could tell his story. With proper care, he completely recovered.

Back to Inferno.

Man can also stand greater extremes of temperature than any other warm-blooded animal. The steamer Sandal, carrying esparto grass from Almeria to Aberdeen caught fire in the Channel. She reached Portland Roads with her whole cargo ablaze. The pilot had just come aboard when the engineer scrambled on deck.

"I have been driven out of the engine room," he gasped. "I can't go back!" and fell in a faint at the captain's feet.

The ship was driving straight on shore. If her helm were turned to sea again, her crew would have to face the spreading flames; if not, she would smash upon the beach.

It was the engineer who solved the problem. Coming to, he volunteered to stop the ship. The ladder was nearly red hot. The temperature in the engine room was anything you please. Yet the engineer passed through that flaming atmosphere and managed to stop the engines just in time. More marvellous still, he came back to the deck alive!

MUSIC IN THE HOME

ABOUT THE COMPOSER OF "SALLY IN OUR ALLEY."

No name in musical history has attached itself more securely to romance than that of Henry Carey. He was born about 1665 and was reputed to have been the natural son of the Marquis of Halifax, George Saville. For many years it was believed that he was the composer of "God Save the King," but this has been dispuuted many times. He did, however during his eccentric career, write numerous operettas and plays. He is best remembered, however, by his song, "Sally In Our Alley," which was not only immensely popular in its day—but was said to have been the great vocal hit in that famous pasticchio "The Beggar Opera." His tale of how he was inspired to write that famous piece is very refreshing when read at this date. "A shoemaker's apprentice making a holiday with his sweetheart, treated her with a sight of Bedlam, the puppet shows, the flying chairs, and all the elegancies of Moorfields; whence proceeding to the Farthing Pie House he gave her a collection of buns, cheese cakes, gammon of bacon, stuffed beef, and bottled ale, through all of which scenes the author dodged them." This it was that inspired a song which has lived for two centuries. Addison was a great admirer of this piece.

RUSSIAN FOLK SONG.

The variety of folk song material in Russia is almost boundless. The immense dimensions of the country make it quite naturally a collection of diverse peoples—many of them totally and absolutely different from people in other parts of the land. They have diverse languages and different folk songs. The present music of the Caucasus and the Crimea, for example, are hardly Russian at all. They are Oriental. Bordine recognized this, and he used them in some of his works with Oriental settings with wonderful effect.

Probably the best known and most used folk songs are those of Middle Russia, the region of the Volga. Although Russia has a territory of eight million square miles not all of this is distinctively Slavic. The reason for this is that in times past the country has been overrun by many different races—Goths, Huns, Avars, Bulgarians, Magyars, and Khazars—all leaving their impression in a way, but never wholly eradicating the strong Slavonic mold which marks the Russia of to-day, and is so characteristic of the significant music of the great Russian masters.

ROME'S FAMOUS CHOIRS

In the Sistine Chapel at Rome no musical instruments are permitted. The singing is purely vocal "a capella." Since the earliest times this choir has been the model for those and of other choirs throughout the world and it has been the ambition to have its character and quality unsurpassed.

In addition to this choir that of St. John Lateran is also renowned. This church was according to tradition, started in the fourth century by Constantine himself. It was known as the "mother church of the world." For nearly twelve centuries its choir was known as the leading choir.

The choir of St. Peter's was founded by Gregory the Great. For a time it served as a preparatory school for the choir of St. John Lateran. Many of the most famous musicians of Italy—Palestrina, Nanino, Anerio, Giovannelli and others—were identified with this choir. For Palestrina it was a stepping stone to the Sistine choir. The wonderful choir of St. Peter's sings to an immense congregation in that building covering 18,000 square yards—four times as large as the largest church in Canada.

PROGRESS OF MUSICAL MECHANICS

Due to the advancement of musical mechanics, music has been popularized on the one hand, and a premium has been placed on artistic performances on the other. The progress in the talking machine in the past few years ranks with that of the moving pictures, and it is still growing by leaps and bounds.

The war rediscovered music and has placed it on a practical basis. It has demonstrated that music had a definite place and nature that after all it is a commodity as necessary as food or clothing. So much has the idea taken hold that the newspapers a few days ago had an advertisement urging the installation of pipe organs in private homes.

While all of us cannot have pipe organs in our homes, we can and should have some musical instrument or instruments.

TASK OF RESTORING YPRES IS UNDER WAY

The Government of Belgium has decided to rebuild the entire city of Ypres, leaving none of the ruins caused by the war except the Cloth Hall, the Cathedral, and the Cloister, which are to serve as monuments.

There has been a popular demand that the two ruined cities of Ypres and Dixmude be left as they are, as a monument to those who lost their lives in the neighborhood, but this was opposed by the former population of the area who desire to have their property restored. This has been particularly true of Ypres, which before the war had 18,000 inhabitants, who are returning in some numbers and starting to rebuild.

The Royal Commissioner, recently appointed for the reconstruction of the Ypres arrondissement, outlines the Government program as follows: It will be necessary to clear and excavate the city and the principal surrounding villages, to build about 20,000 houses, and to restore the roads, the water and gas installations. The contract for this work has already been let and the work begun. The building material obtained from the ruins will be resold to the Government by the contractors and will be used in the foundations of the new city. Bricks, for example, will be bought by the Government at the fixed price of 30 francs a thousand.

Only the most necessary buildings are to be constructed and schools, churches and stores are to be left to the last. All building is done by the Government and the owner of the property is required to pay nothing. If the owner however, wishes any particular plan followed this can be done provided he is willing to bear any extra expense entailed otherwise the plans for the buildings will be drawn up by a committee of architects. There are nineteen architects at present assigned to the arrondissement. Where the owner of a piece of land is known to have died without heirs the ownership reverts to the Government which will then dispose of it at auction or otherwise, but for the present no construction is to be done on any piece of land whose owner is not accounted ...

The question of ... [illegible] ... total purposes. Restoration of the land to its pre-war fertility and value is the work of several years and its ultimate cost cannot be estimated.

In order that the owners may return to their farms and begin the work, the Government estimates that these preliminary expenditures will be necessary, even to only the most indispensable buildings, are put at: Partial reconstruction of buildings, 6,000,000,000 francs; roads and topographical improvements, 24,000,000; water courses and canals, 4,000,000; houses for farm hands, 24,000,000; horses and cattle, 144,000,000; relief funds, 25,000,000, and farm equipment, 18,000,000, making a total of 930,000,000 francs.

These figures make no allowance for the construction of village stores, blacksmith shops and other necessary buildings. When these are included and incidental expenses are added, the total figure will easily exceed 1,000,000,000 francs, says the report, and even then the work will only have begun.

G.W.V.A. LEAGUE CHAMPIONS; C.G.E. DECIDED TO PLAY GAME

C.G.E. ELEVENTH HOUR TEAM—GRIFFINE'S GREAT SAVE—M'DONALD'S GOOD DEFENCE—RYAN'S TWO PENTLTIES MADE VETS TWO GOALS AHEAD AT HALF TIME—PARKIN'S BEAUTIFUL GOAL—SHARMAN MADE IT THREE—C.G.E. LAST MINUTE REVIVAL—

G.W.V.A. 3, C.G.E. 1.

Over one hundred spectators witnessed the League championship game at the Exhibtion grounds between the C.G.E. and G.W.V.A. The C.G.E. executive decided not to play, but at one o'clock Saturday afternoon they started to collect old registered players of the C.G.E. and were fortunate in getting the last man at 6 o'clock. The G.W.V.A. decided to stick to the original team and reported at 6.15 p.m. all well, with the exception of Curtis.

Wilfrid Jones worked hard all afternoon fixing the ground and goal posts. He put the nets up just before the game started. Another pole was put up on the playing pitch.

The official referee tossed the coin for the Vets captain to keep up his reputation by losing and he lined up the teams as follows:

The Teams.

C.G.E.—J. Naples, goal; R. Leach and J. McDonald, backs; H. Flanders, H. Turner and J. Mann, half-backs; A. Gash, C. Hotston, A. Parkins, Ted Bartley and Ted Hotston, forwards.

G.W.V.A. — C. Griffine, goal; H. Gamble and A. Bishop, backs; H. Burrows, P. D. Ryan and J. Peel, half-backs; S. Curtiss, T. Monks, H. Norman, A. Edwards and J. Sharman, forwards.

The Game.

Norman set the ball in motion and in the opening exchanges the play was even until the Vets raided the C. G.E. goal for Turner to kick a touch to save his goal. From the throw-in Parkins made a desperate rush up the field, but Bishop stopped him in the nick of time. A solo run by Ted Hotston left Burrows behind and from the corner flag the C.G.E. man lashed a nice cross to Parkins, who headed just over the bar. A few minutes afterwards Gamble misjudged his kick and let the C. G. E. forwards into goal, but in the melee Bishop punted down to Ryan who shot past at the other end.

Griffine's Great Save.

On mid-field play a foul against Ryan gave the Vets no end of trouble from the rocket shot taken by McDonald. The Vets' goal-keeper jumped into the corner of the goal with arms at full length to save, Bishop cleared, then "Wag" put over. Gamble shot the ball to Curtis, who beat Mann and just as he was making for goal was called up for being offside when on-side. On the other wing Sharman got a corner of Mann, but it was fruitless. A foul agains tthe Vets was cornered by Bishop and Gash receiving the ball along with Hotson played havoc with Vets defence until Gash got pulled up for offside. The C. G.E. pressed continually the Vets defence and in his anxiety to clear Gamble fouled Parkins. Turner took the foul kick that went harmlessly past.

McDonald's Great Defence.

Time and again Sharman would tear down the wing that produced excellent tactics between him and McDonald with the C.GE. man holding slight advantage for nice clearance work. A foul against Gamble was shot past by McDonald. Norman broke through the C.G.E. defence and just as he was going to shoot Flanders blocked him. McDonald cleared up the field for Parkins to be checked in same fashion by Peel when the Vets defence was beat. Burrows caught on and let drive for goal. Sharman ran in to get the rebound but just at the critical moment let the ball go past. The C.G.E. made raid after raid on the Vets' defence and they stood up to the gruelling time, but the same play was repeated at the other end.

Ryan Scored From Two Penalties.

Peel passed over to Norman who in turn lashed it out to Curtis and Monks to work right down into the C.G.E. area. The Vets' outside right lifted the ball across to Norman who touched it forward. McDonald made an attempt to stop it with his chest but it struck his arm for a penalty. Ryan's low ground shot never gave Naples a chance. Both goal-keepers were visited in rotation with Gash giving Griffine a lot to clear. On a raid by Norman on C.G.E. goal Leach upset the Vets' centre forward in the dreaded area for another penalty. Gamble again called upon Ryan to take the kick. He walked slowly forward to repeat the same performance, although Naples touched the ball in transit. The C.G.E. team was completely re-arranged after such a reverse and went right to it up till half-time with the Vets two goals to the good.

Half Time.

After five minutes' interval the game resumed with the Vets making a desperate raid on C.G.E. citadel, but McDonald cleared to Parkins, who lashed it across to the right wing and Gash in a nice position just missed the mark by a few inches. From the goal kick Curtis outwitted three C.G.E. men, and running into goal he was fooled by "Wag" touching the ball out of his reach. The defence man put forward to Turner who put across to Gash that resulted in Griffine saving a beautiful try from the foot of the outside right. Play was transferred to the other end by Norman who tested Naples. A foul against Curtis brought relief to C. G .E. McDonald punted down the field to Bishop who replied in same manner to Norman, who dribbled past three players to go right through, but Mann came right across to concede a corner. Sharman shot across the goal mouth for the ball to go another corner. Curtis put another into goal for Turner to clear.

Parkins' Beautiful Goal.

"Ted" Bartley and "Ted" Hotston run the play to the other end where the C.G.E. left winger was given ample time to centre to Parkins, who headed through in quick fashion. Encouraged by their success, the C.G.E. came right back again, but Gamble was the hero of the game in saving his goal repeatedly when all seemed lost. Nice combination by Curtis and Monks ended with the outside right putting across to Sharman. He sent a rocket shot against Naples, who saved a sure goal. For the next 15 minutes the C.G.E. was playing the better game and the Vets taking it easy, with the exception of the Vets' defence who held the fast going C.G. E. team in check This did not satisfy the Vets' captain for he started to shout at his team mates, "Come on the Reds."

Sharman's Individual Goal.

They rallied to the command and went down in a body. The ball went from wing to wing until Sharman beat "Wag" as he was turning to check him and the left winger running at full speed gave Naples no chance with the shot that landed in below the cross bar into the net. The Vets' right wing went right back again and Monks working his way into goal passed to Norman and with only Naples to beat shot past the upright. From the goal kick Parkins and Gash travelled down upon the Vets goal that awarded them a fruitless corner. Play went from end to end with Edwards and Gash giving the respective gaol-keepers shots to handle.

Gamble Played Well.

The G.C.E. team, noted for their last minute revivals, went wholesale into the game and played havoc with the Vets' defence. Bishop and Gamble both demonstrated their ability as full backs. The left back would fall back into goal and leave the Vets' captain to stop the rushes of the C.G. E. forwards and always came out on top. With only seven minutes to go the C.G.E. fell away and Naples was called upon to save from Edwards and Norman. A few minutes later Norman beat the C.G.E. defence and running into goal Edwards touched the ball for offside. The whole forward line went down and Curtis, passing to Monks, carried the ball over to Sharman who made a be line for Naples, but was checked by Hotston and immediately thereafter the final whistle blew. Final; G.W.V.A. 3, C.G. E. 1.

On Tuesday of last week the Exhibition Board placed a pole right in the centre of the playing pitch that necessitated the Football Association engaging men to re-arrange the playing field across the other way. Then on Saturday they placed another pole on the new field and the football fans owe Wilfrid Jones a great amount of credit for spending the afternoon moving the gaol posts over 5 yards so as to play the game on Saturday evening.

"Play the game," and Joe Parkins, along with J. Clark, spent from one o'clock until 6 o'clock hunting up the legitimate players left.

"I was instructed by the executive to concede the championship, but I am glad the game was played and wish the Vets every success," said C.G.E. secretary, J. Clark.

The Association should compel the club to use goal nets, because they are essential for a football game. The spectators as well as the referee could notice at once when a goal was scored.

Parkins, a centre forward, made an excellent debut and is a better forward than a half-back. He got C.G.E.'s only goal by heading into the net from a pass by Ted Hotston.

A. Manders left on the early morning train Saturday for Hamilton, and his absence was felt on the right wing, although Gash and Hotston played well.

A raid on C. G.E. goal by Edwards and Sharman resulted in only accident of the game. Arthur Edwards got kicked on the jaw-bone from Leach and sounded like a shot from a gun.

Both goal-keepers gave an excellent account of themselves. Bishop and Gamble the better full backs, with McDonald playing a great game. At half back both teams were off their usual. Sharman carried the honours in the forward line and all played well.

PAYS TO MOVE AROUND.

Shifting Places Has Made Money for Pitcher Slim Sallee.

CINCINNATI, July 9.—"It pays to move around," mused Slim Sallee. "Nine years ago I was at St. Louis and never got a look-in at any extra money except in a series between the Cardinals and Browns. Came to be regarded as one of the fixtures of the ball park; when the painters came along each spring they always gave me a coat and stood me against the fence to dry. Then I went to New York; got into a world series, but was one of the losers. Migrated to Cincinnati, and in one season I landed the best record of my career and the big money. Yes, it pays to move occasionally! Don't know how many years this old soup bone is good for, but I'm all fixed, anyhow—my new house is right back of the old's man's home."

ANOTHER QUILL DRIES UP.

Another weekly newspaper has given up the ghost. This time it is The Florence Quill, published at the pretty little village of Florence in Lambton county. Editor Jerome conlcudes his valedictory as follows: As stated above the Quill will pass away. The funeral will be private, and will be conducted by the owner at five o'clock in the morning. Flowers are not requested, and unquestionably tears will not be shed, excepting for joy; may the great Master Mind of the universe have mercy on its decrepit remains.—Bowmanville Statesman.

THISTLES AND C.G.E. ARE THE CITY LEAGUE WINNERS

NEITHER TEAM HAD TO EXTEND THEMSELVES TO EARN THE DECISION IN SATURDAY'S DOUBLE-HEADER—THISTLES WELL IN FRONT IN SECOND SECTION OF THE RACE.

Thistles	3	1	.750
C. G. E.	1	1	.500
Veterans	1	2	.333
Woollens	1	2	.333

Saturday's games in the City League series were not nearly as interesting as the previous week's double header, the Thistles and Canadian General teams proving easy winners. The Thistles won from Canadian Woollens by 7 to 1 in the first session while the Electricians with about their strongest team of the season out had little trouble in beating the War Veterans by 10 to 2 in the second fixture.

The first game was not a bad exhibition of ball until the fourth innings when the Yeotes crew put four runs over and took all the interest out of the game. Kirn pitched sterling ball for the winners allowing only four singles, two of them scratchy and not giving a base on ball. He should have had the first shut out of the season to his credit had it not been for two errors by Shaughnessy in the seventh innings that gave the Woollens their only run.

The usually heavy hitting Thistles did not fatten their averages very much off the offerings of Heenan and Smith, who pitched for the Woollens. Heenan allowed them only three hits in the four innings he worked and Smith who pitched the last three only yielded a two at safeties and these all came in the last innings after the side should have been retired. Heenan's wildness and costly errors by the Woollens were taken full advantage of by the winners.

The fielding feature was Bill Shaw's fine catch of Shaughnessy's long smash in the sixth. The veteran outfielder had to make a long sprint to spear the drive.

The Thistles got a cheap run in the first after Adams had grounded out. Lowe walked but was out stealing over sliding the bag. Murray drew a pass, stole second and came home on Bergoine's wild heave to third.

There was no further scoring until the fourth when the Thistles got a quartette of counters. Harrison walked and stole to start with and on Coursey's single to centre. Shaughnessy's double to left. Smith's miss of Holyman's fly, a fielder's choice on Kirn and a bad toss to third by Bergoine, four runs were registered.

In the seventh with two out the winners added two more. Swanston got a life when Legros missed Lawrence's throw. Harrison Coursey and Shaughnessy singled in succession to drive a pair of tallies across.

The Woollens got their only counter in the seventh on Shaughnessy's miss of Shaw's roller, Shaw's theft of third and a second miss by Shaughnessy of a grass cutter.

The Second Game.

The result of the second game was never in doubt the Canadian General crew scoring five runs in the first innings on doubles by Cherrett and Corrin, a triple, by Ross and three costly errors. After that it was only a question of what the final score would be, the Electricians getting five more runs before the finish while the Vets escaped a shut out by sending a pair of counters over in the sixth.

Frost pitched one of his best games of the season for the winners, allowing only six hits and striking out ten men. He was given almost perfect support, the only misplay on the part of the C.G.E. being a low throw by Cherrett after a nice one handed pick up of Field's hand hit grounder.

Foley who did the heaving for the C.G.E. deserved a smaller score against him, his teammates' errors being costly.

At that the Vets were responsible for the best fielding stunts of the game. Wade's grab of McCarney's foul fly which the first baseman grabbed on the run with one hand, after just missing a pop foul from the same batsman was a feature and so was "Red" Legon's capture of a hard drive from Ray Rose's bat in the sixth. The smash looked good for a triple but Legon sprinted far out and timing the drive perfectly gathered it in great style. There is no better fielder in the city than this fleet footed youngster.

The Electricians put the game on ice in the first innings. Cherrett opened with a doulbe to left and went to third on a wild pitch. McCarney punted down the third base line and when Jackson threw badly to first the batter went to second, Cherrett scoring. Corrin's double to centre scored McCarney. Ross tripled to right field sending Corrin in. Murphy's miss of Ray Rose's grounder scored Ross. Lornie Rose grounded to Murphy. Jackson hit one at Henry who let it roll through Ray Rose crossing the plate Bartley fanned and Forst flied to Anderson.

In the fourth the winners added another when Cherrett beat out a bunt and went to second on a balk. McCarney was hit. After a theft of third Cherrett scored on Ross' long sacrifice fly to Legon after Corrin had fanned. Ray Rose was the third out, missing three.

The sixth saw another pair of C.G.E. counters registered. With one down Jackson doubled down the third base line. Bartley flied to Legon. Jackson stole third and came home on Field's bad throw on Frost's grounder, the batter reaching second Cherrett's single to right sent Frost in.

Another pair of runs clattered in in the sixth. Corrin singled to left to start with and Ross hit through short for a base. Legon's great catch of Ray Rose's drive saved the situation for a moment. Field tossed out Lorne Rose, the base runner advancing. Jackson's single between short and third scored the pair.

The Vets only counters were scored in the sixth. Field was safe on Cherrett's low throw to first after a fine stop. Henry singled through box Wade hoisted to Lornie Rose. Field scored on a passed ball and Campbell's single sent Henry across. Campbell died stealing and Anderson fanned.

CARTER DEHAVEN PLAYS SHIRT MODEL IN COMEDY

A new use for husbands has been discovered by Mrs. Carter De Haven in her role of Ruth, in "Close to Nature," the latest Capitol Comedy in which William Parsons presents Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven at the Allen Theatre. The picture will be distributed by Goldwyn.

Strange as it may seem, the incident disclosed on the screen suggests that Mrs. De Haven has used it more than once in real life.

In the story of "Close to Nature," the picture opens with a bust view of Carter De Haven reading ads of summer hotels in the mountains. Gradually, his face begins to twitch with pain, and the camera is gradually lowered to reveal the comedian standing on a table, newspaper in hand, and draped with a skirt in the making. With a mouthful of pins, Mrs. De Haven is busily at work trying her latest frock on her husband, and pinning in the necessary alterations. Her interest has made her forget that her model is made of flesh and not of sawdust; and when the pins go too deeply, hubby rebels.

This is the introduction to the information that Ruth (Mrs. De Haven) is preparing for a summer at the seashore, despite the fact that Jack insists on getting close to nature up in the mountains. With the pinning incident, Jack openly balks and the young couple settle the matter then and there. Jack wins the day; they abandon the trip to the shore and leave for the hills. But after a number of summer tragedies, told in a series of comic episodes, Jack agrees that the seashore is about as close to nature as he can get.

MEMBER OF EAST PETERBORO DENIES HE INTENDED TO GIVE $25 TO U.F.O. BALL LEAGUE

PRESIDENT OF THE EAST PETERBORO BASEBALL LEAGUE WAS THE EXAMINER'S AUTHORITY FOR THE ANNOUNCEMENT.

Mr. E. N. McDonald, M.P.P., East Peterboro, has taken exception to an item in the Examiner, which stated that he had offered to donate a trophy valued at 25.00 to the winner of the Douro-Norwood game at Norwood on Tuesday, July 6th, and writes in part as follows:

"I had intended to help the league in a small way, yet I did not intend to give a $25.00 trophy, and whoever was the author of the report should acknowledge the falsehood."

The Examiner's authority for the statement complained of, was the president of the East Peterboro Baseball League, who made the announcement at a meeting held at the Windsor Hotel, when four or five clubs of the league were represented. Mr. McDonald's letter follows:

Warsaw, July 10, 1920.

The Examiner, Peterboro:

Referring to your letter of the 7th inst., re trophy for the East Peterboro Baseball League, I beg to say that I knew nothing whatever of this until it was reported through your paper ,and while I had intended to help the League in a small way yet I did not intend to give a $25 trophy; and whoever was the author of the report should acknowledge the falsehood.

Trusting that you will report this, as you so kindly offered, and that the other papers will make the correction.

I am,—Yours truly,

E. N. McDonald.

MAY BE OVERSWEETENED.

One of the Dangers with Which Prohibition Threatens Us.

Do we run the risk of being oversweetened because of prohibition? Not our dispositions, surely; but our physical selves—our chemical selves, if you prefer. Are they to become hypersaccharine because we are forced to replace the pleasant bitterness of beer and the gentle acidity of table claret by drinks whose flavors need to be supplemented by sugar to render them attractive?

Statistics show us that the world's sweet tooth has been growing steadily sweeter from antiquity forward, and there are many physicians who maintain that some of the diseases that have grown with our civilization are perhaps attributable to our inordinate love of sugar. Sugar, of course, is recognized as one of the most powerful and valuable of foods, and under stress will give man energy and endurance beyond almost any other ailment; but the very fact that it is so intense in its action may render it dangerous when taken in too great quantities by persons who do not follow occupations demanding violent exercise, and causing tissue depletion.

Already in the days before July 1, it seemed probable that we were putting into our system as much saccharine as was well for us, but now every spasm of thirst that assails one is responded to by more sugar, by sugar and water colored and flavored with various extracts that seem unable to stand by their own attractiveness and must lean for support on the crystalline content of the sugar cane or the beet root.

The question, then, is just how much of this supersaccharinity we can stand, and whether it will not end in a revulsion of feeling or taste that will make us dislike even the thought of sugar.

Drinking sugar is, we believe, a mode modern dissipation than eating the sweet substance, for though mead is one of the most ancient of drinks, it must not be concluded that the beverage beloved of Attila and the Nicholungs was the kind that has made New Orleans famous. That drink was, in fact, a distinctly anti-prohibition fluid with a furious kick that would resent the imputation that it was soft. A little sweetened water was partaken of, in medieval times, by the demure wives and daughters of deep-drinking barons and knights, but the lollypop was still unknown, and ice cream converted into a sundae by having poured over it liquid sugar, was yet undreamed of.

At present America undoubtedly loves such sweets, and the taste is by no means confined to the young, but are we mistaken or is there to be observed an anti-sugar revolt right there in the camp of youth. Do we not meet many children nowadays who are untempted by the plainer, sweeter varieties of candy, and who demand new flavors to whip their young but jaded appetite? Are these little ones not suffering from a touch of hereditary oversweetening, and will this condition not augment in the future as "pa" pursues the soft drink which "ma" had previously acquired? —New Orleans Times-Picayune.

HIS CHIEF JOY.

He was a typical street gamin, and he was so diminutive in stature that I had to stoop to interrogate him. Having done so, I began the following conversation:

"Where do you get your papers, my little man?"

"Oh, I buy 'em in the Times alley."

"What do you pay for them?"

"Fi' cents."

"You don't make anything at that?"

"Nope."

"Then what do you sell them for?"

"Oh, just to get a chance to holler."

A CHANCE TO PAY FOR HIS BOARD

An exchange calls attention to salaries in the Cobalt district, where a miner gets $135 a month and board, a school teacher $85 a month and a minister $75. The last two have also the privelege of paying for their board.

OBITUARY

EDWARD TAYLOR.

The death occurred suddenly on Friday night, at the Ramma Reserve, of Edward Taylor, aged 45.

The deceased is survived by his father, three brothers — William, Charles, and Thomas, all of Curve Lake—and five sisters, Mrs. Coppaway, Mrs. McCue, Mrs. Johnston, and Mrs. Front, of Curve Lake, and Mrs. Simcoe, of the Ramma Reserve.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, S. Fawn officiating.

The service was conducted almost entirely in the Indian language.

THOMAS POWERS.

One of the oldest and most respected residents of the city passed away in the person of Thomas Powers, on Sunday July eleventh, after an illness of three months, aged eighty-nine years. The deceased was born in South Monaghan, where he lived many years an industrious farmer, later moving to Otonabee. He resided there until twenty years ago he moved to his late residence, 236 Carlisle avenue, East City. His wife predeceased him a number of years, leaving a large family, to which he proved a kind and loving father.

He leaves to mourn his loss seven daughters and two sons, also one brother, Pierce of Rochester, and two sisters, Mrs. Collins of Rochester, N.Y. and Mrs. McGough, of Lindsay.

The funeral will leave his late residence at 8.30 a.m. on Tuesday, July 13th. The funeral mass will be sung at the Immaculate Conception church at nine o'clock. Interment will take place at St. Peter's cemetery.

BIG BUSINESS BY BOTNIK BROS.

SUCCESSFUL OPENING OF THE MID-SUMMER SALE ON SATURDAY.

Not necessary now to ask does advertising pay? Asked if their Mid-Summer Sale which started Saturday was a success, Messrs. Botnick Bros. were emphatic in stating that it was a record-breaking success. Sales exceeded all their highest expectations. Th volume of sales were made of enthusiastic buying in all lines of their goods. The printed list of bargain prices attracted buyers from country and city and the bargains given were in every case as advertised. Their place of business is at 432 George street.

Botnick Bros are persistent advertisers and have been building up a permanent trade by their close buying and close selling.

DIES MADE IN PARTS TO DEFY DETECTION

WINDSOR, July 12.— An ingenious method of evading discovery was used by Harold Arnold, 179 Shelby street, Detroit, involved in the big seizure of 10,000 quarts of poisonous liquor, which was to have been masqueraded as Walker's Imperial whiskey, made at Walkerville, Ont.

Arnold, who has been termed by federal officials as the "brains" of the organization of three, broken up by secret service men, had the plates for the trade-marked "Imperial" label and the Canadian Government inland revenue stamps, made in section at different engraving plants and later assembled. In this manner he eluded detection.

The bond-labels and revenue stamps were almost perfect counterfeits. Joseph A. Palma, chief of the Detroit Secret Service Bureau, declared, so cleverly had the various plates been pieced together.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULTING CHILD OF FOUR YEARS.

ST. CATHARINES, July 12.—That he did on 8th July assault Florence Troup, a child of four years, causing actual bodily harm was the charge that a citizen faced in the Police Court on Saturday morning.

E. H. Lancaster, for the prisoner, secured a remand until to-day.

The charge was laid by R. E. Boyle, agent for the Children's Aid Society, acting on information given by neighbours that the child had been on various occasions severely beaten.

When the High Constable and Chief Greene went to the house on Maple Street they discovered the child in a dark cellar, where it was said she had been put for punishment.

The little one was taken to a local doctor, who found her body black and blue in various places, and one eye was blackened.

The child's mother died over a year ago, and when the father went to Scotland on a visit, she was left at defendant's home to be cared for.

IGNORED REGULATIONS.

WINDSOR, July 12.—Three women and two men, whose names are being withheld by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, have been released after posting a bond of $400.00 to secure their freedom from custody after being held eighteen hours.

They were arrested landing on the Canadian shore of the Detroit River from a 30-foot launch, the property of one of the occupants, a wealthy and prominent Detroiter, summering on the Canadian side. The party had failed to report their arrival to the customs officials in accordance with the regulations.

LEFT $2,000 TO COLLEGE.

Miss Mary Macpherson of Cornwall, Was Philanthropic.

A bequest of $2,000 to Queen's Theological College, Kingston, has been made by the late Miss Mary Macpherson of Cornwall. The announcement has just been made by the executors of the estate, Messrs. William D. Macpherson and Colin Macpherson, of Bainsville, Ont., and Colin Macpherson, of this city.

The amount of $14,634.56 was left to the executors to use for such religious, philanthropic and charitable purposes as they might deem best. In connection with the gift to Queen's Theological College, the $2,000 is to found a bursary for the benefit of any boy from the county of Glengarry wishing to enter the ministry who may be selected by the faculty for the enjoyment of the proceeds of the bursary.

The gift has been accepted by the officials of the Theological College, who expressed the hope that pupils will be forthcoming from the county of Glengarry to take advantage of this gift.

DRUM BEATS

Peterborough missed an advertising opportunity when it failed to take the census to-day.

Meal tents and soft drink booths sprang up like mushrooms over night and the ringing of dinner bells sounded like a railway yard.

Anyone who had a silk hat or a cane to spare was sure of a revenue to-day.

The hotels did a business reminding of the days before 1916.

Extra duty was the order of the day for the police fore.

The heavy traffic put "joy walking" in the same class class with Stevens' trip over Niagara Falls yesterday.

Hurrell Dodds, Edward File, W. J. Hancock and the other marshals covered a lot of gorund in their trips between Central Park and the railway stations.

Somebody remarked this morning that George street was getting more like Broadway every day. All that was needed was some one to pass the word along to keep moving.

The market square overflowed as a parking place and some of the baby carriages had to be parked on the street corners.

The threatening skies and the gay Orange colours made a colour scheme which did not blend very well.

At 11 o'clock no drum heads had been broken, but there was still hope.

Music by everything, from fife and drum to pipe bands, kept business in George street stores at the doors.

HEAVY MOTOR TRAFFIC.

Eighty-two out-of-town motor cars are parked on the Market Square this morning, while Simcoe Street, Water Street, from Charlotte to Brock Streets, and all roads flanking Central and Victoria Parks, are black with parked motor vehicles from districts for many miles around Peterborough.

Tickets for the Exhibition Grounds were on sale at the corner of Charlotte were on sale at the corner of Charlotte and George streets, Hunter and George and at Central Park.

Grand Marshall H. Dodds had charge of the lodges as they left the trains and escorted them to Central Park. He was assisted by W. J. Hancock, J. Spence, Robert Wilson, W. G. Morrow, H. Stintson.

Peterboro lodges were out en force to welcome the visitors at the stations and play them to the Park, where they dispersed after being shown their allotted assembling place for the parade. The banners and drums were deposited in the Armoursie and the walls were soon lined with the gay silk cords and tassels. Drums mostly of antique vintage, were a reminder of days gone by when they resounded and reverbrated to the untiring efforts of the drummer, just as they do to-day. While not as glorious in appearance perhaps as then they are no less capable of producing an astourding volume of sound.

Some of the bands are worthy of special mention. Bethany had a good brass band of 25 pieces, Newtonville one of 20. Lindsay's 30 piece white coated fife band produced music far beyond the scale or canacity of the regular three piece outfit. The Port Hope and Cobourg bands were in good form.

McCormack Pipe Band L.O.L. 2142 was the first pipe band to arrive and the bagpipes and kilts attracted much attention and no little praise. Canton boasts of a brass band of 25 pieces.

Theer are enough plug hats in the city to-day to establish a Tower of Babel. Some have seen better days, and bear the unmistakable marks of having been passed down through more than one generation. Various old high hats dating back to the "Forties" and Fifties" were in evidence, and created no little amusement to the onlookers but the wearers might have worn a halo to see the temporary glory and prestige arising from the "plug."

There were silk ribons enough to encircle the city.

No less than six booths are located in Central Park in front of the Y.M.C.A., and near it is the booth of the ladies' auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A., in charge of Mrs. W. R. Breyfogle, and farther down in front of the Baptist church Douglas Loomis' Sunday School class of that church are running a stand.

The traffic cops have had a busy time to-day for cars and vehicles of all kinds have poured into Peterboro from the surorunding district.

Vendors are busy selling ribbons, pins, canes and buttons and the business in these is as flourishing as in the balmy days before the war.

The first report of a broken drum came from Bailieboro Lodge who smashed in the head of the big fellow with his first enthusiastic plump this morning before they left the village, but the damage was repaired and they are in the parade to-day with the drum doing duty as well as ever.

FIVE ACRE PLOTS FOR REFORESTATION

A suggestion in regard to reforestation that came up at the June meeting of Hastings County Council is worthy of being passed on. It was suggested that five acre plots in each township be set out to trees by way of experiment, planting them with pine and maple principally. A still better suggestion is for every farm to have a reforsestation plant of its own, by raising young trees to take the place of hose cu off. Both are good ways of building for the future.

FINED HUNDRED DOLLARS FOR DYNAMITING FISH.

ST. THOMAS, July 12. — Roy Parker of Norfolk county has been fined $100 by the County Magistrate, for violation of the fisheries act by killing fish with explosives in Big Otter Creek, near Port Burwell. Dynamite was used. W. C. Underwood and John Underwood, who were assisting Parker, were discharged.

RE-OPENING of the Donoghue Store Wednesday, July 14th

I have decided to put in a clean stock of General Groceries to meet the general wants in this section of the city. I have run a general store and post office at South Dummer for more than sixteen years which gives me a fair idea of the trade. I will extend a welcome to the farmers' trade as well as the city's. I will sell for cash at the lowest possible margin. You have the money; I will have the goods. Don't disappoint me.

WAR VETERANS CALL UPON TORONTO AND YORK REPRESENTATIVES TO OTTAWA TO FOLLOW EXAMPLE OF J. H. BURNHAM.

(Special to Examiner.)

TORONTO, July 13.—The Grand Army of United Veterans, in a letter addressed to the Toronto and South and West York members of the Dominion Parliament, asks them to resign their seats, following the example of J. H. Burnham of West Peterborough. Secretary Fred Marsh sent the letters out yesterday.

They were addressed to Edmund Bristol, M.P.; Sir Edward Kemp, M. P.; Sir George Foster, M.P.; Dr. Charles Sheard, M.P.; H. C. Hocken, M.P., H. M. Mowat, M.P.; W. F. Maclean, M.P., and Captain Thomas Wallace, M.P.

The official letter follows: "Speaking in Sarnia, Hon. Frank Carvell made the statement that "this Government is formed for a definite purpose and for a definite period. This is a war Government.' " According to press reports Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. J. A. Calder also stated that the two parties had united for the duration of the war only. There is now, therefore, no futher mandate from the people for the Federal Government to remain in office. This fact has been fully appreciated by J. H. Burnham, M. P. for West Peterborough, who resigned from the House on Thursday last.

"Again, sir, at a mass meeting of veterans and citizens at Queen's Park it was unanimously decided to request the local memoers to withdraw their support from the Government.

"We are therefore requesting that you have the courage of your convictions and follow the precedent set by J. H. Burnham, and resign your office."

BOTH LEGS CUT OFF AT SHARBOT LAKE

Slipping under the wheels as he left C.P.R. passenger train No. 24 at Sharbot Lake on Friday evening, section foreman Allan had both legs cut off below the knees.

The unfortunate man was rushed to the hospital but he died in four hours from the terrible shock.

Mr. Allan being so well known in Havelock the community in general send s their sympathy to his bereaved family.

SHEESLEY SHOWS LOST A LION.

The Animal died after an illness of Nearly three Weeks.

Twenty days ago it was operated on at Chatham by a prominent surgeon there for a tumor, and while the operation itself was successful it contracted pneumonia through its weakened condition due to the loss of blood.

Everything possible was done for the valuable beast but all human efforts were in vain, and its breathed its last at seven o'clock last night. Its tamer, Capt. Hu'tbrumger, who has been with the show for two years, feels the loss as keenly as if he had lost a pal, but would not display his grief outwardly. "It was the best of the bunch," he said simply.

The lion was nine years old and had been with the show seven years. It weighed 650 lbs., and was valued at from $1200 to $1500.

The beautiful coat of the animal was taken off at once but whether it will be mounted or not the management have not determined.

SALVATION ARMY SUNDAY SCHOOL TRIP

On Monday next the Salvation Army are taking their Sunday school for a boat trip on the steamer Stoney Lake to South Beach. All their school children and any other children who come will be welcome as well as their parents. The boat will leave sharp at 8 o'clock.

WILL BUY WINTE'S SUPPLY OF FUEL

The Salvation Army yesterday met with great success in serving meals to the visitors, and the proceeds were gratifying to the Army for with it the winter's supply of coal will be purchased. Mrs. Lang and Mrs. Hedge were in charge and much of the success of the venture should go to them.

GERMANS REPLY TO ALLIES DELAYED UNTIL WEDNESDAY

DISCUSSION OVER QUESTION OF COAL DELIVERIES—ALLIES SEEK ARMISTICE FOR THE POLES.

(Canadian Press.)

SPA, July 13. — Allied premiers have decided not to insist upon the Germans replying to the Allied ultimatum regarding coal deliveries at three p.m. to-day. The Germans will be permitted to defer their reply until to-morrow. Experts on both sides are spending the day, re-examining the situation.

Russian Soviet government has not replied up to this afternoon to the request of the Allies that an armistice be arranged with Poland. The message was sent by wireless to the Soviet authorities through the British government, because of relations existing between Lloyd George and Leonid Krassin, Bolshevik Minister of Trade and Commerce.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, July 13.—It as been decided, says a Havas despatch from Spa, to appoint a mixed commission to make a report on German reparations plan. According to the report, Germany will offer to pay fifty billion francs in fifty annual instalments, twenty billion of which will be for reconstruction in the devastated regions and which will be payable in building materials and merchandise.

ORANGE DEMONSTRATION CAME TO A SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION LAST NIGHT

VISITING ORANGEMEN DELIGHTED WITH THE RECEPTION PROVIDED—THE SPEECHES AT THE EXHIBITION PARK.

Over 80 Loyal Orange lodges marched to the Exhibition Grounds in the Orange walk yesterday afternoon. The parade was one hour and 30 minutes in passing the corner of Prince and Aylmer streets, including the ten minutes lost through the breaking of the ranks by the heavy shower of rain. The walk was the largest ever seen in Peterboro and was an impressive sight.

The shower, which arose about 2.55 o'clock, caused a stampede on the part of several lodges who sought shelter on near-by verandas and under trees. A delay of about 8 minutes ensued until L.O.L. 129 of Cobourg led the remainder of the lodges through the heavy rain and already muddy streets amid applause from the spectators.

Parade Late.

The parade was late in leaving Central Park and the blockading of a large portion of it caused some confusion.

Order of Parade.

The order of parade was as follows: J. H. Spence, Past County Master, 57th Regiment Band, H. Dodds, car containing Mayor MacIntyre, J. H. Burnham, John Edgar, Lieut. O'Brien and J. O. L. 1175, Peterboro; L.O.L. 50, Peterboro, and the Sheesley Shows steam callione.

Five Veterans.

Mr. George H. Duncan carried five old but still active enthusiasts in the cause of Orangedom, in his car to the grounds. These were Charles Crow aged 76 of Lodge 321, Downer's Corners, John H. Biggs, aged 70 of Nassau Lodge, No. 457, Thomas Fleming of Lodge 756, Centreville, J. J. Beatty, Lodge 113, Omemee, deputy county master. They were members of the Order for over 50 years and had walked in dozens of similar parades.

Chairman's Address.

Brother John Edgar, the chairman, said that it was indeed a pleasant duty to act as chairman at such a demonstration. He was sorry that the rain had interfered with the parade, but he said that while it may have dampened their colours it had not their enthusiasm. They appreciated the Mayor's splendid address, he said.

The address by (Capt., Brother J. H. Burnham touching on personal liberty elicited some praise. After he retired from the platform Mr. Edgar opened a direct attack on the recently resigned member. "I don't know whether Brother Burnham refers to the personal liberty we fought for in 1916, but if so we got it. We thank God there's no bars open..

Do Without Bars.

Continuing he said they could now holdan Orange celebration that was looked up to; they were respected, whereas formerly it was nothing but a drunken parade. "Orange principles stand for what's right, and they stand for the abolition of the bars." This statement was greeted with cheers and applause. When bars were open, he said, there was no thought of n-i fringing on the personal liberties of their neighbors.

J. Bradford, P.B.M.

The next speaker was J. Bradford, of Lindsay, Past County Master. Bro. Bradford expressed the pleasure which it gave him to see the increased enthusiasm with which the Battle of the Boyne was commemorated as the years passed by. He thought the meaning of that battle was better understood to-day than ever before.

Continuing Bro. Bradford said he wished to assure all Roman Catholics present that it was not out of a spirit of hostility to them individually that the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne was celebrated. Orangemen wished Roman Catholics nothing worse than to be allowed to continue to enjoy the liberties which we all enjoy. He alluded to the liberty referred to by J. H. Burnham as "license, not liberty." (Applause).

The spirit of the Orange movement was liberty, political, intellectual, moral and spiritual, the speaker went on to say. The Scripture was the supreme authority and infallible guide.

Liberty was something which must be earned before it could be enjoyed and our forefathers had earned it in the heroic struggle between 1045 and 1688.

Two Ideals.

In Canada to-day Bro. Bradford continued, two ideals were striving for supremacy. One was the idea of ecclesiastic destiny, the idea of government by the church for the church. The other was an ideal similar to that fought for at the Boyne, democracy. The two were diametrically opposed. The defeat of the ecclesiastic idea depended upon the aggressiveness of Protestantism. This was why the Orange movement was needed.

The purpose of the Orange movement was to fortify against political machinations as well as for religious protection. Rome held that separa-

Coal is in Sight

REPORTED ARRANGEMENT BY WHICH WESTERN FUEL WILL BE SHIPPED EAST.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, July 13.—Arrangements have been practically completed, it was learned last night, whereby an adequate supply of bituminous coal will be secured from the coal fields of Alberta to meet the demands of Ontario this coming winter. Negotiations with this object in view have been in progress for the past couple of weeks, and it was said last night that the efforts made to overcome what was heretofore considered insurmountable difficulties, have been successful.

Fix Price of Transport.

While there has been abundance of coal in the West for many years past, the difficulty has always been that the long haul to Eastern Canada prevented the fuel being placed on the market in successful competition with the coal from the United States. It was said that if the Board of Railway Commissioners would fix a rate low enough to permit of the coal being hauled to Ontario at a reasonable cost, sufficient fuel could be shipped to make up any deficiency that might result from a shortage of coal in the United States. Since the Rialway Baord was given charge of the securing of coal it has given this phase of the subject further consideration, and it is reported that it will fix a price that will make the shipment of coal to Ontario commercially feasible.

Provinces Represented.

A deputation in connection with the question of fuel supply was in the Capital yesterday. It was headed by H. A. Harrington, Fuel Controller for Ontario, of Toronto, and included I. W. Lewis, Fuel Administrator for Quebec, of Montreal; L. E. Drummond, rep resenting the Alberta Government, and Messrs. J. E. Walsh and McIntyre, of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. They had a conference with Mr. S. J. McLean, Assistant Chief Commissioner of the Railway Board.

Asked just as he was leaving for his train last night whether he would make any statement as to what had transpired at the conference, Mr. Harrington declined to do so, explaining that he would first make a report to the Ontario Government. It is known, however, that in addition to conferring with the Railway Board Mr. Harrington also had conferences with several memebrs of the Cabinet in reference to the Ontario fuel supply.

WIFE FOUND HUSBAND DEAD IN HIS BED

SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. AZARD KING, RESIDENT NEAR HAVELOCK.

A very sad death occurred on Sunday morning, when Mr. Azard King, a resident in the vicinity of Havelock, was found dead in his bed.

The late Mr. King had been in the village Saturday evening on his customary rounds of shopping. Mrs. King on going to awaken her husband the following morning, was horrified to find him dead. The family physician pronounced death due to heart trouble.

Deceased was in his 73rd year, and is survived by a wife and three daughters.

THREE MEN REMOVED FROM PETERBORO BY THE TRENTON CHIEF

PRISONERS HAD TO BE TAKEN IN THE BAGGAGE CAR.

The Trenton Chief of police arrived in the city yesterday and took Walter Hall, Frank Harris and Edward Lewis, the three Kingston men who were arrested by the local police on a charge of stealing a Trenton owned automobile in Belleville, to Trenton on the Belleville G. T. R. train last evening.

The train was so crowded with Orangemen that the chief had to take his three prisoners into the baggage car.

25,000 CARS IN B. C

(Canadian Press.)

VICTORIA, B.C., July 12.—There are now in operation considerably more than 25,000 automobiles in British Columbia. Plates runnig up to 27,000 are now being issued at the Victoria licensing office and Vancouver is working on a series culminating with 30,000.

LIEUT. JOHN STOKES THE LATEST VICTIM—APPEAL CASES WITHDRAWN.

(Canadian Press.)

BELFAST, July 13.—Lieut. John Stokes, released from the British army three weeks ago and appointed to organize the defence of Police headquarters in Ireland, was killed during the attack on Newport barracks yesterday.

Of 130 petit jurors summoned for duty in the assizes court yesterday only nineteen were present when the court opened. More than eighty of the hundred appeal cases before tribunal had been withdrawn it is announced.

A remarkable feature of incident was that yesterday the Sinn Feiner court reached decisions on almost all appeals listed for hearing before assizes court and barristers and solicitors were in attendance.

MINSK CAPTURED BY THE BOLSHEVIK

DESPERATE ALL NIGHT BATTLE WITH THE POLES.

(Canadian Press.)

WARSAW, July 13.—Loss of city of Minsk by the Poles is announced in to-day's official communique from Polish army headquarters. The Bolsheviki occupied city after desperate all night battle, the statement says.

LOT OF MONEY SPENT IN CITY

OFFICERS PLEASED AT RESULT OF BIG CELEBRATION,

The glorious Twelfth is but a memory, albeit a pleasant one, to thousands of Orangemen and their wives and families for never was such a day held here. 1912, a record year, was beaten, and it is estimated that 25,000 people were visitors in Peterborough for that day. Estimating that each would spend $3 at least, this makes a total of $75,000 left in Peterborough as a result of the Orangemen's celebration.

The officers who were respohesible for the arrangements, are gratified indeed that everything went so smoothly, and to the public in general they wish to express their appreciation for the hosptality shown the members of their Order and the friends who came with them.

It was a glorious, immortal day from the first parade up George street early in the morning till the last trainload entrained late last night. The different lodges paraded individually to the trains from the Exhibition grounds and the late afternoon and evening specials carried them back home. While there was not such a spring in their step as there was in the morning, their spirits were just as high as ever, just as exuberant. Their ribbons and glorious colours were a little mud splashed, but blew as freshly in the breeze as ever.

"It was sure one great day," they all said, "but it went all too quickly and the 365 days before the next Twelfth seems an eternity."

FACTORY INSPECTOR VISITS SHOPS HERE

H. J. Tutt, one of the factory inspectors of Ontario, is in the city for a few days, chiefly to show the management of several factories how certain improvements indicated by him on his last inspection, can be put into effect.

He stated that there is not much cause for complaint in the local shops and that he had found the superintendents ready to adopt improvements that had been suggested from time to time. Special men had on occasion gone through the factories. Mr. Tutt was here last winter, and his present visit is for the purpose of following up the recommendations he made at that time.

Incidentally he expressed his agreement with an industrial opinion that has been heard more frequently of late that the efficiency of workers and the production of a factory is increased by the lessening of noises, especially that which is avoidable.

DANCING AT GROUNDS

Due to a slight misunderstanding the dancing as announced did not take place yesterday afternoon and evening at the Grounds.

WOMAN RETURNING HOME FROM PETERBORO PARADE FELL UNDER MOVING TRAIN

ONE FOOT AND PART OF ANOTHER CUT OFF—WAS CARRYING FOUR-YEAR-OLD CHILD AT THE TIME.

A SUDDEN DEATH OF WARSAW MAN

One serious accident an a sudden death were recorded last evening. While alighting from a Grand Trunk train at Campbellcroft, about 9.25 last evening, Mrs. Wm. Hanna, of Longmount, near Campbellcroft, slipped under the wheels of the train. One foot was cut off above the ankle and the other foot was partially severed. Mrs. Hanna was carrying a four year old child at the time.

Campbellcroft was formerly known as Garden Hill and to many of the residents in that district it is still known by the original name. It is thought that Mrs. Hanna became confused over the name and delayed getting off the train until it was in motion. The station at Campbellcroft was in darkness at the time. Mrs. Hanna had attended the Orange celebration in Peterboro and was returning home when the accident occurred. Her condition is serious.

Sudden Death.

Mr. Joseph Crowe of Warsaw, passed away last evening while returning from the Orange celebration in Peterboro. Mr. Crowe who was over 70 years of age, participated in the big parade. Mr. Bert Batten took him partof the way home, letting him out at McFee's corners.

The deceased started to walk the remaining portion of the journey to Warsaw but was overtaken by Mr. Edward Moore who gave him a ride in his automobile. When nearing Warsaw Mr. Moore noticed his passenger gave a lurch but paid little attention to the incident until Warsaw was reached, when he discovered Mr. Crowe was unconscious. He died before the doctor arrived.

The deceased was a resident of Dummer for many years and was well known and highly respected. His wife predeceased him several years ago. Two daughters, Mary and Elizabeth, reside at home, also Norman Crowe.

QUIET DAY FOR LOCAL POLICE

Yesterday Was a Very Orderly Day in Peterboro.

Yesterday, the police say, was one of the quietest 12th of July celebrations ever held here. There were no accidents or crimes and only two men were present in this morning's police court to lend a holiday atmosphere. Both were charged with drunkenness, and having dried out overnight, were relieved of the customary $10 an dcosts of $4.-0.

DENIES STATEMENT TORONTO PAPER

CATHOLIC COMMUNITY NOT CONNECTED WITH PETERBORO BAND INSTRUMENT CASE.

In the course of his sermon on Sunday evening and reported in The Globe, Rev. Dr. Wm. Paterson, of Cook's Presbyterian Church, Toronto, referred to the the damage done to the Salvation Army band instruments at Peterboro on Thursday evening and alleged this damage was done by followers of the Church of Rome because the Army had signified its intention of taking part in the 12th of July celebration.

Adjutant Bunton in a statement absolutely denied that the officials of the Salvation Army in Peterboro connected the Catholic community or any part of it with the vandalism that had taken place. He further stated that since coming to Peterboro he had lived in peace and harmony with all religious denominations and creeds and regretted such a statement being made without authorization or proof.

Supplementing the statement made by Adjutant Bunton, Chief of Police Thompson gave the following statement: "It has never occurred to me that the damage was done by any religious denomination. I know that the very best of harmony exists between Rev. Father Phelan, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, and Adjutant Bunton and Mrs. Bunton, who is my police matron.

"Furthermore, nothing has been suggested to me or to any of my men in my investigation or from any source whatever that would lead me to believe that the damage had been done by any one of the Roman Catholic faith."

BEST PARADE HE SAW IN 50 YEARS

BENJAMIN WHITE PRAISES APPEARANCE AND DEPORTMENT OF ORANGEMEN.

"I never saw a more orderly or systematic parade than yesterday's," said Benjamin White this morning, in a tribute to the precision and deportment of the men in the ranks of yesterday's procession. Mr. White is now 75 years old and has taken part in many walks during the last fifty years. "I neevr saw so many fine, intelligent men and clever honest boys in the ranks," he said, and also spoke of the ardent adherence of the women to the cause. In the Orange Order laboring men and capitalists found a common ground of understanding, said Mr. White, who is the author of a book entitled "The Mission of Life."

He is now living in Otonabee, and expects to leave shortly for the west to visit his son.

DOUBLE HANGING

The Executioner was a Montreal Coloured Man.

(Canadian Press.)

QUEBEC, July 13.—Nick Debeka and George Morhari, two Rumanians who murdered a compatriot, Tote Kostinian on July 27 last year at Kenogami were hanged in jail here this morning. The Hangman was a Montreal colored man who volunteered to act as executioner when Ellis the official hangman could not act.

SIGN HERE, PLEASE."

(Argonaut.)

Judge Albion T. Wright said at a lawyers' banquet in Cincinnat: "'Sign here, please.' Gentlemen, it's astonishing how these three simple words hypnotize thousands of people, causing them to affix their signatures to contracts and agreements that they will repent, without reading.

"I signed a paper without reading it,' a witness said to fe one day. 'Mr. Blank told me what its contents were and I naturally thought I could trust him.' 'Yes, said I, 'but wou should have remembered that when a person asks yo uto sign something, he, for his part, doesn't trust your word—he insists on having it in black and white. Well,then, why should you take his word when he won't take yours?"

TO THE LADIES.

Here's to the garden of Eden
Which Adam was always aweedin'
Till Eve by mistake
Got bit by a snake
Who on the ripe pippins was feedin'

Then a longin' it seemed to possess her
For clothsing supcient to dress her
And ever since then
It's up to the men
To pay for the dresses. God bless her.
—Young Iornal.

TO CHILDREN.

O children of the city streets,
O children of the town,
Would I could bring you all to me
To race o'er wood and down;
We'd search the copse for furry fists
Of the Lady-fern's first born,
And hear the robin's evening song
At dusk on the dewy lawn.

The fields are full of treasures rare,
The sky a vault of blue,
What matters mud in narrow lanes
To dauntless folk like you?
You should know all the lovely spells
The fresh-blown violet weaves,
And learn where pink arbutus peeps
From nests of last year's leaves.

At night, when dark came slowly down,
And all the world grew still,
We'd hear the chorus of the frogs
Down by the fairies' rill;
And if you all were very good,
When a great moon rose all red,
Maybe you'd see the Wee Folk dance,
Before you went to bed!

NEW STEAMBOAT SERVICES TO INDIES

FRUITS OF CONFERENCE WITH CANADIAN GOVERNMENT PROMISED FOR NEXT YEAR.

Canadian Press.

OTTAWA, July 13—The first fruits of the West Indies conference held recently in Ottawa will come home next year in the form of the establishment of a new steamship line between Canada and the West Indies.

The government, it is learned, has undertaken the beginning, probably in January next, of a service considered by the conference under the name of the Western S. S. Service.

5000 Ton Steamers.

This scheme provides for sailings from Halifax and St. John to Bermuda, thence to the Bahamas and British Honduras and return.

Arrangements are being made to provide for the installation of two or more five thousand ton vessels now being constructed for freight service on this route.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

ABUSE OF ANIMALS SHOWS NEED OF A BRANCH OF A P.A.C.

PETERBORO CITIZENS SAID TO BE INDIFFERENT—ILL-TREATMENT REPORTED NOT UNUSUAL.

The need of a local branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is emphasised by stories of neglect and indifference to the pain of horses that might lead to the prosecution of the offenders if there was an organization to which such complaints could be reported. Persons who understand the conditions under which horses should be worked declare that the city is deplorably remiss in this duty, and also that the ill-treatment of animals is more common than the general public is aware of.

A citizen called the attention of the police to a horse that was offered for sale on the market on Saturday, but a veterinary surgeon who examined the animal at the request of the police pronounced it healthy. Consequently no action could be taken. This case led to casual enquiries, which disclosed several authentic cases of the neglect of horses, one of which was said by a workman on the Hunter Street Bridge to have died from the lack of nourishment. This citizen asserted that the horse has been practically starved to death, and that on one occasion he would have reported the affair to the police but for the reluctance most persons feel toward starting prosecutions in Police Court.

Other reports refer to the continued use of lame and emaciated horses which drag themselves along the street with never a protest from the public, who pride themselves upon their sympathies for all creatures, especially for dumb brutes, who have but little protection against abuse. In summer especially there should be more consideration for horses than at any season, but apparently winter and summer alike disclose few active friends for animals that are suffering in the harness of those who are driving them for the last dollar they can earn.

The law has provided a broad category of neglect and abuse under the term "ill-treatment," and imposes a penalty of a fine not exceeding $50, or imprisonment of not more than three months.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Peterborough, July 13th, 1920.
Adjutant Wallace Bunton,
515 King Street
Peterborough, Ontario.

Dear Adjutant Bunton.— It has come to my knowledge that there is a rumour in circulation that some members of the Knights of Columbus were in some way implicated in the unfortunate piece of vandalism, which resulted in a number of your band instruments being destroyed. I hasten to assure you, that no such action was in any way authorized or condoned by the Catholic church or by the Knights of Columbus and if it is found that any member or members of our order are guilty of this offence the severest penalties will be meted out to him or them. There is nothing but the most cordial goodwill towards your denomination on the part of our members and we all have the highest respect and esteem for your faithful workers who perform such works of mercy in the interests of the more unfortunate members of our race who come under the Army's notice.

On behalf of the Knights of Columbus, I beg to assure you that we deeply sympathize with you in the loss of your band instruments and trust that the guilty parties may be brought to an accounting for their malicious conduct.

I trust that this letter, a copy of which I am forwarding to the Examiner, the Globe and the Mail and Empire, will set at rest the rumours referred to and those malicious tongues which are ever ready to stir up religious animosity with a view to forwarding their own selfish purposes.

Yours faithfully,
Sgd. W. S. MERRILL,
Grand Knight.

To Keep Straightest, Unruliest Hair in Curl

The straightest, contrariest hair can be kept in curl, even in the hottest or dampest weather, by such simple and harmless means, that the use of the drying, singeing, blistering curling iron is altogether inexcusable One need only get a few ounces of plain liquid silmerine from the druggist and apply a little to the hair before doing it up. The result is quite remarkable. The hair is delightfully wavy and beautifully glossy, without being in the least greasy, gummy or streaked. The effect lasts very much longer than where curlers alone or waving irons are used.

The silmerine is best put on with a clean tooth brush, drawing this through the hair from crown to tip, preferably after dividing it into strands. The application seems to gradually improve the texture and health of the hair.

STOP WAR IN EUROPE

POLES WOULD ACCEPT SETTLEMENT BY ALLIES OF QUESTIONS AT STAKE.

LOOKS LIKE PEACE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, July 13.—The correspondent of the Petit Parisien at Spa says to-day that he is informed that the Allied conditions for the conclusion of peace between Poland and the Russian Soviet Government provides for the renunciation by Poland of any imperialistic policy.

The Allied note on this subject, the correspondent states, declares that Poland would accept a settlement by the Allied Supreme Council of the various questions at stake, among them being those of Dantzic and Teachan.

Under these conditions the Poles would retire to the front of Grodno, Brest-Litovsk, and south of Prizemysl, while the Soviet army would halt fifty kilometres from this line.

The Allies promise to aid Poland to prevent any further advance by the Russians, the correspondent adds, and offer to discuss peace between Poland and Russia and Poland, Lithuania, Finland, and Letvia, at a conference to be held in London.

HON. MEIGHEN'S NEW CABINET

NEXT ADMINISTRATION UNDER NEW PREMIER IN THE MAKING AT OTTAWA TO-DAY.

THE APPOINTMENTS

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, July 13.—Cabinet making to-day is in full swing. The new Premier was in his office at an early hour, and there was a stream of callers. J. A. Stewart, Lanark, and E. K. Spinney, member for Yarmouth, were in consultation with Hon. Arthur Meighen this morning, and an informal meeting of the cabinet was held in the Premier's office. There were present, in addition to the Prime Minister, Sir George Foster, Honorables Hugh Guthrie, A. L. Sifton, Senator Gideon Robertson and Sir James Lougheed.

To Continue Work.

While cabinet slate may not be complete for some days yet, it is probable that sufficient ministers will be sworn in to enable the work of the cabinet council to be resumed.

Nine Additions.

Shortly before one o'clock to-day nine additions were made to the Administration, headed by Hon. Arthur Meighen. Eight of the ministers held portfolios under Sir Robert Borden, the ninth is F. B. McCurdy, M.P., a new member.

Probable Appointments.

The entire cabinet slate is not to be announced till later in the afternoon, but so far as completed, it is understood the following are probable appointments: Hon. Arthur Meighen, Prime Minister and Secretary for External Affairs; Hon. J. A. Calder, President of Council and Minister of Immigration and Colonization; Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce; Sir James Lougheed, Minister of the Interior; Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance; Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Militia; Hon. A. L. Sifton, Secretary of State; Hon. Dr. Reid, Minister of Railways; Senator Robertson, Minister of Labor; Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and Minister of Naval Service; F. B. McCurdy, Minister of Public Works; Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice; Sir Edward Kemp, Minister without portfolio; Senator Blondin, Postmaster; Gen. Sir Dr. F. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture; Hon. R. W. Wigmore, Customs and Inland Revenue. It is understood certain additions to the cabinet are still under consideration and may be made shortly. Sir James Lougheed may also be Superintendent General of Indian Affairs. Hon. Dr. Reid will preside over the Departments of Railways and Canals.

WANDERED FROM HOME.

Inspector T. D. Ruston was in Marysville investigating a case of a boy aged nine years, who was found in Napanee. The report is the lad was taken and left there. The case will be tried at Deseronto.

SEVERAL MORE HOUSES CLOSED

MEASLES EPIDEMIC IS OF A MILD FORM.

Dr. A. W. McPherson, M.O.H. stated this afternoon that five more houses were placarded for measles to-day. The epidemic, he admitted, was spreading but said that nothing more could be done to arrest it. The quarantine, he though, was being observed in most cases. The disease is appearing in a mild form.

With the aid of a delatone paste, it is an easy matter for any woman to remove every trace of hair or fuzz from face, neck and arms. Enough of the powdered delatone and water is mixed into a thick paste and spread on the hairy surface for about 2 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This completely removes the hair, but to avoid disappointment, get the delatone in an original package.

LINER OLYMPIC SAILS WITH 2,245 ON BOARD

NEW YORK, July 13.—The departure of the White Star liner Olympic on her first eastward trip as an oil burner attracted a throng of prewar size and distinction to Pier 59, North River. The ship carries one of the largest number of cabin voyagers ever taken across in a single bottom, the total being 1,245, of which 730 are in the saloon. She has besides 1,000 third class passengers. W. A. White, inventor of the oil burning system with which the Olympic is equipped, said that she had aboard 27,000 barrels of oil, more than enough to last her the round trip.

MR. W. C. FLEMING IS OLD PETERBORO BOY

Mr. W. C. Fleming, general agent of the Sheesley Shows, is an old Peterborough boy, and while he was not born here, he lived here from the time he was aobut five years of age until a young man. He returned to the city on business last December after an absence of ten or eleven years and spent several days looking up old schoolboy friends at South Central school, among whom many prominent business men now are numbered. He has been in the show business since he was fifteen or sixteen and he has been with the Sheesley Shows for about ten years. He is known throughout the show business as one of the leading organizers and agents and much of the success for the Sheesley Shows is attributed to Mr. Fleming's work.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

TUESDAY, JULY 13TH, 1920.

YESTERDAY'S CELEBRATION.

The celebration of the "Glorious Twelfth" in Peterboro this year will go down in history as not only the biggest but the most orderly demonstration that this city has ever seen. Although there were thousands of visitors and hundreds of motor cars from outside points, there was not a single unpleasant incident to mar the pleasure of the day. Incidentally the benefit of the abolition of the open bar was never more convincingly demonstrated. Not even the most enthusiastic supporter of the bar, or the most ardent defender of personal liberty could deny yesterday that it was a blessing that the old conditions did not prevail. With the streets jammed with visitors, and hundreds of cars on the move, it does not require a very vivid imagination to visualize what might have happened if the opportunities of the old day had been available. A few intoxicated individuals in charge of cars could have turned yesterday's orderly celebration into a series of tragedies, for the abnormal traffic of the down town streets required every driver to have the complete use of his faculties.

A SILLY REPORT.

The despicable act of the so far undetected vandal who damaged the instruments of the Salvation Army Band the other day, was bad enough in itself without having been followed by an attempt to cause religious strife over the incident. The silly, unfounded gossip that connected those of the Roman Catholic faith with this piece of malicious destruction, is so nonsensical that it would have passed unnoticed had it not been for the fact that travelling as fast as false witness usually does, the rumour reached Toronto, and was repeated by Rev. Dr. Patterson, of Cooke's church, who declared that the band instruments were damaged by members of the Catholic community to prevent the Salvation Army Band from taking part in the Orange celebration yesterday. Dr. Patterson, no doubt, believed what he said, but it must be admitted that his conviction was based on a very shadowy foundation, and that his statement was ridiculous and unwarranted. Adjutant Buntin, local head of the Salvation Army, deeply regrets the circulation of this report and has issued a statement in which he declares that the officials of the Army have never for a moment thought of the vandalism as having been inspired by religious differences and that the Salvation Army in Peterboro had always lived in peace and harmony with all other religious denominations. Chief Thompson, head of the Police Department, in referring to the incident, says: "It has never occurred to me that the damage was done by any religious denomination."

These statements should be enough to put an end to the absurd rumors that have been circulated. No one who possesses an ounce of common sense, however, needs anything but his own brains to convince him that the damaging of the Salvation Army instruments was not the result of sectarian differences.

TIME TO TAKE STOCK.

The people of Peterboro are being asked this month to vote another $100,000 towards the cost of constructing the Hunter street bridge. The ratepayers are taking a more than usual interest in this vote, and rightly so, for if there was ever a bylaw that required the serious consideration of the citizens, it is the bylaw to be passed upon in connection with the Hunter street bridge. The people are entitled to all the information that is available on this question for they are undoubtedly perplexed and upset. The ever mounting cost of the structure, the doubt as to whether or not the amount asked for will complete the bridge, the feeling that there has been a mistake in policy, the divided opinion as to whether the bridge proper should be of steel or concrete, the lack of information as to the possibility of still building a steel structure connecting the present approaches—all these factors enter into the question. Already Peterboro has an investment of nearly $300,000 in the bridge. How much more is it going to cost if the present plans are adhered to? Will $100,000 more be enough, or when that is spent will the council have to come hat in hand, begging for another vote? Have the aldermen any guarantee that the eventual cost of the bridge will not come close to the half million dollar mark? Is there no other course in view of the present situation that promises better results than completing the work according to the plans now being carried out? These are the questions that people are asking and before the council has a right to expect the ratepayers to calmly vote $100,00, they should supply the answers. It is time to take stock. The citizens should know just where they stand. At present they are in the dark and unless they are enlightened before the day of voting the bylaw is likely to be defeated.

COMPLETING THE ISSUE.

That the German Government is not willing to throw to the winds its chances of reinstatement in international good society is demonstrated by the course of the German statesmen at the Spa Conference. Chancellor Fehrenbach and his colleagues have signed the new disarmament protocol, which gives Germany until September to accomplish the reduction of military forces to 100,000. The Government fought hard to evade the reduction, which is more difficult because so large a part of the army consists of the Junker element, but finally had to make new promises.

The factor of indemnity settlement is bound to be a perplexing one, but the way the German Cabinet came to time on the military proposals indicates that it will go as far as it can on the financial. The Brussels Conference of the Allies fixed the amount of indemnity at £6,000,000,000, to be paid at a rate of £150,000,000 sterling during each of the first five years, and £250,000,000 a year thereafter. Interest charges are to run concurrently. Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau offered at Versailles an indemnity of $25,000,000,000, but the Allies then were unable to agree among themseves as to what the amount should be. Finally, the matter was left open, and a Reparations Commission appointed to work on it. By a recent agreement, France is to get 52 per cent., Britain 22 per cent., Italy 10 per cent., Belgium 8 per cent., and the other 8 per cent. will go to Serbia and other small Allies. It was feared that the German Government would come to the Spa Conference with a determination not to make specific proposals for indemnity payments, but would, instead, declare Germany in a state of economic chaos, and unable to pay anything. The German national debt is now 265,000,000,000 marks, mostly owed internally, and the paper money issued amounts to 70,000,000,000 marks. This is from four to eight times more per head than in Britain, the United States or Canada. But if the German Government agrees to disarm the nation, down to the bone, then it will necessarily have to make some arrangements for paying the indemnities, because no more fighting is to occur.

The Spa Conference has been marked by some sharp pasasges, and the German statesmen there have found the Allied Premiers none too cordial. But, after all, it is a substantial gain that the German Ministers meet the Allies' Ministers across a table, and discuss the real completion of peace personally. The settlement of the economic phases of the Peace is a world necessity.—Mail and Empire.

MILLION BUSHELS OF GRAIN NEEDED

School Children Effect This by Destroying 2,000,000 Gophers.

REGINA, Sask., July 12.—Probably a million bushels of grain have been saved by the destroying of 2,00,000 gophers this spring by the school children of this province. In order to stimulate destruction of the animals, the Provincial government offered prizes of Shetland ponies, sheep and pure-bred pigs to the school children with the biggest "kill." The first prize went to Elmer Oliver, of Colgate, who destroyed 11,171 animals.

BETTER CONDITIONS IN EUROPE

The brightest picture of European conditions thus far drawn was presented yesterday by two vice-presidents of the Guaranty Trust Company, who have just returned from a two months' survey of the business situation in western and central Europe. Nevertheless, they point out the outstanding need of the drawing up of international balance sheets and of the estamlishment of a more definite economic status through the determiantion of the German indemnity. Both point out that England is showing speed in restoring normal conditions. France, they say, is rapidly getting on her feet. Belgium is the country nearest to a normal position.

Harold Stanley, one of the vice-presidents, had to say: "The French peasant is producing splendid crops and France expects to raise enough wheat to supply her needs this year. The French industrial worker, in spite of sporadic strikes, is producing effectively and the whole labor situation, in fact, seems to be much improved in the last few months. The French people generally are ready and eager to work. France still needs fuel and raw material and has great financial problems to solve, but definite plans can be made to meet these problems as soon as the German indemnity is fixed, and there seems no doubt that France will work out its future successfully.

"Belgium has already moved back well toward the normal. Conditions there have been fully described, and it seems pretty generally understood that Belgium perhaps least of all the nations of Europe presents a problem."

Supplementing his visit to the offices of the company in the three countries mentioned, Eugene W. Stetson, another of the company's vice-presidents, travelled through Germany, Austria and Czecho-Slovakia, studying the conditions in middle Europe. As a result of his investigations there he states: "An atmosphere of uncertainty and hesitation prevails throughout Germany and middle Europe, and it is very difficult to forecast even the immediate future for these nations, old or new. Germany has at last come to realize that she lost the war and is making desperate efforts to overcome the handicap that it has put upon her. I did not meet any optimists in Germany, but I am confident that a good deal of the sombreness in the dark picture which the Germans paint can be attributed to their effort to temper the allied terms of settlement.

"Underneath the dark surface were many indications that the Germans are confident of their ability to come back and do not realize themselves what a long journey that must be. Her greatest economic difficulties are currency inflation and lack of raw materials. How these problems are to be met it is difficult to see clearly. There are these reassuring sides to the picture, however: Germany's agricultural output is being stimulated in every possible way, and large crops are assured. Her industries were not destroyed by the war and are productive and efficient, needing only raw materials to supply them. Her people are industrious and thrifty and glad for the opportunity to work. Undoubtedly there will be numerous changes before any definite political status is fixed, but through it all German thrift and commercial instinct will endure and accomplish important results. I learned that radical steps toward decreasing their present inflation and meeting their fiscal problem are contemplated, and that will go far toward the work of restoration.

"Throughout middle Europe there is much confusion and it is difficult to make definite statements about conditions. Austria is, for the present at least, crushed and there is little semblance of industrial or productive activity. The food lines are formed daily in Vienna to care for the starving and thousands of lives are maintained only through charity. The bitter racial hatreds which exist throughout middle Europe have not died down and, in fact, seem to have been inflamed by the war and the readjustments following it.

"In Czecho-Slovakia the idealists and dreamers who were largely instrumental in working out the political readjustments now realize that the practical problems presented by such readjustments are much more difficult and that the making of a nation is a long process. Agricultural production there is good and the financial institutions are in a relatively good condition, but the work of unifying and organizing the life of this new nation, of course, presents a difficult task and it is too soon to make any predictions concerning it.

"From Jugo-Slavia, Greece, Hungary and Roumania various reports are heard, but in these countries the problems of reconstruction are dominant and their solutions have not been worked out. The breaking up of the Austrian empire complicates the situation for all of the constituent and contiguous countries.

"There seems to be no new problem presented in the Italian situation, which is still difficult, as the lack of coal, due primarily to underproduction in England and the difficulty of financing shipments from the United States, is a very serious handicap. Italy has a surplus of nothing but labor and that is a problematical economic asset under existing conditions there."

106 YEARS OF AGE AND EATS ANYTHING

Oldest Woman in Canada Refutes Theory of Dieting for Longevity.

VANCOUVER, July 13.—"I eat anything—always have done so and always will." Thus Mrs. George De Beck, who has just celebrated her one hundred and sixth birthday, disposes of the popular theory that dieting makes for longevity.

Mrs. De Beck, the oldest woman in British Columbia—probably the oldest in Canada—still takes a lively interest in all that goes on about her, in her home and throughout the world. She is keen eyed and vigorous, and spends much of her time in her garden. Up until the last year she has been able to read the newspapers in detail, but now she reads only the headlines. Born in New Brunswick on June 27, 1814, Mrs. De Beck was the mother of twelve children, five of whom are still alive. One daughter died two years ago at the age of eighty, and another of 79 visited her recently.

STORY OF A $5 BILL.

Deposited in 1833, It Yields $112 in 1912 and $134 in June, 1920.

On July 31, 1933, Horace Smith deposited $5 in the Dedham Institution for Savings, and in a long period of years this one five dollar bill went on accumulating interest. November 12, 1912, the holder of the bank book withdrew from the bank the sum of $112.47 and June 8, 1920, closed his account with the bank, taking out the balance of $134.46.

The only money ever deposited in the bank was the original $5; all the rest grew from the interest that accumulated as the years passed, until the sum total in the bank amounted to over fifty-six times the total of the original deposit. Had no money been withdrawn until the account was finally closed the sum that would have been taken out would have totalled $281.93.

At the Service of a Great Industry

The farmers of Canada are engaged in one of Canada's greatest industries and produce a large part of the Dominion's wealth.

THE banking requirements of this great industry are far-reaching and demand a nation-wide service—such a service as the Bank of Montreal affords with a branch in every important centre of Canada, each having an intimate knowledge of local agricultural and market conditions.

We invite farmers to talk over their banking problems with the manager in our nearest branch.

"If you go, I go with you," she said impulsively.

"You'll do nothing of the kind," he said emphatically. "You begin the fight here, and I'll tackle the other side." He caught her up and swung her to his shoulder, despite her laughing protests. "There! People are going to be mighty proud to know Mrs. Andrew B. Forrester!"

He set her down with sudden gravity, and said joyfully, what, many times later, he was to recall with bitterness:

"And this morning I was satisfied! Fool that I was!"

An hour later, he was still awake, absorbed in dreams of ambition, filled with the zest of new worlds to conquer.

Amy, in the next room, heard him turning in his bed, mumbling to himself. She found it difficult to rest. Long after she heard his heavy breathing, she remained awake. The haunted silence of the country night drew her out to the sighing of drifting leaves and sent her imagination wandering into the future. She felt almost as though she had committed a crime. What was this new world into which she was drawing him? Would it bring them together or insensibly separate them? Something in her better nature cried out strongly:

"He is making a mistake. This is not the way. He ought to take from you—make you follow him!"

All at once she sprang up and went to his bedside.

"Andrew!"

She said it softly, once, twice, and then turned away. Back in her bed, she wondered at her emotion. Why was she afraid?"

"No one could ever be so kind," she said to herself resolutely. "He will always hold me by that!"

Her rest was fitful, disturbed by the echoes of catchy music which turned about her. All night she seemed to be dancing. Toward morning she fell into a heavy sleep, in which she had a curious dream.

She was in the midst of a great ballroom and, whirling about her, were her father, Fifi, Uncle Tom, Mr. Dellabarre, every one she knew. She saw Andrew dancing with Mrs. Challoner, dancing very heavily, tripping and hopelessly muddled in his steps until Mrs. Challoner stopped suddenly and exclaimed:

"How absurd for you to ask me to dance! Why, you don't know the first thing about it!"

Every woman that Andrew invited to dance shook her head and laughed. All at once ,to her horror, she perceived that he was in suspenders, white satin suspenders, worked with rosebuds!

Then she was dancing with him, piloting his through the swinging crowd. At first he stumbled, and she heard a titter in the crowd. When she looked round, they were alone on the glistening floor.

"Everyone's stopped dancing," he said nervously.

"Don't stop, go on!" she said angrily. "They shan't make you ridiculous!" Little by little his awkwardness disappeared, his steps became smoother. Some one began to applaud. "Faster," she whispered, faster!"

His arm became stronger. She no longer piloted him. It was his hand which guided her deftly. She was astonished at the rhythm and harmony of his movements.

"But it's wonderful—Andrew is a wonderful dancer! Why haven't I noticed it before?" she said.

And all at once, she looked up and saw she was dancing with Monte Bracken.

"You!"

He smiled his critical, amused smile.

"You see."

"But why have you come?"

"Because you didn't answer my question."

"What question?"

"Would you do it over again?"

Then every one seemed to be rushing about them; the great chandeliers overhead were swaying like a surging sea, the music thundered in her ears and she woke with a cry.

Andrew was in the room in a great coat, ready to leave. It was ten o'clock.

"A nightmare?" he said, laughing. "You've been tossing and mumbling to yourself at a great rate."

"Yes, yes."

"What frightened you?"

"I fell downstairs or something or other," she said hastily.

X.

Irma Dellabarre came in shortly after in a fluffy dressing gown, with Mon Amour's smutty nose peering from a pocket.

"I've ordered the darling's breakfast up here, and we can be as lazy as we want," she said, embracing Amy affectionately. "Kity has had a telephone from New York and wants us to run up this afternoon for a spree. No; don't get up. You're a picture just as you are. What a fascinating bed-cap!"

"I'm afraid I' mawfully late," said Amy, making friends with the Pekinese.

"Late—not a bit! I get up with the chickens," said Irma, who had been called at ten. "My dear it's wonderful that Mon Amour goes to you like that. He hardly ever does. He's never even accepted Rudy. Poor Rudy, he hates so to be barked at!"

Amy, in company with all Irma's acquaintances, could never be brought to see Mr. Dellabarre under the affectionate sobriquet of "Rudy." But Irma's public attitude toward her husband was a thing of mystery.

At this moment, the maid arrived with the three breakfasts. Mrs. Dellabarre examined with maternal solicitude the cream and bread destined for the favourite, and held a consultation as to the menu of the day.

"Louise, tell Gervais that he has been giving Mon Amour too much red meat lately. Yes; you have been eating like a little pig," she added, shaking her finger at the blinking Mon Amour, "and your little tum-tum won't stand it, no it won't. No more tournedos for a while, Louise. A little sweetbread for lunch, and be sure it's cooked enough—for to-morrow, some chicken livers. He'll be furious, I know, but he has the most delicate digestion," she added to Amy, "because he is a little prince, he is!"

"Miss Bane wants to know if you'd like to see the children," said Louise, "because they're to go to their grandma's."

PART X.

"Of course I do. But not now—tell them to come down after lunch," said Mrs. Dellabarre, who had Mon Amour on her lap and was coaxing him to accept his saucer. "My dear, he's the most jealous thing! If I kiss the children, it sends him into a perfect fury."

"What a darling!" said Amy, smiling inwardly.

"You must get one at once. They're so affectionate! I'll select one for you," said Mrs. Dellabarre, who was never satisfied until she had imposed on her friends her doctor, her grocer, her dressmaker, and her dog-fancier. "It's really astonishing he takes to you," she added, as though, by that, Amy had taken new value in her eyes. "But you are so dainty and pretty, it's no wonder. You know, I wasn't prepared to like you at all."

"Really?"

"I was just a little bit jealous. It's the firstd time Rudy ever invite any one without consulting me. And you know, or rather you will know, that wives must defend their rights."

"I'm sorry. I didn't realize."

"I'm delighted. You've won us all, you lovely child!" said Irma frankly. "And then, you've put Glady's nose out of joint." She began to laugh. "She thought I did it on purpose. Gladys is my best friend. Your ears must be tingling with all the compliments you've had!"

"Much chance I have when you're around!" said Amy, returning the compliment. "It's a very good thing my husband went away—after all he had to say about you last night."

Irma preferred the admiration which husbands do not confide to their wives; yet all flattery pleased her.

"How did you get on with Monte Bracken?" she said casually.

"I had the feeling of being chopped up and sorted in packages."

"Yes: that's his way. Poor Monte!"

"Why poor?"

"He's such a glorious failure," said Irma, pouring out the coffee. "All his brains are wasted on nothing. For Monte has brains. If he'd only had to work for his living, he'd have been some one, and he knows it. If only he had married the right sort of a wife!" she added, thinking of herself. "However, all women believe he's going to startle the world.

What do you say to Kitty's idea?" she continued, changing suddenly. "We can pick up a couple of men in New York and do something amusing. There's really nothing doing here at all."

"Why, I think it would be lots of fun," said Amy, a little surprised at this restlessness.

"The truth is, Kitty's having a tremendous flirtation with Joe Barrisdale—you know, the one who married Anita Felton," said Irma, who made a short disquisition in genealogy. "They're separated. I believe there's some question of divorce, so Kitty has to be very careful. The joke about it is that Kitty is crazy to have us believe she's a romantic character."

"And—isn't she?" said Amy, in surprise.

"Kitty!" said Irma, who began to laugh. "Kitty, my dear, is a little New England prude who's scared to death the moment she's left alone with a man. My dear, I know—they've told me! Only, she's frightened to death we'll suspect it. She's bound to be talked about if it kills her. Oh, you'll find lots like her."

"And lots who are not," said Amy, with a smile.

"Who ever knows," said Irma, shrugging her shoulders and beginning to brush Mon Amour's silky coat. "Most flirtations are harmless enough." She became serious "You'll see. Men are not so desperately taken with us as we imagine. When you know you can get them—you're satisfied. It's human—isn't it?—to want to know your power?"

"Yes, I suppose so," said Amy pensively.

"I'm not going to be an old scold and tell you all the horrors of marriage and how to manage your husband," said Irma, smiling. "Only, lots of things may puzzle you, and I don't want you to misunderstand me."

At this, Amy could not repress a smile.

"I see it'll be quite an amusing party to-night."

Irma, seeing that she did not have to do with a fool, said, with great frankness.

"Oh, yes; I like to play too. Exploring is such fun—when you are sure of yourself."

"And you are?" said Amy, enjoying this confession, which brought them to equality.

"It's a question of principle," said Irma resolutely. "It would be foolish to say that all the women we know are innocent. They're not. With me, it's different. I have my children and my husband and I intend to be a virtuous wife. Why? Because I hate vulgarity, perhaps. That would always stop me, if nothing else. This is rather frank ,but I feel we're going to be close friends, and I don't want you to misunderstand me—do you see?"

"I see," said Amy, with a twinkle in her blue eyes.

"Rudy, who is the best husband in the world," said Irma contentedly, "can't understand that the wife who keeps her admirers public is the last one to worry over." She nodded, smiling to herself over some stored-up confidence. "If I were a husband I should only be suspicious when no man was attentive to my wife. Be careful to make your husband understand that, my dear," she added, unable to resist the temptation of an older married woman to point the danger.

"Oh, Andrew's quite the other way," said Amy, with a touch of pride. "Really he is the kindest being in the world. He knows I'm dreadfully young, and he wants me to enjoy life just as though—well, not exactly as though I hadn't married, but—you know what I mean. He wants me to play just as before, and he isn't jealous in the least if other men are attentive. Besides, I shall be careful to do nothing he doesn't like."

Irma, who underneath the lightness of her manner, did not lack perspicacity, was thinking, "I wonder if that pretty child knows the force she is playing with." It was a little habit of hers, when a man strongly attracted her, to imagine the beneficient results which would have come to him if he had been so fortunate as to have won her as a wife. Aloud she said: "He is very wise—because, well, you are frightfully young and attractive, and it might have been very hard for you."

HOW GOSSIPS GROWS.

(Selected.)

Somebody started a little tale,
Faint with a suggestion of wrong;
Others retold it in rising scale;
It grew as it passed along.

Somebody thought that she saw a slip
Made by a young neighbor's wife.
Fast flew the story from lip to lip—
A home was ruined for life.

"I heard from a friend of friends of friends
Of friends of a friend who knows."
That is the manner that gossip lends
Hue to the yarn as it grows.

Don't tell a story in whisper soft
That you do not know is true—
The tale you repeat of others oft
Is one they repeat of you.

Why Women are Thronging to See the Charming New Designs in Metal Beds—by Simmons Limited

NO woman needs to hear the advantages of the metal bed over wooden beds explained to her—nor does she need to be told how badly the old-style metal beds look in the room.

The bare announcement a short time ago that Simmons Limited had at last achieved truly good design in metal beds was enough to throng the prominent stores where these beautiful beds are being shown.

• • •

IT will interest you to know that this achievement of Simmons Limited involves also the invention of the first truly seamless tubing ever produced for metal beds.

This Seamless Steel Tubing—exclusive Simmons idea and property is square and trim; free from seam, split, pit or rough spot. It works kindly into shape—finishes smooth and takes the enamel in one even, unbroken coat all over, free from pinhole, check or chip.

All these new Simmons designs are made with the Simmons Seamless Steel Tubing.

Illustrated below is a Twin Pair of the "Tudor," a design that goes beautifully either with strictly Period furniture or the pleasant livable atmosphere of th typical "homey" bedroom.

You will find these fine new Simmons designs in Beds Built for Sleep in the leading stores.

Your choice of many different patterns—and of Twin Pairs and Double Width in each pattern. Enameled in accepted Decorative Colors, and in Mahogany, Oak and Circassian Walnut.

Simmons Springs, too—

"Waldorf" Box Spring—Composed of finest oil-tempered double-cone spirals, mounted on a frame of seasoned hardwood and upholstered with heavy layers of white cotton felt. Finished with roll edge. Covered with attractive ticking. A spring that really does give freely to all the contours of the body, yet supports the spine in any sleeping position.

And some very charming Brass Beds and Children's Cribs, together with Simmons Mattresses and Pillows—all built for sleep by Simmons Limited.

• • •

SIMMONS BEDS, Springs, Mattresses and Pillows cost little if any more than the ordinary merchandise of the average store.

A post-card to us will bring you the names of Simmons merchants near your home.

The "TUDOR" No. 1963—in Twin Pair

Made of Simmons' new Square Steel Tubing—seamless, smooth and beautifully finished.
Exquisitely enameled in the accepted Decorative Colors.
Has the Simmons patented pressed steel Noiseless Corner locks. Easy rolling casters.
Your choice of Twin Pairs and Double Width.
Especially pleasing in Twin Pair.

Too Much Appetite

may be as dangerous as too little

When the skin is sallow or yellow, the eyes dull, the head aches or sleep broken and unrefreshing, the back aches, or there is a pain under the right shoulder blade—it is an indication that the body is being poisoned by poorly digested and imperfectly eliminated food-waste. It is a wise thing to take

Beecham's Pills

to relieve these symptoms by helping to remove the causes

Sold everywhere in Canada. In boxes, 25c., 50c.

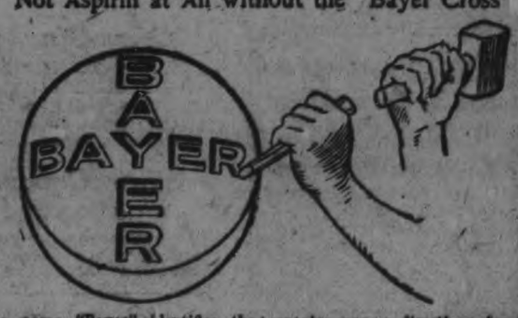
"There's a Reason"

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

Not Aspirin at All without the "Bayer Cross"



The name "Bayer" identifies the only genuine Aspirin,—the Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years and now made in Canada.

Always buy an unbroken package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" which contains proper directions for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Joint Pains, and Pain generally.

Tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

OUR MID-SEASON SALES ARE ALWAYS IMPORTANT EVENTS IN THE YEAR'S SELLING AND THIS YEAR UNUSUALLY SO.

OUR GREAT SEMI-ANNUAL

Mid-Season Clearance

Commences To-Morrow when the Store Doors Open at 8.30 a.m.

OUR MID-SEASON SALE OFFERS GREATER BUYING OPPORTUNITY — LARGER STOCKS, BETTER ASSORTMENTS AND BIGGER REDUCTIONS.

To the fact that July is generally conceded the Greatest Sale Month of the Year—the time when we make absolute clearance of all Summer Stocks—add the fact that backward weather and increasingly high prices have curtailed selling and finds us To-Day with unusually heavy and well assorted stocks—and you have our reason for putting extra emphasis—and extra energy in the sale this year. All this means to you lower prices and bigger values.

THESE GREAT STOCKS MUST BE CLEARED DURING JULY

To accomplish it we have remarked the merchandise with little regard for the cost to us. Every day the sale news will be of money saving interest to you and experience has taught us that we can afford to leave it to your judgement to make the most of these Mid-Season Sales.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

"JERRY" MOHER DIES FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

THE DECEASED WAS BORN IN PETERBORO.

SOO, Mich.—Jermiah Henry Moher, aged 61, for eight years a councilman here and one of the best known citizens, died at his home, 233 Ridge street, last evening at about ten o'clock.

Mr. Moher had been failing, for two years, having been unable to take charge of his business regularly since February. He was born in Peterborough, Ontario. After his marriage there he came to the Soo 29 years ago where he has always remained. Twenty-six of those years he spent in the meat business with a permanent shop on the corner of Magazine and Ridge. At one time he operated three shops: one each in Algonquin, on Spruce and Johnstone streets corner, and on East Portage avenue.

Alderman for Eight Years.

About five years ago Mr. Moher went into partnership with Leon J. Labelle, who withdrew at the end of six months, when a company was formed, composed of Frank Sullivan, Hugh Merchi, John Moher, a son, and Jerry H. Moher, president. Mr. Merchi withdrew from the company about a month ago. The grocery store and meat market are now in the hands of the son, John Moher, and Frank Sullivan.

Mr. Moher was an active member of the Holy Name Society, Knights of Columbus, Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Foresters.

Mr. Moher, however, will best be remembered as the alderman from the first ward, now the second precinct. He served on the city council eight years between 1902-1912, was chairman of the board of supervisors and on the board of public works. He was recently named at the state convention as delegate to the Democratic national convention. Mr. Moher, being ill did not attend the state convention, but he was named by it to represent this district at the national convention to be held in San Francisco soon, as it was hoped his condition would improve.

Mary Moher, a daughter, who is training for a nurse in Detroit, was in the city a few weeks ago, when her father's condition became alarming. He rallied and was thought to be on the mend, and Mary returned to Detroit. Saturday her father took a turn for the worse and she was sent for, arriving Sunday.

The Survivors.

Besides his wife, four children survive him: Mary, Veronica, Alphonse and John. His eldest son, William, died June 27, 1915; Veronica, 1907, and Clarence, 1903.

Mr. Moher has three sisters, in Peterborough, Ontario, Mrs. M. F. Crough, Mrs. William Condon, Mrs. Maurice Condon, and three brothers, Frank, of Edmonton, Alberta; John, Roger City, Michigan, and Clarence, of the Sault street car service. Mr. Moher's nephew, Patrick, also resides here for the present, his home being in Rhinelander, Wisconsin.

Tribute by Mayor.

Mayor Francis T. McDonald in reflecting on the death of Jerry Moher, as he is popularly known, says that in his death the Soo loses a man who devoted a great many years of his life to the service of the city and county.

He was always vigorous in what he believed to be right.

Definite funeral arrangements have not been made except that services will take place Thursday morning at St. Mary's Church and interment at Riverside cemetery.

SAYS BRITISH NAVY MUST BE SUPREME

PREMIER OF NEW ZEALAND EXPRESSES DISAPPOINTMENT IN NATIONS' LEAGUE.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, July 13.—Premier William F. Massey declared in a speech at an entertainment given by the Savage Club for the Prince of Wales, that the British Navy "must be supreme at all costs."

"I was one of those, who at Paris, thought the League of Nations would in a few years be strong enough to exercise a profound influence in preventing war," he continued. "I must admit now that the League of Nations is a great disappointment. We look around and see two great powers, Japan and the United States, building bigger and more powerful ships than ever. Those powers clearly do not believe that the League of Nations can end war.

"It would be calamitous if when war comes other nations should possess more numerous and more powerful ships than Great Britain, whose Empire depends on her sea power."

TRAIN JUVENILE WORKERS.

Innovation With Far-Reaching Effect on Future Workers.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 13.—An innovation which will have a far-reaching effect on the future workers of Western Canada, is being initiated by the Manitoba branch of the Dominion Employment Bureau in the proposed establishment of a special employment branch for boys and girls. This branch will act primarily as an advisory bureau in regard to training boys and girls for future employment, and will also handle the actual placement of workers. Supervision of the juvenile workers in their occupations with a view to directing activities in the proper channels, is also advocated.

A REVOLUTION SWEEPS BOLIVIA

(Canadian Press.)

LIMA, Peru, July 13.—A revolution has broken out in Bolivia, according to despatches received last night from La Paz. The government, headed by President Guerra, has been overthrown and President and members of his cabinet have been made prisoners. Baptista Savedra, Minister of Public Instruction, has assumed power, being supported by the army. It is said Jose Carrasco, former Bolivian Minister to Brazl, has been made Chancellor.

To Overcome Redness, Tan, Freckles, Blotches

If your skin is unduly reddened, tanned or freckled, just dab a little pure mercolized wax on the face and allow it to remain over night. When you wash off the wax in the morning, fine, flaky, almost invisible particles of cuticle comes with it. Repeating this daily, the entire outer skin is absorbed, but so gradually and gently, there's not the slightest hurt or inconvenience. Even the stubbornest freckles are affected. The underlying skin which forms the new complexion is so clear, fresh and youthful-looking, you'll marvel at the transformation. It's the only thing known to actually discard an aged, faded, muddy or blotchy complexion. One ounce of mercolized wax, procurable at any drugstore, is sufficient in most cases.

CHERRIES $4.00 PER CRATE.

BLENHEIM, July 12.—Blenheim Co-operative Association is shipping daily about 10 baskets (bushel each) of early cabbages, for which the price averages $2.75 per basket. Shipments of fruit and vegetables have been very heavy from this point recently.

Cherries are selling at $4 per crate.

ORANGE DEMONSTRATION

tion of church and state was heresy. The British ideal was the opposite.

Our task was to unite the people. Separate schools were a hindrance and should be abolished. The government should not pay for sectarianism. The speaker also attacked bilingualism.

School Question.

Brother Lieutenant M. J. O'Brien, of Ottawa, spoke next. Touchng on the school question he said we would have no national life till we had united schools. Speaking on marriage and divorce he referred to the sermons that Bishop Fallon of London and Bishop Gorman, of Ottawa, had been delivering to the Protestants. They claimed it was a scandal to be married out side of the Catholic church, in fact it was not looked upon as legal. He urged the Orangemen in Parliament to get up on their feet. Roman Catholic problems or questions on the French language were fought by the Catholics strongly enough, he said.

The Sinn Feiners.

Only the loyal Britishers who are carrying out their duties in Ireland he said, are being massacred. For months the Sinn Fein have been getting ready and they are only waiting till the pass comes when they must be fired on and have a provocation to stir up murder, and then the wires will sizzle with the news of murders of thousands of defenceless women. "We never heard anything about the Irish republic before the war." This Sinn Fein movement was upheld by the Roman Catholic church, he alleged and was being propogated in Canaad by the church.

In the past few months, he said, there had been conferences and conventions of the churches, and the Forward Movement campaign. He said that 95 p.c. of Orangemen were down on the lists, but he claimed that not a cent had been laid aside to fight the still great enemy.

A great rousing movement should be pushed to get all Protestants to join the Order, he declared.

Congratulated the Ordor.

He extended to the Peterborough Order congratulations on the excellent management of the day's events and he hoped that next year their numbers would be greatly increased. Before the large crowds dispersed on the suggestion of the chairman, three cheers and a tiger, led by H. Dodds, were given for the speakers.

Good Music.

The music by the 57th Regimental Band left little to be desired.

Mr. Bert Caldwell, the well known Toronto baritone solosist, delighted the large crowd with his numerous songs, making his voice carry with remarkable clearness and volume, with a monster megaphone. The vaudeville work of Lature brothers and the Bond clown were of high order and scored a round of applause.

The Prizes.

The prize of $10 for the best band w asawarded to the G.W.V.A., who played for Maple Leaf Lodge, Fraserville, L.O.L. 46, and the prize of W. M. collar for the largest lodge on parade went to Bethany, but it is contended that Lindsay should have secured this.

Largest Family.

The largest Orange family on the ground was entitled to a prize of $5. There was only one entry, that of the family of the late John Minifrie, Lodge 514, Coldsprings. Six stalwart sons, resplendent in the Orange were John Minifrie's contribution to the L. O.L. and they carried off the five spot, which they declared they would contribute towards a photograph of them.

Dancing commenced in front of the grand stand immediately the programme was finished and continued till 10 p.m.

A huge banner over the George street gate greeted the Orangemen as they swung into the grounds, with the inscription, "The Orange Association is founded on the broadest principles of national freedom."

The lodges marched around the ring and many deposited their banners in the stables at the west of the grand stand, while others left them in the buildings near the gate.

The Shower.

The torrent of rain was but a temporary cooler ,and as the chairman said, "it may have dampened their colors but not their enthusiasm." This was true. Many of the obys with only the protection of a white shirt, reecived a good soaking before they sought or condescended to seek shelter. After the rain clouds passed away the influx of Orangemen into the grounds continued uninterruptedly till nearly 4 o'clock, when the programme comenced.

Booths Busy.

The innumerable booths did a land office business and the run on cones, lemonade, ice cream and "hot dogs" was in keeping with the large numbers of people that flocked the grounds from early afternoon. Over a hundred cars were parked in one long line around the half mile track.

Sheesley Shows.

The Sheesley Shows were exceeding well patronized and they certainly created an impression on the visitors as a real carnival show of equipment and an efficient organiza- high-class equipment, high-class acts and an efficitnt organization. Few indeed had a chance to see the equal of this aggregation of amusing, educating and enlightening acts and the big crowd took advantage of this.

A woman New York buyer reports there is a decided desire for gowns that will fill a number of needs, not because of economy, because women are not buying inexpensive things, but rather from the wish to go from one occasion to another without changing the dress.

COURT RULING NEW BLOW AT LANDLORD

WILL CHECKMATE PLANS TO DISPOSSESS TENANTS BEFORE OCTOBER FIRST.

NEW YORK, July 13.—A decision just rendered by Municipal Court Justice Strahl will effectually checkmate grasping landlords who have intended to dispossess present tenants before October 1 so they might force new lesseees to pay exorbitant increases in rentals, so Julius Applebaum, advisory counsel to the Mayor's committee on rent profiteering, declared yesterday.

The decision is one against the F. A. Realty Corporation and in favor of Frank F. Eichbauer of 765 Park place, Brooklyn. Eichaeur has been paying $36.25 a month for an unimproved apartment, which is asserted to be a 25 per cent. increase over the amount paid by the former tenant. Eichauer's rent was jumped to $55. He paid at first, but later refused to give anything in advance of his original rent. The company brought suit, but the court has sustained Eihauer and expresses the opinion that $36.25 is a "fair and reasonable" rental.

"The practice of forcing oppressive leases on tenants whose terms are about to expire and also on new tenants is so common," says Justice Strahl, 'that the courts might just as well take judicial notice thereof, sustaining our Legislature's declaration that 'unjust, unreasonable and oppressive agreements for the payment of rent have been and are now being exacted by landlords from tenants under stress of prevailing congested housing conditions.

"Our State," the court continues, "has always had the power to protect the public welfare and when necessary even to interfere with the right of private where the safety, health and morals of the community demand it."

This police power is invoked, the court holds, by chapter 136, made applicable to summary proceedings by chapter 132 of the laws of 1920.

In comenting upon the decision Mr. Applebaus said:

"A great many landlords, particularly of the better apartments in Manhattan and Brooklyn, are notifying tenants they will not renew their leases after October 1, and requiring the tenants to move out by that date. Justice Strahl's ruling will be a blow to such gougers. If these landlords cannot otbain greatly increased rents from new tenants and become convinced that tenants cannot be made to pay excessive rentals they will hesitate before ousting the present occupants."

SHEESLEY SHOWS OPENED IN CITY YESTERDAY TO A LARGE PATRONAGE

A GOOD CLEAN SHOW WITH A BIG LIST OF HIGH-CLASS ACTS— FEATURES OF THE SHOW.

Sheesley's Shows opened in Peterboro yesterday afternoon and those who visited the different attractions and tried all the thrillers have nothing but praise for the assemblage of amusements this carnival show boasts of. Both afternoon and evening they enjoyed a large patronage and the Twelfth helped them materially. They are now firmly established in the Peterboro public's estimation as a clean wholesome carnival show. Throughout their entire route they have made an enviable reputation. In the show business they are known for their high-class acts picked from the best vaudeville work in the country and for their policy of having their staff of men and women of irreproachable character, they are respected by their contemporaries. G. M. Sheesley will not tolerate any disreputable characters and to this policy he attributes no little of the success they meet with or the favor they enjoy in the public eye.

One striking feature of the show is the spirit of hospitality and friendliness that seems to permeate the entire corps of workers. They like Canada and the Canadians and they want them to be right at home and they, at their service, for every call.

A night visitor is at once struck with the wonderful lighting effects of the whole show. Every tent on the whole grounds twinkles with innumerable multi-colored incandescants and the whole show is transformed into a scintillating fairyland. The show carries its own electrical plant and several expert electricians. The efficiency of the lighting is something to be marvelled at. The big entrance arch ablaze with white light is a notable feature.

The side-shows and their acts are all good. The two outstanding attractions are the animal show and the motordrome. The animal show is a combination of excellent acts. Captain Hiltbrummer, the noted animal trainer, formerly a big game hunter, puts his four lions through an amazing reel of tricks and full scope is given him to display his animal intuition and his confidence in them and they in him. Ted Oakley takes his life in his hands when he meets a lioness in a duel with only a chair to protect him. The act is sure a pop-eyed thriller, a gasp-raiser. Princess Tessie shows her mastery gained by long years of training, when she puts her leopards and panthers through their act. She knows every move of her cat family friends. Several East Indian brown bears have a performance of interest and amusement. Mules are not a familiar sight in this country and when a nigger tried to ride a bucking mule before the crowd he found the task much harder than he anticipated much to the amusement of the people.

The Motordrome.

The roar from the motordrome is irresistible and around the bowl lovers of the thrilling were grouped waiting for the show to begin. It does and Olive Hager, who is said to be the greatest woman driver and has a marvellously cool courage, climbs the bowl higher and higher. The wooden structure sways and roars and the motorcycle does too. Joe Harrison and Captain Hartley are her running mates and Hartley in a specially built car races Olive around the drome in one dizzying circle. Joe Harrison, on his snorting spitting steed and she race too until Olive is above him and only a foot or two separate the two perpendicular racers. No one should miss that exhibition.

Then there is the side show including some of the greatest vaudeville artists on the continent. Professor Tealoin has amazing conjuring stunts. Millard Turner, with with both arms and one leg lost in a sawmill accident shows that he can do as good work with tools as many a man with both hands and legs. His indomnitable courage has surmounted his incapacities. Madame Ethyl displays her telepathic, mind-reading powers and later stands thousands of volts of electricity with no apparent effect. R. G. Norman an expert glass-blower is an addition to the show and his act attracts much attention and his work much admiration.

Athletic Sports.

The athletic show is the rendezvous of the manly sport. Ollie Olieson, light-weight wrestler and boxer, and Battling Halstead light heavyweight stands ready to take on all comers. Yesterday they handled many cocky ones but before they were in the ring long the bravado ones wished they were out of it.

The lighting effects for Sprintime the classic posing and Algerian dancing show are wonderful. The stage is all a wagon so that lights and curtains are permanent. Scenic effects of rare beauty are possible with the unusual lighting to rival theatre settings. The artistic posing and dancing with the lighting effects makes this show popular.

Jack and Jill the two 518 and 502 pounds respectively, seventeen years old twins are a special attraction. These mountains of flesh engaged in a pugilistic contest that was the funniest thing seen here for some time It is just natural for them to eat fat they tell you.

The aerial swing, the ferris wheel, the whip, merry-go-round and Over the Falls all enjoyed the patronage they meritted. The swing is an exhilerator and one of the biggest ever put up here. The merry-go-round is one of the largest in the show business.

The concessions are strictly watched and all nefarious schemes are tabooed by the manager. There are over 25 of these.

The citizens of Peterboro should not lose this opportunity to see this show that has made a hit wherever it has shown in its six weeks in Canada.

During June, July and August, the office of this Company will close on

HUNTER STREET BRIDGE WILL COST A MILLION DOLLARS BEFORE DEBT IS FINALLY PAID OFF BY CITY

THAT IS THE ACTUAL AMOUNT OF MONEY POSTERITY WILL HAVE TO PAY FOR A BRIDGE TO CROSS THE CREEK INTO EAST CITY.

The interest on the debentures issued by the city to-day for the construction of the Hunter street bridge will bring the total cost of the bridge to $1,025,000 at the end of 30 years if the new by-law authorizing the additional $100,000 debenture issue is passed. This estimate is based on Engineer Frank Barber's estimated total cost of the bridge and the interest on the debenture issues, 6 p.c. on the original 3 year $260,000 issue and 6 p.c. on the proposed 20 year $100,000 issue.

Items of Cost.

The following is the itemized cost:

Cost of structure as last estimated by Engineer Barber	$437,000
Interest oi 30 year $260,000 issue at 6 p.c.	$468,000
Interest on proposed 20 year $100,000 debenture issue at 6 p.c.	$120,000
Total	$1,025,000

From the total cost of the structure Engineer Barber claims that there will be a deduction of $44,000 salvage on timber, motors, tools, cement bags, etc. This would reduce the total cost to $981,000.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"WHEN BEARCAT WENT DRY."

"When Bearcat Went Dry," the feature 13th of July attraction at the Grand Opera House yesterday, attracted a large number of the visitors to the city. The picture is from the novel by Charles Neville Buck, and the scene is laid in the mountains of Kentucky. The characters are all mountaineers of that race, whose illicit liquor traffic has so long been fought in vain by the revenue officers.

A scenic picture and a comedy completed the programme, which was continuous from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m.

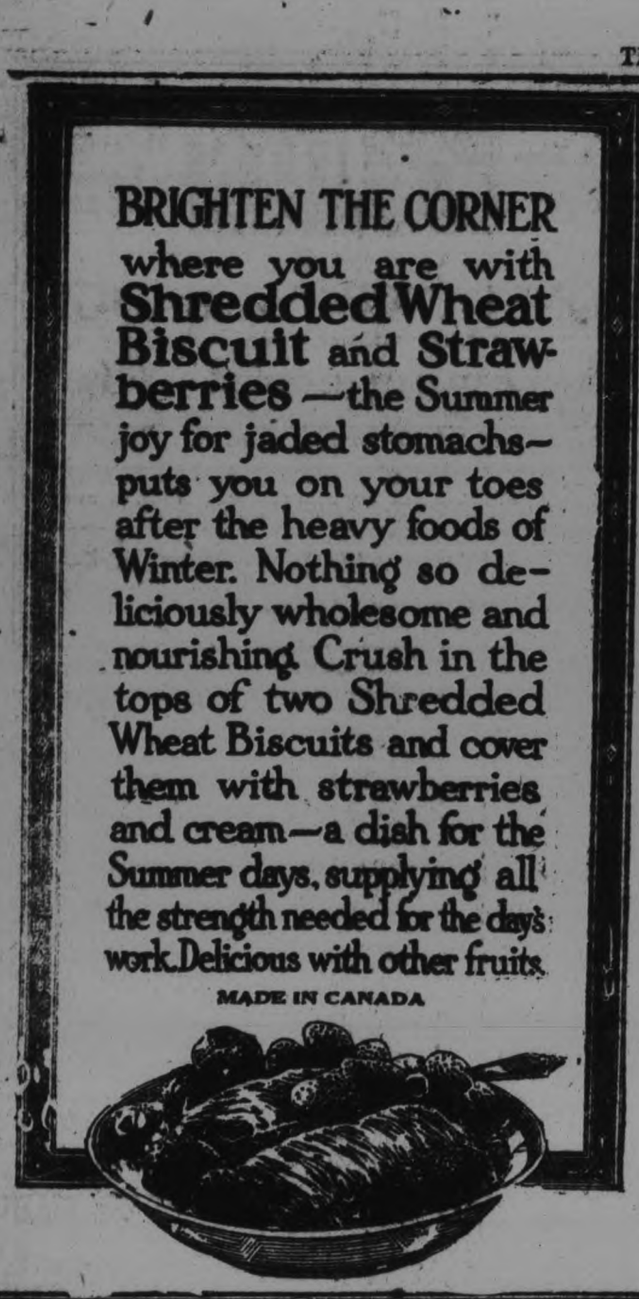
MADE IN CANADA



BELGIAN GLASS INDUSTRY.

Factories Unable to Fill Orders from All Over the World.

NEW YORK.—As illustrating one phase of Belgium's industrial recuperation, Consul Doughten at Brussels states in a report to the Department of Commerce that the eighteen furnaces in the Belgian glass industry are turning out monthly from 1,800,000 to 2,000,000 square feet of glass. Despite the fact that nine-tenths of this production is exported, Belgian glass works are unable to fill numerous orders which are being received now from all parts of the world. The lighting of more ovens is under consideration, and this will doubtless be done as soon as the necessary fuel is received.

The exportation of plate glass is also considerable. Many countries are buying it, but France is taking the largest tonnage, especially for its devastated regions. Prices are going up, since raw materials have been appreciably increased in price. In stemmed ware, good prices are being quoted and there is also a question of a rise, wages just having been increased. Exportation is active and has reached 73 per cent. of the production. The work day, which had been of nine hours, was reduced to eight hours beginning April 1, as the result of an agreement between workers and employers.

GIRL'S MENTALITY.

Many Unfortunately Just Plod Along in the Groove.

Most girls when they enter upon an occuaption are anxious to make a success of whatever they undertake but many unfortunately, just plod along in a groove and never rise above mediocrity.

This is a state that can be avoided if a girl makes up her mind to develop herself and to make the most of sch assets as she possesses. Self-development sounds perhaps rather awe-inspiring, but in reality it is quite simple. It is merely a case of bringing out instead of suppressing various instincts and abilities. Perhaps it might be described as self-education.

Self development can be attained without great expense and entirely by one's own efforts. It needs energy and a determination to make the most of opportunites that lie just at hand.

Carelessness and failure are twin-

Sunday Services.

Rev. T. B. McCorkindale, of Deseronto, conducted the united Presbyterian and Methodist services on Sunday. In the morning Mr. McCorkindale preached in the Presbyterian Church on our Lord's conception of sin. Sin is the measure of our responsibility. He took as an example, Mary in Simon's house and our Lord's rebuke to Simon. Mary had had no upbringing and had no realisation of what we call sin, while Simon had from his youth been trained in the very letter of the law. The Church of to-day is too ready to condemn the sins of the flesh, such as drunkenness, and to overlook or to condone the sins of the heart, such as hypocrisy, greed, jealousy, or selfishness.

In the afternoon Mr. McCorkindale took the service in the Methodist Church at Young's Point, and on Sunday evening preached at the united service in the Methodist Church. The Orangement were present in a body for their annual church parade.

Mr. McCorkindale gave an inspired address to the very large congregation, who were delighted to have the privilege of hearing him again.

Mr. McCorkindale was in charge of the Lakefield Presbyterian Church for four years.

RAN INTO TROUBLE

The brilliant wit of the bar looked at the moon-faced laborer, and winking at his friends, whispered:

Now we'll have some fun."

"Have you been married?" he began.

"Ye-e-es," stammered the laborer.

"Whom did you marry?"

"A w-w-woman, sir."

"Come, my good man, of course, it is a woman. Did you ever hear of anyone marrying a man?"

"Ye-e-es, sir; my sister did."

Five hundred and eighty different makes of motor vehicles are in use in New York City.

CHOICE RECIPES

Mustard Pickles.

Use six or eight green tomatoes, one head cabbage, six large onions, two heads celery, and two red peppers cut fine. Put these in a preserving kettle and nearly cover them with white wine vinegar. Boil fifteen minutes and add two pounds of sugar, two tablespoons salt, one cup flour, one teaspoon tumeric, two tablespoons mustard mixed with a small quantity of water. Boil for ten minutes and bottle.

Dried Sweet Corn.

The corn must be cooked. It is then cut from the cob and dried in a slow oven for fifteen minutes, care being taken that it does not scorch or brown at all. Remove from the ove and allow it to stand in an airy place for a few hours. Button into cotton bags, seal closely, and hang in a dry place. When preparing for use, soak over night like white beans, and cook the same as canned corn.

Bread-Crumb Griddle Cakes.

Soak one and a half cups stale bread crumbs in one and-a-half cups milk, add two eggs well-beaten, one tablespoon fat then half a cup flour sifted with four teaspoons baking powder and half a teaspoon sall. Cook same as other griddle cakes.

Sugarless Rhubarb Jam.

Use four pounds of rhubarb, one pound of dates, one tin of golden syrup. Cut the rhubarb into small pieces, warm the syrup to thin it and pour over the rhubarb, and add the dates stoned and chopped. Boil gently for half an hour.

Curved and Tab Laces.

Curved and tab laces are much in vogue as a collar finish for the open-necked dresses now almost entirely worn. Turned over from the opening and lying flat on the gown their effect is very good. One pretty collar of a coarse white net had each tab finished with a heavy thread or cord and just inside that a row of small white beads was set.

Calves' Brains—Wash and boil 20 minutes. Plunge into cold water and cut in small pieces. Place in a frying pan a tablespoon of butter, teaspoon of minced onion, and the same of tomato catsup. When hot and bubbling add the brains and stir lightly until brown.

Mock Venison—Buy a cheap but solid piece of mutton. Cover with vinegar, a quarter of a teaspoon of cloves, the same of mace and a little pepper. Use no salt. Let this stand three hours and then place in a baking pan in a very hot oven. Let the heat lower until about moderate. Baste often with the vinegar. Remove to a platter when done and thicken the gravy in the pan with brown dissolved flour.

Prune Whip — Soak the prunes three hours in cold water to cover. Boil tender in the same water. Pit, chop fine and add a very little sugar. Use about a pound of prunes. Beat the whites of two eggs as stiff as possible, add a little powdered sugar and the prunes. Chill and serve with a custard made from the yolks and a cup and a half of milk. Boil until it thickens.

Quaker Muffins.—Pour one cup of boiling milk on two-thirds of a cup of rolled oats and let stand five minutes. Add two tablespoons of sugar, a tablespoon of shortening, a cup and a half of flour, four teaspoons of baking power and one egg. Bake in a hot oven 20 minutes.

Vegetable Chowder.— Pare and cut in slices four potatoes, two carrots, one onion, and cover with water. Boil tender, but don't drain off the water. Fry a slice of fat salt pork, add three tablespoons of flour and when smooth add to the vegetables. Then add a cup of milk and a cup of water. Boil again.

Baked Beans with Cheese.—Prepare the beans as usual. Place in a bean pot, cover and bake tender. Twenty minutes before serving, remove the cover and add half a pound of cheese cut in thin slices. Bake until the cheese is melted.

Apricot Jelly.—Dissolve half a package of gelatin in a quarter of a cup of cold water. Add two cups of stewed apricots that have been cut in small pieces and liquid enough to make nearly a cup. This should be done when boiling hot. Turn into a mould to chill and serve with a sauce of the cooked apricots.

STRANGE CHARACTER

Young German Lives on Cocoanut and Sleeps on Sand.

One of the strangest characters in the world is Augusta Englehardt a young German who lives on the island of Kabakon in the German New Guinea territory. He exists entirely on the cocoanut, and sleeps on a bed of sand. Englehardt is a singularly handsome man of about 33, possessing great wealth and a charming personality. He is known as the "Apostle of the Cocoanut" on account of the doctrine he teaches that the cocoanut is the original food of man, and should continue to be so, as all other foods are responsible for the bad passion in the heart and mind of man

BY RIGHT OF CONQUEST

A bashful suitor called one night
To storm the maiden's heart.
It was his very first attempt,
He didn't know his part.
He sat far off across the room in manner circumspect,
Resolved to say no word to which the lady might object.
The weary evening wore away,
At last he had the sand
To walk across the fawning space and limply take her hand.
He softly stroked her silken hair and daring not to speak,
He bent in humble reverence and lightly kissed her cheek.
Quite horrified the lady cried;
"Your kisses I forbid. Stop that at once, I mean it,"—and
He did—the chump—he did.
(She canned him.)

Another came another night and grasped her in his arms.
He lost no time in mooning o'er the manner of her charms.
He didn't let his suit grow stale nor conversation lag.
He pressed her to his throbbing heart, and said: "I love you, Mag."
He kissed her right upon the lips,
That's what the pirate did.
Quite horrified the maiden cried—
Your kisses I forbid.
I thought you were a gentleman,
Release me right away.
You cannot pull that cave-man stuff on me and make it pay."
She said if he kissed her again,
She'd show him to the door.
He grasped her in his manly arms
And kissed her nine times more.
(She married him.)

DECLARES DISEASES ARE BORNE BY AIRPLANE

Here is a brand new peril. Whoever would have imagined that the airplane would be attacked as a possible carrier of disease. Yet this is just what Prof. H. Maxwell Lefroy did in a lecture at the Royal Institution (London). He was talking about the way in which insect pests had been carried by men from one country to another.

The London correspondent of the Journal of the American Medical Association writes that Prof. Lefroy said the greatest carrier of pest-carrying insects was the airplane, which picked up insects, landed in a field, and deposited them, all within a few hours. The airplane was truly the disseminator of crop pests. During Dr. Chalmers Mtchell's flying trip through Africa, his airplane, while on the ground, had been attacked by white ants. The airplane could easily pick up the yellow fever breeding mosquito and bring it to another land within the space of a few hours. The taetse fly, which engendeged the African sleeping sickness, could be taken from West Africa to Brazil in a few hours. Among the insects the most to be dreaded was the chinchbug, which in 1864 caused a loss of $73,000,000 worth of wheat.

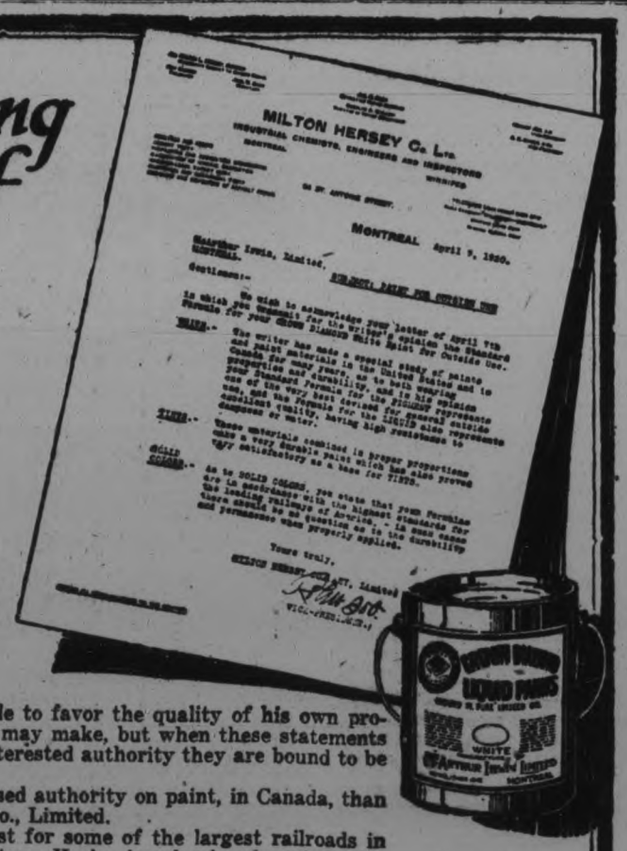
CROWN DIAMOND PAINT

is a thoroughly practical and most serviceable paint for all purposes.



A manufacturer is liable to favor the quality of his own products in any statements he may make, but when these statements are substantiated by a disinterested authority they are bound to be convincing.

There is no more unbiased authority on paint, in Canada, than Mr. Job, of Milton Hersey Co., Limited.

He is consulting chemist for some of the largest railroads in Canada and the United States. He is also closely connected with the various exhaustive tests conducted in the States regarding the wearing qualities of paints. Mr. Job has also prepared many of the paint specifications for the Government. He is in no way connected with the paint industry and favors no special brand of paint.

We have submitted our Crown Diamond Paint formulas to Mr. Job for his opinion of its quality and durability.

The letter shown above speaks for itself and verifies the truth of the statements made in our recent advertisements regarding the purity and durability of Crown Diamond Paints.

The New Hercules Brake Has "Positive Drive"

Jump on a 1920 C.C.M. Bicycle.

Try the new Hercules "Positive Drive" Brake.

It positively will not slip!

A gentle backward pressure on the pedals engages the brake.

Never before have you used a brake more soft and velvety—or more sure and powerful. There is no other coaster brake more dependable than the new Hercules with its Positive Drive Clutch.

In addition, the Hercules is smaller, neater, lighter—very little larger than a plain hub. It has fewer parts than others.

It is the only coaster brake in Canada without a side arm. Therefore, the Hercules is more easily removed and replaced in the frame.

The Hercules is unique in construction. There is no other coaster brake that combines so many excellent features.

The new Hercules can be attached to any bicycle at moderate cost. It is obtainable from any C.C.M. dealer.

All C.C.M. Bicycles are equipped with the Hercules Brake.

PETES WIN SIXTH STRAIGHT BEAT COBOURG YESTERDAY 8-4

THE AMERICAN COLLEGE PITCHER FAILED TO STOP SOLOMON CREW ALTHOUGH COBOURG GAVE THE HOMESTERS A HARD BATTLE ALL THE WAY.

PETES LEAD THE LEAGUE

THE LEAGUE STANDING

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Peterboro	6	1	.857
Belleville	5	1	.833
Oshawa	4	1	.800
Cobourg	2	5	.286
Lindsay	1	3	.250
Port Hope	0	7	.000

The predictions that Cobourg would give the Petes a tough argument in the Central League fixture at Riverside Park yesterday afternoon were amply verified for although the Solomon crew breezed home winners by 8 to 4, the home fans did not breathe freely until the Petes chased three runs over in the eighth. Before that welcome trio of counters had been registered the local talent had only a one run lead and with Cobourg getting on the bases in clusters the margin was much too close for comfort.

It was a real snappy ball game that was dished up for the benefit of the loyal legion of Peterboro fans and Twelfth of July visitors and one of the biggest crowds of the season was in attendance, the threatening thunder storm failing to keep the enthusiastic away. Some lusty hitting plenty of fast fielding and a fight from start to finish gave the crowd its money's worth.

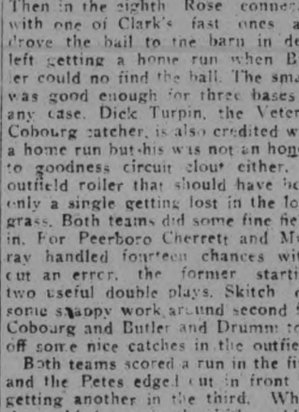
Howard King drew the pitching assignment for the Petes and for the first five innings should have had a shut out. Cobourg getting an unearned run in the first. Kirn weakened in the latter stages but was steady in the pitches and with the help of snappy fielding at the right moment by his teammates pulled out in good style.

Cobourg had a brand new pitcher groomed and ready for the Petes in the person of Clark, an elongated young box artist with an accent strongly reminiscent of Uncle Sam's land and who is said to be an American College pitcher. At all events it is a safe bet that this Clark, person's name does not appear on the Cobourg voter's lists nor is it likely to be found here next year. He was not much of a mystery to the Petes who found him for twelve perfectly good hits including a homer, a triple and three doubles.

Ray Rose had a goodly share of the lime light during the afternoon. His first appearance as a pinch hitter for McCarney with two on bases was not auspicious for he fanned but immediately after he made a great catch of Drumm's hard smash to left. There were three Cobourg runners on the sacks and if the drive had got away a pair of runs would have resulted. Then in the eighth Rose connected with one of Clark's fast ones and drove the ball to the barn in deep left getting a home run when Butler could no find the ball. The smash was good enough for three bases in any case. Dick Turpin, the Veteran Cobourg catcher, is also credited with a home run but his was not an honest to goodness circuit clout either, an outfield roller that should have been only a single getting lost in the long grass. Both teams did some fine fielding. For Peerboro Cherrett and Murray handled fourteen chances without an error, the former starting two useful double plays. Skitch did some snappy work around second for Cobourg and Butler and Drumm tore off some nice catches in the outfield.

Both teams scored a run in the first and the Petes edged out in front by getting another in the third. When they added two in the fifth making them lead 4to 1 the game looked safe but Cobourg closed the gap by scoring twice in the sixth. The home gang made it 5 to 3 by a run in the seventh but Cobourg opened the eighth with another register and it was 5 to 4 when the Petes went to bat in eight. They cinched the game at this stage by sending three runs over Rose's homer being chiefly responsible.

The Solomon outfit got out of a great hold in the seventh when Cobourg fiilled the base with only one out and then failed to score. Rose grabbed Drumm's hard smash for the second out and then the base runners got careless and when Swanston snapped the ball down to Harrison catching Phum yards off first the enemy on the sacks went up in the air. Butler who was on second tore down to third and Skitch at the difficult corner tried to come home. Harrison making no attempt to get Phum ran in with the ball and tossed it to Swanston who ran Skitch down, retiring the side.



Cherrett and McCarney Got Mixed Up Over Drumm's Fly to Left.

A Big Crowd Saw the Petes Win Their Sixth Straight.

First Innings.

Cobourg — Murray tossed out Skitch. Butler singled to centre. Butler stole second, taking advantage of a short passed ball. Then thinking that the batter had fouled the ball he tore back for first and was safe when Harrison dropped the throw. Phum forced him at second, Cherrett to Holyman, but Drumm came through with a double to left, scoring Phum. Murray got Higginbotham at first. One run, two hits, one error.

Peterborough—Cherrett rolled to Clarke. Murray walked. He started to steal on the first ball and went all the way round when Turpin threw to centre field and Burge followed with a wild heave to third. Swanston grounded to Clark. Harrison singled to right centre and stole second, but Corrin fanned. One run, one hit, two errors.

Second Innings.

Cobourg—Cherrett threw out Turpin and Burge. Ward walked, but Clark struck out.

Peterborough—Lowe flied to Butler. Drumm made a fine catch of Holyman's drive to right. Kirn singled to right. McCarney rolled to Skitch. One hit.

Third Innings.

Cobourg — Skitch fanned. Murray threw out Butler. Phum rolled to Holyman.

Peterborough—Cherrett beat out a hunt and stole second, Murray moved him over to third with a neat sacrifice, and he registered on Swanston's sacrifice fly to Burge. Harrison struck out. One hit, one run.

Fourth Innings.

Cobourg—Drumm doubled to left. Higignbotham rolled to Kirn, Drumm going to third. Turpin hoisted to Harrison. Burge fanned. One hit.

Peterborough — Corrin fouled to Phum. Lowe flied to Butler. Ward got Holyman on a roller to short.

Fifth Innings.

Cobourg—Ward grounded to Holyman. Clark singled past third and went to second on a wild pitch. Skitch fanned and Swanston caught Clark off second. Holyman, however, dropped the throw, and the runner reached third. Kirn threw out Butler. One hit, one error.

Peterborough—Kirn doubled to left. M Carney bunted a fly to Clark in trying to sacrifice. Cherrett fanned. Murray singled to right scoring Kirn and taking second on the throw in. Swanston singled to left, scoring Murray and going around to third on the throw to the plate and Phum's fumble. Harrison grounded to Higginbotham. Two runs, three hits, one erros.

Sixth Innings.

Cobourg — Phum fanned, Drumm scratched a single to left. Cherrett and McCarney colliding. Higginbotham doubled to left centre. Turpin exploded a hit through short, which rolled through McCarney and Drumm, and Higginbotham scored. The man who did the running for Turpin reached third, but was called out for cutting second. Burge went to second on Holyman's low throw to first after a fine stop by the second baseman. Ward rolled to Murray. Two runs, three hits, two errors.

Peterborough — Corrin flied to Skitch. Lowe doubled to left. Holyman singled through short. Kirn fanned and so did Ray Rose batting for McCarney. Two hits.

Seventh Innings.

Cobourg—Clark singled to centre and Skitch hit safely to left. Butler forced Clark at third, Cherrett to Murray. Phum laid down a perfect bunt and the bases were full. Ray Rose made a great catch of Drumm's hard smash to left. Phum took too big a lead off first, and when Swanston threw to Harrison, Skitch tried to come home and was an easy out, Harrison to Swanston. Three hits.

Peterborough—Cherrett popped to Skitch. Murray tripled to right, scoring on Swanston's infield out. Skitch to Higginbotham. Harrison doubled to deep centre. Corrin fouled to Turpin. One run, two hits.

Eighth Innings.

Cobourg—Higginbotham fouled to Swanston. Turpin hit safely to left for what would ordinarily have been a single, but Rose could not find the ball in the long grass, and the veteran catcher got a cheap home run. Burge doubled down the first base line. Ward hit to Cherrett, who got him at first, and when Burge tried to go to third he was caught between bases and run down after an exciting chase. One run, two hits.

Peterborough — Ross, batting for Lowe, popped to Ward. Holyman beat out a hit to short and stole second. Kirn rolled one in front of the plate, and was safe when Clark's throw hit him, Holyman scoring. Rose hit one to the barn in left for a homer, driving Kirn across ahead of him. Cherrett rolled to Skitch. Murray fanned. Three runs, two hits, one error.

Ninth Innings.

Cobourg—Clark singled to left. Skitch hit into a fast double play, Cherrett to Holyman to Harrison. Butler flied to Corrin.

Players are reminded that the Hall Trophy is decided according to match play, and that strokes must be counted, as indicated on the score card.

It will greatly help the work of the committee if players will remember to have their games marked off on the list at the Club House and will endeavour also to get into touch with their opponents in order to play off their games. No allowance will be made, after this notice, if from any cause whatever, members fail either to have their games marked off within the time specified or to arrange to have their games played within the proper time.

ROCKEFELLER SPRY ON 81ST BIRTHDAY

PLAYS GOLF OVER 2 1-2 MILE COURSE AND WINS GAME AT EXTR HOLE.

LAKEWOOD, July 8.—John D. Rockefeller celebrated his eighty-first birthday. It was the first time he had been at his Lakewood estate on his natal day and the occasion was marked by a celebration given for a few old friends and relatives. None of his children was present, but they offered their congratulations by telegrams and large floral remembrances. Mr. Rockefeller's sister, Mrs. Davis, was here to felicitate her brother on his excellent health and vigor. To those who know Mr. Rochefeller intimately the last few years have had but little effort on his appearance.

Mr. Rockefeller celebrated the early part of the day with his usual round of golf. It is two and a half miles around the nine hole course and at the finish Mr. Rockefeller step was as spry as when he left the first tee. Not only did he show abundant vitality in his game, particularly in his driving, but he proved that eighty-one years does not always prove a deterrent to one's skill, as he returned a winner in the contest.

No statement was made by Mr. Rockefeller other than he was delighted to celebrate the occasion, felt hale and hearty and was enjoying every minute of his life.

The day proved a delightful one for employees on the Rockefeller estate. Mr. Rockefeller shook hands with every one of his employees and gave them a gift of money in memory of the ocasion. Those who saw Mr. Rockefeller attest that he is truly a remarkable man. Keen and alert in mental faculties as ever and unusually strong physically, they proclaim him one of the most extraordinary octogenarians in the world.

LOCAL FOOTBALL GOSSIP

FOOTBALL EXECUTIVE MEETING TO-MORROW EVENING—C. G. E. PROTEST—OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The annual meeting of the Peterboro Football association will be held in Mr. Fred Sutcliffe's barber shop, Charlotte street, on Wednesday evening July 14th, at 7.30 prompt. All teams are requested to send two representatives.

Mr. Wilfrid Jones of the South End is conducting a physical culture class for boys and young men and has some promising talent.

Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Frank McKinley, the energetic secretary of the Association, received a protest from the C. G. E. team stating that the football pitch was not the proper dimensions and the goal posts not in the centre. Both teams played the game under the same conditions. It was not the fault of the Association, because they did not know that the Exhibition Board was going to place large poles on the playing ground to their disadvantage.

The League Champions lost just two games of the season by 4 to 0 in each game. They have scored 23 goals during the season. Griffin has played in every game, except two, and has the best goal keeper's record of 16 goals for number of games played.

Matt Shaw of the Caledonians, has the record goal average for the season by scoring 14 goals himself.

The new representatives for the War Vets will be Mr. George Coleman and Mr. Andrew Muir.

During the season the following C.G.E. players have helped to make the 30 goals: "Wag" Hotston 7; A. Gash, 6; Ted Bartley 6; J. Williamson 5; Turner 3; Flanders 1; A. Parkins 1; Ted Hotston 1.

The Canadian Woollens and Caledonians will play to-morrow evening at the Nicholls Oval an exhibition game. Kick off at 6.30.

John Naples, C.G.E. goal keeper, has a fair goal average, having only 16 goals against him. He has played in every game.

The association will have to make a definite statement on Wednesday evening whether they will affiliate or not with the D.F.A. and O.F.A. so as to get playing in the Ontario and Connaught Cups.

Canadian Woollens held a meeting last Friday evening and elected new office bearers and appointed Mr. Jack Cridland as the official representative.

Caledonian goal scores were: Matt Shaw 14; R. Hannah 6; Jas. Shaw 6; McDowall 3; R. Willshaw 2; McMillan 1 and H. Frost 1. They scored 32 goals for and 17 goals against.

The League champion goal scorers were H. Norman 8; J. Sharman 7; P. D. Ryan 2; A. Edwards 2; S. Curtis 1; T. Monks 1; F. McKinley 1; (Willshaw, Caledonias, scored through his one goal) making their total 23 goals for and 16 goals against.

The annual meeting of the C. G. E. Football Team will be held in the Montreal House on Wednesday evening at 8 p.m., Sharp. Business — To transact the season's business, and elect new office bearers. Players and all persons interested are requestd to attend.

Nearly all the Vets have resigned for next season and have signed Wilfred Jones of DeLaval fame.

Canadian Woollen Teams for tomorrow evening against the Caledonians will be S. Calladine, goal; J. Cridland and I. Hillman, backs, J. Montgomery, H. Jackson and A. Styles, half backs; C. Thorpe, H. Jones, J. Chambers, J. Hodson and C. Clarke, forwards.

OUTSIDE NEWS.

Thomas Cahill, secretary of the United States Soccer Association, announces that the player Dickson protested by the Grand Trunk Club when the lost the Provincial Connaught Cup honors, is a professional.

Cahill says he was a professional with the Robins of Brooklyn before he went to Akron and that he has protested to the Dominion Association for allowing Akron to go on a trip through Canada. This complicates the Connaught Cup troubles again.

Connaught Cup Scores.

The Provincial series of the Connaught Cup are almost completed. British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan have yet to declare their winners. Westinghouse team of Hamilton, will represent Ontario, while C.P.R., Montreal, will endeavor to keep the trophy for Quebec. Manitoba will be represented by Britannias of Winnipeg, and C.P.R. Grain exchange will represent New Ontario. Nova Scotia will not be represented this year.

Until the Western Provinces have declared their winners definite arrangements cannot be made for the finals.

Judging from the large number of entries reecived, this competition becomes more and more popular each year. Ontario heads the list with 9. Quebec 24, Manitoba 17. New Ontario 4, Saskatchewan 2, with Alberta and B. C., still to make returns.

A few Changes.

It is interesting to note that the special committee appointed by the O. F. A., to discuss proposed amendments for the D.F.A. constitution have decided to recommend that the D.F.A. withdraw from the International Federation.

This is only as it should be, and would be falling into line with both Great Britain and France, who still refuse to have any conneection with the countries who fought against us in the late war. The other recommendations made by the O. F. A. committee are:

1. To change the date of the finals and annual meeting from August to September.
2. That 30 days' notice of any change in the constitution be given to the secretary of the D. F. A., and only such changes shall be discussed at the annual meeting unless sanctioned by a two thirds majority of those present and entitled to vote.
3. That the D. F. A. withdraw from the International Federation and fall in line with Great Britain and France in this connection.
4. That the rule governing players leaving this country and returning, be amended. Deleting the six months residence clause and adding the words "must establish his amateur status."

OSHAWA WON THE TUG OF WAR AFTER A HARD STRUGGLE

Oshawa and Nassau L.O.L.'s clashed in the tug of war yesterday afternoon and after a hord fought battle Oshawa won, carrying off the box of cigars.

Lindsay went down to defeat before the Oshawa nine to the tune of 12-5. Undaunted by the late hour at which the game started the boys went hungry to finish the game and finish it they did but it was after seven o'clock. Ophn Claus twirled for Oshawa while Charles Willis did the receiving. Lansday's battery was Walker and Grynes. The winners secured $25 and the losers $15 towards their expenses.

An exhibition game of lacrosse was played between two picked teams the final tally being 7 to 6. Jack Creighton refereed the game.

PRIZES RECEIVED FOR THE REGATTA

CITIZENS RESPOND GENEROUSLY FOR NEXT SATURDAY'S WATER SPORTS.

Peterborough's second annual regatta will be held next Saturday afternoon off Rye's boat-house and the Lock Street Wharf. The list of events have been published, and the committee in charge of the arrangements report the following prizes already received from merchants and other citizens: T. E. Curvin, six silver spoons; Wm. Lech & Sons, a $5 hat; J. H. Renwick, $5; J. J. Duffus, 2 spark plugs; White Bros., 1 flash light; J. John, 10 lbs. of tea; Louis Yentes, 1 box of cigars; T. C. Elliott, safety razor; Peterborough Canoe Co., one double cushion, one single cushion, one pair of paddles and one back rest; H. B. Rye, one double paddle and one pair of cherry paddles; Grant & Thorpe, one flash light; Dan. McCabe, one box of cigars; James Murty, a tea kettle; Thornton Bros., one cap; Robt. Neill Co., pair of men's sport shoes; Merrell and Meredith, bathing suit; Jack Primeau, a gold tie pin; Dr. Lacey, Eversharp pencil; F. Wilson, $1; H. Frost, jack-knife; C. M. Moncur, bottle of perfume; Chas. Ray, $2; Ocean Blend Tea Co., 3 lbs. of tea; Jordan Bros., fern; G. O'Brien, grocer, and E. F. Mason, prizes not specified; United Cigar Co., box of cigarettes.

The committee gratefully acknowledge these donations, and will be glad to receive any others. This year's regatta promises to be a big success, and should surpass last year's in attendance and in the number of entries in the different events.

BELLEVILLE CHAMPIONS PLAY LINDSAY TO-MORROW.

The Belleville ball nine, champions of the Central Ontario League, will play Lindsay on the latter's grounds to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. This promises to be a keenly contested game. The locals are determined to give the champions a battle royal. They are going to Lindsay with their strongest line-up, as they realize the Graybirds are playing classy ball.

LINDSAY BOWLERS.

Arrangements will be made to-night for Lindsay's game with Port Perry to-morrow at 1.30.

According to schedule Cannington is billed to play at Lindsay on Friday, Lindsay goes to Uxbridge July 20, Sunderland on July 23rd. Beaverton plays in Lindsay July 30.

LADIES' TOURNAMENT.

STONEY LAKE NEWS

STONEY LAKE, July 13. — The Saturday evening dance at Juniper Island was largely attended, and was one of the most pleasant of these popular dances ever held. The floor was in good condition and the music superb, and the young people were eager to make the most of it. The night was so clear that the music could be heard and enjoyed a couple of miles away. Motor boats, canoes, skiffs, and the serviceable little put-puts all brought their quota of pleasure-seekers to the dance, and none went away disappointed.

Held Service.

Rev. Brown, rector of St. Barnabas Church, Toronto, conducted the services in St. Peter's on the Rock on Sunday morning. The service was splendidly attended and much appreciated, the singing being particularly hearty.

Mrs. George Suckling, of Peterborough is visiting her sister, Mrs. K. G. Lech, at Kenmore.

Yee Chow, Viamede's Chinese chef, made a new record on Saturday afternoon when he landed a 10-pound lunge, while out trawling. This is his second lunge, the other weighing 6 pounds.

Shore Dinner.

Messrs. Schultz and Kline, of Cleveland, and their guide, Dave Drain, have made some splendid catches during the past week. These gentlemen, who are guests at Viamede, gave their annual shore dinner party on Saturday, and their guests all pronounced it the best ever. The dinners are an institution, and those who are privileged by an invitation regard it as a special favour. The guests at Saturday's party included Archdeacon and Mrs. Beamish, of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Klippert, of Toronto, the Misses Smith, of Campbellford, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jennings, of Toronto.

Visitors Arriving.

The summe visitors are thronging to Stoney Lake, and cottages and hotels are rapidly filling up. Launches and the mosquito fleet of business-like put-puts, canoes, and skiffs are everywhere, and the favourite picnic spots are again the mecca of the young people.

Indian River is one of the most popular spots for picnics, and it is so picturesque that one can go again and again, and still find new beauties. The pine groves and the pretty little stream with its miniature rapids invite the pleasure-seeker to spend a happy time with them.

Eel's Creek is also a favourite spot, but is not quite as easy of access, but to those who are enterprising and not afraid of a little work, the canoe trip to the high falls is quite well worth while. This trip is different from any other to be found at Stoney Lake, and is not at all difficult, as the portages are few and very easy, and the distance is not more than a couple of miles.

Perry's Creek is another of the spots to which pleasure-seekers flock, and its turbulent waters rush into Stoney Lake from Lovesick Lake higher up. This place is very convenient for the Y.W.C.A. Camp, and is very popular with the girls.

Rosherville Gardens is another beauty spot, a little off the beaten track and comparatively little known. It is a picturesque channel that begins near the Devil's Elbow and comes out above Hurrican Point. It is one of the most delightful canoe trips on or near Stoney Lake. Later in the season navigation is difficult owing to the dense growth of lilies and other water flowers which inspired its high-sounding name.

Fairy Lake, the lake of mysterious origin, is one of the most beautiful spots in the district. The owner of the property, Mr. Irwin, of Peterborough, very kindly allows sightseers to visit the lake, only asking that no fires are lit and that no attempt is made to fish in the lake. This beautiful little sheet of water, with its numerous inlets covered in the season with pure white water lilies, is one of the most attractive places in the Kawartha Lake region.

These are by no means all the points of interest on the lake. There are many places well worth a visit, and with a canoe, a camera, and a bite of lunch one can spend many a happy and profitable day enjoying the simple life.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

By strengthening the nerves, weak, tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health.

CAUTION.— Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

THE IDLE EDITOR.

At a social function, the editor of the local weekly was entertaining a lady visitor. Part of the conversation ran something like this: "Oh, you own a newspaper. How interesting. When do you publish it?" "Every Thursday." "Every Thursday. And what do you do the res tof the week?"—Rocanville Record.

UNDERSTAND EVERTHING BUT

A white man once tried to explain the workings of an automobile to an Indian. After he had talked himself blue in the face for three hours, he patted the Indian, on the back and said, "Now, do you understand?"

"I understand everything," answered the Indian, solemnly, "except—what makes it go without horses?"—Rodville News.

SIGN FAST MEN.

Johnny Sutherland has signed three new men, two of whom made a fine impression in the Oshawa game here a few weeks ago. They are Louis Rice, Angus Dionne and Pete Regis, all of them structural steel workers on the new C.G.E. buildings. They have been turning out to practice regularly, and are keen to play with the Peterborough team. Unquestionably they will bring new strengh to the team. One of the Scriver boys of Hastings will also play with the local team, which has had several offers of games with Oshawa and a Toronto club. O. A. L. A. headquarters in a recent letter, express regret that Peterborough was not grouped in the first round, but it was pointed out that the schedule is being played off and that Peterborough will soon be in the second round. In the meantime practice nights are three times a week, and the players are faithfully turning out. This is imperative if the team is to make the showing expected of it. Some of the new men state that Peterborough has a big chance, and the fans who have been waiting expectantly for the "big show" of lacrosse to open here will soon have their innings.

NO NIGHT GAMES IN CITY LEAGUE

There will be no City League games this week until Saturday, when there will be a double header, with the Woollens and Veterans playing in the first game and the C.G.E. and Thistles in the second.

STAMPS ISSUED BY GOVERNMENT

To avoid any confusion such as evidently exists in other centres, Mr. W. H. Buller, local Inland Revenue officer, wants the merchants to clearly understand that the recently issued excise stamps are not be used on commodities such as clothes or jewellery taxable under the luxury tax.

In other centres these stamps have been put on these commodities by merchants who refuse to heed the regulations, and think they can substitute these stamps for the sales slips.

These stamps are only for promissory notes, bills of exchange, etc., and have no bearing on the luxury tax.

HIGH PRICE OF POTATOES KEPT CADETS AT HOME

PETERBORO CADETS WILL BE INTERESTED TO KNOW WHY THEY DIDN'T GO TO CAMP.

(Special to Examiner.-

KINGSTON, July 13.—There is an interesting story in connection with the holding up of the cadet camp which should have opened at Barriefield yesterday and the facts just became known today. Camp was held up because of the high cost of potatoes. The high cost of food stuffs was found to be a heavy item in the expense account but potatoes form a prominent part in the bill of fare and it was found that the spuds could not be secured for less than five and six dollars per bag. The discussion on the high costs of the potatoes was prolonged and as a result no money was put into the estimates for them. It is hoped that when the camp opens up the latter part of August price of potatoes will have taken a drop.

Personal

CHARLES J. READ.

The sudden death took place on Monday morning at Millford, Mass., of Charles J. Read, of Toronto, an architect of Dominion-wide reputation, and a gentleman who had many friends in Lindsay, where he visited quite often. The deceased was in Lindsay on Monday of last week, and left the following Tuesday for Massachusetts on professional business.

He was born in the States and lived a short time with his parents in Peterborough, afterwards settling in Toronto. He was a former member of Lindsay Council Knights of Columbus, Past Grand Knight of Toronto Council, and for a number of years filled the position of President of St. Mary's Literary and Athletic Association in Toronto. He was an old member of St. Mary's baseball team in that city, and was conceded to be one of the best amateur pitchers in the Dominion.

As an architect the deceased was in the front rank. He was Separate School architect, and also designed the plans for the Princess Theatre, Shea's Hippodrome, and other well-known structures in that city. He was also the architect of the Catholic Seminary under course of construction at Brockville.

The late Mr. Read was unmarried, and resided with his mother in Toronto. He is also survived by three brothers, William, of Millford, Mass., at whose home he passed away, James and Frank, of Toronto.

NEW INDUSTRY AT FENELON.

Fenelon Falls Gazette: Seveal men have been employed preparing the stone building, formerly occupied as a grist mill, for the new plant that will move to the village in the course of the next few weeks. They are putting in the floors and white washing and as soon as this is complete an elevator will be installed and the machinery which is being shipped about July 15th from Hamilton. The plant will manufacture bathtubs, paper bailers, etc., when in operation and will no doubt be a boon to the village.

CHICAGO MAN HELD WITHOUT BAIL—COMMITTED MURDER IN COLD BLOOD.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Carl Wanderer, former army lieutenant, self-confessed slayer of two persons, one of whom was his wife, a pretty choir singer, and the other a man with whom he had plotted a feigned hold-up in order to take her life, was ordered held without bail on a charge of murder by a Coroner's jury.

Wanderer to-day placed blame for the tragedy on his familiarity with firearms in the army, his roving temperament and his association with his father's butcher shop.

Planned Murder in Cold Blood.

"I planned the whole thing in cold blood because I decided that was the only way I could do it and get away with it," he said. "The thought of killing a person wasn't so repugnant to me as it might be to most persons because of my experience in my father's butcher shop. A man in a butcher shop gets so closely acquainted with blood that he loses his aversion to it.

"Then, in the army I had practiced a good deal at target shooting and became too well acquainted with firearms, and I learned to love the army life above everything else in the world.

"In addition to these things, my name sets me forth correctly—I am a wanderer and a rover by nature. I hate to be tied down. I was not intended for married life. With these influnces working in my veins the step from discontent to what I did was a short one. Of course, I am sorry for what I did: any sane man would be, and I am sane, but that doesn't help matters now.

"I loved my wife in spite of what I have done. I loved her too well to desert her and leave her with memories of a ruined romance to keep her company during the rest of her life.

"I decided the easiest way out was to kill her. Most men after doing that would have been sleepless and haunted by visions at night. I wasn't. I slept like a top and didn't have a single dream that I can remember."

This statement was contradictory of one he made earlier.

"I am sorry I had to kill that other chap, but I was afraid he would 'squeal.' Killing him didn't do any good, for I did not have presence of mind enough to remember that those army automatics were numbered."

Wants to be Hanged.

Carl Johnson, brother-in-law of Wanderer, was the only member of the family present at the inquest. Both kept their eyes averted from the other and no sign of recognition passed between them.

"We shall go before the Grand Jury and ask for his indictment on a charge of murder," State's Attorney Hoyne said. "It is one of the most cold-blooded and revolting crimes in Chicago's history. We shall ask an immediate trial and the rope."

"I want to be hanged," Wanderer commented. "I hope to join her in death. I wonder if she will forgive me. Well, I loved her too much to let another man get her. But I didn't want her myself."

Wanderer said that he did not wish to desert his wife and join the army but wished to be "free."

He was moved from the cell he occupied in the detention home to the "death cell" from which several murderers have gone to their fate.

"I like the cell all right, but I can't rest on these boards," he declared. "Get my blankets from my old cell." This was done.

He continued:

"I certainly will sleep better now. I feel better with that off my chest. I had bad dreams and the picture of the hallway with my wife lying there came back, noce in a while. I feel like a new man and I'm ready to kick off whenever they want to take me."

One of the anomalies of the case which misled the police for weeks was the romance of the couple and their supposedly happy married life. Wanderer, who had never smoked, chewed, drank or indulged in slang, had but one love affair ,the one with Ruth Johnson, who became his wife at the conclusion of a war romance.

"She was the only girl I ever kissed," he told the police. He took her to church every Sunday. They married after the ex-Lieutenant returned from France.

MARSHAL FOCH SUMMONED BY THE SUPREME COUNCIL

GERMAN REJECTION OF ALLIED SOLUTION OF COAL DELIVERY PROBLEM MAY LEAD TO COMPLICATIONS.

(Canadian Press.)

SPA, Belgium, July 14.—Field Marshal Wilson of Great Britain, who was summoned here yesterday by the Supreme Allied Council, after the German delegates had rejected the Allied solution of the coal delivery problem, is expected to arrive here to-night. He is expected to immediately confer with Marshal Foch, who also was summoned by the Council and with the Allied Premiers.

In some quarters there is expectation that the Germans will make a fresh offer during the day. No disposition was shown by Chancellor Fehrenbach and Dr. Simons this morning to yield to the Allies on the question of coal deliveries.

"German delegation regrets that the conference may be dissoved without further agreement," said Dr. Simons to the correspondent, "but we have done as much as we could and await the action of the Allies."

Sentence Deferred in the Bagley Case

BROTHER OF ACCUSED IS PREPARED TO MAKE RESTITUTION —HITCH IN ARRANGEMENTS.

Sentence was deferred in the case of J. G. Guise-Bagley in County Court this morning to 7th September by His Honour Judge Huycke.

Bagley's brother in England is making restitution for the money Bagley is alleged to have embezzled from his clients, but due to a mistake in the drawing up of the bonds a delay has occurred, and two new bonds will have to be drawn up.

F. D. Kerr, appearing for Bagley, asked for an enlargement of the case in order to allow of the new bonds to be drawn up and restitution made.

Mr. Kerr stated that G. N. Gordon, who is representing the interests of the embezzled clients, had expressed himself as satisfied with an enlargement which would enable restitution to be made.

Crown Attorney Hatton stated that he could not see how much farther ahead the Court would be if the new bonds were drawn up, but if an enlargement would expedite matters in any way, the Crown would not object. He was of the opinion that the case should not be allowed to go on indefinitely.

R. D. Hall, appearing for the assignee of Bagley's estate, expressed himself as in accord with Mr. Kerr's request for an enlargement. He believed that a small enlargement was the proper thing under the circumstances.

Peculiar Circumstances.

His Honour Judge Huycke stated that the circumstances in this case were, of course, peculiar. He was very anxious to see restitution made both for the sake of Bagley's creditors and Bagley himself. The frequent adjournments, however, had placed the Court in a not altogether commendable position, he feared, and it looked like using a criminal Court to enforce civil remedies. But, on the other hand, His Honour continued, those women who had lost their money might lose all opportunity should Bagley be sentenced to-day, as Bagley's brother might in that case throw the matter up.

Consequently, His Honour decided to grant an enlargement until 7th September, with the condition that sentence might be delivered earlier if the defence, having completed its attempts at restitution, saw fit.

A LARGE MUSHROOM IN A MAPLE TREE

A large mushroom growing half way up a maple tree attracted the attention of Mr. J. C. Lang while on his way to work this morning. Mr. Lang dislodged the mushroom with the aid of an umbrella and brought it into the Examiner, where it was examined and measured by Mr. H. Theobald, the agricultural editor. It was a large specimen.

CAR STALLED AND BACKED DOWN HILL

OAKWOOD MAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE ON STEEP GRADE NEAR OMEMEE.

The long hill, two miles east of Omemee, was the scene of two or three accidents Monday night, but Mr. Sam Gorrill, of Oakwood, perhaps had the worst, while he was climbing up the long hill the car stalled and the gears were stripped. Apparently the brakes refused to work and the car backed down the hill, finally swerving into the ditch. Fortunately it remained upright and the passengers escaped unhurt, beyond being badly frightened.

It will be remembered that Mr. Gorrill met with an accident a year ago while coming out of Omemee, when his car ran over a steep embankment.

GIRL WANTS TO SHOOT THE FALLS

AFTER A PERMIT TO GO OVER IN A BARREL.

(Special to The Examiner.)

NIAGARA FALLS, July 14.—There is another person, this time a young lady, who would "shoot" the Falls of Niagara in a barrel, according to a letter received by Mayor Thompson, it was learned to-day.

The young lady gave her name and address as Miss Vernia Morrison, 20 Bismarck Avenue, Detroit. She said in the letter she was just crazy to try the stunt, and asked where she could get a permit to make the trip. She said she is 24 years old.

Mayor Thompson said he would do all in his power to prevent anyone attempting the foolhardy trip over the Falls.

No further trace of Charles Stephens, who lost his life in going over the Falls on Sunday has yet been found.

STILL ADVISED TO BOIL WATER

LITTLE IMPROVEMENT IN QUALITY OF CITY WATER.

The citizens are still advised by Dr. McPherson, M.O.H., and Mr. R. L. Dobbin, Waterworks Superintendent, to boil all water for little improvement is apparent in the condition of the supply. Mr. Dobbin stated this afternoon that they were using ten pounds of chlorine in 10,000,000 gallons of water. This is a large amount when it is considered that Toronto has never exceeded five pounds to the same volume and Peterboro has never used more than half this before and in only two or three ordinarily. They are now pumping about 3,600,000 gallons a day so a total of 40 lbs. of liquid chlorine is consumed daily.

There was considerable danger in drinking the water without boiling it even if this chlorine is a great protection, he said. The pollution in past summers was nothing compared to this year and Mr. Dobbin declared that it plainly showed the need of the filtration plant. Several tests have been made of the water all up the river and the matter is one to cause worry. The increase in cottagers and the lumber drives bringing more men up the river were largely responsible was his opinion.

There had been numerous complaints of people being able to taste the chlorine but the superintendent said that while it could be plainly noticed at the Waterworks he did not think it was noticeable to any extent at the taps. There was one thing he said where the difference with heavy chlorination was noticed in making tea. Many old tea grannys are having their liquid beverage spoiled and did not know why it was. The chlorine similarily affects the tea and boiled water must be used for a satisfying cup.

They could chlorinate up to 25 or 30 lbs. if necessary without there being any danger of poisoning anyone, he said.

The chlorination, if continued, he stated, would kill much of the vegetable matter and minute animals that grow and thrive in the mains.

R. W. WIGMORE IS MINISTER CUSTOMS

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, July 14.—R. W. Wigmore, M. P., for St. John, N.B., was last night sworn in as Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue, and member of the Privy Council by the Duke of Devonshire on Board the Governor-General's private car at Bonaventure station.

This unusual manner of swearing in a member of the Canadian Government was made necessary by the fact that R. W. Wigmore could not reach Ottawa in time to meet His Excellency before he left for a trip to the Maritime Provinces.

Further Advance

FIERCE FIGHTING BETWEEN THE BOLSHEVIK AND THE POLES.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 14.— Further advances by the Bolsheviki in the campaign against the Poles are reported in Tuesday's official communique received by wireless from Moscow to-day. The statement says:

"In the direction of Kovel we crossed the River Gorya twenty miles south-west of Sarny and are developing our advance. Fierce fighting is proceeding in our favour.

"Our advance along the entire front continues to develop successfully."

"In the direction of Lida we have occupied the railway station at Prudy and Polotchany and Ushatochka. We have driven the enemy from his position on the River Svislotch and occupied Mikhanokitchi and Stazonis." to the village.

STRAWBERRIES ARE STILL HANGING ON A BETTER LINE OF FRUIT IS COMING ON PETERBORO MARKET.

The strawberry crop has had a long tenure of life but there are still some in the fruit stores at 25 and 28 cents. Raspberries are displayed in small quantities at 35 cent a box. A few days it is expected will see the berries arriving in large quantities. Gooseberries are retailing at 25 cents a quart. The crop is small the dealers say. Big luscious black cherries are bringing $1.75 a six quart basket while the red cherries are $1.75 for an eleven quart basket. Watermelons are as dear as ever, $1.75 to $2.00 apiece.

Tomatoes are steady at 0 cents New celery is selling at 18 cents a bunch. New potatoes from this district are $1.40 a peck while the imported ones are a little cheaper. The price of green peas and beans is unchanged.

COMMITTED BREAGH OF THE QUARANTINE

FINE IMPOSED IN POLICE COURT THIS MORNING.

H. Giguere, of 307 Townsend street, appeared this morning at the police court on a charge of breaking the smallpox quarantine, and was fined $5.00 and costs of $3.10.

It was charged that while Giguere's wife had the smallpox, and the house was quarantined, Giguere left home and went to Toronto.

There have been several cases of breach of quarantine and the Medical Officer of Health decided to make an example of this case as a warning to those who are now quarantined for measles.

EXAMINATIONS OUT ON 17TH

Due to the lateness of the High school Entrance examinations this year the results are not yet known, and anxious, apprehensive youngsters, must yet wait a day or two for the results to be announced. Mr. Mowat, Public School Inspector, stated to-day that they would probably be out by the 17th.

The Matriculation and Norman Entrance examination candidates would know their fate about the first of the month he believed.

CAR SHORTAGE BLAMED FOR THE COAL SHORTAGE

OPERATORS MEET IN WASHINGTON TO DISCUSS THE SITUATION—WILL CONFER WITH RAILWAY EXECUTIVE.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—One hundred bituminous coal operators, who assembled here at the call of the National Coal Association, declared themselves able to furnish all the coal needed by the country if sufficient cars are made available. The meeting appointed a committee to confer with a committee of railway executives in New York to-day and to appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission to-morrow.

The coal producers indicated a desire that the order of the commission confining the use of openbzg.-fiaax? confining the use of open-top cars to coal be continued in effect after the expiration of the 30-day period, which expires July 21. The railway executives already have requested an extension of the order for an additional 30-day period.

It was asserted by speakers at the meeting that, despite the commission's order, the supply of cars at the mine has been only from 35 to 40 per cent of the number needed. The railroads were accused of failing to carry out the order. The charge was made the other indusries were getting open-top cars contrary to the order of the commission.

The situation in the Northwest and in New England received chief attention at the hands of the conference With respect to the Northwest situation, it was declared to be imperative that additional cars be supplied to move coal to Lake Erie for shipment by lake to the Northwest during the season of open navigation. It was stated that 1,675 cars have been supplied to the mines daily for his purpose, but that 4,000 daily are needed. The latest report of the Geological Survey shows that up to July 3 total lake shipments since the beginning of the season are nearly nearly 4,500,000 tons behind the quantity shipped in the correpoiding period of 1018 and nearly 6,000,000 tons behind 1919.

Getting Ready for the Bye-Elections

WEST PETERBORO INCLUDED IN THE LIST—ADDITIONS TO THE DOMINION CABINET.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, July 14.—With the advent of the new Government, preparations are likely to be made shortly for bye-elections in five constituencies. Acceptance of office in the Meighen administration by F. B. McCurdy and R. W. Wigmore entailed bye-elections in Colchester, N.S., and St. John, N.B., respectively. But when the Government assumed office, there were already two vacancies in Ontario—one in East, Elgin, due to the death of David Marshall, and the other in Peterborough West, due to the resignation of J. H. Burnham.

Acceptance of office of Parliamentary Librarian by Hon. Martin Burrell will entail his resignation as a member of the House.

There is a possibility also of a sixth vacancy, Sir Herbert Ames having taken the position of financial director of the League of Nations, and who is not likely long to retain his seat in the House.

Hon. P. E. Blondin was this morning sworn in as Postmaster-General.

The position of Solicitor-General remains vacant. The Solicitor-General is not a member of the Cabinet as a general rule.

THE NEW MINISTERS.

Loyal Conservatives with a strain of superstition about them will shiver when they read that on 13th July thirteen Borden Ministers were sworn in as members of the Meighen Government.

Three new Ministers were also sworn in: Hon. F. B. McCurdy member for Colchester, N.S., as Minister of Public Works; Hon. Rupert W. Wigmore, member for St. John, N.B., as Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue, and Hon. E. K. Spinney, Liberal-Unionist member for Yarmouth and Clare, as Minister without portfolio.

In the case of the Hon. Messrs. McCurdy and Wigmore this will entail bye-elections, but not in the case of Hon. Mr. Spinney as his new position is honorary and does not carry with it a salary.

By this means it is hoped to give the form of Liberal representation to the Maritime Provinces, and thus justify to some extent the name of the new party.

THE COMPLETED CABINET.

The complete Cabinet slate is as follows:

HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN—Prime Minister and Secretary of State for External Affairs.

SIR GEORGE E. FOSTER—Minister of Trade and Commerce.

HON. C. J. DOHERTY—Minister of Justice.

HON. ARTHUR SIFTON—Secretary of State.

HON. J. A. CALDER—President of the Privy Council and Minister of Immigration and Colonisation.

SIR HENRY DRAYTON—Minister of Finance.

HON. J. D. REID — Minister of Railways and Canals.

SIR JAMES LOUGHEED—Minister of the Interior and Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs.

HON. P. E. BLONDIN—Postmaster-General.

HON. C. C. BALLANTYNE—Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

HON. GIDEON ROBERTSON—Minister of Labour.

HON. HUGH GUTHRIE—Minister of Militia and Defence.

HON. S. F. TOLMIE—Minister of Agriculture.

HON. F. B. McCURDY—Minister of Public Works.

HON. W. R. WIGMORE—Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue.

SIR EDWARD KEMP and HON. E. K. SPINNEY—Ministers without Portfolio.

FEW CHANGES IN PORTFOLIOS

Changes in the distribution of the portfolios are few. The Prime Minister leaves the large Department of the Interior and undertakes the administration of the Department of External Affairs, as well as the discharge of his duties as head of the Administration. Sir James Lougheed succeeds to the office of Minister of the Interior. Hon. J. A. Calder assumes the office of President of the Privy Council ,vacated by the resignation of Hon. N. W. Rowell. Mr. Calder remains as heretofore at the head of the Department of Immigration. Mr. McCurdy succeeds to a portfolio which has been vacant for some months, and Mr. Wigmore to an office vacated by the retirement of the Hon. Martin Burrell.

No Minister has been appointed to the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, Health, or Mines. The Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment will doubtless be administered for the present by Sir James Lougheed, but in time will be placed under the charge of the Minister of Militia. The Department of Mines will be administered as heretofore by the Minister of the Interior. The Department of Public Health, of which Hon. N. W. Rowell was head, will be presided over in all probability by Hon. J. A. Calder. Hon. Hugh Guthrie will continue to act as Solicitor-General, at least for the present.

CITY NOT TAKING ANY MORE ORDERS

CITY COAL SUPPLY IS NEARLY ALL DISPOSED OF.

When questioned to-day on the city's coal supply, City Treasurer Adams stated that they were just out of coal and no more orders were being taken. Possibly there might be one hundred tons on hand, he said. The coal has been sold at $13 a ton.

Although they tried to secure more coal from the coal companies no orders would be taken and no visible supply was in sight. Mr. Adams did not fear any shortage, he said, for he understood the Robert Hicks Co. had plenty of coal assured them and enough to supply the city.

The Examiner was unable to get an interview with Mr. Hicks on the subject for he is in Cobourg to-day in this connection.

NO BLUFFING BY ALLIES.

SPA, Belgium, July 14. — Lloyd George received Dr. Walter Simons, German Foreign Minister at the latter's request, this afternoon, and told him emphatically the Allies were not bluffing. The Allies, he declared, intended seriously to take measures for enforcing the execution of the Versailles treaty, unless the Germans meet the Allies' modified terms regarding coal.

Expects Walkout

LONGSHOREMEN PLAN A BIG STRIKE ON OCTOBER THE FIRST.

WASHINGTON, July 14. — It seems to be taken for granted in Washington that the longshoremen intend pulling a big strike on Oct. 1 by which they will attempt to tie up all the ports along the Atlantic Coast and Gulf. The basis of the prospective strike, it is reported, will be a demand for a dollar an hour all along the line.

The breakdown of the recent strike does not seem to bring the encouragement to Government officials here that it was thought it would, because of their feeling that the larger strike is impending.

The New York, New Orleans and Galveston rates are now 80 cents an hour for deep sea work and 85 cents an hour for coastwise. The rate at Philadelphia is 80 cents for deep sea and 50 cents for coastwise.

It is expected here that when the big strike comes it will narrow down to a straight out open-shop fight due to the fact that the various troubles with organized labor, which troubles have become highly complicated. In many of the ports there is a strong demand for a permanent open-shop system. This is particularly true of Galveston, where the feeling is aided because at Port Arthur, Tex., where the open shop prevails, plenty of longshoremen are obtainable at 65 cents an hour for both deep sea and coastwise work.

A Government official who has been watching the developments closely said to-day that he felt that public sentiment would be against the longshoremen if they struck for 81 an hour, because it could be shown that they can easily earn that sum a week under the present scale, and that they do not need the increase. He predicted that the whole question of the outcome of the strike would hang on the willingness of the communities affected to stand the inconveniences that would result. His opinion is that the open shop is growing in popularity and that the strike will eventually fail.

Southern Beefsteak Delight

The EASIFIRST way

HERE is just one of dozens of dainty luncheon dishes made more delicious by the use of EASIFIRST.

Buy a carton of EASIFIRST. Guard against using too much of it—twelve ounces go as far as sixteen of butter or lard—and the very first time you try it, you'll like it. The second time you'll like it better. After that, nothing will ever satisfy you but EASIFIRST. Its economy will appeal to you, and the cooking results will continually delight you and the family.

Here is the Way to Make it

1 lb. round beefsteak — 2 cloves
½ cup strained tomato — 1 cup boiled rice
2 cups boiling water
2 tablespoons EASIFIRST
1 bay leaf — ½ teaspoon pepper

Cut steak in one inch cubes, roll in flour in which 1 teaspoon salt has been added. Melt EASIFIRST in frying pan, and when hot, brown the steak.

Have ready in a stewing pan the water, tomatoes, bay leaf, cloves and pepper. Add the steak and simmer until tender. Thicken with a little flour and some of the stock. Place on platter and garnish with hot, boiled rice.

Your grocer will supply you. Sold in cartons and tins.

GOAT RAN AWAY SHEESLEY SHOWS

WELTERWEIGHT BOXER HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

Ottie Olsen, the welterweight boxer of the Greater Sheesley Shows, has been boasting of an iron head. Unintentionaly last night, just before the shows closed for the evening, he proved that it was at least as hard as wood.

It was while he was in the athletic tent busily engaged in a day dream, his mind probably wandering off to home and sweetheart. Close by, perched atop of a ladder, was a canvas man, repairing a rip in the tent.

Into the tent rushed 11 year old John Sheesley at the end of a rope. At the front end of the same rope was an exasperated Angora billy goat that was bent on running away. Hence the inward rush. The goat stubbornly raced under the big ladder. And then things began to happen.

The canvass man righted himself and jumped to the padded floor of the platform. But Olsen was in the disastrous line formed by the precipitating ladder and the force of gravity. The impact caused by the sudden stop of the big wooden temple against Olsen's head compelled his body to precipitate to the ground.

Several men who were in the tent had yelled. But it was too late. A score of showmen outside who heard the yells rushed in to see what was wrong. They picked the ladder off the fallen gladiator, expecting to pick up the gladiator dead. But alas, it must needs be a terrific collision to cause damage when two things of equal hardness meet. Olsen got up himself, was a little peeved, and simply said, "You fellows better stop fooling; you might hurt me some day."

Another Royal Suggestion

PIES and PASTRIES

From the NEW ROYAL COOK BOOK

CHEER up! There is no further reason for worrying about table variety. The new Royal Cook Book gives new suggestions for every meal every day. The book is so full of surprises there will never be another dull meal in the home. Here are a few suggestions from the new Royal Cook Book.

Plain Pastry

This recipe is for one large pie with top and bottom crust

2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
⅔ cup shortening
cold water

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder; add shortening and rub in very lightly with tips of fingers (the less it is handled the better the paste will be). Add cold water very slowly, enough to hold dough together (do not work or knead dough). Divide in halves; roll out one part thin on floured board and use for bottom crust. After pie is filled roll out other part for top.

Rich Pastry

2 cups pastry flour
½ teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup shortening
cold water

Sift flour, baking powder and salt; add one-half shortening and rub in lightly with fingers; add water slowly until of right consistency to roll out. Divide in halves; roll out one half thin; put on in small pieces half remaining shortening; fold upper and lower edges in to center; fold sides in to center, fold sides to center again; roll out thin and put on pie plate. Repeat with other half for top crust.

Apple Pie

1¼ cups flour
1½ teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
4 apples, or 1 quart sliced apples
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon milk

Sift flour, baking powder and salt; add shortening and rub in very lightly; add just enough cold water to hold dough together. Roll half out on floured board, line bottom of pie plate; fill in apples, which have been washed, pared and cut into thin slices; sprinkle with sugar; flavor with cinnamon or nutmeg; wet edges of crust with cold water; roll out remainder of pastry; cover pie, pressing edges tightly together and bake in moderate oven 30 minutes.

CAPTAIN SYLVESTER DEAD.

LONDON, July 13.—The death is reported of Capt. Sylvester, who commanded the hospital ship Llandovery Castle when she was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine with Canadian medical officers and nurses on board during the war.

Why Do People Take Monkey Glands?

Rejuvenation, both physically and mental, can be acquired, much easier and more pleasantly than by taking or eating the glands from monkeys. The French have invented a Medicine, in tablet form, that does away with all other means of rejuvenation. These Tablets are now universally sold throughout Canada, and are known as VITAL Tablets. They supply the necessary Vigor and Youth. There is no need to import chimpanzees from Africa, to take their glands to inject into people. Why go to all this trouble, and expense, when VITAL Tablets can now be procured right in your own town from your drug store? VITAL Tablets taken for a short period, disease of every description, old age with all its aches and pains, will be a thing of the past. Young men and women with their pale faces, thin blood, impure blood, blotches on the skin, run down, worn out, tired people, can be placed in a state of good health, with pure blood, strong nerves, a strong stomach, a healthy body, full of youth and vigor. Every Tablet of this new medicine contains the elements to make you feel as nature intended you to feel, no matter what your trouble is, go to your druggist and procure a box of VITAL Tablets. If they do not do you good, go back and get your money. Get on your feet ,away with that pale, worn out look on the face. VITAL will bring back the rose of youth. Price

HUNDREDS OF CITIZENS ON ROAD-MAKING BEE

Port Arthur and Fort William Men Decide Not to Wait.

PORT ARTHUR, July 14.—At two o'clock Saturday morning, between five and seven hundred Port Arthur and Fort Wiliam citizens including doctors, lawyers, merchants, civic officials, aldermen, members of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs embarked on a road-making bee four miles east of Port Arthur. Requests have been made in the past of the Ontario government of road making over a stretch of two miles to link up the twin cities with Wild Goose Point, a popular summer resort. The road was passable for light rigs, but not in shape to handle automobile traffic, so the local citizens have taken the matter in their own hands and will construct the road themselves.

T. R. M'NEILLIE DEAD.

Was for Over 30 Years a Resident of Toronto.

TORONTO, July 14.—Thos. Richardson McNeillie passed away at the residence of his son, 91 Ivy avenue, yesterday. He was born in the parish of Johnstone, Dumfriesshire, Scotland, September 3, 1844. He came to this country with his parents in 1854 and settled in the Township of Clarke, Durham County, where he spent his boyhood days, coming to Toronto in 1892, where he has since resided. He is survived by two sons, Thos. C. and Fred. J., of Toronto, and two daughters, Mrs. Lewis Strome, of Cleveland, Ohio; and Mrs. Momer McCoy, of San Francisco, Cal. A daughter, the wife of Dr. P. McCullough, of Peterboro, died in 1916. Mr. J. R. McNeillie, of Lindsay, is a brother, and Mrs. J. F. Clay of Vancouver, a sister.

CALL THEM JUST PLAIN MEN AND WOMEN NOW

(Canadian Press.)

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., July 14.—The use of the words "ladies" and "gentlemen" is to be discontinued in the parish so far as he is concerned, says the Rev. Bruce Cornford, in his parish magazine. "The words have now absolutely no meaning," he writes. "Foolish class distinctions should have no place in the church. Even the Master called His men and 'woman' while no one would insult Peter by calling him gentleman. The parochial council consists of men and women."

Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People In Two Weeks Time

In many instances says City Physician persons have suffered for years without knowing what made them feel tired, listless and run-down when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood—how to tell.

If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied a multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like coal through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night, others are sleepy and tired all day; some fussy and irritable; some skinny and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases, it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your fagging vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good sound, healthy flesh on your bones. Iron is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and one of the best blood builders in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron, for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial. Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron which is recommended above is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

Making Milk Absolutely Safe

To-day, on most farms, real care is being taken in producing and marketing milk. But it is absolutely impossible to make raw milk SAFE without Pasteurizing and Clarifying—as done in our Creamery.

That is the only one method by which the dangers of the various communicable diseases of cows can be eliminated from raw milk.

A milk pasteurized at thirteen cents a quart has the highest possible public value, because of its Safety, Decency and Price.

A Victory Bond is Capital!

No prudent man or firm ever dissipates Capital, for it is the foundation on which prosperity is based. Anyone who dips into Capital for running expenses is courting trouble and possibly eventual ruin. Don't spend your Victory Bonds. To do so it is like burning down the house to keep warm.

Hold and Buy More

ONCE upon a time there was a peasant who said it was too cold to go out into the woods to chop logs for the fire, so he conceived the idea of chopping up the furniture. In a short time he had disposed of the chair and table—then being cold once more, he took out the window frames and burned them, and after the window frames, the doors.

These being burned he was colder than ever, thereupon he started to tear down the house and burn it piece by piece, until at the end he had neither house nor heat.

The folly of this peasant is not unlike that of the person who for frivolous reasons sells his Victory Bonds which, by painstaking thrift and sacrifice, he acquired as protection for a rainy day. He is disposing of a sheltering roof and knocking out the door that might serve later to keep away the wolf.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 14TH, 1920.

THE ONTARIO LISTS.

Only those people who were eligible to vote at the Provincial election held in October last year will be entitled to vote on the coing Prohibition Referendum, according to an Ottawa authority. If his opinion is correct—and there seems no reason to question it—many residents of Ontario who, in all fairness, should have an opportunity to express their opinion on this most important question will be disfranchised. Returned soldiers who did not get home in time to get their names on last year's lists, people who have reached their majority since last October, and many others who are morally entitled to a vote will be deprived of the privilege. In the other Provinces in which a referendum on the Prohibition question is to be taken this year new lists are to be prepared under the new Dominion Election and Franchise Act, but it is definitely provided that in Ontario the lists used in the 1919 election will have to be employed. It seems unfortunate that thousands of Ontario residents who should have an opportunity to vote will be left off the lists altogether as a result of this ruling.

THE NEW (?) CABINET.

Premier Meighen has taken no chances in the formation of his new Cabinet. The roster has a very familiar sound, only two names appearing on the list which were not in the roll-call of the Borden Cabinet. The Hon. Mr. Meighen has, therefore, eliminated nearly all necessity of holding by-elections, only two such tests being required, and undoubtedly that was a very important consideration when the Cabinet was being selected. F. B. McCurdy, M.P., of Colchester, N.B., and R. W. Wigmore, M.P., of St. John, N.B., represent the new blood in the Cabinet, but the rest of the crew are the same old crowd. Portfolios have been shuffled around a bit, it is true. Hon. Mr. Rowell's position as President of the Council will be filled by Hon. J. A. Calder. Sir James Lougheed succeeds the new Premier as Minister of the Interior. Mr. McCurdy, one of the two new members, has the important portfolio of Minister of Public Works. Whether his occupation in private life as a stock broker will fit him for the portfolio remains to be seen. The Ministry of Customs and Inland Revenue falls to the other newcomer, Hon. Mr. Wigmore.

If there were any hopes that Hon. Mr. Meighen would recognise that the country demands an early election, they have been dashed to the ground by the announcement of the personnel of his Cabinet. His failure to strengthen the executive by the introduction of new and possibly more efficient, more active and more energetic Ministers is not the result of any failure on his part to realise the necessity of such action. Rather is it proof positive that it is the intention of the Hon. Mr. Meighen and his associates to defy the will of the people and to remain entrenched in office until 1922 if possible. New Ministers would mean by-elections and by-elections with the country in its present frame of mind are dangerous affairs that are to be avoided like a plague. Therefore, Mr. Meighen has played safe, and has reduced the risk to the minimum. It is not a very promising start that he has made.

A WASTED EFFORT.

Save that they are giving Mr. J. H. Burnham some splendid advertising, commodity that Mr. Burnham's experience as a newspaper man and in public life has taught him to appreciate, the associations of returned soldiers are wasting their time in passing resolutions calling upon other members of the Government to follow the example of the ex-member for West Peterborough and resign their seats. The crew that is in possession of the Treasury benches at Ottawa have not the remotest idea of throwing up a position that pays $4,000.00 per annum and that has many other recommendations that are not to be despised. There are not many of them who recognise that once their political positions is released for good and all out of sight politically. They have tasted of the wine of office and found it good. What matters it to them, therefore, if their waste paper baskets are kept filled with letters calling upon them to resign? If they can keep from fighting among themselves and present a united front, their seats, they figure, are safe until the year after next. That is worth $8,000 to each private member. Do the returned soldiers imagine that a letter of protest, no matter how strongly it may be worded nor no matter from what organisation it comes, is going to influence anyone to throw away a sure $4,000.00 a year? The members of the Government have frankly declared they are there to stay to the limit, and the press and the public can think and say what they like.

NO NEED FOR ALARM.

Add the Christian Guardian to the list of journals which have not hesitated to commend the action of Premier Drury in investigating the Hydro radial situation before definitely committing the Province.

"As we write, the excitement that had been stirred up over the action of the Ontario Government in staying the plans of the Hydro radial schemes has begun to subside somewhat says the Guardian. "To one on the outside, the reasons for all the excitement do not seem very clear; that is, if the statements of the Premier and his colleagues are to be taken at their face value. According to those statements the delay was solely that the Government might have an opportunity to investigate for itself the whole detail of the scheme, and to understand what obligations might be involved in the carrying of them through. If that is a full statement, certainly the Government action is rather to be commended than censured. It seems just possible that some of the newspapers that have taken a lead in blaming the Government, in their zeal to back up a movement, that had strong public favour and sympathy, have jumped to the rescue a little too precipitatly. Certainly, if the Government has had any weakening of will toward the Hydro plans, it has had a revelation of how strongly in favour those plans are held by the public in general. Sir Adam Beck's statements covering the matter, have been quite reassuring, and lead one to think that his great projects of development do not stand in the danger that some folks seemed to think they did."

THE TRENT CANAL.

The Toronto Star does not think much of the Trent Canal. In an editorial reference to the "waterway" which appeared in last night's issue it declares that the canal, "apart from its electrical developments, is one of the white elephants of Canadian history." In some of its remarks the Star is perhaps justified, but the simple fact remains that the water power developed by the canal will eventually amply repay the money that has been expended in this work, and that as a scenic route for pleasure boats there is no finer stretch of beautiful lakes and rivers on the continent than have been linked into one by the canal.

Here is what the Star says:

"Announcement at last is made that the Trent Canal is open for traffic from Trenton to the Georgian Bay—including all channels, nearly three hundred miles of waterway. The first survey was made in 1833, and since that time over $18,500,000 has been expended on capital account in addition to over a million and a half charged to income. Imperial and Canadian Governments have both had a share in the project. For a time, also, it was handed over to Ontario. And as a result of all these eighty-seven years of labour and this score of millions of expenditure the Dominion has a water thoroughfare through which almost any little motor boat can squeeze its way.

"It is a sad story, and would be sadder still were it not for the fact that water powers have been developed along the route which make it valuable for reasons which were no consideration when its construction was undertaken. As a 'great inland waterway' it is a farce. Pleasure boats of not more than five feet draft can chug their way from end to end of it, and there is some very beautiful scenery en route. Sections of the canal are useful commercially. But taken as a whole, the completed project is of no practical use for through traffic. Apart from its electrical developments, it is one of the white elephants of Canadian history.

"Government after Government used it is a 'sweetener' around election time. There was no occasion to hurry with it, for by dangling two or three alternative routes before the electors, constituencies could be kept bidding for the unbuilt sections, and of course they were expected to bid with their votes. In fact, it is a wonder that the Canal ever got finished at all. It is the Topsy of Canadian canals. It 'jes' growed'.

"It is 87 years old, dating back to the first survey, but far older than that as a seriously-considered project. The famous Duke of Wellington had it in mind as a waterway which would enable the Imperial Government to build ships on Georgian Bay, far from any possible interference from the south. That Government, indeed, built a number of locks, some of which have since been demolished, one at Hastings as recently at 1910. Another at Glen Ross, fourteen miles above Trenton, was constructed in 1837 and destroyed during the present century. And not a boat had ever passed through it. 'Its gates,' says one narrator, 'never opened to greet a friendly vessel, its grey limestone walls never re-echoed to the sound of a steamer's whistle, and for seventy years or more it stood as a monument to the enterprise of the Imperial Government.'

"The whole canal is a monument. But it would be difficult to find just the right inscription."

MILLIONS OF PROFITEERS.

Denial That Capitalists Are More Greedy Than the Common People.

The one sin which we all say must be stopped before relief is possible is profiteering. I know of almost no one who is not howling against profiteering, and at the same time engaged in it. Buy any article in any store and you will be charged an outrageous price, a price having no relation to cost. No workman so humble that he does not hold you up for every possible cent, and without reference to the value of his service.

This is the popular talk everywhere; that capitalists only are to blame, and that they must reform. The truth is that capitalists are no more greedy than the common people. If we hang the capitalists, as is now proposed, we shall not find a remedy.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

SELECT STRAINS OF SWEET CLOVER

PLANTS OF SAME VARIETY DO NOT ALWAYS GIVE SAME CROP RESULTS.

Few farmers who have taken to the growing of sweet clover within the past few years have failed to increase their acreage in this crop, which is sufficient indication that they find it satisfactory in the main, in fact, there are few who have anything to say against it. There are some, however, who have found that there is sweet clover and other sweet clover, even of the same variety, and now the particular ones are beginning to investigate the possibility of selecting strains of families of the best varieties with a view to ensuring a crop of just the right sort every time they sow.

Taking one year with another, sweet clover is one of the most satisfactory yielders of all the forage crops, so far as tonnage is concerned, but if special attention to the source of seed supply is neglected, the quality of the hay is apt to be disappointing in some cases, even though the same variety, with superficially the same characteristics, is used every season. What is desired in sweet clover plant intended for hay, is a plant with fine stem and plenty of branches well covered with leaves. Thick sowing always does something toward bringing about the fine stem and growers have come to recognize sweet sowing as the chief requirement of successful sweet-clover culture where hay-making is their intention. Too thick sowing, however, results very often in fine stems without a sufficiency of branches and leaves, and no matter how fine the hay it is woody and not nearly as nutritious as sweet clover should be.

Speaking of this matter of strain or family in sweet clover varieties, Hon. Manning Doherty, who has been growing sweet clover quite largely on his farm near Cooksville for a good many seasons, said that, in his opinion, the time had come for going into the matter of selecting sweet clover seed at the O. A. C. The determining of the most desirable strains of seed, he declared, would mean a tremendous saving to farmers of the province, as no other crop is being more widely introduced than is sweet clover, at the present time.

By OWEN JOHNSON

"I am not half good enough for him," said Amy in a burst of confidence. "At the bottom, I'm terribly frivolous, I'm afraid."

"And a great flirt," said Mrs. Dellabarre, smiling directly into her eyes.

"I?"

"Yes, my dear, you are, and the more dangerous because it's instinctive. Look out. The dangerous women are not the professional coquettes. Every man who meets them is warned, and forewarned is forearmed. No, no; if I were a man, I should be mortally afraid of a little person, with the eyes of a Madonna and quiet ways, who can still blush when she's pleased."

"Is she warning me to keep off her preserves?" thought Amy to herself and, as she did not lack astuteness or a sense of humor, she said, taking the older woman's hand affectionately, "I'm afraid I don't know much about myself, but if you're going to let me be friends, will you make an agreement. If I ever trespass unconsciously, you'll warn me?"

This was said with a smile breaking about the little red lips that gave a more direct significance to her words.

"You are quite adorable!" said Irma, embracing her and covering her confusion with a laugh. "We'll call it a treaty, then. And to prove my generosity, I'll surrender one of my crocodiles. Oh, I'd have to do it, anyway!"

Amy, who comprehended perfectly that she was thus to acquire Mr. Tody Dawson, played the innocent.

"Crocodiles?" she said, raising her eyebrows.

"That's my expression, my dear. Crocodiles are admirers who want to look very dangerous but can't move quickly enough to catch you—and who like to shed crocodile tears, of course. Tody and Jap are young crocodiles—quite harmless. Don't worry about them. I've trained them thoroughly. They know quite well if they're docile and faithful and don't try to use their teeth, we'll reward them by finding a good match for them."

"But are they so harmless?" said Amy thoughtfully.

"Absolutely," said Irma, with conviction. She turned to her with more friendliness. "My dear, let me give you one piece of advice: When in a tight corner, laugh. The most dangerous man can't stand being laughed at!" She rose, cuddling Mon Amour in her arms, suddenly solicitous. "The only trouble about to-night is what shall I do with this darling? Mon Amour is so wretched to be left alone—and then the night air is so dangerous for the little dear, and if anything happened to him—oh, and about to-night, of course I promised Kitty not to breathe a word about Joe. She'll do that herself the moment she gets a chance at you—you understand. And as for Ruddy, well, there's no use—of course, there's no real reason, but there's no use in mentioning whom we meet—poor Rudy is so fidgety, you know!"

PART XI.

After luncheon, Miss Bane ushered in the children, immaculate and rigid, as though they moved in a spotless existence; Rudolph, Junior, aged six, and Doris, who, at the age of eight, was shooting up so rapidly that Irma never saw her without feeling that she was doing it on purpose. Under the directing eye of Miss Bane, they made the rounds of the table, gravely performing precise courtesies and arrived finally before their mother, whom they contemplated in wondering admiration, as if she were some strange fairy princess. Irma gathered them in impulsively, one under each arm, and embraced them impulsively.

Mon Armour, from his high chair specially made, began to bark in angry thin yapping.

"There, there; I won't kiss them any more," said Irma soothingly. "Did it make him jealous? No; he shan't be teased."

"And how old are you, dear?" said Amy to Doris.

"Eleven, going on twelve," said that young lady innocently.

"What!" exclaimed Mrs. Dellabarre, in a shriek. "Who told you to say that? Tell me at once, Doris—at once."

"Mr. Laracy," said the child, looking frightened.

"Mr. Laracy is a very impertinent person," said Irma, looking daggers at that young joker, who had retired in convulsions of mirth behind his plate. But as the laugh was general, she yielded to it. "Jap, I'll never forgive you—she's quite too enormous as it is!"

"Why, mother?" said Doris, opening her eyes.

"Never mind, my dear," said the mother. "Now be good children and behave properly, and don't sit down in the grass," she added impressively.

The children nodded solemnly and went out. The next moment, they heard them whooping joyfully as they ran out to the motor.

At five o'clock the motors were brought out for a run into the city. Laracy, in the runabout, shot ahead with Mrs. Challoner, while Tody Dawson, at the wheel of the great touring car, directed the stowing of the valises, and a copious supply of rugs against the return home.

"What about Mr. Challoner?" said Amy, who found herself in the back seat with Kitty Lightbody.

"Jack? My, you are an innocent little thing!" said Mrs. Lightbody, rolling her large china eyes. "Take husbands along! Say, child, we're out for a good time." She began to hum merrily to herself, wagging her head in time with her feet, which had already begun to dance. "Lordy me, I'm just expiring for one real spree!"

"But there was not enough men to go around, it seems to me," said Amy, concealing her amusement.

Mrs. Lightbody looked at her with a little suspicion.

"Didn't Irma tell you? Charlie Pardee and Captain Barrisdale are going to join us."

"I'm really quite a country mouse," said Amy maliciously, for she had certain scores to settle; "you must help me not to make any mistakes."

"In what way?"

"Tell me who belongs to whom. I don't want to make any enemy to Mrs. Challoner. Is it Pardee or Barrisdale?"

Kitty laughed, looked quite flustered, laughed again nervously, and finally made up her mind to explain.

"Charlie Pardee is Glady's property," she said.

"And Captain Barrisdale is Irma's?"

"I guess not!" said Kitty Lightbody vehemently.

"I guess not!" said Kitty Lightbody vehemently.

"Oh, I see!" said Amy, laughing. "I was dense, wasn't I?"

"When I say 'property'—" said Mrs. Lightbody, hesitating between two fears, either to appear too rapid or not rapid enough.

"Oh, I understand perfectly. All right; I won't trespass."

"Of course, when I say 'property,'" said Mrs. Lightbody, looking a little worried, "that's just an expression."

"Now she's going to explain," thought Amy, and she waited with delight while her companion floundered on.

"Of course, my dear, it's all innocent enough, at least on my part. What Gladys does, the Lord knows! You can't stop all flirtation just because you're married—can you?"

"Evidently not."

"My dear, that would be too boresome. It would make us hate marriage, wouldn't it?" said Mrs. Lightbody, who prided herself on a sense of logic. "Of course, you're just a bride, and that's different. But after you're married a year or two, you can't be going around all alone where other women are, can you? Ted—that's my husband—and I understand each other perfectly. He wouldn't like it at all if no men paid me attention."

"Oh, that's what Andrew says to me."

"Really, dear? Now, that is sensible. But you mustn't misunderstand. There's nothing really wrong in flirting the way I do. Like a good time. Lord, we've got so little time to enjoy ourselves in this world," said Mrs. Lightbody, with a huge sigh. "But, my dear, I'm most careful. And I make men understand that. If they want to fall in love with me, all right; but they must respect me because I am—"

"A virtuous wife," suggested Amy softly.

"Er—yes. Yes; that's it," said Mrs. Lightbody, so taken back for several moments she stared blankly ahead, without a word to say.

"And Mrs. Dellabarre?" said Amy pensively, with a significant look at Irma, who was bending over Tody Dawson. "Is she a virtuous wife too?"

Mrs. Lightbody responded by raising her eyebrows.

"Irma—oh, Irma's a mystery. Of course, I don't mean to insinuate anything — but Irma's strange, very strange—really, don't ask me!"

At the end of a moment, Amy burst out laughing.

"What are you laughing at, my dear?" said Kitty anxiously.

"Thinking what a splendid chaperon I'm going to be."

"My dear, I suppose you thought I was frightfully sniffy last night," said Mrs. Lightbody, who had a suspicion that her companion was laughing at her for some reason or other and ascribed it to a desire to even up and score. "I was; but I didn't know who you were, did I? You have to be so careful with strangers."

"Oh, naturally," said Amy, who was too amused to cherish resentment, for, by this time, she had come to perceive Kitty Lightbody's place as a foil to Irma and Gladys Challoner—a heavy centerpiece, diverting and useful for the purposes of contrast.

"But you mustn't mind me—it's just my way," continued Mrs. Lightbody, whose bad manners were instinctive. "Really, I admire you, my dear, and I'm sure I'm going to like you enormously."

"Thank you."

"And I hope you'll like me," added Mrs. Lightbody, who gave her confidence generously. "Every one makes the goat of me, but I don't mind. I'm for a good time in this little burg—a short life but a merry one! Don't think I haven't had my trials—I have!" she continued, screaming in Amy's ear against the whip of the wind. "I would be in a sanatorium now, if I wanted to take things seriously. But what's the use—and, then, your husband isn't worse than any one else's, is he? What's the use of quarreling? Let him go his way and you go yours. I'm going to enjoy myself, I am!"

They were passing out of the open country into the suburbs of New York, through the shanty civilization of mingled hordes, who watched the swift passage of the world from communal flats, with tired, memory-haunted eyes, hoping for the day when they too would move on. Incompleted factories; frame shelters to let! parceled lots shaggy with unkempt grass elbow to elbow with pretentious brick stores; garish trimmings; noise and confusion; transitory thrift—stagnant acceptance of life crowded about them in these multitudes who had camped the day before and would crowd dustily on with the morrow.

They did not comprehend poverty or have the illuminating vision which sees beyond mediocrity the climbing generations. Poverty and mediocrity offended their delicate nostrils like the odor of some disfiguring disease. On Amy it had a depressing effect—like the conjured terrors of a sermon. Poverty existed as a warning—the harvest of evil. It brought her closer to Andrew, to what she had dreamed of making of their marriage. While Kitty was rushing on torrentially, she was peering out at the soiled children, the old women set in the gaping windows, the bleakness and the shiftlessness that rolled on like a Gipsy caravan.

She made sudden resolutions. Her husband should never be to her like Kitty Lightbody's or Gladys Challoner's. What she did, she would do openly, with his full knowledge. A little season of youthful extravagance, to feel the fever of gaiety and to grow tired of it. Afterward—in a few years—to grow into womanhood and responsibility. It was right that she should have this hour—her woman's hour. Andrew understood this need in her—

But all at once, ahead, the great Williamsburg Bridge, with its electric necklaces, leaped across the melting night. Beyond the dusky, rolling river, shot with glowworms, the blazing towers of New York flamed against the horizon; fiery balls of light, tossed above the theatric flash of glass palaces which reached upward to the conquest of the sky.

"Don't you love it?" said Mrs. Lightbody ecstatically. "Don't you just LOVE it?"

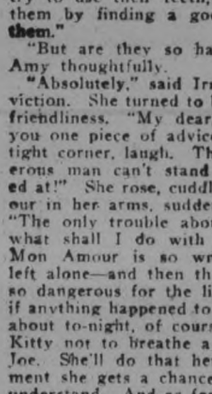
From Cherry-Blossom Land

The Japanese Give Good Example



It is a proverb of Cherry Blossom Land that beauty of face and figure depend on womanly health.

What is it that makes our Canadian women often pale, sallow-faced, with dark circles under the eyes, and very often old at forty-five when they should be in their prime?

Women suffer in girlhood from backache, spine-ache and headaches, followed by irregularities and as a result diseases of the womanly organs are more common than any one but a physician in active practice could suppose.

VIRTUOUS WIVES

By OWEN JOHNSON

"I am not half good enough for him," said Amy in a burst of confidence. "At the bottom, I'm terribly frivolous, I'm afraid."

"And a great flirt," said Mrs. Dellabarre, smiling directly into her eyes.

"I?"

"Yes, my dear, you are, and the more dangerous because it's instinctive. Look out. The dangerous women are not the professional coquettes. Every man who meets them is warned, and forewarned is forearmed. No, no; if I were a man, I should be mortally afraid of a little person, with the eyes of a Madonna and quiet ways, who can still blush when she's pleased."

"Is she warning me to keep off her preserves?" thought Amy to herself and, as she did not lack astuteness or a sense of humor, she said, taking the older woman's hand affectionately, "I'm afraid I don't know much about myself, but if you're going to let me be friends, will you make an agreement. If I ever trespass unconsciously, you'll warn me?"

This was said with a smile breaking about the little red lips that gave a more direct significance to her words.

"You are quite adorable!" said Irma, embracing her and covering her confusion with a laugh. "We'll call it a treaty, then. And to prove my generosity, I'll surrender one of my crocodiles. Oh, I'd have to do it, anyway!"

Amy, who comprehended perfectly that she was thus to acquire Mr. Tody Dawson, played the innocent.

"Crocodiles?" she said, raising her eyebrows.

"That's my expression, my dear. Crocodiles are admirers who want to look very dangerous but can't move quickly enough to catch you—and who like to shed crocodile tears, of course. Tody and Jap are young crocodiles—quite harmless. Don't worry about them. I've trained them thoroughly. They know quite well if they're docile and faithful and don't try to use their teeth, we'll reward them by finding a good match for them."

"But are they so harmless?" said Amy thoughtfully.

"Absolutely," said Irma, with conviction. She turned to her with more friendliness. "My dear, let me give you one piece of advice: When in a tight corner, laugh. The most dangerous man can't stand being laughed at!" She rose, cuddling Mon Amour in her arms, suddenly solicitous. "The only trouble about to-night is what shall I do with this darling? Mon Amour is so wretched to be left alone—and then the night air is so dangerous for the little dear, and if anything happened to him—oh, and about to-night, of course I promised Kitty not to breathe a word about Joe. She'll do that herself the moment she gets a chance at you—you understand. And as for Ruddy, well, there's no use—of course, there's no real reason, but there's no use in mentioning whom we meet—poor Rudy is so fidgety, you know!"

PART XI.

After luncheon, Miss Bane ushered in the children, immaculate and rigid, as though they moved in a spotless existence; Rudolph, Junior, aged six, and Doris, who, at the age of eight, was shooting up so rapidly that Irma never saw her without feeling that she was doing it on purpose. Under the directing eye of Miss Bane, they made the rounds of the table, gravely performing precise courtesies and arrived finally before their mother, whom they contemplated in wondering admiration, as if she were some strange fairy princess. Irma gathered them in impulsively, one under each arm, and embraced them impulsively.

Mon Armour, from his high chair specially made, began to bark in angry thin yapping.

"There, there; I won't kiss them any more," said Irma soothingly. "Did it make him jealous? No; he shan't be teased."

"And how old are you, dear?" said Amy to Doris.

"Eleven, going on twelve," said that young lady innocently.

"What!" exclaimed Mrs. Dellabarre, in a shriek. "Who told you to say that? Tell me at once, Doris—at once."

"Mr. Laracy," said the child, looking frightened.

"Mr. Laracy is a very impertinent person," said Irma, looking daggers at that young joker, who had retired in convulsions of mirth behind his plate. But as the laugh was general, she yielded to it. "Jap, I'll never forgive you—she's quite too enormous as it is!"

"Why, mother?" said Doris, opening her eyes.

"Never mind, my dear," said the mother. "Now be good children and behave properly, and don't sit down in the grass," she added impressively.

The children nodded solemnly and went out. The next moment, they heard them whooping joyfully as they ran out to the motor.

At five o'clock the motors were brought out for a run into the city. Laracy, in the runabout, shot ahead with Mrs. Challoner, while Tody Dawson, at the wheel of the great touring car, directed the stowing of the valises, and a copious supply of rugs against the return home.

"What about Mr. Challoner?" said Amy, who found herself in the back seat with Kitty Lightbody.

"Jack? My, you are an innocent little thing!" said Mrs. Lightbody, rolling her large china eyes. "Take husbands along! Say, child, we're out for a good time." She began to hum merrily to herself, wagging her head in time with her feet, which had already begun to dance. "Lordy me, I'm just expiring for one real spree!"

"But there was not enough men to go around, it seems to me," said Amy, concealing her amusement.

Mrs. Lightbody looked at her with a little suspicion.

"Didn't Irma tell you? Charlie Pardee and Captain Barrisdale are going to join us."

"I'm really quite a country mouse," said Amy maliciously, for she had certain scores to settle; "you must help me not to make any mistakes."

"In what way?"

"Tell me who belongs to whom. I don't want to make any enemy to Mrs. Challoner. Is it Pardee or Barrisdale?"

Kitty laughed, looked quite flustered, laughed again nervously, and finally made up her mind to explain.

"Charlie Pardee is Glady's property," she said.

"And Captain Barrisdale is Irma's?"

"I guess not!" said Kitty Lightbody vehemently.

"I guess not!" said Kitty Lightbody vehemently.

"Oh, I see!" said Amy, laughing. "I was dense, wasn't I?"

"When I say 'property'—" said Mrs. Lightbody, hesitating between two fears, either to appear too rapid or not rapid enough.

"Oh, I understand perfectly. All right; I won't trespass."

"Of course, when I say 'property,'" said Mrs. Lightbody, looking a little worried, "that's just an expression."

"Now she's going to explain," thought Amy, and she waited with delight while her companion floundered on.

"Of course, my dear, it's all innocent enough, at least on my part. What Gladys does, the Lord knows! You can't stop all flirtation just because you're married—can you?"

"Evidently not."

"My dear, that would be too boresome. It would make us hate marriage, wouldn't it?" said Mrs. Lightbody, who prided herself on a sense of logic. "Of course, you're just a bride, and that's different. But after you're married a year or two, you can't be going around all alone where other women are, can you? Ted—that's my husband—and I understand each other perfectly. He wouldn't like it at all if no men paid me attention."

"Oh, that's what Andrew says to me."

"Really, dear? Now, that is sensible. But you mustn't misunderstand. There's nothing really wrong in flirting the way I do. Like a good time, Lord, we've got so little time to enjoy ourselves in this world," said Mrs. Lightbody, with a huge sigh. "But, my dear, I'm most careful. And I make men understand that. If they want to fall in love with me, all right; but they must respect me because I am—"

"A virtuous wife," suggested Amy softly.

"Er—yes. Yes; that's it," said Mrs. Lightbody, so taken back for several moments she stared blankly ahead, without a word to say.

"And Mrs. Dellabarre?" said Amy pensively, with a significant look at Irma, who was bending over Tody Dawson. "Is she a virtuous wife too?"

Mrs. Lightbody responded by raising her eyebrows.

"Irma—oh, Irma's a mystery. Of course, I don't mean to insinuate anything — but Irma's strange, very strange—really, don't 'ask me!"

At the end of a moment, Amy burst out laughing.

"What are you laughing at, my dear?" said Kitty anxiously.

"Thinking what a splendid chaperon I'm going to be."

"My dear, I suppose you thought I was frightfully sniffy last night," said Mrs. Lightbody, who had a suspicion that her companion was laughing at her for some reason or other and ascribed it to a desire to even up and score. "I was; but I didn't know who you were, did I? You have to be so careful with strangers."

"Oh, naturally," said Amy, who was too amused to cherish resentment, for, by this time, she had come to perceive Kitty Lightbody's place as a foil to Irma and Gladys Challoner—a heavy centerpiece, diverting and useful for the purposes of contrast.

"But you mustn't mind me—it's just my way," continued Mrs. Lightbody, whose bad manners were instinctive. "Really, I admire you, my dear, and I'm sure I'm going to like you enormously."

"Thank you."

"And I hope you'll like me," added Mrs. Lightbody, who gave her confidence generously. "Every one makes the goat of me, but I don't mind. I'm for a good time in this little burg—a short life but a merry one! Don't think I haven't had my trials—I have!" she continued, screaming in Amy's ear against the whip of the wind. "I would be in a sanatorium now, if I wanted to take things seriously. But what's the use—and, then, your husband isn't worse than any one else's, is he? What's the use of quarreling? Let him go his way and you go yours. I'm going to enjoy myself, I am!"

They were passing out of the open country into the suburbs of New York, through the shanty civilization of mingled hordes, who watched the swift passage of the world from communal flats, with tired, memory-haunted eyes, hoping for the day when they too would move on. Incompleted factories; frame shelters to let! parceled lots shaggy with unkempt grass elbow to elbow with pretentious brick stores; garish trimmings; noise and confusion; transitory thrift—stagnant acceptance of life crowded about them in these multitudes who had camped the day before and would crowd dustily on with the morrow.

They did not comprehend poverty or have the illuminating vision which sees beyond mediocrity the climbing generations. Poverty and mediocrity offended their delicate nostrils like the odor of some disfiguring disease. On Amy it had a depressing effect—like the conjured terrors of a sermon. Poverty existed as a warning—the harvest of evil. It brought her closer to Andrew, to what she had dreamed of making of their marriage. While Kitty was rushing on torrentially, she was peering out at the soiled children, the old women set in the gaping windows, the bleakness and the shiftlessness that rolled on like a Gipsy caravan.

She made sudden resolutions. Her husband should never be to her like Kitty Lightbody's or Gladys Challoner's. What she did, she would do openly, with his full knowledge. A little season of youthful extravagance, to feel the fever of gaiety and to grow tired of it. Afterward—in a few years—to grow into womanhood and responsibility. It was right that she should have this hour—her woman's hour. Andrew understood this need in her—

But all at once, ahead, the great Williamsburg Bridge, with its electric necklaces, leaped across the melting night. Beyond the dusky, rolling river, shot with glowworms, the blazing towers of New York flamed against the horizon; fiery balls of light, tossed above the theatric flash of glass palaces which reached upward to the conquest of the sky.

"Don't you love it?" said Mrs. Lightbody ecstatically. "Don't you just LOVE it?"

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

WHOLE CONTINENT OF AMERICA COMBED FOR AMBROSE J. SMALL

EVERY COUNTRY IN THE CIVILIZED WORLD FLOODED WITH DESCRIPTION OF MISSING MEN.

BAFFLING MYSTERY

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Ont., July 14.—Whether it is eventually established as a case of kidnapping or violent death, or merely a convenient dropping out of sight for the time being, the double disappearance of Ambrose J. Small, millionaire theatrical man of this city, and his secretary, John Doughty, both well-known citizens of Toronto, will go down into police history here probably as the most mysterious and baffling to date. Small has been missing since December 2, and Doughty since December 28, last.

Busy Police Force.

Toronto police detectives have had numerous trips to New York and other points on sundry clues on both or either of the men, but so far nothing substantial has been ascertained regarding their movements since the dates mentioned. Many square yards of earth have been dug up, the waters of the bay have been dragged and many bodies examined as assumptions which turned out to be cases of mistaken identity. The whole continent of America has been combed by detectives in search of some clue as to what has become of the missing men, and practically every country in the civilized world has been flooded with circulars describing Mr. Small and offering rewards for the recovery of him, dead or alive.

$1,750,000 Deal.

Mr. Small had just put through a deal for the sale of his interests in a string of theatres in Canada at $1,750,000 to a syndicate known as Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, and a few hours before his disappearance on December 2 he had received a cheque for $1,000,000 in connection with the sale. This cheque he deposited in his bank. On that day he had lunch with his wife down town, and promised her to be home to dinner in the evening. He attended to some business late that afternoon at the Grand Opera House here, which was included in the properties sold to Trans-Canada Theatres, and about 7 o'clock started for home, so far as is known. The last person known to have seen him was his favorite newsboy, from whom Mr. Small bought the evening papers, as usual.

Big Rewards.

The fact that Mr. Small was missing was not made public until three or four weeks had elapsed. In the first week in January the first circulars asking for information as to Mr. Small's whereabouts were sent out by the local police authorities, and a reward of $500 was offered. A short time afterward the reward was increased to $5,000. Then on the first of June a reward of $50,000 was offered by the missing man's wife for information regarding Mr. Small's whereabouts, if alive, and $15,000 for the recovery of his body, if dead.

The mystery of Mr. Small's absence was accentuated by the disappearance of John Doughty, who had been his private secretary at the Grand Opera House for many years. Doughty has not been seen or heard from, so far as the authorities are aware, since December 28, 1919. A few weeks ago the discovery was made that $150,000 of Victory Bonds were missing from the safety deposit vault where they had been placed by Mr. Small, and it was stated that Doughty had access to the vault. Thereupon circulars were issued offering $7,000 reward for the arrest of John Doughty on a charge of having abducted Ambrose Small, and $5,000 for Doughty's arrest on a charge of having stolen the missing Victory Bonds.

Declared an "Absentee."

By a special act of the Ontario Legislature Mr. Small was declared an "absentee," and on May 20 the Capital Trust Corporation, of Ottawa, was appointed by a Superior Court Judge trustees of Mr. Small's estate.

RAIL SERVICE POOR.

Watches and Jewellery Will be Transported by Airplanes.

(Canadian Press)

GENEVA, Switzerland, June 14.—Watches and jewelry are to be transported to Paris by a newly established aerial service and from Paris to London by the present commercial air line, to avoid the troublesome delays of the present rail service. A syndicate of the principal manufacturers has been formed at Chaux de Fonds, the seat of the industry to handle the air shipments. It is expected ten days will be saved by this method and the cost will be slight, in proportion to the value of the freight.

All shipments were decided upon largely because of American buyers' insistance upon prompt delivery.

DESTROY PRAIRIE DOG.

Rigid Campaign Inaugurated.

PIERRE, S.D., July 14.—A rigid campaign for the extermination of the destructive prairie dog from many of the western South Dakota counties is being carried on with a view to turning thousands of acres which in past years have shown little growth of green, into fertile pastures and cultivated land.

Crews of men, with regular camping outfits, take the field and work half a township thoroughly in search of these rodents. Poisoned bait is spread, and after passing on to the other half of the township a rearguard again surveys the ground first covered. If there is need, this territory is gone over a second time.

Many such crews are now at work.

HUGE PROFIT IN COTTON.

(Canadian Press)

CHICAGO, July 14.—Six months before Dr. Harry J. Helseiden, a physician, died in Havana, he gave his friend, E. W. Wagner, a broker, $5,000 to buy two hundred bales of cotton. The cotton was bought at 15 cents a pound. Once Helseiden was told he had a big profit. His reply was to buy more. When he died his estate was valued at $25,000. Later, by an order of court, Mr. Wagner closed the cotton deal at a profit of $170,000.

A PICTURE BRIDEGROOM.

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, July 14.—"What do I, only twenty-five, do with a forty-year-old husband?" asked Angela Frederico, an Italian woman, when making application for the annulment of her marriage to Guiseppe Frederico, of Pennsylvania, recently. She declared her parents had made the match, describing her "picture bridegroom" as a "handsome young man." She met him for the first time at the License Bureau in Brooklyn, married him later, and after the ceremony formed an adverse opinion of her parents' choice.

IS LEFT $5.00 A MONTH TO REMIND HER OF INCIDENT.

(Canadian Press)

PERTH AMBOY, N.J., July 14.—The will of Joseph Kramor, of Perth Amboy, who died recently, scathingly denounced his wife and a daughter and forbade their attendance at the funeral. Accordingly, the document will be contested by those two members of his family, the greater portion of the estate, which is said to be large realty holdings, being left to his son, Arthur, and another daughter.

After directing the division of the estate the will reads:

"Inspecting my will to be read by executives before my funeral, it is my earnest wish that my wife, Minnie, and daughter, Jennie, do not attend my funeral.

"I do give, devise and bequeath to my wife, Minnie only the dower interest which the law of the State of New Jersey provides. I shall give her and she shall not share in any other part or division of my estate. If it were possible for me to deprive her of what the law of the State of New Jersey compels me to give her, on account of her treatment of me, I would do so.

"I do hereby give, devise and bequeath to my daughter, Jennie, the sum of $12 a month, to be paid to her from my estate as long as she shall live. My purpose in devising this monthly sum is as follows:

"Five dollars a month to remind her of the time in 1916 when she said to me, 'Black pig, don't sleep with my mother.'

"Five dollars per month to remind her of the time in 1918 when she struck me while I was in the kitchen.

"Two dollars a month to remind her of the time in 1920 when she said to me, when I was sick in bed, 'Don't cough so loud, you are making too much noise. I will have you arrested for disturbing the neighbors.'

"Except as above my daughter shall not share in any part or division of my estate."

SURPRISE MEAL COST A LIFE.

Feeble Old Mother Fatally Burned Cooking for Visiting Daughter.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y.—Returning from a shopping trip to New York to her home, Mrs. Andrew Zilinsky saw an ambulance at her door and her mother, Mrs. Theresa Krejaik, 72 years of age, being put into it.

Mrs. Krejaik had planned to surprise her daughter with an elaborate meal and borrowed matches from a neighbor to light the gas stove. There was an explosion and the aged woman's clothing caught fire. She was so badly burned that she died in the Mount Vernon Hospital. She was feeble and her daughter had warned her against lighting the stove and had hidden the matches.

HIGH VALUE OF LIME AS AN INSECTICIDE.

Such contact insecticides as soap, oil emulsions or nicotine solutions, excellent as they are, are in one respect very deficient against such a pest as the green apple aphis, for their effect ceases as soon as the spraying mixture dries on the foliage. ailure to destroy all the insects or invasion of the planting by winged forms frequently results in a reinfestation ,when repetition of the treatment becomes necessary. The extreme need of more lasting properties has led to experiments with lime in combination with nicotine solution. With this mixture immediate results were obtained as usual by the nicotine, while in addition the lime, through the heavy coating of foliage, was found to be very repellant to the insects. In various experiments the trees receiving this treatment showed throughout the entire Summer a degree of freedom from aphis and a vigor of growth that was hardly equalled by any treated with any other insecticide.

The leaves that had their undersurfaces thoroughly coated with the white wash were also quite immune from attacks by the various leaf-hoppers. In pear orchards similar results weer obtained against the pear psylla.

The speed limit for automobiles in Japan is from 20 to 30 miles an hour.

Our First "Merry Half-Day Sale" To-morrow Morning

THREE HOURS ONLY — 9 A.M. TO 12 P.M.

AS in former years, "Merry Half-Day Sales" feature this Store's business Thursday mornings during July and August. As our Main Store and the Redfern Store were closed all day last Thursday for our Annual Employees' Extra Holiday, to-morrow is the first of our "Thursday Morning Half-Day Sales." A host of bargains sharply reduced to give us a full day's business in three hours' selling—from nine o'clock to twelve o'clock noon.

Ten Dozen Chambray and Print House Dresses, $1.95 Each

Considerably less than to-day's actual wholesale cost for this ten dozen lot of plain coloured chambray and striped coloured print house dresses. Every garment is a particularly good quality, and there is a selection of three styles. First buyers will find all sizes from 36 to 46. See to-night's window display. —Second Floor.

Twenty Dozen 55c and 59c Corset Covers, 39c Each, 2 for 75c.

Fine quality cambric corset covers with embroidery edging and beading trimming; wash ribbon draw strings in colors of white, sky or pink. First buyers will find a complete range of sizes. —Second Floor.

"Merry Half-Day Sale" of Ladies' $1.15 White Balbriggan Combinations, 79c

Ladies' "Zimmerknit" balbriggan combinations in white only with cumfy cut shaped vests. The drawers are umbrella knee style with deep lace trimming. The sizes are 34, 36 and 38. —Street Floor, Arcade Entrance.

Thirty Dozen Ladies' 25c Summer Vests, 2 for 29c

Almost down to half price and away less than to-day's factory cost for this thirty dozen lot of summer knit vests. Ladies' and misses' sizes and each vest has draw tape at the neck. Our every-day 25c value. Worth buying in half dozen and dozen lots to-morrow morning. Merry Half-Day Sale, 2 for 29c. —Street Floor, Arcade Entrance.

Men's $25 and $30 Suits for $19.75

The styles are conservative and you will also find several for the young man. The cloths are plain grey worsteds and fancy tweeds. Obtainable in the following sizes: 36, 37, 38 and 39. As the quantity is so limited an early selection is advisable. —Men's Shop.

Blankets, Flannelettes and Cottons at Especially Low "Merry Half-Day Sale" Prices

800 YARDS OF WHITE FLANNELETTE, 29c YARD

This is an early shipment of eight hundred yards of a splendid quality white flannelette that is 27 inches wide. If we purchased it to-day for fall delivery we could not possibly sell it for less than 40c yard. There is a positive limit of not more than 20 yards to one purchaser and no 'phone orders.

FIFTY PAIRS ONLY, WHITE FLANNELETTE BLANKETS (MILL SECONDS) $2.95 PAIR

They are the regular double size blankets and can be had with pink or blue borders. This price is exceptionally low and the entire fifty pairs will hardly last the day. We advise early shopping for this line.

80c EXCELLENT QUALITY PILLOW COTTON 67c YARD

It is a fine quality Circular Cotton that is closely woven with a substantial round thread, and is 40 inches wide. You could search far and near before you would find another Pillow Cotton Value such as this one.

200 YARDS OF 45c NAINSOOK, 33c YARD

This is a particularly fine quality of pure bleach, lonsdale nainsook with a soft finish that makes it adaptable for ladies' and children's wear. The width is full 38 inches.

A Late Arrival Shipment of Thirty Dozen Ladies' Special $1.25 "Art Silk" Hose, 89c Pair, 2 Pairs $1.70

We bought these good quality silk hose early last fall for our regular $1.25 spring line. As they have arrived at this late date, we now class them as overstock, and have priced them for a rush sale to-morrow. They have from a sixteen to an eighteen inch silk leg, and have elastic garter tops. First buyers will find a colour range of black, white, sand, grey, champagne, brown, navy and castor. —Street Floor, Arcade Entrance.

REAT LAKES-ST. LAWRENCE TIDEWATER CONGRESS IN DETROIT JULY 22-24

IISCONCEPTIONS REGARDING PLAN —VESSELS WOULD NOT PLY BETWEEN LAKE PORTS AND EUROPE.

COMPLETED IN FIVE YEARS

(Canadian Press)

DETROIT, Mich., July 14.—Four-n central western states favoring projected lakes-to-the-sea marine hway will be given a full chance present their arguments at the at Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater gress here July 22-24.

pokesmen for commercial, indus-l and agricultural interests of the ıtral west will attend the congress. ore than 1,500 delegates from the nited States and Canada are ected.

Erroneous Impressions.

The speakers include a large num-r of professional men. Two more ·ass popular misconceptions re-rding the project were pointed out re to-day by members of the Tide-ter Association. One of these is impression that to complete the terprise, engineering work on a large scale at various points from the head of Lake Superior to the sea coast, must be undertaken. The other is a belief that with the opening of the waterway, lake vessels will begin to ply between lake ports and Eur-pe.

"Both of these impressions are er-oneous," said W. H. Adams, chairman of the local committee on inland waterways. "The engineering work nvolved at present has to do only with the rectification of 46 miles of the St. Lawrence River between Lake Ontario and Montreal. It is probable the engineers will recommend that this be done through construction of four dams to drown out the rapids, converting the river into a series of lakes. It has been estimated that the enterprise will cost $ 50,000,000 and that it can be completed in five years."

Not Through to Europe.

Opening of the waterway, Mr. Adams said will not mean that lake carriers will go through to Europe; they are not built for ocean travel, he explained. "What it will mean," he continued, "is that every lake port will become an ocean port and the continent will acquire the service of the world's merchant fleets."

In discussing the estimated cost of the undertaking, Mr. Adams said that the four dams would develop more than 4,000,000 horse-power, which when commercialized would within two years more than equal the cost of the opening of the route. Utilization of this hydro-power, he added, would mean coal conservation in excess of 50,000,000 tons annually.

Opposition to the proposed undertaking thus far has come chiefly from New York. Mr. Adams expressed the belief that most of this opposition would disappear with a more thorough understanding of how much of the hydro-power would naturally accrue to New York.

PAYING DEBT TO ARGENTINA.

British Government Arranges Settlement of $100,000,000 Obligations.

BUENOS AIRES, July 8. — Arrangements have been made by the British Goernment to liquidate its debt of $100,000,000 to Argentina. It is proposed to make this payment by meeting periodically the interest on Argentina's external debt held in London.

The July 1 payment has been made and Great Britain has already liquidated half of her debt, which was for payment for cereals, by paying off obligations amounting to $50,000,000, which Argentina owed United States' bankers.

FIELD MARSHAL HAIG SCORES TRADE UNIONS

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, July 14. — Debate in Parliament has disclosed that 192,000 former service men are unemployed and have made claim to Government aid for that reason. Of these 24,000 are disabled.

Approximately 140,000 disabled soldiers and sailors have found employment among the 16,969 firms which engaged with the Government to help them.

Although many trade unions have volunteered to assist the Government to reduce the number of unemployed, Field Marshal Lord Haig has bitterly attacked other unions for alleged discrimination against former service men, particularly those who were disabled in war.

Lord Haig has issued an appeal to employers and others to help him find employment for his former comrades in the field.

"FLU" MAKES THE HAIR COME OUT

SPECIALIST OFFERS SIMPLE HOME RECIPE TO STOP LOSS OF HAIR AND MAKE IT GROW AGAIN.

People who had the "Flu" this past Winter and who now find their hair coming out badly, will be interested in the suggestion of a well known Hair Specialist who says: "Anyone can easily and inexpensively make at home a recipe which, in my opinion, is unequalled for stopping loss of hair and making new hair grow out again thick, glossy and luxuriant.

You can get from any druggist 6 oz. of Bay Rum, 2 oz. of Lavona (de Composee) and one-half drachm of Menthol Crystals. Mix together and allow to stand over night before using. Rub thoroughly into the scalp with the finger tips or a stiff brush.

This prescription is perfectly harmless, acts quickly and neither dries out the hair nor makes it greasy. But ladies using it should be careful not to get it on the face or where hair is not desired.

RUSSIAN PRISONERS ATTACK ANTWERP

700 Escape from Internment but are Later Rounded Up.

ANTWERP. — A force of seven hundred Russian prisoners of war who had been interned near Turnhout, some 25 miles north east of this city, escaped from the internment camp on Saturday night and marched upon Antwerp. A regiment of cavalry sent in pursuit of the Russians, surrounded them and interned them anew in one of the Antwerp forts.

The prisoners were a part of a contingent of 1100 Russians who were to be released on Saturday for return home. They weer informed late in the day however that owing to a failure of Great Britain and the Soviet Government to reach a definite agreement so far with regard to the exchange of nationals they would have to endure further detention.

Incensed at this, 700 of the prisoners rushed at the barbed wire barriers and overpowered the sentries. They then proceeded in marching order to Antwerp.

The men offered slight resistance, however, when the cavalrymen appeared and rounded them up. No report has been made up to yesterday morning as to the casualties during the incident.

SPRAY TO CONTROL POTATO BLIGHT

BEST SEED COMES FROM CROP THAT HOLDS FOLIAGE UNTIL FROST TIME.

There are many potato fields in Ontario where the tops dry up during the month of August, and where the tubers lie in the hot soil until digging time in October. The potatoes from such fields do not make the best seed, and often seed from such fields gives very poor results indeed. On the other hand there are many fields in certain parts of the province and in other provinces where the tops remain green until killed by frost. It is from such fields that the bet seed potatoes come, providing they are free from disease, and usually such fields are the freest from disease.

In the cooler parts of the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and in the Maritime Provinces on the Prairies, and in certain parts of British Columbia, these relatively cool conditions prevail in most seasons, hence such places are likely to furnish the best seed one year with another.

Needless to say the "bugs" must be prevented from injuring the tops for if the foliage is eaten the yield will be seriously reduced. Where blight is troublesome the tops should be kept sprayed with Bordeau mixture from early in July until the tops are dead. Sometimes one spraying with Bordeau mixture will save the crop much injury from blight and not if it is put on at just the critical time, but as one cannot very well tell when this is the plants must be kept covered with mixture from the time when injury is likely to first occur.

POST IS NAMED AFTER A NOTED AMERICAN

(Canadian Press)

SHANGHAI, July 14.—The Shanghai post of American Legion has been given its official name by the national organization in America, and is to be called the General Frederick Ward Post after the noted American soldier who organized in China the "Ever Victorious Army" in the Taiping Rebellion, afterward turning the command over to the British general, "Chinese" Gordon. The Shanghai post has 160 members and has been authorized to form other posts in China.

CAN NEVER SELL LAND IN PALESTINE

BUT JEWS MAY DEVELOP, HARVEST AND LEAVE IT TO THEIR CHILDREN.

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, July 14.—While the Jewish people will be permitted to develop and reap the harvest from land purchased in Palestine by the Jewish National Fund and also be privileged to leave it to their children, they can never sell it. This is in accordance with the plan of the fund to nationalize the land in Palestine and eliminate land speculation as announced here by Dr. Baer Epstein, the fund's special commissioner, who has just arrived from England.

Reclaim Land.

The fund, he said, will spend $1,250,000 during the next year for the purchase of barren land which must be reclaimed and made fit for settlement by Jewish renters.

More than 7,000,000 French francs, Dr. Epstein added, have already been spent in buying and cultivating 6,000 acres of what now is fertile Palestine land and in developing six agricultural colonies and a dozen individual farms.

Not Farming Alone.

"The fund not only has purchased land for farming," he said, "but it has made extensive purchases in Jerusalem, Tiberias, Haifa, Jaffa, Safed and the other principal cities of Palestine. This c.. land is used exclusively for public buildings."

"MY TASK IS FINISHED," SAYS M. CLEMENCEAU

(Canadian Press)

PARIS, July 14.—That Georges Clemenceau, the former Premier, has definitely withdrawn from active politics and worries little about criticisms levelled at him by enemies of his regime and of the Versailles Treaty, was shown the other day when the correspondent of The Associated Press called on him to obtain his reply to the taunts of his adversaries in the Chamber of Deputies to the effect that he did not know where Mosul (Turkey) was located when he ceded it to Great Britain.

"These professors of geography, who are criticizing me," replied the former Premier, "would be greatly embarrassed if some one should ask them the location of a town of that size in their own circumscriptions."

M. Clemenceau was engaged in the task of putting the finishing touches on the first draft of a novel dealing with Egyptian life, said he was through with politics forever. "My task is finished. I have done my work," he told the correspondent.

The statesman, now entering his 80th year, looked hale and vigorous, and is in better health than he has been since the attempt upon his life by Emile Cottin.

WILL NOT UNLOAD LIQUORS.

Port "At End of World" Strong in Support of Prohibition.

BUENOS AIRES, July 14. — From Punta Arenas, which is at the bottom of the world, where ships call in weathering the Straits of Magellan, to leave supplies for the 35,000 inhabitants, comes a despatch saying that the maritime workers of the port have resolved that in the future they will not unload any liquors containing alcohol. The antecedents of this prohibition movement are not disclosed, but the despatch says: "This resolution has caused serious damage on account of having been taken without warning the liquor merchants."

	$230.52

Mr. G. W. Powell reported that there was now thirteen children at the Shelter, four had been placed out during the month and six admitted. He reported on several chiluren placed out.

Donations Received.

The following donations were received during the month:

Mrs. Gardner, 1 dozen oranges; Miss Godfrey, 1-2 dozen oranges and 1-2 dozen bananas, $1 for treat; Nut Krust bakery, currant bread; St. John's Sunday School, cake and sandwiches; George street Methodist Church, bread; St. Andrews Church, sandwiches, pie and meat; Normal School Excursion, sandwiches; School teachers, sandwiches and cake. A friend, $1 treat for children.

Wards of Lanark.

The secretary said that something should be done with the Woodcock children, now at the Shelter. They were wards of the county of Lanark he said where the family formerly lived. Mr. Woodcock went to Toronto Mr. Powell said, and somebody 'phoned down later from a place called Woadcick Bros. Pool room there and promised to send the money if he notified them of the amount. Nothing had been heard since then although he did hear that Woodcock formerly lived in Smiths Falls, Mr. G. W. Powell said. The members agreed that if their board was not paid up they should be made wards of the County of Lanark and the account chargeable to that county. The children are 3, 4, and 6 years of age. Their mother is divorced. Mr. Powell was instructed to serve notice on the father that they were going to do this.

Finance Committee

The chairman announced that the secretary wanted another member on the Finance Committee and he requested Mrs. Fanning to act and Chief Thompson be chairman. Both numbers assented to Rev. Phelan's request.

Mr. Edgar pointed out that the agent's returns should be made on printed forms to expedite the securing of statistical information on the work of the society and the idea was commended by the board. It would simplify matters much he said. On motion five hundred forms were ordered to be secured for the use of the agent.

The board adjourned till the next meeting.

Solving your Investment Problem

What investment is best adapted for the individual?

The average investor has neither the time nor facilities to investigate sufficiently to be able to answer that question and would be well advised in giving his confidence to a reliable investment banker. There are many attractive securities on the market.

Those suitable for the requirements of one person might however be wholly unsuited to another. Whatever the nature of your investment problem you can come to us freely for advice and assistance without obligation.

Our experience is at your service.

FACTS TO TELL AMERICAN VISITORS

When the American tourist comes along this season with his habitual propensity for the glorification of the great American Union above all creation, just take him aside and whisper the following facts which have been compiled by Mr. W. J. Craig, of Keewatin, into his ear. They are facts which all Canadians, young and old, should know and which teachers should impress upon their pupils. He says:

Canada has an estimated population of 8,835,102. Her area is 3,729,665 square miles, which is larger than that of the United States and comprises one-third of the British Empire. Of this great domain fully 25 per cent. is unexplored. There are only two persons to each square mile.

Wet and Dry.

Canada may be "bone dry" but no legislation will ever do away with one "wet spot." Lake Superior is the largest fresh water body in the world, 31,800 square miles of dampness.

But on the other hand, the New Dry Dock at St. John, N.B., will be the largest in the world, and is being constructed by men from Midland.

Do You Know That

We have the largest fish hatchery in America — capacity 90,000,000 eggs, situated at Port Arthur, Ont?

We have the most extensive Sea Fisheries in the World?

We have the largest Grain Mills in the British Empire?

We have the largest, unbroken stretch of Wheat Fields in the World, 900 x 300 miles?

We have the largest and best grain conveying system in the world —at Montreal?

We have one of the thickest Coal Seams yet discovered—447 feet— at Stellarton, Nova Scotia? Think this over the next time your hot water pipes freeze.

We have the richest Nickle and Asbestos Mines in the World?

The C.P.R. Dam, at Bassano, Alta., is the largest single project of its kind on the continent?

The Quebec Bridge Span is the longest of its kind in the World?

The Life-Lock at Peterborough is the largest structure of its kind in the world?

Peterborough is a large, growing industrial centre and has abundance of electrical power?

The Kawartha Lakes, north of Peterborough, are famed as a summer second only to the Thousand Islands?

We are the chief forest resources in the British Epire? Unfortunately nearly two-third of the original timber has been destroyed by forest fires—chiefly due to carelessness.

Our pulpwood resources are the largest in the World? And that we are the second largest country in pulp and paper production?

More Dampness.

We have more water power than any three European Countries put together. Our per capita development in this respect is second to Norway alone. Power produced on the Canadian side of Niagara Falls 400,000 horse power. Ninety per cent of our valuable water power is running waste.

And Don't Forget That

We are running fourth in the world's cheese production race — in 1919 we produced 190,000,000 lbs.

We have in Canada the most beautiful mountain national parks in the world. The Rocky Mountains Park is 1,800 square miles in area.

We rank eighth among maritime nations. We have 45 merchant ships built or under way. Our tonnage is now valued at $40,000,000. Our Marine Department employs close on fifty thousand men and boys.

Our national wealth is $2,000 per capita. Only $200 less than that of the United States.

$50,000 FOR HER KNEE.

(Canadian Press)

HINTON, W. Va., July 14.—Miss Nyma Seabert, a dancer, appraises her knee at $50,000 in a suit for damages against a local hotel. She alleges that while stopping at the hotel she walked into an open elevator shaft and barked her knee so severely that it has affected her livlihood.

MANSFIELD PRISONER OF THE TURK

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, July 14. — Mrs. Richard Mansfield, widow of the American actor, and Colin Clements, of New York, poet and playwright, have returned to Paris after being held prisoners by the Turkish Nationalists at Urfa, Mesopotamia, for three months. They have been doing relief work among the Armenians for the past year. They escaped to Jerablus, on the Euphrates, and from there were taken to Aleppo by friendly Arabs.

SPORTING NEWS, VIEWS AND GOSSIP

A LINDSAY IMPRESSION OF MONDAY'S BALL GAME

Ford Moynes of the Lindsay Warder, saw the Cobourg-Peterboro game on Monday. Here are some of his impressions as recorded in the Warder:

The Cobourg team of this year is an entirely different outfit from last season, and apparently they grow baseball players like weeds in the tourist town, for they used a new pitcher in nearly every game played this season. The suspicion is that these slab artists are visiting tourists from across the big pond and if so the secretary of the league should get busy and demand certificates, etc. Of course as long as Cobourg does not win by this method nobody else is kicking. But if they happen to win look out. Dick Turpin has been shifted from first sack to catcher, but if our old war horse is wise he will "pass up the job" to the younger fry ,the same as Bill Cinnamon, Herbie Workman, Chris Graham, Bulger and others have. "My Man Turpin's" days as a ball player are over —absolutely. He's a good fellow and all that, but as for a catcher, well, he's a fine gentleman.

The Petes played a great game yesterday, almost errorless, hit well and ran bases well, but nevertheless it was a hard game to win. Manager Solomon, who apparently has as many utility players, pinch hitters, etc., as his namesake of biblican fame had wives, changed his players frequently. Strange to relate, however, he was almost as mild and tame as a ewe lamb.

Kirn pitched the entire game and won out in much the same manner as he won his long string of games last season. He is slow, never exerts himself, depends on his fielders, and has the knack of coming through right side up—even in the pinches. Cobourg collected 13 safe hits off him, while the Petes only got 10, and a sacrifice off Clarke. Harrison was good at first, making the only error of the Petes' side, when he dropped a fast shoot. Swanston was good as per usual and Cherrett had a day on. His work was fast and nifty. Murray at third was the best of the infield.

This lost ball stuff is all right for the bush leagues, but not for the Centrals. Time Peterboro got the grass cut and filled up the golf ball holes.

LAKEFIELD LOST TO THE BOHUNKS

THE FINAL SCORE WAS 4-2—THE BATTERIES.

Lakefield struck a knot in their chain of victories in East Peterborough, when they ran into the Bohunks last night in a seven innings fixture in the northern village. The pitching of Al Doughty saved the day for the Peterborough boys, whose work with Reg Huff behind the bat, was a puzzler to them. The final socre was 4 to 2. Ken Anderson was base umpire. Negotiations will now be entered into with Norwood.

After defeating Keen and Lakefield they are aspiring to trim the whole East Peterborough outfit.

BASEBALL FANS TOO ROUGH TO SUIT MEXICAN WRITER

Jose Campos, one of the leadng newspaper men of Mexico, who frequently comes to this country on important errands, recently stated that Mexico would never adopt baseball because the American game reeks with deception and lacks the fundamental features of entertainment that are provided by the bull fight.

The Mexican writer once attended a ball game in New York. He wrote a special story of the game for his paper and the yarn was widely read in Mexico.

A feature that awed him was the manner in which the spectators call for the life of the umpire. The cries of "Mob him!" "Kill him!" &c., that come from the patrons of the sun baked seats seem to convey to the writer's mind the idea that trouble is promised after the fray. He wants to know the use of yelling such things when the fans do not mean to carry them out. He charges it is rank deception to tell a man you are going to kill him, then not do it.

HISTORY OF AMERICA'S GREAT HISTORIC YACHTING TROPHY

THERE HAVE BEEN TWELVE CONTESTS FOR THE CUP—OLD COLUMBIA MADE FASTEST TIME.

RECORD OF RACES

NEW YORK, July 14.—The first race in 17 years for the America's cup will start Thursday off Sandy Hook, the contesting boats being the cup defender Resolute, and the challenger Sir Thomas S. Lipton's Shamrock IV. It may be interesting at this time both to yachtsmen and to a great many who are not acquainted with this form of sport to read a few facts in connection with this historic yachting trophy.

Not International.

To begin with the America's Cup at first was not an international trophy. In fact it had no significance other than being a prize offered by the Royal Yacht Squadron for a race around the Isle of Wight, Eng., which was open to all nations. In August, 1851, the schooner yacht America, owned by Commodore John L. Stevens and four other members of the New York Yacht Club, won this race and the cup became their property. Six years later, Commodore Stevens and his associates conveyed the prize to the New York Yacht Club in trust as a perpetual international trophy which has since been known as the America's Cup, taking its name from the schooner yacht which won it in British waters.

The First Contest.

The first race for the America's Cup, as an international prize, was held on August 8, 1870, over the regular course of the New York Yacht Club in New York's lower bay. The challenging boat was Cambria, owned by James Ashbury, of the Royal Yacht Squadron, Eng., and the cup was defended by practically the whole fleet of the New York Yacht Club. That, however, was the only race in which the challenger ever had to sail against a fleet and the only contest in which the issue was decided by a single race. Cambria, by the way, finished tenth in that event, while the old America finished fourth, the race being won by Magic, the yacht Idler finishing second.

Twelve Races.

In all there have been twelve contests for the cup, in the second of which Mr. Ashbury challenged with the schooner Livonia and the New York Yacht Club agreed to defend the trophy with only one boat in the race. The 1871 contest was the best four out of seven races. Livonia won a single race, owing to the steering gear of the defender Columbia breaking down. Only twice since that day, October 19, 1871, has a challenging yacht crossed the finish line ahead of the defending boat. On September 10, 1895, Valkyrie III., after following the defender, finished 1 minute and 16 seconds ahead of the American boat and on October 4, 1901, Shamrock II. finished two seconds ahead of Columbia but lost to the defender by virtue of conceding 42 seconds time allowance.

In the races of 1876, 1881, 1885, 1886 and 1887, the contests were decided on the basis of the best two out of three races. From 1893 to the last race in 1903 the agreement was for the best three out of five races.

Failed Thrice.

On only three occasions has one of the competing yachts for the America's Cup failed to finish. In the last race of the 1895 contest Valkyrie III. withdrew immediately after crossing the starting line. On October 17, 1899, Shamrock lost her topmast and withdrew in the second race of that year and on September 3, 1903, Shamrock III. did not finish in the final race of the series as she was already beaten and had nothing to gain by continuing.

Just once in the history of the cup races has a competing yacht been disqualified. This was in the second race of the series of 1895 when Lord Dunraven's Valkyrie III. was disqualified for fouling Defender.

Fastest Time.

The fastest time ever made in a race for the America's Cup is credited to the old schooner Columbia. On October 18, 1871, the day before she was defeated by Livonia, she sailed 20 miles leeward and windward 40 miles in all in 3 hours, 1 minute and 33 seconds. It must not be inferred, however, that the Columbia was the fastest yacht that ever sailed for the cup. There is no method of determining the relative speed of two or more boats other than by the results of a race in which they sail together. When Columbia made the fast time referred to undoubtedly the conditions of wind, weather and sea were most favorable.

The fastest time ever made on a 15 mile course straight away and return, 30 miles in all, is credited to the defender Vigilant. In a race on October 13, 1893, she covered the course in 3 hours, 24 minutes and 29 seconds.

The fastest time in a triangular race for the cup was made by Columbia on October 3, 1891, the time for the distance, thirty miles, being 3:30:18.

In the first three contests for the cup the challenging boats were schooners and the defenders for the second and third also were schooners. In all other contests, however, the yachts have been sloops or cutters.

Smallest Challenger.

The smallest challenger in the history of the cup race was Atlanta, which was built at Belleville, Ontario, Can., in 1881. She measured 64 feet on the water line and was the first sloop to appear in a contest.

The first yacht ever built especially to defend the trophy was Pocahontas. This was in 1881. Prior to that year the New York Yacht Club had selected from its fleet the yacht considered to be best suited for the purpose. Pocahontas did not come up to expectations and was rejected in favor of Mischief, one of the finest sloops of the fleet. Since that year, however, new defenders have been built for every contest.

The one exception was in 1901 when honor of defending the cup in 1885, two in 1886 and four in 1893, and in every contest, excepting one since the race between Atlanta and Mischief, the cup has been defended by a yacht built for that particular race. The one exception was in 1901 when Constitution built for the race of that year was discarded in favor of Columbia which successfully defended the trophy in 1899.

ANNUAL FOOTBALL MEETING TO-NIGHT

WILL FINISH THE SEASON'S BUSINESS AND CONSIDER THE C.G.E. PROTEST.

The annual football meeting of the Peterboro Association will be held tonight in Mr. Fred Sutcliffe's barber shop at 8:15 p.m., when all the new representatives are asked to be present. Previous to the annual meeting the Football Executive will finish the season's business and consider the protest sent in by the C. G. E. Football Team. They will officially declare the winners of the League, and award the badges accordingly. Last season's Executive please attend punctual at 7:30 prompt.

Comrade's representatives are Mr. J. Haw and R. Jolliffe.

CRESSMANS WON ANOTHER GAME

DEFEATED DE LAVAL MACHINE SHOP NINE.

The Machine Shop nine, champions of the De Laval Creamery Factory League, and Cressman's team, winners of the Commercial League, came together at Riverside Park last evening, and Cressman's emerged from a well-played contest with a 3 to 2 victory. The Big Store crowd were chased all along the way, and the game was not decided till their half of the seventh, when Bartley scored DeGraw from second on a nice clout into middle field, with none out.

The opposing heavers, Bartley and Galbraith, put up a tidy battle, the latter turning in his best performance of the season. He really earned the decision, but wild pegs by his teammates on easy chances spoiled his good work on the rubber.

Score by Innings.

Machine Shop .. .. 0001001—2
Cressman's .. .. .. 1001001—3

AT THE ALLEN

A new William Farnum picture, said to be a thriller, will be seen at at the Allen. The famous star, William Farnum, will make his debut in this city as author and producer at the Allen Theatre, where William Fox will present his greatest thriller, The Adventurer, to-day and to-morrow. This photo-play promises to be something new for Farnum is giving the public his idea of what a fast-moving, rapid fire, sure hit, story of the west is like. An added attraction will be Mr. Gus Hill, the eminent baritone, in a 1920 Review featuring the latest song creations, "Peggy," "Pip-Pip," "Toot-toot," "Good bye-ee," "Ching-a-Ling's Jazz Bazaar."

Mr .Gus Hill, late of Feists' Jazz Review, who has been touring the west for the last six months, will be seen at the Allen to-day and to-morrow. Mr .Hill possesses a baritone voice of exceptional quality and range and has appeared in nearly all the Allen houses.

REPORT WESTERN CROPS IN GOOD SHAPE

WINNIPEG, July 14.—The fourth crop report of the Free Press reveals a rather mixed condition in all three provinces, with the general tone of reports for the whole west not quite so satisfactory as last report, while in some large areas, notably Southern Alberta, conditions are much improved. The one serious drawback has been lack of rain at many places. Out of 234 points heard from, 115 want more rain.

Taking the three provinces as a whole, the crops are fine, a great deal of the time lost by late seeding has apparently been made up, and in this respect Manitoba leads. Coarse grains, as a whole, seem to be in a thrifty condition and to promise well. A good soaking rain this week, from Manitoba boundary on the east, clear to the Rockies, would do good everywhere, and insure a good average crop; the percentage injured past recovery is very small. While the hay crop is reported short at a few points, the general indication is for plenty of feed.

SELL MUMM'S CHAMPAGNE.

French Govt. to Put Eight Million Bottles on Market.

PARIS, July 14. — Eight million bottles of champagne will be among the items on the lists of commodities to be placed on sale January 28, when the sequestered property of Baron Walter de Mumm will be auctioned off. The property was seized in 1915 subsequent to the Baron's resumption of German citizenship when the war began.

The number of bottles in the baron's cellars in the vicinity of Rheims, where the sale will take place, was greatly diminished during the war. When General Ludendorff was making his furious drives toward Rheims and Epernay, the wine cellars were used as shelters for the troops, and the men were given almost priceless wine with their meals.

OW TO GET QUALITY IN THIS YEAR'S APPLES

HINNING CROP PAYS WELL AND PROLONGS THE LIFE OF TREES.

Now is the time to attend to the roduction of large and perfect pecimens of luscious fruit. It makes or better production to thin the ruit on the apple trees if too thick.

Where spraying has been done it the usual thing for the trees to verproduce, if thinning is not done, or very little fruit falls after spray- g. And too much fruit causes de- erioration in size and quality.

Apple growers who have thinned ut their fruit, claim that this pro- edure is a labor saver instead of iving extra work as many say is he case. The picking over of small nferior fruit and the extra care in illing grades at harvest time is al- ost eliminated, and this more than urns the time spent in thinning.

Consideration will point the fact hat there would be a big difference handling three or four small ap- es, or one big, or in grading the ny kinds of discards caused by owding. Not more than one quar- of the fruit from an unthinned chard will sell as first class, and robably none would if the size and ape were to be closely remarked.

Over cropping often has the ser- us aftermath of no crop whatever the following year. On the con- ary, the harvest will be greater on e following year if thinning has en properly attended to, unless om some other reason, such as iseased trees. Very often perfectly rayed and cared for orchards hold me variaties that natually set too uch fruit, having been allowed to ature such a crop that the trees nly bear every second or third year. nd soon die because of the drain of eir strength due to overproduction. his does not pay.

Please try this method of thin- ng this year. Try it systematically, eeping account of the cost of labor s well as of the individual time pent Keep account also of the la- or at harvest time, and of the in- rease of perfect sales due to perfect ruit.

And even if the orchard is small nd for home use only, thinning pays. t prolongs the life of the trees and he fruit gives greater satisfaction.

MEMORIAL TABLET FOR TWEED HEROES

TWEED, July 13.—In St. Paul's ethodist Church on Sunday evening ast a tablet was unveiled in memory f the boys of the church who lost heir lives in the Great War. The acred edifice was filled to the doors, nd the service was a most impressive ne. Rev. A. L. Brown, the pastor, reached an appropriate sermon, and ook for his text, "These all died in he faith."

Saved the Nation.

Lieut.-Col. O'Flynn, of Belleville, oke briefly of the splendid work ne by the Canadians in the great uggle. He was present when aith-Dorien, the British General, entioned three divisions as having en instrumental in saving the na- n, and the Canadian Division was e of them.

The Unveiling.

At the conclusion of his remarks e pastor called upon T. Beatty and Frost, two returned men, to un- il the tablet. While the congrega- on stood in impressive silence, two uglers from Belleville sounded the ast Post, and the benediction con- uded the service.

The tablet bears the following in- ription:

"In memory of the boys of this Church who gave their lives in the Great War.

O CURES AS YET SAYS GUARDIAN

The Christian Guardian, in referring Mr. Hickson ,the faith healer, says: Toronto has had a visit from Mr. M. Hickson, the lay faith-healer, hose work in the United States has en so widely advertised. His mis- on was held in the St. James' Cath- dral, and that great church presented most pathetic spectacle as it was acked with blind, deaf, and lame, and elpless people. Mr. Hickson preach- d plainly and earnestly, urging his earers to seek Christ as the great ealer of body and soul. He insisted hat the power to heal was intended y Christ to remain permanently in he church, but he was very careful o recommend that the sick ones keep close touch with earthly physicians, nd he warned them that healing was ot a certainty, but merely a possi- lity. There were no cures, as far s we know, during the meetings, nd at the time of writing none have en reported, but Mr. Hickson urged hearers to expect a gradual cure, her than instantaneous one, and probable that later on cures be reported Such cures have reported in many ages and in tion with many different be- d the argument that God is eal all diseases is one which eny. But it is well to keep solid ground in this mat- le praying for healing as ily bread, keep in touch ctor and leave no stone nswer our own prayers. And if our prayer for healing is not answered we may surely hear our Lord say, as He did to Paul, "My grace shall be sufficient for thee." Too often our "faith-healers" seem to imagine that sickness means invariably lack of faith in God. This surely is an untenable belief."

He knows what "luscious" means

If you would catch the full fragrance of LANTIC Brown, use it on bread and butter. If you would get the utmost joy from its use, just watch the children eat it. Truly, in all the King's English, there's only one word for it!

Heaped high with this irresistible spread, you'll whet an old-time appetite and slyly relish a slice of brown bread. And you'll wonder if even the children can possibly enjoy it more than you. Then as you linger long over the subtle zest of it, you'll remember how good it must be for them, this strength-giving product of the sugar cane.

Because it contains food properties that white sugar has not got, properties that render LANTIC Brown a most valuable article of diet, constituents of the cane juice that help the assimilation of the sugar itself!

So spread it thicker---this luscious LANTIC Brown---serve it oftener on buttered bread. For it is indeed full of energy-fuel for little engines that run so fast---fuel to go on, fuel to grow on. It eats so easy, and they love it so. Luscious!

If it isn't "luscious" it isn't LANTIC Brown

LANTIC Brown should really cost more than white sugar---If delicious wholesomeness is the test of value---but you get it for less. Your grocer has it only in 100-lb. sacks, but he will give you any quantity you desire. If it isn't luscious, it isn't LANTIC Brown.

STOLE CASH REGISTER

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, July 14—The high cost of livin gand the consequent idleness of the one-cent key on a restaurant cash register may result in the apprehension of two men who recently walked into a local restaurant and carried out the cash register while the waiter was giving an order. They emptied it around the corner by pressing the one-cent key, which was dusty from constant idleness, and the police took an impression of the fingerprint found on it.

HE HAD SUFFERED FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

Montreal Woman Couldn't Even Sew For Rheumatism Before She Began Taking Tanlac--Housework Is Real Pleasure Now.

"I certainly think Tanlac is the atest medicine ever sold to suffer- people, and it has been such a derful benefit to me that I feel duty to tell everybody about it," Mrs. J. W. Jarvis of 10 Aylwin ontreal, recently.

here's hardly been a day dur- the last fifteen years but what I e suffered with awful pains across small of my back on account of ble with my kidneys. Most all the ne it was a sort of burning sensa- th every now and then a sharp inge as though I had been prick- with a needle. I got into a very un-down condition where I had no ppetite, and every few days had splitting headaches that nearly blind- ed me with the pain. My blood was very much out of order for I was always coming out in a sort of rash all over my body and the rheumatism in my fingers was so bad that all the joints got so stiff that I couldn't sew or do my housework.

"I saw by the papers the way people were being helped by Tanlac and so decided to see if it would do me any good. Well, the way it rid me of all my troubles was most surprising. The first thing it did was to give me a splendid appetite so that I could eat better than I had for years past. Then my blood got purer and all signs of rash or pimples disappeared from my skin. I am no longer bothered with headaches and have been quite relieved of all trouble with my kidneys All the swelling and stiffness has gone out of my fingers and I am so much stronger and better that I am able to do my housework without the least difficulty. I hope all who suffer as I did will take my advice and try Tanlac for I am sure it will relieve them of their troubles."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co, Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Turner ,in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

ENOUGH GOVERNMENT AT OTTAWA FOR 50,000,000

DECLARED W. C. KENNEDY, M.P. FOR NORTH ESSEX, IN AN ADDRESS—RETAIL GROCERS MEET.

WINDSOR, July 14.—"The whole trouble is, there is too much government at Ottawa. There is enough machinery down there to run a country of 50,000,000 people instead of 8,000,000, with the result that millions of dollars are being spent uselessly. Since the signing of the Armistice 26,000 people have been added to the payroll of the Dominion Government and once there they become a permanent fixture and generally with no prescribed duties."

So declared W. C. Kennedy, Liberal M. P. for North Essex, during a conference with the retail grocers' section of the Border Retail Merchants' Association, in session tonight following receipt of an appeal from the London Retail Grocers' Association to join in a concerted effort with similar organizations in other centres to protest the recent ruling of the Dominion Board of Commerce, which compels grocers to submit a monthly statement of all sales to the Government.

Another Expense.

"The board of commerce," said Mr. Kennedy, "is but another expense to the people. If the grocers did comply with the request, not only would it increase costs to the consumer, but hundreds of thousands of dollars of further expense would be entailed by the Government in the employment of a staff to check over the reports properly, and if they are not checked over, why submit the m at all? So many systems have been inaugurated by the Government and given free rein that manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers have been loaded with tasks not only impossible to fulfill, but useless."

Falling in line with the program of the London dealers, the local organization passed a resolution characterizing the edict of the board of commerce as a heavy imposition that would add to the cost of necessities to the ultimate consumer, increase overhead expense to retailers, enforce employment of a large staff of accountants almost impossible to obtain, and would actually accomplish no god.

RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is produced by the accumulation of Uric Acid in the Blood, and this poisonous substance attacks and inflames the membrane covering the joints and separating the muscles, thus producing severe pains. If the waste products to the system are not properly carried off, Uric Acid forms and is deposited in the joints and between the different layers of muscles. DR. HENDERSON'S HERB TABLETS will correct this by its action on the Kidneys, and removing the Uric Acid from the Blood. Try them and watch the results. If they fail, your money will be refunded.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets are put up in three sizes—25c, 50c, $1.00 per box—at WARNE'S DRUG STORE, 351 George Street, Peterborough.

DURHAM RESIDENT IS FOUND DEAD

GEORGE GRAHAM SEEMED WELL WHEN SONS RETURNED FEOM PETERBORO'S ORANGE WALK.

PONTYPOOL, July 14.—George Graham, an early resident of Durham county, was found dead in bed yesterday morning. He was widely known as "Dominion Day George," because of a famous fistic argument at the first July 1 celebration held at Millbrook, of which he was always ready to recount the details with great gusto.

He had five sons in the army, four of whom served overseas, one being killed at Vimy Ridge. On armistice Day, he was greatly overjoyed at the prospect of the boys' return and took part in the local celebration. Being deaf, he did not hear an approaching rig and was knocked unconscious and internally injured, from which he never fully recovered. After being about four months confined to bed he seemed as well as usual last night when the sons returned from the Orange walk at Peterboro'.

CLAIMS PRICES COMING DOWN

RAY OF HOPE FOR RELIEF FROM KILLING HIGH COST OF LIVING.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 14.—Here's a shining ray of hope for relief from the deadly H.C.L.

James A. Patten gives it. Patten, former "king of the wheat pit," grain trader, capitalist, philanthropist, is recognized as the greatest authority in the United States.

Patten says: "Famine food prices are not coming next winter.

"Flour ought to come down to $12 or $13 a barrel. Potato prices probably will be cut in half. Cost of wearing apparel has come down to stay down. Farm labor shortage is no longer a serious problem.

"People are over their buying fever."

None Going Up.

Transportation tie-ups may help to bring food prices down by preventing big exports to Europe. Cost of living won't be higher, with some things going down and none going up.

Briefly, that is the summing up of the situation Patten made in an interview. Patten recently was quoted as saying he was "tired of the world's present strife and discontent" —that "nobody wishes to work, and everybody wants to make easy money," and he wanted to get away from it all. He is not getting away from it. While he has retired from the Presidency of the Board of Trustees of the Northwestern University, where his philanthropies total a million and a half, he is at his desk every day in his office across the street from the Board of Trade, with one eye on the grain market and the other on numerous companies in which he is a director.

He is 68, with white hair and moustache, a steady eye, huge frame inclined to be portly, knotty hands, with a good grip, a wide smile—and an ever-present cigar. Patten is still in business up to his neck, and he knows everything there is to know about grain—the foundation of the world's food supply.

Crops Promise Well.

"Mainly, food price reduction in the United States depends on whether the spring wheat crop of our country and Canada yields bountifully," said Patten. "I think it will."

"Potato crops are splendid. Prices should come down. We've been paying $3 to $3.50 a bushel. I wouldn't be surprised to see that cut in half.

"So, when people, even so-called experts, say famine prices are due next winter, I say no.

"Even if the wheat crop isn't bountiful, I do not look for higher prices. We've got much more than enough for ourselves. We will give Europe whatever transporttion facilities will let us. But even if the export drain is a big one, the price of flour ought not to be higher. And many things will be lower.

"If there's a good crop, flour should come down to $12 or $13 a barrel."

Patten emphasized this point: "With the high cost of living coming down, the natural sequence will be fewer labor demands. That will be the biggest kind of help in adjustment of things generally.

"Spring wheat crops won't be ready ofr nother six or eight weeks," said Patten. "We can't tell what Europe will want, or what they can get. The first because we can't tell yet what the rest of the world's wheat supply will be, and the second because of the tie-up. In the next 12 months the United States and Canada may have to supply Europe with 600,000,000 bushels of wheat, or at least a minimum of 350,000,000 bushels."

STOCK MARKET

Some activity again developed in the second hour of trading. Pan American went above 106 and Steel Common reached 93. Scarcity of Baldwin stock brought that issue up to 121 3-8.

"THE BOND MARKET" A PAPER OF INTEREST

CONTAINS VALUABLE INFORMATION FOR CANADIAN INVESTORS.

"The Bond Market" is a digest of Canada's Victory Bond market to-day together with commendation of that policy of sane financing by which this Dominion pays as she goes, and finds her Government bonds ranking higher than ever before.

This little publication is issued by Wood, Gundy and Company, dealers in government, municipal and corporation bonds, whose authority on all financial operations stands beyond question. In "The Bond Market" of July they give a clear and concise history of this country's War and Victory Loan Bond issues since 1914, amounting to some $2,300,000,000, and they explain the natural transition of these bonds from temporary holders to permanent investors, from whom a large number of orders for their purchase are received every week. This is the result of after-war re-adjustment ,and Wood, Gundy and Company advise that the floating supply of Victory Loan Bonds will grow smaller, and with its absorption a strengthening in the Victory Bond Market should occur, will no doubt have weight with those seeking safe and remunerative investment.

There can be no sounder way of investing earnings than in long-term goverment bonds, and when "The Bond Market" foreshadows that every 50c invested in them now will probably have 75c worth of purchasing power when they mature, no one with money to spare should hesitate at this opportunity now knocking at their door, for placing at least a portion of it out at gilt-edged security, and in bonds of growing value.

Wood, Gundy and Company, in their valuable little paper also give an interesting summary of Canada's extension of credits to European Governments to boost trade, of loans to Belgium, Roumanian, Greece and France for the purchase of supplies in Canada, and of Canada's ability to absorb high grade securities.

They point out that only $50,000,000 of new bonds were offered to Canadian investors in the six months ended June 30th. This is at the rate of $100,000,000 a year, as compared with an average of $660,000,000 for the years 1917, 1918 and 1919. The question naturally arises therefore: "Where will the funds that would have been available for a Dominion Government Loan in 1920, be invested?" The answer is obvious; apart from new issues which may reasonably be expected to be of approximately the same volume as those of the first six months of the year, outstanding Government issues will have to absorb this capital, just as Victory Loan Bonds absorbed $100,000,000 of it in the first six months of 1920.

A copy of "The Bond Market" will be found of interest. One will be furnished on application to Wood, Gundy and Company, C. P. R. Building, King and Yonge streets, Toronto. This firm is one of Canada's solid, dependable, finacial institutions of substantial repute in Toronto, Montreal, Saskatoon, New York and London, England, and they enjoy the confidence of a large clientale.

MANITOBA FARMERS A POLITICAL GROUP

FORM INDEPENDENT PARTY AND WILL CHOOSE A LEADER.

WINNIPEG, July 13.— Formation of a Farmer independent group in the Manitoba legislature was decided upon to-day at a meeting of newly-elected members held here. After coming to the decision that it was advisable and necessary to form a definite organization of all elected at present. Farmers and straight independents, the meeting adjourned until July 27, when a group leader is to be chosen. To-day's meeting was called by W. McKinnel, member for Rockwood, who stated he believed the adjourned meeting would result in the formation of a strong group under an organized leader.

Independent Group.

"We propose to give no pledged support to any other group in the house, and will be strictly independent on all matters. The rumors that we are playing for cabinet representation have no foundation," said Mr. McKinnel.

Members elect preset at the meeting were: McKinnel, Rockwood; Fletcher, of Killarney; Richardson, of Roblin; Little, of Beautiful Plains; Feljusted ,of Gimli; Dupre, of Carillon; Club, of Morris; Boivin, of Iberville, and Yahmischak, of Emerson. The claim was made that this group, when the organization was affected, would be the second in strength in the legislature, and by their statements to reporters after the meeting there was nothing to indicate that the government would be accorded any organized support from the group.

SMITH FARMER'S NARROW ESCAPE

MR. W. A. HEARD, OF SMITH TOWNSHIP, WAS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

On Friday last during the rainstorm which occurred in this section a remarkable escape from lightning occurred on the farm of Mr. W. A. Heard, 5th concession of Smith Township, about five miles from the city. Mr. Heard was at work at the time in his barn, a short distance from his dwelling, when a bolt of lightning struck the rafters immediately over his head. The lightning shattered the rafter and ran down a chain hanging from the floor above, striking Mr. Heard on the leg, burning a hole in his trousers, and scorching the flesh beneath. The lightning must then have crossed over Mr. Heard's body for it struck the boot on the other leg, tearing the sole and heel of his boot to pieces, and then entered the ground.

Another fork of the deadly fluid struck a small shed a short distance away and started a fire in the contents.

Mr. Heard, stunned, and rendered senseless for the time, attempted to reach the door of the barn, when he found that his legs would not carry him. Dropping down on his knees he crawled to the house, and was helped in. A member of the family rushed out, and noticing the fire in the shed succeeded in putting it out without much trouble, before any great damage was done.

It was a most miraculous escape for Mr. Heard, and nothingshort of a providential deliverance. Mr. Heard recovered from the shock sometime after, and except for the burn on the leg, is not suffering any serious effects.

LIBERALS NOT ASKING DEWART'S RETIREMENT

BUT DIFFICULT TO ALWAYS AGREE WITH HIS ATTITUDE AT TIMES.

(Canadian Press.)

WINDSOR, July 14.—In an exclusive interview printed to-day in the Border Cities' Star, Major J. C. Tolmie denied that the purpose of the meeting of a number of Liberals held recently in Toronto was to have H. H. Dewart superseded by someone else as leader of the Liberal party in Ontario.

Major Tolmie maintained that it has been difficult for some members of the party to always agree with Mr. Dewart's attitude on public questions, and as a result it is intended to present a memorial to the Leader, expressing a desire to be allowed greater freedom without appearing to be going against the Liberal leader. He will be asked to call a caucus, or take such action as he deems wise.

ARMISTICE WITH GEN. WRANGEL IN CRIMEA

SUGGESTED BY BONAR LAW IN IMPERIAL HOUSE OF COMMONS.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 14.—Great Britain, in a recent note to the Russian Soviet Government, besides proposing an armistice between the Bolsheviki and Poland, also proposed that such armistice be arranged simultaneously with General Wrangel in the Crimea, Bonar Law announced in the House of Commons to-day.

An armistice with General Wrangel, he said, would be on the basis that Wrangel retire immediately to the Crimea, and that during the armistice this must be a neutral zone.

The British note, which was sent on 11th July, asked for a definite reply within a week, Bonar Law stated.

ACTION TO SOLVE U.S. COAL PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Extension for 30 days of the order giving preferential distribution of open-top cars to coal mines, east of the Mississippi, was ordered to-day by the United States Interstate Commerce Commission in an effort to solve the coal problem. The original order would have expired July 21.

Three-fold amendment of the order also was made by the commission, which, in a letter to Daniel Willard, chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Association of Railway Executives, suggested that the carriers prohibit more than one reconsignment of cars, loaded with coal.

The advantages of the original order provide:

That railroads must place an embargo against consignees failing to unload open-top cars within 24 hours after delivery.

That railroads may assign cars without regard to existing ratings for the lines so as to provide fuel for current use to public utilities and public institutions.

Coal cars are defined not to include flat-bottom gondolas with sides less than 36 inches high.

CHILD'S BODY IN RIVER AND MOTHER MISSING

MARMORA, Ont., July 13.— The body of an eight months' old male child was found floating in the Crowe River, which runs through this village, early this morning, and was identified as that of Alex. Bird, whose home was close to the river shore, near the cooperage mill. The child was clad in night clothes and bears a mark on its forehead. It is believed it was dead before entering the water. The mother is missing and search is being made for her body. She leaves five young children besides her husband. An inquest will be held.

MAN'S ARM IS FOUND IN NIAGARA RIVER

BELIEVED TO BE THAT OF BARBER WHO WENT OVER FALLS IN A BARREL.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 14—The grey tweed coat worn by "Professor" Charles Stevens until just a few minutes before he made his trip over the Horseshoe Falls in a barrel, is at city police headquarters in the hands of Chief Welch, who has communicated with Stevens' family in Bristol, England. Stevens handed the coat to Mayor H. P. Stevens of this city when his Worship bade him good-bye as he was about to enter the barrel. In the coat pocket is his money, amounting to about $300, and his contract with the film company, whereby the profits from the exhibit of the film were to be divided equally. The barrel cost him $250, and he had to pay $40 duty on it here.

It is the opinion of Wm. ("Red") Hill, the famous river man, that the body will not come to the surface for some time, as it was attached to bolts and the 110-pound ballast. When the strap wears or breaks the body will come out.

Stephens planned to travel with the moving picture concern, and later he was to take the barrel back to Bristol, where it was to be placed in a museum. A public reception was to be given him by the Mayor of Bristol.

A despatch from the American side says: A man's right arm, tatooed with a wreath and clasped hands, and a motto beneath, "Forget me not, Annie," was found floating in the Niagara River. It is believed to be the arm of Stephens.

EMPLOYERS CAN BE FORCED TO GIVE INFORMATION TO CONCILIATION BOARD

JUDGE R. D. GUNN MAKES IMPORTANT RULING AT ENQUIRY INTO STRIKE AT OTTAWA.

Judge Gunn, who presided here as chairman of the Conciliation Board to inquire into the differences between the C. G. E. and their striking employees, is serving in the same capacity on a board nominated by the Department of Labour to adjust differences between Ottawa employers and their carpenters.

It appears that several of the mill owners have failed to appear and give evidence required by the Conciliation Board, and in this connection Judge Gunn has made an important ruling that they can be compelled to do so. And His Honor gives these mill owners in question till to-day to appear before the Board; otherwise he declared, they and every member of their staffs are liable to be subpoened and forced to give the required information.

"We have the Power."

"We are a tribunal apointed by the Minister of Labour to investigate this dispute—and there seems to be a lot to investigate. We have the power to get the information," said Judge Gunn. He further stated: "All well regulated bodies submit to such a board by sending representatives. If those interested do not do so in this case we will subpoena the whole staffs and members of the firms if they do not come at our invitation."

Full Investigation.

"This investigation," continued his honour, "is a public one, in the interests of the public, at the request of our city council, and we want full information. Four hundred and fifty workmen, who have been in the service of these companies for years, walking the streets, is not a refreshing state of affairs in a community of this size."

LAWS GOVERNING MILK AND CREAM

The Cream and Milk Purchase Act, 1920, which went into force July 1, was passed in order to protect the many farmers of the province of Ontario who are selling either sour or sweet cream and are not situated so as to be able to make tests of the product for its butter fat content, and so have to leave the mater of testing entirely in the hands of the purchaser.

In order that the Department of Agriculture may have authority to check up the tests made in the creameries, condenseries, milk powder factories and cheese factories (where the milk is purchased on a butter-fat basis), the Act received the sanction of the Legislature at the session just closed. This Act does not require that milk be purchased on a butter-fat basis, but provides for checking up the testing of milk at those places where it is so purchased. It will be impossible for the Department to undertake testing for the purpose of determining the value of the milk or cream from time to time. A sufficient staff will be employed to check up the testing that is being done by purchasers. The object of the Department is to see that proper methods are being used in the testing of the milk and cream and that justice is being done to all concerned. Regulations supplementing the Act have been drafted with a view to making it possible for the inspectors to carry out the provisions and intentions of the Act.

What is Required.

The Act demands that all cream purchased for sale, shipment or manufacture shall be purchased on the basis of its butter fat content as determined by the Babcock test; that all milk paid for on a butter-fat basis shall be tested by the Babcock method and that in determining the fat content of cream supplied to a factory the sample of cream taken for testing shall be weighed into a test bottle officially stamped, and shall weigh 9 or 18 grams.

Power of Inspectors.

The Minister may appoint inspectors to carry out the provisions of this Act, and any inspector so appointed shall at all reasonable hours have free access and admission to all factories or other premises where milk or cream is collected for sale or shipment or manufacture, or to milk and cream in transit on wagons, trains or other conveyances, at collecting stations, railroad stations, express offices, in storage or wherever found, whether in possession of producer, seller, purchaser, carrying agent or storage company, and such milk and cream in sufficient quantities to make the proper test.

GIRL BERRY-PICKERS ONLY WORK BY DAY

LONDON, July 14.—That berry pickers believe in taking life easy this summer is evidenced by the fact that any number of girls are applying at the Government Employment Bureau to go out picking by the day, but do not wish to pick by the week or go to a camp for any length of time.

Berry pickers, however, are not as scarce this year as they were last year and the farmers in this vicinity can get as many berry pickers as they wish by the day. It seems that the London girls like to pick for a day and rest the next, or try and erase the sunburn and freckles acquired on the picking day.

The Government Employment Bureau reports a shortage of berry pickers in the Niagara district. It appears that the camp idea is not as popular as during the war.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN COUGHLIN

The death occurred last evening at her home in Hastings of Mrs. John Coughlin, after a lingering illness.

The deceased had been a life long resident of Hastings, and was well known and highly respected by all her acquaintances. Besides her sorrowing husband, she is survived by six daughters, Sister Mary John of Buffalo, Sister Carmelita of Boston and Sister St. George of the Ursaline Order, also Miss Gertrude at home Mrs. Lanley of Calgary, and Mrs. Black of Campbellford, two sons, John of Calgary and Timothy of Hastings.

The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock to Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church where Requim Mass will be sung by Rev. Father Brethertington, and to the Roman Catholic Cemetery for interment.

WILL DEPORT SOVIET.

Trouble-Breeder Has Been Run to Earth in England.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 14.—Santerio Nuorteva, who recently arrived in England from Canada as an emissary of Ludwig Marten, Soviet representative in the United States, has been run to earth by the authorities and will be deported. Nuorteva was admitted to England by mistake, it is stated.

Had Diplomatic Pass.

He was carrying a "diplomatic passport" signed by Martens, and Allied officers at Liverpool failed to notice the true nature of the document.

PALATIAL STEAMER.

The steamer Cayo Mambi, which passed down the river at Brockville, under the command of Captain Geo. Flemming, of Ogdensburg, will be used in the fruit trade between New York and Cuba, carrying bananas and pineapples. The boat is just off the ways at the Manitowac shipyards, and is one of the most luxuriously furnished craft that ever went through the canal, in the opinion of Captain Flemming. The boat is named after the fruit company's plantation in Cuba which bears that name.

ALD. GORDON SAYS STEEL BRIDGE IMPOSSIBLE NOW

THRUST OR PRESSURE FROM APPROACH ARCHES DESIGNED TO BE BALANCED BY THE MAIN ARCH, HE SAYS—RELIED ON MR. BARBER.

REFERS TO CRITICISM

Pending a statement by Mayor McIntyre and the Bridge committee on the by-law to provide an additional sum of $100,00 to cover the estimated cost of completing the Hunter street bride, Ald. Gordon at a special meeting of the Council last night referred to Mr. R. R. Hall's letter recently published in the Examiner and outlined the present stage of the work and the problem that confronts the Council and the ratepayers.

"Mr. Hall has written a letter to the Examiner asking the ratepayers to vote against the Bridge By-law," Ald. Gordon began. "Mr. Hall's interest in the bridge has been helpful, and the promise he secured from the Hon. Mr. Pugsley, when Mr. Hall was a member of the Federal House, that in the event of a bridge being built the Dominion government would assist, was fruitful in obtaining $50,000.00 from the present Dominion government.

There is no doubt Engineer Barber should have months ago advised the City Council that the bridge could not be constructed for the amount of moneys which had been voted, and granted for that purpose. Other aldermen, as well as myself, asked him some months ago if the bridge could be constructed for the amount of moneys that would be available, and he advised the other aldermen and myself that in his opinion the bridge could be constructed within those sums.

There has been, and will not be, any breach of trust on the part of the City Council. The $20,000.00 for the London street bridge has not been expended for the Hunter street bridge, and will not be expended for any other purpose than that for which it was voted.

A Result of the Design.

The bridge is approximately three-fourths constructed, and the arches on the east and west sides of the river with their pressure or thrust towards the river cannot be used, according to engineering opinions, for a steel arch, as this pressure or thrust towards the river must be met by the central arch of concrete resting against them, the same as a key stone maintains an arch. Steel construction is, at this date, impossible, but if the ratepayers decide that they do not wish to construct the concrete arch for the bridge, then the bridge will require to remain as it is, Cement construction, including the labour and material, and obtaining of the lumber and timber necessary in the construction of the bridge have increased, since the plans were adopted, about one-third. The estimate obtained by Engineer Barber as to the depth it was necessary to go to support the abutments was incorrect, which increased to a material extent the cost of the construction. For that Mr. Barber is responsible. The City Council, both this year and last year, relied on Mr. Barber's estimates. Although I was not a member of the City Council last year, in my opinion the City Council did the best they could, and had the right to rely on Mr. Barber's opinions when he was the Engineer in charge of this public work.

If the concrete span of the bridge is not completed now, it appears to me the only course left open is to leave it as it is. It is unfortunate that Mr. Barber did not ascertain accurately the proper depths that were required and foretell the increased costs which, I think ,he could have done.

I recognize the right of any ratepayer to criticize as freely as he may desire any work undertaken by the servants of the public, but I wish to point out that if the by-law is not supported the bridge will require to remain as it is; that is about three-fourths completed, or if the money is not provided by the vote of the people to finish the bridge the Council may decide to place the balance of the cost of the bridge in next year's estimates, which, of course, would be a serious hardship to the ratepayers if this is done.

The cost, which will probably be something over $80,000.00, although $100,000.00 is asked as an outside figure, would fall on the ratepayers in one year, while the first debentures issued would be paid over a period of thirty years, and the $100,000.00 being asked would be paid in a period of twenty years, and this will lighten the burden upon the present ratepayers as we expect some of the next generation to help pay the cost of the bridge."

Need Definite Information.

Mayor McIntyre said that from many conversations with citizens he had found a general demand for definite information of the cost of finishing the bridge.

Ald. Hamilton replied that the estimate announced at the previous meeting of the Council had been prepared by Mr. Townsend and Mr. Christie. Mr. Barber was present, but the two other engineers had done most of the figuring. Ald. Hamilton said.

"Mr. Christie believed that the work could be completed for that sum" he continued, "and I have a lot of confidence in Mr. Christie."

At the request of the Mayor and other members, Ald. Hamilton promised to secure as definite a statement as possible of the cost of the remaining work.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON PULLS HIS LITTLE JOKE

NEW YORK, July 15.—Standing on the deck of the steamyacht Victoria, Sir Thomas Lipton stroked his abbreviated goatee, and announced that he would "station a man with strong binoculars on the stern of the Shamrock IV. to keep tab on the far-distant Resolute to-morrow."

The remark was made in a spirit of jest and before the official handicap of 7 minutes and 1 second had been announced. The British knight of the deep had been confidently expecting the allowance would not be more than six minutes and a quarter, but he exhibited his indomitable spirit of gameness even after the unexpected announcement had been made ,and ordered the hundred of good-luck tokens sent by admirers to be taken aboard the Shamrock IV.

"They haven't been measured, but I don't think they'll add to the time allowance," Sir Thomas declared.

HYDRO APPROVES CARS ON SUNDAY

BUT CITY SOLICITOR DISPUTES OPINION THAT THE BY-LAW CAN BE VOTED ON NOW.

On the question as to when the proposed bylaw providing for the operation of Sunday street cars in Peterboro may be submitted to the people, City Solicitor Widdifield, at the special meeting of the council last night, maintained that the amended legislation requires the vote to be taken at the municipal election despite the advice from the Attorney-General's Department there is no time restriction and that the bylaw may be presented to the people at any time.

Ald. Gainey read a letter received by Mr. Tooms from E. Bailey of the Attorney-General's Department, to the effect that the new amendment was now in force and that there was no reason why the bylaw should not be be submitted on July 30th with the money by-laws.

"I don't care what Mr. Bailey says, with all due respect to him. The amendment does not permit the bylaw to be voted on except at the municipal elections," Mr. Widdifield asserted.

Ald. Gainey—"We look to the Attorney-General for information of this kind, with all due respect to Mr. Widdifield."

Ald. Gordon said he was inclined to think Mr. Widdifield's opinion was correct.

It was decided to proceed with the preparation of the bylaw, and in the meantime to clear up the points in dispute.

Hydro Fixes Rates.

In the eevnt of the success of the bylaw the Hydro-Electric Commission has notified the council of their approval of Sunday cars and announce the following schedule of service and fares:

Sunday tickets to be sold at three for twenty-five cents; cars to run from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m.; service of twenty minutes from May until September inclusive, and a forty minute service during the other months.

BEING UNABLE TO SLEEP.

Is often caused by eyestrain, and headaches over the eyes. This can be remedied by wearing correct glasses. If you suffer from this complaint, consult W. H. Lacey, Optometrist and Optical Specialist, 410 George street.

In Need of Food

GERMANS ACCEPT THE ALLIES TERMS SUBJECT TO CONDITIONS.

(Canadian Press.)

SPA, Belgium, July 15.— German acceptance of the Allied terms was embodied in the note laid before the Allied premiers at noon to-day by Lloyd George. Conditions were these:

The German Government to have distribution of Silesian coal or be allowed a million and a half tons monthly for northern Germany instead of the present 1,200,000 tons.

Mixed commission to be sent to Essen to examine food and housing conditions.

Allies asked to advance money or provide credit for importing additional food for the entire German people.

The note, written by Foreign Minister Simons, said that in acceding the Germans wished to prevent the Allies from forwarding an ultimatum to Germany. In a personal letter to the British Premier, Herr Simons recounted that he had been told by Lloyd George that if he were a British statesman he would take the risk of accepting the Allied terms. The Foreign Minister had taken the risk and would have to take the consequences.

BOARD OF TRADE WILL CO-OPERATE

HELP TO MAKE THE LOCAL REGATTA A SUCCESS.

On invitation, the executive of the Board of Trade, at its last meeting, appointed Mr. Thomas Barrie and secretary to interview the committee in charge of the Regatta which will be held on Saturday next on the River Otonabee below Rye's Boathouse, with the idea of co-operating to make this year's Regatta better than ever.

A sixteen event Regatta has been thoroughly arranged by the committee in charge, and with the co-operation of old "J. P." a splendid afternoon of aquatic sports will be indulged in, and witnessed by a great crowd.

A number of merchants and others have donated prizes, which demonstrates the enthusiastic supporters to the development of aquatic sports on the beautiful river front.

Members of the Board are requested to assist individually in any way possible. Particular assistance is required by the committee in charge to run the races.

It is hoped by the committee that next year the Regatta will be run under the name of the Aquatic Club of th Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association.

HAVE CONFIDENCE IN YOUR DRUGGIST

There are so many preparations recommended as a tonic and laxative that the public are often in doubt which preparation to try.

When you are suffering from constipation, biliousness or sick headache ask your druggist if Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets will relieve these ailments and he will tell you they have no equal, and if they should fail to help you, return the bottle and he will refund your money.

We could publish hundreds of testimonials from well known residents of this city, but as the druggists are selling many different preparations, they should be able to advise you of the results they get from recommending Dr. Norvals Stomach and tonic Tablet. 3d9 15 23 1336

THE STEAMER "GENEVA"

The popular lake and river steamer Geneva (Capt. Harris of Rice Lake), came up to Peterborough yesterday with an excursion party from Warkworth and Hastings. About one hundred took in the trip, and during the afternoon enjoyed themselves visiting about the city. The excursionists returned again about 5 o'clock in the evening.

Capt. Harris states that his boat has been in steady requisition since the season opened, and that he continues his regular trips from the lake up each Saturday morning. The Geneva's bookings for excursions are quite encouraging, and are being added to every week. Capt. Harris is confident of a very busy season, although the increased cost of coal, labour, and other steamboat supplies cuts on the earnings very materially.

Russian Advance

BOLSHEVIK FORCES ARE STILL ROMPING ALONG.

Canadian Press.

LONDON, July 15. — The Russian Bolshevik forces have forced their way across the Viliya River, in the province of Vilna on the north, and have driven the Poles out of the city of Kamentz Podolsk, on the Southern end of the Polish front, according to the official statement issued in Moscow, yesterday, and received here by wireless.

West of Molodetchno, northwest of Minsk, the Soviet forces are approaching positions held by the German armies during the Polish campaign of 1916, the statement says.

In the regions of Baranovitshi and Slutsk, south of Minsk, Bolshevik advance continues successfully, it is declared.

Fierce resistance on the part of the Poles on the entire front between Dubna and the Dniester Rivers is reported in statement.

COUNCIL GRANTS $300 TO S. A. BAND

PROPOSAL TO TAX BILLBOARDS REVIVED—WILL OIL MARKET CLOCK.

In view of the loss sustained by the Salvation Army in the malicious damage to some of their instruments and the theft of several others and also because they did not receive a share of the city's appropriation for park music this year the Council, on Ald. Gordon's motion seconded by Ald. Whitehouse, last night gave the Army a grant of $300.

Ald. Crowe wa sin favour of giving some financial assistance and proposed $150, but his amendment wasn't seconded. He said that had he been at meeting at which the appropriation was divided between the 57th and G.W.V.A. bands he would have voted for an equal share to the Army band.

May Tax Billboards.

Referring to the framework of billboard on the top of a house on Charlotte street, Ald. Crowe asked what action had been taken on the proposal last year to tax billboards.

Ald. Gordon moved seconded by Ald. Copping that a by-law be prepared to levy rates on billboards "especially those on the top of buildings."

Repair City Clock.

C. S. McClelland, caretaker of the clock in the market tower, informed the Council that the works had not been overhauled for years and were so badly in need of repairs that it might soon come to a stop. The Property committee was authorized to have the necessary repairs made.

GAMES CLEAN AND ABOVE BOARD

When interviewed by the Examiner to-day on the legality of the games at the Sheesley Shows, Chief Thompson stated that they were, as far as he could learn ,all above board, and he made the statement that the show was one of the cleanest that has ever visited Peterboro.

The concessions were all licensed under the provincial government, he added ,and as long as there was always a winner in a game they were legal. Only one game, in which dice were rolled, and there was not always a winner, he objected to, and the manager at once closed it up.

The Chief of Police of London, he said, was one of the strictest guardians of the law in the country, and he sent a personal letter to Mr. J. M. Sheesley ,complimenting him on the clean show he owned.

The games weer certainly interesting and he remarked on the large number of hams, boxes of candy, and other prizes that were won, and he declared "he couldn't see how they made much on them."

40,000 BASS DEPOSITED IN KAWARTHA LAKES.

Yesterday afternoon 40,000 young bass were deposited in the waters of Stoney and Clear Lakes. The fish reached Peterborough from the Mt. Pleasant Hatcheries yesterday morning, consigned to the care of Capt. Young, of the Stoney Lake Navigation Company. Under Capt. Young's supervision they were conveyed to Lakefield on the noon train and from thence to the lakes on the steamer Empress.

RACE WENT TO THE SHAMROCK WHEN THE DEFENDER'S HALYARD SNAPPED AND LET THE GAFF DOWN

SIDELIGHTS ON THE YACHT RACE

NEW YORK, July 15.—The skippers of the challenger (Shamrock IV. and the defender (Resolute) expressed unstinted dissatisfaction with the conditions that have made it impossible for them to sail the race with adequate tests of the new sails and accessories installed since both sloops finished their trial races.

The British colony here for the races now admit the wisdom of the New York Yacht Club in asking for a change of course from Sandy Hook to Newport during the early negotiations before the acceptance of Lipton's challenge.

Not only has the presence of vast quantities of oil in the water..... proved an insurmountable difficulty, but during the races the sloops were bothered by maritime traffic along the course.

For the benefit of the layman, it may be explained that through the time handicap the first boat that crosses the line is not the winner. If Resolute's time allowance is six minutes the challenger must finish by a margin equivalent to what the defender can sail in six minutes.

Among the yachts present at the course are Corsair, the flagship of J. P. Morgan, commodore of the New York Yacht Club; Casiana, the flagship of Commodore Edward L. Doheny, of the Atlantic Yacht Club; Victoria, the chartered boat of Sir Thomas Lipton; the steam yacht Tech of General Coleman Du Pont, and a score of equally well-known craft, including naval vessels that patrolled the course, and two destroyers for use by the press.

PETERBORO MAN HELD UP AND ROBBED ON THE GRAVEL ROAD

DRIVER FOR WILLIAM STOCK AND SONS LOST HIS CASH—TWO WOMEN IN THE GANG.

A hold up in broad daylight occurred on the Gravel Road yesterday afternoon about 5.15 o'clock, when two women and a man in an automobile stopped W. G. Bartley a driver for William Stock and Sons, as he was driving home from his route, asked him to sell them a loaf of bread and while he was changing the quarter which one woman offered him the other two went around to the other side of the rig and took about $8 of the Company's money from his pouch and about $7 of his own money from his pocket unnoticed. They also took his handkerchief from his pocket and then attacked him and attempted t ogag him with it, but he fough them off. They then escaped without Bartley being able to detect the license number of the car. The hold-up took place near the 3 mile post on the Gravel Road.

Bartley described the three as being dressed in gypsy costume and states that the man was of a copperish complexion.

Same Trio Attempted to Rob Crawford Grove Store?

Two women and a man answering to the description of the trio who held up Bartley entered Patterson's store at Crawford's Grove yesterday and after, offering to read Mrs. Patterson's hand tried to pass off a large bill which aroused Mrs. Patterson' suspicions and whih she refused to change for them.

It was rumored to-day that two stores in the vicinity of Springville had been broken into last night and suspicion centers around the three who held up Bartley.

The police were notified of the Bartley holdup at 7 o'clock last evening and since they have been trying to trace the robbers, but as yet they have obtained no clue.

WILL HOLD COAL FOR AN EMERGENCY

CITY'S PRICE MAY ALSO BE INCREASED TO MARKET LEVEL.

Only the orders accepted up to yesterday for coal from the city's fuel yard will be delivered the Council decided last night following Ald. Gordon's suggestion. The remaining 376 tons will be held for possible emergencies next winter and the Finance Committee has instructions to buy 500 tons for the same purpose. Ald. Morrison's committee was also asked to consider the advisability of increasing the price from $13 to conform with the current quotations of the retail trade.

At Ald. Whitehouse's request the Board of Works will investigate the possibility of securing a permanent right of way for pedestrians from the east end of the C. P. R. footbridge to nearest road in Engleburn. A yearly rental of $10 is now paid the owners of the property for the right to cross it.

PROCEED WITH THE TRAFFIC PLATFORM

TO THE QUAKER OATS FACTORY FROM THE NEW BRIDGE.

A motion to order the Hunter street bridge contractor to discontinue the construction of the platform to the Quaker Oats building until a report on the cost was submitted by the special bridge committee was defeated by the Council last night. It was moved by Ald. Gainey and seconded by Ald. Phelan.

"Sir Adam Beck advised us not to destroy the appearance of the bridge by putting in the platform," Ald. Gainey said, "but when the Council visited Mr. Robert Stuart at the Quaker Oats office they changed their minds and were willing to give anything the company asked.

Mayor McIntyre—Probably the cigars were passed around.

Ald. Crowe—I wasn't there.

Ald. Gainey—Mr. Denham was in favor of a ramp.

Ald. Phelan— They asked for only a platform to the office.

Ald. Jones stated that the wide platform to the factory was decided upon instead of the ramp.

Ald. Crowe at first declined to vote. "I think it would look small to go dickering with them now," he said. "We've been using their grounds and they could make things uncomfortable for us if they wanted to."

When the ayes and nays were called the following division resulted: Ayes, Aldermen Gordon, Copping, Phelan and Gainey; nays, Aldermen Whitehouse, Jones, Hamilton, Morrison and Crowe.

That the Utilities Commission be requested to supply a water service to J. Collins of Monroe avenue, was a resolution passed by the Council last night. Ald. Gainey explained that Mr. Collins was willing to bear the entire cost of the connection from Carlisle avenue. He also asked for a hydrant at the corner of Erskine and Euclid avenue.

Ald. Jones Returns.

Ald. Jones was welcomed by the Council last night upon his first appearance since his recent illness. He thanked the members for their thoughtfulness and sympathy.

The New Sensational Song Hit Sung by MR. GUS HILL

END OF THE FIRST DAY'S RACING FOR THE FAMOUS YACHTING TROPHY—A TYPICAL YACHT RACE.

(Special to Examiner)

NEW YORK, July 15. — If Shamrock IV. can give this American Resolute 7 minutes and one seconds in any sort of a wind from a Paddy's hurricane, which is not a breeze at all ,to an East Indian simoon she should get a place on that list of the seven wonders of the world. In fact as my old friend, Tommy Daly, would say, "Niagara Falls is one and Shamrock is all the rest."

Seven minutes and one second means a mile or more in any thing but a drifting match and in a drifting match seven minutes and one second might not mean more than a good hop, skip and a jump. In a breeze of wind, the boat will be off twelve miles an hour, so that if there is any sort of wind to-day that green-sided craft from over the wide, wide water must have a good generous mile of salt water between and her rival or the heat will go to the defender.

ODDS THREE TO ONE.

The announcement that Shamrock must allow the Resolute seven minutes and one second, sent the odds to three to one against the Lipton craft and the hearts of the British contingent down into their boots temporarily at least.

The British contingent was prepared for a time allowance of about 6.20 and would not have worried much if it had been as high as 6.0, but this 7.1 slam was a sure enough knockout.

That time allowance is what the Shamrock pays for her generous suit of canvas. She carried nearly 1,600 square feet more than the defender. Everybody knew that the challenger swung aloft a whole lot more silk than Resolute, but few had any idea that she would be charged with more than a thousand or 1,100 feet of excess.

Seven minutes and one second is the heaviest penalty a cup boat has ever had to pay. Reliance, the defending craft at the last cup races, gave Shamrock III. 1.57—and a good beating on the far side of that.

THE START.

SANDY HOOK, July 15.—Resolute led the Shamrock across the starting line to-day in the first American Cup race of 1920. The Resolute crossed at 12.00, 40 and Shamrock at 12.01, 38. The Shamrock was across the starting line before the starting signal was sounded, and under the rules was compelled to return and again cross the line. The Resolute took the leading place with the Shamrock trailing about 200 yards astern. Yachtsmen said Captain Burton had made the

SAY GERMANY WILL AID EUROPE'S CURE

NEW YORK—The settlement of the German indemnity problem will do much to restore the economic equilibrium of Europe, according to E. W. Stetson and Harold Stanley, Vice-Presidents and members of the Managing Committee of the Guaranty Trust Company, who have just returned from a two months' business trip during which they made a general business survey of Western and Central Europe. Mr. Stanley devoted most of his attention to the Western countries, while Mr. Stetson visited Germany, Austria and the so-called "new countries." Commenting on the situation in the countries visited, Mr. Stanley said:

"One finds much of a reassuring nature in the developments of the last year among the allied countries. England's courageous and farseeing policy, in spite of the serious political problems throughout the British Empire, is bearing obvious results in the restoration of credit and business activity generally. Her firm tax program, her foreign trade policy, and her dogged determination to maintain her position of financial supremacy are all combining to speed the restoration of normal conditions in England.

"France is rapidly getting back on her feet. The French peasant is producing splendid crops, and France expects to raise enough wheat to supply her needs this year. The French industrial worker, in spite of sporadic strikes, is producing effectively, and the whole labor situation, in fact, seems to be much improved in the last few months. France still needs fuel and raw materials, and has great financial problems to solve, but definite plans can be made to meet these problems as soon as the German indemnity is fixed and there seems no doubt that France will work out its future successfully.

"Belgium has already moved back well toward the normal. Conditions there have been fully described, and it seems pretty generally understood that Belgium, perhaps least of all of the nations of Europe, presents a problem."

Mr. Stetson summarized conditions in Middle Europe as follows:

"An atmosphere of uncertainty and hesitation prevails throughout Germany and Middle Europe, and it is very difficult to forecast even the immediate future for these nations, old or new. Germany has at last come to realize that she lost the war and is making desperate efforts to overcome the handicap that it has put upon her. I did not meet my optimists in Germany, but I am confident that a good deal of the somberness in the dark picture which the Germans paint can be attributed to their effort to temper the Allied terms of settlement.

"Throughout Middle Europe there is much confusion, and it is difficult to make definite statements about conditions. Austria is, for the present at least, crushed, and there is little semblance of industrial or productive activity.

"In Czechoslovakia the idealists and dreamers who were largely instrumental in working out the political readjustments now realize that the practical problems presented by such readjustments are much more difficult and that the making of a nation is a long process. Agricultural production there is good and the financial institutions are in a relatively good condition, but the work of unifying and organizing the life of this new nation, of course, presents a difficult task and it is too soon to make any predictions concerning it.

"From Jugoslavia, Greece, Hungary, and Roumania various reports are heard, but in all these countries the problems of reconstruction are dominant and their solutions have not yet been worked out.

MONUMENT TO CLEMENCEAU.

Shows Tiger of France in Company With Grouped Poilus.

(Associated Press.)

PARIS, July 14.—Clemenceau is shown at the front, standing at the edge of a trench, with his friends, the French poilus, below and about him, in the monument to be erected in his native country, the Vendee, early next year.

Francois Sicard, the sculptor, is chiselling the group workout of hard Burgundian stone. Unfinished, the work is already said to visualize with great character, the scene so often pictured of the old "Tiger," mentally and almost physically, fighting for France.

The Premier's figure stands eight feet high. He is, as always in the war days, wearing the long, loose overcoat and the soft, slouchily crumped hat, leaning on a cane. His face is toward the enemy, his eyes watching the horizon, following indications given him by a seated officer with maps, beside him. On his right are grouped soldiers and in the trench below are more of the men in the ranks, looking with mingled astonishment and admiration at their Minister of War.

The scene is said by critics to be vividly natural, rough and muddy, but heroic and full of the color and character of war days.

CALEDONIANS AND WOOLLENS DRAW—OTHER ITEMS OF OF INTEREST.

In an exhibition game played last evening at the Nicholls Oval, the Canadian Woollens and Caledonians provided excellent football. At half-time the Woollens were ahead 3-1 but in the second period the Scotsmen split the difference by the score 4-4.

A special meeting of all the G.W.V.A. Executive and players will be held to-night at 7:30 sharp.

The happiest man in Peterboro last evening was Mr. Frank McKinley who went home delighted because he escaped a position on the Football Executive. Never mind Frank, the Association gave you a vote of thanks for the services rendered.

All players and executive members of the C. G. E. team are requested to attend a special meeting to be held in the Montreal House on Friday evening at 7:30 prompt.

After the game last Thursday evening at the Exhibition grounds between the Vets and the C.G.E., some person kindly helped themselves to the football. If any person knows anything of it ,please communicate with J. Clark, C. G. E. secretary.

MAN AT THE WHEEL GREAT YACHTSMAN

Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, July 15. — Charles Francis Adams, 2nd, the man at the wheel, who will try to steer the Resolute to Victory in her first race in defence of the America's Cup off Sandy Hook to-day, is characterized by experts as the premier American yachtsman.

He has owned more than a score of yachts and has sailed nearly 100, small and large, and some of these have been the best boats of their class in America and the world.

Mr. Adams is the treasurer of Harvard University and a member of the corporation, a director in many companies, and in personal charge of trust estates amounting to many millions. Years ago he became known to yachting associates under the nickname of "Deacon" and some of them still call him by that name.

Loves the Sea.

Born at Quincy, Mass., he came of a long line of sea-faring men and inherited a love for the sea. He is credited with calm judgment and a high type of sportsmanship. His father used to take him sailing in Boston Harbor when he was a child, and by the time he was 12 years old he was winning races with his small boats. In those days he learned a lot about the tricky side of races, for rules were lax.

Sailed Many Yachts.

In later years Mr. Adams built and sailed to victory many notable yachts most of which bore names composed of seven letters with a double o, such as the Papoose, Baboon, Gossoon, Harpoon and Rooster.

He was at the wheel of the famous Pilgrim when she sailed a race against the Vigilant and Jubilee for the honor of defending the America's Cup in 1893. He sent his brother George, mate of the Pilgrim, to the Leeward rail to watch the jib sheets as the yacht drove along in a smoky sou'west. She heeled so hard that George soon stood in water up to his knees.

"Hey, there, Deacon," he yelled, "it is getting deep out here."

"I don't care if it comes up to your neck, you stay there till I tell you to come out," replied Captain Charles—but the pilgrim was defeated.

A Hapy Omen.

There may be a happy omen in the fact that Charles F. Adams years ago blocked the aspirations of one little Scotch cutter, the Minerva, which came to America and defeated a number of American boats in 1890. Her victories were regaded as ominous, and suggested to yachtsmen the possibility that a larger boat of her type would be sent to carry away the America's Cup. The Minerva was sailed by Charlie Barr, the famous skipper, who defended the cup as skiper of the Columbia in 1901 and the reliance in 190. But Captain Adams with his little Gossoon stopped the Victorious career by winning two out of three races.

Captain Christianson, the professional skipper of the Resolute, has sailed with Mr. Adams before. He was quartermaster of the Pilgrim in the race of 1893 and won Mr. Adams' approval by going out on the gaff, a dangerous position ,to fasten a sail that became loose while the race was on.

MANY ALIENS COMING

CANADA'S NEW IMMIGRATION POLICY IS NOW EFFECTIVE.

The recent C.P.O.S. sailing from Antwerp was characterized by the embarkation of 300 Polish emigrants for Canada.This was the first such sailing since 1914, since when Polish immigration has been effectively discouraged.It marks the beginning of a new policy as regards the admission of new citizens to Canada. For the old system of discouraging all except French, Belgian, Dutch and Scandinavian immigration is substituted a policy under which German, Austrian, Turkish and Bulgarian immigration is forbidden. Finns, Russians, Maltese, Italians, Greeks, Spaniards and Portuguese are discouraged; Poles, Syrians and Armenians not encouraged; and French, Belgians, Dutch, Scandinavians, Danes and Swiss are encouraged.

Finns and Russians are not wanted because of Bolshevist tendencies, but in the case of the other countries discouragement is due merely to the fact that they do not supply agriculturists ,which Canada desires and which the northern European countries furnish. Mennonites, Hutterites and Doukhobours will no longer be admitted into the Dominion. Poles must possess $25 landing money and Syrians and Armenians $200 and must pass health and literary tests.

From twenty-five to fifty applications per week more than any other nationality are received from Poles already in Canada for the admission of relatives. Temporary visits to Canada by citizens of former enemy countries are allowed without undue formality, and cohsideration is given to applications by Canadians for admission from those countries of wives, children, aged parents and fiancees. The C.P.R. is negotiating for the immigration of 20,000 Italians as railway workers and will probably arrange a sailing from Italy to facilitate their passage. The Italian Government recently relaxed the very strict regulations as to steamship accommodation for its emigrating citizens.

LAST OF PIONEER FAMILY PASSES IN CANNINGTON

CANNINGTON, July 15. — With the death of Jane Scott Donald, widow of the late Alexander Macdonald, has been removed the last of three generations of Davidsons and Donalds who in the thirties, when the ocean passage lasted six weeks, and the only railway in operation was one of nine miles to overcome the Lachine Rapids, settled in the Township of Brock. When application was made for a post-office the suggestion of the name Cannington in honor of the statesman Canning was made by one of the first settlers, Lachlan Davidson, a grand uncle of the deceased Mrs. Macdonald, who left Aberdeen at the age of fifteen., lived seventy years of her lif in Cannington or the immediate vicinity.

APPLE PROSPECTS FOR ONTARIO

Apple prospects in Ontario are reviewed in a recent crop report of the Federal Fruit Branch, as follows:—

In the western section of the province the weather during the early part of June, generally speaking, was dry, but rcent rains have greatly improved conditions. In Eastern Ontario the weather though cool and the season backward, has been favourable to good development. The one outstanding feature is that there is very little fungus in evidence on leaves or fruit, although in many sections the last few days have been favorable to its development. The following is a summary of reports received from our correspondents:—

Between Toronto and Hamilton, Duchess light, Wealthy good, Ribston and Blenheim fair to good, and Russet good. Where spraying has not been done fruit will be of very inferior quality.

Niagara District. — Fair to good for all varieties.

Lake Erie District.—Baldwins and Spies light in some sections including unsprayed orchards; summer and winter varieties will average about 50 per cent. of a full crop; fall varieties about 80 per cent.

Lambton.—All varieties set well except the Baldwin in limited areas.

Wyoming.—Spy, Baldwin, Greening, Snow, Duchess among the best; fruit looks clean.

Ingersoll.—Nearly all varieties of fall apples promise full crop. Spy and Baldwin probably 50 to 60 per cent.; other winters a full crop; quality and set of all varieties exceptionally good, even foliage on unsprayed orchards looks excellent at this writing. We look for more apples in this locality than for several years past and mostly of good quality.

Georgian Bay District.—June drop still in process, but rains of last two or three weeks gives promise of good size.

Meaford.—Medium to full crop of all varieties except Spies, which will be about 50 per cent.

Owen Sound.—Snow, Mann, and Duchess promise to be heavy, but Baldwin, King, Golden Russet, Greening, and Wagner will be only a partial crop with Spy almost a total failure.

Collingwood.—Fall apples promise a good crop with the exception of Yellow Transparent; winters medium.

Oshawa.—In well cared for orchards the "set" is reported good, but not heavy in uncared for orchards.

Newcastle. — Weather conditions during the blossoming periods were ideal, and the "set" has been good. Early varieties, such as Duchess and Wealthy, require thinning. Kings, McIntosh Reds, and Snows look well, but the acreage in bearing of these varieties is not large. Spies and Baldwins very light—in some sections a complete failure. Starks, although a light blossom, have "set" well. Golden Russets good. Ben Davis will compromise 75 per cent. of the winter varieties. The crop in the district along the lake front will be very light, but promises fairly good north of the fourth concession.

Port Hope.—In well cared for orchards of which there are very few, the crops will be from fair to good, but this district as a whole will be light.

Cobourg. — Weather conditions ideal. June drop not heavy. Golden Russets, Ben Davis, Starks, Rhode Island Greenings, and Kings promise well; Spies and Baldwins, light; fall varieties, fair.

Colborne - Brighton.—Little change in prospects since last report. End of "drop" period not yet reached. Fruit exceptionally clean. Snows, Wealthies, McIntosh Reds, Russets, Ben Davis, Starks, Cranberry, and Cooper's Market heavy; Spies, light to good, but "patchy"; Baldwins light.

Trenton.—In one section of the district the "set" has been very poor, especially on Snows, McIntosh Reds, and Cranberry Pippins. June "drop" continues to be heavy. Fruit exceptionally clean. From another section of the district reports are more favourable. McIntosh Reds, Snows, Wealthies, Starks, and Ben Davis are expected to give two-thirds of a normal crop. Spies are lightest, but the young trees promising. One correspondent states: "If favourable conditions continue the 1920 crop both in quality and quantity should be the best for the past three or four years. In this district the fruit is exceptionally large for this date. No trace of fungus on fruit, but some evidence on leaves in few cases." Golden Russets and Ben Davis leading varieties.

Belleville.—Early apples promise fair to good. Winter varieties average crop.

Rednersville. — Crop conditions most favourable. "Drop" has been very light. All varieties indicate a full crop. Duchess, Snows, and McIntosh Reds leading varieties.

Wellington. — Weather conditions favourable. Fruit very clean, and, with the exception of Spies, almost a full crop is expected. On Spy trees which bore last year the crop will not be over 25 per cent., but on trees which did not bear, the crop will be normal.

Bloomfield. — Heavy "drop" on some varieties. Spies blossomed well, but crop will be light; Starks and Wagners are also light; Ben Davis fair; Duchess and Wealthy loaded to the extent that they will not need thinning.

South Bay.—The "set" has not been good, especially on Mann, King, Baldwin, Baxter, and Cranberry Pippin varieties. Ben Davis, Spy, McIntosh Red, and Wagner about equal to that of 1919. Russet, Pewaukee, and Talman Sweet fair to good.

Milford.—The "set" has been good. Weather conditions excellent. Golden Russets and Ben Davis a full crop. Fameuse and Spies very light—not over 25 per cent. of normal. McIntosh Reds, Cranberry Pippins, and Kings promise 75 per cent. of normal.

Waupoos.—Spies and Baldwins are light. Russets leading variety.

St. Lawrence Valley.—Ideal weather conditions, and prospects for a good crop of all varieties grown in this district. Fruit clean, and very few insects reported. Yellow Transparents, Duchess, Wealthies, Alexanders, fair to good. McIntosh Reds and Fameuse "set" well, and have made excellent growth. The crop as a whole is expected to almost equal that of last year.

FINANCIER LOOKS FOR PROSPERITY

ANALYZES FINANCIAL CONDITIONS AND DECLARES COUNTRY IS RECOVERING FROM SHOCK OF WAR.

NEW YORK, July 15.—F. R. Shortis, a Vice-President of the Guaranty Trust Company, has recently arrived from England. For many years he was in charge of the foreign business of Kleinwort, Sons & Co., merchant bankers of London, and subsequently became manager of the firm. Mr. Shortis resigned that position last year to become financial adviser to the Inter-allied Rhineland High Commission, from which post he has just obtained his release.

In discussing the financial condition of Great Britain, Mr. Shortis said:

"It is true that she has spent in connection with the war, from the 1st of August, 1914, to the 1st of May, 1920, the vast sum of £11,000,000,000, or, at par of exchange, $53,460,000,000, but it should be remembered as a point of extreme importance that of this stupendous amount more than £4,000,000,000 ($19,440,000,000), that is to say, more than one-third of the total, has been raised during the war by revenue, leaving a balance outstanding of approximately £7,000,000,000 ($34,020,000,000). The latter figure includes advances to the Allies, as well as to the British Dominions, of approximately £1,850,000,000 ($8,991,000,000). It is difficult to state what amount of the latter sum will eventually be recovered, but by assessing it for the purpose at £1,000,000,000 ($4,860,000,000) there would remain an amount outstanding in connection with the war of £6,000,000,000 ($29,160,000,000), or only one and a half, the amount that has already been raised in revenue during the last four years.

Revenue Raised.

"It is possible that the revenue raised during the last four years may exceed the amount which is possible by means of equivalent taxation in the future, but at the same time there should be a very drastic reduction in Government expenditure to compensate for any loss of revenue raised thereby.

"Considering the extent of her expenditure on the war, the financial position of Great Britain is decidedly favorable. It is gratifying to know that she is not only balancing her budget in a satisfactory manner, but has, moreover, a considerable surplus ing fund sufficient to redeem the entire outstanding debt within a reasonable time.

"Taking the situation in general, the position of Great Britain cannot be regarded as unfavorable, although the fact that sterling expressed in United States currency shows a depreciation of more than 20 per cent may be taken as an indication that the credit of Great Britain is severely impaired. But people who are well acquainted with the actual economic position ,and the reasons for the present level of exchange, are, of course, aware of the cause. It is not that Great Britain is not prepared to pay its debt to the United States, for it possesses plenty of assets, but it does not, unfortunately, possess any tangible assets which can be removed from Great Britain to the United States. It is, therefore, necessary to wait until such time as she can export or render services in sufficient quantities to produce a trade balance in her favor.

THEFT CASE IN POLICE COURT

BOY ALLOWED TO GO WITH A WARNING.

A 16 year old Barnardo Home boy appeared in this morning's Police Court on a charge of stealing a quantity of jewellery valued at $20 from his employer, Thomas Fowler of North Monaghan. The Magistrate was lenient with the boy and returned him to the custody of the home.

Barnardo Home Inspector Stannard was present in the court and stated that the boy had ben discharged by Mr. Fowler at the end of a month and having received his month's wages came into Peterboro where he was employed by the McDonald Lumber Company. After paying his board bill to Mrs. Leith of Gladstone Avenue he had returned to Mr. Fowler's farm to get some clothes which he had left there. There was no one around the house and being short of money he had picked up the jewellery about the house.

In giving the boy's record Mr. Stannard stated that Benjamin McCoy for whom he had worked about 3 months, had paid him no wages. There was a claim of $30 for the boy's wages against Mr. McCoy but he refused to pay it. The boy stated that the only money he had received from McCoy was 30 cents which McCoy gave him to go to the Peterboro Exhibition with last fall.

Considering the boy's record and the strong temptation brought about by his lack of money Magistrate Dumble lecured and advised the boy, shook his hand, and returned him to the custody of the Barnardo authorities.

SIMPLE LIFE FOR CAPTAIN KITCHEN

Duchesses, Dukes, Etc., May Go to Perdition, He Says.

"To Hell with Duchesses, Dukes or anybody else, I'm going to lead the simple life."

In thse feorceful words Captain Thomas Kitchen, hero of a recent trans-Atlantic romance at Halifax and New York, gave vent to his exasperation at the notriety which has dogged his footsteps ever since he gallantly paid the return passage of Miss Butler, the English girl who came to Canada to marry him, but fell in love with a baronet's son en route.

Intimate friends have known for some time that ex-Captain Kitchen, following the Butler episode, received half a dozen proposals of marriage from English girls, including one from a lady of rank.

Captain Kitchen today positively refused to deny or affirm the report that the latest applicant for his heart and hand is an English Duchess. "The letter came to me in confidence," he declared, "and I have no intention of saving a word about it for publication."

WHAT IS A DUB? SEE "THE DUB" AND GET A LINE ON HIM

Wallace Reid Proves That the So-Called Dub Often is Every Inch a Man.

What is a Dub? In the parlance of the submerged tenth it is a man who succeeds in muddling everything with which he comes in contact and who is unable to do anything right. It also suggests one who does his work carelessly or indifferently—you hear of people "dubbling along" at some given task. Probably the best synonym for dub is what is commonly known as "a poor fish."

Anyway, if you want to find what a dub is really like, see "The Dub," the picture in which Wallace Reid will appear at the Allen Theatre Friday and Saturday. Oddly enough, in the end, the star proves that he isn't a dub after all and the story rounds out into a decidedly interesting series of complications with a surprising finish.

And there is love in it. No dub could fail to get mixed up in a love affair. In fact some people say that to be a dub one must be in love; others say that if you are in love you are a dub. Anyway you put it, the subject is interesting.

James Cruze directed the picture with William Horwitz as his assistant. Nina Byron is the leading woman and the cast includes many favorites of the Lasky stock organization. Will M. Ritchey wrote the scenario from a magazine story by Edgar Franklin. An added attraction will be Mr. Gus Hill, the eminent baritone, in a 1920 Review, featuring the latest song creations, "Pie-Eye, Tootsie, Good Bye-ee", "Ching-a-Ling's Jazz Band".

Mr. Gus Hill, late of Feists' Jazz Review, who has been touring the west for the last six months, will be seen at the Allen to-day for the last time. Mr. Hill possesses a baritone voice of exceptional quality and range and has appeared in nearly all the Allen houses.

THURSDAY, JULY 15TH, 1920.

THE WEATHER AND THE CROPS.

The weather man points out that it has rained on twenty-eight days in June and so far in July and people whose holidays have been dampened and whose outings have been spoiled by the series of showers are inclined to grumble at the frequency with which the rain clouds have appeared. But a drive through the country these days is a splendid antidote for that feeling of dissatisfaction. Never have the crops as a whole looked better, and in few seasons has there been finer weather conditions, so far as the crops are concerned. The fields show the effects of the frequent rain and one forgets the inconvenience that may have been caused by an unexpected shower in the magnificent vista of luxuriant crops that spreads out on each side of the road as one passes through the farm districts. Better a few spoiled picnics than poor crops; better a ball game postponed here and there than a scarcity in the necessities of life next winter. And so the next time you are awakened by the sound of rain on the roof, don't complain; that rain means food and raiment and spending money for us all, for a record crop is a blessing that is spread over the whole country. By all appearances Ontario is destined to enjoy such a crop this summer so that there is every reason to rejoice at the weather and not one sound reason for complaint.

ALBERTA COAL.

In view of the undoubted seriousness of the coal situation and the indications that the supply coming into Ontario from the United States' mines will fall below the normal figure and that a shortage is inevitable unless the deficiency is made up from some other source of supply, the City Council might well take a leaf out of Windsor's book and investigate the possibility of securing a supply of coal from the Alberta mines. Windsor is taking no chances of having to struggle with a fuel famine next winter, and acting upon the advice of the Fuel Controller the City Council yesterday placed orders for large supplies of coal to be shipped at once from the coal fields of Alberta. It is claimed that this coal can be brought to Windsor just as cheaply as the coal from the mines in the United States, while the quality is said to be good. If these facts are correct the Windsor Council is to be commended upon its enterprise and foresight which will give the Border city an adequate supply of fuel, regardless of the situation across the line. Their action is welcome, too, as an indication that Canadians are awakenng to the necessity of placing themselves as soon as possible in a position to be less dependent upon the United States for our fuel supply The more Canadian coal is used the better will it be for the Dominion generally.

HYDRO RATES.

There will be general sympathy with the desire of the rural districts to secure electric light and power. The possession of these facilities would be a great boon to the farmers, and in a province so rich in electric energy as in Ontario, there is no reason why eventually the rural sections should not have and enjoy the advantages that would follow the widening of the Hydro system so as to include all districts. But the plan advanced by Mr. J. G. Lethbridge, Farmer member for West Middlesex, who is chairman of the special committee appointed by the Ontario government to report upon a more equitable rate for Hydro power, is likely to meet with stiff opposition, and rightly so. Mr. Lethbridge complains that power is sold in Glencoe at $78 a horse power. It does not matter to Mr. Lethbridge that this is the actual cost of delivering the power to Glencoe. He thinks the rate should be lowered and the people in other centres, who are situated closer to the point of generation, should pay a higher rate than at present in order to make it possible for the people of Glencoe to get their power cheaper, and applying the same principle generally, he practically declares that the people of the cities should help to pay the Hydro bill of the farmers.

The Hydro system is based upon the cost of operation. Naturally those places which are closer to the source of power secure their electric energy at a cheaper rate than others farther away. It is unreasonable to expect that the rate should be uniform, any more than that the railways should carry passengers one hundred miles as cheaply as ten miles, and any definite proposal to make those communities fortunate enough to be located close to the point where power is generated pay more than the cost of the energy used in order to give people in other centres not so advantageously situated, power at a cheaper rate, would be violently attacked.

A LOST OPPORTUNITY

The personnel of the Meighen Cabinet as announced has been accepted by a large section of the press as evidence of the intention of the Government to avoid a general election and to reduce the number of by-elections to the minimum. The view expressed by the Examiner that Premier Meighen has not taken any chance in his cabinet-making is concurred in by many journals throughout the country and the new head of the government is regarded as having displayed more political sagacity than interest in the welfare of Canada in his choice of ministers. A wielding out of the weaklings of the Borden administration and an honest endeavour to place the strongest men available at the head of departments might have given the new Premier a splendid start in gaining the respect of the country but he has failed to measure up to his opportunity and by taking the line of least resistance has already given evidence that Canada cannot hope for better government so long as the present administration is left in power.

A REVIEW OF THE SITUATION.

Is the reaction from the excessive demands of Labor Unionism to be the open shop again? In Britain the great industrial interests who have for decades quietly negotiated with Trades Unionism, and who, during and since the war, have had to yield to unconscionable demands, are begining to wonder if the open shop is not the way out of their difficulties. On the one hand, they have crushing taxation to enable the Government Treasury to make up financial leeway, and on the other, union regulations that hamper them at every turn. Lately piecework has been generally re-introduced, where possible, but even this method of overcoming inefficiency has not offset the effects of too much unionism.

In the United States, the triumph of the United States Steel Corporation, and later, the railroads, has had marked effect. The strikes on these have been failures. On the railways new men have been gradually broken in, to take the place of switchmen and other "outlaw" strikers. There is a general disposition now to fight strikes, and not to yield to further threats. The labor situation has taken an easier turn. But the growth of Los Angeles is perhaps the most notable triumph ofr an anti-union policy. Los Angeles, which used to be far down in the list of cities, has passed San Francisco, Buffalo, Milwaukee, New Orleans and Cincinnati. Perhaps the movies are partly responsible, but the main fact is that Los Angeles has been the open-shop city of the United States. Labor is not less well-paid, and not less prosperous. But unions are not recognized. No walking delegates have jobs there. While building in San Francisco is at a stop, it is flourishing in Los Angeles. Bank deposits are more numerous, are larger, and progress is everywhere more marked —because there is no union stifling.

While manufacturers and other dealers could pass on increasing costs to the general public, they were more or less indifferent toward keeping down costs. The demand was so abnormal that to get output fancy prices were paid for common labor. All over the world the reaction in consuming capacity is noticed, and trade is more or less cautious in most lines. The period of a "buyer's market" is fast approaching. This makes for economy and a fight for efficiency, and where in the last few years Labor Unionism has gone to excess, business is likely to be compelled to get back to a more normal basis of operation.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

NO HOUSING OPERATIONS

COUNCIL APPRECIATES COMMISSION'S SERVICES, BUT DECLINES TO PROCEED WITH BUILDING PLANS.

NO APPLICATIONS

The Housing Commission was virtually dismissed by the Council last night on Ald. Jones' motion that the report presented by Mr. F. H. Dobbin be laid in abeyance until applications are received for houses. A vote of thanks was passed to the commissioners, Mayor McIntyre, Mr. Dobbin, and Mr. James Finnie, for the time and attention they devoted to the preliminaries of securing plans, options on property and tenders for those vanishing houses now farther in the air than perhaps at any other time since those late winter days when resolutions demanded "that Peterboro get busy and do something."

Ald. Jones—No man would build at the present prices.

Mr. Dobbin—He can't borrow the money. If he was going to build, he could get only 40 per cent. from a loan society.

Ald. Morrison objected to any undertaking to build four-room houses They would depreciate adjoining property, he said, and would not be of advantage to the city.

Ald. Hamilton—Do you know that in Toronto and Hamilton there are miles of those houses?"

Ald. Morrison—"That may be, but we are dealing with Peterboro, and and in my experience I don't find anybody who wants to buy four room houses."

Mr. Dobbin argued that prices were dropping, to wich Ald. Crowe replied that a declining market was not favorable to a building project. Mr. Dobbin contended that houses were needed but that citizens were holding back from building.

Ald. Jones ended the discussion by suggesting that the Commission's report, including the tenders, laid over until applications for houses are received. Ald. Gordon moved that a vote of thanks be extended to the Commission and that no action be taken on the proposed housing cheme. Ald. Jones seconded it.

Ald Gordon—It looks like a cost of $37.50 a month without anything paid off the principal on a $4,500 six-room house.

Ald. Crowe—Workingmen couldn't pay that.

Mr. Dobbin—"What's your remedy?"

Ald. Crowe—"Let them fish for themselves.

When Mr. Dobbin was retiring Ald. Hamilton remarked "Don't feel bad."

Mr. Dobbin—"Oh, no I think you're doing what's sensible."

Ald Crowe—"You're right there, boy.

TIP-TOP TAILORS LOCAL BRANCH

The public are asked to bear in mind that representatives of the Tip Top Tailors of Ottawa, have arranged to visit Peterborough two days each week, Friday and Saturday, at the jewelry store of E. V. Warne, 325 George street. A practical garment maker will be in attendance each day to take measures, and samples of cloths will be on exhibit for the inspection of customers. A section of Mr. Warne's store has been secured for these weekly business visits, which will not interfere with his regular jewelry trade. The Tip Top Tailors report a very satisfactory business during their opening visit last week.

WILL PUSH WORK ON HIGHWAYS

TORONTO, July 15.—Within the next three months over three thousand men will be employed on the Provincial Highways system of Ontario, according to a statement made yesterday by W. A. McLean, Deputy Minister of Highways. Throughout the system this fall repair work will be carried on together with some construction where sections of the highways require it.

At the present time, while some work is being done on the roads, the Department is concentrating its efforts upon securing material and getting the organization in shape. A resident engineer has been appointed for practically every seventy-five miles of highway, 25 having been named altogether. These engineers are locating gravel and stone suitable for crushing, and it is an interesting fact that considerable deposits of splendid road material have been found in districts where the visible supply was small. The engineers have been "prospecting" in districts where gravel and stone have been scarce and likely looking ridges are bored for gravel.

The Government has been systematically taking over the highways designated, up-to-date about 75 per cent. of the roads being in the possession of the Crown.

THURLES, Ireland, July 15.—The bullet riddled body of John Dwyer, caretaker for race horse fancier and owner of tract of land from which tenants had been evicted, was found yesterday by the roadside near Dromhane near here. Dwyer is said to have received several warnings as a result of agrarian arguments in the vicinity. He is survived by large family.

PYTHIAS KNIGHTS MEET IN OSHAWA

OSHAWA, July 15.—Grand Lodge of Ontario, Knights of Pythias, opened its 48th convention here yesterday morning with Grand Vice-Chancellor Agmenshall, of Ottawa, in the chair, owing to the absence of Grand Chancellor Corrie, of St. Thomas, through a motor accident. The morning was taken up largely with the presentation of various reports, official welcomes on behalf of the town, Oshawa Lodge No. 47, and the Pythian Sisters, and an address by Supreme Vice-Chancellor Wm. Ladrew, of New York. Past Chancellor Bert Smith, of Oshawa Lodge, introduced Mayor Stacey, Chancellor Commander Elgie, of Oshawa Lodge, and Mrs. Disney, of the Pythian Sisters. They were welcomed to the Grand Lodge by Supreme Towers Hamilton. The Mayor extended the freedom of the city to the Grand Lodge, and assured them that they considered it a great honor to have them meet here. He also presented the Grand Chancellor with the key to the city, and assurd them again that they were doubly welcome.

WOMEN ENDORSE TWO LANGUAGES

WOULD HAVE BOTH FRENCH AND ENGLISH TAUGHT IN SCHOOLS.

At one of their most illuminating sessions this year, during the convention at St. John, the National Council of Women passed a resolution endorsing the study of both the Canadian national languages. They would have French taught in the schools, from the time they arrive at the junior third grade. The reasons given for wanting this were good citizenship, good fellowship, and patroitism. They might have added that a knowledge of French would mean a doubling of one's delight in existence, and his literary resources. Indeed, one authority says that a man gets one additional soul with each new language he masters. So the N. C. W. members were putting it mildly in their arguments for having Canadians versed in both their official languages. Canadian soldiers who fought in France admired endlessly Mademoiselle from Armentieres and her sisters, because they knew both French and English, and very often some Italian and Spanish as well. The advantages which are enjoyed by men and women of older lands from knowledge of more than one language are not at all less in Canada, and so one wishes success to the N. C. W.— Turner's Weekly.

NEW EFFORT TO SETTLE THE TROUBLES IN CHINA

PEKING, July 15. — Efforts are still being made by new emissaries to persuade Wu Pei-Fu and Tsao-Kun, the Anfu generals who rebelled because of the recent dismissal of General Hau Shu-Cheng, to obey the Government mandate not to march in the direction of Peking. The food supply in this city is receiving attention from the various foreign legations, in view of the stoppage of traffic between Peking and Hankow and the possible interruption of other railway lines. Authorities here have been asked to make known their minimum requirements.

VIRTUOUS WIVES

They glided skilfully among concentrating hordes, checked and held in new multitudes, multitudes that had the feeling of the mingled East. They were caught in the jam of the holiday hour, surrounded by wabbling peddlers' wagons, Hebrew, American, and negro; trucks with brawny, half naked drivers; thronged trolleys, white with the last warmth of the summer; long, grim funeral processions jogging back to life; strident, creaking cars packed with family parties; mediocrity everywhere on wheels, happy, hot, and noisy, eying them with covetous admiration as they, the privileged caste, passed, unrelated and irresponsible, through the churning, struggling crowd.

They did not see the soiled present at their sides or divine the challenge of the future. Ahead, across the floating span, was the magic of the night, a breathless, nervous city pursuing the phantom of pleasure with the same dynamic intensity with which, during the ugly day, it had scrambled for the wealth it would leave for future generations to enjoy. The tired masculine day was over, yielding to the glittering, feminine night, and in the hanging gardens of the air was the feeling of music and dancing. The night was feminine; the night was theirs. Each felt a quickening of the nerves, an awaking appetite, a sudden joy of existence, a sense of possession by the right of her position, her charm, and her power. All the extravagance of pleasure, all the multiple electric allurement to the eye, the singing call of violins, the moving color of laughing crowds existed for them.

Kitty Lightbody, rebel against a life of monotony and drudgery, cried, with a staccato laugh:

"At last! My, it's grand to have just one good time!"

They passed out of the high chill of the river into the sudden warm breath of the tenemented city and ran down to the Langdon Hotel, where the runabout was waiting.

"Gang's up-stairs," said Laracy, with a flat flourish of his hand.

Amy sought hungrily through the crowd in the vestibule. One glance, and she experienced a quiet satisfaction. Beside Mrs. Challoner was Charlie Pardee, a slim, blond youth, with the usual flowing hair and pleasing face, unmarred by lines of heavy thought; Captain Barrisdale, an Anglo-American mining Croesus, dark, heavy-shouldered, copiously scented, and receptively handsome, and behind them, as she had divined he would be from the first, Monte Bracken.

PART XII.

Immediately Amy was satisfied that Monte rBacken would be there, she felt a sharp return of her former irritation. She gave him her hand loosely, turning to the others, who were already discussing new plans for the evening. Dressing was voted a bore, the conventional restaurant another bore, theater a dreadful bore, and slumming the only real thing to do.

"Slumming is too adorable!" claimed Mrs. Lightbody, bobbing up and down and clapping her hands without notice of the staring crowd. "I just adore slumming. You can have so much more fun when nobody's watching!"

They dined at a beer-garden in Harlem, amused themselves noisily at a melodrama in the Grand Opera House, until warned by the management, and came down Broadway, dipping into chop-suey restaurants, flashy cabarets, and shoddy dance halls. At two o'clock, after this profound study of the habits of the unexplored races which live about Fifty-ninth Street, they returned to civilization, for a little breathing spell at a roof garden.

"Hello," said Mrs. Challoner, who was ahead, "if here aren't our husbands!"

Challoner, a strapping coal miner, pitchforked into society by the genius of a masterful father, greeted her without surprise.

"Sober?" said Mrs. Challoner, raising her eyebrows.

"Fairly."

"Amusing yourself?"

"So-so."

"Want us to clear out?"

"No; we're quite respectable — aren't you?"

"Good Lord, friend husband — wouldn't you know it?" exclaimed Kitty, in whispered anguish to Amy. "For heaven's sake hang on to the captain, or there'll be murder!" With a rapid motion, she attached herself to Laracy's arm, who, after a start of surprise, being a wide-awake young gentleman, comprehended the role he was to play.

The meeting of the lightbodys was simplicity itself.

"Hello, what are you doing here?"

"Hope I'm not in your way, Ted dear."

"You? No. Why should you?"

He nodded affably to the rest, and followed Challoner back to their party in an opposite box—a thin, middle-aged, bow-legged, horsy man, quite bald and world-weary.

"Touching family reunion," said Bracken meditatively. "And there is still a blue law forbidding husbands to kiss their wives in public."

"What an awful moment!" said Amy, who, convinced by Mrs. Lightbody's agitation, was awaiting a touch of melodrama. "What will she tell them?"

"I say, Amy—you are green!" said Tody Dawson, from his superior worldly wisdom. "Ted Lightbody care what Kitty does? That's a good one!" He went off into a roar of laughter.

"But then—"

"Oh, that's just Kitty's way of appearing devilish!"

"Dancing this with me, aren't you?" said Captain Barrisdale, stalking up.

"Under orders?" said Amy, with a laugh.

The captain was not a subtle person.

"Been dying to break away the whole evening," he said with a killing glance. "I say, you dance like an angel."

"Look out; I'll tell on you."

"Good heavens, no! Kitty would give me a beastly dressing down," he said hastily. "I say, you wouldn't do that. You're too good a sport. By George, I could dance all night with you!"

"Better not."

"Say the word, and I'm game," he said rashly.

"You are direct, aren't you?" she said, leading him on.

PART XII.

"Yes; I don't take long to make up my mind." He added pointedly, "I've been watching you."

"And you never are disappointed?"

"Eh, what? Oh, I see you're making fun of me," he said, in short breaths, for the task of guiding her through the whirling crowd was an ordeal.

"Clever man!"

"Look here; suppose we sit this out."

"Thought you could dance all night with me."

He laughed and stopped short.

"I like you; you've got spirit. Sit down here a moment." He turned and stared at her. "Have I met you before? Tell me about yourself. What are you—married, divorced, or a widow?"

"You must be awfully rich," she said, demurely.

"Why? Oh, I see! No offense. I just wanted to know."

"Ask Kitty, then."

He made a wry face.

"Look here; you don't think I'm in love with Kitty Lightbody now?"

"No; you couldn't be. You're a married man."

He looked at her a long moment, studying her, not used to an attitude of opposition in the women he condescended to admire.

"I can't make you out," he said, frowning.

"Perhaps I'm divorced."

"I wish you were."

"Heavens, how rapid you are! Look out; Kitty's watching you!"

"Look here," he said, "if you don't believe I say what I mean, ride back to Chilton with me in my car."

She stood up, laughing, as another dance began.

"Will you?"

"Tell you later" she said evasively. If Mrs. Lightbody wished to use her as a screen she could take the consequences.

Mrs. Lightbody, who had, in fact, watched them with growing anxiety, greeted them with a marked petulance.

"Joe, come right away from that designing blond young woman! You're entirely too attentive."

"Captain Barrisdale has followed your orders splendidly," said Amy slowly.

"What orders?"

"Why, didn't you tell him to make love to me?"

Barrisdale pulled at his mustache and shot her an imploring glance from under his tufted eyebrows.

"Well, Joe, the joke's on you," said Mrs. Lightbody acidly, "and serves you right, too, wasting your time on a bride!"

Barrisdale, overcome at this revelation, murmured something inaudible amid the laugh which arose at his expense, while Mrs. Challoner examined Amy with more care, recognizing an ability to defend herself.

Tiernan's, where they next entered as the clock was striking three, finally satisfied their craving for Bohemia, with its hilarity, its banks of acrid smoke, its explosive laughter, and its flashing beauties.

"Don't you just adore it?" said Kitty excitedly. "Did you ever see such people! Oh, Lord, what good times men do have!"

Freed from the censureship of social eyes and a little excited she began to grow kittenish, in a determined effort to rival the formidable youth of Amy Forrester. Mrs. Challoner, with her impenetrable, smiling calm, sipping her glass of champagne, frowned significantly.

"Kitty, be careful!"

"A short life but a merry one!" exclaimed Mrs. Lightbody recklessly, looking around with thirsty eyes. She gathered in every tribute, even to the meanest, to the slanted glances of the heavy-jowld dancers, to the stares of the ratty waiters, crediting all to her personal account. "I'm just waking up. Look to yourself, Gladys!"

The caution did not apply to Mrs. Challoner. At most, on the sculptured white cheeks, a tongue of red showed and in the eyes a sparkle of gathering excitement. To Amy, she was, and always remained, a complete mystery.

"She looks as though she had just come out of the ice-box," she thought to herself. "Is she capable of emotion? What attracts men to her?" Mrs. Challoner had a high-bred disdain of the crowd, a fastidious air of perpetually looking down on some one. Amy remembered Morley's description of her former mistress and wondered. What was she like in her own home, when the front door had been closed for the night.

The sounds of rising laughter, the whirling, breathless swaying of the dancers, the staccato music, glances and whispers divined the awakening of the primitive savage, the spectacle of this boisterous relaxation aroused in her the appetite for movmenet. She danced ceaselessly, never tired, never visibly excited. Once Amy caught a glimpse of what burned beneath the surface—a sudden glance in her direction when Charlie Pardee was lingering beyond the needs of strict politeness. He saw it, and left her instantly and docilely.

"If I were a man," thought Amy, remembering the look, "I should never fall in love with her. I shouldn't dare!"

COURTESY COMMON WITH ALL MEXICANS

MEXICO CITY, July 13. — Courtesy is a common commodity in Mexico. No Mexican is too poor to afford it. The roughest soldier will not pass one in a narrow corridor without saying "Con permiso," or "dispenseme," which are the Spanish equivalents to "excuse me." The same phrase is invariably used when one person takes leave of another, to which the answer invariably is "Pase Vd."

Upon giving a new acquaintance one's address it is customary to say "At number ——— street is your home or office," the implication being that the new friend is to consider one's home his own.

Persons introduced to each other when their respective names are pronounced, say, "Your servant sir," or "Juan Garcia, for the purpose of serving you, sir."

When taking leave of each other, formal acquaintances who wish to continue acquaintances with each other, say: "I remain at (or I offer myself to) your service."

Observance to these forms which a Mexican rarely disregards, is a valuable aid to a stranged who wishes to establish profitable commercial or pleasant social relations in Mexico.

MISSISSIPPI DOES NOT WANT MENNONITES

STATE DEMOCRATS DECLARE THEY ARE UNDESIRABLES.

JACKSON, Miss., July 14.—The Democratic State Executive Committee adopted a resolution opposing the proposed emigration of 8,000 Mennonite farmers from Canada to Southern Mississippi.

The resolution declares the Mennonites to be "undesirable citizens," and objects to their settling in Mississippi on the following grounds:

"First, the Mennonites refuse to allow their children to attend the public schools; second, they speak and write only the German language, which is equivalent to thinking in German; third, they are composed wholly of conscientious objectors, who refused to fight for the Allied cause when Canada was being bled for the war."

INCREASE WEIGHT AND VITALITY WITH PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

The average person is beginning to realize more and more that the lack of physical strength and nerve exhaustion (frequently evidenced by excessive thinness are the direct cause not only of the failure to succeed in struggle for the necessities of existence, but also for the handicap in one's social aspirations. Compare the thin, sickly, angular frame with the well rounded form which is usually accompanied by the bloom of health and attractiveness.

That millions of people are conscious of this handicap is evident from the continued appearance in newspapers and magazines of many suggestions proposing various remedies in food or medicine or exercises, either of which might or might not be appropriate for a given case.

Authorities, however, agree that healthy nerve tissue is absolutely essential to a strong robust body and mind. Weak nerves, while indicated by a multitude of different symptoms more immediately and generally result in lack of energy, sleeplessness, irritability, depression, etc., which conditions gradually consume the healthy flesh, leaving ugly hollows, a flat chest, bony neck and scrawny arms and legs.

Our bodies need more phosphate than most of them are able to extract from the foods we eat nowadays and many opinions affirm that there is nothing which may be taken into the human system that so effectively supplies this efficiency as the pure organic phosphate known as bitro-phosphate and sold by good druggists everywhere.

The essential phosphoric food elements in bitro-phosphate assimilated by the nerve cells should soon produce a pleasing change in nerve energy and hence increased vitality and strength. With the burdens of nervousness, sleeplessness, lack of energy, etc., lifted, normal weight with its attractive fullness and ruddy glow of health replaces the former picture of skin and bones.

CAUTION:- Although Bitro-Phosphate is unexcelled for the relief of nervousness and attendant disorders owing to its tendency to increase weight, one should watch the scales while taking it unless it is the desire to put on flesh.

FELL FROM STEEPLE.

Miraculous Escape of Steeplejack at Oshawa.

OSHAWA, July 13.—By almost a miracle at noon to-day, Leslie Dan Howard, of Elgin street, escaped with his life when he fell from the steeple of the Simcoe street Methodist church to the roof and rolled down it and fell about thirty-five feet to the ground below. He probably owes his life to the work of Ernest Short, of Westmount, a suburb of Oshawa.

Mr. Howard was at work this morning high up, nailing on some loose shingles and cleats preparatory to painting the steeple. He was supported in the usual chair arrangement, the guide ropes being held inside the steeple by Mr. Short. Feelin ga tug of the rope Short realized that Mr. Howard had slipped rom the chair and was falling, and at the expense of badly lacerating his hand he hung on to the rope which passes over a pulley at the top of the steeple with all his strength and weight, and was able to break the fall.

It was about thirty feet from the chair to the roof. Not a bone in the man's body was broken, and although he was unconscious for a time, he was able to talk to the doctors when they came. He was removed to the hospital.

THE FALL WHEAT HARVEST BEGINS

A LARGE YIELD IS LOOKED FOR—CROP REPORT.

The following is a summary of the weekly reports made by the agricultural representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

The harvesting of fall wheat will begin in Essex this week, and cutting will be general in other counties next week. A large yield of grain per acre is expected, although the straw except in a few instances will not be of average length.

Spring grains have been making great growth during the last few weeks. Barley and oats are heading most promisingly, and a good length of straw is probable.

Frequent rains have been slowing haying, but most of the crop is being fairly well cured. Clover is comparatively light in yield, but the second growth is making a wonderful start, and promises to be good for seed. York says that it now looks as if the second cut will be larger than the first.

Alsike is short in height, but the heads are full, and a good yield of seed is anticipated. Alfalfa has been making a tremendous growth after the first cut. Essex reports second growth to be a foot and a half high.

Roots are now being hoed, and they need it badly, as the growth of weedt has been excessive with the frequent rains of the last three or four weeks. Mangels are very irrgular in the rows, but sugar beets and turnips are coming along well.

Potatoes Good.

It looks as if potatoes are going to be a good crop, generally speaking. Essex reports early varieties as ready for digging.

Kent reports that the tobacco crop in that county is doing well.

Corn is doing well where it received proper cultivation. Much of it, however, got a late start, and still shows it.

Essex states that early tomatoes are coming in from the field in good shape, and are selling at $3.00 a basket. Norfolk also reports the marketing of this crop.

The first day's run of green peas of the Lambton Packing Co. took place on 29th June—an earlier date than ever before in that section of the Province. Norfolk reports considerable injury to the crop from the pea aphis.

Lincoln reports the cherry crop to be a big one, and of excellent quality. Norfolk speaks of yields of strawberries ranging from 8,000 to 10,000 boxes an acre—and some higher.

Live Stock and Produce.

Live stock are doing well on the grass, as pastures are in tip-top condition. Oxford complains of the prevalence of the heel fly, and cites one dairy herd as falling off sixty pounds of milk in a day as a result of an attack of this pest. The Ontario County representative says that while the production of milk is normal in quantity, in too many cases there is a lowering in quality as shown by the butter-fat test; adding that on this account several producers have been cut off from shipping by some city dairy concerns.

Cheese during the week was quoted as follows: Glengarry 28½ to 29 cents a pound, Victoria 28 7-16 cents a pound.

Bacon hogs are being shipped steadily at about $19.00 a cwt.

Speaking of horses, Wentworth declares that there is practically no market for good geldings. Three-year-old pure-breds are being offered at $150.00, with hardly a buyer.

UNWRITTEN LAW HAS PASSED OUT

BRITISH JUSTICE DECLARES MAN HAS NO RIGHT TO TAKE LAW IN HANDS.

LONDON. — Exit the "unwritten law." Since shooting has become such a favorite pastime among civilians, the wronged husband who shoots his wife and her lover, thus making a clean sweep of the whole bag of tricks, is no longer regarded as a hero. Heroes don't happen every day but wronged husbands do, more or less, since the armistice—in England.

A recent case in which the "unwritten law" should certainly have obtained if it is ever to obtain again, proved of great perplexity to the judge, Mr. Justice Shearman. The husband, a man of good character, came home from France to find that another man had stolen his wife in his absence, and was continuing to meet her surreptitiously even after his return. He warned both the wife and lover and pleaded with the former to put an end to the liaison for the sake of their children.

Appeals and warnings were disregarded and the husband, meeting them together on the street, fired five shots, badly wounding both.

Judge's View.

The jury found the husband guilty of shooting his wife with intent to do her grievous harm, recommended him to mercy, and intimated that it was a case for the "unwritten law."

Justice Shearman, however, asked for a day in which to consider the question of sentence, as it was one to which he must give serious thought.

The following day, in passing sentence of twelve months' imprisonment, he said: "This case has given me great anxiety, because I have to deal with a man of very good character, who has served his country, and who, no doubt, suffered under a sense of intolerable wrong.

"On the other hand," declared His Lordship, "I, sitting here, cannot give countenance to any suggestion that a man is entitled to take the law into his own hands."

While public sentiment is with the husband, the sentence is generally approved in that it is a definite decision against the use of firearms, whatever the provocation may be.

PRINCIPAL HAS THE AUTHORITY OF THE PARENT

APPEAL AGAINST JUSTICES' DECISION AT CORNWALL IS SUSTAINED.

CORNWALL, July 15.—Some time last April Everett J. Robertson, one of the ratepayers of Mille Roches School Section, laid an information before E. O. Winters and Herman Waldroff, Justices of the Peace, against William Levy, Principal of the Mille Roches Public School, charging him with an offence under the township of Cornwall by-law in using abusive and grossly insulting language to Mr. Robertson's son, Wilfrid. The case was tried before these two Justices of the Peace at Moulinette on April 24, and after hearing the evidence the Justices convicted the Principal and fined him $1 and costs. The two words complained of as having been used to the boy, with other boys, were "scabs" and "cowards."

How Trouble Arose.

The circumstances, as brought out in evidence, were that eight boys had left the school without permission, in consequence of which they were suspended, and an apology was demanded from them. Seven complied with these terms and returned to the school, but young Robertson refused. It was alleged that in suspending the pupils the teacher assembled the school and used the language complained of, but on the part of the Principal it was stated that in addressing the school he had warned the eight boys that they were not to call the other boys "scabs" or "cowards," because if there were any "scabs" or "cowards" concerned in the occurence it was the eight boys suspended, and not the others.

Mr. Levy appealed from this conviction to Judge Liddell, and the appeal was heard in the local division Court.

The Judge in his judgment condemns the conduct of the Robertson boy, and in stating the rights of the school Principal, lays down the law that during school hours the Principal has the same authority over a scholar as a parent hassat home, and he holds, under the circumstances, that even if the language complained of were addressed directly to the boys, and not used as the Principal states, it was more moderate than probably a father would have used under the circumstances. He cites English authority for the proposition that the schoolmaster is in the same position as the parent, and for the further proposition that it is for the general benefit of society, and especially of its youth, that the authority of those charged with the care of scholastic establishments should be maintained.

The Judge also expressed grave doubt as to whether a public school in the township of Cornwall is a "public place" within the language of the statute.

The Judge further lays down the law that under the circumstances the proper remedy for the pupil was to apply to the Board of Trustees, which he believed was done in this case, when the teacher's action was upheld.

The Judge allows the appeal, and quashes the conviction leaving each party to pay his own costs.

AUTO HEADLIGHT BILL IS DELAYED.

Will Not Become Effective on July 17, as Was Originally Intended

The regulation on headlights on automobiles placed by the Ontario Government in a special bill at the last session of the Legislature was supposed to have been effective on July 17. However the law will not be enforced on that date, as the Department of Highways has not yet sent out the list of its approved lights or apparatus to dim and lower lights now commonly used. The list will not be out until a few days after July 17.

The first list will be of Canadian manufactured lights and apparatus which the Government approves. This list is now being completed. It was suggested to the department that the list apprfoved in New York State be used here, but it was not thought fair to Canadian manufacturers of these articles, and the Government list will place Canadian-made apparatus first. The department may also allow the painting of lens on auto lights to keep the light rays down and the proper strength. At any rate, the law will not be effective until the department issues its lists of approved lights.

NET DEBT INCREASES.

Canada's Expenditure in Excess of Ordianry Revenue.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, July 14. — The June statement of the Finance Department, issued to-day, bears the mark of important changes. For the first time, deduction is made of non-active assets such as loans to C.N.R., G.T.R. and Grand Trunk Pacific, and to this extent the net debt is nicreased.

Ordinary revenue during June totalled over thirty-two and a half millions, and ordinary expenditure over forty and one-half millions. During three months of the year ending June 30 the ordinary revenue was $99,829,097, and ordinary expenditures $82,120,632. The excess of expenditure over revenue last month as shown above is due to heavy interest payments on Victory bonds.

TURNS AGAINST SUFFRAGE

California Woman Says it Brings Corruption and Crime.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., —MissAnnie Bock, of Los Angeles, formerly an Equal Suffrage leader, in a letter to W. K. Anderson, Representative in the lower house of the Tennessee Legislature, received, urged him not to support ratification of the suffrage amendment by this State.

"I was one of the prominent workers who helped to bring suffrage to California and I regret it," Miss Bock said in the letter.

"A year in politics has taught me that women are intolerent, radical, revolutionary and more corrupt in politics than men; also all this so-called reform leads to the Socialist co-operative commonwealth.

"Since suffrage," the Western writer continued, "there has been an arming increase in immortality, divorce ing increase in immortality divorce

"Woman suffrage has made cowards and puppets of men. It has coarsened and cheapened women. Were the men to vote on woman suffrage in California to-day it would not carry.

"Suffragists asked suffrage that they might put only good men in office; now they clamor for a fifty-fifty show for all offices.

"I shall do penance forever for the part I played in bringing suffrage to California.

"Please urge your colleagues not to do what will bring regret and disaster but to stand for that 90 per cent., of women who do not want suffrage but are glad to trust all politics and governmental affairs to their loved husbands, fathers, sons and brothers.

"To the South, woman suffrage would bring more than calamity," the letter concluded.

Miss Flora Boyko Tells How Cuticura Healed Her Pimples

"My face was very itchy at first, and after that it was covered with pimples that disfigured it badly. The pimples were hard and red and they were small, and they were scattered all over my face and were so itchy I had to scratch and I could not sleep.

"These bothered me nearly a year before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and when I had used five cakes of Cuticura Soap and five boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Flora M. Boyko, Gardenton, Man., Dec. 26, 1918.

Having obtained a clear healthy skin by the use of Cuticura, keep it clear by using the Soap for all toilet purposes, assisted by touches of Ointment as needed. Do not fail to include the exquisitely scented Cuticura Talcum in your toilet preparations. Splendid after bathing.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Sold throughout the Dominion. Canadian Depot: Lymans, Limited, St. Paul St., Montreal. Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.

"THE BROTHERHOOD" IN SIBERIA

WITH ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS

By R. J. C.

The Brotherhood Federation is simply a federation of the many organizations of men (of whatever or no denomination) banded together for Christian service, by whatever name known, but preferably "The Brotherhood" for fellowship's sake and standardization.

Our objects are (1) The Evangelization of the World, and we help any organization in conducting special meetings as far as men and money will allow. (2) We aim at interpreting Religion in terms of Life, and the ordinary avocations thereof in terms of Religion. We centre upon the highest type of Citizenship and actively interest men in problems of primary, practical, and paramount importance—personal and public, moral and spiritual. In application of this Principle, we seized upon the opportunity presented by the Great World War of demonstrating the possibility, practicability, and reality of Universal Brotherhood. Our energies were well directed toward relieving the sufferers in France and Flanders, and our war work was so eminently successful and universally approved that the Serbian Government sent for our officials to see Serbia for themselves. Mr. Ward and Mr. Heal, two English gentlemen, who made their competence by hard work, and are now spending it in this work, went over, at their own expense, and were so impressed with such loyalty to the Allies, such efficiency and bravery in warfare, and such slaughter and suffering as was experienced on no other war area, that our energies are now mainly directed to Serbia.

The Fall of '14 found the care-free, poetic, patriotic people of poor little Serbia just six months out of a 2-year war staggering under a heavy load, without even medical supplies for her wounded, diseased and dying soldiers and civilians. Nevertheless, at the word of command "Stand to till the Allies Come" this little band of braves donned again their armour and literally moving mountains in a day, although outnumbered ten to one, they held up the united armies of Bulgaria, Austria and Germany, (not as did brave little Belgium for a few days) but for 15 months (1 1-4 years), until they saved India to the British Empire. They fought fiercely contesting every inch of ground until backed against the Mountains of Albania.

AS HE WAS.

"No surrender" was written in the Serbian constitution. When flight seemed the better part of valor they fled—butchered like bullocks — into the sea, over to Italy, on to France, and up into the mountains where famished, faint and frozen they fell flecking the untrodden snow-fields like fly-specks upon the whited walls with their dead bodies.

Through exposure, starvation, the sword and disease, contracted from enemy camps, death claimed fully one-fifth of the entire population.

The Austrian army of occupation, on retiring took all it could carry and the infamous Turks stole what they failed to destroy—cattle, implements of agriculture, etc., etc.

The poor refugees who succeeded in returning found 500,000 hungry, homeless, helpless, innocent children, or as many as all the men, women, and children in Toronto put together, lamenting the loss of their loved ones.

The poor orphans, the innocent victims of war are the only asset left to this ally of ours, which in addition to losing her possessions, has been bereft of revenue for the last seven years. Shall we save them to their country? By all that is fair in war and peace!

These are the children of the men who made the supreme sacrifice in snatching victory from defeat and saving self-determination, to the weaker nations, civilization to the world and the religion of Jesus Christ to the human family.

The children of the men who conquered the vandals who were dismantling Cathedrals, and the very altars of God, carying off the sacred vessels of His holy house, robbing the world of its religious relics, razing art galleries to the ground, stealing earth's antiquities and other treasures of art—depositing the house of God and man;

The children of the men who met and mastered the fiends who were firing oil fields and fuel mines, cutting down forests, plugging and poisoning wells and running waters, scuttling and sinking ships and sending to the bottom of the sea vast stores of precious food stuffs destined for the firing lines and famine stricken fields, and sacrificing men immortalized in war and peace, in literatue, in at, in science and in social circles—immortalized for faith and for good works;

These are the children of the men who fought and fell in our defence by land and sea, and saved the liberties of the world. Shall we, who neevr missed a meal, who never knew the pinch of poverty or saw the ravages of war, allow these little ones to lack for any necessary of life? Far be it from us!

Here's How.

The World Brotherhood Federation has just completed negotiations with the Serbian Government, and entered into a compact duly signed by both contracting parties, whereby

The Serbian Government,

on its part agrees (1) to rehabilitate the abandoned Austrian, Turkish and other estates—occupied by officials of such powers as have in turn overrun and ruined this rocky residence of the Serbian since the second century and kept the poor peasant with his nose to the grindstone striving for a living and fighting for his farm, his fireside and his family; (2) to reconstruct the castles and the residences as ordinary officers' residences and dormitories and to furnish with every necessary of life; (3) to equip the domains with implements of agriculture; and, (4) to furnish a proportion of teachers satisfactory and agreeable to the Brotherhood. Whereas on its part has undertaken (1) to transfer the boys without father, friend, or food, who are now wandering around aimlessly, from pillar to post, in search of food or occupation, and pulling in at night under shelter of an old barn or hay stack, to these Dormitories: (2) to feed; (3) to clothe; (4) to educate; (5) to give medical attention to, and (6) to train them to work until such time as they are able to care for themselves. Then the Government, which owns the soil in Serbia and gives to every citizen a slice, will present to each efficient son of Serbia a Farm! The girls will also be trained in many arts, and make efficient Farmerettes and worthy wives and mothers.

The Brotherhood

One Hundred Dollars

has heretofore supported a Serbian youth for one year. Hereafter it will care for him for 10 years by reason of the arrangement whereby the boy cooperates with The Brotherhood and the Government, and becomes partially self-supporting. So that $100.00 is as good to-day as $1,000.00 a few weeks ago.

The Reader

whether personally or as the representative of a class, club, school, college, factory, firm, or other organization, will be presented with the photograph, name and number of one of these war orphans in our Farm Schools for every $100.00 contributed. The Benefactor will also possess the privilege of free correspondence and be entitled to the honour of "naming" the Farm when your Beneficiary comes to his inheritance.

An Unparallelled Opportunity.

is this for Christian men and women and young people to introduce by correspondence, tract, and book a higher type of Civilization and standard of Christian faith and morals than now exists in that Christian country.

We do not discount or disparage the smaller sums at greater sacrifice, which are thankfully received and duly credited, but we do encourage the plan of Adoption, because of the entire satisfaction it affords (a) of knowing exactly where your money is going and what it is accomplishing, and (b) of coming in closer contact by correspondence with the object of your benevolence, and (c) for Evangelistic Effort, the effect of which on generations to come God alone can compute.

Results: A prominent lawyer said, after a service one Sabbath: "I'd like to give $100.00 in the name of my little girl, Pat (ricia), whom I'm training to give, but I've been giving so liberally lately I could not lay my hand on $100.00 at the moment." "Pay when you please," said the writer, "only the sooner it's in the sooner you get in touch with your youth."

AS HE WILL BE.

Next morning (Monday) a messenger announced that said lawyer would like to see me at earliest convenience. I called Wednesday morning. Said he: "You remember what I said Sabbath morning. Well, a peculiar providence occurred. When I entered this office Monday morning, a letter was on my desk containing a check for $198 and some odd cents from a source I never expected to get a dollar. Now I'm going to give you that $100.00." And before the cheque was dry the manager of a near-by bank entered and asked him if he'd "care for" a bunch of papers he handed him. He replied: "I guess so," and turning to me he said: "Mr. C., no man could convince me that the Lord does not recompense the man or woman who conscientiously tithes (gives his tenth to God). I'm endeavouring to do so and that little effort of faith has already been abundantly rewarded. There's $100.00 worth of work there (pointing to the papers). As you see the hundred dollars has already been sent back to me three times over in these three days."

The employers of one firm subscribed $100.00 in a few minutes and claimed the privilege of naming their ward's farm after their firm, "The Albion."

Another firm, manager and employees, contributed $300.00, and have the privilege of calling their Proteges' Ranches after their brand of cream, "The Meadowvale."

This plan so appealed to a lady recently, who had said "I'll give you $20 and no more" that she finally exclaimed "that is a good business proposition—helping the unfortunate to help themselves and their Country. I'll gladly give you $100.00," and she did. Won't you?

POTATO CROP PROMISING IN INGERSOLL DISTRICT

INGERSOLL, July 15.—The early potato crop has seldom if ever been more promising throughout this district than at the present time. Despite the fact that planting was delayed by backward weather in the Spring, the crop is rapidly reaching maturity. Many citizens are now regularly using potatoes grown on their own premises and without exception the reports indicate a heavy yield. The weather to date has been very favorable and some people hold to the opinion that the early crop may be more successful than the later varities.

HYDRO CANAL WORK RAPIDLY PICKING UP.

Large Parties of Laborers Arrive Daily; 1,500 at Work Now.

NIAGARA FALLS, July 15.—Work on the Hydro Canal is rapidly becoming normal again. Large parties of laborers are arriving every day, at present 1,500 men are at work on the big ditch. All classes of workers have returned to work, and the big camps are filling up again. Work is being pushed on every section of the canal. The engineers are optimistic that the time lost during the dispute will be made up and the work completed on schedule time.

REVIVE GLORIES OF SPAIN.

Race Council Bids Men of Art and Letters to Seville Meeting.

MADRID.—Artistic and literary circles in Spain are showing great interest in the creation of a Racial Council, the object of which is to strengthen relations between Spain and South and Central America. Each South American Republic has accepted eagerly propositions to join the organization, and Cuba has already become a member.

Each national council will maintain constant communication with the Spanish national council, and representatives of all the Spanish-American branches will meet at Seville in the near future under the auspices of the Ibero-American union.

ORANGEMEN PARADE TO MILLBROOK CHURCH

BRO. REV. TUCKER PREACHES ON PRINCIPLE OF LIBERTY IN OLD TESTAMENT.

MILLBROOK, July 15.—On Sunday evening last about one hundred and fifty Orangemen, headed by the Millbrook Band, paraded to the Methodist Church.

Rev. Bro. S. T. Tucker, B.A., B.D., preached especially to the brethren.

The Church was beautifully decorated with flags and ferns, and there was special singing by the Choir. On returning to the Orange Hall hearty votes of thanks were tendered Bro. Tucker for his able sermon and the choir for their exceedingly appropriate selections.

Principle of Liberty.

The preacher took for his subject the principle of liberty in the Old Testament, and contended that the Hebrew national constitution was essentially Democratic.

This was evident, he said, from the important part the council of seventy elders played in the early government of Israel. This Council was later elected by the householders and tribes. Then again the land was divided among the various tribes and householders, giving them property rights in the Nation. When Israel asked for a king and organized royally imitating the heathen nations around them, the prophet Samuel, warned them of the evils of such a course. He prophesied the king would introduce landed estates, militarism and a compulsory industrial system with all its accompanying social and economic evils. The later prophets also warned Israel of the disaster that would come to her national life. These prophecies came true.

Courts were bribed, priests corrupted, and a school of false prophets arose, who were not proof against the lure of office and gold. And religious and political forces became closely linked in a compact to exploit the rights of the common people.

The same evils, continued the speaker, were rampant in Europe in the Middle Ages, and even down to the late war. The Feudal system, with its large estates and militarism, linked with the powers of the Church which taught the Divine Right of Kings, made a strong combine to keep the common people ignorant and vassals of their superiors.

Same Evils Today.

The same evils were creeping into our own fair land of Canada, said the reverend gentleman. Through this same influence, there was instituted the family compact and clergy reserve, which would have resulted in the same evil as existed in Europe. He here asserted that through the heroic effort of noble men and such associations as the Orange Society, the danger was nipped in the bud. But we still have evils in our land that will wreck our democracy if allowed to continue. Of such evils the speaker mentioned the Bi-lingual principle and Separate Schools, and the Ne-Temere decree; and he made a strong appeal for an aggressive educational propaganda to awaken Canadian people to the danger that lurks near to destroy their liberties; and also to educate the great population of foreigners in true Canadian citizenship.

BRITISH SHIPPING CONGESTION LESS

Limitation Rates of Freight Withdrawn — Twenty-seven American Ships Enter and 19 Leave United Kingdom Ports in Past Week—German Vessels Allocated.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—A cablegram from Consul General Robert P. Skinner, at London, gives the following report on British shipping conditions:

"The number of American vessels arriving in ports of the United Kingdom during the past week was 27 and those departing numbered 19, of which 4 and 3, respectively, are credited to London.

"During the past month 20 surrendered German vessels have arrived and have been allocated to British firms; 26 Germn ve[illegible] being repaired at Leith, and the question of ownership and delivery is being considered; 2 tankers, Misba, and Pawnee, with a capacity of 10,000 tons of oil each, have been allotted to the United States and have sailed. Royal Mail steamer Arlanza, of 18,044 tons, reconditioned and converted to an oil burner, leaves outhampton July 24 for regular passenger service to Brazil and River Plate, with accommodations for 400 salon passengers.

"Congestion in British ports has been greatly relieved. Manchester reports overcrowding of timber docks and yards; Swansea still reports difficulty in bunkering, the average delay being nine days for bunkers, no delay for ordinary cargo; Cardiff reports conditions nearly normal; Southampton reports American ships New York delayed two days by refusal of workers to coal vessels during rain.

"The Shipping Controller announces that he intends to withdraw all limitation rates of freight, coastal and otherwise, as from July 15, 1920, on British shipping."

An Aid to Wearing This Season's Fashions

(Helps to Beauty.)

Here is a simple, unfailing way to rid the skin of objectionable hairs: With some powdered delatone and water make enough paste to cover the hairy surface, apply and in about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. This is quite harmless, but to avoid disappointment be sure to get the delatone in an original package.

STRIKE OF CHINESE STUDENTS FAILED

PROTESTED AGAINST PEKING GOVERNMENT OPENING NEGOTIATIONS WITH JAPAN.

SHANGHAI, July 14. — A strike of thousands of students throughout China to compel the Peking government to disclaim all intention of opening direct negotiations with Japan concerning a settlement of the Shantung problem: has failed. Leaders of the national student organization in Shanghai attributed its failure to lack of popular sympathy and untimeliness.

Before going on strike the leaders called upon the government to issue a public disclaimer and demanded that the Peking authorities publish all the secret agreements made with Japan The government ignored ultimatum. About 30,000 Chinese quit their classes in Shanghai and thousands of others went on strike in others of the 14 provinces. They remniaed out for a month or more and then called off the strike.

RACE WENT TO THE SHAMROCK

worst start they had ever seen on a Lipton boat.

HEAVY RAINS.

At 12.10 a rain squall drenched both yachts and nearly killed the breeze. One downpour succeeded another, flattening out the sea like a mill pond. Yachts apparently are making poor time. Lightning was vivid and the torrential rain drove the spectators to cover. The rain falling with the intensity of a cloudburst, limited visibility at sea to a few cable lengths. Some believe the contest may be called off in view of weather conditions.

TIME REDUCED.

At one five with both yachts standing off shore on starboard tack, the Resolute was more than half a mile in the lead and slightly to windward. The wind breezed up again to six knots at this point of the race. Time allowance for the Resolute reduced to six minutes and forty seconds due to change in figures obtained by re-measuring the Shamrock's sails.

RESOLUTE LEADING.

Both yachts passed within a half mile of Shrewsbury Buoy, the nine mile mark, the Resolute leading the Shamrock by four minutes and thirty-five seconds.

The official time at Shrewsbury Buoy was :Resolute 1.48, 11; Shamrock 1.52, 45.

TYPICAL CUP RACE.

At one thirty the sloops had covered si xmiles and were a mile and a half off Seabright, N.J.

After having broken out their baby jib to phails, both skippers, in the hunt for better breeze, took them in again and broke out larger top sails in their place. Yachts stood along at even keel and there was hardly any quartering wave as they moved along the Jersey coast. It turned out to be a typical cup race after all, with a flat sea and dead air. In handling head sails the Resolute's crew showed to advantage over sailors on the challenger.

RESOLUTE STILL LEADING.

Resolute led the Shamrock by half a mile after two hours' sailing, when yachts had covered ten of their thirty mile course.

THIRD OF COURSE COVERED.

Third of course covered the race was little more than a drifting match, with the advantage lying with the defender. This caused surprise to yachtsmen because of the Shamrock's reputation as a ghost in light airs. Boat for boat the defender footed faster than the challenger.

HALYARD PARTED.

Resolute was standing for mark on port tack when the throat halyard parted and the gaff came half down the mast. Skipper Adams kept on sailing.

RACE OVER.

Resolute withdrawn from the race. Shamrock wins.

The Lipton boat wins the race provided she can finish the course within the time limit or does not herself withdraw. Shamrock is continuing.

TAG DAY REPORT

Your committee on behalf of the T. B. & O. order and the Canadian Brotherhood Federation hereby expresses its appreciation of the valuable services of the Examiner, the Union Bank, Mrs. Knox and her coworkers including the Boy Scouts, and the faithful few who responded to our appeal for help in behalf of the orphanages on Tag Day.

We also express our regret that so few tried to take advantage of the unusual assemblage of people for so worthy a cause. The campaign cost absolutely nothing for your organizers' hotel, travelling, telephone, mail or express expenses.

The boxes were opened and counted by the Union Bank staff in the presence of your committee.

Allowing the actual cost of material for tags, badges, buttons, etc., the sum of $357.58 was equally divided and forwarded by the Bank to the T. B. & Orange Orphanage and to the Peterboro Fund for the Brotherhood Section Orphanage.

Again thanking all donors of time, talent and money, we are,

Respectfully,
Your fellow workers,
Com.

R. J. CAMPBELL.

TO PETERBOROUGH'S GENEROUS PUBLIC.

Tag day has come and gone and fallen far short of our objective for want of workers.

So many willing workers seemed preoccupied preparing "eats and drinks and getting ready to marry and be given away in marriage" until the dusk dawned and shadows flew around, the crowds dispersed and the golden opportunity passed. May it not be so in "that day."

We now ask you to read prayerfully every paragraph of the following reprinted for your benefit by the Examiner, and hand your subscription to your Bank Manager and it will be duly forwarded and recorded in these columns.

We're making an extra effort that Peterborough may go over the top in her usual handsome way. The objective is now in sight if all put their shoulder to the wheel and those who can make up for those who can't.

Kindly respond promptly and save time and expense that this campaign may close creditably and quickly.

Your obedient servant and co-worker,
"In His name"
R. J. CAMPBELL.

TENDER GUMS — A WARNING

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pyorrhea. Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea—many under forty also. Loosening teeth indicate Pyorrhea. Bleeding gums, too. Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U.S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

COMBUSTIBLE MATERIALS USED IN MANUFACTURE OF FUEL BRIQUETTES—OTHER REFUSE CONSERVED AND SOLD—LOCAL COMPANY PROPOSED.

PLANTS MULTIPLYING

A scheme to utilize the city's garbage in the manufacture of fuel briquettes, under the patented process of the Oakoal Company, of Canada, was outlined to the council last night by Messrs. J. R. Long and L. S. Minchin of the parent company, who said they appeared on behalf of certain local men who were prepared to establish a plant in Peterboro on the condition that they were given a free site and the garbage that is now being incinerated.

Mr. Long declined to divulge for the present the names of the citizens who were interested in this project. He explained that they had asked him to present the proposal to the council for the reason that he was familiar with all the facts and knew the history of the company's progress, and also of the many tests of the product, and the company's activities in other cities. He assured the council that the local men would appear in person before the manufacturers Committee if the council desired to proceed further with the sceheme.

Mr. Long gave a lengthy report of investigations of Oakoal made by fuel authorities in both the United States and Canada. One of the many tests he mentioned was made by the Peat Commissioners of Canada, of whom Mr. E. Vivian Moore, formerly of Peterboro, is a member.

Better than Coal.

"We take the garbage and make it into a fuel superior even to anthracite coal,' said Mr. Long. Referring to the advantages of the briquettes he pointed out that they were all of an even size thereby admitting the same amount of air to each briquete while burning. They were also made of the proper proportion of combustible materials. Science and nature had thus given a better fuel than nature acting alone.

Briefly describing the operations, and especially the precautions to prevent the plant becoming objectionable to the public, Mr. Long said that the garbage is first treated so as to destroy all the vegetable matter. Rags, bones, bottles, etc., are then picked out and sterilized. Every scrap of the garbage is conserved and used. The rags are sorted and sold, bottles sterilized and retailed to the trade, the tin cans would be shipped to Buffalo where the solder and tin are separated, and both materials are used again: green bones are crushed and sold as poultry food: other bones are pulverized into fertilizer. Table refuse, such as pies, cakes and bread, are treated and made into a hog ration, which having wheat as its basis, is a valuable by-product.

Oshawa Signs Up.

These and other details were set before the council. Mr. Long told of the establishment of the Toronto plant, which he declared to be the finest briquetting factory in the world. Franchises for Oakoal factories have been sold in Oshawa and Belleville. Negotiations are now under way with Hamilton and some other cities. A plant is also under construction in Sadusky, Ohio.

A feature of Oakoal, Mr. Long emphasized, was that because of its fibre binding obtained from the garbage the briquettes became harder as they grew hotter. Other briquettes on the market, he claimed, lacked this big avantage, and fell apart at the temperature of the boiling point.

Mr. Long declared that he was not visiting Peterboro on a stock selling expedition. Some Peterboro men were prepared to provide the necessary capital to obtain a franchise if the city would give them a free site and the garbage.

Employ Ten Men.

The company would employ ten or eleven men, and could begin operations ten weeks after the proposal had the city's approval. If a factory is erected here the incinerator would not be required by the city.

The Oakoal proposal was referred to the Manufacturers' Committee.

Ald. Gainey suggested that the city might itself adopt this scheme.

Ald. Hamilton questioned whether the corporation had the right and also doubted the practicability of venturing into the business.

Ald. Gainey—if it's practicable for a company, why not for the city.

ESKIMO TO BE TRIED IN NORTH FOR MURDER

OTTAWA, July 15.—As a stop-over on their long journey back to the land of endless ice and snow, Sergeant Douglas, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and Ouangwak, an Eskimo murderer from the regions around the North Pole, arrived in Ottawa and are quartered at the "mounties" headquarters at 120 Victoria street. Ouangwak is a British subject.

After his long journey from the Northland to Winnipeg, his native garments were in a sad state of disrepair, so that he comes to Ottawa in the raiment of a white man. He is in the neighborhood of from 20 to 27 years of age and has been noticeably failing since he left his native snows.

The Eskimo is charged with having murdered a brother native in order to obtain the latter's wife, whom he wanted for his own, in the region around Chesterfield Inlet. Ouangwak is going back to stand trial in his own country as a reminder to his brother natives that the law of the white man must be respected.

He will be the first native who has ever been tried in his own country.

He will send a judge on the long journey to Chesterfield, and a court will be held there for the edification of the Eskimos. This will be the first time that a judge has ever penetrated into that part of the Northwest territories.

Another murder case has been reported to the police from the same region. This will be investigated by Sergt. Douglas during the coming winter, and, if possible, the perpetrator of the second crime will stand trial with the Eskimo who is now in Ottawa.

From Ottawa the greater part of the journey to Chesterfield will be on one of the comfortable Hudson Bay Co.'s trading steamers, which sails from Montreal July 14th or 15th. Chesterfield, by the sea route, is almost 4,000 miles from Montreal.

Cocoanut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff, and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

MEXICO SEEKING CANADIAN TRADE

THE GOVERNMENT HAS APPOINTED TRADE REPRESENTATIVE FOR CANADA.

TORONTO, July 14.—With the intention of promoting closer trade relationship with Canada, the Government of Mexico has appointed Mr. Luis Murua Martinez to act as the commercial representative of that country in Canada, and he recently arrived in Toronto, where he will have his headquarters. As soon as he has established himself, Mr. Martinez intends to make a trip throughout Canada, during which he will visit all the large cities from coast to coast.

He stated yesterday that he would endeavour to bring closer facilities of intercommunication between the two countries and he has already opened negotiations towards the establishment of a steamship service from from Canadian ports on the Atlantic to Mexico. It is not his intention at the present time to consider a similar proposition on the Pacific.

At the present time there is very little direct trade between the two countries, although quite a number of imports to Canada are of Mexican origin, but they are brought in by way of the United States. In Mexico there is very little known of Canadian manufacturers' products, and he is firmly convinced the mission will be of mutual benefit to both countries. Already two of Canada's financial institutions, the Bank of Montreal and the Canadian Bank of Commerce, have branches in Mexico, and it is hoped that he manufacturers will follow this lead.

Mr. Martinez has with him all kinds of commercial and industrial information about the importations and exportations of Mexico, and is ready to give all data that he has to manufacturers and prospective importers. The exports of Mexico, such as oil, sugar, fibre, cotton, woods of all colors etc., are growing every day. At the present time Mexico is importing agricultural machinery and machinery for manufacturing purposes as well, and a great number of articles for domestic use which are manufactured in Canada are not known in Mexico as yet.

The new Mexican Government offers facilities for the investment of Canadian capital for the development of a great number of industries connected with the raw materials which abound in the rich Mexican soil.

CANNOT FIRE CANNON WITHIN TOWN OF COBALT

COBALT, Jnuly 13— This town now has a captured German gun but unless the municipality purposes to break its own regulations it cannot be used on state occasions. Search has revealed a provision in one of the bylaws on the statute books of the town that no cannon may be fired within the limits of the town.

BELTS BLAMED FOR MANY HUMAN ILLS

CASES OF STOMACH TROUBLE ON INCREASE AMONG MEN.

CINCINNATI, July 14.—That the universal habit of suspending the trousers by means of a belt is doing much damage, was asserted by Dr. Charles A. L. Reed, of Cincinnati, former president of the American Medical Association, at the university commencement here.

"The number of men, and young men, too, who are either semi-invalids or real invalids as a result of disturbances of the stomach and intestines is already alarming and every phyiscian knows that such cases are rapidly increasing," asserted Dr. Reed. "Not many years ago," he continued, "the same fact applied to women and was justly attributed to the constriction of the waist by the corset then worn. But the attire of women in all particulars, especially in this particular, is now much more hygienic than that of men. The unconstricted waist to-day imparts to women not only a grace and suppleness but a degree of health that may well be the enemy of the so-called sterner sex. The trouble is with the tightly worn belt. The natural result of squeezing the abdomen at waist line is to force the stomach, intestines, liver and other organs downward out of place. When this is done indigestion constipation and biliousness result. In ther train come headache, nervousness, mental depression and general inefficiency. In over 1,000 consecutive cases of epilepsy careful X-ray examination has showed the existence of such displacements. It is not asserted that all belt wearers have these troubles, or that belt wearing is the only cause of them, but it is claimed that the habit tends both to cause them when they do not exist and to aggravate them when they already exist."

DE LAVAL LOST TO ARMATURE WINDERS

THE SCORE WAS TEN-THREE FOR C.G.E. CREW.

Manager Sukioff, of the C.G.E. Armature Winders Baseball Team, was the happiest man in two hemispheres last night when his team scalped the De Laval outfit to the tune of 10—3.

Hugging his rabbit foot he danced around third base in true pow-wow fashion as the armature winders wound up the game and separated the separator makers from their hopes.

Bun Frost, pitching for the C.G.E., was in great form. He held the separator crew to 4 hits and struck out 11. Heenan, who was in the box for the De Laval, pitched good ball, but his team mates failed to aid him. Huff's good hitting featured the game, the little catcher getting 3 hits out of 4 times up. Galbraith's timely hitting gave the De Laval their runs. His triple in the fourth, with two on, gave the De Laval 2 runs. Score:

C.G.E. . . . . 2800000—10
De Laval . . . . . 0102000—3
Batteries—C.G.E., Frost and Huff; De Laval, Heenan and Johnston.

Manager Sukloff and his team of Armature Winders, C.G.E., after the slugging he gave the De Laval crew last night, feels in fine fettle to lick all comers, and hereby challenges any team in the city to a game of baseball—when and whereever agreed upon by the opponents.

SAYS COBOURG PLAYERS NEED STRINGS TO THEM

If Manager Mulhall of the Cobourg Central League team would only place a halter on his players when they reached a base the chances are his team would win some games. In their league fixture at Peterboro yesterday they practically played errorless ball and gave the Jake Solomon's crew a real hard battle up to the seventh innings. And had they displayed a little headwork on the bases they would have been in the lead at the seventh innings. Time after time by dumb base running they failed to score and this has been Cobourg's big trouble all season. The exhibition of ball was one of the best this year, both teams doing splendid work in the field.—Port Hope Guide.

JEWS BRITAIN'S SENTRIES ON ASIA'S FRONT

LONDON, July 15.—Ten thousand Jews, in a demonstration in Albert Hall on the occasion of Great Britain's acceptance of the mandate for Palestine, unanimously adopted resolutions expressive of appreciation of "the illustrious) services rendered the Jewish nation by the statesmen and peoples of the allied and associated powers, particularly Great Britain."

The resolutions pledged the Jews "to spare no effort or sacrifice for the rebuilding of Palestine as a Jewish national home, in collaboration with the inhabtantsi of the country."

Arthur J. Balfour, Lord President of the Council, the Marquis of Crewe, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, head of the Jewish admjnistrative commission, and Jewish leaders representing 28 nations who are holding a Zionist conference here, addressed the meeting. The Jews appealed for support of th High Commissioner in Palestine, Sir Herbert Samuel, and the Jewish leaders there.

Mr. Balfour, who was accorded an ovation lasting several minutes, said he hoped the Arabs in Palestine would remember that Great Britain freed them and make no trouble. He said he anticipated the greatest difficulty would be the inability of the Jews to work together and obey their leaders.

Britain's Sentry.

Max Nordau, replying to Mr. Balfour, asserted that the Jews, as well as the English, were politicians, and that the British statesmen could be assured that "we want to be Great Britain's sentry on the Asia frontier, strong as we desire, we will watch the Suez Canal for you and be a useful ally if necessary."

Dr. Weizmann, referring to the Palestine Arabia, turned to Mr. Balfour and said:

"The Arab and the Jew will collaborate thereon on condition that the Arabs respect the right of the Jews to Palestine. This done, we will prove a source of strength and pride to the mandatory power."

When Josiah C. Wedgwood, Labor member of Parliament, pledged the support of "the entire Labor party of Great Britain to the Jews, not only to build a Jewish State, but to promote internationalism and bring nearer the brotherhood of man," Baron Rothschild, who presided, was unable to restrain the audience, which rose, cheered, waved flags and sang.

The demonstration ended with the singing of "Hatikva," the Jewish song of hope, to the air of "God

TOY BALLOON CHOKES SMALL DETROIT BOY

Catches in His Throat and Victim Dies Before Physician Arrives.

DETROIT, July 14. — Fourteen happy children gathered at 1,608 Holcomb avenue, here, to help little Raymond Wells celebrate his seventh birthday. An hour later Jack C. Pranse, aged six, was dead, the victim of a tragic accident, and the other little guests has dispersed, sobbing, to their homes.

Raymond invited seven boys and seven little girls to attend his party. Each small guest received a favor in the shape of a "squawker" balloon.

Six-year-old Jack was captivated with his balloon. He blew it full of air, placed his thumb over the mouthpiece and laughed merrily at the shrill squeal of the toy. A moment later the balloon caught in his throat and he fell gasping.

BELLEVILLE EASY WINNERS OVER THE LINDSAY TEAM

CHAMPS BEAT GREY BIRDS BY 11 TO 4 AT LINDSAY YESTERDAY, PUTTING THE GAME ON ICE EARLY BY SCORING SIX RUNS IN THE FIRST INNINGS.

ARE TIED WITH THE PETES

(By a Staff Representative)

The Belleville team experienced little difficulty in registering a victory over Lindsay yesterday, beating the Greybirds on their own lot by 11 runs to 4, and pulling up on even terms with Peterborough in the Central League race. The two leaders have won six games each and have but one loss against them, while Belleville has two games to play with Oshawa and one at home with Lindsay ,and the Feres have to play two with Lindsay and meet Oshawa in the latter town.

But to get back to yesterday's game. It was a clash between southpaws, Freddy Goyer pitching for Belleville and Lefty McElroy doing the honours for Lindsay. The Belleville portsider had the better of the argument, allowing only five hits, striking out eleven men, and earning a shut-out, the two errors made by Belleville being responsible for all four of Lindsay's runs. McElroy, however, pitched a much better game than the final results or the box score show. Several of the Belleville hits were the result of slow fielding, and two or three others were made by batters who literally threw their bats at waste balls and were lucky enough to drop Texas Leaguers over the infield. On top of that his support was wretched, Langdon at third base being credited with five errors.

Up to the fourth it wasn't a bad game of ball, each team scoring once, but when Belleville bunched four hits with a cluster of juicy Lindsay errors to produce six runs, the interest dropped out of the struggle. Give Freddy Goyer a six run lead, and you might just as well default the game then and there. Lindsay, fought it out to the end, but they never had a chance after the fourth.

The weather man did his best to prevent a game, sending several showers about the time the fixture was supposed to start, but finally the sun came out and the game got under way. A number of Peterborough fans were in attendance, including Ward Patterson, vice-president of the O.B.A.A., Manager Solomon and Stan Lowe of the Peterborough team, and A. T. Johnston, honorary president of the Central League.

Alex. Kay, of Peterborough, was umpire-in-chief, and Dick Butler, of Lindsay, was the arbitrator on the bases. There was no crabbing at the work of either official.

Belleville did not score in the first innings, although they got two men on. Weir opened by ripping a single through third, and after Frank Goyer had flied to McMahon, Levoie drew a pass. W. Mills boomed a long fly to Ashton, Weir going to third after the catch. Levoie stole second, and the stage was all set for a pair of runs, but Casey's best was a roller to McElroy, on which he was thrown out at first.

Lindsay had better luck. Coombs rolled one to Weir and the usually reliable little shortstop fumbled. Coombs stole second, sliding under Goyer, although Mills' throw was there ahead of him. Williamson sacrificed, a lucky play, for the batter bunted a fly that Fred Goyer nearly got. It was good enough, however, to send Coombs to third, and he scored while Frank Goyer was throwing Carew out at first on a grounder to second. Weeks made the third out when he missed three.

Belleville evened up in the second. Symons, who led the hitters for the day, poled a single to left. Meagher grounded to Weeks, who had plenty of time to get Symons at second, but threw the runner out at first. It was a poor choice, for H. Mills, the next batter, shot a grass cutter at Weeks which the second baseman let roll through, and Symons scored from second. Mills took too big a lead off first and Coombs nipped him with an accurate throw. Langdon tossed out Fred Goyer.

There was nothing doing for either side in the third, but the champs had a field day in the fourth. W. Mills, first up, started the trouble by singling to right. Casey up to sacrifice bunted a fly that fell safely back of third and went for a hit. Symons looped a Texas Leaguer over first and Mills came home. Symons went to second on the throw to the plate and Coombs threw over Weeks' head, Casey counting and Symons going to third. Meagher scratched an infield hit on a tap to Carew, Symons registering. H. Mills was the first out, Weeks to Carew, Meagher going to second. Fred Goyer hit to Langdon, who made a wild heave to first and Meagher went home. Weir hoisted to Weeks. Frank Goyer hit to centre and Fred Goyer went around to third, scoring when Langdon let the throw get away. His brother reached third on the play, and came home on a wild pitch. With six runs in Levoie thought it was time to quit, and obligingly struck out

Lindsay got three back in the fifth. McMahon started it with a clean single to right the second hit off Goyer. Wettlaufer followed with a safe one between short and third, and he pair advanced on Langdon's roller to H. Mills, on which the batter was retired. Ashton fanned and McElroy should have been the third out on a tap to Meagher. The third baseman fumbled, however, and McElroy was safe, McMahon scoring. Coombs came through with a double to centre, the only extra base hit of the game, and Wettlaufer and McElroy reported at the home plate. Coombs took third on the throw-in, but overslid the bag and was out, Mills to Meagher.

The score remained at 7 to 4 until the eighth, a double play unassisted by Wettlaufer, who pulled down a liner from Casey's bat with one hand and doubled Mills off second, preventing a Belleville score in the seventh. They got a trio in the eighth, however. With one down McElroy temporarily lost control, passing Kelleher, and plugging H. Mills in the elbow. Fred Goyer rolled one to Langdon, who held the ball, and the bases were choked. McElroy mussed up Weir's roller, Kelleher scoring. Frank Goyer fanned, but Ross, who had replaced Levoie in the fifth, shot a single to right scoring H. Mills and Fred Goyer. W. Mills flied to Ashton for the third out.

Belleville did not need any more runs, but they got out anyway to wind up in the ninth. Casey singled through the box, Symons got his third hit, a single to right, and Langdon filled the bases when he dropped McElroy's throw on Kelleher's roller to the box. H. Mills hit to Carew, who got Casey at the plate. Fred Goyer struck out, but Weir walked, forcing in Symons. Frank Goyer rolled to Carew and Kelleher was forced out at the plate.

Lindsay got two on in their half on a pass and a hit by pitcher, but the necessary hit was not forthcoming.

BATTLING HALSTEAD.

Welter-weight champion, who will fight Captain Wm. Dwyer, champion welter-weight boxer of the Canadian army, in a ten-round bout to-night at 8 o'clock at the Sheesley Shows. George Graham will referee.

Both boxers are well matched, and a four-round fixture between them last night resulted in a draw.

Tom Dwyer is a brother of Fred Dwyer, present middle-weight champion of England.

Young Goulding, feather-weight champion wrestler, refereed the bout last night. On Saturday night he will meet Kid Curtis of the Sheesley Shows.

The fight between Dwyer and Halstead will be a ringer and a big crowd should be on hand when the Canadian and American champions meet. Side bets of $100 are being put up and if Dwyer wins he is to get 25 p.c. of the gate receipts.

GROOMING SMOKE FOR THE EVENT

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION WILL MEET TO-MORROW EVENING.

The second meeting for the reorganisation of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association will be held in the Board of Trade Rooms tomorrow (Friday) evening, the 16th, at 7.30 o'clock.

The committee appointed at the last meeting have arranged to have most of the sports clubs in the city represented at this meeting.

It is hoped that every sports club will be represented as a nominating committee will be appointed to bring in a slate for the officers and executive from among those present, and will be balloted upon at the next meeting.

The importance of securing the best men in the city as officers and executive to develop amateur sports in the city cannot be over-estimated, so the most representative gathering is expected on Friday at 7.30 p.m.

Arrangements will also be made for the benefit football game and an exhibition 3-mile run by Albert Smoke, the winner of the Ontario Olympic trials.

All citizens interested in the formation of this association are cordially invited.

CAN THE C.G.E. STOP THISTLES?

BIG GAME IN CITY LEAGUE SERIES IS ATTRACTING ATTENTION OF THE FANS.

The City League double-header at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon should be of unusual interest, especially the clash between the Thistles and Canadian General teams in the second game. The Thistles, who won the first section of the race, are out in front of the second section as well, and if they win Saturday's fixture can hardly be headed off. The Canadian General will have their strongest team of the season out, and with Lornie Rose pitching are confident of stopping the Yeotes crew. Either Kirn or Harrison will pitch for the Thistles, and the battle should be well worth seeing.

The first game which brings together the G.W.V.A. and Canadian Woollens should also furnish a lively tussle.

SPORTING NEWS, VIEWS AND GOSSIP

THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING OF THE PETERBORO FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION

LARGE ATTENDANCE PRESENT—C.G.E. PROTEST THROWN OUT—NEW EXECUTIVE APPOINTED—HANDSOME FOOTBALL SHIELD FOR LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP 1920-1921.

A large and enthusiastic representative meeting of the Peterborough Football Association was held last evening in Mr. Fred Sutcliffe's Barber Shop to transact the season's business. Mr. Baldwin, vise-president, occupied the chair.

Clubs' Representatives Present.

C.G.E. team — Messrs. Mortimer, Ted Bartley, and J. Clark.

Canadian Woollens — Mr. J. W. Worth, Mr. Jack Cridland, and Mr. J. Baldwin.

De Laval—Mr. W. Cook and Mr. J. Coombs.

Caledonians—Mr. Alex. Dick.

Comrades—Mr. J. Haw and R. Jolliffe.

G.W.V.A.—Mr. George Cloeman and Mr. Sid Whatley.

Mr. Fred Sutcliffe, assist. secy., and Mr. Frank McKinley, secy., gave in their reports of last season's business.

C.G.E. Protest Trown Out.

The secretary read a letter from the secretary of the C.G.E. team placing a protest before the Association under Rule 5 of the Local Rules.

Mr. Ted Bartley, representative of the C.G.E., said: "The reason for the protest was based upon Ruie 5 of the Local Association and when the C.G.E. Executive measured the grounds the next day they found that the goalposts were not in the centre. There was no penalty area marked out to suit the change, except the old lines and even the centre markings could not be found. When the teams kicked off they always had to guess the centre. He gave facts and figures that brought a few questions from the Executive members.

"Did the War Vets and C.G.E. change over at half-time?" asked Mr. Worth.

"Yes!" replied Mr. Bartley.

"The Vets were at the same disadvantage as the C.G.E. and they did not protest," said Mr. Worth.

"But you never knew of a Winning Team Protesting," replied C. G. E. representative.

"To my mind it looks like this—if the C.G.E. had won the game there would have been no protest and because they were defeated the team could not take it as sportsmen," observed Mr. Worth.

The C.G.E. representative wanted to ask the secretary a question, but the Chairman called him to order.

Mr. Whatley speaking on behalf of the Vets gave a resume of what had taken place until the game was played. He emphasized a ruling in all football associations that any team wishing to make a protest must hand it to the referee during the game and finished up by saying "The Protest should be Thrown to the Winds."

Mr. Cook, De Laval: "It appears to me that the grounds were improperly marked out and our executive had marked the field out to the best of their ability. It was as fair to one as the other and I make the following motion "That the Protest be Thrown Out."

When the Vote was taken it was unanimous. There was no amendment.

New Football Shield.

Mr. Fred Sutcliffe announced to the Association that a Prominent Local Merchant will present them with a Handsome Football Shield to be competed for during season 1920-1921. The shield will be held by the Club winning the League Championship each year, and must give security. It is never to be won outright. It will always remain the property of the Association.

New Executive.

The following were appointed and elected as follows:

Hon. Presidents—Mayor A. A. McIntyre, Edgar Worth, C. Coleman, W. R. Breyfogle, E. G. Patterson, Mr. Burnham, and Rev. Father Phelan.

Hon. Vice-Presidents—G. N. Gordon, Major E. C. Miller, R. H. Turner, R. Denne, Lt.-Col. Johnston, R. Muir, George Duncan, and Mr. Frank Clark.

President—Mr. W. Cook.

Vice-President—Mr. Sid Whatley.

2nd Vice-President—Mr. Fred Sutcliffe.

WEDDING BELLS

FREEBURN—ANDERSON.

A very pretty private wedding took place on Wednesday, July 14th, at St. James' parsonage, when Mr. Oscar W. Freeburn, eldest son of Mr. W. G. Freeburn, of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Grace V. Anderson, only daughter of Mr. W. G. Anderson, of Smith township.

The popular young bridegroom is manager of the phonograph department in Heintzman Hall, this city, and will have the best wishes of many friends for a long life of happiness. The bride is highly respected by all who have enjoyed her friendship.

The happy couple left on the evening train for Toronto and other parts, and are expected to return to the city in about two weeks.

JOHNSTON—FORD

At six o'clock p.m. on Wednesday June 30th., 1920 a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ford, Norwood when their only daughter, Ethel, was united in marriage to Stanley D. Johnston, eldest son of Colonel and Mr. T. J. Johnston of Otonabee.

To the strains of Lohergrin's wedding march played by Miss Margaret Johnston, sister of the groom, the bride entered the parlour leaning on the arm of her father and took her place beneath a beautifully decorated arch of evergreens and roses. She looked charming in a gown of white silk crepe-de-chine with overblouse of shadow lace wearing also the bridal veil trimmed with orange blossoms and carrying a shower bouquet of bridal roses her only ornament being a pearl necklace gift of the groom.

The bride was attended by her little neice Jean Ford as flower girl in white silk and carrying a bouquet of white and pink peonies.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wolland pastor of Norwood Presbyterian Church. During the signing of the register Mrs. Porter sang "Oh, Perfect Love."

The bride lead the way to the dining room where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served.

Immediately after dinner the young couple left midst showers of confetti on a short honeymoon to Montreal. The bride travelling an a suit of taupe gabardine with hat to match.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Johnston will take up their residence in Otonabee.

KINGSTON'S FOURTH GUN.

The fourth German gun has arrived in Kingston from Ottawa, completing the collection for that city. The latest arrival is a 75m. gun, which saw four years' service in France.

The question of distributing the guns in the parks will be taken up by the Parks Committee.

AMBUSHED THE POLICE PATROL

One Constable Died of Wounds as a Result of Shooting.

(Canadian Press.)

DUBLIN, July 15.— A patrol of five constables and sergeant was ambushed last night in Adaire district of County of Limerick. One constable was wounded and died shortly afterwards, but others escaped uninjured, according to official report.

LAKEFIELD CARRIED BYLAW YESTERDAY.

Villagers Anxious to have the Town Hall Completed.

Lakefield voted on the bylaw to complete the town hall at a cost of $8,000 yesterday, and the bylaw passed by a large majority. The final result showed 91 for and 15 against.

At the town hall the vote was 41 for and 7 against, and at the Sheriff's office it was 50 for and 8 against.

Three tenders have been received up to date for the completion of the building.

HORSES ESCAPED FROM ROBERTS' FARM.

Were Located Near Fowler's Corners

A rumour has been circulated in the city to the effect that Albert Roberts, the well known horse breeder, and fancier, at "Beavermead," Otonabee, had a number of valuable horses stolen from him Saturday night, but on investigation the Examiner has learned that the horses were not stolen. They escaped from Mr. Roberts' farm on Saturday night but were found on Monda ymorning at Fowler's Corners and brought into the city the next day.

One of the four or five was bought from a man near there and it is thought he led the others to his old home.

PIGEON RACING AT COBOURG.

Cobourg pigeon fanciers held their first race of the season on Sunday, the birds being released at Riverdale, making the 70 mile trip at a speed of nearly 60 miles an hour. T. Leonard won first prize, George Manton second, and Charles Counter third. Very few seconds separated the first from the third.

STOCKS OF LIQUOR MUST BE REDUCED.

Doctors Cannot Keep More Than Three Gallons After August 1.

TORONTO, July 15.—As the result of an order-in-Council passed by the Provincial Government no Ontario doctor will be permitted to have more than three gallons of liquor on his premises after August 1. The present limit is ten gallons.

The order-in-Council reads: "On and after 1st day of August, 1920, no medical practitioner shall have in his possession for medical purposes any larger quantity of liquor than 3 gallons at one time."

Although by the Ontario Temperance Act the limit is set at ten gallons there is a clause providing for any change by order-in-Council in the quantity allowed so long as it is less than ten gallons.

Section 51a of the O. T. A. as amended 1919, reads: "Every duly qualified medical practitioner actually engaged in the practise of his profession may, notwithstanding anything contrary in the O.T.A., have in his possession, for purely medicinal purposes, such quantity of liquor not exceeding ten gallons, at any one time, as may be prescribed by order-in-Council, and such liquor may be kept in private dwelling-house of said practitioner or in his office or dispensary." The clause "as may be prescribed by order-in-Council" is the one under which the present change is made.

GRAY'S MONUMENT PUT UP FOR SALE.

Shaft Erected by John Penn to Author of the Elegy is up for Auction.

LONDON, July 15.—"The topographical game" has been played with "An Elegy Wrote in a Country Churchyard" almost ever since that poem was first hurriedly printed for "R. Dodsley in Pall-mall, and sold by M. Cooper in Paternoster Row, 1751. Price, sixpence." Of all the places with an "ivy-mantled tower," "the yew-trees' shade" and other details mentioned in the poem, Stoke Poges seems most likely to have been the one where it was written. Almost adjoining Stoke Poges Church is a monument—the auctioneers call it "the historical Gray's monument"—which a handbook absurdly describes as "in shape of a sarcophagus or large tea caddy, containing on each face a few lines from Gray's 'Elegy' or other poems, erected by M. John Penn."

The monument is for sale for it happens to stand in the outlying portions of Stoke Park estate, of which 250 acres are to be submitted to auction next month. Messrs. Buckland and Sons (Windsor) are acting in the matter, on behalf of the late Wilberforce Bryant's trustees. Also close to the church stood the Old Manor House described by Gray in "A Long Story." Doctor Johnson's severe comment on that quite inoffensive poem will be remembered: "An invitation from Lady Cobham about this time (1750) gave occasion to an odd composition, called "A Long Story," which adds little to Gray's character."

The property surrounds the golf links and includes pleasant sites for residences.

HUSBAND JEALOUS AT SIXTY-NINE.

Burbidge Station Man Seriously Wounds Wife, Then Fatally Stabs Himself.

OTTAWA, July 15.—The story of how a jealous husband, aged 69 years, savagely attacked his six-weeks' bride, aged 30 years, with a bottle, seriously wounding her and then fatally stabbing himself, was told at the inquest by John F. Chambers, Burbidge Station, last night. The evidence conclusively showed that Chambers met death by his own hand, and Coroner Craig's jury brought in a verdict of suicide.

Mrs. Chambers, who is a handsome young woman, implied in her evidence that the married life had been the reverse of happy.

TOM MOORE ISSUES CALL TO LABOUR

CONGRESS TO MEET IN WINDSOR SEPTEMBER 13TH.

OTTAWA, July 14. — President Tom Moore and Secretary Draper have issued a joint circular calling the 36th annual convention of the Dominion Trades Congress to meet in the Armories, at Windsor, at 10 o'clock Monday morning, September 13th. The attendance last year at Hamilton was 934 delegates, and the officers expect that the number will be larger this year. They urge the delegates to look out for accommodation. The officers also submit the following:

"The participation of Canada in the League of Nations has brought Canadian workers into closer touch with the world's labor movement and the international aspect of many labor problems. Each year brings new problems, and as the decisions reached affect not only the lives of the workers affiliated to the trades union movement, but the entire social fabric of the community local unions and affiliated bodies are called upon to select men and women as delegates who have the broadest vision and coolest judgment.

Those Who Would Destroy.

"The aggressive action of those workers who would destroy the international trades union movement still continues; the rapid growth of mergers and huge trusts controlling the industries of this country cannot safely be ignored; profiteering is still rampant, and the benefits of wage increases are generally discountd before they have been received; inequalities in social life become daily more apparent; inordinate wealth flagrantly displays itself ostentatiously before the eyes of the great mass of workers yet struggling for a reasonable standard of living; unemployment still exists and production is curtailed by those who own and control the machinery of same; freedom of speech and press is yet far from being an accomplished fact; immigration and similar problems loom up with ever greater significance, and without attempting to define more fully all the matters that the delegates will be called upon to consider, sufficient is above outlined to emphasize the importance of local unions and affiliated bodies choosing from their ranks members who are thorough representative in order that the conclusions reached may reflect the matured and reasoned judgment of the organised workers of this Domniion on these important problems.

Women Workers Numerous.

"Women workers are growing more numerous from year to year, and the problems affecting their employment are of paramount importance. Unions which include women workers are requested to bear this fact in mind when electing their delegates."

Delegates sent to the convention from provincial Federations of Labour and from Trades Councils must be members in good standing of an international union, or unions chartered directly by the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada or the A. F. of L.

Send in Resolutions.

The delegates are reminded that all resolutions to be considered at the congress must be in the hands of the secretary ten days prior to the opening.

MR. ROBERT REDMOND VISITING IN CITY.

Has been away for many years—A Great Horseman.

After an absence of 14 years Robt. Redmond of Chicago, is spending a few days in the city and visiting old scenes. Mr. Redmond was in the hack and livery business in this city at different times since he first went to Chicago in 1891. He has been for a time farming in Michigan, but he now conducts a modern livery and automobile storage in Chicago and has been very successful.

Mr. Redmond has always been very fond of horses and he has been in every phase of the "h'oss game," and he knows horses.

Naturally he finds many changes since his last visit here and amongst his pleasant surprises here are the growth of the city to the west and south, the fine residential districts, and prosperous industries.

WANTS TO PURCHASE COOPS IN PETERBORO

Meeting of the Poultry Association Held Last Evening.

At last night's meeting of the Poultry Association a letter was received from the Bobcaygeon Poultry Association regarding the purchase of the Peterboro Associations' old coops. No definite decision was arrived at and the discussion over the leter delayed the report of the Association's delegate to the convention at Guelph, which had to be left over until the next meting.

HAY-CUTTING IN FULL SWING.

ST. CATHARINES, July 15.—Hay-cutting is in full operation throughout the district and some oats and wheat crops are ready to be cut. The farmers are having some trouble getting their hay in because of the numerous showers. The hay crop is rather short in some sections due to the dry Spring and scarce hay for next Winter is predicted.

The liberal moisture is a great boom to the potatoes, cabbages, corn and other vegetables, and there should be large yields of each.

One Man Killed In Accident Near Omemee

CONTINUED SUCCESSES

THE BOLSHEVIKI ARE STILL PLOUGHING ALONG—WAR NEWS ON SEVERAL FRONTS.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 16. — Continued success of the Bolsheviki in operations against the Poles along the northern sector of the front is announced in Thursday's official statement from Moscow. The communique says: "South of River Vilia in Vilna region we defeated the resisting enemy along the entire front. Our advance is continuing energetically."

In Ukraine.

(Canadian Press.)

BERNE, July 16.—Russian Bolsheviki offensive in Ukraine has come to a standstill, according to advices from Bucharest, which declares counter-offensive of Ukrainians is making progress. Ukrainian armies are being backed by growing forces of volunteers forming in rear of Bolsheviki and aided by extensive uprising of peasants.

Occupy Vilna.

(Canadian Press.)

WARSAW, July 16.— Polish governmental authorities have agreed with Lithuanians for occupation of Vilna by Lithuanian troops and this step will soon be taken, according to information received in military quarters.

Surrender of Vilna to Lithuanians was conceded by Soviet government of Russia some time ago in negotiations between two countries.

BAND CONCERT VICTORIA PARK

The band of the 57th will render the following programme this evening in Victoria Park, when Mr. Gus Hill, the eminent baritone, will be the vocal soloist:

March—"United Empire."
Overture—"Masaniello."
Intermezzo—"My Lady Dainty."
Idyll—"The Mill in the Forest."
Song — Selected — Mr. Gus Hill (baritone).
American Fantastic — "By the Swanee River."
Paraphrase—"Nearer My God to Thee."
Selection—"H.M.S. Pinafore."
March—"King Sol."
God Save the King!

THE WEATHER

Last night was very cool for the middle of July and there was a close approach to frost. The lowest the thermometer got was 44 degrees, and it is quite likely white frost could have been seen in favorable, or rather unfavorable, localities. Yesterday was St. Swithin's day. While we had no rain here, there was considerable in the eastern sections of the province, and we at least have probably escaped the proverbial forty days' rain.—W. P.

MEN READ NEWSPAPER ADS.

Men don't read magazines, declares a big American advertiser after he had made some costly experiments. His advice is that advertisers who wish to reach and influence the male buyers must use the daily newspapers. The daily newspaper is the medium par excellence that carries the advertisers' message to the men of the nation. Peterborough business men should note this, and make use of the Examiner's columns which reach the whole buying community

Downeyville Man Killed When Train Struck Automobile

TWO OTHER MEN SEVERELY INJURED IN OMEMEE ACCIDENT —CAR SMASHED.

Charles Downey, Jr., of Downeyville, was almost instantly killed, James Lucas of Downeyville, suffered severe injuries, and Percy Lucas, of Downeyville, was slightly cut on the arm, when the car in which they were driving home to Downeyville, driven by Downey, was struck by a Grand Trunk freight train at the railway crossing about 60 feet from the Omemee station.

Downey had taken a steam roller into Omemee, and after picking up the Lucas brothers there, was driving home. The three were sitting in the front seat and due to their crowded position, Downey's view of the road was partly blocked. Hence, when they reached the railway crossing Downey did not see the approaching freight train. The engine of the freight struck the automobile, smashing it to bits and throwing the debris to the side of the road.

Downey was carried into Mr. Adams' house and Dr. White of Lindsay, was summoned. Downey died about a half hour later.

The body was taken to Lindsay by J. King.

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, July 16.—Miss Mildred Bailey was the guest of Miss Vera Bottnel at "Paynesboro" last week.

Mr. Alex Thompson, of Chatham, is visiting in the village.

Mrs. Trotter, of Port Arthur, is visiting her aunt Mrs. John McIntosh.

Mr. W. J. Leggott is in Montreal on business.

Miss Bella Hamilton and Mr. George Hamilton were the guests of Peterboro friends for July 12th.

Mrs. Harold Kidd, and family, of Toronto, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kidd.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Monison and family are spending their vacation at Lovesick Lake.

Mrs. Ridpath, sr., and Miss Helen Newberry, of Toronto, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ridpath.

Miss Florence Juel, of Brantford, is visiting Rev. and Mrs. P. L. Juel at "The Manse."

Miss Effie Webster took honors in the recent vocal examinations of the Toronto College of Music.

Mrs. E. P. Spencer, Miss Florence Spencer and Masters Gordon and Arthur, of West Orange, N.J., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Deuch at "North Douro Lodge."

Mr. Clayton Ridpath has secured a position in the electrical department of the G. T. R. in Toronto.

The workmen on the dam were given a holiday on Monday to celebrate the 12th of July. Most of them joined the crowd and went to Peterboro.

The Orange Lodge and True Blues and Young Canadians of the village made a creditable showing in the parade in Peterboro on Monday.

Mrs. Osborne and Miss Angela returned last week from a visit to relations in New York City.

Miss Mollie Johnson, of Toronto, will spend the summer months with her parents at "The Bungalow."

TO FRAME PLANS FOR RELIEF OF COAL SHORTAGE

NEW YORK, July 15.—Sub-committees to consider plan to relieve the coal shortage throughout the United States by a redistribution of cars to the soft coal mines were appointed at a conference here of bituminous mine operators and railroad executives. General plans only were discussed, and details will be left to the sub-committees, which will meet tomorrow.

POLICE RETURN HOME FROM LONG CHASE AFTER ROBBERS

CLAIM PORT HOPE POLICE PUT THEM OFF THE TRACK.

High County Constable A. Moore and city detectives Newhall and Cookman returned about midnight last night with empty hands from pursuing the trio who held up and robbed W. G. Bartley on the Gravel Road Wednesday afternoon, which they say, is due to the fact that the chief of police at Port Hope put them off the track.

They left Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock and soon picked up the trail of the three robbers. All along the road to Port Hope they heard stories of people held up and stores entered by a trio answering to the description of the three who held up Bartley. Arriving in Port Hope about 9 o'clock, they believed that they had located the three robbers in the person of three fortune tellers operating with a collection of shows there.

They then went to the Port Hope chief of police who stated that the three fortune tellers could not be the trio for whom they were searching as they had been in town all day and suggested that a gang whom he had run out of town might be the guilty ones. Relying on this they set out in pursuit of the new gang and after following them all night and part of yesterday found that they were not the ones wanted in Peterboro. Upon returning to Port Hope yesterday they found that the three fortune tellers had evidently learned of the proximity of the Peterboro police and had made a getaway.

REPAIRING THE RESOLUTE FOR THE NEXT RACE

(Canadian Press.)

SANDY HOOK, July 16.—Repairs on the Cup sloop Resolute proceeded rapidly to-day and there was every prospect that the defender would be in readiness for another joust in America's Cup match off Sandy Hook to-morrow. The work of adjusting the new halyards will be completed to-day. Capt. C. F. Adams, Jr., did not seem unduly chagrined over the accident that robbed him of a fine chance of victory. Sailors on the Resolute expressed the opinion that the challenger cannot lift the cup.

NEW SCHOOL WILL COST $600,000 ALD. GORDON ESTIMATES

Referring to a recently published statement in which it was shown that the interest and sinking fund for the Hunter street bridge debentures would eventually increase the cost of the bridge to one million dollars, Ald. Gordon told the Council that in the same way the $250,000 Prince of Wales school would cost over $600,000. For the school site at $11,000, debentures were issued at 5 1-2 per cent. for thirty years, which ultimately brings the cost of the property to $24,033.90. The sum of $240,000 was borrowed for the school itself. At six per cent. Ald. Gordon said the city would have to provide $18,679.23 a year for interest and sinking fund, which for thirty years totalled $560,376.90. Thus for the site and school the total cost would be $584,410.80, but the interest on the $240,000 loan was at the rate of 6 1-4 per cent. Ald. Gordon said, which would bring the grand total for the new school to more than $600,000. He intimated that sinking fund and interest charges on these long terms debentures always amounted to as much, if not more than the sum they yielded.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

(United Press)

NEW YORK, July 16.—Prices were weak at the opening of the New York Stock Exchange to-day. Opening prices were: Sinclair 1 1-8; New York New Haven and Hartford 29 1-2 off 1-8; Mexican Pet 189 1-2; U. S. Rubber 91 1-2 Reading 88 3-4, off 3-8; American Loco 96 1-2, off 1; Vanadum 84 1-2 up 1-2; Bethlehem B. 87 7-8, off 1-8; U. S. Steel 91 3-8; United Retail Stores 74 1-4, up 3-8; Crucible 144, off 2; Baldwin 116 3-4, off 1-4; Republic Iron and Steel 90 off 3-4.

Prices presented a ragged front after the severe drive in closing dealings yesterday. Steel Common got down to 91 1-8, a new low move. Other steel and equipments reflected a preponderance of selling orders. Vanadium, however, moved against the General trend gaining half a point on the first transaction.

Prices broke sharply throughout practically all the entire list in trading on the New York Stock Exchange during the early afternoon. The money renewal rate of 9 per cent. compared with the previous rate of 8 per cent. was seized by the bears for another drive.

The market, after opening weak, seemed to gain slightly and then broke. To-day's drop followed a sharp decline in late trading yesterday.

During the bear raid to-day Crucible dropped 4 1-2 to 142 1-2; Studebaker 1-8 to 68 1-2; Vanadium 1 1-2 to 82 1-2; Mexican Pet. 2 1-4 to 187 1-4, and Baldwin 2 to 115.

EXCHANGE MARKET

NEW YORK, July 16.— Foreign Exchange was steady at the opening to-day. Demand Sterling opened unchanged at $3.88 3-4. Franc checks were 11.96, up 2; Lire checks 16.02, off 2; Marks demand $.0260, Cables $.0262; Canadian Dollars demand $.8810.

GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Wheat underwent a sensational break in price today. The market opened all the way from unchanged figures to 9½ lower, and soon was down 10½ cents bushel in cases for December, principal speculative delivery.

The big tumble was attributed more to lack of buying orders than to any great selling pressure.

THE GERMAN DELEGATION

GERMANS DISCOVERED A LITTLE JOKER IN THE ALLIED TERMS.

(Canadian Press.)

SPA, July 16.—German delegation at the conference here sent word to the Supreme Council this morning that the German reply to the Allied ultimatum on coal deliveries would not be made ready until four this afternoon. Germans are expected to ask modification of terms of protocol.

From what could be learned this morning the clause providing for occupation of the Ruhr valley unless coal deliveries were made by October 15, was the thing standing in the way of acceptance by the Germans. German Foreign Minister told his colleagues that this subject had not been mentioned during the conversation with Allied premiers yesterday when a verbal agreement was virtually reached. The Germans, it appears, were greatly annoyed at finding it in the text of terms handed them ast night.

WILL PREPARE SKETCH OF SMALLPOX HOSPITAL

The Property Committee's recommendation to the Board of Health to consider the erection of a small pox hospital was discussed at a meeting of the Board of Haelth yesterday. Mayor McIntyre and Dr. McPherson M. O. H., were instructed to prepare an outline sketch of a hospital and to estimaee its cost. They will report at the next meeting of the Board.

Complaining that their wells had been contaminated by surface water washing down from the Monaghan Road, T. Cronin, A. Lazure and W. H. Gould of Walnut street asked that the city provide them with water services. The Board decided to ask the Utilities Commission to grant the requests of these Walnut street residents.

I.L.P. AND FARMERS MEET NEXT WEEK

A conference of representatives of farmers and Independent Labour Party of West Peterboro will be held in the Labour Hall on Tuesday evengin, July 20th. The intention behind this meeting is to consider the advisibility of political action in this riding in the event of a Federal bye-election resulting from the resignation of Mr. J. H. Burnham. It will of course depend upon the actual resignation of Mr. Burnham which is questioned in a despatch to-day from Ottawa to the effect that Mr. Burnham's resignation is invalid by reason of the reported fact that it was not signed by two witnesses.

A number bof farmers have expressed he desire to discuss the local political situation with Labour of the city, and Tuesday night's meeting will be a first effort toward a survey of their combined prospects and an exchange of ideas looking toward joint action.

CHERRIES HIGHER.

Fruit More Plentiful on the Local Market.

Cherries have advanced slightly and are now selling at $1.75 a basket. Some of the dealers last week retailed them at $1.55 and $1.60, but the price has stiffened a little. Black currants are selling at 30 cents a quart and gooseberries at 20 cents.

Home-grown tomatoes are expected in this week. Green peas and beans are unchanegd at two quarts for 25 cents.

LABOUR LEADER DENIES ALLEGATION MADE BY MEMBER TRADES COUNCIL

OTTAWA, July 16.—An emphatic denial of the statement attributed to a delegate of the Montreal Trades and Labour Council in that city last night—to the effect that he had used sums of money in bribing delegates to the Trades and Labour Congress conventions—was made by P. M. Draper, secretary of the Congress, this morning.

Secretary Draper also stated that he merely acted as agent for past president Allen E. Barker, of the International Brotherhood of Railway Maintenance and Shop Workers, in the disbursal of fifty thousand dollars sent him by Barker. He declared that the money had been properly used for the purpose for which it was intended.

Mr. Draper belittles the attack made on him by Delegate Kerrigan, who, he states, belong to the Revolutionary Socialistic type of worker.

Mr. Burnham Makes a Confession at the Farmers' Gathering

"THE GOVERNMENT AT OTTAWA IS AS BAD AS YOUR ROADS," HE ANNOUNCED—MEETING HELD IN CHEMONG LAST EVENING.

BATTERY OF SPEAKERS

A list of prominent speakers on subjects of interest to all of the farming community would ordinarily be expected to draw out a large representation of farmers, but this bait did not attract more than a handful of them to the annual meeting of the West Peterborough Board of Agriculture held at Chemong Park Pavilion last evening. As many women were in evidenec as men and they carried baskets overflowing with good things that soon disappeared in face of the onslaught made on them by the combined forces. The picnic did not commence till seven o'clock, when a sufficient crowd had assembled to give at least a semblance of the picnic that was expected before.

At eight o'clock the meeting got under way in the pavilion, which has been the home of the annual meeting for two years now, and is an ideal place when warm weather prevails, but last night it was a little too cool for an open air meeting. The coolness so marked by the listeners was apparently unnoticeable to the speakers, who expounded on varied subjects at length in their own warmth of oration apparently regardless of the shivering audience.

Outlined Work.

Allan B. Mann, the secretary-treasurer, outlined the work of the Board during the winter and the success met with in the meetings held to give the farmers an opportunity to hear speakers on farm subjects. The election of offiecrs was held, Joseph Mann being re-elected president, R. N. Scott vice-president and Alan B. Mann secretary-treasurer.

J. H. Burnham, ex-M.P. for West Peterborough, was the first speaker. "I will begin by making a confession. The government at Ottawa is as bad as your roads."

"They are good roads, but they need oiling," said a voice in the audience, at which a laugh ensued.

Commended Mr. Tooms.

The speaker commended Mr. Tooms' representation and promised them that he would look after the roads all right. He urged for more serious consideration of conditions to-day. "Civilization is built on Christianity, and Christianity has been laughed at by the Bolsheviks, who have got back to the brute state." Mr. Burnham wandered into religion and he outlined the growth of a class of clergymen who would discard the Bible as untrue. Prominent influential leaders in the church have been imbued with this ideal, he alleged ,and Christianity is faced with this form of Bolshevism.

The recently resigned member told of the downfall of great leaders during and since the war and how Sir Robert Borden also was unable to stand the pace and went down. Dissatisfaction in the cabinet and Dominion resulted and then he declared they should have come to the people. He is in his own humble way tried to move the government, but his work was hopeless and when at last the opportune time came he resigned. He reiterated the opinion that they should go to the people now. "If they go down let them go down. I bear no ill will to them, but I have a greater regard for Canada than any man in it. We must get the best representation we can for all the people in the best interests of all the people, and a better Canada."

Mr. H. B. Cowan.

Mr. H. B. Cowan confined his address to the cheese question, which, he said, was of interest to the farmers, largely because the price of cheese determined the price of milk. He outlined the formation of his company to bring the factories the best price possible for their cheese. The old system of marketing cheese through the cheese boards was depreciated by Mr. Cowan, who claimed his company could pay better prices. The buyers on the boards took advantage of the farmers, he said. His company had got better prices for cheese since the start, except in several boards where the buyers bid up the price to smooth matters a little, but they could not afford to do this all over. The business is increasing by leaps and bounds and "we will before long, be he concluded, 'have the cheese industry in the best shape it has been in for years."

MR. THOS. TOOMS.

Thomas Tooms, M.L.A., for West Peterboro, promised them that the Drury government would give a better report of the way it represented the farmer and labor than the Ottawa House. "One of the best governments we have ever had," he styled it, and pretty democratic in every way—and one that has come to stay. The Cabinet Ministers are all masters in their particular departments, he declared.

He announced that Hon. Mr. Biggs would be here on August 26 to go over the roads and get first hand information, and Hon. Manning Doherty will open the Peterboro Exhibition.

Consolidated Schools.

Mr. Tooms favored Consolidated Schools, and to give Normal School students practical agriculture. On the Hydro question he emphatically declared that he quite agreed with the Premier's stand in ordering an enquiry, and he hoped that the waterways would be developed more.

Mayor McBride was not a pattern of the Labor men in the House, and he did not agree with his sensational tactics. They were going to develop natural resources more than the old governments, he said.

Drury was commended in glowing phraseology. He congratulated the farmers on the community gatherings to give the people a broader view and more interest in the work of the government. He praised the Mothers' Allowance Bill.

He told them of the assistance given him by Mr. E. N. Macdonald, the member for East Peterboro. Concluding, Mr. Tooms reminded them of the coming Dominion election and advised them to elect the man that would look after their interests best.

Mr. E. N. McDonald.

Mr. E. N. MacDonald, congratulated the constituency on having Mr. Tooms to represent them, and he congratulated Mr. Burnham on his stand. His government, unlike the old ones, had tried to look out for others—not for themselves.

He described the causes leading up to the formation of the U.F.O. and how it had spread from Manitoba all over Canada. It had done great work, he said, and city and country alike had benefited. He praised the United Dairymen's Company. When it came to election time, he told the women to tell their husbands which way to vote, for they knew the right way.

Mr. E. H. Stonehouse

E. H. Stonehouse, president of the Ontario Milk Producers' Association, urged them not to get discouraged in the mixed up condition prevailing now but to believe as he did that they would be all for the best. The conditions in Russia, he did not believe, were half as bad as they were painted. France grew, though the blood of the revolution into a nobler nation and now is on a higher pinnacle of glory than ever before.

All praise of Premier Drury was justified, he said. John J. Morrison, the secretary of the U. F. O., was lauded for his foundation work in the U.F.O. movement, and his work had benefited all classes, he declared.

"In this country we have vast opportunities and vast possibilities.

TREATY RATIFIED THIS MORNING

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, July 16.—Exchange of ratifications of Treaty of St. Germain, which established peace between the Allies and Austria, took place this morning in the clock room at the Foreign Office. Jules Cambon presided over the ceremony.

HAS MEMBER BACKFIRED?

CLAIM MR. BURNHAM'S RESIGNATION NOT PROPERLY ATTESTED.

OTTAWA, July 16.—Nearly two month will elapse before the Federal by-elections, necessitated by taking Hon. F. B. McCurdy and Hon. R. W. Wigmore into the Cabinet, can be held. Under the new Franchise Act there is a lengthy procedure to be observed. Before registrars can sit to prepare the list, using the Provincial list as a basis, there must be a notice of four days in urban centres. Then there is a six-day sitting, exclusive of Sunday, and three days more are allowed to post copies of the lists. The revising officers must give four day's notice of sittings, and their sittings have to commence 21 days before the date of polling.

Not Before September

Making allowance for this and other measures exacted by the law, it appears that the elections cannot take place before the first week in September.

For East Elgin the writ for an election must be issued by August 17, a that is just six months after the Speaker's warrant authorizing the writ was issued. The voting will occur on whatever date is then set in the writ. It is possible to delay in until October, and that probably will be done. Yale, B. C., by-elecion may be even later.

Mr. Burnham's Resignation.

It is reported here that Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., has "put one over" on a guileless electorate by announcing that he had resigned. Such a letter was sent, but it is said to lack the witness of two other members of Parliament, by which alone it is made effective. Mr. Burnham may therefore be sitting in his old seat the next Parliamentary session if a general election does not intervene.

There are five vacancies; Colchester, N. S.; St. John City and County N.B.; East Elgin and West Peterboro', Ont.; Yale, B.C

BITTER CHILEAN CAMPAIGN.

Labor is Taking Unprecedented Interest in Presidential Elections.

SANTIAGO, Chile.—Organized labor is participating to an unprecedented extent in the Presidential campaign, which is marked by bitter hostility. The general election of Presidential Electors, numbering 54, will occur on June 25.

Senator Artruro Alessandri, candidate of the Liberal Alliance, who has the support of the Radical Party, has been in public life for many years. This is the first political venture of his opponent, Luis Barros Borgono, candidate of the Union Nationals, with whom the Conservatives and Majority Liberals are allied.

TEMAGAMI

(Archibald Lampman.)

Far in the grim northwest, beyond the lines
That turn the rivers eastward to the sea,
Set with a thousand islands crowned with pines
Lies the water deep, wild Temagami,
Wild for the hunter's roving and the use
Of trappers in its dark and trackless vales,
Wild with the trampling of the giant moose,
And the wierd magic of old Indian tales.

All day with steady paddles toward the west
Our heavy laden long canoe we pressed:
All day we saw the thunder-travelled sky
Purpled with storm in many a trailing tress,
And saw at eve the broken sunset die
In crimson on the silent wilderness.

Nixon—"You know my brother, was issued at the City Hall this week then?"

Dixon—"Yes, we sleep in the same pew at church."

ALLENS INTEND TO COVER GREAT BRITAIN WITH MOVIE THEATRES

LONDON. — Allen's two and a half million dollar cinema enterprise just completed here, is the first of a series of undertakings, which is intended to cover Great Britain.

I. W. Smith, director, tells me their view is that England does not yet know what a cinema theatre should be. Existing buildings, even the largest, are merely adapted theatres and not specially built for cinema purposes.

The Empire Theatre and the Queen's Hotel, both in Leicester Square, are now to be pulled down by Allens for two model cinema theatres, one of which will provide the usual performance of varied program, and the other will run one film continuously until its popularity is exhausted.

HEAVY EXPRESS BUSINESS

In the opinion of the officials of the Canadian Express Company, there is much truth in the old saying: "It's an ill wind that blows no one good." Because the Canadian dollar has depreciated in value the business of the company has increased immensely. There is so much express moving at the present time that it is only with the greatest difficulty that enough cars can be found to accomodate the shipments.

When in the pre-war days all the shipments moving west of Windsor on the morning train could be easily carried in one-half a car, and could be cared for by one messenger, it now takes three and one-half cars and three messengers. All the other trains are correspondingly as heavily laden.

In the opinion of some of the officials the buyers throughout the country, buy only in small lots at the present time. Because they are transacting business hand to mouth, they must get their goods in a hurry, so use the express companies instead of the freight.

THE CALLING SEA.

There's a soft caress in the air tonight
With a little west wind blowing,
And a-bob is every harbor light
In the racing Spring-tide flowing.
Oh, I'm fain to feel the dancing boards
Under my feet again,
With my tiller set for the open sea,
That's calling me so plain.

There's a wild sea-tang on the wind tonight
Born of tarry fish-nets drying—
Of salt and tangled ropes of weed
Along the tide-mark lying.
Oh, I'm fain to get aboard once more
And watch the shore-line wane,
Along with the night and the open sea
That's calling me so plain.

—Ethel Wolff.

GERMANS TRICKY SAY NORWEGIANS

(Canadian Press.)

CHRISTIANIA, July 16.—Norwegian business men have protested to the Berlin government against alleged trickery of German commercial concerns whose failure to deliver to Norwegians goods bought and paid for started official and unofficial inquiries which led the Norwegians to believe the delinquencies were deliberate.

Commercial intercourse between Norway and Germany had been steadily increasing, due to the low exchange rate on German money, until recently when a number of Norwegian concerns were notified by the Germans with whom they had placed large orders that the merchandise could not be delivered because "the government had placed special export taxes which prohibited exportation at the prices at which the goods had been sold."

Held Up Contracts.

The Germans are said to have demanded additional sums ranging from 50 to 100 per cent. of the prices they had quoted before they would fulfill their contracts.

The Norwegians frequently were compelled to pay the additional sums, having contracted to sell elsewhere the German products. However, complaints that Germans were using this method to evade the unfavorable rate of exchange became so frequent that Norwegian commercial organizations made official representations to Berlin, and it is said the Berlin government issued a statement that official cognizance would be taken of sharp practices by German business men in their international dealings. The government denied the export taxes complained of had been levied, or that other restrictions had been placed on export trade.

Newspaper Criticism.

Newspapers here for several weeks have carried editorial criticisms of German business methods since the war, and several trade papers have declared the Germans eventually must feel keenly the effect of "commercial trickery" they are alleged to have practiced.

There also is widespread complaint against German life insurance companies operating in Norway and the Norwegian foreign office has been petitioned to protect policy holders who, it is charged, have been paid in marks when the policies call for payment in kroner. Hundreds of thousands of German life insurance policies are held here, especially among farmers.

In this connection it is pointed out that whereas 45,000 kroner, an average life insurance policy, before the war equalled 50,000 marks, the rate of exchange now made such a policy worth 375,000 marks.

GERMANS START SPA CAFE ROW AND ARE BEATEN BY BELGIANS.

SPA, July 16.—Some members of the German delegation have complained to Chancellor Fehrenbach of agressions of which they claim to have been the victims since their arrival at Spa.

One journalist attached to the delegation came to blows with a former Belgian officer, whose house here he occupied during the war.

According to these claims, last evening as the Germans were in a cafe the orchestra struck up the British National Anthem. The Germans began singing in their native tongue.

A Belgian civilian took offence and ordered them out. They were finally ejected after a scuffle, in which the same journalist received a blow over the nose with a cane.

The Belgian civilian emerged just as Herr von Eckhardt, editor of the Hamburg Fremdenblatt, and Herr Stokossa, correspondent of the Wolf agency was passing. Recognizing them he struck Stoklossa in the face with his cane, injuring him so severely that he was confined to bed to-day.

The German delegation will make representations to the Belgian authorities regarding the affair.

DETAIN CRETIC FOR BATHS

Crew Refuses to be Washed, and Boston Officials Are Firm

BOSTON.—The White Star Liner Cretic has been held at quarantine since Friday, because the crew refused to be washed. The detention involves 1,534 steerage passengers, and is costing the company $20,000 a day. First class passenger were allowed to land without bathing.

The trouble grew out of the fact that port authorities at Naples recently have refused to allow American health officials to examine emigrants As a result no clean bill of health could be given the Cretic here and it was ordered that the crew and steerage passengers be washed for disinfection. The passengers submitted but th ecrew refused, and health officials insist the ship shall not budge until all those aboard have been washed.

ALCOHOL FOR MOTORS.

French Government Renews Efforts to Introduce New Fuel.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, July 16.—France's expenditure abroad of 1,500,000,000 francs last year for gasoline has aroused Parliament and the newspapers to a point where the Government has renewed efforts to bring obiut the industrial use of alcohol.

Experiments here have proved to the satisfaction of investigators that automobiles and other internal combustion engines may be operated satisfactorily upon varying mixtures of alcohol and petroleum products.

BUTTE A STATION FOR ILLICIT DRGUS TRADE

TRAFFIC FROM CANADIAN POINTS SAID TO BE VERY CONSIDERABLE.

(Canadian Press)

BUTTE, Mont. July 16.—That Butte is one of the stations on a regular route maintained by vendors who bring illicit drugs from Canadian points, was the statement recently made by A. M. J. Pritchard, a special agent of the internal revenue department, who has been investigating the traffic in narcotic in Butte. Mr. Pritchard said the traffic in Butte amounts to thousands of dollars each month and that the addicts in this city run into the hundreds.

During his stay in Butte, the special agent obtained evidence which resulted in the arrest of Dr. G. D. Bryant, a physician, of Butte and Wan Sing and Quong Chung, the latter two Chinese, on federal charges. The homes of the Chinese were raided and a quantity of opium with full layouts for smoking, were seized.

"Tracing shipments of drugs which are sold in Butte, we have discovered that Narcotics are being laid down here at a cost of $11.48 an ounce," said Special Agent Pritchard "The drugs then are put out to intermediates at $80 an ounce, and these men in turn sell the stuff at prices which vary up to $450 an ounce The latter figure is reached when the vendor sells magnesia and silk, with a small quantity of drug mixed in."

HAVE NO CLUE.

New York Police No Bearer Solution of Elwell Murder.

After more than a month of industrious investigation by three groups of the law's official upholders—and by nobody knows how many that are non-official—the Elwell case remains exactly the mystery it was on the morning of June 11. Of course, the various activities displayed have not been without results. There has been made known, in the first place, a good deal about Elwell as a man and the sort of life he led. This information has not been without interest of several kinds, but it has not been particularly edifying or useful.

Another consequence of the assorted inquiries has been the disclosure of the names, and more or less about th habits and amusements, of somewhere between a dozen and twenty people who at one time or another had been friends or acquaintances of Elwell. To some of them the revelation has been extremely embarrassing and to all the rest in some degree unpleasant, but from their troubling or annoying has come no faintest hint, no warranted suspicion, as to the identity or even the sex of the person who used the big automatic with such fatal skill and then evanished as successfully as if of air.

And that, so far as known, is all that has been done. The smallness of accomplishment is not a reason, perhaps, for blaming or ridiculing anybody, but surely none of those engaged in the investigation can claim to have earned any glory. — New York Times.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

A FRIEND'S GREETING.

I'd like to be the sort of friend that you have been to me;
I'd like to be the help that you've been always glad to be;
I'd like to mean as much to you each minute of the day
As you have meant, old friend of mine, to me along the way.
I'd like to do the big things and the splendid things for you;
To brush the gray from out your skies and leave them only blue.
I'd like to say the kind things that I so oft have heard
And feel that I could rouse your soul the way that mine you've stirred.
I'd like to give you back the joy that you have given me,
Yet that were wishing you a need I hope will never be;
I'd like to make you feel as rich as I, who travel on Undaunted in the darkest hours with you to lean upon.

This is a busy world, but don't let it keep you so busy that you cannot find time to absorb some of the sweetness out of life. Satan finds mischief for idle hands but he also put discontented and selfish thoughts into overworked brains.

Do not waste your vitality and time in anxiety about your neighbours' spiritual or normal condition. Develop yourself morally and spiritually, then you can be of real help to others. You were sent here to make the best use of your spirit and mind. Unless you do this it is useless for you to attempt to benefit others. If you do this your example will be an inspiration and a guide.

Too many of us put too much dependence on the future. We live always for next month or next year. Man's most precious possession is to-day, for the future may never be his. Nor is it any better to dream always of the past. Feet stumble and hands are useless when the eye is looking backward.

The best manner of judging the worth of amusements is by their after effects on the nerves and spirit. True amusement ought to be, as the world indicates, recreation — something that refreshes, turns us out anew, rests the body and the mind by change, and gives cheerfulness and alacrity to our return to duty.

Never turn away a child when he comes to you for comfort and sympathy in a childish grievance and then expect him to love you and confide in you when he reaches the difficulties of mature life. And when they ask too many questions try not to grow impatient with them. They learn only by asking questions and an inquiring mind is a good sign of development. Remember that what seem very foolish to you may be of vital importance to your child.

There are those who waste life in running about the world offering matches to fellow pilgrims they believe to be in the dark while their own lamps are unlighted. Keep your own lamps in good working order and you will not need to urge others to avoid the darkness. They will see the radiance you cast and it will be a more convincing argument than a thousand sermons. Make yourself before you attempt to make others.

It is among men who try to get a living by shift or trick of laziness that we hear the familiar words "the world owes me a living. A loafer who never did a useful thing in his life, who dresses at the expense of his tailor and eats at the cost of his friends, always insists that the world owes him a living, and declares his intention to secure the debt. We should like to know how it is that a man who owes the world for every mouthful he eats and for every garment he puts on, can think himself so heavy a creditor in account with the world. The world owes a living to those who are not able to earn one to all who, in the course of nature or by force of circumstances, are dependent. And it is mainly to supply the wants of these that men are endowed with power to produce more than enough for themselves. To a genuine shirk the world owes nothing.

One day, when someone asked a little child what she considered mothers good for, she replied:

"Why, you see, God couldn't be everywhere and so he just had to make mothers."

To be a good mother is to fulfill the noblest ideal of God. Someone once said that he knew many mothers whose children were well washed, well scolded, well dressed and well whipped, but few whose children were inspired and it certainly takes grace to lead such a life before the children that they will be inspired. Such a mother mus be wise and patient and good natured and serene, always ready to comfort and help without losing her self control.

If you have good, healthy children, full of animal spirits, be thankful for it even if they do make more noise sometimes than it seems possible to bear, for the weak and nervous child is tenfold more of a problem. In training a nervous child a great mistake is often made in thinking that strength can come through opposition. Such a child should be guided, not driven.

TRIPPING LEADS TO ARREST OF THUGS WHO HELD UP AUTO

WINDSOR, July 14.—Tripping over the foot of a dozing passenger on a train coming into Windsor from London resulted in the arrest of the two careless pedestrians, who were identified by the sleeping man as hold-up men who had robbed him and two friends on Wednesday of last week, many miles from where they were captured, the highwaymen having got in their work at New Hudson, near Brighton, Mich.

Help Up Party.

Two automobile thugs stopped William Andre, 1300 Seminole Avenue, Detroit, general manager of the Detroit Commission Company, and two companions while they were motoring. Pistols poked in his face failed to produce any results with Andre, who knocked the revolver from his opponent's hand and fought until both bandits had knocked him unconscious with fist and gun butt. His head has been in bandages since. Then they removed $150 from him and $11 and a gold watch from one of his friends.

Arrested in Windsor.

Two days later Andre went to Toronto, and was returning home from a business trip when he was awakened by the stumbling thugs, and when they got off at Windsor, he followed them into a restaurant, where he had them arrested. The pair, turned over to the Detroit police, gave their names as James P. Doran, 34 Carrie Street, and Leonard Hennigan, 1404 Canton Avenue. The men are held on charges of robbery while armed.

CANNING OR DRYING

THE CHEAPER PROCESS THESE HIGH COST OF LIVING DAYS.

Fruit time means preserving time in these modern days of conservation. Men and women in the "fifties" think at once of paring bees and dried apples and pumpkins. Younger matrons are apt to be experts at "canning" or making jams and jellies. Dried fruits have never been as popular in the city as in the country, except for such delicacies as prunes, apricots and raisins. Berries, citron, plums, pears and peaches are regarded as preserves, "par excellence." It's the sealer for them.

But the H. C. L. has got everybody up in the air this summer and there is not a thrifty or provident housewife who is not quizzing her neighbor or reading up the magazines, and cookbooks on cheap methods of "putting down" fruit for next winter. Preserving time never saw sugar as high as it is now in the memory of the middle aged provider; and fruits of conserving varieties are likewise in the top branches, figuratively speaking. So the question is, "Shall we preserve by canning or by 'dehydration'?"

Experts and experience seem to agree that drying is a cheaper process than canning but that in this process the natural flavors, odors and colors are seriously affected if not altogether lost. Dehydration is recommended for potatoes, onion, pumpkins, beets, and carrots. Not only is the product of fair eating quality but transportation charges are greatly reduced. One authority states that a ton of peas when canned will weigh 4,000 pounds. When rehydrated the same quantity will weigh only 250 pounds. A ton of tomatoes, if dried, will weigh only 125 pounds, it is said. Likewise one car will transport as many dry potatoes as could be carried by ten cars loaded as they come from the field. If there is 1,700 pounds of water in the average ton of fruit it would appear that drying such fruit would effect a big saving right at the start.

But the fine, tender fruits, like raspberries, strawberries, blueberrfes, peaches, pears, etc., do not retain their delicious natural flavor when dried by any known process. Canning is undoubtedly the most successful method of preserving these. Too much sugar, in the opinion of some, has a tendency to destroy the natural flavor and cause the fruit to deteriorate but a moderate amount of sweetening will help preserve the fruit and in no wise detract from its palatability. Each process has its sphere and its advantages, as will be seen from the foregoing. Hence the desirability of householders becoming familiar with the various methods of conserving both fruit and vegetables in the interest of both plenty and economy.

SPECTACULAR BEAR CAPTURE.

Two Men Without Guns Overcome Bruin in Miraculous Manner.

(Canadian Press)

ANYOX, B. C., July 16.—Putting wild west movie stars to shame, Alfonso Kobloff, chef de cruisine at Granby's mess house, is the local hero of a spectacular bear capture. That he is alive to tell the tale is a miracle.

Kobloff and a Chinese farmer were skirting the edges of Granby Bay, so the story goes, in a skiff looking for a rowboat which had gone adrift, when a big black bear emerged from a thicket and made his way toward the pair. The farmer retired a few paces, but Kobloff, a cowboy of renown in his way, picked up a folded rope from the boat, dodged the bear in its rush and neatly slipped a noose over its head.

Standing on hindlegs, bruin started again toward his captor, who then deftly threw a couple of half-hitches over the animal's extended forepaws.

Neither man had a gun. Kobloff delivered a hard blow on the bear's skull with a hammer, however, apparently killing him.

Pushing off in their boat the men essayed to take the bear home. When a few rods from shore the bear revived and pulled a movie stunt of his own by attemptin gto crawl into the boat with two very unwelcome passengers. The Chinaman succeeded in holding him off with a boathook until Kobloff again brought the hammer into play. Bruin's hide was sent to Vancouver for mounting.

THE HOUSING SCHEME.

The decision of the City Council not to take action in regard to the Housing Commission's report for the present, practically means that so far as the city is concerned there will be no building done. The council could not have taken any other position in view of the fact that there has not been an application under the scheme for assistance in building a house. A few months ago people were clamoring for the council to inaugurate a housing policy in order that the congestion might be relieved, but when finally a commission was appointed, and ready for business there was a falling off in popular interest, and nothing has been heard of the citizens who were anxious to take advantage of the scheme to secure a home for themselves. The report has been shelved for the time being and it is not likely that there will be any attempt made to revive the project, which will be allowed to drop quietly into oblivion.

GOVERNMENT BUYING.

The announcement from Ottawa that by an order-in-council the War Purchasing Commission which had charge of the work of buying military supplies during the later years of the war, has been transformed into a Central Purchasing Commission for all Government departments, will arouse the ire of many of the rank and file in the Government membership, and Premier Meighen's mail during the next few days is very likely to contain some heated letters of protest. The Government has at several times during the past two sessions endeavoured to pass legislation making this Commission permanent, but the opposition offered by many Government followers was so strong that the measure had to be withdrawn. Now the Government declares that it has the power to continue the existence of the Purchasing Commission indefinitely without further legislation.

Many of the private members are opposed to all the Government purchasing being entrusted to a commission, for a reason that is perfectly obvious. The members feel that their last bit of patronage will be killed by the centralization of all purchasing of supplies under the control of one commission. They were successful in maintaining their stand during the session and the realization that the Government has carried out its plan by a round about method after a direct attempt had failed will cause many of them to say a few bitter things about Premier Meighen and his associates.

A SPLENDID COMMISSION.

The general verdict on the personnel of the special commission appointed by the Drury Government to investigate and report on the Hydro radial question seems to be that the Government has made a wise choice. There were fears in some quarters that men would be chosen for membership on the commission who were hostile to public ownership in general and Hydro methods in particular. The presence of such men on the commission would have negatived the chances of securing an impartial report or of having the Radial scheme judged on its merits.

Fortunately, however, these misgivings have proved unreliable, for the commission as announced contains the names of no one who has been known as an enemy of public ownership. The commission appears to be free of prejudice and certain to approach the important question to be considered with an open mind. That it is thoroughly representative, a glance over the names is sufficient to show. The chairman is Mr. Justice Sutherland, of the High Court of Ontario. The manufacturers are represented by one of their best known members, Mr. T. A. Russell of the Russell Motor Car Company of Toronto. Naturally the voice of labour and of the farmers will be heard on the commission. Mr. Fred Bancroft, a familiar figure in Labour circles, and incidentally a strong friend of public ownership, being the representative of the first class, and Mr. W. A. Amos, vice-president of the United Farmers of Ontario, of the second. The fifth member of the commission, chosen for his technical knowledge, is Mr. A. F. MacCallum, City Engineer and Commissioner of Works, Ottawa.

The decision of the Government that all sittings of the commission shall be public will be endorsed. The people of Ontario want all the facts connected with this vital question, and they are entitled to full information and to all the evidence that is heard before the commission. "Publicity for the evidence and findings of the commission is what we want," declares Hon. W. E. Raney and it is just what the province wants. There have been few public matters of greater importance than the problem of Hydro radials and every card should be on the table before a decision is reached.

ARRANGING THE MILLENIUM.

The first convention of the new political party in the United States which hopes—or at least which aims—to win the confidence of the electors next November, appears to have been a remarkable gathering. Called together to formulate a platform which would supersede that of the Republicans and Democrats in popular favor, the leaders of the "movement" appear to have spent most of their time disentangling the fingers of one group from the hair of another. Finally, when a platform was at last formed it omitted some planks dear to the hearts of some of the groups and it will be a severe test of their allegiance to the new organization when the members of these groups are asked to support a party which has failed to advocate their pet theories.

The possession of a panacea for political ills is seldom productive of comfort. The trouble is that no one can patent or copyright a cure-all, and there is nothing to prevent every delegate at a convention from having one of his own and urging it to the full extent of his lungs and his voting power. When this happens you get a Donnybrook such as they appear to have had in Chicago.

It is very doubtful that the gathering together of the radicals in the United States will cause the older parties much anxiety. Indeed, the leaders of these parties might reasonably hope that they would stick firmly together for all time to come. There is little enough chance of that, however. Your specialist on the final regulation of human destiny seldom or never agrees with another having the same claims to immortality, and when the time comes to vote there is every likelihood that the component parts of the third—or is it fourth?—party will be back in one or the other of the established folds.

Once at least the convention appears to have come down from the clouds and become of the earthly earthly. "We may not be able to grab the entire earth at this time, but we can take this step in that direction," shouted one superheated reformer, and this inadvertent slip into cold facts is reported to have been greeted with a roar of applause.

But this is surely not the aim of that unsulfied democracy, that altrustic desire to sacrifice to the common good that is supposed to actuate the real reformer. Thus do "capitalists" talk and thus do they seek to "grab the entire earth" according to the voiferous beliefs of the Chicago enthusiasts. When a Simon-pure radical, dedicated to the cause of Lafollette and lunacy, "spills the beans" in this distressing fashion there is surely something wrong.

There is something equally wrong with the theology of the "Forty-Eighters" as well. The prayer of the Reverend George C. Richmond, who opened the gathering, was what some people might consider an amazing farrago of politics and blasphemy. He told God that the new party was noe concerned with heaven or hell, but was more interested in this world—the control of storage warehouses and pipe lines in other words. These are interesting and important things, no doubt, but it is not usual for a minister of the Gospel so lightly to jettison the external verities in the chase for votes. Very apropriately this sentiment was also received with cheers and demonstrations of approval, so that the Almighty might be in no doubt about the "policy" of the new party on the hereafter.

It was exceedingly interesting and, shall we say, "red blooded." The candidates had a fine time. Good reports weer secured in all the newspapers. Nearly everything that anybody could think of was made a "plank," and, no doubt, others can be added as time goes on. It won't make any difference when voting time comes anyway.—Montreal Star.

FEAR THE BEGINNING OF WISDOM IN LIFE

In the Book of Job it is written that fear is the beginning of wisdom, and modern thought bears out the statement. Science says that the music of birds arose out of the bird's trepidation in the early morning of life. It took ages before this note of terror in the bird song melted into the ecstacy of the lark and the rapture at the nightingale.

Medicine began in the exorcism of the dreaded evil spirit in man, and altars were first built because the powers of the earth and sky were unknown and dreaded. Fear is the beginning of wisdom in science, art, music, and religion.

If fear was the centre of the old psychology confidence is the heart of the new. It is now realized that fear has been the world's torture chamber to which men were committed by erroneous beliefs. It has enthralled the mind, terrified the spirit, and left its dreadful trail in human history all too long. Fear was implanted so deep in the human heart that it survives today in benumbing worries, timidity, depression, and self-doubt.

A man may still go through life and feel a secret terror about its possibilities. Every hostage given to fortune carries with it deep concern. He loves sincerely, and at the same time knows that the object of his love may be taken away at any time. He throws his whole energy into his toil, and knows all the while that the harvest may be long delayed. What is the way out of this clinging dread? Where is emancipation to be found?

An increased faith, born of knowledge and skill, has been and is the door of freedom. The engineer is filled with apprehension, until he knows the strength of his material and the strain it will stand; the sailor is in terror of wind and wave, until he has compass and chart and knows the pathways of the deep. The physician fears the plague and the epidemic, until he knows the causes of their advent.

With added knowledge there comes deeper faith in the world and its laws. The way of emancipation lies in this chastened faith that the world is the home of the man-child. He is a part of the natural order, and there is in every person the wisdom, the skill the patience which is infinitely greater than anything else in the world. The modern conquest of fear is expressed in the poem "Waiting," by John Burroughs. He writes:

I stay my haste, I make delays,
For what avails this eager pace?
I stand amid the eternal ways
And what is mine shall know my face.

This is the emancipating confidence of stoic, Christian and modern scientist alike, in the higher ranges of their thought. When one feels that he is a part of these eternal ways, that if fate is all he is a part of fate, then he is the conqueror over things present and things past and things to come. And his only fear will be that of violating the moral order of the world. Knowledge, skill and obedience lift one above this legitimate modern dread. Fear has no place in modern life for the way of escape is known.—Minneapolis Journal.

POTATO LEAVES PROVIDE SUPPLY OF TEXTILE FIBRE

A recent discovery that may result favorably to farmers in countries where the potato can be grown successfully is that of the adaptability of potato leaves for textile purposes. So far, Germany seems to be the country showing the greatest interest in the possibilities of this new supply of material, as it is announced in the Hamburgischer Boren-Halle that should results justify expectations, Germany will be rendered independent to a large extent of foreign textiles, since 40 per cent. of the cotton imported by her before the war will be done away with.

The average yield of potato leaves per hectare (2.47 acres) is 1 1-2 to 2 cwt., about 80 per cent. of this weight being moisture in the leaves. Germany's potato crop in 1914 covered 8,800,000 hectares, and the total amount of dry matter in the leaves has been calculated as capable of producing 250,000 tons of textile fibre, or nearly half of the cotton imports of 1913.

A certain amount of cynicism is prevalent with regard to the discovery of new substitute textiles, but it must be said on behalf of potato-leaf fibre that the raw material is produced in considerable quantities and without special effort. A statement with regard to the securing of the supply that is open to question is, that the gathering of the leaves will not retard the potato harvest.

USE OF AIRPLANES GROWING DAILY

BUSINESS MEN FLY BETWEEN CITY OFFICES AND RURAL RETREATS.

NEW YORK, July 16.—About 100 business men scattered throughout the United States more or less regularly fly in airplanes between their homes in the country, at the mountains or the shore to their city offices according to the estimate of the Manufacturers' Aircraft Association. The number of itinerant aerial "taxi-drivers" who carry passengers on short but remunerative flights is now placed at 300.

Increasing Demand.

"There is a steadily increasing demand for aircraft of the commercial type," sasy a report made to the association, "but contrary to some published reports, the demand does not equal the supply. The factories now in operation in the United States could construct ten times the number of aircraft which optimists estimate would be required this year.'

Interesting Uses.

A trip throughout the country taken by representatives of the Association, revealed some interesting uses to which aircraft are being put. "In Seattle during the touris: season," the investigators reported, "a passenger airplane makes daily runs over and around Mount Rainer, flying at 20,000 feet, some 5,000 feet above the mountain.

Royal Passengers.

"At the Santa Barbara seaside resort a flying boat is in daily operation over the channel, two of its most interesting passengers during the early part of the year having been the King and the Queen of Belgium. Regular flights are being conducted over Southern California with a baby blimp.

"There is considerable agitation for an extension of the aerial forest patrol of California, which has been instrumental in protecting life and property from fire loss. The California Rice Growers' Association, which last year established a service patterned after the forest patrol over 16,000 acres of rice lands, has enlarged this service to guard double that acreage.

"Two flying boats are being used for transporting supplies from Seattle to a mining company in British Columbia."

LIGHTED FIRST MATCHES WITH HELP OF FLINT

Previous to 1829, matches in use consisted of a slender stick with a pointed end, which had been dipped in sulphur, and they were lighted by touching them to a spark struck into tinder by flint and steel. In that year was invented what was known as the "Instantaneous Light Box," which consisted of a small tin box containing a bottle in which was placed some sulphuric acid, with sufficient fibrous asbestos to soak it up and prevent its spilling out of the bottle, and a supply of properly prepared matches.

The matches consisted of small splints of wood about two inches long, one end of which was coated with a chemical mixture prepared by mixing chlorate of potash, powdered loaf-sugar and powdered gum arabic, the whole colored with a little vermillion and made into a thin paste with water. The splints were readily inflamed by dipping the prepared ends into the sulphuric acid.

These matches were succeeded by the lucifer, or loco-foco match, which was ignited by friction. That in turn, was followed by the Congreve, which was similar to the sulphur matches now in use, and this was followed by the present match.

"Marguerite, can you cook?"

"No, Percival; can you afford to keep a limousine?"

"No, dear."

So they did not marry and they lived happily ever afterward.

THAT SON-IN-LAW OF PA'S — And Now Pa's Feeling Hot — By Wellington

VIRTUOUS WIVES

By OWEN JOHNSON

She would have liked to discuss her with Monte Bracken. Up to now, it had amused him to acquiesce in the attitude of indifference she had assumed towards him.

She resented this, as she had resented everything he had done or left undone. Nevertheless, she was always conscious of his presence, whether she followed him in the tangle of the dancers or caught the fragments of his conversation with Irma, fragments which came to her through the jumble of the strident evening. She watched the two covertly, wondering how deep his interest went, resenting the intimacy of their conversation.

"He thinks I'm too much of a child to put himself out," she thought irritably. When he should ask her to dance, as finally he must, she would refuse curtly, with some sharp answer which would bring him to a realization of her displeasure.

He rose, at last, and approached where she sat on the fringe of the rushing crowd. A little gleam came into her eyes.

"Mrs. Forrester?" he said, bowing. She turned, as though in surprise.

"May I give you the opportunity of refusing to dance this with me," he said, looking good-humoredly into her eyes.

"Why?" she said, taken back.

"Because you will refuse."

She got up suddenly.

"Let's dance!"

He obeyed.

"If only he didn't dance so divinely," she thought, as the next moment they glided surely and dexterously through the dancers, avoiding the lumbering heavy ships which bore down on them. All at once, a memory of what he had told her came into her mind.

"I thought you were going abroad?"

"I am—day after to-morrow."

All her antagonism left her. She did not know why, but the knowledge that he was leaving, that he would go out of her life, changed everything. He was going—that was the essential thing.

"I've been trying to snub you, but you wouldn't let me," she said gently.

"Because I guessed too much?"

"I don't admit you guessed right," she said, laughing in some confusion. "However, I've been horrid. Forgive me?"

"I hadn't noticed it," he said pleasantly.

"He doesn't the least care what I do," she thought angrily. "He thinks I am throwing myself at him like a hundred other women. I am a little idiot."

In a moment, she stopped him.

"Floor's really too crowded—and beside, you don't enjoy dancing like this."

"It is crowded."

When she came to her seat at the table, she looked at him with a smile, which she was far from feeling.

"Don't be polite. Go back to Mrs. Dellabarre."

Laracy passed; she summoned him and returned into the crush again. But this pointed revenge brought her no satisfaction. Why had she accepted the dance with him? Why had she sought to excuse herself, and, above all, what had possessed her to show her ill-humor? He was sitting beside Irma—she could see him from time to time—and he did not even take the pains to notice what she did.

She began to flirt openly with the other men, tolerating even Barrisdale, trespassing recklessly, feeling that in the smile she gave another she was punishing him.

In truth, her success was easy, for she was the only one to whom pleasure was young. To her, it was not a mental intoxicant but a natural impulse. This rushing progress from restaurant to restaurant, this delight of music and rhythmic motion, the hundred little episodes which sent them into peals of laughter, were all of the sparkling surface. She saw nothing below the sheen of pleasure, neither the flight from boredom nor the lurking shadows of covetousness and frenzy. To her, this world was really young and gay and happy, and, eager as a child, she succeeded in communicating something of this illusion to the rest. When five o'clock arrived, and the moment for the flight before the dawn, she gave a cry of disappointment.

"What—already?"

The chagrin of her exclamation was so unconscious that even Mrs. Challoner laughed. Barrisdale, to whom this riotous sense of youth was peculiarly appealing, found a moment, as they were entering the automobile, to whisper in her ear:

"Joke's on me—this time. Never mind; I don't forget, and I can wait."

"What does that mean?" she said, laughing. He was too clumsy to inspire fear, a true crocodile, as Irma expressed it.

"Next year, we'll meet again," he said pointblank, "and then you may not be so indifferent."

She frowned, turned her shoulder, and sprang into the car.

"What a stupid, heavy person!" she thought. "I suppose he's had too much."

Would Bracken come in the car with them, she wondered, looking back. There was a moment's whispered consultation between Mrs. Challoner and Mrs. Dellabarre, who immediately announced:

"Monte and I'll try the runabout. Meet you at Garden city."

The racing car, with Irma swallowed up in furs, shot out, leading the way. It was still murky; the streets were abandoned, the lamps sickly in the dawn which came oozing heavily over the housetops. As they left the city and rose lightly over the spanned river, the early truck wagons loomed at their sides, redolent of the country. A child lay asleep on a heap of vegetables. Horses plodded ahead in somnambulistic fantasy with drowsy drivers. Gray vapors curled along the water front in the drifting confusion of sky and earth. In the car they began to sing to keep up their spirits against the cold bite of strange hours.

"By George, Amy, you've got more life than the whole crowd!" said Tody, under his breath. "They aren't within a mile of you."

"What—non?"

"Not one. Well, you've got me. When you want me just whistle," he added, with a laugh. "I'm bowled over."

"You're a nice boy, Tody!" she said, lightly patting his arm, without thinking of what she heard.

The next moment there came a shriek from behind. The motor ground to a stop. Kitty Lightbody solemnly descended.

"Kitty, what in heaven's name is the matter with you?" said Mrs. Challoner, who was sleepy and cross.

"If he wants to devote himself to you," said Kitty, with a toss of her head, "let him!"

"What? Who? Is it Joe? Good heavens, she's jealous."

"Kitty, come back; we all love you," said Laracy.

Mrs. Lightbody, camped in the middle of the Jericho Turnpike at five in the morning, sulkily refused to budge.

"Well, see here," said Laracy, rising as the diplomat; "fix it this way. Kitty shall sit in the middle. You don't mind, do you Gladys?"

"Mind? I should say not! What do you suppose I care about old Joe Barrisdale!" said Mrs. Challoner sharply. This sally raised a laugh not at all to the enjoyment of the captain. "Kitty, stop being a fool and get in this minute. Joe Barrisdale, what are you sitting there for? Jump out and bring her back."

Mrs. Lightbody, being properly coaxed, cajoled, and threatened, consented to return, and, having returned, presently began to nod, to the delight of Mrs. Challoner and the captain, who made pantomimic love before her closed eyes.

On the pike, just beyond Garden City, they found the runabout waiting.

"Here, Gladys," said Irma, calmly bundling out, "you take my place. Monte's cold and sleepy and perfectly unbearable. We've been quarreling all the way."

Amy glanced at Monte Bracken, who was handing her into the car. If they had been quarreling, his face did not show it.

"Well, it's good-by," he said, taking off his hat and offering his hand. "You're really sailing Saturday — lucky man!" said Kitty drowsily.

"Really off."

He shook hands with Amy, without either indifference or interest, and returned to the runabout. For a while, the two machines ran on together. Then, at a fork in the road, the runabout shot away and passed from sight.

"So much for that," said Amy to herself, "and perhaps just as well."

A feeling of comfortable virtue succeeded. She remembered Andrew. What a lot she would have to tell him!

At six, just as the sun bobbed up over the horizon, they ran up to the house. A window shade went up, and the bushy little head of Mr. Dellabarre appeared.

"There's Rudy!" said Irma, waving gaily. Her glance met his and turned away. How long had he been up and what was in his mind?

They went stamping and laughing into the dining room and sent out a foraging party for breakfast.

"What let's do?" said Laracy. "Time for a bunny-hug before the coffee. Who's game?"

"Come on," said Amy, springing up; "I'm just waking up!"

"Mercy sakes!" said Kitty Lightbody, heavy-eyed.

She rose with a sigh and held out her hand to the captain, who was yawning surreptitiously, but when breakfast over, her young rival declared it was no use thinking of sleep at such an hour, she threw up her hands in despair and retreated to her bedroom.

"Good night, children—not too much noise. I have my complexion to think of," said Mrs. Dellabarre, with a laugh, and, after a sleepy struggle, Barrisdale shook his head and likewise surrendered, while Youth triumphant, in the beaming figure of Jap Laracy, was asking:

"What now? Amy's game! Bridge, a spin in the machine, or a dash on the ponies?"

A Public Utility is A Public Necessity

If you believe in the future of Canada you cannot fail to have confidence in the bonds of her public utility corporations, for whose services and products there is a steady and growing demand.

The fact that many of these securities now yield returns that are possible only because of unusual conditions should prompt decisive action.

Among our offerings we recommend the 6% first mortgage bonds of a Public Utility corporation, whose standing and character meet all requirements of the most conservative investor.

MEMORIAL.

The unveiling of a monument to the late Joseph Scriven at or near Rice Lake, in the presence of about six thousand people not long ago, brought to our minds the words of a hymn that have been a comfort and consolation to thousands, yes, millions of our race. I would like to see the verses in our excellent paper, as follows:

What a friend we have in Jesus,
All our sins and griefs to bear,
What a privilege to carry
Everything to God in prayer.

Oh, what peace we often forfeit,
Oh, what needless pain we bear,
All because we do not carry
Everything to God in prayer.

Have we trials and temptations?
Is there trouble anywhere?
We should never be discouraged—
Take it to the Lord in prayer.

Can we find a friend so faithful,
Who will all our sorrows share?
Jesus knows our every weakness,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.

Are we weak and heavy laden?
Cumbered with a load of care?
Precious Saviour still our refuge—
Take it to the Lord in prayer.

ENDED OWN LIFE.

ORILLIA, July 15.— The inquest held to-day on the body of the man found dead yesterday afternoon on a side road in Orillia township, was adjourned until next Tuesday, in order that it might be ascertained how and where he obtained guns and ammunition. The deceased was James McCann, twenty-nine years of age, youngest son of Thomas McCann, a respected farmer four miles north of Brechin, Mara township, and about ten miles from Orillia. He left home a week ago, and his absence caused his parents much anxiety.

He was not mentally deficient, but since an illness a couple of years ago has been very morose, and acted strangely at times. He was of good habits and industrious, and with an elder brother worked the farm homestead. Two witnesses testified to having heard a gun shot about 10 o'clock Monday morning. The body was discovered early in the afternoon.

BANDSMEN IN DISPUTE RE-NON-UNION MEN

LONDON, July 14.—A dispute between union and non-union bandsmen of the city is creating quite a stir amongst the soldiers. At a meeting of the bandsmen of the city held Monday it is claimed that it appeared that the G.W.V.A. band would have to stand by the non-union ones.

Some of the men claim that the officers of the union are the ones who are causing the trouble, while others canot trace the source. The main trouble is that men living out of town are not allowed to play with the soldier organization which are giving concerts in Victoria and Queen's parks.

No information regarding the meeting was allowed to be made public, although it is intimated that a line of action has been decided upon that will be productive of a satisfactory adjustment among the men.

CHINESE PREMIER CANNOT RESIGN

(Canadian Press.)

PEKIN, July 16.—A striking example of the office seeking the man, or rather pursuing him, is afforded by the present cabinet situation. Premier Chin Yun-Peng, who became the leader of the "Chihli" political faction after the death of the former president, Feng Kuo-Chang, wants to resign his post, but the President won't let him.

The ostensible reason of his desire to quit is the difficulty the Government finds in financing itself. The real reason is said to be found in a contest which is in progress between the "Chihli" and "Anfu" factions, the latter being the military group.

For the third time the Premier has tendered his resignation, and three times the President has refused to accept it, offering in lieu a leave of absence, each resignation bringing forth a new extension of the leave. In the meantime Admiral Sah Cheng-Peng, Minister of the Navy, is reluctantly filling the post of Premier.

Much political manouvring is going on under the surface, and at the moment it is regarded as probable that Chin-Yun-Peng will eventually resume his post possibly with some changes in the ministries upon which he is said to be insisting.

CHECK THEIR FOOTWEAR.

Peculiar Custom of Japanese Entering Public Buildings.

One of the most unique occupations in Japan is that of taking care of the footwear. Japanese footwear, to begin with, is very different from that used in the West.

Such things as geta, setta, and zori are unknown in other lands, and when entering the house these must be taken off. If it be a theatre or assembly room where a large crowd gathers hundreds and even thousands of geta must be left outside, and someone must take care of them.

The custodians of footwear at public buildings and other places of resort have to receive the goods left in their charge and give a check for them, giving the guest a pair of slippers to wear indoors; and then when the guest returns to take back the slippers and give him his own geta in return, when he must return the check.

The latter is usually a bit of wood with a number corresponding to that on the tag attached to the footwear. These custodians of footwear are known as gesokuban, one of the oldest of occupations and found only in Japan.

At story-telling halls, moving picture halls and so on, these custodians are to be found. There is an office in most cities in Japan where getaban or gesokuban for an evening can be had, if any one is having a reception and desires thus to accommodate his guests. In large office buildings nowadays shoes are worn, but in all the houses with matting floors shoes are not allowed. In libraries, for example, this is usually the case, and men to take care of the patrons must be always on hand.

At the Uyeno library these men have to take care of the footwear of some 3,000 people a day. At big department stores like Mitsukoshi such men are always found ready to check one's footwear; and such men require peculiar skill and tact.

NO MORE FRANKING DURING THE RECESS.

Provincial Legislators Are Debarred Privilege They Have Had.

OTTAWA, July 15.—In future the members of the respective Provincial Legislatures will be debarred from franking their correspondence while their Houses of Assembly are in recess, a privilege which they hitherto have enjoyed. Orders to this effect have been received at the Ottawa postoffice, and in future franked letters will be treated as mail matter not sufficiently stamped. This order applies also to matter printed by the order of the various Provincial Houses, such as sessional papers and reports.

THE OLD GARDENER SAYS

Some amateurs have become so disgusted with the plague of cabbage worms that they have almost given up trying to grow cabbages at all. This is because they have fought pests with such innocuous remedies as road dust and soot. Sometimes these remedies work, but it is much surer to use something more deadly. There is no danger whatever in spraying with arsenate of lead when the plants are small. If you do not like to use this poison, try saltpetre—one tablespoonful to six quarts of warm water. This new remedy not only kills the worms but actually gives new vigor to the plants, sometimes changing the color and general appearance to a marked degree.

GREATER BOSTON CLAIMS 1,500,000

(Canadian Press.)

BOSTON, July 16.—A compilation of 1920 census returns covering what is generally known as Greater Boston, shows that the population of Boston, and its suburbs has now reached almost exactly 1,500,000. Unlike most of the larger cities of the country, Boston has annexed very little of the territory immediately adjoining and has a total area of only 47.8 square miles, as compared with 287 square miles in Greater New York.

Metropolitan District.

The Boston metropolitan district, covering an area within a 15-mile radius from the state house, includes 26 cities and towns in addition to Boston proper. The 1920 population of all of these except Watertown has been announced and the total is 732,541 for the suburbs. Watertown's population as recorded by the state census of 1915 was 16,515, a gain of 3,640 over 1910. If it made a similar gain in the last five years, it would have 20,155 inhabitants. This, added to the other suburbs and to the 747,923 population of Boston, would make a total of 1,500,619.

Percentage of Growth.

The percentage of growth of most of the suburbs has been much greater in the last decade than that of Boston itself, due chiefly to the fact that a far larger number of people whose daily business is in this city have found it more agreeable to establish their homes outside the city limits. The great majority of the suburban population is made up of people whose work or business is in Boston. The city of Lynn, with a population of 99,148, is within the 15-mile limit, but is largely self-supporting through its shoe manufacturing and other industries and is not included in the compilaton given above.

WYNKEN, BLYNKEN AND NOD.

Wynken, Blynken and Nod one night
Sailed off in a wooden shoe—
Sailed on a river of crystal light,
Into a sea of dew.
"Where are you going, and what do you wish?"
The old moon asked the three.
"We have come to fish for the herring fish
That lived in that beautiful sea—
Nets of silver and gold have we!"
Said Wynken,
Blynken
And Nod.

The old moon laughed and sang a song,
As they rocked in the wooden shoe,
And the wind that sped them all night long
Ruffled the waves of dew.
The little stars were the herring fish
That live d in that beautiful hea—
"Now cast your nets wherever you wish—Never afeared are we";
So cried the stars to the fishermen three:
Wynken,
Blynken
And Nod.

All night long their nets they threw
To the stars in the twinkling foam—
Then down from the skies came the wooden shoe,
Bringing the fishermen home;
'Twas all so pretty a sail it seemed
As if it could not be.
And some folks thought 'twas a dream they dreamed
Of sailing that beautiful sea—
But I shall name you the fishermen three:
Wynken,
Blynken
And Nod.

Wynken and Blynken are two little eyes
And Nod is a little head.
And the wooden shoe that sailed the skies
Is a wee one's trundle-bed.
So shut your eyes while mother sings
Of wonderful sights that be,
And you shall see the beautiful things
As you rock in the misty sea.
Where old shoe rocked the fishermen three:
Wynken,
Blynken
And Nod.

YOUTH OF 19 HANGS FOR THE MURDER OF A WOMAN.

(Canadian Press.)

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., July 15.—John Yuzak, aged nineteen, condemned to death for the murder of Mrs. Julia Lishinsky at Noodoo, Sask. on 3rd April, was yesterday morning hanged at the Provincial Jail.

Arthur Ellis was the hangman.

Before going to the scaffold Yuzak gave to Sheriff Seath a confession, in which he admitted that he alone had committed the crime. He absolved others whom he had implicated in previous statements.

Kidney Trouble

Is quite common, gradually becoming more severe and if prompt action is not taken serious results will follow. The symptoms are headache and pains in the back, sleeplessness, ashen complexion, white coated tongue and frequent urination. If a puffy swelling is noticed in the feet or ankles, the disease is well established and you must give the Kidneys all the help possible, by stirring the Liver and Bowels into action. Take Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets every night according to directions, watch the digestion carefully, drink plenty of cold water between meals, and you will see a great change in a short time. Try them, they work wonders. See testimonials in pamphlet.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets are sold at Warne's Drug Store, Peterborough. 25c., 50c., $1.00 per box. Ask for free sample and literature.

RECIPES

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE

To two lightly-beaten eggs add a quarter cup of sugar, a cup of sweet milk, a pinc hof salt, tablespoonful melted butter, and sift into this one cup flour, and heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat well, bake in long tin, when done, cut in two, put on lower half thick filling of ripe strawberries, well sweetened, cover with the other layer, and as a finish spread with whipped cream (if desired) and decorated with the most luscious of the berries left whole.

OLD FASHIONED SHORTCAKE.

Make a rich biscuit dough as follows: Sift two heaping teaspoons of baking powder into a large cup of flour, add pinch of salt, half cup butterf substitute and mack into dough as soft as can be rolled. Divide the dough, put lower layer in your tin spread with melted butter to prevent sticking, and put on upper layer. Bake a golden brown. Have ready ripe strawberries—cut to allow juice to escape — well sugared. Part layers of cake without removing from tin, put in berries, replace upper layer and return to oven for 3 or 4 minutes Cut and serve immediately.

RHUBARB AND PINEAPPLE PIE.

One and a half cups fresh rhubarb and one cup pineapple cut into small pieces; stewed until tender; with heaping cup of sugar cooked in at the last. Bake with one crust or two as preferred.

HASTY LUNCHEON DISH.

Remove all bones from a can of salmon, or any cold fish, break in small pieces; add one cup potatoes, or mashed rice, moisten with milk; pepper and salt to taste, form into flat cakes, roll in flour, dip in milk and fry a golden brown.

RHUBARB AT ITS BEST.

Cut one pound of unskinned pink rhubarb into small pieces. Place in a casserole with one and a quarter cupfuls of sugar, half a cupful of boiling water and two tablespoonful of chopped preserved ginger with the syrup. Bake slowly until very tender.

BAKED CORN.

This is not a corn pudding. It is simply a can or corn well seasoned and two tablespoonsful of butter added, placed in a baking dish and a cupful or more (depending on the consistency of the corn) of milk added and allowed to thicken down and brown in the oven for about 30 minutes.

Virginia Batter Bread.

Beat three eggs, add two cups of cornmeal, quarter of a cup of flour, a teaspoon of salt, three teaspoons of baking powder and a tablespoon of shortening. Add milk to make a thin batter and pour into a hot, well-greased pan. Bake in a quick oven.

Bermuda Omelet

Cut a medium sized onion into dice and fry in drippings until tender, but not brown. Beat four eggs, three tablespoons of hot water, a little salt and add to the onions. Turn into a hot, well-greased frying pan or omelet pan, and, when brown, fold and serve.

Clams in Bechamel Sauce.

Cook one tablespoon of chopped onions in two tablespoons of oleo or butter until soft, but not brown. Blend in two tablespoons of flour, then gradually a cup of milk and half a cup of clam broth. Stir until smooth and thick. Then add two dozen chopped clams, cover and cook five minutes. Now stir in a well-beaten egg and cook a minute longer.

Berry Custard.

Rub through a sieve enough ripe berries to make two cups full. To this add the beaten yolks of three eggs, one cup of rich milk, a quarter of a cup of corn syrup or maple syrup and a little salt. Bake in a slow oven. When cool, cover with a meriangue, made by beating the white of the eggs to a stiff froth, adding three tablespoons of powdered sugar and half a teaspoon of vanilla.

PRODUCING EGGS FOR 26c

A Kingston citizen who has kept a close tab on his poultry yard during the past year finds that his eggs are costing him 26 1-5ths cents a dozen. An average of twelve hens during the year laid 1,222 eggs. Feed and other expenses cost $319.20. In stimating the profits he did not include $14.50 as the value of birds killed during the year and replaced by pullets, which would bring the cost per dozen still lower. Of course the feed for the hens included scraps from the table.

DANGEROUS TO RISK DEPOSIT UNDER PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION PLAN

LESSONS DRAWN FROM RECENT PROVINCIAL ELECTION IN WINNIPEG.

VOTE TRANSFERRING

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Man., July 16.—There are three lessons to be drawn from Winnipeg's recent test of proportional representation, in the opinion of A. E. Parker, editor of Canadian Finance, and himself an authority on "P.R." They are: (1) Candidates now know that it is dangerous to risk an election deposit under the P.R. system if they are not sure of reasonable support from the electors; (2) Voters know that the figure 1 is not sufficient on a ballot and realize that their choices should be equal under ordinary conditions to at least the number of the candidates to be elected; (3) Voters know that P.R. is practicable and produces equitable results.

An Absolute Triumph.

Mr. Parker in his journal analyzes carefully the features of the election, and declares that it was "an absolute triumph for the advocates of proportional representation." He proceeds to set out in detail the method of counting the ballots and draws his conclusions.

P.R. was used in Winnipeg only in the provincial election, the contests in the remainder of the province being conducted under the old system. The whole of the Winnipeg area was grouped into one constituency and ten seats in the legislature were allotted to it. Forty-one candidates were nominated, consisting of 10 Liberals, 10 Conservatives, 10 Labor nominees and 11 Independents. This superabundance of candidates was the cause of considerable trouble to the election officials and the counting staff, and turned out to be somewhat costly to those candidates who lost their deposits. The Manitoba election act provides that any defeated candidate who received first choices less in number than 25 per cent. of the quota shall lose his or her deposit of $500. Under this regulation 28 candidates lost their deposits, and the Government profited to the extent of $5,000. The candidates affected consisted of the following: Independents, 8; Liberals, 5; Labor nominees, 5; Conservatives, 7.

Vote Transferable.

Under the P.R. system the voter has only one vote, but that vote is transferable. When marking the ballot the voter places the figure 1 opposite the name of the candidate whom he wishes to see elected. That figure 1 is called his first choice. He continues to place numbers opposite the names of candidates he favors, the figure 2 against one, the figure 3 against another, and so on. The figure 2 denotes his second choice, the figure 3 his third choice, etc.

The first task of the counting staff was to tabulate the number of first choices given to the respective candidates, and to aggregate the ballot papers in separate bundles according to the candidates for whom they were given.

When the first count was completed it was found that 27,427 good ballots had been cast. The quota was then ascertained by dividing this number by one more than the number of seats to be filled, adding one to the result. This meant that to secure election at this stage of the proceedings a candidate had to have at least 2,572 votes. Two candidates were elected on the first count and a third candidate was elected on the second count. The fourth candidate was not elected until the 11st count, the fifth was elected on the 32nd count, the sixth and seventh on the 33rd count and the remaining three on the 37th count.

Independents Eliminated.

The Independent candidates were entirely eliminated from the contest before it ended, plainly demonstrating that a candidate must be supported by a fairly strong group of votes before his election can be secured. There were 6,362 votes cast for the 11 Independent candidates on the first count, but not one of these candidates benefitted sufficiently from the subsequent counts of secure election. In the ordinary form of election those who voted for these Independents would have wasted their votes, but under P.R. the votes were simply transferred to the next choices marked thereon. As a result of the various transfers the Liberal candidates received approximately 2,500 votes and the Conservatives gained approximately 1,400 votes and Labor received over 500 votes more than was shown in the original count. It will be noted that the Independent's vote went principally to the Liberal and Conservative candidates when it was distributed.

Fairness of System.

The final result demonstrates the fairness of proportional representation as a method of elections, says Mr. Parker. The Labor vote represented a little more than 40 per cent. of the total vote and Labor elected 40 per cent. of the members. The Liberal vote represented nearly 40 per cent. of the total vote and the Liberals elected 40 per cent. of the members. The Conservatives were supported by voters representing a little less than 20 per cent. of the total vote and they elected 20 per cent. of the members.

Fredom of Choice.

Advocates of proportional representation declare that P.R. gives absolute freedom of choice to the voter; that it encourages independence on the part of the voter. An outstanding instance of this was given in the transfer of the surplus of Dixon, the Labor candidate. Dixon received 11,586 votes, being 7,274 more than he needed. As a result, Dixon's ballots were re-examined to ascertain the 2nd choices' marked thereon. The result was as follows: 2nd choices for Labor candidates, 10,075; 2nd choices for Liberal candidates, 368; 2nd choices for Conservative candidates, 310; 2nd choices for Independent candidates, 766; non-transferable, 67. This clearly shows that over 1,400 voters who originally voted Labor marked their second choice for non-Labor candidates.

Another instance is found in the result of the elimination of Jacob, a Liberal candidate. Jacob's votes totalled 2,347, and they were distributed as follows: 91 votes went to Labor candidates; 147 votes to Conservative candidates; 1,770 votes to Liberal candidates; 188 votes to Independent candidates and 151 votes were non-transferable.

The foregoing shows that over 18 per cent. of Jacob's votes went to candidates other than Liberal candidates.

Transferring Votes.

The transfer of votes credited to Christie, Conservative candidate, at the time of his elimination, resulted as follows: 33 votes went to Labor candidates; 145 to Liberal candidates; 1,354 to Conservative candidates; 157 to Independent, and 37 were non-transferable.

From the foregoing it will be seen that nearly 20 per cent. of the Conservative votes left the party when the transfer was made.

In the last count 1,867 ballots were non-transferable, or in other words, exhausted. This means that 1,867 voters lost their votes because they did not mark sufficient choices on their ballots. Many of them were content with just marking the figure 1. With 41 candidates it was necessary to mark at least 10 choices on the ballot, and those who did not do that ran the risk of having their ballots used up—each of the candidates marked thereon having possibly been either elected or defeated.

WONDERS AT THE SHEESLEY SHOWS

GOOD ATTRACTIONS IN THE SIDE SHOWS.

With Madam Ethyl, the master mind, and Professor Leaheai, masterful magician, as two of the ten attraction of the side show at the Greater Sheesley carnival, which is showing under the auspices of the Peterborough Exhibition Board at Exhibition Grounds this week, there is an entertainment that is equal to big time vaudeville.

Madam Ethyl illustrates the powers of mental telepathy by describing minutely the numbers on rare coins, the contents of letters, the construction of watches and jewelry, while she is blindfolded. No one speaks of the various objects for description but she, which condition precludes any spoken message being transmitted to her. The objects for description are the possessions of the audience, which are held up before the director as he passes through them.

Her supermentality is evidenced in many other ways also, illustrating to one the vast possibilities yet awaiting the development of the human brain.

Professor Leaheai performs his feats of magic within arm's reach of the audience, making the disappearance of cards, or birds or vessels of water seem the more bewildering inasmuch as it is done so close to the eye. And that his skill is fascinating to the youngsters as well as being entertaining to the older folk is shown by the spontaneous yelling of their lusty young voices.

Millard Turner, the handless wonder, is another of the ten attractions. He does artisan's work as adaptly as any journeyman though both his arms were severed at the elbow. His misfortune occurred some years ago in a saw mill accident. His right leg also was severed above the knee.

SAYS CARELESSNESS CURSE OF AGRICULTURE

Dr. Grisdale Urges Value of Farm Clubs at Winnipeg Conference.

WINNIPEG, July 15.—Carelessness in cultural methods was asserted as undoubtedly the greatest existing curse to agriculture in Canada, in an address by Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, at the opening session of the Commission of Conservation conference on soil fertility and fibre here.

Greater use of "illustration farms" in connection with neighborhood improvement associations and better farming clubs was the plan offered by Dr. James Robertson, of Ottawa, Chairman of the Committee on Lands and Chairman of the conference.

Need of unity in the development of "Canadianism" was expressed by Sir J. A. M. Aikins, Lieutenant-Governor, Manitoba, when he addressed the members of the commission. "Waste of resources has been one of the chief faults of our people," he said. "We must guard aginst waste of soil resources. This conference should do much to devise methods to that end."

The sessions of the conference will terminate Friday afternoon.

"Usually the fellow who wants the earth," remarked the "Man on the Car," "wants somebody to plough it for him."

STORY OF MAN WHO PREFERS CANADIAN ARCTIC CIRCLE TO THE BRIGHT SUNSHINE

JIM FIJI OF SAMOAN ISLANDS LOVES LAND OF SNOW AND ICE.

LIVES BY TRAPPING

Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, July 16. — The story of "Jim Fiji," the man who prefers the Arctic Circle in Canada to the bright sunshine and soft alluring climate of the Samoan Islands, is told by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the famous Arctic explorer, in an article published in the July number of the Maple Leaf, the official organ of the New York Canadian Club, which is out today.

Great Food Country.

Stefansson in this article predicts that in the Canadian territory north of the Arctic circle, most of the meat of Canada's export trade will be produced half a century hence as well as much of the mineral supply for Canada's growing industry. This great expanse of country in the far north of the Dominion, is going to be settled, Stefansson declares, just as Manitoba has been, without much reference to the climate, but solely on the basis of what it has to offer in the way of minerals, food production, water power and the like.

Stefansson lauds the climate of northern Canada, which he says is disagreeable only to those who do not know it. It is in this connection that he tells the story of "Jim Fiji."

Part of Exhibit.

"When the world's fair was held in Chicago in 1893," he writes, "one of the exhibits was a young man who had grown to maturity in the Samoan Islands and who had been brought to Chicago as a part of the exhibit of 'native races.' When the fair was over he drifted to San Francisco with an idea of getting back to the Samoas. He could not speak English very well so he went down to the water front to see if he could by an examination of the ships find one that would take him home. He saw a small sailing ship that had several "Kanakas" on board, natives of the Hawaiian Islands. He could not speak to these Hawaiians, but he knew what people and what country they belonged to, so he went to the officers of the ship and asked for a job, for he thought they were sailing for the Hawaiian Islands. Two or three months later he found himself in the Arctic; and instead of getting to the tropic Hawaiis he had to spend the winter with a whaler at Herschel Island, 200 miles north of the Arctic Circle, on the north coast of Canada. He found the winter hard for he did not know how to take care of himself in the cold weather. He froze his face and his fingers, and he shivered and was miserable, and he has told me that he would have given anything to be out of it and home. But it was a three year voyage and during the second and third year he learned how to clothe himself properly and to protect himself from the frost and he liked the third year so well that when the vessel got down to San Francisco he immediately shipped on another whaler to go north again. At the end of this three year voyage he liked the north so well that when the ship turned toward home he asked permission of the captain to remain behind.

Industrial and Frugal.

"He has lived in that country ever since, traping and occasionally working for whalers or traders, and on the Canadian Arctic Expedition he worked three years for us. He has been both industrious and frugal, has caught a great many foxes, has sold his furs at favorable prices, and now he has a good deal of money in the bank.

"In 1917 his hair had turned nearly white and he was getting to be an old man. Although I am a great believer in the north it struck me one day that it might not be a bad speculation for 'Jim Fiji," as everybody calls him, to go back with some of his riches to the Samoan Islands and settle down. I suggested to him one day that a good thing to do would be to go south with us to San Francisco, put most of his money into Liberty bonds, take a few thousands to the Samoas and buy an estate on which he could live. The idea struck him favorably and thereafter we had a number of talks about what he was going to do. He told me how you could get a man down there to work for you all day for five cents and he had great visions of what he was going to do as a landlord.

Things change for Worse.

"At the end of the expedition I came east to Ottawa and New York, and 'Jim Fiji' went to San Francisco. Some months later I went out to San Francisco, and the day after I got there 'Jim Fiji' called on me. I was surprised to find him still there, but he explained that when he got there he heard that one of his cousins was on the way from the Samoas and so he thought he would await his arrival before starting for home. When this cousin arrived he told me, among other things, that wages had gone up and that you no longer were able to hire a man for five cents a day. Various other things had changed for the worse, but the main thing that worried 'Jim' was that he found that he could not stand very well the heat of San Francisco; and as he imagined that the Samoas would be even hotter, he had decided that he did not care to go back after all, and his intentions now were to buy another traping outfit and go to the Arctic again.

Gone North Again.

"That is what he has done. In the spring of 1919 he was taken north by Captain C. T. Redersen of the trading ship, 'Herman,' and Captain Pedersen tells me he landed 'Jim' on Cape Bathurst, the second most northerly point in all Canada. He expects to live there the rest of his life."

GIANT CANNIBALS.

Among the remarkable adventures of Dr. A. H. Rice, who has returned after exploring the upper reaches of the Amazon and its tributaries, was a meeting with white cannibals, seven feet in height. Accompanied by a number of natives, Dr. Rice set forth in a single canoe to map the Upper Orinoco. While they were engaged in their work one of the natives saw a gigantic white savage, stark naked, making his way through the underbrush. The natives explained that he was one of the "legendary white Indians," whose ferocity had made them a terror to their dark-hued neighbours for centuries.

Several shots were fired in the direction of the savage, and instantly the jungle seemed alive with his companions. Every one was between six and seven feet in height. They were armed with spears and arrows, and blow-pipes, and Dr. Rice recognised them as the mountain cannibals, who are regarded as the most ferocious in Brazil, Venezuela, and Colombia.

They have been seen only once before by a white explorer, when Enrique Bohadilla, during explorations on behalf of the Spanish Government, found them in 1763.

HELP EMPLOYES GET COAL

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Man., July 16. — To assist in the campaign toward educating householders to lay in coal supplies early, the Citizens' League has circulated every large employer in the city asking co-operation in assisting employes to get heir supplies in early.

Employers are asked to guarantee their employes bills so that dealers can place orders immediately for summer delivery.

KEEPING ROOMS COOL IN SUMMER

Have you a cupboard somewhere in the middle of the house, away from outer walls and away from windows? If you have, its coolness on the hottest day will serve as an illustration of how to keep the house cool by shutting out the heat.

There must necessarily be rooms just within the outer walls, and the walls warm up with the glowing sun that heats upon them all day, raising the rooms' temperature to a certain extent; but keeping the windows shut or open makes all the difference imaginable. Not only should the shutters, outer or inner, be tightly closed before the sun strikes on that side of the house, but the windows themselves must be shut to keep out the heated air, and if there is a roller blind on the window, it is just as well to draw that down too.

This does not mean lack of ventilation; but all that must be done before and after the heated hours as far as the rooms are concerned on which the sun strikes. Other rooms, with shutters and shades closed, may have the window open an inch or so for circulation of air. This keeping through the day gives a special pleasing dark and comparatively cool sure to opening up the house at evening to the air and light.

If excessive heat prevails wet a large sheet and hang it in a doorway where air can blow through it. This simple method is especially good to use in cooling off a sick room, and until tried no one can imagine what a relief it brings. Where possible an electric fan can be used. Set it high and near a window with the top sash lowered an inch or so. But long before such comforts as electric fans existed rooms were cooled by setting wide, shallow tubs in each, half filled with water; this really helps to absorb the heat. Memory holds vivid pictures of bare floors, cooled twice a day by light touches of wet cloths, but that was when bare floors were "scrubbed," not just "mopped" clean. Nothing gis so cooling as cool water. Another picture is of an immense earthenware jar of Mexican pottery that had fresh water put in every morning; the sides of this jar were always "sweating," so keeping the water cool and fresh all day. Its dipper of polished cocoanut, with silver trimmings, hung always ready for the thirsty family. A filtered cooler takes the place of such a jar very well, provided it is kept scrupulously clean. Keep the rooms dark, the children almost if not quite naked, eat little meat, drink lots of cool water, perspire freely and summer loses half its terrors.

MOTOR CAR ENTERS THE CATTLE RUSTLING GAME

(Canadian Press)

REGINA, Sask., July 16.—The motor car, it seems, has achieved another success by winning its advent into the cattle rustling business. The old and well-known practice of cattle rustlers when they used to drive their stolen herds before them, is now a thing of the past. A few days ago three calves were rustled from herds near Bengough and spirited across the international border in two motor cars. Three of the rustlers were arrested on this side of the line and two others in Montana are now awaiting trial.

OPEN LAKEFIELD CEMENT WORKS

COMPANY PLAN TO SPEND HALF MILLION IRON MEN.

LAKEFIELD, July 16. — At a meeting of the Board of Trade, Mr. E. W. Bailey, representing the Canada Cement Company, was present, and submitted a proposition to the Board which will be welcome news to the citizens generally.

The Cement Company propose to open up their plant in Lakefield, and spend nearly half a million dollars in additions and repairs. The company ask from the village a fixed rate of taxation for ten years, the right of way on Bishop street for their track, and permission to build an overhead bridge across Concession street. The matter will be submitted to the council on Monday evening. It will be necessary to prepare a bylaw and submit it to the ratepayers for their approval.

Closed Six Years.

If the plans of the Cement Co., are carried out it will mean a decided boon for Lakefield. The plant has been closed for six years ,and the reopening would be very welcome news to the villagers. It would tend to raise the value of property, and as a decided majority of the householders of the village are property owners, that would be popular. It will provide work in Lakefield for Lakefield men and also would bring in new families who would be of benefit to the community. There is no doubt that the bylaw according to the proposed terms would carry with a big majority.

DYSPEPTIC DIET NO LONGER NECESSARY

The old plan of prescribing strict diet for dyspeptics and stomach sufferers is no longer popular among progressive medical men party because of its weakening effect but mostly because of the discovery that nearly all stomach trouble is due to excessive acidity. The organs of digestion are themselves all right but acids in the stomach irritate and inflame the delicate stomach lining and cause sourness and premature food fermentation. The logical treatment, therefore, is to get rid of the acid, when natural painless digestion will follow.

For this purpose a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation of the food, dispels the gas, and thus permits the stomach to proceed with its work without hindrance. Owing to its prompt and certain action Bisurated Magnesia, which is obtainable from any druggist, in either tablet or powder form, should always be used in preference to the other forms of magnesia, such as the milks, citrates, carbonates or oxides. Stomach sufferers are advised to try this plan for three weeks and note results.

PAY DAY PROSPECTS

THE REGENT TAILORS PROVIDE PRICES FOR A PROCESSION TO THEIR STORE.

They're going to spring something worth while to-morrow at Regent Tailors Store, Market Arcade, George street. Read this plain statement of facts in to-day's paper. It's the beginning of a mid-season clearance. They are going to live up to their customary habit, made year ago, that lines of cloths must be sold for the season for which it was bought. This means slight regard for former values; and to the young man it means attractive money-saving or clothes you will be wanting to wear for comfort for the next three or four months Get the habit of watching the windows of te Regent Tailors for eye-opening price concessions. Whatever your need be—a two or a three price siut or a light top coat, the figures you will be quoted for made-to-measure garments will clinch your attention, and prove interesting to your pay envelope.

PLAN TO DEEPEN HARBOUR AT KINGSTON, JAMAICA.

May Borrow $15,000,000 of British Capital for the Purpose.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 16.—The Jamaica Government is planning to borrow in London $15,000,000 in order to make th port of Kingston a first-class one by deepening the channel to the piers, and other improvements. It is proposed to extend the railway to the wharves, to construct additional piers, erect a big dry dock and a wireless station, and establish an oil and coaling depot for ships.

One purpose of this programme is to make Kingston a port of call for vessels passing through the Panama Canal.

Members of the Legislature assert that Kingston should be as well equipped as Cristobal, the Atlantic entrance to the Panama Canal.

WANDERER'S MOTHER HAD STRANGE DREAM

Dreamed Six Years Ago She Saw Son Being Hanged.

CHICAGO, July 16.—The mother of Carl Wanderer, who has confessed that he murdered his wife and a stranger with whom he had arranged a fake robbery, dreamed six years ago that her son was being hanged, Mrs. Bernard G. Roth, Wanderer's sister, said yesterday.

"She told her family of the dream, declaring she plainly saw Carl being hanged to a tree," said Mrs. Roth. "She seemed very much worried over the dream, and said she could never live to see her boy harmed.

"The next day we found mother dead in her room."

CHICAGO PHYSICIAN IN STRANGE PLIGHT.

Dressed a Robber's Wounds—Did Not Report and is Held as Accessory.

CHICAGO. — Dr. J. A. Stevenson and his housekeeper, Mrs. Jessie Barnes, who the police say dressed the wounds of a bank robber, and failed to report the case,were arrested yesterday, charged with being accessory after the fact to the murder of Richard Roucillard, a bank customer who was killed by one of the thieves.

Stevenson was detained on Saturday after the police had tapped his telephone and listened to a conversation between the doctor and his housekeeper. As a result of the wire tapping, Casimir Wysocki, was arrested, and said to have confessed participation in the attempt to rob Dresser Bank, on June 16th, when Roucilard was killed and a policeman wounded.

Wysocki ,the police say, claimed Dr. Stevenson dressed his wounds. He was shot twice by a policeman at the bank.

CANCER CURE ASSURED.

Doctor's Office is Over-run With Those Suffering From the Dread Disease or Friends of Those Who Have It.

A well-known Toronto physician this morning said he had observed a slight improvement in the condition of his patient, who had had a second innoculation of the serum which Dr. Thos. J. Glover, of St. Michael's Hospital staff ,expects to cure cancer.

Since the report of the clinic was first made public on Saturday, it has been impossible for Dr. Glover to even conduct his ordinary office business on account of the number seeking him by telephone, wire and letter. The doctor, who has been working at high tension for many months, has been obliged to take a rest for a few days, and has left the city. He will be on hand to conduct the next clinic later in the week.

THE LONGEST DAY.

There is a sadness in the longest day,
We feel somehow the year has seen his best;
He seems to look around, then make his way,
With shortening breath, down to his snow-wrapt rest.
But 'tis not so—his best is yet to be,
When his child, Autumn, shall with gifts abound,
And when ,at happy Yuletide, we shall see
His snow-white head with wreaths of holly crowned.
Then tell me not that life's best part is gone,
Because the high noon of the day is here;
There is a beauty in the twilight deep
One has not felt at any hour since dawn
And what is there for tired man to fear
When night come in with stars and dreams and sleep?

MRS. J. M. CRAIG, of Los Angeles, Calif., who says no one can feel more grateful for what Tanlac has done than she does. Declares she has gained twelve pounds and her health is now better than in years.

"Of all the people who have taken Tanlac, I don't believe there is anyone who feel any more grateful to it than I do," was the statement made recently by Mrs. J. M. Craig, of 674 1-2 East Fortieth street, Los Angeles.

"Like so many other families during the influenza epidemic last year we all had it, and my own illness, together with the worry over the rest of our family, brought on a case of geniune nervous prostration.

"I was so weak I couldn't even sweep the floor, and during the day I would have to lie down fou or five times. I tried to walk but found out half a block was all I could stand before I gave out. Nervous spells came on me often.

"Every medicine I tried failed to reach my case until finally my husband urged me to try Tanlac, and I am indeed thankful that he did, for it proved to be just what I needed.

"The first two bottles didn't seem to help me. I guess that was because I was so extremely bad off, but on the third bottle I could tell I was improving and that gave me more hopes than ever of getting well.

"My improvement from then on was rapid and by the time I had taken five bottles of Tanlac I was better and stronger than I had been in years I was sleeping soundly at night and had gained twelve pounds in weight.

"That was several months ago and from then until now I have been in as good health as I ever was in my life and have been doing all the housework by myself.

"It is simply remarkable how Tanlac has built me up and I have told everyone of my friends and relative what a wonderful medicine it is."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

FRANCE FINDS LARGE PHOSPHATE DEPOSITS.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, July 16.—The discovery of large deposits of phosphate in the Moroccan hinterland may soon make France the greatest phosphate producing country of the world.

The Moroccan deposits are reported by Professor Louis Gentil, of the Sorbonne, as being almost inexhaustible. One hundred miles inland from Casablanca there is a mountain plateau, 40 miles long and 25 miles wide, which is a veritable storehouse of phosphate. A railway is to be built to this mountain, and a monopoly has been given to the Moroccan Government for the sale of the phosphate.

France already has huge potash deposits in Alsace.

A PLEASANT NAP ABOVE CLOUDS

(Canadian Press)

CHICAGO, July 16.—Taking a nap above the clouds in an electrically heated airplane at an altitude of 6,800 feet while travelling between Albany and Buffalo was one of the incidents recorded in the log of a party which recently arrived here from New York on their way to Omaha to attend a wedding. They made a journey in an all-steel monoplane.

Luncheon, with a full complement of silver and tableware; after dinner cigars for the male passengers and special vanity cases for the ladies, were some of the features of the new plane.

The machine covered more than 950 miles on the trip from New York to Chicago, going up into Canada to avoid a storm over southern Lake Erie. The actual running time for the trip was 8 hours and 54 minutes.

Some of the entries in the log are:

2.45 p.m.—Left ground at Long Island flying field.

2.54 p.m.—Crossing the Sound.

3.20 p.m.—Just passed over Peekskill.

4.23 p.m.—Landed at Albany, 175 miles by road from starting point. Time, 1 hour and eight minutes.

After an overnight stop the journey was resumed.

10.15 a.m.—Left Albany.

10.38 a.m.—Have reached 6,600 feet, above the clouds. Weather cold outside, but electrically heated cabin is warm. Passengers wear straw hats and summer clothes.

11.15 a.m.—The owner has retired for a nap.

12 noon—The owner called for lunch. Says he enjoyed his sleep.

12.15 p.m.—Two hours out from Albany. We have passed Geneva at a height of 5,500 feet.

1.05 p.m.—Circling over Buffalo at 3,500 feet. Very smoky below.

1.09 p.m.—Found the field was landed.

5 p.m.—Left Buffalo for Chicago.

6.09 p.m.—Crossed into Canada to avoid storm. In the States everything appears to be laid out in squares. The fields are square and the woods are square. On the side of the line the woods wander all over the landscape like the veins in a leaf.

8.54 p.m.—City below, with a river circling through it. Must be Battle Creek.

8.56 p.m.—No, it is South Bend, Ind. The sun just fell across the guilded spire of Notre Dame. The river is the St. Joe.

9.10 p.m.—Out over the southern end of Lake Michigan.

9.12 p.m.—Passed Michigan City.

9.24 p.m.—Ten miles out in lake, opposite Gary. Altitude 6,500 feet. Can see the town plainly.

9.30 p.m.—Circling over Chicago business district. Speed 130 miles per hour.

9.35 p.m.—Have located field. Two flares set off below. Height 6,500 feet.

9.38 p.m.—Landed.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Seven Year Old Boy Saved From Drowning by Father.

A young seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cook of Toronto, who are guests of Mr. Cook's sister, Mrs. J. I. Johnston, Sussex street, Lindsay, and are spending a few holidays at the Morgan annex, Pleasant Point, had a narrow escape from drowning the other day.

The young fellow is a good swimmer, and when swimming in the big Y. M. C. A. tank at Toronto, thinks nothing of diving in eight feet of water and swimming around the tank. However, it appears that the lad dived off the end of the government wharf at Pleasant Point, and instead of swimming towards shore he thought he would stand up on the bottom, and it is assumed that when he found he could not reach bottom he lost his head, instead of striking out. He disappeared beneath the water twice, when his father jumped in with his clothes on and rescued the young lad.

STONEY LAKE

Miss Marjorie Eakins was the hostess of a delightful party at her delightful bungalow at Mount Julian.

Mrs. George Suckling, who was the guest of her sister, Mrs. K. G. Lech at "Kenmore," has returned to Peterboro.

Prof. and Mrs. Hotchkiss and daughter, of Washington, D.C., have taken "Kawanna" for the season.

The following comprise the house-party at "Rameses":

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clink, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clink, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Ingersoll, Miss Pantry, Mr. Moon and Miss Pocock all of Toronto.

Nine graduates of the Toronto Sick Children's Hospital forgot dull care and had a glorious time at Miss Morton's at Kawartha Park.

Canoe Trip.

Messrs. P. H. Brochel, R. G. Cole, A. Buchanan, E. Kember, N. Howlie, C. W. Tyers, W. B. Andrews, V. James, R. Woodley, I. W. C. Diamond of Belleville, are on a canoeing trip through the Kawartha Lakes. They left Lakefield July 5th and paddled to Fenelon Falls. They remained the night of July 14th at Mount Julian on their homeward trip expecting to reach Lakefield on the 15th. All the boys are enthusiastic agout the trip.

FRENCH FLAG REMOVED FROM BERLIN EMBASSY

BERLIN, July 14.—An unknown person removed the French flag hoisted over the French Embassy, in honor of the anniversary of the taking of the Bastille.

M. de Marcilly, French Charge d'Affaires in Berlin, formally protested to the German Government.

The French flag was raised during the morning. Several mobs which gathered were easily dispersed, but shortly after noon someone entered the Embassy, climbed to the roof, removed the flag and disappeared with it. Another flag was raised and there was no further incident.

TAXI DRIVER BILLS ASYLUM AUTHORITIES

KINGSTON, July 15.—John Gibson, a taxi driver, has billed the authorities of Rockwood Hospital for the Insane for driving an escaped inmate from Kingston to Gananoque. Gibson received a call from a garage to take a gentleman to Gananoque, and had no idea that the man he was driving was from Rockwood. At Gananoque he learned the truth and brought back his charge. The taxi man holds that the hospital authorities are responsible to him for permitting the inmate to get away and occupy seven hours of his time.

LOCAL MEN SUCCESSFUL.

The following local young men were successful in passing the recent examinations at the Department of Pharmacy of Toronto University and are now eligible for the degree of Bachelor of Pharmacy, except where the candidates name is followed by a subject in parenthesis, in which case a supplemental examination must be assed:

W. W. Armstrong, E. R. Hall (Bot.), N. M. Wilson.

ENJOYABLE OUTING.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. S. R. Armstrong's class of George street Sunday school held a very enjoyable excursion down the river to Gore's Landing. The weather was pleasant though cool, and supper was served at Gore's Landing. The crowd was not as large as was expected.

BIG EGG BREAKAGE.

Losses estimated at $25,000 a week through breakage in the handling of eggs in New York market alone resulted in conferences at New York, between officials of the State and Federal bureaus of markets, railway and express companies, and produce merchants in efforts to derive better methods of handling eggs.

Roy C. Potts, of Washington, representing the Federal Bureau of Markets, said reports of similar losses have been received from Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago. The egg breaking "epidemic" is said to have been in progrss for th past six weeks, and officials said if more careful handling is not enforced an egg famine may ensue.

SEMI-READY STORE—337 GEORGE

ALL READY FOR THE OTONABEE REGATTA TO-MORROW AFTERNOON

BIG PRIZE LIST WILL BE COMPETED FOR—THE COMMITTEE IN CHARGE.

To-morrow afternoon Peterborough's second annual regatta will be held off Rye's Boathouse. Last year, it will be remembered, it was held on Peace Day, 19th July, and considerable difficulty was encountered in launching it, from the merchants who did not want to close their stores. It was a success, nevertheless, and several thousand people were at the river.

This year it has been clear sailing and co-operation has been given on all sides. The regatta has a reputation to live up to, and indications to-day augur a real success.

The events are scheduled to begin at 1.30, but it will probably be a little later when they start.

Good Prize-list.

The prize-list is fine and should prove a real incentive, outside of the sporting element of the races.

The following new prizes have been offered:

Mr. McKenzie, $1.00; Tom Kay, $1.00; James Haggart, $1.00; Thomas Barrie, $5.00 lady's blouse; H. Pergeau, $2.00; Chris Wood, $1.00; Fred Roy, camera; Ted Burnham, pound of coffee; E. J. Brown $3.00; De Laval Co. Ltd, one 2-gallon ice-cream freezer; Ben Moore $1.00; I. Desautel, $1.00; Charles Bergoine, $1.00; John Kilbreck, $1.00; Norman Patterson, 5 gallons gasoline; J. J. Turner & Sons, 1 canoe cushion; Grafton & Co., 1 boy's jersey; H. Kelsey, $2.00; Arthur Brown, $1.00; William J. Grady, groceries to value of $5.00; Fred Runnet, $1.00; A. Pooley, cards and signs; Capt. J. D. Simpson, Rainbow, $2.00; Cowain, electricians, one hot-shot battery; V. E. Eason, $5.00; J. E. A. Fitzgerald, half-cord slabwood, delivered; Mr. Broadley, $1.00; Paul Loescher, $1.00; Wesley Duval, one box candies; Brown Hardware, not specified; Mr. Pier, $1.00; R. J. Soden, not specified; E. R. Wilson, Peterborough Motors, 4 gallon tins of cylinder oil; Wm. Stock, bakers, two strips of bread tickets.

Meeting to Arrange Prizes.

The prize committee have met with assistance and co-operation from the merchants and citizens, and for this they are grateful.

Harry Kelsey is chairman of this committee, H. B. Rye secretary-treasurer, and Frank Allen and Walter Evans on the executive. This committee meets at 8.30 to-night to arrange the prizes.

F. H. Dobbin and Charles Sisson have been asked to act as judges, but Mr. Sisson could not attend, and another judge has yet to be secured.

Ben Moore and E. J. Ruiter will act as starters; J. H. Renwick, clerk of the course; and William Allen will announce.

MR. D. C. MACAROW,

General Manager, Merchants Bank of Canada. Mr. Macarow is at present in Europe in the interest of the Bank.

The judges' stand is being erected to-day. It will be about half-way between Rye's Boathouse and the wharf opposite it, 50 yards from the shore will be the float and the flag. Halfway between Rye's Boathouse and the Belmont Clubhouse Ben Moore's Margaret, with the starters, will be anchored.

The course will be about one-quarter of a mile. For the launch races, which have been hurt by the inability of some of the fast boats to compete, a 1½ mile course to the foot of Park Street and back has been decided on.

All races having more than eight entries will be run in two heats.

Keep Course Clear.

The committee will appreciate it if boats not in the races will keep off the course. They have the whole river to themselvse outside it, and can anchor anywhere and watch it without scooting up and down the course making a general nuisance of themselves. Mr. Rye hopes that the crowds will not run all over his launch wharves. Last year he suffered considerable damage through this utter disregard of private property, and he hopes there will be no repetition of this trouble.

The citizens should turn out in large numbers to see and participate in the regatta and make the efforts of the committee who are trying to revive aquatic sports in this city worth while.

Nineteen events in all are scheduled. No admission will be charged and no charges of any kind made. The desire of the committee is merely to provide a regatta worthy of the city.

THE "Y" GIRLS AT BURLEIGH CAMP

Y.W.C.A. Camp,
Burleigh Falls.

Dear Girls.—

Yes, it has ben rather wet. We will admit it has rained once or twice. But are we downhearted? Well hardly, when we can have all the fun we had last week with our concerts and masquerades and cheerful fires. One night the Y.M.C.A. boys from Belleville, who were camping across from us on their way to Bobcaygeon, came over to our bonfire on the big rock and we had a great time. We popped pop corn and sang songs until the Burleigh people must have felt like singing.

"In the evening by the moonlight
We can hear those darkies singing,"
Only it wasn't darkies but the "Y" campers.

Yesterday we went up through the Burleigh Locks to Lovesick Lake and had a shore dinner. Perhaps everything didn't taste good!

Maybe it was because it was such a warm day that someone turned the boat around coming through the locks just in time to bring Myrtle Green under a stream of water. We won't mention any names, but ask Miss Layton if she knows anything about it.

The newcomers this week are: Betty Eastwood, Grace Evans, Mildred and Myrtle Green, Florence Johnson and Mabel Young, and Meta Allen and her friend Miss Currie were here over the week-end. Would you like us to tell you something nice? Next week Miss Parker is coming up to see us, and won't we be glad to have her. We should like you to come to see us, too. Won't you?

Yours cordially,
The "Y" Campers.

PALESTINE AND THE EAST

Recent cables from London bring into prominence once again the always present Eastern Question. At a time when advanced thought in both India and Egypt is striving towards some form of self-government, the Soviet Government of Russia is, through their propagandists, offering these countries a short but terrible road to the attainment of this object, and the British Government is faced with another menace to its supremacy in the East. The results of a century of gradual advancement under British rule are threatened with destruction by the inroads of Bolshevist troops to the north of Palestine, Persia, and Afghanistan. A review of the events which led up to the occupation of Palestine throw an interesting light on one of the many grave problems which added to the anxieties of the Allied Command during the early years of the war. One has only to remember the spectacular tour of the German Emperor in this country a few years prior to the war, and his bold attempt to gain Mohammedan sympathies, to realise the main direction of German ambitions. The Berlin to Bagdad railway was promoted to create a striking effect on Eastern thought, and the whole policy of German endeavour from the commencement was to take the war into the East. Here, they assumed was the most vulnerable point in which to strike at the British, and what was probably of equal importance, to obtain the richest prizes. Hence we find the Allies, at a time when their utmost efforts were barely adequate to hold the enemy in Europe, compelled to divert large numbers of troops and war materials to the near East, in an endeavour to prevent the war from spreading into Asia. Our offensive in the Dardanelles was an effort in this direction, and had we been successful then in linking up with the Russians, the course of the whole war would have undoubtedly been immeasurably affected in our favor. Its failure, however, transferred our active hostilities against the Turks from the heart to the outskirts of the Ottoman Empire. It was only by the capture of much territory in Palestine and Mesopotamia that a fresh barrier could be erected against the enemy's ambition, and so we arrive at the primary impulse behind our wars of agression in these two countries. All our efforts in the desert east of the Suez Canal had been up to then prompted more by the necessity of protecting that important water-way and our responsibilities in Egypt, from the Turks, than adding another considerable war to our other enormous enterprises. At this stage the work of driving the Turks out of Palestine became an imperative necessity.

By a fortuitous combination of circumstances not altogether without precedent in British history, the full realization of the difficulties to be overcome was co-incident with the discovery of the right man who was capable of overcoming them. Of all the men who took part in that adventure of British Arms, General Allenby spared himself the least. He selected his staff by the measure of their intelligence and infused his officers and men with his own untiring energy and enthusiasm. Lines of communication across an overwhelming stretch of arid desert between the Suez Canal and Gaza in the south of Palestine were re-organized. A gradually increasing collection of units and material suitable for warfare in the hilly country around Jerusalem were concentrated and trained for the peculiar country they had to traverse, with the result that the subsequent advance was a triumph. The entry of General Allenby and his troops into Jerusalem coming as it did at a time of particular anxiety in the main theatre of the war, it would be difficult to over-estimate the superlative moral influence this achievement effected on the staying powers of the whole Allied cause. Jerusalem has fallen twenty-three times into the hands of an invading army, but never with less display of the pomp and panoply of war than this. Showing a fundamental appreciation of religions thought throughout the Christian and Mohammedan world, General Allenby entered this city of sacred associations with reverence and on foot. If we contrast this with the theatrical display of magnificence and ebullition of egomania which characterized the visit of the then German Emperor, we have a clear perception of the difference between possessing the genius for rule and the desire for domination.

General Allenby's capabilities for administration surpassed if possible, his gift for military organization. The civil population of Palestine was in a deplorable condition, and only a people inured by centuries of misrule to an existence of extreme misery would have submitted to the exactions which the Turks demanded of them during the war. The men and women had been forced into the worst forms of slavery and their crops and cattle commandeered for the Turkish army to such an extent that the whole country was on the verge of starvation. Streets were littered by the bodies of people in the last stages of exhaustion, and disease was rampant everywhere. The task of bringing succour, and a feeling of security to these unfortunates was completed under General Allenby's administration with a celerity which compels admiration.

The future of these enormous Asiatic populations is a matter of grave concern to the world at large and one which affects more than any other the problem of restoring peace and security to Humanity in all parts of the earth. Now there is a possibility that the half-dormant passions of the East may again be aroused and exploited by the strange and terrible power which has arisen from the Russian revolution. Nothing more regrettable than this could possibly happen at the present time. In time to come a Government may be formed in Russia which will be compatible with the requirements of other countries, but to accomplish that the Russians must first wade through a morass of violence, intrigue, and all the evils which attend them. No imagination is required to picture the horrors which would ensue if this Government in embryo carried its present pernicious influence to the south. The policy of the leaders of the Russian Soviet Government is possibly dictated more by the desperate nature of their position, than any desire for agrandisement. Looting forays and the other dubious rewards of the freebooter are the only inducement they can offer their troops, and if these propensities are directed toward India and Egypt, the countries of Palestine and Mesopotamia may see another trial of strength on their historic battle-grounds.

JEWS IN CANADA.

J. S. Woodsworth, in his "The Stranger Within Our Gates," claims that there are over 100,000 Jews in Canada, of whom "In Montreal there are 40,000 to 45,000; in Toronto about 20,000; in Winnipeg, 13,000 to 14,000, and each city or town of any size has quite a large contingent." The first Jewish Synagogue in Montreal was established in 1768, so that the immigration of this race is clearly no new thing. The actual number of foreign-born classified in the Census of 1911 was 47,861; of whom nearly 34,000 came from Russia.

The avidity of the Jew for education is generally admitted, and at least one of the Canadian Rhodes Scholars came of Jewish parents. Through their own charitable institutions, the Canadian Jews take care of their own poor to a large extent.

THISTLES AND C.G.E. TO FURNISH HARD BATTLE

The City League double header at Riverside Park to-morrow will attract a goodly crowd of fans in view of the interest that is being taken in this clash between the Canadian General and Thistle teams in the second game. The two teams have come together three times this season, the Thistles winning the first games handily. The second was a tie and on the third meeting the Thistles won out by one run, scoring four counters in the last innings.

Manager Louis Yeotes of the Thistles, is taking no chances on to-morrow's game. His team has been short a couple of regulars the last couple of times out, but he is determined to win the battle with the C.G.E. if possible and will have his full complement in action. Kirn will likely do the pitching, while the C.G.E. will pin their faith on Lornie Rose. It should be a great battle, for practically every member of the Peterborough Central League team will be in action on one team or the other.

The Woollens and Veterans play the first game, which is called for 2 o'clock sharp.

EES DOT ZO, MR. YANKEE?

The following editorial appeared in the Chicago Tribune:

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, says that Georges Carpentier will be given one week to decide whether he wants Dempsey's game, and he can have it Labor Day. Kearns says they do not care much for Carpentier's idea of going back to France, visiting the home folks, and deciding after a while where he wants to fight and when. He wants to talk cold turkey now.

This seems brutal. It may be direct and businesslike. It is true that Carpentier can take it or leave it, but nevertheless it is brutal. Labor Day is so soon. We are fond of Carpentier. He is everything a prize-fighter ought to be and that none is. He is more than the reincarnation of Charles XII. He is Jack the Giant Killer, Aladdin, Achilles, Bayard, Sir Philip Sidney, Galahad, the gentle warrior with starry eyes, nice table manners, a graceful carriage, and an invincible arm. He plays the piano very fast, and speaks French fluently. Altogether he is the ideal of the prize ring and a romantic world wants to keep him.

We want to keep him in a picture book along with all the other things too good to be true—along with all the other fair-haired boys of romance and beauty. If Dempsey fights him, we are afraid he will be spoiled and we'll have nothing but reality.

Reality is Dempsey. He is a cold, hard, living fact, the kind we like to avoid. He is built like a gorilla. He can't speak French, or play the piano, or be the graceful knight of the story book. He has a fist the size of a ham and a jaw as solid as Gibraltar. He could stand a wallop from a pile-driver, take it on the bean and never have a headache. He can reach across a street and knock a building down.

We have no use for him. He can't be put in a picture book. He can't be dressed in satin with ribbons at his knees. He can't bow or be pleasant over tea. He is not living sculpture. He is a ton of nails. He makes us glad that Smith and Wesson made all men equal.

Dempsey is a rough fact. We have tried him for draft evasion. We have tried him for white slaving. If he fights Carpentier, we'll have to try him for murder.

We are afraid. We are afraid that there may be all truth in the axiom: "The Frogs can't fight." Licking a few English champions means nothing. We are sorry things are as they are. We wish Dempsey were different. We wish he loved flowers and could paint on china.

We wish that if the French have to go after Dempsey's title they would go into the French Congo and get a gorilla. Dempsey probably would kill a frog gorilla, but it would not be such a loss to art.

Adieu, Georges. You were too good too last. GOOD NIGHT.

OAK HALL

RESOLUTE WALKED AWAY FROM THE SHAMROCK AND HOPES OF LIFTING THE CUP ARE REMOTE

WHEN BRITISHERS WITNESSED YESTERDAY'S PERFORMANCE THEIR HEARTS WENT DOWN INTO THEIR BROGUES.

(Special to The Examiner.)

(By Lou Marsh.)

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 16.— I don't know what it was that turned the luck for Tom Lipton yesterday in the America's Cup race—four-leaven shamrocks, America's original eagle, horseshoes, grasshoppers from old Kaintuck, or the presence of a woman, Mrs. Burton, on the boat—but which or whatever it was, Lipton better corner the market on that particular talisman of good luck, for he is going to need it all to beat the Resolute, the smart Yankee defender, doing anything, any time, any place.

Shamrock won the initial race for the cup yesterday when Resolute broke down within half a mile of the windward mark, and was forced to quit, leaving Shamrock to finish alone.

LITTLE GLORY FOR SHAMROCK.

Up until the time of the breakdown (Resolute's steel wire throat halliards parted and let her mainsail down with a run) the Yankee craft and crew had made a fine mess of the green-bodied challenger. There is not a scrap of glory in the victory for the Irish baronet's craft. Skipper Burton made a fine mess of his start, and was badly bounced for honors there, made at least one flagrantly bad move going up to the windward mark, shifted and fidgetted his boat's canvas all over the map during the thresh to windward and his crew were outpaced by the smart Yankee crew any time they elected to come about and shift or change canvas. Outside of that everything was all right.

When it was announced just before the start of the race that a remeasurement of Shamrock's club topsail had reduced the time allowance she had to make Resolute from 7.01 or 7.15, whatever it originally was, to 6.40, the Britishers in the excursion steamers plucked up courage and were quite cheerful, but when Skipper Adams got away with a lead and the weather guage at the start and the slippery looking Resolute proceeded to walk away from Shamrock and not only out-point, but out-fool her in the light airs, which prevailed, their hearts went down into their brogues.

Time allowance? Why on yesterday's performance, the Resolute looks as if she could give the Shamrock the time allowance she now gets herself, and beat her. Boat for boat, she looks Shamrock's superior.

MARATHON TRIAL ON MONDAY NEXT

ARTHUR SMOKE OF CHEMONG ENTERED IN THE HAMILTON RACE.

Albert Smoke of Chemong, and Jimmie Dellow, of Toronto, are the favorites for the Olmypic trial marathon to be run at Hamilton on Monday, beginning at 12 o'clock noon. The entry list is expected to reach thirty, with all parts of the Dominion likely to be represented. Smoke won the provincial trial from Dellow at St. Catharines on May 24 and has already earned his trip to Antwerp. Since then he has been training faithfully on the roads of the Indian reserve. A few of Peterborough's sportsmen have shown an interest in Smoke and his chances, and some of them will accompany him and Dan Whetung to Hamilton on Monday.

EXHIBITION GAME IN NORTHERN TOWN

LAKEFIELD STILL HEADS THE EAST PETERBORO TEAM.

Nassau sent word to the Lakefield ball club that the East Peterborough League game scheduled for Lakefield yesterday afternoon was defaulted, and only an exhibition game was played in the northern town, the League team taking on the Hydros.

Lakefield is credited with a win and therefore stays in the charmed circle for first place, with Norwood and Keene.

Norwood defeated Nassau at Norwood by 17 to 1 in the first game of the second half of the schedule, and on Wednesday at Keene, the Otonabee lads pulled out with a win over Douro by the score of 10 to 3.

The Lakefield-Keene game, postponed from last Thursday will be played at Lakefield next Monday, starting at 5.30 o'clock, and as this game will have some bearing on the championship, both teams will be out in force. Lakefield will make a big effort to get the decision, as they must play Norwood in Norwood on the following Wednesday.

It has been announced from O.B.A.A. headquarters that the winner of the East Peterborough League will meet the winner of the Lindsay Town League in the race for the Intermediate series honors.

WALLACE REID EVER READY FOR TUSSLE

Star Displays Heroic Qualities in "The Dub."

The physical strength of Wallace Reid is well known. This young actor is splendidly set up and his entire six feet two inches of physique are always in excellent shape for a tussle. But his fine restraint and mental strength are no less important, and both phasses of him are exhibited at their best in "The Dub," his next Paramount picture, which will be shown at the Allen Theatre to-day and to-morrow.

In that story he plays a young man whom several men think a dub and a coward. He is sent on a dangerous mission and he carries it out showing throughout the characterization that splendid courage in the face of difficulties which is Mr. Reid's natural heritage.

In real life Mr. Reid has met difficulties in the same way that he does in this picture, surmounting them with the same determination. He has been newspaper reporter, surveyor, cowpuncher, writer and director, and always his quick thinking and courage have been his greatest assets. Nina Byron is his leading woman.

THE BELMONT PICNIC

(Contributed)

The Belmont Picnic to South Beach yesterday afternoon, turned out to be very enjoyable. It started off at 2 p.m from the Club Rooms on George street and arrived as fast as fast drivers on good roads could make it. It was well attended and the stags were in prominence.

Walt Belleghem directed the afternoon sports.

The first event was a game of Indoor Baseball open to Ladies and Gentlemen. The English Team led off—this team was not called English because it was English—(it was mostly Scotch and Irish) but because a man called Bill English picked it out or off. Walt Belleghem picked some more off and the fight was on.

The first inning on both sides was frivolous as the players had not got used to their natural positions. However Miss Knox and Miss Mae Lynn both ran home without any reason except that they both made hits. (They made a hit with everybody). They did this in several innings so that it got to be a habit of making hits and then running home.

Miss Pearl Burnham made a sprint in the fourth worthy of emulation and great praise. Mrs. McDonald was another striking incident in the fourth very notorious thing hapened in.tael also and got home on it but said never again as it is too hard work". A very notorious thing happened in the fifth; Miss Lynn, an expert pitcher aimed for the plate but hit Norm Lang under tht third rib (with the ball). He dropped like an acrobat and refused to get up until some bright mind said the ball was too soft to hurt anybody. Then he got up. I think he was ashamed. I think he thought several girls would run out with handker chiefs, dipped in cold water. They didn't move; it was time to get up.

Jack McNab was umpire and showed favoritism to both sides. He was taken to the edge of lake three times but as he had a new suit on and begged piteously they did not throw him in. He should have been thrown in six times anyway. Of course the first time it would have spoiled the suit but after that it would have been all right.

The English team was made up of Miss Mae Lynn, Miss Pearl Burnham Clare Stewart, Ronald McKee, Alex. Darling, Dr. Lacey. (Lacey tried to fix McNab up so that he could see right but decided he would have to take him to the office) and George Wesley. Walt Belleghem's team was Miss Kemp, Miss Knox, Dr. Frank. Leon Fraser, N. Lang, H. Jobbitt, W. W. Heard and N. Allison and a lot of others who came and went as they pleased and no one could stop them. Orville Moore was base umpire but he wasn't any baser than Jack McNab. I could tell a book about what that Jack McNab did but no pap er would print it. The score of the English outfit was 8 and the other outfit got 16.

The next event was a Boot and Shoe race for ladies; there were six entries; and their boots and shoes were taken off and mixed and tied together differently and placed as far away as was thought that the ladies would go for them. Then they ran and got their own and got back as soon as they could run. Mrs. Fred Sedgwick got back first being used to getting up early and quick to look after Fred and being light on her feet and a good runner and dancer. Miss Knox came in second and Miss Burnham came in third. Miss Burnham might have done better only her feet are too small to run on; properly. Some of the girls said their shoes did not fit as before; but those that came in first would not trade back and lose the race. One girl never came back at all; we think that she is trying to get someone else's shoes on yet. No one went to look for her as no one knows exactly where she was.

The next event was a wheel-barrow race (for men.) English stock came first and Lang-Knocks second and Darling Stewart came in then and the rest came in a crowd and some of the wheel-barrows got broken and the judges wouldn't say anything about it.

The next event was a three legged race and it looked so attractive in the practicing that one of the judges wanted to give up his job temporarliy and get in on it; but they would not let him; he looked glum.

Miss Pearl Burnham and Alex. Darling came back first; Mr. and Mrs. Sedgwick seemed to get along fine and came in second. Miss Mae Lynn and Mr. Steer came in third and the rest came in after.

The next event was a Hop-step and jump. Dr. Frank hopped stepped and jumped farther than anyone; it was too far to measure then Leon Fraser came next and it was right next as he could not have been much closer without winning. Then Walt Belleghem came third which was pretty good for a man of his age. Fanning came fourth; he should have done better as he is younger.

The next event was a potato race Miss Burnham had a long lead but dropped her potato just before she got homeso I wasn't well received. The others brought potatoes in the following order: Miss Knox, Miss Bell, Miss Lynn and Mrs. Sedgwick.

The 100 yards race was won by Mr. Fraser and Mr. Stewart came second with Mr. Fanning him. Stewart was as cool as a cucumber when he arrived on account of so much Fanning close behind him.

In the 50 yard race for ladies it was funny; they would run up hill. I suppose they thought that if they fell it would not hurt so much. You know it is easier running down hill but it hurts more when you fall. I suppose that was the reason. Miss Burnham came in first; there was no doubt about it as she arrived alone; and Miss Kemo came second and Miss Cuffe third. This race was for girls under sixteen and none got in over that age as the Judges saw to it.

The next event was the prettiest of all and was a relay race. It was won by the group Miss Phyllis Bell, Miss Cuffe, Orville Moore, Clare Stewart The group to come second was Miss McKinnon, Miss Lynn, Norm Allison, Mr. Pringle.

After that they had another game of Indoor baseball; no ladies except the umpire, played. The lady got along all right and no one said anything rude if she made mistakes but she didn't make any. One fellow said something rude but nobody heard it. I don't think that it was about her. Then they all had a big fish dinner after the exercises and felt better. Then a lot danced in the evening; some didn't. I think every body came home later. The two judges were George Wesley and C. M. Moncur. They should be mentioned; I don't know why. It seems after all that Jack McNab was field marshal and Walt was only starter but as they both talked at once, no one knew.

HAVE CONFIDENCE IN YOUR DRUGGIST

There are so many preparations recommended as a tonic and laxative that the public are often in doubt which preparation to try.

When you are suffering from constipation, biliousness or sick headache ask your druggist if Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets will relieve these ailments and he will tell you they have no equal, and if they should fail to help you, return the bottle and he will refund your money.

We could publish hundreds of testimonials from well known residents of this city, but as the druggists are selling many different preparations, they should be able to advise you of the results they get from recommending Dr. Norvals Stomach and tonic Tablet. 3d9 15 23 1336

LIPTON'S ATTITUDE SHOWS QUALITY OF HIS SPORTSMANSHIP

NEW YORK, July 16.—Never has Sir Thomas Lipton's sportsmanship—sportsmanship in the truest sense of the world—been questioned and apparently the sporting Irish baronet does not propose that it ever shall be questioned. The moment the accident befell Resolute, Sir Thomas expressed a desire to have the race called "No Contest." He was persuaded by his advisers, however, to accept the victory of the Shamrock.

In the series of 1899, when Columbia and Shamrock met, the challenger from overseas had her topmast carried away and withdrew. Columbia completed the rae and was declared the winner.

Only after it had been pointed out to Sir Thomas that superiority of construction and all-round sea-worthiness should be taken into consideration as well as speed and handling of the sloops, did he agree to accept the victory. Certainly the gallant Irish yachtsman has not lost any of the great popularity he enjoys, not only in America but throughout the world.

"How old is that oil lamp?"

"About three years."

"Turn it down. It's too young to smoke."

WESTCLOX WON SECOND PLACE IN THE COMMERCIAL RACE

DEFEATED THE LOCK WORKS BY 5-3—LAST OF THE SERIES

Westclox won second place in the Commercial Baseball League at the Oval last evening by defeating Lock Works by 5 to 3. Wolff and Connor were the opposing twirlers, with Prosser and Jobbitt behind the bat. Their work was splendid throughout. Westclox played the better fielding, and that gave them the win. Neither team scored after the fourth innings.

Sparkling catches were made by Burke and Ward in left and middle field respectively for Lock Works, and Shannan and Walker at short and first for Westclox pulled down hard drives. Hill at short for Lock Works also turned in a good performance.

Manager Whaley of the Lock Works was without one of his regulars, and he played in right field.

No further games in this League will be played. Cressman's are winners, Westclox in second place, Lock Works third, and Barrie's last.

LINDSAY BOWLERS BROKE EVEN

Lindsay bowlers broke even in their games at Port Pery on Wednesday afternoon in a Central League fixture. Skip Leo Rogers had as his opponent Skip McHone an old veteran who virtually sleeps with his bowls. He was defeater 20—13 in a rattling fine game. The local rink was as follows:—H. Rogers, J. Murphy, J. J. Turner, Leo Rogers, Sk.

Skip Bert Sarvis had as his opponent, Skip Short, and hte local rink was beaten out by only four shots, Bert was short two of his regular line-up—Tony Bakogeorge and James Doan, but his rink put up a game fight. The personnel of the rink was: Reynolds, Houlihan, Dennison, Beaverton also played Port Perry in the latter town Wednesday, both clubs breaking even McHoul (Port Perry) defeated Givens, while Peter McMillan (Beaverton) took skip Short's measure.

GOLF AND TEA AT LINDSAY

The weekly tea of the Golf Club was held at the Club House Wednesday afternoon with Misses Phyllis and Nora Edwards, Miss Fannie Jackson and Miss Jean Wilson as hostesses. The competitions resulted as follows:—Rita Hodgson (Beginner's driving), Bessie Hopkins (sealed hole competition), Mrs. G. H. M. Baker, (3 hole competition.) There were a number of visitors present, including Mr. and Mrs. Stevens of Glasgow.

MR. BURNHAM MAKES CONFESSION

While we have a monster national debt, we have vast resources that if properly administered, will pay off this debt hundreds of times." He warned them though this could not be done without work, and on the shoulder of the farmer much of this rested.

"To the victors belongs the spoils," the old parties cried, but he was glad to see the new government avoiding all pitfalls that are ready to divert the feet of the unwary. He deplored the fact that so many bright girls and boys deserted the farm, while recognizing that they could not all stay there, and he said that farming should be attractive so as to draw men from the cities. The antagonism between the city and the country was not as exaggerated as it is said to be.

The people, both of the city and country, were satisfied with the Provincial Government's work and satisfied to have them continue as they are doing. The Milk Producers were not price boosters, as unfounded allegations declared, but they only wanted to put dairying on a firm and profitable basis. The producers have come to the point where they must know their profits.

A campaign will be carried on, he said, to educate the people to the value of milk and its products as a food and the daily average consumption in the Dominion of one pint a day, is too low. People must go back to the good old principle of unselfishness and help and work with each other, he said.

Mr. G. A. Gillespie.

Mr. G. A. Gillespie was the last speaker. Referring to the new government, he said, "If they can make good roads and advance the interests of the farmers, let them stay there for years." He declared that most of the members of the old government had the interests of the farmers just as much at heart as the Drury government. He commended the Premier and said that he did not think they had been hampered by anything along the line of politics.

"My interest is, and always will be, with the farmers, and when I can raise my voice or raise my hand to benefit his position I will do so."

A vote of thanks was given to the speakers, and the singing of the National Anthem concluded the annual meeting.

WANT EXPLANATION.

Germans Agree to Principles Contained in the Allied Terms.

(Canadian Press.)

SPA, July 16.—German delegates to conference here have agreed in principle with the terms submitted to them by the Allies as to Germany's delivery of coal, but will ask for an explanation of certain articles in the Allied note. They made this announcement just before entering into conference with Allied ministers this afternoon.

EMPRESS AND HER CHILDREN BURNED ALIVE

FORMER ROYAL RUSSIAN COURIER TELLS GRUESOME STORY OF BOLSHEVIK CRUELTY.

DRIVEN INTO FLAMES

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, July 16.—The Russian Empress and her children were burned alive after the execution of Emperor Nicholas at Ekatrinburg, it is alleged in a statement made by Alexis Dolrovitz, formerly courier to the Empress, and published here to-day.

Attempts at Rescue.

Dolrovitz said he made vain attempts to save his mistress and her children. The Empress and her children, he declared, were taken to a woods near Ekaterinburg, where brush wood was gathered and a huge fire made, into which the Royal victims were forced. Every time they sought to escape from the flames they were driven back at the point of the bayonet.

Walked Into Flames.

Tatiana, the Empress' second child, fled from the pyre three times, and eventually fell, pierced through by a bayonet. The Empress and Alexis, heir to the throne, clasped in close embrace, walked almost automatically into the flames, and disappeared in the dense smoke, according to Dolrovitz.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN L. REID.

Bobcaygeon loses an old and highly respected resident in the person of Mrs. John L. Reid, aged 72, who passed away in the Nicholls Hospital, this city, yesterday evening, after two weeks' illness. Deceased was born in Bailieboro, and twenty-five years ago moved to Bobcaygeon, where she resided ever since. The late Mrs. Reid is survived by one sister, Mrs. Alex. Clark, of Emily, and by three brothers, Joseph Greer, of Bailieboro; William and Jerry Greer, of Peterborough.

The funeral will be held from the home of deceased's brother, Mr. J. Greer, 659 Water street, this city, tomorrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, to Bailieboro for interment. Service at the house at 1.30.

MR. WILLIAM BULLER HAD A GOOD DAY.

Broke up a Moonshine Plant in the North Country.

Mr. W. H. Buller, local Inland Revenue Officer, journeyed to the wilds back of Bobcaygeon yesterday, and captured a still somewhere in the neighborhood, took the moonshiner before the magistrate at Bobcaygeon and had him convicted. All this in one day. This morning the magistrate's cheque for $200 on the Bank of Montreal, came through to the Revenue office. Mr. Buller is in Port Hope to-day and no further particulars were obtainable.

Part of the paraphernalia necessary for the distilling lay in the office today. It consisted of a copper wash boiler with the lid soldered on and a neck about six in diameter at the top. In this a funnel reposed. A plug and a cock in the boiler had been added to the original boiler.

The boiler was far from clean and was evil smelling on the outside. The product of the interior must have been hard stuff.

SHIP FROM SUB REWARDED.

(Canadian Press.)

HALIFAX, July 14.—The British Board of Trade has recommended that the crew of the oil tanker Luz Blanca, which was sunk by a German submarine off Halifax Harbour on 5th August, 1918, be awarded a clasp for their encounter with the enemy undersea craft. Two of the crew were killed by shellfire from the submarine, and the remainder were brought to the city and later transported to their homes.

THE YACHTS PREPARE FOR SECOND RACE

A GOOD STIFF WIND MIGHT BLOW THE RESOLUTE TO PIECES.

(Special to the Examiner)
(By Lou Marsh)

NEW YORK, July 17.—Funny things these New York newspapers They either boost extravagantly or they waste unmercifully. Here we are this morning ready for the second race of the America Cup series and nine out of ten papers are busy ham stringing everybody connected with the selection of Resolute as a cup defender.

Why didn't they select the Gardiner designed Vanitie, that's what they want to know. Was up at Pelham Bay yesterday to have a peek at the $250,000 Vanitie before they sent her to the" Bone Yard'. I found the Vanitie not in the water and rigged, but already hauled aut and cleaned to the deck ready for the wreckers. That's mightly quick work but as they pulled her apart the roar of the town people made old Broadway on a busy night sound like a prayer-meeting in an institute for mutes. They built Vanitie up that way and fitted her for the trial races. They all say that she is as fast as the Resolute and will stand up in any wind.

"Down town the papers that pulled hardest for Resolute's selection found her the hardest and say that her record of mishaps alone should have settled her chances.

Well they are about ready. This is Resolute's fourth major accident this season. She lost her entire mast May 22 off New Haven and Newport in June lost her top mast and I remember she carried away the jaws of her gaff in another race.

That showed she was flimisly constructed. It looks as if her builders went beyond the limit of safety in keeping her light. Once the race is over she too will be scrapped or else re-rigged with heavier spars and shrouds and given a smaller sail area. As she is now, she is dangerous.

If she does not develop tic doulou reux or housemaids knee or curvature of the knee, or something like that she should win to-day but after her breakdown in a 10 knot breeze.

Thursday those who would like to see Sir Thomas Lipton win the cup by luck if not by speed are pulling for a half a gale of wind and plenty of squalls and sea so the Resolute will go to pieces again.

THREE KNOT BREEZE

(Canadian Press)

SANDY HOOK, July 17.—A wind of three knots strength from the northeast blowing at eight this morning when the crews of the cup sloops began preparations for the day's race. Indications promise a slow race although the beach combers said the wind probably would haul into the south by the time sloops reached in starting line. Captain Burton and Designer Nicholson said this morning that five races was not an adequate test for America's Cup. "We have had one race and won it", said Captain Burton.

"Still I'm looking to to-day's race to obtain some idea of respective sailing points of the two contenders."

Sir Thomas Lipton is said to have told friends here that he will challenge again if the boat fails to lift the cup.

RACE POSTPONED

The second race for America's Cup was postponed at 11.30 a.m., until later in the day, by order of the Regatta Committee. It was virtually a dead calm around lightship.

At 10:30 it was a flat calm at the lightship with no breeze in sight from any direction.

The Regatta Committee announces at 11.20 that the time allowance which Shamrock must give the Resolute would remain at 6 minutes and 40 seconds for 30 miles course.

POLISH FORCES STILL ON MOVE

Canadian Press.

WARSAW, July 17. — Polish detachments after obstinate street fighting have been obliged to evacuate Vilna under enemy pressure according to an oficial announcement issued here. A Kovno despatch of Thursday, says the city was taken by Soviet forces on Wednesday afternoon.

The Reds Gaining

BOLSHEVIKI HAVE OCCUPIED A NUMBER OF VILLAGES.

Canadian Press.

LONDON, July 17. — A gain of ground by the Bolsheviki against the Poles along the line between Vilna and Minsk, is reported in Friday's official statement from Moscow. The statement says:

"West of Smorgon, after fierce fighting, we occupied teh village of Salv forty miles south east of Vilna. In the direction of Baranaovitchi we occupied a number of vilalges thirty -three miles south east of Minsk."

MADE SEVERAL INSPECTIONS IN NORTH COUNTRY

TRIO OF OFFICERS WORKED OVER TERRITORY.

Success rewarded the trip of Mr. W. H. Buller into his northern territory on Thursday, for in addition to securing $200 for the treasury of the Inland Revenue, he made several inspections between Bobcaygeon and Nogie's Creek that may yet develop into another business trip with a very definite object in view. He received word very early Thursday morning from the northern town that a trip there might bear results. Acting on this he took the morning train to Lindsay, where he picked up Inspector Thornbury and a car and both officials went on to Bobcaygeon.

Here Constable Garlick made up the trio of officers and an inspection was made around the vicinity, with the arrest of two well known residents of that town following in due course. One was a merchant and the other a government official and it was in the latter's home that the rectifying apparatus that produced the "moonshine" was found. The merchant was responsible for the manufacture of the appartus, which is built along the Galician and Russian plan, but would make a native of these countries blush with shame. Part of the plant was dismantled when the officers put in an appearance and as far as they could learn it had not been in recent operation. The proprietor of the distillery confessed to making a couple of batches but none of the stuff could be found.

There must either be a ready market in 'Caygeon or hey must have an unquenchable thirst. Mr. Buller estimates the output of the still at 20 gallons a day.

"The gentlemen were evidently expecting no official visit for the outfit was mounted on the kitchen stove for all to admire and the house was just on the outskirts of the town. When they discovered the ghost was up they gave themselves up to save their name and position. Magistrate G. W. Taylor was roused up and court was held, from which the pair left $224 poorer than when they entered. The charge against the merchant was for making the still and the government official for manufacturing without a license. They both got off with the minimum fine and costs of $12 each.

The whole affair was concluded about 9 o'clock at night and with a quiet smile of satisfaction bordering on exultation, the two officers motored back to Lindsay, W. H. Buller lugging along the vitals of the still, which he brought down here the next day and now rests in the local office.

OTONABEE FARMER SERIOUSLY HURT

FELL FROM ROOF OF BARN ONTO A HAYFORK.

D. W. Wood of Otonabee met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, when he fell from a ladder onto a hay fork. Mr. Wood was fixing a hay carrier near the roof of the barn and was standing on a ladder, which was resting against a rod. The ladder began to slip and Mr. Wood jumped landing an a hay fork on the barn floor which penetrated his body.

Drs. Sutton and McClelland of Peterboro, were called and he was taken to Nicholls' Hospital. It was expected this morning that he would recover hough his injuries are serious.

REACTIONS GENERAL IN THE MARKET

MARKET LOST MOST OF THE RECENT GAINS—INDUSTRIAL CONTRACTION.

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, July 17—The Stock Market this week yielded much of the ground gained in the preceding period reactions throughout the general list being attended by lapse into sluggish ness which characterized June's operations. Trading in bonds was relatively larger and broader, however. Firm tone prevailing especially in several of newly listed issues such as Swiss 8's and Belgian 7 1-2 s in which high interest returns seemed to attract more than a little investment. According to authoritative reports backward industrial movements shows signs of extending from Textile and Leather Trades to other important lines of manufacture notably automobiles and related specialties; the shares of many of these companies were most susceptible to pressure. Credits continue tense although some loosening of funds was reported in the Commercial paper market and in points where crop movement is rapidly getting under way. Locally and in western centres generally little money was available for any but essential purposes. The trend of foreign trade as indicated by increased exports and reduced imports, probably contributed to a further deadlock in foreign exchange. Little more gold was received from London but news that East India is in the Market for metal necessitates revision of estimates dealing with additional shipments to the United States.

PRESENTATION TO MRS. CARPENTER

WAS PRESIDENT OF KNOX CHURCH LADIES' AID SOCIETY.

At an informal gathering of the Ladies" Aid Society of Knox Church the other day, refreshments were served, after which a presentation was made to president, Mrs. T. Carpnter, who is leaving the city shortly, with her family, for London, England. The address follows:

Dear Mrs. Carpenter,

We hear with regret that you have decided to sever the very pleasant relations that have existed between us as members of the Knox Church Ladies' Aid.

Though but a few years since we have become acquainted with you, your place in our affection is an assured one. We cannot permit you to leave us without expressing our appreciation of your devotion to Knox Church Ladies' Aid and the very favourable opinion we have formed of you as our president.

As a slight mark of our regard for you, permit us to present you with this wrist watch in the hope that as it gently ticks off the minutes, it may serve to recall to you in later years your friends of Knox Church Ladies' Aid, Peterborough.

We trust that you and your family may long be spared to enjoy yourselves in your new home.

Signed on behalf of the Aid.
Mrs. George Davis, Secretary.
Mrs. S. Watson, Treasurer.

ARGENTINA HAS HUGE STOCK OF USELESS WOOL.

Too Coarse Grade to Meet Demand.

(Canadian Press.)

BUENOS AYRES, July 17.—The cessation of the demand for coarse grades of wool for army uniforms and the refusal of the average people, in spite of the high cost of living, to buy clothing made of the coarse grades, has left Argentina with more than 200,000,000 pounds of almost unsaleable wool on its hands, according to a local manufacturer of woollen cloth, interviewed by La Nacion.

This huge quantity will be increased during the shearing season in July and August. As the production of wool in this country is growing year by year, the problem of selling the coarser grades is considered very serious. One reason for the situation is that formerly Argentine sheep breeders had thought more of the meat than the wool, with the result that their stock became mixed, and the consequent wool coarse and not uniform.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THIRD FRENCH REPUBLIC.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, July 17.—The fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of the Third Republic will be celebrated on 4th September next, and will be observed as a national holiday. The programme of the celebrations has not yet been drawn up, but officials have expressed the wish that they be organised on an elaborate scale and surpass the fetes of 14th July.

BEYOND RECALL

MR. J. H. BURNHAM HAS NO INTENTION OF RECALLING HIS RESIGNATION.

Mr. J. H. Burnham informed the Examiner to-day that his resignation as member of the House of Commons will be found all right and that it will not be recalled.

OTTAWA, July 17.—The resignation of J. H. Burnham, M.P. for West Peterborough, turns out to be the real thing. As originally sent in, it lacked the witness of two constituents and was sent back. Mr. Burnham forwarded it yesterday properly attested and a warrant for a new election is being issued. The retiring member takes the position that his mandate as a Union supporter has expired. He is likely to run again as a straight Conservative.

INQUIRY INTO CAUSE OF OMEMEE FATALITY

INQUEST ADJOURNED TILL TUESDAY —RAILWAY CROSSING REPORTED NOT DANGEROUS.

An inquest was held yesterday to inquire into the cause of the sad fatality in Omemee village Thursday evening, by which Charles Downey met death and Percy and James Lucas sustained injuries when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a G.T.R. engine on a level crossing.

Dr. Blanchard, coroner, presided, and the jury was as follows: W. W. Staples, - chrman; G. Foster, N. Brady, J. J. Turner, S. Howe, J. Wright, E. W. Moore, P. Spratt, After viewing the remains of deceased the inquest was adjourned until Tuesday morning at 10.00 o'clock.

Shock to Community.

The news of the death of Charles Downey, came in the nature of a shock to the people of Downeyville. The deceased was a boy of splendid character, and was a general favorite. He was a member of Downeyville Holy Name Society. Besides his parents, he is survived by four brothers, Messrs. Eugene Thomas, Dominic Paul and two sisters, Rose and Nellie, all of Downeyville. The deceased is a nephew of Mrs. William LeHane of Lindsay.

The funeral took place this morning from the residence of the deceased's father, Downeyville, at 10 o'clock to St. Luke's church, where requiem mass was chanted. Interment in Downeyville cemetery.

Injured Resting Comfortably.

The Lucas brothers were given every attention and reports from Downeyville are to the effect that both young men are resting comfortably. Their escape from death is indeed miraculous.

Crossing Not Dangerous.

The train was in charge of Conductor Alton, with L. Blair engineer, and L. Wakelin, fireman. The crossing where the accident occurred is not considered a dangerous one. A good view of the track can be obtained on either side. The young men, it is said, felt satisfied that no train was in sight. It bore down upon them when the car was practically astride the track, too late to avert the accident.

SIX MONTHS IN COUNTY BASTILE

THEFT CASE DISPOSED OF IN POLICE COURT.

As a result of a clever bit of sleuthing by Chief of Police Thompson and Detective Newhall, James Hotts of Adeline Street appeared in this morning's Police Court charged with breaking ino the house of Jamse Durkin at 467 Parnell street and stealing $50 on Thursday evening about 9 o'clock.

Hotts pleaded guilty and elected summary trial.

Crown Attorney Hatton asked for leniency on the grounds that Hotts had a wife and three children and had a good record. The Magistrate, however, stated that crime was becoming too common in Peterboro and that if leniency were granted to housebreakers things would come to such a pass that it would not be safe for a man to leave his house without leaving a policeman at the door. He sentenced Hotts to 6 months in jail.

The police received information yesterday which led them to suspect Hotts. Chief of Police Thompsan and Detective Newhall went to Durkin's house and afer examining the grounds found footprints in the garden. They procured a pair of Hotts shoes and found that they fitted the footprints exactly. They then arrested Hotts, who admitted his guilt.

THE GERMANS PROVIDE FOR REPARATIONS

REPRESENTATIVES SIGNED THE ALLIES PROTOCOL--CHANGES MADE.

(Canadian Press)

SPA, July 17.—German representatives signed the coal protocol, drawn up by Allied representatives last night thereby settling one of most difficult questions which have come up in the present discussion. Signatures were affixed on the document after a four hour session at Villa Fraineuse, one hour of which was spent by the Germans in cabinet consultation on an adjoining room. The conflict was over the introduction in the protocol of the menace of occupation of additional German territory after October 15 next, if German coal deliveries were not up to the stipulated quantity of six million tons by that date. The Allies decided to drop this clause of the protocol below signature line. Then the Germans objected to the preamble which declared that decision set forth in document had been taken in common accord by allied and German delegations. Germans contended it was not by common accord but by the sole will of the allies that any further occupation would occur. At this juncture Dr. Fesrendach German chancellor sent for three of his Cabinet colleagues who were at German headquarters and called a cabinet meeting. An hour elapsed before Chancellor Fesrenbach and Foreign Minister Simons appeared at the conference room. After an explanatory speech by Dr. Simons, all the delegates signed protocol.

Before the arrival of German delegates the allied premiers completed their consideration of the distribution of reparations due from Germany As finally adopted reparations will be made on following basis. France 52 per cent; Great Britain 22 per cent.; Italy 10 per cent.; Belgium, 8 per cent.; and Japan and Portugal each 3-4 of 1 per cent, remaining 6 1-2 per cent. will be divided between Serbia, Rumania and Poland.

NO ALTERNATIVE.

Canadian Press.

BERLIN, July 17. — Official statement relative to the decision of the German delegation at Sap to deliver two million tons of coal per month to the Allies, was issued here last last night.

"No other decision was possible after Marshal Foch had been summoned," it declared. "On one hand there was an invasion of Germany with its incalculable political and economic consequences and on the other the reduction by eight per cent. of the coal supply to German consumers with the possibility howeevr of remaining master in one's own house." ALLIES THREATEN TO DRIVE THE TURK FROM EUROPE.

Canadian Press.

LONDON, July 17. — A threat to drive the Turk from Europe "once and for all," is contained in the allied repl yto the Turkish objections to the peace treaty made public here to-day. Such action might follow Turkey's refusal to sign the treaty of her failure to give it effect the reply stated.

The time limit for Turkey to make known her decision expires at midnight, July 27th.

NEW VEGETABLES ON LOCAL MARKET

MANY ADDITIONS TO THIS WEEKS' LIST—PRICES LOWER.

That the summer is passing and the harvest time is fast approaching is brought home to those who visit the market weekly and watch the new vegetables and fruits come in one by one. Each week the list is growing. New potatoes were on to-day's market in greatly increased numbers over last week. Prices were $1.25 and and $1.20, as compared with $1.40.

One grower had the fit At 25 cents for a quart box full the cans a little high. Green pacs and beans were 10 cents a quart. One lady had the peas already shelled at 20c. a quart. Nice full, hard cabbages came at 15c., 20c. and 25c. and cauliflowers ranged all the way from 5 to 25c. Lettuce, radishes and rhubarb sold at 5 cents a bunch. Big tender beets brought 10 cents a bunch. Some sold them at two for 15c.

The Fruits.

Raspberries came at 35 cents a quart box. There were some wild berries at $2.80 and $3.00 a pail upstairs. From the northern wilds several loads of huckleberries made their initial apperance this year. 40c. a quart they asked or $3.00 a pail and they sold readily at this price. Berries are scarce at Burleigh, one of the outfits told the Examiner. He picked his at Koshnawognabog. Gooseberries were on the market aplenty. Some of them asked 15 cents and some 20 cents. The basket price centred around $2. Black currants sold at 35 and 30 cents a quart, red and white currants at 20 cents.

Butter sold for 60, 62 and 63 cents and eggs ragged from 55 to 60c. There were not many chickens on the market. 35 cents a pound was the prevailing price. There were some live chickens though. Tiny Plymouth Rocksand White Leghorns sold for 6 for $1.00. One farmer wanted $16 a pair for seven weegs old pigs and another $10 for six weeyers. Two darling little Scotch collies were displayed in a little wooden box and came in for no small share of admiration. Their materialistic owner was trying to dispose of the little fellows at $5 apiece. The'y're thoroughbreds," he declared.

GOVERNMENT WILL ASSIST GERMANS

WILL AID HER TO FLOAT LOANS FOR HER INTERNAL REQUIREMENTS.

(Canadian Press.)

SPA, Belgium, July 17.—The Allied Governments will take appropriate measures to assist Germany in floating loans intended to meet her internal requirements and to assist her in the prompt discharge of her debt to the Allies, according to the agreement signed here yesterday by the representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium and Portugal settling the problems relative to reparations.

The distribution of the indemnities received from Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria was also provided for in the agreement

Belgium is given priority in the payment of 2,500,000,000 gold francs, and the agreement enumerated the securities for such priority. The Allies also arranged for the method of valuing the ships surrendered by Germany and her allies under the various treaties, as well as the allocation of these vessels.

Surrendered warships, docks, and other war materials were also dealt with by the entente nations' delegates.

One of the articles of agreement, fixing the cost of the occupation armies on a uniform basis was not concluded, it being desired to discuss this matter with the United States before the final adjustment of the problem.

THE WEATHER

Some particularly cool weather for the middle of a midsummer month has occurred during the last three nights. Last night was the coolest of the three. The temperature got down to 43 degrees. It is said that white frost was to be seen on Thursday and Friday mornings, and one man has told me that his tomatoes were nipped. No really hot weather (that is over 90 in the shade has been experienced yet.

VAIL'S HOUSE FOR MUSEUM.

Morristown Gets the Building and $200,000 Under Financier's Will.

MORRISTOWN, N.J.—Under the will of Theodore N. Vail, Morristown is to receive for a museum the "Vail House," and a fund of $200,000, provided the town raises an additional $200,000 toward the fund.

Many of the famous works of art acquired by Mr. Vail will become public property, subject to Mrs. Vail's choice, and will be installed in the museum. Lectures, musicals, and museums are provided for in the will, which states that the building must remain open to the public for at least thirty weeks of the year.

Should the town fail to raise its quota the bequest will revert to Mrs. Katharine Vail Marsters, niece and adopted daughter of the telephone executive.

MIXED FARMING IN WESTERN Canada—In Central Alberta and Saskatchewan are rich park lands—open prairie ready for the plow, interspersed with trees, which afford excellent shelter for stock. Here grain growing, dairying and livestock raising are being carried on successfully. The country is ideal for mixed farming The Canadian Pacific Railway is offering a large area of these fertile lands in the neighborhood of Lloydminster and Battleford. These rich districts will become the home of thousands of prosperous farmers. On similar land Seagar Wheeler grows the world's prize wheat Near Lloydminster the world's prize oats have been grown and butter of the highest quality is made A man can soon become independent on a farm here.

These lands can e bought now at prices averaging about 18. You pay down 10 per cent. If land is purchased under settlement conditions, no further payment of principal until end of fourthe year, then sixteen annual payments. Interest is six per cent.

Irrigated lands in Southern Alberta $50 an acre upwards. Same terms. Write for illustrated booklet.

BABY WALKER.

"Never thought he would live."

93, Queen's Head Road, Handsworth, Birmingham.

Dear Sir,—I am very pleased to write to you concerning your Virol, as when my baby was born we never thought he would live; but a friend of mine advised me to go to the Infants' Welfare, Soho Road.

I took him when one month old, and the Doctor ordered Virol. With careful attention, and Virol added regularly with his food, I am sure it has proved very successful, as you see from his photograph. Wishing your Virol every success.

Yours gratefully,
(Signed) (Mrs.) E. Walker.

Virol is invaluable for the expectant and nursing mother herself, while for children it supplies those vital properties that are destroyed in the sterilising of milk; it is also a bone and tissue-building food of immense value. Virol babies have firm flesh, strong bones and good colour.

MANY LICENSES ISSUED IN CITY

OVER SEVENTEEN HUNDRED AUTOMOBILE LICENSES FOR PETERBORO.

There have been 1,750 automobile and motorcycle licences issued by Mr. H. P. Lindsay to date this year. The first number issued was 117501, and the last that went on a car yesterday was 119251. March and April are the big months of the year, and now only a few a week are issued. After 1st September the registration fee is cut in half and a decided impetus is noticed, for many people turn in their old cars for the new models. Even in December a few are issued, he stated, for people who have just bought a new car and cannot resist trying it even if the roads are snow and ice bound and the weather too cold to be very enjoyable for motoring.

This number includes all this district to Rice Lake, east to Havelock, and back to Lindsay.

Mr. Lindsay wishes that when a licence number is seen on the road, which some unfortunate motorist has lost, those who see it would pick it up and report to him as soon as possible so that he can look up the owner and notify him. About twenty new licences are issued each year for lost plates, he said.

Speaking on the chances of securing a licence for a stolen car, he said it would be possible to get one in the regular way without any suspicion, but if one wanted to avoid detection, give the wrong serial number. He firmly believed it would be much better if all cars were examined to see that the serial number given was correct, but this would entail too much expense for their present rate of remuneration. Next year automobile registration fees may be raised, he said. There had been some talk of it, but nothing definite had been done.

200,000 PRISONERS STILL IN RUSSIA

LOT OF SOME IS TERRIBLE, BUT OTHERS NOT TREATED BADLY.

LONDON, July 16.—Dr. Fridtj of Nansen, explorer, who has just been here on a mission for the repatriation of the prisoners of war now in Russia, estimated that there are still some 200,000 prisoners of all nationalities in that country and Siberia. Although the lot of the prisoners in Siberia and Turkestan was terrible, he said, the Russian were not treating them badly.

"Considering the very bad conditions existing in Siberia and other parts," said Dr. Nansen, "the men are, practically speaking, very little worse off than the majority of the population'

Dr. Nansen said that the great difficulty in getting the prisoners home was transportation.

He hoped, through the League of Nations, to raise a loan among the nations, neutrals a well as late belligerents, for the purpose of defraying the cost of bringing the men home.

"America has been helping splendidly in this humanitarian work," he said. 'Only a short time ago I received a present of $3,000,000 for charitable work among the prisoners, and besides this the American Red Cross and Y.M.C.A. is providing workers and comforts for the men."

AND 5-INCH HEELS

"The new stenographer wants a raise."

"What's the matter? Can't she live on what we're paying her?"

"It isn't that; but she says the weather is getting sa awful warm that she just has to make enough to afford a set of summer furs."

WATER WINGS SLIPPED, YOUTH OY 18 DROWNS

TORONTO, July 16.—Implicit faith in a pair of water wings led to the drowning of John Haberman, aged 18, of 249 Spadina Avenue, when he attempted to swim the channel at the foot of S. Andrew's street, Centre Island, yesterday noon. The body was recovered by Officer Milling and the Life saving crew in 14 feet of water.

Haberman was employed in "The Casino' 'as a musicion. A little before noon he decided to go bathing, and placing the wings in position, he started on his journey across the channel. He had hardly pushed off before the wings slipped from under him, and allowed him to sink. The Main Life-Saving Station was notified and Officer Milling and crew put off in the speed boat. They reached the scene of the accident in four minutes, too late, however, to save Haberman. It is said that Haberman could not swim a stroke. The body was removed to the Morgue, where an inquest will be held.

On their way back to the station the life savers picked up M. P Rose 49 Waverley Road, whose inghy had been upset by the sudden squall at noon.

POLISH WOMEN FIGHT.

Hold Eight Mile Front Under Madame Goercz's Command.

WARSAW, July 16.— Women soldiers have taken up positions for the defence of Vilna. They have been assigned to an eight-mile front. They are under the command of Madame Goercz, who fought with General Pilsudski against the Russians, and who also operated last year with the women during the siege of Lemberg.

Commander Goercz is 26 years old. She contends that women can hold their own alongside the men, even in the front line. Mme. Goercz has about one thousand women under her command. Many of them are strong women, of the factory type, who are eager for adventure. The woman commander is in charge of all her own transport system and rolling kitchens, and all fighting equipment, except artillery.

Additional detachments of women are being formed throughout Poland for the defense of the Republic.

EXPLOSION IN MINE KILLS ONE AUSTRIAN

WAS PLACING DYNAMITE IN ROCK AT SELLWOOD MINE,

SUDBURY, July 16.—Wasyl Miniw, a miner, was instantly killed, and Kadey Rozyiski, a companion, narrowly escaped death, in an explosion at the Sellwood Mine here. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death. Both men were Austrians. They were placing dynamite in a rock hole and it thought that as Miniw handed the detonator to his companion it slipped out of the primer and became ignited by striking the rock, Miniw was hurled back several feet, receiving the full force of the explosion, and died of fracture of the skull. Rozyiski was also thrown back and badly bruised, but was able to crawl from underneath the rock and summon assistance. His escape is looked upon as being miraculous and is of the few on record where a man has come through a similar accident alive. Both men were expert miners.

GERMANS RESENTING AMERICAN CAPITAL

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, July 17.—German manufacturers of adding machines are appealing to the Government for assistance in their fight to prevent the importation of American-made machines, which they claim now are superfluous, as the German industry is canable of supplying the home demand. Action has been precipitated by the application of a well-known American firm, through its Berlin branch, for permission to import 1,700 adding machines to meet the German demand until the American firm has completed its local branch factory.

Appeal to Ministry.

The German manufacturers have addressed a joint appeal to the Ministry of Economics, demanding further enforcement of the existing import embargo, and requesting that wholesale importation should be prohibited.

The Vorwaerts declares that while the German working man does not desire to be placed under the domination of American capital, the present action by the German makers is undignified and not in keeping with the German efficiency, which has always been able to assert itself in the competitive markets, even when pitted against American enterprise.

KOREAN NEWSPAPER SUSPENDED BY JAPS

(Canadian Press.)

TOKIO, July 16.—As bearing on the freedom of the press in Korea promised by the Japanese Government in that country, a Seoul despatch to the Asahi says that the To-A-Nippo (The Far Eastern Daily News) has been subject to suspensions because of the publication of "anti-nationalistic articles," that is to say, anti-Japanese.

The Asahi says the Governor-General thinks that the general attitude of the newspaper toward the administration is too "reprehensible" to be allowed to continue. The journal adds that there is a tendency among the Korean newspapers to give publicity to articles which the authorities think fit to suppress.

The promise of the new Government was to permit freedom of the press so long as it did not endanger law and order.

SOME FAILURES IN HOUSING SCHEMES

GERMAN, UNITED STATES AND BRITISH GOVERNMENTS HAD NO SUCCESS.

The German Government apropriated 1,350,000,000 marks for the purpose of subsidising builders in the hope of relieving the scarcity of houses, but according to a recent report the entire operation was a failure. During the last three years of the war Great Britain spent $500,000 a year in salaries to housing commissions, and not a house was built when the Armistice was signed. Up to the signing of the Armistice the United States Government appropriated $100,000,000 for Government housing, and with the most meagre results. The operation at Bridgeport, Conn., which cost between five and six million dollars, was recently sold in part by the Government, a portion of it which cost $3,800,000 being sold for the sum of $1,300,000 to a large corporation at Bridgeport. Through Government housing at Bridgeport no benefit accrued to the working men, and there was no reduction in rent. These statements are culled from a report of the secretary of the Mayor of New York's Housing Conference Committee. When a housing scheme was proposed in New York, the Mayor said that if the city couldn't build the school houses because of labour and material difficulties, how could it build dwellings All of which provides? precedent for Peterborough Council's decision not to undertake a housing programme this year, although on the other hand some of the Canadian cities visited by the local commission had accomplished considerable success in building houses.

LOVES THE ARCTIC CIRCLE.

Has No Use for the Changing Scenes in the Modern City.

(Canadian Press.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 17.—The good old Arctic Circle for mine, declared W. D. Clark, trapper and trader from the Eagle River country in the Arctic, after viewing for the first time the changing scenes of life in a bustling modern city.

"For the first time in my life I have seen street cars, automobiles, and skyscrapers; have mingled with your crowds," he said. "It is all very strange and wonderful, but it is not my choice. I would not exchange for all this the vast open spaces, the great out-of-doors of the Arctic Circle. It has been my home for thirty-three years, and I hope to get back there in August."

Mr. Clark brought some magnificent fox and marten skins valued at $9,000.00.

Thirty-three years ago he left Vancouver for Calgary; travelling thence to Edmonton in an old Red River cart; and by the same method he continued the journey to the great rivers of the north.

PHILIPPINES SEEKING CONTROL OF BAGUAN

(Canadian Press.)

MANILLA, P.I., July 16. — The Philippine government has renewed negotiations for control of the little island of Baguan, only thirty miles northeast of British North Borneo, in the Sulu Sea. Baguan, although part of the Philippine group ceded by Spain to the United States in the treaty of Paris, has remained under the control of the British North Borneo government, because of the proximity to that island.

Baguan, also known as Turtle Island on account of the great number of turtles there, is inhabited by Moros, who Philippine officials assert, should be placed under the control of the government of the Sulu Archipelago, which is the southernmost part of the Philippine group.

Sir Aylmer Pearson, governor of British North Borneo, has been visiting at Baguio, the summer capital of the Philippines and officials of the Insular government hoped to complete the preliminary negotiations with him for taking control of Baguan, so that the matter might be presented to Washington for final adjustment in a short time.

The island of Baguan is said to be the clearing house for a ring which smuggles large quantities of opium into the islands of the Sulu archipelago, as well as into the island of Mindanao. Officials believe this opinion traffic can be broken up when Baguan is brought under control of the Philippine government.

Ten years without a corn

Countless people boast that record now.

Years ago they started using Blue-jay. Never since has a corn pained twice. And never has a corn stayed a week.

You can quickly prove that corns are needless. Millions have already done it.

Think what it means.

No more paring, no more p... o more unsightly pads. Dainty shoes without unhappy hours.

Apply a touch of liquid Blue-jay or a Blue-jay plaster.

The corn pain will end. And soon the whole corn will loosen and come out.

The action is gentle but sure. Blue-jay is the scientific method, created by this world-famed laboratory.

It is not like the methods which are harsh and crude.

Try Blue-jay on one corn. Buy it tonight from your druggist. Live the rest of your life without corns.

THE THINGS THAT COUNT.

The contention that has often been advanced by the Examiner that the city which endeavoured to improve the living conditions of its inhabitants and to provide healthful facilites for healthful recreation and amusement, which sought to make of itself a better place in which to live, would never have to worry about looking for new industries is borne out by Mr. J. H. Vernor, Superintendent of the Western Clock Company, an interview with whom appears elsewhere in to-day's issue. Concessions, such as fixed assessment and free building sites he declares are more or less of a boomerang. The things that really count in his opinion are a pure water supply, effective sanitary arrangements, good street car service, health-giving conditions. Mr. Vernor is quite right. If a community is sound in these things it will not be necessary to offer bonuses to manufacturers; they will be delighted to locate in a city where they know that their employees will be contented and happy. Short-sighted materialists often profess to laugh at the idea of the city beautiful as an utopian dream, but the manufacturer who really knows his business realizes that there are more important things than fixed assessments and bonuses, and that in a city where attention is paid to the conditions under which the inhabitants live, there is a spendid chance for that permanency in staff that is essential to an effective plant

DRURY AND THE RADIALS.

Eastern Ontario, which will help foot the bill and derive none of the benefits, will bless rather than condemn Premier Drury for making haste slowly in the matter of the radials. The building and the operation of these radials would mean the expenditure of a vast amount of public money, and if there is any doubt as to the wisdom of such expenditure—and there undoubtedly is—the investigation which the Premier proposes to conduct will be a move in the right direction.

To say, because the Premier seeks such investigation, that he is opposed to the radials as such, or to public ownership, or that the C.P.R. interests are backing him up in an endeavour to kill off the radial scheme is just so much nonsense, and should be treated as such. The Premier merely wants to know the facts. If, when these facts are disclosed, they warrant going ahead with the radial programme then undoubtedly that programme will be proceeded with. If, on the other hand, they do not warrant it, the investigation will have justified itself and the Premier's wisdom will be doubly proven.

If such a course as Premier Drury now proposes to take had been taken by the Dominion Government in respect of the Grand Trunk Pacific, what a world of trouble and expense the country would have been saved! But instead of investigation the then Government blundered ahead — and railroad bankruptcy followed. Premier Drury does well, therefore, to make haste slowly now.

If the radials are needed and will be profitable, by all means let them be built. But let us first make sure of our grounds.—Kingston Standard.

THE CUP RACE.

There is more to the race of the America's cup than a mere international clash between British and United States' yachts for the possession of the blue ribbon of the ocean. It is dominated by the splendid personality of Sir Thomas Lipton, owner of the British challenger, the Shamrock IV, whose sterling sportsmanship, gallant determination in the face of a series of previous defeats and cheerful acceptance of reverses, have made him a popular figure throughout the English speaking world. It is not surprising to find that he was lothe to accept the victory that an accident to the defender gave him in the first race. That is not the kind of a win Sir Thomas desires and the world knows that his regret at the unexpected development in Thursday's race is genuine.

The sportsmanship that has been displayed by the owner of the Shamrock IV and of the previous Shamrocks may, without exaggeration, be said to have done more to cement good feeling and mutual understanding among the English speaking nations than the best efforts of all the diplomats and ambassadors that have been on duty during the past twenty years. Sir Thomas Lipton, with his persistent attempts to carry off the America's Cup has more than offset all the damage that Hearst and his journals have been able to effect in the relationship between Great Britain and America. And so it is that thousands of Americans would be delighted to see him victorious on this occasion, while the world over people of the English tongue admire his sportsmanship and fairness.

PLENTY OF CANDIDATES.

The prediction made in these columns a few days ago that a by-election in West Peterborough would produce at least three, and possibly four, candidates seems to be in a fair way to materialise. The Government cannot afford to let the issue go by default, and will endeavour to place a standard-bearer in the field. There will be a Liberal candidate; that will be taken for granted. Mr. Burnham is likely to appear in the field in the role of an Independent. There's three already, and Labour leaders declare that the Independent Labour Party will be a sure starter in the Federal stakes. And now a fifth candidate looms in sight to further complicate the situation. The Great War Veterans' Association propose to hold a special meeting next week at which a nominee will be selected to contest the riding. He is not to be merely a Veterans' candidate, according to the G.W.V.A. ideas, but is to be a "people's candidate" as well. The Veterans have no love for the present Government. They feel that mistakes have been made in handling problems in connection with the re-establishment of Canada's Army and that full justice has not been done to the men who fought. But more bitterly do they resent the increase of sessional indemnities to the members of Parliament after the Veterans' request for further cash gratuities had been rejected on the ground that the financial condition of the country did not justify an increase to the soldiers.

A by-election under such conditions will produce a memorable contest.

THE COST OF GOVERNMENT.

The Citizens' Research Institute of Ottawa has been issuing some very interesting bulletins showing the cost of government in the various provinces and in some of the principal cities of the Dominion. The figures published for the year 1917 by the Institute are illuminating ,throwing new light upon the efficiency—or the lack of efficiency—of the various governing bodies. Particularly interesting are the comparisons between the revenues and expenditures of the different provinces. Ontario for instance ranks low both in per capita revenue and in per capita expenditure, only in one particular, that of per capita revenue from succession duties, did this province lead in 1917. Prince Edward Island received the largest per capita revenue from the Dominion government, Saskatchewan from fees, fines and licenses, Manitoba from the taxation of corporations and companies and British Columbia from lands, forests and mines. In this latter department of revenue the Pacific coast province received $4.63 per capita, while Nova Scotia, the second highest, collected only $1.48 per capita. Ontario was third with $1.30 and the recent timber inquiry has furnished some excellent reasons for this lowly showing.

In expenditures the wqestern provinces led the old provinces in the appropriations for civil government, legislation and administration of justice. British Columbia spent $4.06 per head of population on public works and also spent more per capita on education and for hospitals, public institutions and public health. Incidentally the figures show that Vancouver, B.C., expended $1.38 per capita on providing recreation facilities for her citizens, the largest expenditure for the purpose recorded in any city in the Dominion.

The Institute in compiling these interesting bulletins has found great difficulty in making accurate comparisons owing to the absence of standardization in the financial reports. In this connection it is pointed out that the preparation of the various Provincial bulletins has demonstrated clearly the necessity for:

Standardization of Provincial and Municipal accounting methods, and

A revision of the methods at present employed by some Provinces and many cities in their reporting of financial facts, in order that the average citizen may have a clearer understanding of the financial operations of his governing bodies.

Some Provinces and Cities have already made commendable progress in modernizing their accounting and reporting procedure, but others are still following methods which are absolescent or distinctly obsolete.

TO RE-ESTABLISH THE BEAVER ON STREAMS

HAS LONG SINCE DISAPPEARED FROM WHITE MOUNTAINS COUNTRY.

(Canadian Press.)

CONCORD, H.H., July 17.—An effort to re-establish the beaver on the streams and meadows of the White Mountains country from which it long since disappeared is being made by the Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests.

The Lost River Reservation is again the haunt of the dam-building animals, four beavers having been liberated there as the first step in an effort to return the amphibian architect to its former usefulness. Within the steep walls of the Kinsman Notch, through which tumbles Beaver Brook, a misnomer in recent years, the beaver will have its favourite topography in which to propagate and work under the foothills of Moosilauke Mountain.

The animals set free were the gift of the state forester of Minnesota, who selected them from a breeding colony at a state park situated at the headwarters of the Mississippi. The beaver are descendants of a family introduced to Minnesota from Canada, which have multiplied and prospered there, and are now contributing to the re-establishment of the species in another state.

VIRTUOUS WIVES

By OWEN JOHNSON

CHAPTER XIII.

When flushed with a gallop in the glow of the morning, the three came riotously back. Andrew, who had been traveling half the night to reach her, was waiting up-stairs. Amy threw herself in his arms, laughing like a child.

"Oh, Andrew, such a good time! Wait until you hear!"

She told him all breathlessly, that is, almost all. She made no reference to the one disagreeable memory of the night. Barrisdale's heavy overtures. She had handled such boors before, even as a debutante, and there was no use in telling him things which would annoy him. Then Monte Bracken's presence was not her secret. At the end, his face was radiant.

"Beat them to a finish, Yum Yum! Go it, and mind you sweep the decks every time!"

"Andrew, what a darling you are!"

"And now for business. I've agreed to take up Gunther's proposition."

He began a long detailed exposition of the possibilities of the new venture. From his face she could see the gravity of the step to him. So she tried hard to comprehend the details he minutely explained her. But she was too mentally excited and too physically tired. She understood nothing at all, only that, some day soon, they would have lots of money if certain things worked out. When he had finished, she embraced him rapturously.

"Isn't it wonderful?" she cried, still perplexed. "But, Andrew, you mustn't work too hard—promise."

"I promise," he said grimly, his mind filled with dreams of the gilded future in which all his hopes would come true.

She went into her bath quite satisfied by this assurance.

Three weeks later in the vast span of the Grand Central Station, quite a party gathered to see Andrew Forrester off to Mexico. It was still ten minutes before the train's departure. Mrs. Lightbody and Mrs. Dellabarre, with Dawson, Laracy, and young Pardee, hung back discreetly, while Amy, tiny and fragile against the broad shoulders of her husband, walked with him down the platform.

Filkins, the private secretary, who was to accompany him, came up briskly.

"Everyhing in place?"

"Everything, Mr. Forrester."

"Get all the evening papers—and some magazines."

"Yes, sir."

A late arrival came running down the platform; Filkins flitted away.

"I can't bear to let you go alone," said Amy, clinging to his arm. "I don't think it's right, Andrew—I don't."

There was a break in her voice, and her eyes grew misty. She had come down gaily, after a merry luncheon, and now, all at once, before the grim mystery of life's parting, this grinning mask that confronted her, she felt a sinking in her heart, a terror of unknown things.

"Why, little girl, it's only a jump there and back this time. Only a week or two," he said, patting her arm. He looked at her, detecting the gathering tears. "Here, here; it's not so bad as all that."

"Oh, but it's the first time!" she said incoherently, swaying against his shoulder. "Andrew, Andrew, we oughtn't to be separated. I feel it. I know it. My duty's with you."

"Well, perhaps next time."

She looked up into his face, fear and helplessness in her eyes.

"What is it, little girl?"

"Then you think I ought to have gone with you? Andrew, Andrew, tell me the truth."

"Of course I don't," he said stoutly.

"I will—I'll jump on the car now—just as I am," she said, under the hypnotic terror of all this flurry of coming and going, this sense of looming unexplored horizons of life ahead—and behind.

He drew his arm tighter about her them, to seek her lips.

"Of course it's only a couple of weeks, isn't it?" she said heavily, at the end of the long embrace that shut out the shrieking confusion about them.

"Perhaps not that," he said, lying to comfort her, for her grief affected him, too. "I say—do you think you'd better wait, Amy dear? It's sort of bad luck, seeing the train off."

"No, no; I can't leave—not now—please don't ask that of me."

"All right, then. Better now?" He drew her back to the group of friends who pressed up for th last farewells. "Good-by, every one—good-by, Mrs. Lightbody—good-by, boys—good-by, Mrs. Dellabarre—mighty good of you to see me off. I say, cheer up my little girl, will you? Don't let her get too lonely." He caught up Amy, lifting her almost off her feet, laughing. "Back in a fortnight, perhaps—"

And the train was already in motion as he caught the step.

She stood with her handkerchief waving feebly in the air as the train wound out in snaky flight, dwindled, and was gone.

"Partings are awful. I can't bear them," she said, gulping down a sob.

"I know. I feel the same way every summer. It's quite natural, dear," said Mrs. Dellabarre, who had waited by her. She had never had such an emotion when leaving Rudolph, and yet, she was rather affected by her friend's distress. She linked her arm under Amy's, murmuring sympathetically, "What a child it is!"

In order that Mrs. Forrester should not languish in teary solitude, they danced in the newest dance hall, dined, and arrived for the second act of a musical comedy. At two o'clock, as Amy declared, if she went home, she wouldn't sleep a wink, they decided to make a night of it. Tody Dawson was devotion itself, so kind and so solicitous that Amy, in her gratitude, gave him a compensating smile—he really was the dearest boy.

In a week, her days were crowded with engagements, her nights brilliant with sensations that were still young to her. To be out, to be seen, to be envied, sought after, adopted, and raised to the kiddy pinnacle of a new favorite seemed to her the height of a woman's destiny. In a month, she belonged to society—to men in the aggregate, to the mass and the public eye, avid of the latest novelty.

"Andrew will be so proud of me," she thought loyally, in her moments of triumph, as though in serving his vanity, she were performing her whole duty of a wife.

PART II.

CHAPTER I.

Eighteen months later, on a brilliant morning in April, when in the sky the gray winter fled before the triumphant rush of spring, Mr. Tody Dawson, after a late night, awoke to the consciousness that a disagreeable morning was ahead. A college degree from one of our modern gymnasiums had brought him the classic privilege of a university club where the necessary luxuries of life are obtainable to the impecunious crowd. Pigeonholed in a compartment twelve by ten on the eleventh shelf of this human filing machine, he enjoyed not only the services of a valet, a squash court, a restaurant, a library, and the flattening opportunities of the card rooms but, by resorting to the free-lunch counter on the rare occasions when he failed to be fed socially, he was able to support a racing car and frequent the most exclusive tailors and haberdashers. Ordinarily of smiling humor and serene self-complacency, he rose this morning angry at the complex scheme of things in general and at Mr. Tody Dawson in particular.

"What got into me, anyway?" he said, staring at the reflection of his elongated and bony figure clad in lavender pajamas. "Good Lord, I should have known better. It was that tricky music, or perhaps the punch. I don't know which. Well, I'm in for it—that's sure."

A shower did not relieve either his ill-humor or the ache in his head. Everything went wrong. He had forgotten to put out his boots, the new spring suit he had intended to wear had not been returned from the tailor, though they had sworn an oath on it. To cap which, despite twenty-five years of subjugation, his hair had developed sudden rebellions which defied the brush.

He was in this state of irritation and misery when Jap Laracy burst in, fresh as a schoolgirl, a flower in his buttonhole, ready for breakfast and the day. At Dawson's dishevelled appearance he stopped short and emitted a whistle of surprise.

"Hello, there! A little Katzenjammer?" he said, amused, as a best friend has the right to be at the evidence of the morning's headache. "It's a lovely day."

"Is it?" said Dawson, with a groan. "How late did you — — last night pirate's game?"

"Too late."

"Cleaned out?"

"How do I know?" said Dawson, sitting down and taking his head in his hands.

Laracy, overjoyed at this answer, immediately searched among the furniture until, having retrieved the scattered elements of last night's cloths, he could assemble the contents of the pockets.

"Here, I say—three cheers! You're stuffed with bills, my boy. Lucky at cards, unlucky at love."

"Oh, shut up, Jap!" said Dawson glumly. "Can't you see I'm feeling rotten?" He hesitated. "Make my excuses at the office. I can't get down this morning."

"Something wrong, old boy?" said Laracy, his round, untragic face assuming a look of sympathy which made it more comical than ever.

"I've made a mess of things, and I've got to straighten them out."

"Amy?" said Laracy, who was confidant to the little ills of his heart.

"I can't tell you," said Dawson, who suddenly concentrated all his anger on a cuff button which refused to be subdued, cursing it in a way to have won the admiration of a hardened stage manager.

Laracy installed himself on the back of an armchair, drawing up his legs, and looked solemn.

"Tody Dawson, for the two hundred and twoty-twoth time—cut it out! There's nothing in it, my boy. Are you going to fool away all your chances? Don't you know the game you're playing?"

"Oh, it's all right for you to talk, you unsentimental jellyfish," said Dawson, shaking off a collar which refused to button.

NEW PAPER FOR TRENTON.

Trenton now has three weekly newspapers. The latest addition to the journalistic field is the Quinte Sun, and it is published by Jarrett & Son.

The editor is Thomas Jarrett, a journalist of several years' experience. In the opinion of most weekly newspaper men the proprietors of the new paper will deserve more credit for their courage than for their good judgment. When cities like Peterborough, Brockville, St. Catharines, Woodstock and Brantford have only one paper, and the weekly papers in scores of live towns have amalgamated, while numerous others have dropped out of existence, it would look like a tempting of fate to start a third paper in a town like Trenton. In fact Trenton has had the reputation of being one of the poorest newspaper towns of its size in Ontario as far as the financial returns to the papers is concerned. The result of the new venture will be watched with considerable interest.—Marmora Herald.

Use the whole tomatoes from a can of them and cut in half. Broil over a quick fire and pour over the following sauce. Melt two tablespoons of butter add a tablespoon of vinegar, half a teaspoon of dry mustard, one hard boiled egg, chopped very fine and one beaten egg. Boil thick and pour over hot.

PLENTIFUL AMBER SUPPLY ON SHORES OF CEDAR LAKE

(Canadian Press.)

THE PAS, Man., July 16.—With a gunny sack full of pure amber, Jack Murray, former Editor of The Canadian Mining Journal, has returned from Cedar Lake, 80 miles southwest of here, where he reports a plentiful supply of amber is scattered about the sand and the muck on the borders of the lake. He states that a canoe could be filled with it in less than an hour. The presence of amber at that place, has been known for several years, but until Murray examined it, for New York and Toronto interests, its value was unknown. Col. J. B. Miller of the Parry Sound Lumber Co. and Major Craig of Toronto, left heer for the amber fields to-day.

SUGAR FROM FORMOSA AND JAVA.

Nearly 60,000 Tons for Americans.

TOKIO, July 16.—Owing to the scarcity of sugar in America, large quantities of Formosan and Java crop are being exported to the United States by the Japanese refining concerns.

During March and April about 40,000 tons of Java sugar were sold to foreign merchants, and a further supply of nearly 60,000 tons of Formosan and Java sugar have been contracted for by the American merchants. The goods are to be delivered at New York, Seattle, San Francisco, and other ports.

No man could resist this Chocolate Cake

It's made The EASIFIRST way

You'll be surprised with the economy of EASIFIRST—you'll be delighted with the better results. Its purity is the result of our own exclusive process. Moreover EASIFIRST is prepared under the rigid supervision of Government inspection.

This is the Recipe

1 cup granulated sugar — ½ cup milk
½ cup EASIFIRST — 2 teaspoons baking pds.
2 eggs — 1 teaspoon salt
2 cups flour — ½ teaspoon vanilla

Cream EASIFIRST and sugar, then eggs well beaten. Add milk alternately with flour mixed and sifted with the salt and baking powder. Turn into two floured layer cake tins and bake in moderately hot oven 30 minutes.

FOR THE ICING:
½ teaspoon EASIFIRST — ½ cup hot milk
1½ cups icing sugar — 1 square unsweetened chocolate
¼ teaspoon salt

Heat milk, chocolate and EASIFIRST until chocolate is dissolved. Add sugar until thick enough to spread on cake. Use this also for filling.

Your grocer will be glad to supply you with EASIFIRST. Sold in cartons and tins. Would you like a copy of Gunns Proved Recipe booklet?

PETERBORO INDUSTRY MORE INTERESTED IN WELFARE OF EMPLOYEES THAN MATTER OF GETTING CONCESSIONS FROM THE CITY

THE WESTERN CLOCK COMPANY HAS MADE MANY IMPROVEMENTS TO THE PRESENT FACTORY ON GEORGE STREET PLANNING FOR FUTURE EXPANSION.

"We are much less interested in such things as fixed assessments, free building sites, etc., than we are in finding a city which looks out first for the health and comfort of employees, which provides an adequate supply of pure drinking water, whose sanitary arrangements are of a high order, and where health dangers are reduced to the minimum. The service which the street railways give to employees, the price of coal and gas, and such matters which affect the economic life of industry are of much more moment to us than concessions which we regard as more or less of a boomerang."

The speaker was J. H. Vernor, Superintendent of the Western Clock Company.

Only Temporary.

Mr. Vernor, when interviewed by the Examiner, said further that it was too early in the company's history for them to say whether or not they would remain in Peterborough. This would depend upon the conditions outlined above. Their present quarters ,which was formerly the Canadian Chicle Company's plant, are only temporary. When a definite decision as to a permanent location is arrived at a much larger plant, where there will be room for more expansion, will be erected. Should the company remain here, it hopes to be an addition to the manufacturing district and a credit to the city.

Interested in Betterment of Working Conditions.

The company is devoting special attention to the betterment of working conditions for its employees, and its attention to detail in this respect is noteworthy. The old Chicle factory has been completely renovated and the most modern equipment installed. Each machine is equipped with a steel chair, with a wooden seat and comfortable back and cloth pads are placed on the chair backs to prevent the girls' waists from being spoiled. A special type of awning made by J. J. Turner and Sons, with special fixtures, covers all the windows and is so constructed that the awning may be placed at any desired height or angle and will not hinder ventilation.

Light and Airy.

The assembling room is light and airy and the whole building is kept in clean and sanitary condition. Considerable expense has been entailed in installed large electric fans throughout the fatcory. It is intended to have a tennis court on the lawn. The company's aim is to make working conditions as nearly ideal as possible.

Clock Manufacture.

At present the plant is employing about 40 men and girls and is assembling about 300 clocks per day. The manufacture of clocks cannot be developed in a hurry if quality is to be maintained, as new hands must be trained for the work here. As a result only an assembling room, a tool room, and foot press department are in operation.

Safety Devices.

A feature of the foot press department is the special safety device attached to each press, which makes it necessary for the operator to grip a lever with each hand in order to operate the press, thus eliminating the danger of the operator's hand being crushed beneath the press as it descends. The representative of the Ontario Workmen's Compensation Board commented upon this device, which is the company's own invention, on his visit here, and he intends to have photographs of it distributed to manufacturers.

Accurate Testing.

The manufacture of a clock movement is divided into so many different operations that a new operator needs only to be taught a small part of the whole. Then it is only a matter of practice in getting the work done rapidly. The product is carefully inspected and even the bells are tested to see that they have a sharp tone. Those which do not come up to standard are thrown out. Every clock is run on the regulating racks for three days, during which time it must not vary more than two minutes per day. The watches, of which several thousand are cased every month, are run in three positions before they are passed for shipment. One testing rack is so arranged that by the pressing of a lever 450 movements can be started at once. As an example of the delicacy of the instruments some of the little machines have to be kept in warm oven at night to prevent inaccuracy.

Export May be Handled From Canada.

It is possible that the company may handle a good deal of its export business from Canada, as Imperial preference makes this advantageous.

At Headquarters.

At La Salle, Illinois, the headquarters, the company has a completely equipped export department, and representatives have recently covered South and Central America, Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand, the Philippines, England, China, Japan, South Africa, India, Straits Settlements, and other countries. It has been their business to study the markets and to effect a distribution there. Advertising campaigns are being conducted in several countries and recently clocks with Korean numerals on the dials were manufactured.

Westclox Organized in 1886.

The original Westclox industry was organized in Peru, Illinois, about 1886, with only an idea to work on. Using a proces sof manufacture which met with open hostility from the trade ,and not having machines to develop that process, it was only by virtue of hard work and unshaken courage that within 10 years success was in sight.

To-day the plant at Peru covers more than 8 acres of floor space, and additions within the last few years haev cost well over $1,000,000. The output of this factory is over 4,500,000 pounds per year. It takes more than 2,000,000 pounds of brass and 800 tons of steel to maintain this output. A strip of mainspring from Vancouver to New York would be used up in a year.

Canadian Company.

The Canadian Western Clock Company is a separate institution from the American company. At present it has to lean somewhat upon the parent company, but once the stages of infancy are outgrown, a permanent location secured, and new operators trained, this will be done away with.

No "Roughnecks" Wanted.

In the matter of labour, Mr. Vernor stated that the company wishes to secure men and girls anxious to learn the business thoroughly, and desired no "roughnecks."

Improvement to Grounds.

The grounds about the plant have been greatly improved. The lot to the south of the building, which was bought from the city, has been cleaned up and converted into a lawn, and the ashes and rubbish which filled the lot have been used in building an approach to the new shipping platform.

Girlish, Wrinkle-Free Skin Easy to Have

Since its remarkable astringent and tonic properties became known, clever women all over the world have been using the saxolite face bath to "tone up" their faces, remove wrinkles and draw flabby cheeks and neck back to normal. After using the solution, the face immediately feels much firmer. The skin tightens evenly all over the face, thus reducing lines and sagginess. The formula is: Powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint.

This simple and harmless face bath is a splendid thing for the outdoor girl, since sun, wind and flying dust are so provocative of squinting and other contortions which cause wrinkles and crow's-feet. Also it is fine to freshen up a tired face in hot, depressing weather.

OTTAWA, July 16.—Very promising is the verdict of Dr. John Amyot, Dominion Deputy Minister of Health, after seeing for himself the work of Dr. T. J. Glover, Toronto, in experimenting for a cure for cancer.

Dr. Amyot returned this morning from Toronto. He was guarded in his statements about Dr. Glover's work, believing that publicity at this time would not be beneficial.

Council, in View of Costs, Shelves Housing By-law.

BELLEVILLE, July 17.—The City Council discussed the question of housing when a by-law came up to have $225,000 of the city's bonds guaranteed for that purpose, and finally decided that the time was not opportune in view of the high cost of building. It was thought that private enterprise would saisfy the immediate needs of the city, and the by-law was accordingly deferred.

STILL ANOTHER AMERICAN PARTY

SENATOR LA FOLLIETTE IS LEADER —WARM TIME AT CHICAGO THURSDAY.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Still another new national political party seems in the making here.

What it will be christened is undetermined, but it was considered likely that Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, might be nominated regardless of what the Senator might have to say, with either Allen McCurdy, of New York, or Lester P. Barlow, of Minneapolis, the candidate for Vice-President.

This is the outcome of an actual bolt by leaders of the original "Committee of Forty-eight" movement which has declined to ratify the launching yesterday of the "Farmer-Labor party" platform and the naming of its standard-bearers, Parley P. Christensen, of Utah, and Max S. Hayes, of Cleveland.

All signs at this hour lead to the belief that five tickets will be placed in the field this year, with five sets of candidates in the race for the White House goal, including the Socialist party, with Eugene V. Debs as the nominee.

Was a Near Riot.

The Morrison hotel lobby, auditorium and parlors became so entangled in the maze of political complications Thursday night that it looked for a time as if the management would have to appeal for police reserves to extricate possession of the hostelry from the grasp of various factions.

The groups, including Labor leaders, Non-Partisan Leaguers, World War Veterans, Single Taxers, American Constitutionalists, etc., finally listened to reason and permitted the hotel management to proceed with the operations of the hotel.

The political fireworks opened up late in the afternoon with the "Forty-eighters," under the chairmanship of J. A. H. Hopkins, their original national chairman prior to the supposed merging of the movement into the new Farmer-Labor party, and with George L. Record, Amos Pinchot, Allen McCurdy and practically all the "Forty-eight" chieftains on the job with the exception of two. They are Parley P. Christensen, nominee of the party launched yesterday, and Mrs. Marie Tudor Garland, of Buzzard's Bay, Mass. She was vice-chairman of the "Committee of Forty-eight" convention, and was elected to a similar office when the Farmer-Labor party was formed. They have declined to participate in re-organization of the "Forty-eighters" in the bolt.

Resolutions were adopted by the bolting "Forty-eighters," and they appeared to be fairly strong numerically despite losses to the Farmer-Labor party, in which there was neither ratification nor repudiation of the Christensen-Hays platform.

But it was a bolt, generally admitted and accepted all around as such.

NOSKE WILL PUBLISH STORY OF REVOLUTION

(Associated Press)

BERLIN, July 17.—Gustave Noske formerly German Minister of Defense who was a powerful factor in putting down the Kapp revolution, has been jettisoned by the Majority Socialists His name was not included in the lists of candidates proposed by that party for the new Reichstag in the election recently held.

Yielding to the pronounced opposition of the party's left wing, its governing body, which Philip Scheidemann now dominates, decided to keep the former minister out of the campaign, fearing that he might prove excess baggage to the party's already heavily overburdened craft. While Noske keenly feels the slight he is said to have become resigned to the fact that his party comrades have been forced to sacrifice a former strong man in order to vitiate the effects of the crusade against him conducted by the Independent Socialists.

Noske is shortly to publish his revolutionary reminiscenses under the title "From Kiel to Kapp." In the early days of November, 1918, Prince Max's government hurriedly dispatched Noske to Kiel for the purpose of checking the naval insurrection which preceded the Berlin revolution.

Noske's strong hand succeeded in curtailing the outbreak there but it had spread to all sections of the empire. Between that episode and the Kapp coup Noske was given numberless revolutionary thrills which he now promises to put into print.

Little Clarence who accompanied his mother to church, was given a nickel to drop into the collection plate. After doing so he remarked in an audible whisper:

WILL LIMIT EXPORT OF CANADIAN COAL

OTTAWA, July 17.— It is understood that as a first step towards conservation of the fuel supply in view of an almost certain shortage next winter the Railway Board will in the near future issue an order to prohibit the export of Canadian coal excepting to the United States and Newfoundland. It is also understood that the order will prohibit the bunkering of ocean going vessels at Montreal with American coal. This practice it is stated, has resulted in the serious depletion of stocks of American coal brought to Canada. After the issuance of the order it will be necessary for vessels to bunker with coal which is the product of Canadian mines.

At a conference of the members of the Railway Board the coal situation was given preliminary consideration and it is anticiptaed that measures other than those outlined above will be taken to conserve the fuel supply.

ACCOUNTS FOR THE MOTOR SHOW

RED CROSS SOCIETY HELD MEETING LAST EVENING.

The Red Cross Society held a meeting last evening and passed the following accounts for the Motor Show:

To the Chairman and Executive Committee of the Peterborough Motor Show:

I beg to submit herewith my report as treasurer of the Peterborough Motor Show for 1920.

The surplus this year is $2,115.79, as compared with a surplus for 1918 of $1,214.09 and surplus for 1919 of $1,525.69.

The receipts for the show for 1920 were $3,086.62, as against receipts in 1918 of $1,801.95, and in 1919 of $2,106.14. The expenses for 1920 were $970.83, as compared with 1918, $597.36, and 1919, $780.45. This year, the lumber was purchased and cut in such a way that it can be used for future shows. The purchase price of this lumber is included in the expense account.

It is satisfactory to notice that an increase in the receipts is recorded for each year, and while the expenses have also increased, the spread has been sufficient to show a substantial increase in the surplus.

Respectfully submitted,
E. J. H. VANSTON,
Treasurer.

WOULD DECLARE JOHN DOUGHTY ABSENTEE

WIFE WANTS ESTATE ADMINISTERED BUT SISTERS ARE OPPOSED.

TORONTO, July 17.—Three sisters of John Doughty, who is "wanted" by the police on a charge of kidnapping Ambrose J. Small, the missing millionaire theatrical magnate, and for the alleged theft of $100,000 in Victory Bonds, have opposed the application on behalf of Mrs. Doughty to have her husband declared an absentee, and a trustee appointed to administer his estate. After hearing parties Mr. Justice Lennox suggested that it was a matter which could well be left over until after the vacation and the application was adjourned sine die, but may be brought before the court again on short notice. G. T. Walsh, for Mrs. Doughty, submitted an affidavit by Detective Austin Mitchel which stated that world-wide advertisements had failed to produce a trace of Doughty, who, in the opinion of the detective was an absentee under the recent act.

For the other side it was alleged that Doughty did not disappear, that he resigned his position as secretary to Mr. Small and left for Montreal to take up a new position. It was alleged further that Mrs. Doughty had separated from her husband long before he left Toronto, and that during the period of separation he never made his wife any allowance.

Mrs. Doughty in her statement claimed that her husband disappeared on Dec. 29, 1919, and that she did not know whether he was alive or dead. He owned two houses on River Street and properties at 2 and 3 Norval Avenue. She married him on June 11, 1917, and the child born in April, 1918, died a few days later. Mrs. Doughty had been previously married. The deceased wife left two children, now aged 8 and 10 respectively.

DEEP WATERWAYS BOOSTERS AT KINGSTON JULY 25TH.

Arrangements are being made by the members of the Kingston Board of Trade to entertain the members of the Detroit Board of Commerce and the delegates who are to tour the east in the interests of the deep waterways scheme for the St. Lawrence the week after next.

The delegation is expected to arrive at Kingston by boat on July 25th, and on the following day they will be taken for a tour of the 1000 Islands in the setamer St. Lawrence. They will visit both sides of the river and will be given an opportunity to see the important points connected with the enlargement of the St. Lawrence waterways.

FORTUNE AWAITS N.B. WAR VETERAN

STRANGE WAR ROMANCE OF YOUNG CANADIAN SOLDIER.

ST. JOHN N. B., July 17.—A fortune of $300,000 awaits Leveritt MacKenzie, a young Canadian war veteran, who is working in obscurity somewhere in Boston or vicinity. When last heard of young MacKenzie was on his way from St. John to Boston, in May, 1919. Since then friends have learned that he has fallen heir to the estate of Captain D. B. Wilbur, of Hastings, England, under the extraordinary conditions of the latter's will.

Since the facts were first received from across the sea, every known effort has been made to locate young Mackenzie. The story has been featured in every Boston paper with the hope that it would come to his notice. Major-General Edwards, commander of the Yankee division, was interested in it, with the result that the offices of the Department of the East lent their efforts to the search. The American Legion, with their large Boston membership following a week's search, co-operated with the Boston police department in a systematic dragnet, which is now being spread over Boston and the suburbs. Every member of the Legion, with the patrol men of thirty districts, all of whom are world war veterans, are doing their best to locate MacKenzie.

Strange War Romance.

The story, which is one of the strangest of war romances, came to the St. John Standard from C. C. Tinn, of Heaton, Newcastle-on-Tyne, England.

MacKenzie went to England in the early days of the war as a corporal in the Mounted Rifles of Eastern Canada. While there he met Miss Helen Willbur, with whom he fell in love. After his departure for the battlefields of France the two young people kept up their correspondence, and when, later, he was sent back to "Blighty" badly wounded, she visited him at Operton Hospital. There she promised to marry him if he recovered from his wounds.

She, herself, however, died in December of that year from illness, superinduced, it is said, by the strain of her war relief activities. It was not long afterwards that the father, the only remaining member of the family, Captain Willbur, was fatally wounded in action.

Corporal Mackenzie, meanwhile, was invalided back to Canada. When Captain Willbur's will was placed in probate, it was learned that MacKenzie has been bequeahed the sum of 60,000 pounds and a residence at Hastings, as the sweetheart of the captain's only child.

MacKenzie's relatives reside in New Brunswick.

USED INNOCENT BOYS TO HELP HIM STEAL.

TORONTO, July 16.—For making thieves out of unsuspecting messenger boys, William Heintzman was sentenced in the Police Court yesterday to two years less one day in the Ontario Reformatory.

The modus operandi of Heintzman, who is twenty years of age, and saw service overseas, was to locate a grip reposing in an unattended auto, then select a passing boy to remove the grip to the Union Station to be checked to some other place, where Heintzman took possession. The lads never doubted his story of ownership of the grip, and anxious to earn a quarter, fell rdeily into the trap.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very small cost.

You grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

STRUCK SILENT POLICE.

Norwood's silent policeman had quite a "slant" on the other morning which bore strong evidence of its being in fast company the night before. It is rumored that a Peterboro autoist with a "slant" on of another variety was unable to make the corner and ran foul of the silent policeman. The car axle, we understand, suffered enough damage from the collision to require the services of a local garage mechanic.—Norwood Register.

BRITAIN BALANCES BUDGET AND HAS LARGE SURPLUS IN HAND

NO OCCASION FOR APPREHENSION CONCERNING OLD COUNTRY'S FINANCIAL POSITION.

GOOD NEWS FOR CANADA

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, July 17.—There is no occasion for apprehension regarding the financial position of Great Britain. This is the message brought to the United States by F. R. Shortis, who was recently appointed a vice-president of the Guaarntee Trust Company of New York, and has just arrived here from London. A statement issued by Mr. Shortis clearly defines the present economic situation of the Old Country and indicates that Britain is not only balancing her budget in a satisfactory manner, but also has a surplus in hand sufficient to redeem her outstanding debt within a reasonable time.

Welcomed by Canadians.

Mr. Shortis' statement is welcomed by Canadian and other British interests here as it is believed it will help to counteract the effect of propaganda which has been published in the United States by certain newspapers seeking to convey the impression that Great Britain is in desperate financial straits.

Mr. Shortis for many years was in charge of the foreign business of Kleinwort Sons and Company, merchants bankers of London, and subsequently became manager of the firm. He resigned that position last year to become financial adviser to the Inter-Allied Rhineland Commission, from which post he recently obtained a release. In discussing the financial condition of Great Britain he said:

No Discrimination.

"I think there is an impression in less well informed quarters of the United States that it is necessary to discriminate in regard to the respective economic positions of the Allies. It is probably felt in some directions that the war has left them all in such a state of financial paralysis, from which it will take them long years to recover, that the question of degree is immaterial. While this feeling may accurately represent the situation in regard to certain countries, it is certainly not correct in regard to Great Britain. It is true that she has spent in connection with the war from the first of August, 1914, to the first of May, 1920, the vast sum of 11,000,000,000 pound sterling ($49,500,000,000 Canadian exchange), but it should be remembered as a point of extreme importance, that of this stupendous amount, more than 4,000,000,000 pounds sterling (18,000,000,000), that is to say, more than one-third of the total, has been raised during the war by revenue, leaving a balance outstanding of approximately 7,000,000,000 ($31,500,000,000). The latter figure includes advances to the Allies, as well as to the British Dominions, of approximately 1,850,000,000 pounds sterling ($8,325,000,000.) It is difficult to state what amount of the latter sum will eventually be recovered, but by assessing it for the purpose at 1,000,000,000 pounds sterling ($4,500,000,000), there would remain an amount outstanding in connection with the war of 6,000,000,000 pounds sterling ($27,000,00,000), or only one and a half the amount that has already been raised in revenue during the last four years.

"Considering the extent of her expenditure on the war, the financial position of Great Britain is decidedly favorable. It is gratifying to know that she is not only balancing her budget in a satisfactory manner, but has moreover, a considerable surplus in hand which should provide a sinking fund sufficient to redeeem the entire outstanding debt within a reasonable time.

Trade Excellent.

"Trade throughout Great Britain has, until quite recently, been excellent, and statistics demonstrate the healthy condition of her export trade.

"The big joint stock banks with a view to bringing about some deflation in credit has been exercising discrimination regarding loans and have declined all applications based upon stock exchange securities, or commodities of a non-essential description. They are, unfortunately, compelled to carry a large amount of the floating debt of the government in the form of treasury bills, on account of a disinclination of the investing public to purchase the treasury bonds which the government hoped to sell for the funding of this debt. The banks, therefore, are unfortunately not in a position to give the assistance to trade that they would otherwise have been willing to do, and moreover, dear money has had the effect of depreciating the very securities which the government desires to sell for the purpose of relieving the situation.

Industrial Flotations.

"The last nine months have witnessed an enormous number of industrial flotations in the London market. These have been quickly absorbed by the people who have acquired new wealth during the war. By reason of the large amount recently left on the hands of the underwriters in recent issues it would apear that the public appetite has, for the time being, been satisfied. It is possible that this apathy may pass away, but doubtless it is partly due to uncertainty concerning the government's action in regard to the war-wealth tax, which is still the chief concern of the business world. At one time it was thought that this tax had been abandoned, but that does not apear to be the case, although public opinion against it is continuously growing.

"Taking the situation in general, the position of Great Britain cannot be regarded as unfavorable, although the fact that sterling expressed in United States' currency shows a depreciation of more than 20 p.c. may be taken as an indication that the credit of Great Britain is severely impaired. But people who are well acquainted with the actual economic position, and the reasons for the present level of exchange, are, of course, aware of the cause. It is not that Great Britain is not prepared to pay its debts to the United States, for it possesses plenty of assets, but it does not, unfortunately, possess any tangible assets which can be removed from Great Britain to the United States. It is, therefore, necessary to wait until such time as she can export or render services in sufficient quantities to produce a trade balance in her favor.

Effects of War.

"The war has made the United States so great a creditor country to Europe that she must now give her debtors an opportunity to pay her by the only means possible to them. This can be achieved only by exporting goods and rendering services. For this purpose, it is not necessary for Europe to export to the United States alone, but she must export to all other countries, and in particular, countries that the United States purchases from. For instance, by means of European countries exporting to the East in excess of her imports from the East, and at the same time by an excess of American imports from the East over her exports in the same direction, the balance of indebtedness by Europe to the United States could eventually be liquidated.

Balance of Trade.

For the purpose of adjusting the trade balance, it does not matter whether Great Britain, Germany, France and Italy export in larger quantities one than the other, as the balance of trade of the latter countries all favor Great Britain, and these experts will relatively at the same time, not only adjust the trade balance between Great Britain and the United States, but they will bring about an adjustment between those countries and Great Britain."

JAPS WOULD MATE WITH AMERICAN GIRLS

BUT JAPANESE SPUD KING DECLARES AMERICAN WIVES EXPENSIVE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17. — George Shima, president of the Japanese Association of America, and so-called "potato king of California," told the House committee on immigration and natural objections here that he is in favor of inter-marriage between Japanese and Americans. The committee is investigating the Japanese situation in California.

"There may be objections now, but a hundred years from now we will look back upon it as all right," he said. "When potato seed in this state is no longer good, we cross it with Oregon seed, and the second year there is a fine crop of potatoes.

"To be sure, a good many Japanese don't make enough money to support Yankee girls. They are too expensive."

Shima said he had been a resident of California for 30 years, and on his only visit back to Japan he had been decorated by the emperor.

Replying to questions by Congressman Johnson of Washington, if he had been decorated because he was the leading Japanese businessman and farmer in this country, he said:

"Oh, no; I don't know myself. But Japanese papers hae said it was because my old school teacher, who was later the emperor's teacher, kept boosting me all the time."

Senator Phelan testified the California-Mexico Land and Cattle Company, Imperial County, California, was about to sell 800,000 acres of its holdings to Japanese interests a year ago, but the project was stopped "because some of the directors were more patriotic than others."

Senator Phelan said that in visits to Calexico and Tijuana he had found evidence that Japanese were being smuggled over the state border. He charged the Japanese consul at Los Angeles with conniving to smuggle Japanese in essels landing at the Los Angeles harbor.

John P. Irish of Oakland, a landowner, testified he would rather lease his land to Japanese than to white farmers, because the Japanese took better care of the land.

The committee will hold a hearing in Sacramento to-morrow.

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

Not Aspirin at All without the "Bayer Cross"

For Colds, Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, and for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuritis, take Aspirin marked with the name "Bayer" or you are not taking Aspirin at all.

Accept only "Bayer" Tablets of Aspirin" in an unbroken "Bayer" package which contains complete directions. Then you are getting real Aspirin—the genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years. Now made in Canada.

Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacids. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

HAMILTONS WON FROM LOCK WORKS

WILL NOW MEET THE C.G.E. ARMATURE WINDERS IN A BALL GAME.

In an exciting game of ball between Wm. Hamilton Co. and the Lock Works last evening at Nicholls Oval, the score was 15-5 in favor of Hamiltons.

Hopkins for Lock Works, made a good showing at short and also at bat, his two-base hit in the third innings being timely and resulted in two runs.

On the Hamilton team, Gibbs at 1st and Murphy at second were the outstanding features. The entire team showed up well at the bat. The batteries:

Lock Works — P. Connors and Scates, C. Ward.

Hamiltons — P. Callaghan, C. O'Heron.

On the strength of the result of the game the Armature Winders of the C.G.E. have challenger the Hamilton team to a game next week at Riverside Park, date to be announced later.

BOWLING NEWS

Peterborough Took Part in Tournament at Cobourg.

COBOURG, July 17. — Twenty-seven rinks coming from Peterborough, Oshawa, Whitby, Bowmanville, Port Hope, Belleville, and Cobourg, took part on Wednesday in the grand annual tournament put on by the Cobourg Bowling Club on the Victoria Park Green. Rain interfered with the morning programme and bowling did not commence until one o'clock. It did not, however, seriously interfere with the success and pleasure of the day, and from 1 p.m. until 3 a.m. yesterday morning, the contest was keen and exciting.

First honours went to a local rink, skipped by Mr. F. J. Skitch, with Dr. Drewry as lead, Mr. Maurice Booth and Mr. M. B. Chenhall as vice-skip. They carried off the splendid trophy, the beautiful cup presented by Mr. Griffin, hon. vice-president of the Cobourg Bowling Club, for competition. This is the first time that the cup has been competed for, and it remains in Cobourg for a year, at least. The winning rink, which played a splendid game, received also the first award, four silver casseroles. The competition was very close, Mr. Skitch winning by one shot.

The runners-up in the primary were Mr. Peacock's rink from Oshawa, who won sugar and cream sets each.

Next came the contest for the consolation, which was waged until 3 a.m. Mr. Rosevear, of Port Hope, and Mr. Salter, of Oshawa, and the members of their rinks, decided to flip a coin to decide who should receive the first prize, four silver pie plates. The die was cast, and Mr. Rosevear won. Mr. Salter's rink won the silk umbrellas.

UP THE TRENT CANAL TO GEORGIAN BAY.

Cruiser Yacht "Wanderer" Will Attempt the Trip.

BEAVERTON, July 17. — The handsome cruising yacht "Wanderer" which was in Lake Simcoe waters last summer, arrived in port on Thursday and will cruise the lake for some time and if possible pass through to the Georgian Bay.

While the Trent Canal is practically open and it is possible for small craft to pass it is somewhat doubtful whether such vessels as the 'Wanderer" could as yet make the passage safely. The yacht is a fine specimen of marine construction for summer service and is but one of many we may expect to see in these waters in the near future. The tourists of "The Wanderer" are enthusiastic in their admiration of the four-hundred odd miles of canal and lake travel of the Trent system and declare it the ideal of a summer outing.

AN INTERESTING COLLECTION OF COINS

J. Vincent, 558 Harvey street, has an interesting collection of coins picked up over a period of many years and numbering amongst them many old and rare ones recalling many historical matters. He has numerous old Canadian pieces of the different provinces and a large number of tokens issued by Montreal companies. A North American token of 1781 is an odd piece and two Gibraltar copper bits dated 1810 are interesting and well preserved pieces. He has many Nova Scotian pieces, one of which dated 1857, bearing the inscription, "Self government and free trade," recalls the parliamentary troubles of that time. Mr. Vincent will be glad to show these coins to anyone interested in them.

ROBBED OF $287.

Joseph Robinson, tobacconist Smith's Falls, who resides there with his aunt, Mrs. Thomas Sloan, is the loser by $287 as theresult of the operations of a burglar on Wednesday night. Two or three large amounts had been paid by Mr. Robinson after banking hours and he carried the cash in his pocket. After Mr. Robinson had retired some unknown person who wore a No. 8 running shoe, climbed a tree growing close to the verandah of the house removed the screen from the window of Mr. Robinson's room, which he then entered and ransacked his pockets. A dimond ring and stick pin lying nearby were ignored or unnoticed. Eight dollars of the stolen money was in silver.

He — A man never fibs about his age.

She — No, but what about his salary?

RAISED TEACHERS' SALARIES.

A meeting of the Beaverton Board of Education was held to consider an application by the teaching staff of both schools less the principals for an increase of salary. The application on the part of the teachers of the public school was collective and was signed by all, the teachers and principal being granted an increase of $100 a year.

SARNIA FIREMEN RESIGN.

BROUGHT DOWN EXCHANGE

PARIS, July 17.—The prohibition upon certain imports into France instituted by the decree of April 23 is about to be removed excepting as it affects some articles essentially luxurious in character, according to the Echo de Paris today. This action is to be taken, it says, because the decree is considered to have accomplished its purpose of bringing down exchange from its high point. With the abrogation of the decree the custos taxes on a number of articles will be raised, in keeping with the rise in prices.

JACK JOHNSON, "CRIMINAL," IS ASKING FOR "COURTESY"

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 16.—Jack Johnson, pugilist, formerly heavyweight champion of the world, yesterday telephoned from Tijuana, Lower California, to the office of J. Robert O'Connor, United States District Attorney here, repeating his offer of last week to cross the international boundary and surrender to Federal authorities "if treated with proper courtesy."

Mr. O'Connor said the offer was refused, the pugilist being informed he would be "handled like any other criminal."

CONCEALED MONEY IN HIS CLOTHES AND BOOTS.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 17.—A Pole named Piotr Talla, travelling from America to Dantzic, was taken ill recently in the Young Men's Christian Association Hut, Waterloo Road, and removed to an infirmary. He had only two shillings and threepence in English money, but hidden in his clothing he had 22 ten-dollar gold pieces and paper money to th value of $900.00. His shoes were found to be very heavy, and when photographed by the X-ray, twelve large coins, presumably ten-dollar gold pieces, were found hidden between the leather and the soles of each boot.

PETERBORO AMATEUR ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION IS GETTING BUSY

ANOTHER REORGANIZATION MEETING WAS HELD LAST EVENING—EXECUTIVE OFFICERS ELECTED PRO TEM.

The Peterboro Amateur Athletic Association got under way last evening when, at a meeting in the Board of Trade rooms, on motion of Dr. A. W. McPherson, seconded by G. H. Giroux, temporary officers and an executive committee was elected and a temporary constitution adopted. The officers and executive will chose a date for an annual meeting at which the officers for the coming year will be elected and a constitution and by-laws adopted.

An atendance of at least 40 representatives of the athletic associations of the city was expected and about half his number put in an appearance. C. G. Graham acted as temporary chairman until R. M. Glover arrived. Mr. Graham explained the purpose of the association, its advantages, and the business of the meeting. He pointed out the benefit which would accrue to local athletics from such an organization, its ability to secure grounds and to help the sports which were dying out through lack of funds, and considered some of the questions with which it would have to deal, among these the question of professionalism especially in hockey.

Leon Frazer, secretary of the Board of Trade, who are promoting the association, acting as secretary pro tem, then read a rough draft of the constitution, which is as follows:

THE CONSTITUTION.

Article I.—Name.

The name and title of this association shall be the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association.

Article II.—Aims and Objects.

The aims and objects of this association shall be the promotion of all amateur sports in the City of Peterborough and district.

Article III.—Membership.

The membership of the association shall be composed of honorary, active and associate members, who shall be elected in accordance with the by-laws.

Article IV.—Government.

The government of the association shall be rested in an executive committee, consisting of at least seven (7) members, elected in accordance with the by-laws.

Article V.—Officers.

The officers of the association shall consist of an honorary president, president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, and shall be elected at the annual meeting in accordance with the by-laws.

Article VI.—Funds.

The funds shall be used for the promotion of the aims and objects of the association and shall be raised by membership dues and subscriptions or by such other means in accordance with the by-laws.

The Finances.

During the consideration of the constitution some discussion arose over the question of the control of the finances of the component clubs. Dr. McPherson was of the opinion that the finances of clubs representing the city in leagues should be under the direct control of the association and that the association should share in their surplus of receipts, but that more latitude should be allowed in the policy as regards such organizations as the Golf and Curling Clubs.

Gray Copping sketched the organization of the Montreal Athletic Association and stated that President Leishman of that organization had written a letter to J. H. French, of the De Laval Company, in which he stated that he would be willing at any time to come to Peterboro to assist in the formation of an amateur athletic association along the same lines as the Montreal association.

Dr. McPherson then moved that a nominating committee be appointed to bring in nominations for officers and an executive who would set a date for the annual meeting for the election of permanent officers and who would draft a constitution and by-laws, the rough constitution to be adopted temporarily. The motion was seconded by G. H. Giroux and carried.

The Committee.

The committee appointed retired and returned with the following nominations, which were carried:

Honorary President—Rev. C. J. Phelan.
President—Dr. A. W. McPherson.
Vice-President—A. Dick.
Secretary—Leon Frazer.
Treasurer—J. E. Sullivan.
Executive—G. H. Roper, John Corkery, C. G. Graham, G. H. Giroux, W. Garrow, R. M. Glover, G. Copping.

Benefit Game.

On motion of A. Dick, seconded by Dr. McPherson, it was decided to hold a benefit football game and exhibition run by Albert Smoke on Thursday, the 22nd, to finance Smoke's expenses to the meet at Hamilton. Mr. Dick was instructed to look after the arrangements for the football game, Mr. Frazer the advertising and G. H. Roper and J. W. Mayneord to see Smoke regarding his part of the programme.

The secretary and W. Jones were instructed to interview the G. W. V. A. Band regarding their giving service at the benefit game and Mr. Dick to try to get a pipe band together.

Following are those present and the organizations they represent:

BATTLING HALSTEAD WON IN THE SEVENTH ROUND.

Tom Dwyer, Canadian army welterweight champion, was knocked out by Battling Halstead at the Sheesley Shows last night in the seventh round. George Graham refereed. Side bets of $100 each were put up by the boxers.

Dwyer made a glorious start and the crowd in the tent went with him and in the second round laid the big American down for eight counts. The third was about even and after that Halstead came back pulled ahead and in the seventh his promoter offered to bet $100 he'd knock Dwyer out in that round. No one took him up but Halstead sailed in and plunked the Canadian all around and finally he took the count. Dwyer put up a great defence but the superior weight of Halstead was against him.

LINDSAY CURLERS INVITED TO SCOTLAND

At the invitation of the Royal Canadian Curling Club of Scotland, Lindsay has been invited to send representatives to the great Scotch meet next January.

It is understood that r. J. D. Flavelle, the dean of curlers in Ontario, has been asked to go, but says he will be unable to do so.

Other members of the Lindsay Club who have been mentioned as possibilities are: L. V. O'Connor, W. E. Reesor, F. R. Wilford, F. J. Carew or A. E. Gregory.

Don't let circumstances down you, or put a damper on your spirits. Sometimes it is hard to keep your head above the water but for your own sake you should make the effort and win out for no one is more miserable than yourself when you are down and out.

OFFICE TEAMS HAD A WORKOUT

NIGHT SLUGGING AMONG DE LAVAL MEN.

Yesterday afternoon the De Laval upstairs office baseball team defeated the downstairs team 10.5. From start to finish it looked like a game of chance rather than skill. Both outfields resembled sieves and at bat the air suffered as much as the ball from the mighty swings of the opposing batsmen. But the boys enjoyed themselves, which was really all they played for. At the end of the last inning the score-keeper flipped a quarter and the result was, upstairs, 10; downstairs, 5.

Batteries—Upstairs, Lacheur and McGee; downstairs, Nellis and Fitzgerald.

HOW SERVE MEALS WITH COOK IN JAIL?

Peter Lem Laments Lem Hen's Use of Red-Hot Poker on Wyllie.

OWEN SOUND, July 16.—"No cook, no dinner." This was the wail of Peter Lem, restaurant keeper of this city, when he heard this morning that his cook, Lem Hen, was in jail on a charge of assault with grievous bodily harm.

The whole mater started on Tuesday night, when Laurrie Wyllie, also of this city, went into Peter's cafe, and, according to Frank E. Lem, the brother of Peter Lem, "used such awful language I never did hear. I wouldn't repeat." Previous to this according to the story of the Chinese, Wyllie, with a companion, had gone out of the cafe, saying: "We will go and finish the cook." Not content with the swearing, Wyllie went back into the kitchen with the avowed intention of "fixing" the cook. Frank Lem followed, and Wyllie hit him in the eye, breaking his glasses. In the melee which folowed a red-hot poker in the hands of the cook was used with disastrous effects on Wyllie's face.

In the Police Court Frank Lem had Wyllie up on a charge of assault, but the case was dismissed. Wyllie then turned around and laid a charge against Lem Hen, the cook, charging him with assault with grievous bodily harm. The Chinese got a lawyer and now Lem Hen is out on $500 bail until Saturday morning, when he comes up for a preliminary hearing before Mr. Justice Sutherland.

SOFT COAL TO FALL IN PRICE BY BETTER CAR DISTRIBUTION

NEW YORK, July 16.—A reduction in the price of bituminous coal was predicted yesterday by a member of the sub-committee of railroad officials and coal operators, meeting here to complete details of a plan to relieve the coal shortage in New York City, New England and the Northwest States.

By scientific distribution of cars the committee hopes to provide a steady stream of coal to the affected districts. Under this plan, the committee members believe dealers will find it impossible to exact the high prices that the acute shortage has made possible.

RECLAIMING LAND.

Surveying of Water-soaked Country in Parts of Alberta.

(Canadian Press.)

EDMONTON, July 17.—Surveys of a large area of water-soaked country in different parts of Central and Northern Alberta are now beginning, with a view to undertaking extensive reclamation work.

These survey parties have already been sent out to do field work in Alberta, and five parties will be at work in Saskatchewan. Among the areas to be investigated in these surveys will be Chip Lake, between Edson and Entwistle; Big Lake, near St. Albert; Low Water Lake, south of Wahamun; Cygnet, west of Red Deer. These are classed as major schemes, and there are a number of small schemes as well. A total of forty projects in Alberta will be dealt with on the present programme. The average area of the larger projects will be from 10,000 to 15,000 acres, and the cost per acre is estimated at from $5.00 to $25.00.

In Saskatchewan, a tract of 1,000 square miles east of Prince Albert between the Carrot and Saskatchewan Rivers, will be surveyed this summer.

SAYS CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA TRAGIC

Italian Socialist Deputy Declares Lenine's Experiment a Failure.

ROME, July 16.—Socialist Deputy Dugoni, who has just returned from an extensive investigation of conditions in Russia, told the Chamber of Deputies that the situation there was tragic. He said Lenine's experiment was a failure and that production has decreased fifty per cent. under the Soviet regime. The transportation system has been completely demoralized and the postal service does not exist, he stated.

"Filth and pauperism are eevrywhere in Soviet Russia," Dugoni said. "The population is piteously undernourished. Italy certainly could never adapt itself to such an experiment."

BUSINESS-LIKE ESKIMO.

(Canadian Press.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 17.—The power schooner Ruby, Capt. Whitlam, has left here for a long voyage to the Far North with a cargo that smacks of romance. Her destination is Herschel Island, in the Arctic Sea, and she carried six hundred tons of supplies for the Mounted Police post there and for the Hudson Bay trading post, in addition to the trade goods that will transfer many valuable furs from the business-like Eskimo.

GERALDINE FARRAR SCORES IN THE ROLL OF A SPANISH GIRL

Supported by Her Husband Lou Tellegen, in New Goldwyn Picture of Love and Intrigue Coming to Allen Theatre

In her latest Goldwyn picture "The Woman and the Puppet," Geraldine Farrar appears in an absorbing story of Spanish life. She is ably supported by her husband, Lou Tellegen, and an all star cast, including the famous French actress Madame Rose Dione and the well known Spanish dancer Cristina Pereda. The story in detail follows:

Don Mateo Diaz (Lou Tellegen a young Spanish nobleman, attends the brilliant carnival in Seville with his paramour, Bianca Romani (Dorothy Cummings). They pause to watch a Spanish gypsy dancing on the street but their attention is distracted by a bewitching young cigarette maker, Concha Perez (Geraldine Farrar), who mimics the gypsy in inimitable fashion. When gypsy pounces angrily on girl to scratch and fight her and the girl retaliates with spirit, Don Mateo prevents the police from carrying the two battling contestants off to jail.

GERALDINE FARRAR in "The Woman and the Puppet"

Dan Mateo is rich and for that reason used to paying for what he wants and getting it. He cannot understand Concha when she refuses to accept a gold coin and when she repulses his advances. "You cannot kiss me in return without truly loving me," the girl warns. Don Mateo isn't rich enough to buy her, which, of course, incites his determination to crush her proud spirit.

To her home in a squalid quarter, Don Mateo comes every day and arranges with her mercenary mother to pay the family bills so that Concha may amuse him and go to the cigarette factory to work for a pittance. Still the girl attracts and refuses until, in deperation, he threatens to leave her. The girls, suddenly alarmed, promises to be his on a certain Sunday. But, learning of his financial arrangement with her mother, she goes to Cadiz to dance in a wharf cafe and realize her zeal for independence. Her passion dance thrills her audience and also Don Mateo, when he at length finds her. When her employer compels her to dance half dressed for English traveling gentlemen, Don Muteo cannot believe the girl is still virtuous.

She has spoken to him saucily and dangled him like a puppet, because he has too often used the manner of a rich man with her, a man used to toying with women. She wants no half happiness, but everything or nothing, yet when he asks her to be his wife, she says her life in the sailor's cafe has made her unworthy. Don Mateo makes her leave the place and live with her mother in a mansion he provides. Jealousies, quarrels and tricks of whim carry the lovers through a series of clashes until a real understanding is reached. This Goldwyn picture will be shown at the Allen Theatre, beginning Monday.

JAPANESE HOSE BUSINESS DEAD

DUE TO FINANCIAL DEPRESION AND DEPRECIATION OF COTTON YARN.

TOKIO, July 17.—The financial depression and the depreciation of cotton yarn has placed the hosiery manufacturers of Japan in a critical position. Production in nearly all centres has either ceased or been reduced owing to the market prices offered for the manufactured goods and the closing of the money market, which has cut the manufacturers off from their supply of funds.

Scarcity of Funds.

Scarcity of exchange funds and the sudden advance of exchange rates consequent upon the depreciation of silver quotations, have helped to kill the export trade. Where the fall of silver prices has seriously affected Asiatic countries, the export of hosiery from Japan has been very seriously interfered with, the buying power of the mercantile community coming to a standstill.

Severe Blow.

According to official figures issued form Nagoya the financial depression has dealt the severest blow to the hosiery industry in that district. The latest returns from the municipal office show that 115 of the 225 factories in Nagoya have closed their doors and 1,715 of the 2,050 knitting machines are idle. Thousands of operatives are out of employment and the Manufacturers' Union has organized a support association for their relief.

HEAVY DAMAGE CLAIMED.

By Matthews-Blackwell Co. in Suit Against City Over Bridge.

TORONTO, July 17—Special adaptability was the plea of W. A. Tilley, appearing for the Matthews-Blackwell Company, pork packers, Bathurst Street, during the argument of their suit against the city, in which they are claiming damage up to $200,000 for alleged damage to their property by reason of the construction of a bridge over the railway tracks at the foot of Bathurst Street. The city is represented by Corporation Counsel Geary, P. H. Drayton, K.C., is the arbitrator.

CROAT OUTBREAK AT SPALATO.

Several Italians Killed.

SPALATO, Dalmatia, July 16.—Croat outbreaks against the Italians here on Sunday resulted in the death of Commander Giuli, of the Italian Army, another Italian officer, three Italian sailors, and a boy of fourteen.

The Croats were celebrating a national feast.

DRUNK IN AUTOS—GET TERMS IN JAIL.

TORONTO, July 16. — William Hall and Francis Kahle both took the trail from the Police Court yesterday to the Jail Farm to spend seven days there for operating autos while intoxicated. Hall was drunk for several hours after his arrest. Kahle, who intimated an appeal, was on a motor trip from the United States. Part of his defence was that a doctor had prescribed whisky for his nerves.

TAMMANY HALL INVADES OLD QUEBEC

(Canadian Press.)

QUEBEC, July 16.—The ancient Capital was invaded by Tammany Hall yesterday, 125 delegates from the Democratic convention at San Francisco arriving here from Montreal on the Canada Steamship Line vessel Montreal. In the forenoon they paid a visit to the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, and did the sights of Quebec in the afternoon, before returning to Montreal again this evening.

WEDDING BELLS

ROBINSON—SPIERS.

At the village of Lang, at 4 p.m. on 14th July, the marriage of Miss Lillian Spiers took place at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Spiers, the groom being Mr. Charles Wilfred Robinson, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. E. Honey, of Keene, in the presence of numerous relativs. The bride was beautifully attired in white georgette, wearing also a pearl necklace and carrying Columbia roses. Little Bettie McClure added charm as flower-girl. Following the ceremony, a dainty luncheon was served. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and useful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left in the evening for a brief honeymoon trip to Michigan, whence they will return to reside in Toronto.

OBITUARY

CHARLES ALEXANDER NEILL.

The death occurred last Friday at Gore's Landing, of Charles Alexander Neill, after a lingering illness. Early in life he suffered with St. Vitus' Dance and other weaknesses, which affected him mentally and physically. About thirteen years ago he gave up farming, and since that time he has travelled in many parts of the world. In the spring of 1915 he went overseas with the 59th Battalion, and was on active service when the war ended. He received treatment in various military hospitals, but was unable to survive the experience he had in France and Belgium. Finally he was seized with paralysis, which caused his death.

He is survived by his wife (formerly Elizabeth Howson, of Cavan), his daughters Viola Adele of Toronto, Blanche of Peterborough, and one son Walter Charles of Peterborough; also by his mother, one brother, and ten sisters, all of whom, except one sister, were present at the funeral on Monday, 12th July. At 2.30 p.m. the funeral proceeded from his mother's residence, Gore's Landing, to the Methodist Church at Plainville, where interment took place in the family burying ground.

EARL LESTER HOY.

The death occurred early this morning of Earl Lester, the 18 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hoy. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock on oMnday morning to the Little Lake cemetery.

CANADIAN FINANCES FOR FISCAL YEAR

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, July 17. — Canadian fisheries for the fiscal year which closed with March last produced a total commercial revenue in excess of $60,000,000, or an increase of $25,000,000,000, as compared with the fiscal year that closed with March, 1917. The export trade in fish for the last fiscal year was worth $40,687,172, an increase of more than 100 per cent. in value asc compared with 1914. The increase over the preceding year was in excess of $4,000,000.

The export trade with the United Kingdom increased from $6,726,389 in 1914 to $9,815,579 in the last year, while the trade with the United States jumped from $5,644,355 in 1914 to $17,180,250 last year. The gerat increase in fish sales to the United States has been due to the fact that the value of canned salmon sold to the Republic in 1914 was $115,860, while last year it was $12,067,319. During a span of six years there has been a jump of nearly 300 per cent. in the value of dry salted cod, ling, hake and pollock shipped into the United States.

Trade authorities look with some disfavor upon the increased fish trade with the United States, because a large quantity of salmon and other fish imported from Canada is exported again. Statistics indicate that the premium on American money is attracting Canadian trade to the exclusion of other markets.

"While United States firms have agents abroad building up future trade, the Canadians," remarks an official statement, "are content to sell to the United States. They seem not yet to have appreciated the fact that the premium on United States funds gives Canadian exporters in foreign markets an advantage over the United States competitors to the extent of the premium. The warning given recently by a Canadian bank that Canadians are letting slip by the opportunity to build up Canadian trade would seem to be applying just now to the fishing industry."

MAKE MORE ACROSS BORDER

That's Why Canadians Export Sugar to the U.S.A.

OTTAWA, July 17.—The sugar situation since the export embargo was raised at the beginning of the month, promises to become worse throughout the Dominion. Attracted by the profit to be made from exchange alone—from 12 to 15 per cent—wholesalers are shipping in large quantities across the border, particularly from Windsor and Sarnia.

The Board of Commerce limits sugar profits to five per cent. Even if the Canadian dealers sell to the United States at what the sugar costs they stand to realize a much larger profit than that through the exchange.

SCHOONER MAKES RECORD

Crosses Atlantic in Fifteen Days With Cargo of Lumber.

(Canadian Press.)

HALIFAX, N.S., July 17.—The schooner, Amy G. McKean, owned and operated by W. K. McKean, has arrived at Tralee, Ireland, after a record passage of 15 days from Halifax. The vessel, with 464,000 feet of lumber, sailed from Halifax on the evening of June 28, and arrived at her destination on Tuesday, July 13.

SCOTIA MINERS HAVE NO USE FOR DUKES

Clergy of Glace Bay, However, Protest Against Discourtesy.

(Canadian Press.)

GLACE BAY, N.S., July 17.—Following a largely attended meeting organized by clergymen, representing the various denominations, Catholic Protestant and Hebrew, at which a strong resolution was passed denouncing the discourtesy shown his Excellency the Governor General of Canada by Councillor Bagnall and the Glace Bay Town Council, J. B. Maclachlan, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, gave out a statement in which he said:

"The United Mine Workers are behind Bagnall to a man. These dukes are no good to themselves or anyone else; they are neither useful nor ornamental. The clergymen are lying about this Bagnall matter."

MARRIED IN HASTE.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 17. — A "hunch" that theer existed in Western Canada the panacea for his lonesomeness, led Arthur Mull, Saginaw, Michigan, to Winnipeg, a month ago, in search of a wife. As a result of an ad. in the personal column of a local paper he met and married Constance Woods, a Winnipeg girl. She is an orphan 21 years of age, he a widower of two months, 35 years old. Mull met his bride in the business office of the paper in the afternoon and married her at 7 p.m., the same day.

FURTHER ADVANCE

Supplies of Sugar are Arriving Freely—Rolled Oats Up 50 Cents a Bag

(From the Canadian Grocer.)

All markets continue with a firm undertone with advances registered on Canadian sardines, dustbane, prepared mustard, dustless mops, candles, parchment paper, wax paper, manilla paper and bags, also olives both plain and stuffed. Supplies of granulated sugar are arriving freely but wholesalers report a limited demand. Manufacturers of corn syrups state that in view of the high price of corn and cans an increase in prices is not unlikely. Rolled oats have advanced 50 cents per bag. The spice market is quiet. Black peppers continue with an easy tone. Chillies and red pepper are fairly scarce and quotations are firm. Low grade Ceylon and Indian teas are cheap but the higher grades are scarce and the tendency is for higher prices. The Eastern rice market has developed an easier tone but Southern rices continue firm. Evaporated apples are lower. Spot stocks of shelled walnuts are still large and are offered to the trade at prices below current primary market quotations; higher prices are looked for when stocks are cleaned up. Fresh fruits and vegetables are arriving freely at lower prices.

Fresh meats are unchanged. A scarcity is noticed for smoked bacon and hams and quotations are higher. Butter and eggs are ruling firm under advanced prices. The cheese market is steady. Shortening has developed a weak tone. Poultry business is quiet with quotations lower on spring chickens.

GOOD ENGLISH CRICKET.

Championship Games Develop Fine Bowling Over There.

LONDON, July 17.—Fine bowling feats were again accomplished in cricket championship games this week. For Kent, against Leicestershire, Fair Service took wickets for 35 run and Freeman 8 for 44. Cox for Sussex, had 7 Derbyshire men out for 8 runs, and Woolley, of Kent, for the Players at Lords, secured 5 for 20 in the Gentlemen's second innings. Sussex, 157 and 212, beat Derbyshire, 70 and 165, by 134. Kent, 290, defeated Leicestershire, 66 and 125, by an innings and 99. Somerset, 337, beat Worcestershire, 134 and 158, by an innings and 45. The Gentlemen made 230 and 124 and were easily beaten by the Player with 225 and 130 for three wickets.

VACATION CONFERENCES

For Benefit of Visiting American Students in Faris

(Associated Press)

PARIS, July 17.—"Vacation Conferences" at the Sorbonne, for the benefit of the educated public of France and Foreign countries, especially visiting American students of both sexes, will be delivered from July 1 to October 30.

They will be conducted by professors of French universities, the College of France and high schools and have for aim to present the modern aspects of various scientific theories and to give a general view of modern French life, thought and science. Professor Gaston May, of the University of Paris, will hold three conferences upon "Franco-American friendship and mutual understanding."

STORES CLOSED AS PROTEST AGAINST BUTCHER PEDDLERS.

HANOVER, Ont., July 16.—Owing to the refusal of the Town Council to compel two peddling butchers to open shops in the town or secure a peddler's licence, the two local butchers have closed their shops.

The local Board of Health is said to have reported the conditions under which the peddlers operated was "very unsatisfactory and insanitary."

COX IN FAVOR OF PUBLICITY

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 17.—Any "covenants" that Governor Cox may make with suffrage leaders at his conference here will be "openly arrived at," he said. Cox will insist that the entire conference will be open to newspapermen.

GALL STONES!

are formed by excessive heat crystalizing the mineral elements in the bile. This is due to pressure upon nerves regulating the expression of the calorific or heat producing function in the gall bladder. Chiropractic adjustments will relieve this pressure, heat in the gall bladder becomes normal, the mineral elements of the bile do not crystalize, no more gall stones are formed, and those previously formed are dissolved and eliminated without pain. Chiropractic "adjusts" the cause and the effects disappear.

The Ex-Kaiser's Youngest Son Committed Suicide

Kaiser's Favourite Son Ends His Life

PRINCE JOACHIM SHOT HIMSELF IN VILLA AT POTSDAM AND DIED IN A FEW HOURS—NEWS KEPT FROM HIS MOTHER.

IN FINANCIAL STRAIGHTS

(Canadian Press)

DOORN, Holland, July 19. — Announcement of Prince Joachim's death came to Doorn Castle like a thunderbolt. The former empress, who, during the last week, has again been seriously troubled by her heart ailment, is believed not to have been informed of the tragedy. The ex-Emperor, however, has been greatly affected by the untimely end of his favorite son. Joachin saw his parents recently, having paid a visit to Doorn in June.

Was Youngest Son.

BERLIN, July 18.—Prince Joachin of Hohenzollern, youngest son of former Emperor William, committed suiside by shooting Saturday, in his residence, the Villa Leignitz, Potsdam. He was removed to Joseph's Hospital, where he died a few hours later.

Joachim, recently had been suffering from great mental depression, and is believed to have been in financial difficulties.

The only member of the former imperial family now in Potsdam is Eitel Friedrich, the former emperor's second son.

Prince Joachim was born December 17, 1890, in Berlin. He served during the late war on both the western and eastern fronts. During the first year of war he was wounded in the fighting in France. When he recovered he was transferred to the Russian front, where he had several narrow escapes from capture, and afterwards suffered a serious illness.

After the defeat of the Germans there were rumors that Emperor William would abdicate in favor of Joachim.

The prince was married in 1916 to Princess Marie Augustine, of Anhalt, who then was just 17 years old.

It was reported early in the present year that Joachim had brought a suit for divorce.

POLISH PEASANTS LOSING HARVEST

SOVIET FORCES OCCUPYING RICH LITHUANIAN FARM LANDS.

WARSAW, July 19. — Poles are withdrawing to the south and southwest from the railway junction of Lida, which has been occupied by the Bolsheviki in their drive in the direction of Grodno. This Bolsheviki sweep across Lithuania is giving the Soviet forces possession of a rich harvest, as they are occupying thousands of acres planted by the Poles. Grain and hay are now standing in stacks. The Polish population is fleeing before the Bolsheviki on rush, peasants crowding the roads with their live stock and vehicles, loaded with household goods. It is said in Polish quarters that the retreat on the northern front is being continued in an orderly way, according to plan. The Poles, it is declared, lost little rolling stock and not a single working locomotive. It is at Lida that the railway guage changes from Russian broad guage to standard width.

Occupy Vilna.

WARSAW, July 19.—The occupation of Lida, south of Vilna, by the Bolsheviki after heavy fighting, is reported in a communique issued by the war office to-day. Bolsheviki drove out Polish mountaineers and occupied the village of Dabrowica. Strong Bolshevik attacks, adds the communique, have been repulsed around Husiatyn and Arzomanic and in the region of Dubno. Bolsheviki are reported to be regrouping for a drive on Kovel. On the Crimea front fierce fighting is reported south of Oreckhoff

THE WEATHER

After the downpour of rain last night, which was the third for the month of July, there should not be any need for more moisture for some time. The ground has received a thorough soaking. Almost an inch (.94) came down last night. This makes 4.05 inches for the month up to the present time. June had a total of 2.96, and May but .28.—W.P.

SOLITARY FARMER SEEKING A WIFE

Has 100 Acre Farm With Good Harvest Prospects.

A young farmer whose 100-acre farm promises a splendid harvest is seeking the acquaintance of a respectable woman about 30 years of age with the object of matrimony in an advertisement appearing in to-morrow's issue of The Examiner. He is working the farm alone and the double duty of work in the fields and in the house has sent him in search of a helpmeet, wife or housekeeper. Aspirants are directed in the advertisement to send their applications to box 1600, Examiner office. The invisible bond lauded by sentimental poets is in this case a newspaper advertisement heralded by the prosaic slogan, "Examiner want ads bring results."

LIPTON SEEMS DISSATISFIED

MAY REMOVE CAPT. BURTON—AEMILUS JARVIS MENTIONED AS NEW SKIPPER.

BURTON AT THE WHEEL.

SANDY HOOK, July 19.—Captain William P. Burton will be given another chance at the wheel of the Shamrock on Tuesday.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, July 19.—According to the New York Times this morning Commodore Aemilius Jarvis of Toronto, the well known Canadian yachtsman, is mentioned as the possible sucessor to Capt. Burton as helmsman of the Shamrock IV.

Burton Still in Charge.

SANDY HOOK, July 12.—Speculation here to-day centred upon the successor to Capt. Wm. P. Burton, whom Sir Thomas Lipton plans to remove as skipper of the cup challenger. Sir Thomas and Capt. Burton have had several talks and the latter still continues skipper of the Shamrock, though the announcement that he has been succeeded in command may be expected at any time. Capt. Albert W. Turner, sailing master of the Lipton sloop, who had the wheel when she made some of her gains in Saturday's race was being talked of to-day as Shamrock's new skipper.

Lipton Reticent.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Sir Thomas would not say this afternoon what developments might be expected after to-morrow's race with the Resolute for America's cup, nor would he deny that he and his advisers had virtually decided to remove Captain Burton from the tiller of the cup challenger after Saturday's contest, in which Captain Burton's handling of the Lipton craft had been severely criticized.

NO RACE SATURDAY

SANDY HOOK, N. J. July 18.—Expiration of sailing time limit saved the Lipton challenger, Shamrock IV., from apparent defeat at the hand of the cup defender, Resolute, in the second meet yesterday of the 1920 regatta for the America's Cup.

The defender had put more than a half hour's sailing between her and and the challenger, and was breezing home under mainsail, club tonsail and balloon jib, when the race was officially declared off at 7.25 o'clock.

Under the rules, the thirty-mile triangular course had to be covered within six hours by the leading yacht to make it a race. The time limit would not actually have expired until 7.46.28, but a little more than 20 minutes before that hour Resolute still had nearly eight mile to sail—an impossible feat, and the committee boat hoisted the "no race" signal. At that hour, Shamrock IV was more than two miles from the stake that would have sent her on the last leg of the race.

The score sill stands, Shamrock IV 1; Resolute, 0. Shamrock IV having captured the first race last Thursday when Resolute was forced to drop out because of an accident to her rigging.

PLEADED GUILTY TO BURNING A CHURCH

SUDBURY, JJuly 17.—Ferdinand Rochen and Felix Courchesne, charged with having set fire to the Catholic church at Bigwood, Ont., on June 29 last, pleaded guilty before Judge Kehoe, and stated that they were willing to make restitution for the damage done. Sentence will not be imposed until July 26. The church was burned down as the result of a controversy over a question as to where it should have been located.

MUTILATED BODY OF MARMORA WOMAN FOUND IN THE CROWE RIVER ON SUNDAY

The body of Mrs. Bird, of Marmora, who has been missing since last Tuesday, was found floating in the Crowe River at Marmora yesterday afternoon at two o'clock by Fred Kiff, diver for the Trent Canal.

Kiff was sent down to Marmora to search for the body on Saturday, and dived all that day in water 55 and 60 feet deep, which he describes as the worst he ever dived in. The bottom of the river was pitted with holes and caves and littered with rubbish, among which were the skeletons of two horses and a waggon.

Kiff was unsuccessful on Saturday, but yesterday afternoon at two o'clock he found the body floating on the water above the dam. The body was horribly mutilated ,blood flowed from many cuts, and the eyes were wrenched from the sockets.

Mrs. Bird's eight-months-old baby was found in the river last Tuesday morning, and ever since the search for the mother has been in progress. The woman leaves her husband and five children. An inquest is being held.

ALBERT SMOKE 4TH IN THE OLYMPIC MARATHON TRIAL

RAN A GREAT RACE EOR SIXTEEN MILES, LEADING THE FIELD—JIMMY DELLOW OF TORONTO FINISHED FIRST AND SCHOLES SECOND.

(Special to The Examiner)

HAMILTON, Ont., July 19. — James A. Dellow, of the Gladstone Athletic Club, Toronto, won the Olympic trial marathon, Scholes, of Toronto, second. Albert Smoke, of Peterboro, was fourth.

Dellow's time was 2.02.10. No records were smashed. The record is held by the late Jim McDuffy, who was killed at St. Julien. His time was 1.46.15.

In Lead at 16 Miles.

The much-herald Smoke, who won the ten mile Ontario championship at St. Catharines on May 24 and who is being sent to Antwerp by St. Catharines sportsmen, led the field of thirty-one gallopers for sixteen miles when little Dellow, running a well-judged race, came up on the Indian at the 16 1-2 mile and took the lead. Dellow was followed by Scholes. Smoke tried hard to shake off Dellow and Scholes, but failed. Going down the Valley Hill the three were neck and neck. Scholes took the lead on the hill but Dellow came on and ran away from him at the top. Dellow then went into the lead and was never headed. Scholes fell back, while Smoke went to pieces and General, the Brantford Indian, caught him three hundred yards from home and beat him in by five seconds.

Tommy Ellis, of Hamilton, who was running second behind Smoke up to 15 miles cramped up and was forced to walk in. Dellow and Scholes will go to Antwerp as Canada's representatives for the marathon race. Smoke goes too as St. Catharines sportsmen are paying his way for winning the ten-mile race at St. Catharines on May 24th.

The weather was ideal for the trial. A dull day with a cool breeze made conditions perfect.

LIGHTNING DROPPED A "BOMB" ON BOSWELL AVENUE HOUSE

RIPPED A HOLE IN THE ROOF OF THOMAS CARPENTER'S HOME AND STARTED A FIRE WHICH WAS QUICKLY EXTINGUISHED—NO ONE INJURED.

SHOWER OF SPARKS

Peterboro was visited by an unusually severe electric storm last night and those who exclaimed at the first distinct terrific crack at 10.45 "that they bet that struck something" were right in their conjecture. The residence of Thomas Carpenter, 300 Boswell avenue, was struck by lightning, but happily no serious damage resulted to life or property.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter had not yet retired, but their evening visitors had just gone home. The family sail this week for England where Mr. Carpenter has secured an excellent position in London and much of their furniture and household goods are therefore packed ready for shipping.

The lightning struck the ridge board of the roof splitting it, scored its way inside about ten feet from the front and followed the beam down to the wall, shattering and splintering it. Another beam was badly splintered and jagged pieces of wood were strewn on the attic floor. The electric current displayed its usual freakishness by avoiding a pair of snowshoes hanging on one of the beams. Small charred holes in the beams and another at the south-east corner of the house marked the course of the mysterious fluid in its entrance and passage through the house, but it left no trace of its exit.

A Rending Noise.

Mrs Carpenter said to-day that there was the most deafening crash and then a splintering tearing sound. She felt the whole house rock as if it was tumbling to the ground. Looking out the window she saw a shower of sparks falling down through the sheets of rain and Mr. George Jobbit, a G.T.R. conductor, who lives across the street, saw the same phenomena. Ralph Carpenter, a lad of thirteen or fourteen, said that he saw a big ball of fire that looked just like a moon hovering outside his bedroom window on the south side of the house.

The neighbours were at once aroused by the terrific crash ands several ladies whose nerves were not keyed up to stand such electrical bombardments were prostrated with fright. Mr. Jobbitt saw fire break out on the roof and ran into the house and with the aid of step ladders water was thrown on the blaze from below, while nature soaked it from the outside and the fire did not last long. The firemen were called and put on the finishing touches.

The house is owned by Mr. W. E. White and the damage estimated by Mr. White at $30 is fully covered by insurance.

THE DUST YWAY.

Many Complaints from Citizens Who Use Temporary Bridge.

East City residents are complaining of the exceedingly dusty condition of the road on the eastern approach to the temporary bridge at the foot of Simcoe street.

The traffic over the bridge is heavy and the continuous stream of automobiles throws up clouds of dust which not only make motoring over the bridge unpleasant, but shower pedestrians with dust which has the chameleon attribute of turning light objects dark and dark objects light.

The weather man has tried hard to lay the dust with frequent rains but his efforts have not been sufficient.

METHODIST SALARIES

At a largely attended meeting of leading laymen and district chairmen of the Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference held in Belleville recently, to complete plans and arrangements far the increasing of Ministers' stipends, in connection with this Dominion wide lay movement, many practical suggestions were discussed and keen interest was manifested in this worthy work.

Mr. D. G. Ridout, Dominion Secretary of Ministerial Support, reviewed the situation minutely and Mr. R. A. Whattam gave some vivid facts of the work in this conference. Many of the district throughout the conference now are fully organized. Mr. F. E. O'Flynn has a most complete organization in the Belleville District and his report was very encouraging and Mr. H. K. Denyes M. P. P., President of the Laymen's Association, also spoke of the necessity of the movement.

ULTIMATUM TO SYRIANS

FRENCH WILL OCCUPY ALEPPO AND DAMASCUS IF KING FEISAL OBJECTS TO THE MANDATE.

FRENCH HAVE ADVANCED

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 19.—General mobilization in Syria has been ordered as a reply to the French ultimatum to King Feisal that he acquiesce in the French mandate for Syria ,according to a despatch to the Times from Jerusalem. The despatch adds that if General Gouraud does not receive a satisfactory reply by to-day, the French will forthwith occupy Aleppo and march on Damascus.

Another despatch to the Times from Cairo quotes a report received from Haifa, Syria, dated last Friday, saying the French had advanced in force to Rayak with armored cars, airplanes and artillery and that it was assumed their destination was Aleppo and Damascus.

RECTOR OF ST. JOHN'S RESIGNS FOR A YEAR

ARCHDEACON DAVIDSON ACCEPTS APPOINTMENT AS FORWARD MOVEMENT COMMISSIONER.

Interviewed this morning regarding the announcement yesterday of his temporary resignation of the rectorship of Peterborough, to accept the post of Commissioner of the Diocese of Toronto in connection with the Forward Movement, Ven. Archdeacon J. C. Davidson made the following statement.

"I announced to my congregation yesterday morning the probability of my leaving Peterborough for a considerable time early in September. Following the success of the financial issue of the Forward Movement it was intended to organize a campaign throughout the diocese to promote the spiritual and educational side of the movement, the object being to strengthen the efficiency of the parishes and to develop the people generally from being merely members of parishes to a more real and intelligent membership in the Canadian church, with a great knowledge of the church's nation-wide plans. The clergy were summoned to Toronto on the Bishop's return for counsel and spiritual invigoration. A committee was appointed to choose a commissioner, whose whole time should be spent in the parishes of the diocese in co-operaiton with the local clergy.

'The call of this committee has come to me to undertake the post of commissioner. Owing to the experimental character of the work the appointment is only for one year.

"In view of the short appointment the Bishop and Chancellor of the Diocese strongly urged that I should not resign as Rector of Peterborough. It was hoped that it might be possible to meet the unusual situation by the appointment of a Vicar to whom would be given the direction of the work of the parish for the time being. A meeting of the executive committee of the parish will be held this evening at 8 o'clock to consider the whole matter.

"My acceptance of the post, which had been given with the knowledge of the church wardens, was based solely upon the work to be done, which I felt was a distinct call with the added conviction that the parish of St. John's would gain by the infusion of new blood and a change in personality."

Came to Peterborough in 1888.

Ven. Archdeacon J. C. Davidson came to Peterborough in December, 1888 as assistant to Rev. Canon J. W. R. Beck. On the death of Canon Beck in 1889, he was appointed to the Rectorship despite his youth. He has been closely connected with all public movements in the city and has followed the policy of combining a loyal allegiance to the Church of England with a practical realization of Christian fellowship, and he has served for three years as President of the Ministerial Association.

About 12 years ago he was appointed a Canon of St .Alban's Cathedral, and in January last was appointed Archdeacon of Peterborough.

He was for 24 years chaplain of the 57th Regiment, and went overseas during the war as chaplain of the 93rd Battalion, C.E.F. His experience as a chaplain he has presented in a little book, "Can England's Church Win England's Manhood?" published on his return from overseas.

Missing Children Thought Murdered

COAL RESTRICTIONS ARE FORESHADOWED

By Conference of Canadian and United States Authorities.

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, July 19.—Hon. F. B. Carvell, chairman of Railway Board, and Commissioner McLean, who have been in Washington conferring with members of the United States Interstate Commerce Commission in regard to the fuel situation, are expected back at Ottawa this afternoon. Early preliminary action looking to the conservation of coal may be anticipated at both capitals as a result of the conference. It is recognized that the people of the Dominion are in large measure dependent on the United States for coal. It is the determination of the Railway Board to co-operate with American authorities in closest possible manner and steps will undoubtedly be taken to prevent American coal sent to Canada finding it way to other countries.

WILLIAM RUSSELL WON FORD CAR FOR 50 CTS.

WAS IN FRONT ROW WHEN LUCKY NUMBER WAS DRAWN.

William Russell, 103 Perry street, held the lucky number, 1039a which won the Ford coupe which the Industrial Exhibition Board offered as a prize in a special revenue raising effort. Hundreds of eager ticket-holders gathered about the stand at Exhibition Park on Saturday night filled with the identical hope of getting a thousand dollars or more for fifty cents. Hopes held out until the stub was drawn and held up. And when the number 1039a was read out there was an audible high of disappointment which quickly turned to congratulations to William Russel, who was standing up in the front row.

NO TRACE YET OF TWO LITTLE THOROLD GIRLS—DISAPPEARED SIX DAY'S AGO.

LABOURER IN CUSTODY

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 19. —The mystery surrounding the disappearance of the two little Thorold girls, Catharine Beechman, aged six, and Margaret Boucock, aged four, remains as deep as ever. To-day searching parties, consisting of over fifty men and women, made a systematic hunt through all the section of land lying to the East of Thorold in the vicinity where the little Boucock girl was last seen on Tuesday afternoon, walkin galong the high bank of the Welland Ship Canal ditch in company with David McNeil. McNeil is held in jail awaiting appearance before Magistrate Munro next Friday. There is considerable feeling and the whole countryside is aroused. McNeil says he left the little Boucock girl at the Anglican church, and sent her home, giving her five cents to buy a cone. Yet a woman saw him walking with the girl on the canal bank. The little girl carried a doll and was talking to McNeil who held her by the hand. That night McNeil disappeared from his home in Thorold and was found at Port Dalhousie the following night. The police say he tells different stories as to why he went away and where he was.

Mrs. Boucock, speaking to your correspondent, said last night that she is sure her little girl is dead, and that the murderer had hidden her body. She was a somewhat large girl for her age. The mother said it was surprising that even if McNeil did leave the girl at the Anglican church that he had taken her far out of her way in the direction of home. He says he picked her up at the public library and took her through the public school grounds two or three blocks out of her way home. It appears the little girl was very often at the McNeil place, but Mrs. Boucock said she never complained of anything against McNeil, whom she seemed to regard highly.

Search Proves Unavailing.

The Beecham family were questioned last night and they said they did not think little Catharine knew McNeil. Catharine was last seen going up the hill on Front street, Thorold rom her home. The canal has been dragged, but neither the Boucocks nor the Beechams think their little girls were drowned. Some people hold the theory that the girls were abducted. In the search today every spot where a body might be hidden was carefully examined, but without result. The suspense of the stricken families can scarcely be described. "If we could only find her body, it would be a relief," said Mrs. Boucock to the reporter. "Every little while there is a report that a body has been found, only to be contradicted."

The Ontario police at Niagara Falls are investigating, but it is the conviction that a Government detective should be sent to Thorold, an experienced man-hunter, who will make a thorough investigation. Other mothers are in terror, wondering who will be the next victim, and people are keeping their little girls off the streets.

In Thorold the people say McNeil never held a job very long. He was overseas, but it was stated by those who knew him over there, he spent much of his time in confinement because of trouble he got into. He married a Hamilton girl, who was working in Thorold, soon after coming back.

It is pretty generally believed in Thorold that both little girls were murdered, but opinion is divided as to the guilty parties. McNeil has the reputation of being fond of children and frequently gave them money to buy candies. He also adopted a little baby into his own home and his wife has it now.

ANOTHER VIEW OF HUGO STINNES, THE GERMAN MAGNATE

HAS FOUNDED HIS POWER ON COAL AND ASPIRES TO DOMINATE THE BUSINESS OF EUROPE.

BERLIN.—Hugo Stinnes, the man who held up the Spa conference, is a man of Jewish origin, born less than 50 years ago. If you saw him at work at his desk with his coat off you would take him to be a clerk in a colliery office. He is always carelessly and shabbily dressed. His shoes are habitually down at heel. With his close-cropped, dark hair and black beard and mustache, his palid features, his twisted nose and his large, sharp eyes, he looks a sinister figure. To him power is the breath of life. It is not in him to play second fiddle. He left his father's great business because those over him were in his way. He launched out for himself and on his own lines.

Nation's Biggest War Profiteer.

To hear much of him before the war you had to go to the Mulheim coal region or to British, German and French ports where the export is mainly coal. Yet before those fateful days of Aug., 1914, he was a millionaire several times over. The war gave him a great chance, and, grasping the opportunity, he became the Fatherland's biggest war profiteer.

His coal enabled the Goeben and Breslau to reach safety in the Dardanelles. He amassed millions out of Belgium between 1914 and 1918. His was the infamous idea to despoil the Belgian factories and deport Belgian workers. He could order Hindenburg and Ludendorff about. The ex-Kaiser entertained a lively fear and sneaking admiration for Him, and while Germany was being fought down he was piling up his financial fortunes and adding to the sources of his power. The exploits of American railway kings, oil magnates and steel barons are almost child's play when compared with his.

He has been compared with the late Herr Ballin, the great chieftain of the Hamburg-American Line, but the ways of the two men were fundamentally different. "The secret of success of my concern," Ballin once told me, "is that in it there is no place for a smart young man." Ballin required the steady, experienced lieutenant. Stinnes wants the smart young man, wants his fresh ideas, his suggestions, his daring, his brains. He uses them till the supply dries up, and his has been a success far beyond Ballin's, though soul destroying, a success as sinister as the man himself looks.

"I build on coal," he once said to me in days long before the war. "From coal you go on to iron and steel, and then to various industries, to ships of commerce, and coal will lead you to wood and forests, to wood pulp and paper. Coal is king."

Coa is his king and god. At Spa he is fighting for coal, and see how he has built on it. He owns fifteen or sixteen groups of mines. He had his hand in France, where he has lately been spying out the land again, and in England. Luxembourg is practically his. He makes paper, celluloid and motor cars. Vast forests belong to him. He distributes practically all the coal of Germany. He owns one of Berlin's biggest hotels, and nearly all the ships which are left to Germany can be moved only at his bidding. Certain it is that all the ships she will build for herself will be at his direct or indirect command.

To Hindenburgs and Ludendorffs, Bethmanns and von Kuhlmanns have gone from their places, and it matters little to Stinnes. He laughs at politics and despises diplomacy. Business to him is international. He hopes to win first place in the French coal industry just as he looks to a trading union between Germany and Russia to dominate the business of Europe.

I watched him the other day lunching with one of the chiefs of the trade mission which Germany is going to send to Russia. It will be Stinnes's mission more than anything else, and at that luncheon table it received its instructions.

Controls Economic Parliament.

Stinnes, I have said, laughs at politics. He is a member of the Reichstag, but he thinks little of that, for he dominates a much more important body, the Reichwirtschaftsrate or Economic Parliament, a body unique in Europe. That Reichstag of business will run Germany, and it will do Stinnes's bidding. He thinks he has the workers in his hands. Once after the revolution of 1918 his miners sent a deputation to him. The old order had gone, he was told. The mines were to be run by the miners and so on. Stinnes, with his coat off and looking like a miner, too, replied in effect:

"Oh, take the mines by all means. I throw them at your heads."

The deputation turned to go.

"One word more," said Stinnes. "You cant' run mines. You know I can. In three months you'll want me back. I'll come on my own terms."

The deputation was left to think over it. Ten days later Stinnes raised his miners' wages. Certainly he has these men in his hands. While other miners go on strike Stinnes's miners remain at work. He is too big a man to strike against.

Meanwhile among the people his seventy newspapers spread Stinnes's gospel, the gospel of work. They show what a tragedy the war of politics has wrought, and with work he wants to raise a party or parties not to play politics, but as a means to one end—to run the business of Germany, run her with one aim, industry. With his wealth and influence he will endeavor to make that political force so strong that there will be no hope for Bolshevist, Communist or Socialist experimentalists. Germany will be run from the desk of Stinnes, and not Germany alone, if he has his way.

Yet there is a human side to this astounding man. At the Adlon Hotel in Berlin, where he lives in a big suite of rooms, he holds open house. In the restaurant his table is always set for a dozen guests, generally his young lieutenants. There, over simple fare and ordinary Rhine wine, his big deals and his enormous interests are discussed. Chairs are laden with documents and attache cases.

Then his young son and daughter will appear. His sinister look will vanish in an engaging smile, and after he has kissed them he will chat and joke with them.

Soon business resumes its sway. Some more talk and the hurried meal is over. The fascinating, uncouth figure rises and goes, with strolling gait and shuffling feet—a man who aspires to conquer the business of Europe, and whose bank account is 2,000,000,000 marks.

Goodyear Service Plan Reduces Total Tire Sales, But Increases Goodyear Sales

THE same Goodyear policy which induces tire dealers to save a tire rather than sell a new one at the moment is responsible also for all we do to keep down tire cost-per-mile. It is this policy that has impelled us to help motorists avoid or cure wheels out of line, tread cuts, stone bruises, under-inflation, scraped side-walls and other tire injuries.

This policy of Saving Tires brings such generous returns in mileage that Goodyear cost-per-mile is lower than that of tires which sacrifice quality and service to price or "extra discount."

This fact is so widely known that motorists buy more Goodyear Tires than any other make in the world.

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of Canada, Limited

How Far Does Your Car "Drag" its Tires in Every Mile?

That's another way of asking if your wheels are properly aligned, if your brakes are perfectly round and true on both wheels.

And it is just a hint of how serious is this matter of dragging or sliding tires.

A wheel out of line constantly drags its tire.

If badly out of line a hundred miles of such driving may strip a tire of its whole tread. If only slightly out of line, the mileage is still reduced by a considerable percentage.

Knowing the many things that Goodyear is doing to conserve tires—knowing of the nation-wide system of Goodyear Service Stations—you understand why Goodyear has not neglected wheel alignment and brakes.

Goodyear Service Stations, impressed with the seriousness of alignment, will gladly test your wheels and brakes.

All-Weather Tires are All-Wheel Tires

CAR RAN INTO DITCH YOUNG GIRL BURNED.

Miss Lillian Grant, daughter of Mrs. Hector Grant, Mississaga St., Mt. Slaven, Orillia, was badly burned on the left arm and side last Sunday evening. She was out with a party of relatives and friends from Beaverton for a car ride. In coming down Sanson's Hill one of the front wheels struck a stone, swerving the car suddenly into the ditch. The car overturned, imprisoning the occupants beneath it, fortunately not falling on any of them. By opening the car door those in the rear seat got out from beneath, and with the assistance of others all were released, none the worse for their experience, with the exception of Miss Grant, who, unfortunately, was burned by escaping gasoline. The car was considerably damaged and the top totally wrecked.

PROTECTION FOR CASHIERS.

"A new bullet-proof glass for cashiers' cages consists of two sheets of plate glass between which is placed a sheet of pyralin. Bullets fired at it from a 38-calibre revolver at a distance of three feet dented and cracked the glass, but it did not fly. The best protection for a bank cashier against hold-up men," says the Boston Globe, however, "is a trap-door in front of his window, fixed so that he can press a spring and drop the hold-up man down cellar, where the police will find him when they come."

Circus Manager—"So you want a job as circus attendant, do you? What steps would you take if a lion were to escape?"

Applicant—"Good long ones, guvnor!"

A CLEAN-UP NEEDED.

The condition of affairs along the border as a result of illicit liquor dealing is such as will require the vigorous attention of the authorities, and the announcement from Attorney-General Raney that the government will take steps at once to clean up the situation is welcome. Gun fighting in the streets of a Canadian town in broad daylight is a spectacle that must not be repeated in this province, and the whiskey-runners, most of whom are thugs and crooks from across the line, must be taught a lesson. If the services of the Royal Mounted Police could be borrowed for a couple of weeks and a detachment placed in charge of the situation in the Windsor district some of these American gun men would begin to realize that there are more profitable and less hazardous occupations than whiskey running in a section in charge of the Mounties. The Examiner, like many other papers, has deprecated the necessity of stationing detachments of the riders of the plains in the east, but if there ever was a situation in Ontario which seemed to call for the presence of the Mounted Police it is the outlawry at the border where whiskey running, gambling, violence, prostitution and debauchery have been forced on the community. Whatever steps are taken they should be be vigorous and effective.

ARCHDEACON DAVIDSON.

The citizens generally as well as the members of his congregation in St. John's church, will receive with deep regret the announcement that the state of health of Archdeacon J. C. Davidson is such as to necessitate his relinquishing for the time being, his active connection with St. John's and his entering upon other duties which will cause him to be absent from Peterborough. The hope that his sojourn at the coast and his change of duties afterwards will restore him to his old strength and vigour will be general. Archdeacon Davidson in his long residence in Peterborough has been, not only in his church work, but in his general interest in everything that pertained to the welfare of the city and of its people a most valuable asset. No citizen has taken a keener pride in Peterborough than has the rector of St. John's, no heart has been animated with a greater desire to be of service to the community he loves so well than his, no person has thrown himself so unsparingly into movements that had as their object the betterment of Peterborough as has Archdeacon Davidson. Ever has he loved Peterborough people, ever has he proclaimed with loving pride his faith in Peterborough and its future. Wherever he has been he has lost no opportunity of advertising this city and of proudly upholding its people and its possibilities. His absence, even temporary, as it is hoped it will be, will be a loss to the community, for his cheery optimism and his eagerness to help in everything that tended to make this a better city are qualities that can ill be spared.

WITHOUT A MANDATE.

Whatever may be thought of Mr. Burnham's plea that he be returned to office on the platform that a general election should be held immediately, he is undoubtedly echoing the opinion of the public in declaring that the mandate handed to the Unionists in 1917 should long since have been handed back and the people given a chance to choose a new government. As the ex-member points out, not even the name under which the present administration was elected remains, and the choosing of a new premier and a new title have removed "the last vestige of right to power." The Meighen government remains in office with no mandate from the people, and from all appearances intends to defy the popular will as long as is possible. The by-elections will give the electors a chance to express their disapproval of the present situation, and the opportunity is not likely to be missed but even a complete rout of the government candidates at these approaching trials of strength will hardly suffice to unloosen the death grip of the reins of office held by the government. It is a situation that has few parallels in the history of responsible government and there will be a day of reckoning on which the people, whose will has been defied and ignored during many months, will sweep the last remnant of the government of to-day out of power and into political oblivion.

MR. BURNHAM'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnham's address to the electors, which is published to-day, is a rather remarkable epistle, albeit characteristic of its author. The ex-member for West Peterborough declares that his "sole and only platform" in offering himself as a candidate in the by-election necessitated by his resignation from the House is "that a general election should be held immediately." He naively warns other candidates off, with the suggestion that the time between the local by-election and a general appeal to the country will be so short as to be not worth while bothering about. In other words Mr. Burnham asks the people of West Peterborough to return him as their representative for the balance of the term of office of the present government as a protest against the Meighen administration remaining in power and as a proof that the electors want a general election at once.

But it is to be imagined that other candidates will pay little attention to Mr. Burnham's "keep off the grass" signs. The platform that he appropriates as his own is one that almost every other aspirant for office will readily endorse and Mr. Burnham will have to discover some more potent reason for returning him to office than he has outlined in his address if he entertain any serious thoughts of answering the roll call when the $4,000 a session legislators gather in the subsidized Parliamentary restaurant for their first meal of the new session.

PREMIER DRURY AND RADICALS.

Premier Drury's recent announcement by which he calls a halt on the construction of hydro-radials, comes as no surprise to the public. His attitude of this problem has been known for a long time, he haing stated his ospition clearly both on the platform and in the Houses. Radial roads are no to be constructed in Western Ontario or elsewhere if they parallel operating steam lines, especially those which have passed into the possession of the Government. The farmers who are coming to realize more and more the value of electric power in agriculture, are to be given fair treatment in the distribution of that power. No class is to have a monopoly of any of the public-owned utilities. If the interests of the farmers are best served by utilizing that power in their daily work rather than in the construction of radials which are not actually essential, then the power is to be used where the most satisfactory results will be obtained. Again, if there is not opwer enough to go around for all purposes then it is the policy of Mr. Drury to have that power used in manufactories, in the production of necessaries, so as to relieve the present tense situation caused by the high cost of living.

Premier Drury's position is perfectly clear and just as wise as it is plain. He is neither an open nor a covert foe to the Hddro commission. What he proposes to do now is to have the entire question of hydro radials investigated by an impartial board. If it can be shown that in certain sections the construction of radial lines would be in the interests of the farmer — and this means the advancement of the general welfare, then such roads will be built. If they are not needed the province will be spared further financial obligation. The course proposed by Premier Drury is a sane business proposition which really hsows no greater degree of caution than would be shown by those at the head of any private enterprise.

No one man, or body of men, should be permitted to carry on in the matter of public expenditure regardless of what the public may think of their transactions. It is time for an investigation. It is time to call a halt in this class and sectional favoritsm. This is the course Premier Drury now proposes to follow. It is in line with his investigation of the timber business of the province. There may be further startling revelations. In some quarters Premier Drury is being savagely attacked for what his critics term arbitrary action. The general public, however, will be willing to suspend judgment while awating developments, knowin gas they do that Premier Drury is not given to rash or unwarranted measures.— Renfrew Mercury.

Overworked Nouns.

"I'd hoped to week-end with the Blakeslees," said a young matron recently to her sister, "but with the library and the living room to be vacuumed, and all that atticing for the rummage sale —"

"Mary," said her sister, "I know you're only talking as other people do who know better; but, with all due respect to your education, you remind me of my faundress' remarks when she brought home my embroidered pillow slips: 'I tubbed as usual, ma'am, and wringered extra careful, and they come out elegant!'"

The sarcastic lady was not the only person who has poked fun at the recent tendency to press hard worked nouns into extra service as verbs. Mr. E. B. Hughes in the Writer told not long ago the story of a boy in the city who wrote to his brother on the farm: "Thursday we autoed out to the Country Club, where we golfed until dark. Then we trolleyed back to town and danced till dawn. Then we motored to the beach and Fridayed there."

The brother on the farm wrote back: "Yesterday we buggied to town and baseballed all afternoon. Then we went to Ned's and checkered till morning. Today we muled out to the cornfield and gee-hawed till sundown. Then we suppered, and then we piped for a while. After that we staircased up to our room and bedsteaded until the clock fived."

DOMESTIC TROUBLES LEAD TO TRAGIC END

OTTAWA, July 17. — A verdict of suicide was returned by the jury empanelled by Coroner Craig at the police station here to inquire into the cause of death of John F. Chambers, of Burbridge Station, P. Q. The deceased was 68 years old. Evidence showed that Chambers had on July 5 first attacked his 30-year-old bride, striking her over the head with a bottle. She ran out of the house to her brother for protection. Chambers then stabbed himself in the abdomen with a large butcher knife, causing wounds which resulted fatally two days later in the Water street hospital.

Called her a "Judas."

"He called me a Judas," said Mrs. Chambers, a fine appearing woman She had been married to the deceased only six weeks ago. The tragedy evidently resulted as the culmination of a domestic quarrel caused by the aged husband having been jealous of his youthful wife. On the morning following the stabbing Mrs. Chambers stated that she asked her husband why he had done it.

"You always had time to talk to the dogs and the strangers around here but not to talk to me," she told the jury he had said to her. Patrick Chambers of Montreal, a son of the deceased, caused a mild sensation when he asked Mrs. Chambers: "Is it not true that you asked your husband for money?" Mrs. Chambers replied that this was not the case. "Deceased had given her money as a present," she said.

Mrs. Josephine Chambers, wife of the deceased, stated that on Sunday afternoon preceding the tragedy, she had told her husband she wished to go to Timmins, Ont., to visit relatives and that he did not seem to mind." She went out alone on the lake for a sail all Sunday afternoon.

"When I came back he wanted to know why I was away so long. I replied 'I guess I can go whenever I like.' He did not seem to mind. That evening we worked together about the farm. My two little girl cousins visited us in the evening. They played the piano and sang. As soon as I finished work in the kitchen and went into the room where they were, my husband went out to his own room.

Refused to Answer Her.

Mrs. Chambers said that she spoke to her husband several times that evening, but that he had not answered her.

"The next morning he asked me if I would like my breakfast in bed," said Mrs. Chambers. "I told him I had never had it in bed before, and was able to get up and get it myself. My husband got breakfast ready. I got up to have mine. Then I milked the cows and gave the girls (her cousins) their breakfast. The girls then went home."

"I then cleared up the breakfast table. My husband was taken sick in his bed room. I went to him and asked him what was the matter. He replied nothing. I offered him some coffee but he would not have any. I said I was sorry he was sick, and he called me a Judas. I told him to come to the kitchen where I was going to begin mixing bread. Just as I was pouring the as I was pouring the butter into the flour he came behind and grabbed an empty vinegar bottle from the cupboard and then struck me over the head with it.

Had Stabbed Himself.

"I screamed and ran out of the house. He followed me to the doorstep. I ran to the stable fifty yards away where my brother was. My husband then went back into the house. I heard him screaming in his bedroom. I thought he was only screaming because he was sorry he had struck me." Mrs. Chambers then told of her brother and her uncle happening along, and her brother-in-law as well. They discovered the deceased lying on the floor of his room bleeding profusely. They sent for the priest and the doctor. "The priest took the knife out of his stomach. It was a butcher knife about a foot long and an inch and a half wide," Mrs. Chambers said.

Next morning Mrs. Chambers said she spoke to her husband and got him a drink of water. "I asked him why he had done it," she said, "and he replied 'you always had time to talk to the dogs and strangers around here but not to me.' He said I was going to die. He told me nothing of how he wounded himself." In reply to a question from a juryman, Mrs. Chambers stated that she had known deceased for three years before she had married him. They had had no quarrel previous to the one immediately preceding the tragedy.

Was Kind Neighbor.

James Roland, a neighbor, stated that the deceased had been an exceptionally kind neighbor. He had told him that he was 70 years old but he appeared to be much younger and was an excellent worker. George Thomas, brother of Mrs. Chambers, told of the finding of the body and medical evidence established the fact that death had been due to septic peritonitis, occasioned by knife wounds.

In summing up the evidence, Coroner Craig called attention of the jury to the fact that it was entirely of a circumstantial nature. There had been no actual witnesses of the act. Deceased had told the doctor however when he knew that he was going to die that he had inflicted the wounds himself. Patrick Chambers, son of the deceased, said that his father told him, "Pat, I guess I am finished. I did it, myself."

A VICTORY DANCE

The cymbals crash,
And the dancers walk
With long silk stockings
And arms of chalk.
Butterfly skirts,
And white breasts bare,
And shadows of dead men
Watching 'em there.

Shadows of dead men
Stand by the wall,
Watching the fun
Of the Victory Ball.
They do not reproach,
Because they know,
If they're forgotten,
It's better so.

Under the dancing
feet are the graves.
Dazzle and motley,
In long bright waves.
Brushed by the palm fronds,
Grapple and whirl
Ox-eyed matron—
And slim white girl.

Fat wet bodies
Go waddling by,
Girdled with satin,
Though God knows why;
Gript by satyrs
In white and black,
With a fat wet hand
On a fat wet back.

See, there is one child
Fresh from school,
Learning the ropes
As the old hands rule
God, how that dead boy
Gapes and grins
As the tomtoms bang
And the shimmy begins!

Watching the fun
Of the Victory Ball!

Canadian Foamite Firefoam, Limited

On Thursday, June 10th, I was invited by your representative, Mr. E. C. Gunn, to supervise a series of tests of your Foamite Firefoam Extinguisher at No. 4 Fire Station, Ottawa. The tests arranged and carried out were as follows:—

Test No. 1 — A wooden wall, 12' × 12' of 1" lumber, was erected and a large quantity of wood shavings, excelsior, broken packing cases and other inflamable rubbish was piled against it. The whole pile, together with the wooden wall, was then soaked with 5 gallons of gasoline and ignited. The fire was permitted to burn until the entire mass was in flames that shot some 20 feet into the air. At a given signal, and when the fire was at its height, one 5 gallon cylinder of Foamite was discharged upon the burning mass, with the result that the fire was totally extinguished in 40 seconds. The most notable feature of this test was the manner in which the wooden wall, when coated with Firefoam, was completely insulated from the flames that impinged against it.

Test No. 2 — A quantity of excelsior, broken packing cases and miscellaneous rubbish was piled within an enclosure measuring approximately 10' × 10' in an attempt to simulate as nearly as possible the conditions that frequently obtain in basements and cellars. The entire pile was soaked with gasoline, which was allowed to evaporate, the gasoline vapour being confined by the enclosure. Upon ignition, a miniature explosion took place and the entire mass instantly took fire. After being permitted to burn for 2 minutes, one 5 gallon Firefoam Extinguisher was discharged and the fire completely extinguished in 30 seconds.

Test No. 3 — An open metal tub, 2' 6" in diameter, containing 7 gallons of gasoline was placed in the centre of a wooden floor constructed of 1" boards laid on 2" × 4" scantlings. The floor was deluged with gasoline and ignited. When the entire floor and tub of gasoline were in flames, spray from a 5 gallon Firefoam Extinguisher was discharged into the tub and in 10 seconds it completely extinguished the burning gasoline and prevented its re-ignition from the flaming floor surrounding it. The floor itself was extinguished in 5 seconds by spray from the same extinguisher.

Note — Comparative tests made at the same time upon a similar gasoline soaked floor of like area gave the following results:—

(a) Ordinary 1 quart Tetra-Chloride Extinguisher. The liquid from this Extinguisher slightly subdued the flames in the small area touched by the stream, but proved entirely inadequate tod eal with a fire spread over so large an area. It was demonstrated that in fighting quickly-spreading fires 1 quart of liquid has little or no effect.

(b) Ordinary 2½ gallon Soda and Acid Extinguisher. This extinguisher was discharged upon a burning floor of the same area as that used in the other tests, and while it extinguished the flames it only did so by repeated applications, owing to the rekindling of the gasoline vapour by the hot charred floor.

To The West Riding of Peterboro

DEAR FRIENDS,—

In announcing my resignation as Member, to the Constituency, a notice of which has been sent to Ottawa, permit me to say:

1. When the Union Party and the Union Government ceased to exist, there can be no doubt that the mandate given by the people to the Unionists in 1917 should have been handed back and a general election called immediately. As for myself I could not support a Government of an entirely different party and name proposing to step in and take the reins of power without any authority at all from the People. Such a proceeding is surely a dangerous one. When the final and fatal step of changing even the name of the governing party was taken, the last vestige of right to power must be considered to have vanished.

2. At the coming bye-election I propose to stand as a candidate on the sole and only platform that a general election should be held immediately. While the tenure of office for so short a time as that between the bye-election and the general election may not attract many candidates, it need not preclude their getting ready for the general election, which can not long be delayed.

Yours faithfully,

J. H. BURNHAM

VIRTUOUS WIVES

By OWEN JOHNSON

"Quite right—and watch where I land," said Laracy, not in the least offended. "My dear fellow, make love to them if you wish — bless their hearts, they're so grateful!—but don't go and fool yourself. Good Lord, hasn't Irma trained you better? Don't you know the bunch you're playing with? So you think you're madly, hopelessly in love with Amy Forrester, do you—you great big calf?"

"Oh, Lord, I don't know!" said Dawson, adjusting a pink tie with nicety. "Don't ask me."

"Go down Fifth Avenue, stop at any hairdressing parlour, and make love to the first wax beauty in the window," said Laracy crushingly. "You'll be better off. Buck up, Tody! Life's a long way to travel and there's a lot of bills to pay." For a moment he was silent, impressed with this momentous truth; then he added solicitously: "Don't make a colossal ass of yourself! Why, boy, you've a chance right under your nose — a dozen fellows fighting for her! A dear little thing, that's ready to fall into your arms," he continued vehemently, evidently referring to some eligible young lady captivated by Dawson's accomplishments, for he added: "Make hay—make hay while the sun shines. This dancing craze isn't immortal, you know!"

"I say, you're consoling!"

"I'm giving you straight talk," said Laracy, obstinately. "Well? No confidence this morning?"

"Can't tell you anything—now," said Dawson, looking out of the window.

"At your service," said Laracy, who saluted and departed.

At noon, Dawson, who had tried fifty ways to cheat the clock, descended to the street and bolted into a taxicab.

"Beg pardon, Mr. Dawson, any number?" asked the Buttons.

He flung out hastily an address in Sixty-fifth Street, just east of Fifth Avenue, glanced at his watch uneasily and began to rehearse the explanation he had constructed.

Arrived at the double-front Renaissance house which Andrew Forrester had sublet for the season, he passed through the iron grille and greeted Gregory with an appearance of nonchalance.

"Morning, Gregory. Let Mrs. Forrester know I am here, will you?" Then, with the knowledge of an habitue, he ran lightly up the winding marble stairs and into the great salon.

"The old boy must be making piles down in Mexico," he thought. "Awkward situation! Might be better to blame it on the punch!"

Finally, he determined to guide his apologies by the attitude he should encounter. Instead of Gregory, Morley, trim and stately in black and white, brought him in his answer.

"Mrs. Forrester's very sorry, Mr. Dawson, but she asks to b excused this morning, sir."

"What?" he said, his expression turning blank. Morley repeated the message.

"She won't see me," thought Dawson, so utterly upset that he forgot the presence of the maid, who watched him with a sympathetic smile. "She refuses to see me," he repeated, and he thought of all the good times, the dinners, the impromptu dances, the invitations to theatre and opera, which had been his in these pleasant, luxurious pastures.

"You might write a word, sir, if it's very important," said Morley softly.

"What? Oh, yes!"

He passed hurriedly into the library, found an envelope, and wrote in a bold hand, "Mrs. Forrester." He studied it, finding it absurd to have written anything at all, thought a moment, took out a card, and scribbled a few words on it, sealed the envelope, making sure that the gum had dried sufficiently before entrusting it to Morley.

"Wonder what she thinks of all this?" he thought all at once, and he hastily said aloud: "It's about the Versailles fete, Morley. We've got to decide the costumes right off."

"Yes, indeed, sir," said Morley blandly. "If you'll wait, I'll bring you Mrs. Forrester's answer."

"You're kind, very kind, Morley," he said nervously. "Thank you." He went to the piano and began to thunder out the latest maxixe.

"No, that doesn't sound right!" he said, stopping short. He considered gravely, and then allowed his finegsr to wander languidly through a sentimental ballad of the Parisian cafes, which struck him as better suited to his state of dejection and repentance.

II.

At the moment of Dawson's agitated arrival, Mrs. Forrester, in the Louis XVI. boudoir, fresh from the hands of her hairdresser, was reclining in a deep-cushioned bergere, enveloped in a negligee which rivalled in delicacy the rare brocades and the dainty cartouches of Boucher which enlivened the walls hung in blue silk. Miss Pound, the housekeeper, had departed with the instructions for the day, leaving her to her reflections. Her nature was too amiable and gay to give in to violent depressions. Yet this morning she was annoyed—by the steady contraction of her eyebrows and the little furrowed lines of her forehead which had not been there two years ago. For this unusual and unwelcome mood there were three reasons—a letter from Andrew which lay in her lap, a marked copy of the latest Tattle-Tale, at which she was glancing with a sensitive aversion of her little nostrils, and, last of all, the annoying problem of Tody Dawson.

The letter from her husband had arrived several days before, postmarked from a town in northern Mexico—short, direct, complaining of his lack of news from her:

My Dear Amy,

Three weeks now without word of you—you really might do better than that. Internal conditions here are so bad that I look forward to the future with great apprehension. I spoke to you of this, and I thought I had made you understand the situation. Last month's account, just received from Miss Pound, was therefore a disagreeable surprise. I may be up any time or not for months. Please treat as serious my plea for economy. If the revolution spreads, the mines will have to close indefinitely. You may realise what that means to us.—Aff., Andrew.

She had been overwhelmed with remorse on receipt of this letter, the first in which he had shown a touch of criticism. She was astounded and incredulous. There must have been some mistake. Surely she had written at least twice a week. But on consulting her engagement book, the mystery was easily explained. The last weeks before Lent had been absolutely crowded with social duties—four costume balls, half a dozen large dinners at home, every night consumed until three and four in the morning, luncheons, thes dansants, weekends at Irma's or Gladys Challoner's, impromptu engagements at restaurants, with barely time to sandwich in a few hours' necessary shopping before the exactions of a social afternoon. Only the mornings remained, but when one awoke at 11, what with the masseuse and the hairdresser, where was there time to do the things one really wanted to do?

Nevertheless, she had reproached herself at her neglect of Andrw, who was working so hard, and had resolved that she would write him religiously three times a week—a long letter each Sunday morning and a short note on each Tuesday and Friday. As evidence of good faith, she had taken up her engagement book and written across the dates selected, "Write Andrew." She had even addressed and stamped a dozen envelopes, so that in hurried moments half the work would be done. Furthermore, she had called in Miss Pound and, assuming a severe manner, had said:

"The bills last month were simply ghastly. We must economise this month."

"In what way, Mrs. Forrester?" asked Miss Pound, blushing.

"In every way," she replied, and in order to cover her complete ignorance, and to show that she was minutely informed, she repeated firmly, "In every possible way!"

She had not the slightest conception of their situation. At first, when they had sublet, at twenty thousand dollars the season, the little palace they occupied, she had been aghast at the sum. But Andrew had laughed and told her not to worry. She had such confidence in Andrew. There was nothing he could not do if his mind were made up. Why then all at once, this bolt from a clear sky? Yet the ominous note of his peremptory warning remained in her memory. For there was the Versailles fete which she had planned all season—the fete that would be a social milestone in her triumphant season. The cards had been out five weeks—how was it possible to recall them? And the fete would cost—what all such important events must cost.

Andrew's letter had arrived just after luncheon, while she and Irma Dellabarre were waiting for the household pets, Dawson and Laracy, to call for them.

But Andrew had laughed and told her not to worry. She had such confidence in Andrew. There was nothing he could not do if his mind were made up. Why then all at once, this bolt from a clear sky? Yet the ominous note of his peremptory warning remained in her memory. For there was the Versailles fete which she had planned all season—the fete that would be a social milestone in her triumphant season. The cards had been out five weeks—how was it possible to recall them? And the fete would cost—what all such important events must cost.

Andrew's letter had arrived just after luncheon, while she and Irma Dellabarre were waiting for the household pets, Dawson and Laracy, to call for them.

BY-ELECTIONS NOT BEFORE OCTOBER

Preliminary Procedure Prescribed Under New Act Somewhat Involved.

OTTAWA.— It will be the better part of two months before the Federal by-elections, necessitated by the entry to the Cabinet of Hon. F. B. McCurdy and Hon. R. W. Wigmore, are held. The preliminary procedure prescribed by the new Franchise Act which incidentally will have its first try out, is lengthy. In the first place registrars have to sit to prepare the lists, using the Provincial lists as a base. This process calls for a notice of several days, apart form the sitting time and time for making the lists.

Then the revising officers will sit and hear appeals to put on or take off names, and this begins twenty-one days before polling. Making allowance for the different exactions of the law the by-elections will not occur before the first week in September, and possibly later.

Those in St. John and Colchester will come first. The by-elections in East Elgin must be brought on within six months after the issue of the Speaker's warrant. This was issued on February 17th, so the writs must be issued by the 17th of August, and the voting need be held only in whatever date is then selected. It may be October before East Elgin votes, and later still in Yale, B.C., vacant by the retirement of Hon. Martin Burrell.

Shock-Absorbers For False Teeth

CLEVELAND, March 8. — Non-Skid Shock Absorbers for false teeth are the latest thing. Heretofore the principle of shock absorbers has been limited in application but now a Cleveland chemical concern advertises a powder which sprinkled upon "store teeth," forms a smooth cushion, holds them firmly in place, and gives a "non-skid" effect while they romp over the toughest ears of corn and chew the stickiest candy.

One who has lost his natural teeth can supply himself with this antiseptic, adhesive comfort powder—Corega—at a drug store, and proceed to laugh and sneeze, chack nuts and do other hazardous things without the risk of shaking his prized false teeth from their upper and lower berths. 50c at druggists.—Adv.

Dibbins was dining with some people who were proud of the recent elevation of a member of the family to the house of lords.

"This," said his hostess, "makes the second of my husband's family in the peerage. Have you any relation in the House of Lords?"

"No!" said Dibbins, "but I have two maiden aunts in the kingdom of heaven."

SPARROWS A PEST.

Two Acres of Wheat Field Bare in the Harvest.

On Col. Ponton's farm in Sidney township, Hastings County, the first fall wheat was cut on Monday and gives promise of an excellent yield, but the English sparrow, which with epicurean taste, touches nothing but wheat when obtainable, have stripped nearly two acres of the grain. As a pest, they are worse than gophers and neither scarecrows nor shotguns will scare them. In this they are true to the Breed.—Port Hope Guide.

IN ROWELL'S RIDING.

Durham U.F.O. May Name Col. McLaughlin for Commons.

ORONO, July 17.—With the resignation of Hon. N. W. Rowell, M.P. for Durham County, from the Cabinet, and the rumor of an election in the fall, the county organization of the U.F.O. has sent out notices for a convention to be held in the town hall, Orono, on Tuesday afternoon, July 20th.

Several names have been mentioned as possible candidates, but the most popular choice appears to be that of Lieut.-Col. Lorne T. McLaughlin, C.M.G., D.S.O., of Darlington Township.

LAKEFIELD'S NORMAL CLASS ALL PASSED

VOTE ON TOWN HALL BY-LAW EVIDENCES FAITH IN THE VILLAGE.

LAKEFIELD, July 17.—The Lakefield record for the Normal school this year is up to the standard as all four Lakefield pupils have passed their examinations. This year's class consists of Misses Millie Lemay, Hertha Preston, Florence Little and Mr. Kenneth S. Madill.

St. John's Excursion.

The annual S. S. excursion of St. John's church was held on Thursday to Sandy Point per steamer 'Empress' and was very successful indeed. This excursion, though not by any means pretentious, is a jolly one and very popular as the boat ride is not too long for the small children, of whom there are a great many.

The result of the vote on the by-law re the town Hall, submitted on Wednesday, is significant. It shows that the ratepayers of the village have confidence in the present municipal administration and are assured that they will superintend the completion of the building. The town hall is a splendid looking building and when properly completed it will be a credit to the village and all the well wishers of Lakefield are assured that the village has a big future when the building is completed and its safety is guaranteed. Lakefield will be justly proudly of its community hall.

ARBITRATION BOARD TO BEGIN THIS WEEK

DISTINGUISHED ARRAY OF COUNSEL FOR G.T.R. PROCEEDINGS.

OTTAWA, July 19.—The arbitration proceedings for the purchase by the Dominion of the Grand Trunk Railway begins in Montreal this week. In addition to the arbitrators Justice Cassels is chairman, with Sir Thomas White acting for the Government and former U. S. President W. H. Taft for the company there will be present an array of distinguished counsel. The Dominion Government will be represented by Pierce Butler, a railway lawyer of St. Paul, Minn.; N. W. Tilley, K.C., Toronto; Hector McInnes, K.C., Halifax, and H. A. Lovett, K.C., Montreal. The Grand Trunk will be represented by Eugene Lafleur, K.C., Montreal; Hon. F. H. Phippen, K.C., Toronto, and Hon. A. W. Atwater and W. H Biggar, of Montreal. The arbitration proceedings are expected to take several months before an award will be made.

$100,000 MEMORIAL HALL FOR OSHAWA VETS

MONSTER G.W.V.A. DRIVE WITH THIS END IN VIEW STARTED.

At a meeting of Oshawa's representative men it was decided to inaugurate a monster drive in the hope of raising $100,000 with which to erect a memorial hall for the G. W. V. A..

There was much enthusiasm evinced in the campaign and very little cold water was thrown upon the project.

Among those who declared themselves heart and soul with the plan were W. E. N. Sinclair, M. Bergey, and Mayor Stacey.

Mayor Stacey was firm for it: "This memorial hall should be provided," he said. "The veterans are willing to have the hall controlled to a certain extent by the business men of the town. I cannot see any reason why we should not have some such a hall. Oshawa has long been in need of something of this nature and it might in time become a source of revenue, such as the Massey Hall in Toronto, which brings in large sums of money every time that it is let.

"Everybody's opinion upon his subject will of course not be the same. Some may give opinions that would save them from giving a grant. I am not saying that this would happen in connection with so great and worthy a cause as this.

"This will possibly be the last we shall be asked to do for our returned men and I hope that the whole town will help to put the campaign over the top. There should be a good site for the building, and the building itself should be a work of art that we could point to with pride. It should be a monument of recognition of the good work our volunteers did overseas."

THE DREAD PYORRHEA BEGINS WITH BLEEDING GUMS

Pyorrhea's infecting germs cause many ills. Medical science has proven this.

Diseased conditions, which not long ago doctors were unable to trace to a cause, are now known often to be the result of Pyorrhea germs that breed in pockets about the teeth. Rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders and other diseases have been traced in many cases to this Pyorrhea infection.

Don't let Pyorrhea work its wicked will on your body. Visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection.

And watch your gums yourself. Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, begins with tender and bleeding gums; then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of poisons generated at their base.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Wedding March at Viamede.

STONEY LAKE, July 17.—An interesting event took place on Friday night in the pavilion at 'Viamede,' it might almost be termed a surprise party. Dr. Rogers and Miss Rogers and their guests, which included several nurses of the 1919 graduating class of the Toronto General Hospital, came over and asked for Mr. and Mrs. Hogan. Mrs. Hogan (nee Maude Kennedy) was one of their fellow graduates last year. The young couple entered the hall to the familiar strains of the wedding march as played by Mrs. Ralston of Toronto. Miss Malcolmson of Toronto, presented the bride with a huge bouquet on behalf of the graduating class. Archdeacon Beamish of Belleville introduced the newly weds in a graceful and witty speech, after which the entire company joined in a circle and sang 'For They Are Jolly Good Fellows.' The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Before the party broke up three hearty cheers were given for Messrs. W. S. Schultz and G. A. Klines, of Cleveland, who have been literally "jolly good fellows" in the party for the past fortnight.

TRIESTE RIOT DAMAGE PUT AT 20,000,000 LIRE

Seeral Americans Lost All in Burning of Hotels in Anti-Slav Outbreak.

ROME.—Two persons were killed, thirty were wounded and damage amounting to 20,000,000 lire (normally about $5,000,000) was done during the disorders at Trieste during which Jugoslav hotels and business places were attacked by Italians, according to the Popolo d'Italia.

Francis Flynn of San Antonio, Texas, who escaped from a burning hotel during the anti-Slav demonstrations here, is an American sailor in the uniform of a chief electrician, and is head of the United States Navy Communication Service in Trieste.

Flynn was trapped on the fifth floor of the burning building and made his escape by finding his way to another building and jumping twenty feet to the street. He then tried to get to his office to report events to Rear Admiral Philip Andrews, commander of the American warships in the Adriatic, but failed.

Several American families who were caught in the burning hotel had just arrived from America and were awaiting trains to Jugoslavia. Scores presented themselves at the American Consulate to day quite destitute, having lost all their belongings in the fire. Among them was Rufus Ryman, of Nashville, Tennessee. Ryman was decorated by the Italian Government for bravery in the Durazzo fighting during the war.

Power will be obtained from nearby waterfalls to operate 200 miles of electric railroads that are built in the Pyrenees.

CALLS HIM A POLITICAL MARVEL

WHAT THE RENFREW MERCURY HAS TO SAY ABOUT MR. J. H. BURNHAM, EX-M.P.

The Renfrew Mercury says: J. H. Burnham, M. P., for Peterboro, is probably one of the most prominent private members of the House of Commons, made so by reason of the fact that he is several laps ahead of the majority of his colleagues on all public questions. Nominally he is a Conservative. Some newspapers say he is erratic while others, more inclined to justice, are satisfied to venture the opinion that he is a radical. Mr. Burnham's latest departure from the beaten paths of precedent, is the sending of his resignation to the speaker of the House. He believes that the Union Government has played out its string, that it no longer represents the people, and he refuses to be identical with its followers any longer. Some of our exchanges, and some politicians who suspect an ulterior motive in everything a public man does, are wondering what Mr. Burnham has up his sleeve.

To cite a somewhat parallel incidente—Readers of Dickens will recall the story of the immortal Mr Pickwick and the members of his club, and how on one occasion when in search of adventure they discovered a stone marked with what to their startled eyes were mystifying hieroglyphics. They bought this stone at a fancy figure and proposed for it an honoured place among the relics of the club. The inscription was supposed to be the work of some scholar of prehistoric ages, to contain a mesage from the past to those of the then generation, to be in short a priceless specimen of legendary lore.

But a plain countryman of indifferent scholaastic attainments, spoiled everything by his easy translation. "Bill Stumps, his mark," was all the message and the pride of the seekers after the antique was cruelly dashed.

Explanation of alleged mysteries are easy to the one who holds the key. Mr. Burnham is a conundrum to some papers and statesmen simply because he is an honest politician. He was elected to Parliament in 1911 by the narrow margin of 42 votes. His majority in the Union election of 1917 was over 4,000, almost a return by aclamation. Since the close of the war he has never ceased to urge the Government to keep faith with the people and go to the country. For the past two sessions he has sat among the unterrified on the cross benches. Now he quits altogether simply because he is a man of his word, honest even in politics, a member of Parliament with whom statesmanship is a condition instead of a mere convenient theory.

$1,000 ROAD BY-LAW.

Passed by the Dummer Township Council.

The Council of the Municipality of Dummer, held a regular meeting in the Town Hall at Warsaw, on July 9.

On motion a by-law respecting the expenditure of one thousand dollars on colonization roads was read a third time and passed, to be forwarded to the Department of Lands, Forests and Mines, as required by the regulations respecting colonization roads. By-law No. 880 was amended to increase the interest payable to the Union Bank of aCnada, to six and one half per cent. on loans therefrom. On motion the following accounts were passed for payment:

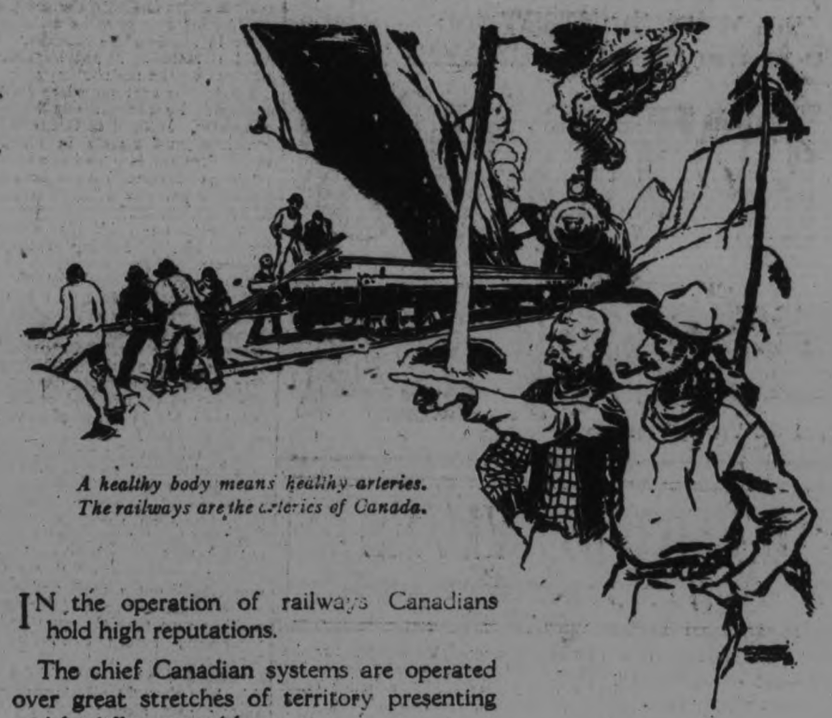
J. G. Keefer, for printing 20 auditors' reports—$15.00.

Albert Batten, account for opening up and breaking roads in winter season—$7.00.

John Cooper, for improvement made on side of road on Church street, Warsaw, $25.00.

Council adjourned to meet July 20th, 1920.

Thunder storms are most frequent in Java than anywhere else on the globe.



A healthy body means healthy arteries. The railways are the arteries of Canada.

IN the operation of railways Canadians hold high reputations.

The chief Canadian systems are operated over great stretches of territory presenting widely different problems.

Their traffic obligations fluctuate rapidly with the seasons.

Climatic conditions are sometimes difficult. Unusual foresight, skill and determination are called for.

* * *

Yet the only unfailing highways for the heavy traffic across the New World from China to France during the war—were Canadian railways.

Canada alone among the allied countries had no war-time transportation crisis. When foreign roads choked under their load, she relieved them of millions of tons. At a time when ships were the need of the hour no ship lost time in any Canadian port through failure of the railways to deliver cargoes at the docks.

To-day the Canadian producer still commands the fastest, the most dependable and the cheapest railway service in the world.

But the foresight that made this record possible could do nothing without MONEY! The skill that kept terminals uncongested had to be backed with MONEY! The determination that drove crippled engines ahead in the face of 40-below gales and mounting snow would in the long run have been useless without MONEY!

* * *

Thus to-day the alarming fall in the net revenues of the railways is a menace to railway efficiency. It injures railway credit. It dissolves the reserves needful to meet the expanding needs of a growing country. It imperils natio[illegible] prosperity.

Increased freight rates are imperative therefore, not merely on behalf of railways but in the interests of Canada itself!

In July 1918 the Canadian roads were threatened with a general strike. To prevent this public catastrophe they agreed to follow the American scale of wage increases. The Government of Canada meantime allowed freight rate increases intended to make up the cost of these new wage rates.

Leaving aside all question of increased cost of material, the new wages cost the railways of Canada an extra eighty million dollars for the first year alone.

The new rates yielded them an additional forty-three millions!

The annual deficit on wages alone was thirty-seven millions and is constantly growing!

This is the first of a series of advertisements published under the authority of The Railway Association of Canada
formerly the CANADIAN RAILWAY WAR BOARD

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

oT the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir.—I would like to correct the impression created in the Police Court on Thursday, July 15th, by Mr. Stannard's remarks as to the wage paid by me to the boy, Edward Mason.

The lad hired with me, under a contract, by which if he stayed with me until the year 1921 he would receive a lump sum of two hundred dollars and board, clothing, spending money, etc. The boy left without notice. The 30 cents mentioned by Mr. Stannard that the boy received was what must have been left as he received spending money weekly. Not wishing to do the boy harm, but in justice to myself, the boy ran away from home, came to my place looking for work. I hired him, informed the police and the Barnardo Home authorities in Toronto. The boy's information given to Mr. Stannard was anything but correct. Leaving it to the judgment of the people.

POLES ARE RUSHING TO COUNTRY'S AID

Trainloads of Citizens of Poland Pass Through Bridgeburg on Way Home.

BRIDGEBURG, Ont., July 17. — Every train crossing the border here is bringing in Poles, all rushing home, following the appeal issued by the Polish consuls to their nationals to bolster the Polish battlefront against the on-rushing Bolsheviki.

Most of the Poles entering Canada are taking passage from Montreal on ocean steamers. All seem to be fired with national enthusiasm to defend their newly-established republic against the hordes of Bolsheviki, which has for the time defeated it and driven it back.

At Buffalo, baggage is piled 10 feet high, belonging to Poles awaiting passage, or who gave gone on ahead and left their baggage to follow. Many of the Poles now returning saw service in the European war, some having been trained at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

COOLING DRINKS

There is no reason why any household cannot enjoy a wide variety of cold drinks with but little expense and trouble and without patronizing the soda fountain to an undue extent. It takes little time to make up a few syrup which may be kept in sterilized bottles for use as needed. Plain syrup stock, that is a syrup of sugar and water, should always be kept on hand both in winter and in summer as it provides a rich, smooth sweetening for any drink, hot or cold, besides saving considerable time in preparation when it is needed. In other words it is a "short cut" to have syrup enough for instant use in making a number of lemonades, or whatever the drink may be, instead of stopping to boil it each time.

Plain Syrup Stock.

Two quarts of water, six pounds of sugar. Boil together for five minutes. Can hot in sterilized jars. Allow one tablespoonful to a person in sweetening any fresh fruit drink.

Orangeade Syrup.

Six large oranges, one large lemon, two and a half quarts of cold water, six pounds of sugar.

Grate the rinds into the sugar, add the fruit juices and cover. Let stand for six hours, then add the water, and stir until dissolved, and strain. Can be kept for four weeks in a cold place. Use four tablespoonfuls of syrup to three quarter cupful water, and one teaspoonful fresh lemon juice.

Orangeade.

Two cupfuls sugar, three quarter cupful orange juice, one quart of water, one quarter cupful of lemon juice.

Boil the sugar and water ten minutes with the orange rinds. Remove the rinds, chill the syrup, add the fruit juices and dilute to taste. Serve very cold with a bit of orange or mint as a garnish. This makes ten small glasses.

Real-Fruit Desserts The Rarest Sort

The only gelatine dessert which has fruit-juice flavors sealed in glass is Jiffy-Jell.

No artificial flavor can take the place of fruit. For Jiffy-Jell the fruit is crushed, condensed and sealed in vials. A bottle of this liquid essence comes in the package. And sugar is used—not saccharine—to sweeten Jiffy-Jell.

Jiffy-Jell comes in ten flavors. Try loganberry and pineapple for desserts. Try lime-fruit flavor for tart salad jell. Try mint for a refreshing mint jell.

WOMEN REFUSING TO ANNOUNCE AGE TO OBTAIN VOTES

TOPEKA, Kas., July 17.—Woman suffrage and women's club leaders generally to-day rallied to the support of the position taken by Mrs. Margaret Hill McCarter, yesterday in refusing to give her age when she went to register as a voter. Mrs. McCarter declares she will contest the ruling which was based on a decision of the Attorney-General that a woman can not register unless she gives her age more definitely than "over 21."

"It's a club the men hold over the women to prevent them from voting," declared Mrs. Lila Day Monroe, woman lawyer and well known suffragist.

TO MARK GRAVES OF LINDSAY SOLDIERS

LINDSAY, July 19.—Temporary wooden crosses, similar to the ones erected in France and Flanders, are to be erected in Riverside cemetery by the Government to mark the graves of soldiers buried there, who died in the service.

These crosses will be placed over the graves of Captain Dr. W. C. Jeffers and Lieut. W. Allin.

Mayor McLean has been notified by Captain Patterson, of Military District No. 3, that later on these crosses are for temporary marking only, and will be replaced by markers of a more permanent nature in the future; but it is felt that the graves of such men should be appropriately marked in the meantime.

PLEADED GUILTY TO FORGERY CHARGE

JAS. ALEXANDER EXPEDITES HEARING—POLICE WILL LOOK INTO HIS RECORD.

James Alexander, of Hamilton, was remanded for a week in this morning's Police Court on two charges of forgery. Alexander was charged with having on Friday last presented a cheque to Warne Brothers, jewellers, for the amount of $150 in payment for a diamond ring, to which he had signed the name of W. A. James, and having on Saturday last presented a cheque to Leo Smith for $10, to which he had signed the name of A. J. Vernon, of Henry Vernon and Son, publishers, of Hamilton, whom he was representing.

Alexander pleaded guilty to both charges and elected summary trial. His antecedents will be investigated during the week.

He was arrested by Police Sergeant Deanard on information supplied by an employee of Warne Brothers.

BIGGEST CHAUTAUQUA IN THIS CITY'S HISTORY

LOCAL COMMITTEE MEET AND PLAN FOR COMING EVENT.

On Friday, July 16 the Chautauqua organizer, Captain Musgrave, met the local committee and helped them to plan for the biggest and most enthusiastic Chautauqua in Peterborough's history.

Chautauqua's dates this year are August 9th to 14th and the advertising of the six days' attractions will begin at once.

Officers Appointed.

The officers of the local committee are:

Mrs. Robt. Harstone, Convenor.
Mrs. Stevenson, Vice Convenor.
Mrs. W. R. Morris, Secretary, and Convenor of Press committee.
Mrs. Mowat, Convenor of Junior Chautauqua.
Miss Stratton, Treasurer.

Ticket Selling Campaign.

A meeting is being held to-day to select captains for the ticket-selling campaign.

This year it is expected that a very large number of season tickets will be sold, as these tickets offer the best value to the purchaser, and also bring a larger percentage of profit to the committee than the single admission.

Voice Of The People

Peterborough, July 19th, 1920.

Editor Examiner, City:

Dear Sir,—I have been instructed by Local 191, A. F. of M., to ask you to give the following resolution publicity through your columns:

YOUNG PEOPLE SPEAK AT MURRAY ST. CHURCH

Deep Impression Made by Six Young Ladies and Men.

The six addresses by young people at the Murray Street Baptist Church last night will not soon be forgotten. The work of these young men and young ladies speaks well for the future of the church in which they are working. The addresses were delivered with a freedom and distinctness which manifested real talent while the matter was most impressive.

One fact impressed itself on the hearer especially, and that was that while they were all speaking of one convention, which covered only four days there, was no overlapping and the impressions made were evidently such as will not only abide with those who made the reports, but will influence all who come in touch with them.

Those participating were the Misses Clara Doughty, Lizzie Webber, Constance Lewis, Marjorie Stenton and Messrs. Roy White and Allan Doughty.

CROOKS IN PORT HOPE.

Crooks are evidently working this district of Ontario with an old trick, that of asking change for a $20 bill, and attempting to retain the twenty spot, together with a few other odd bills.

According to the Guide, of Port Hope, on Wednesday a stranger entered a local hardware store, and tendered a $20 bill in payment for 15c worth of nails. The merchant started to count out the change when the buyer introduced the old story of having the correct change and there would be no need of changing the twenty. In the meantime, however, the sharper had picked up his twenty and also the ten given in change. But the hardware man was too alert and he soon made his crooked customer hand back the ten spot.

At a local grocery store in the same town another one tendered a twenty dollar bill for a can of beans, but was promptly told that the correct change would be appreciated.

HOW MOVIE STUNTS ARE "FAKED"

Listen to this moving story, Fans and Fanettes, and learn a few of the tricks of the most popular trade in the world. You have seen battle and murder, and bloody death on the screen; you have seen the great Douglas walking upside down; you have watched with beating heart men take flying leaps which no known athlete would attempt; you have seen dragons pursuing frantic children until you were scared nearly to death yourself, and you have seen giants and pigmies performing odd stunts so realistically that you refused to believe that everything is not an actual occurence caught on the film.

You know that there are now no one-hundred-foot giants in the California movie studios. And yet you saw in Bryant Washburn's comedy, "The Six Best Cellars," a human monster walk down the roadway and drink out of a demijohn while people of normal size, but pigmies by comparison, flanked him on either curb.

The giant was a real man, "even as you and I." So were the people over whom he towered, though he could have put several of them in his vest pocket. How was it done? Double exposure, you answer. Wrong—though it might have been done that way. It was all done with one "shot," and it illustrates how far beyond double-exposure camers ingenuity has advanced.

A Trick of Exposure.

The "giant" was the creation of W. L. Hall, a genius in the service of the Famous Players-Lasky Company. He built a platform sixteen feet wide in the street, resembling a pavement, reaching from curb to curb, on which he placed an actor of ordinary size. Back of this platform, which was seventy-two feet deep, were the throngs of people. Now the skill consisted in so placing the camera that the curb lines on which the people stood far back of the "giant" were caught by the lens while the "giant" was kept in perfect perspective.

He was a "close-up" and they were a "long-shot"—all in the same scene. Yet the screen seems to show the throngs following the walking colossus on an even line with him, when in fact they were nearly one hundred feet back. It illustrates what a lens in the hands of a master of the camera's mechanism and of optics and perspective can be made to do.

Fairbanks' Latest "Feat."

Doug Fairbanks is a genuine athlete, but he can't walk on ceilings, head downward, as he is seen to do in "When the Clouds Roll By." That, of course, was a mechanical interpolation.

They built at his studio a set showing a room open at one side and revolving on an axis like a squirrel cage. As Doug walked over to the side wall and placed his foot on it for the first step the camera, also set with special equipment, so that it would revolve, likewise turned, and so on as he walked up one side, over the ceiling, and down the other side.

To the turned camera he appeared always to be walking on the floor, head up, but in the picture registered on the film, always vertical, the star had his head out horizontally or downward, as the case happened to be. The pursuers rushing into the room were introduced by double exposure.

Simple enough in the main elements, but the art was to get the mechanism of the room and camera adjusted to such a mathematical nicety that the artifice wouldn't be given away at some point in the revolution. A somewhat similar method was used in filming the earthquake scene in Bryant Washburn's play, "Why Smith Left Home," with its heaving and rocking buildings.

In one of Fairbanks' plays is a scene showing a city being overwhelmed by flood. This was done by sending a sluice over a town in miniature buildings; and to overcome the perky effects which would appear on the screen, the scene was "shot" with a fast lens making ten feet of film a second.

Something in "Intolerance."

Some remarkable photographic stunts were done in Griffin's spectacular play, "Intolerance." This was effected by Mr. Hall, then with Griffith, but now of the Lasky Company.

In some of the long-shots showing vast numbers of Babylonians in the festive scenes in the palace, and others showing fighting with invaders from the towering walls, the soldiers were manikins operated mechanically! They carried shields and performed prodigious feats of valor. These toy figures, of which there were no fewer than three thousand in one scene, went through their "acting" wholly by means of a system of little elevators underneath the set operated by a large corps of men under Mr. Hall's direction.

One of these miniature mechanical marvels cost twenty-four thousand dollars to build. There was no fake about that! "Mr. Griffith almost laughed himself sick when he saw the thing operated," says Hall. But so amazingly perfect was the complicated device that these manikins were shown spearing each other, battling furiously with swords, falling in combat, and even hurling balls of fire from the parapets so realistically that no eye has ever been skilled enough even to get a suspicion of fake. No wonder Griffith laughed.

The illusion was perfected by a host of real, moving humans in the scenes—and this was another achievement of Hall, plus Griffith—to make the false dovetail so perfectly with the real that an expert camera man could not tell one from the other.

How to Make a Dragon.

An amusing piece of faking was one under Hall's master-hand in a fairy play. They asked him to conceive some way in which a dragon could be shown pursuing children. Hall got a young denizen of one of the Southern California alligator farms and "dolled it up" with horns, claws, and other accoutrements of a husky dragon. Then he had the children photographed running up steps to a refuge in an enchanted tower.

Running the film back, he made a second exposure showing the dragon crossing the foreground in all his horrified design, crawling up the steps, and finding himself baffled by the enchanted door-sill. "Maybe we didn't have a time making that dragon act his role," said Hall. The skill of the thing consisted in the mathematical accuracy with which the double exposure had to be done. The illusion was perfect.

Another wizard of the camera—master of them all, in fact, in the making of fake thrill stuff, as it is known in the argot of the studio—is Fred Jackman, head of the photographic staff for Sennett. It is generally Sennett who conceives the situations; it is Jackman who puts them into execution.

Horses' Sudden Growth.

Jackman can show a man falling off the top of the Washington Monument, landing on his feet and walking away with an unruffled cigar in his mouth. He's nice about refusing to give away the tricks of his trade, explaining that in his particular line it's especially desirable to keep people guessing which is real and which fake. But he admits that he does put it over on them now and then. He's so expert, in fact, that openly other producers borrow him from Sennett for particularly difficult trick photography. He told how he made a bony horse eat a bag of oats and grow fat before your eyes. He photographed a cadaverous old Dobbin eating the feed. Then he substituted a horse swollen up with wind colic.

Next he turned the film back six turns and faded in. The optical effect is an animal gaining a hundred weight in a few seconds.

A Snow-White Negro.

In the same way he made a frightened darky turn snow-white. But it's not so simple as it sounds. The darky had to retire to put on a white make-up, but before doing so another camera was trained on him and his exact location was sketched on the glass plate.

If, in retaking the scene, the darky had been a small part of an inch out of the position he left, the figure would appear to jump on the screen and the trick would be spotted. When the darky came back he was located in this precise spot and in the precise attitude by the second camera's plate, and the "lay-dissolve," as it is termed, was completed. This trick explains how Mary Pickford, in a recent play, was shown shedding rags that were simultaneously replaced by the princess's gown.

In one Sennett comedy Jackman showed a girl skating into a room, making a complete loop-the-loop circle, and skating out. While the camera showed her looping, she was actually standing still on one spot. She skated to that spot, the camera was revolved, and as it reached "even keel" the girl skated out of the scene. The revolving of the camera made it appear that she had described a full circle.

Those 80-Foot Leaps.

Here's the way they make men in a comedy chase leap from roof, to roof across a street, say sixty feet. They make a photograhp of the real buildings. Then they take at the studio a moving-picture of the actors jumping from one spot to another, say ten feet. All around and behind them are hung black velvet curtains so that nothing registers on the film but the flying figures.

By superimposing that on the picture of the buildings, after getting far enough away with the camera to see that the perspective of the leap fits exactly on the cornices of the building, they show you men doing the impossible.

In Mary Pickford's "Pollyana" two little imps are seen to dance on a large cake. This and kindred stunts (like a fairy rising out of the bowl of a man's pipe) were first done by a French cinematographer named Paul, but Americans have developed the idea. It is carried out with mirrors. At a certain angle and far enough away to make them appear tiny on the film, life-size imps dance before a mirror. With the aid of another mirror the reflection is caught by the camera at a point directly over the cake and so nicely can the matching be done that you can see the feet of the imps touch he frosting of he cake.

It seems to us there is an indecent scramble going on for the almighty dollar, considering it is worth ony 50 cents.—Memphis News Scimitar.

TARDINESS DRAWS SOVIET PENALTIES

LENIN'S DRASTIC STEP TO SPEED UP WORK OF ALL COMMITTEES.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Nikolai Lenin has taken drastic steps to speed up work at conference and committee meetings in Soviet Russia. A press announcement of a decree published in Petrograd and Moscow and reproduced from the Krasnaya Gazeta, official organ of the Petrograd Soviet of Workmen's and Red Army Deputies, given out by the State Department, which has just received it. It is headed "Tardiness" and reads:

"In order to increase the productiveness of work in all committees and conferences, both permanent and special ,and in order to put an end to careless attitude toward work, the Council of People's Commissaries has decreed:

"All persons who are permanent members of committees and conferences must appear at sittings on time.

"Those that are late, without good reason, at regular meetings, for the first time, by more than five minutes, will receive a reprimand which will be entered in the minutes of the meeting, and on the second offense will be penalized to the amount of five days' wages and a reprimand published in the press.

"Those who are late without good reason at special meetings by five minutes are fined three days' wages and reprimanded in the public press. Those that are late ten minutes are fined seven days' wages and reprimanded in the press. Those that are more than ten minutes late or do not appear at all may be subjected by the presiding officer of the meeting, in administrative procedure, to fine and public reprimand and also to compulsory work on holidays.

"Directors of institutions who are asked to send representatives to conferences, in the even of their failure so to do without good reason, are subject to fine, reprimand and compulsory labor on holidays, by order of the presiding officer of the conference. (Note—Good reasons should be communicated to the President of the Commission before the beginning of the session).

"Persons convening conferences or commissions must give proper notice of the sitting and the institution that is to delegate its representatives to this sitting must be notified twenty-four hours in advance. (Note — Only in unusual instances is it allowed to reduce the above twenty-four-hour notice, and reasons for such must be communicated by telegram in advance to the interested institution or person).

"Violation of Paragraph 5 is penalized the same as Paragraph 4.

"All responsible Directors of institutions have the duty of verifying what conferences are being convened and the members of such.

"The Soviet newspapers are instructed to give the widest possible publicity to the provisions and significance of this decree for the purpose of developing labor discipline. (Signed)

V. ULIANOV (Lenin),
"President of the Soviet of People's Commissaries."

TILTING CONTEST WAS THE BIG EVENT OF REGATTA

SECOND ANNUAL WATER SPORTS DAY DREW CROWD TO RYE'S BOAT HOUSE—RACES WERE KEENLY CONTESTED — ARRANGEMENTS EXCELLENT.

Peteroough's acquatic activities centre around and about the boat houses and boat livery of H. B. Rye, down at the turning point of the trolly line on the river. The shore of the river is lined with launches and craft moored to the landing wharves and each fine evening the devotees of water-sport come and plead with their engines to be good and not kick up, and if recalcitant go at them with monkey wrenches and screw drivers and earnest work. Likewise drop knives, pipes and other debris overboard. A gallery of sympathetic friends and a few scoffers view the proceedings. Others go off gaily.

The spot was the scene of Peterborough's Second Annual Regatta, on Saturday afternoon of last week. The Committee, to whom thanks had provided prizes for a liberal list of events. The prizes were garnered by personal olicitation from merchants and others, who thereby show any interest in the sport. The arrangements were made that the crowd could get a good view of the contests. Judge's stand, winning post floats, starting and turning bouys were all placed by Mr. Rye who does things thoroughly and willingly. His assistance makes the regatta possible.

A Large Crowd.

The day was fine. Considering that it was not a holiday the crowd that gathered was large. All enjoyed the several events, which brought to the surface many new paddlers and swimmers, for people who frisk around and in the water have ambitions. Comparing the list of winners of last year, it will be seen that those who won in 1919 are largely absent. This makes the sport all the more as that of an amateur contest which is right. The whole effort to revive our water sports deserves the strongest approval and support. Places without the facility of such a river long for just such opportunity.

A Tilting Tourney

The programme comprised nineteen events, and once started these followed in rapid succession. All were well contested. The course was short which allowed for strenuous work and gave the spectators something to look at, and the finish being opposite where the gallery congregated all had a good view. Tests of the speed of the motor boats settled several allegations as to speed, though the races were run partly out of sight, though the start and finish was in view, and that is what was wanted.

The Tilting contest developed a surprise, for it took over a half-hour to settle the hostilities. Generally the contestants are emptied out of the canoes in short order. This time they stuck to their poles until almost exhausted. It was agreed that all the tilters were level-headed and cat-footed, for to stand in a canoe opposed to a virile young man anxious to punch one over the side and at the same time return the compliment is no child's play. The survivors well won their prizes. They should go up to Stoney Lake Regatta and show the natives how the thing is done. The boys who paddled the canoes and kept the battleships afloat were equally efficient. Tilting was the star feature of the afternoon. Besides it supplied a good laugh and an excuse for much hollering. Four pairs wore one another down. To the runners-up a special prize was awarded, as a mark of esteem and respect for sticking qualities. For those who went overboard it was very wet.

The list below show the winners. The names of committee, and officials have already been published, and that is a sufficient reward. Besides if they are not here disclosed it may save them from altercation and reprimand, especially the judges. You know how it is with the umpire at a ball game. After hostilities cease he leave the country. Just as a reasonable precaution. Else he might not be around to pay his taxes, and we need the money.

It may be noted, in justice to the contestants, that a protest was lodged in the case of the men's double canoe race, by Lee and Rowe, who claimed that they were held back, by a paddle shoved into, or against their canoe. Three of the entries, once started, paddled a course diagonally across the river and bunched side by side about twenty yards from the winning post. It was unfortunate that such happened, and while there was no intention of fouling such came about. In the hurry and excitement and with inexperience of a race, such things will come about For a brief spell the three canoes were locked together. However the winners are as noted. The protest will be handed to the committee. The prize list follows:—

THE PROGRAMME.

Men's Single Canoe Race, 4 entries—1, A. M. Fitzgerald; 2, P. H. Dunford; 3, P. Nicholls. Prizes—1, double blade paddle, Canadian Canoe Co.; 2, safety razor, E. C. Elliott; 3, box of cigars, Louis Yeotes.

FORCED TO TAKE SON FROM SCHOOL

GRATEFUL MOTHER TELLS HOW TANLAC BROUGHT BACK HER BOY'S HEALTH.

"I am more grateful than I can tell you for what Tanlac has done for our boy Arthur, for it has completely restored his health and built him up wonderfully," was the statement made by Mrs. Florence Mulines of 62 Peter street, Toronto, the other day.

"His illness was brought about by the air raids. During the war we were in England, and you people here can't imagine what we went through when those terrible zeppelins and gothas came over, dropping their bombs and aerial torpedoes, and the noise of our guns trying to shoot down the German aircraft was as terrifying as though one was actually at the front. As the result of that experience, Arthur, who is just fifteen, got into a frightfully nervous condition, which affected his general health as well. We had the greatest difficulty to get him to eat, and his stomach was all upset, for he had indigestion very bad and his food formed gas and turned sour. He was always complaining of terrible headaches, and had spells of dizziness. He got into such a badly run down condition at last that we had to keep him away from school. He lost all his boyish activity and spirits, and at night would lie awake for hours. We tried everything we could think of to try and build him up and make him well, but nothing seemed to meet his case.

"Then when the war was over we came out here to Canada and heard about Tanlac, and got some for him. Very soon we noticed that he was eating much better, and sleeping soundly at night. It wasn't very long before he was playing just like other boys, and was full of life, and everybody was remarking what a wonderful change had come over him. He has gained eleven pounds in weight and is to-day a bright, healthy, happy boy. How can I help praising Tanlac, and you may be sure that I shall always recommend it whenever I get the chance."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle and Sons. (Advt.)

MR. WARD WELCOMED AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

St. John's choristers gave a hearty welcome to Mr. Tom Ward, a former chorister, yesterday, who is visiting in the city from Canton, Ohio. At the evening service the vocal duett, "Watchman! What of the Night?" was finely sung by Mr. Ward and Mr. Harold Jones. At the morning service "As Pants the Hart" (Thomas), was the offertory number, the solo and duett pleasingly rendered by Miss Quartermaine and Mr. F. Roberts. The choristers were present in goodly numbers and both services, which were for the most part choral, and effectively sung.

COUNTY ENTRANCE RESULTS SUCCESSFUL RURAL PUPILS

LIST PROVIDED BY MR. RICHARD LEES, PUBLIC SCHOOL INSPECTOR, SHOWS FEW STUDENT OBTAINED HONOURS.

The Junior High School Entrance results for the County of Peterborough have been confirmed by the Department of Education. Below are the names of the successful candidates and the school at which they were trained. Lists of marks are being mailed to those who failed and certificates will be sent to those who passed from the rural schools. Candidates from the village schools will get their certificates from the principals at the opening the school.

The county prize was won by Miss Sadie E. Young, of Lakefield. The numbers indicate the school section:

HIGH PRICE OF GAS BRINGS OUT MORE PADDLES AT STONEY

LAUNCHES APPEAR TO BE FEWER AS ECONOMY FORCES CONSIDERATION OF THE INCREASING COST OF MOTORING—CAMPING WARDROBE MUST INCLUDE SMART DANCE FROCKS THIS YEAR.

STONEY LAKE PROPERTY BOOM

(By Staff Reporter.)

"I'd never have known it was Stoney Lake had it not been for the scenery," an American visitor remarked to-day while making the return trip after spending a couple of weeks' camping. While there is doubtless little change in the general outline of the lake, due to clearing the bush and to the few new cottages which have been put up since the war there is much ground for the American's remark, as gradually much has been done to make the lakes different in many ways, especially so during the last year.

Gas Shortage.

One big change has been wrought by the gasoline shortage which has resulted in a big falling off in motor boat activities. While the gas launches are still at the lake and make their appearance occasionally, picnics aboard such have been cut down fully eighty per cent. and the young manhood and womanhood among the campers is developing very reluctantly, the paddling habit. A fair number of the campers are competing with the shortage by the use of Evinrude and disappearing propeller launches, which "get there" but which are not such heavy gas consumers.

The gasoline shortage has also effected the motor traffic and only a small percentage of the usual number of motorists come up for the week end, finding travelling on the train and boat considerably less expensive. One cottager at Kawartha Park said that his ground, used by the other campers as a sort of outdoor garage, which last year on Sundays was fairly alive with cars, is used now only by a stray motorist.

Costumes Changed.

Another forceful reminder of the fact Stoney Lake and Clear Lakes are becoming a fashionable resort lies in the changed costumes of the campers. Middies and serviceable skirts have largely given place to the smart wash satins and silk sweater coats or fluffy pull-overs, which though by all means lend a very attractive appearance have not the same look of comfort of the costumes of yesterday. No camper's baggage is complete this summer without a couple of smart outfits for the Wednesday and Saturday evening dances at the Juniper pavillion, which dances are ever increasingly popular. Due either to economy or to the absence of a barber, the campers are cultivating a somewhat patriarchal and Dundreary appearance during their vacation.

Personnel Altered.

The personnel of the cottagers and hotel guests has altered considerably, the greater number of summer residents being American, not of the "we won the war" class, but those who appreciate the beauties of nature to be found in Canada. Principally, all the conversation at the summer resorts at present is a discussion of the Presidential nominations.

Real Estate Boom.

Like everywhere else, real estate at the Lakes has boomed recently, and lots which were sold five years ago at Kawartha Park for $125 are now being picked up readily at $650. Cottages which were valued at $900 in 1914, have now advanced to $2500. Rentals have also become very high, a good cottage renting for from $60 to $125 a month, the lower prices being quoted for cottages which, through the high price of building operations, have been allowed to get run down.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 19.—Prices were irregular at the opening of the New York market to-day. Opening quotations were: Goodrich, 60 3-4 up 5-8; Texas Co., 46 1-4 up 1-4; Southern Railway, 29 1-2 up 1-4; Newhaven, 29 7-8 off 1-4; U. S. Steel, 91 1-8 off 1-2; Pan American Pet. 102 1-2 off 6; Bethlehem B., 88 1-4 off 1-2; Crucible, 151 off 1-2; Republic Iron and Steel, 89 3-4 off 1-2; U. S. Rubber, 93 up 1-4; Studebaker, 70 1-4 (unchanged); Reading, 887-8 off 1-8; Baldwin, 117 off 7-8; Gen. Motors, 24 3-4 off 1-4; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, 36 5-8 off 3-8.

Early action of the market indicated traders were still B-ears. First one group and then another were picked out and stocks were offered down. It started with motors and tires, followed with steels and finally the oils. During the first hour Pan-American got down to 101 3-8, or within 3-8 of last week's low. Mexican Pet at 189 1-2 was off 2 1-2. U. S. Rubber was off 3-4 at 92. U. S. Steel held above 90.

NEW YORK, July 19.—After raiding the market following the announcement of the lower money renewal rate, there was a rally of a point or more in the most volatile issues. Steel Common recovered a half point. After the recovery the market became extremely dull. U. S. Rubber sold down to 91 1-2, or within half of last week's low.

C.G.E. BLANK THISTLES; ONLY ONE HIT OFF ROSE

YEOTES' GANG BEATEN 3 TO 0 IN SNAPPY CITY LEAGUE FIXTURE AT RIVERSIDE PARK—USUALLY HARD-HITTING THISTLES COMPLETELY BAFFLED.

FIRST LOSS FOR KIRN

The Thistles might have dumped their bat bag into the river on their way over to Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon for all the use they made of their war clubs in the Central League fixture with the Canadian General team, which the Electricians won decisively by 3 runs to 0, thereby practically cinching the championship of the second section of the League race. Lornie Rose held the usually hard-hitting Yeotes crew to one solitary safety, a two-base swat by Stan Lowe in the last innings that came very close to being a foul, spoiling a no-hit game for the C.G.E. twirler. Rose fanned nine of the Thistles, Murray being a triple victim, and only two of the losers reached first base. Adams getting on on a fumble by Cherrett in the opening session and Lowe on his double in the seventh. The latter was the only Thistle to reach second in safety, and that was the nearest the losers came to scoring. Rose had plenty of smoke, perfect control, and a sharp-breakin, curve that fooled the Thistles completely.

It was the first shut-out of the season, and incidentally the first City League loss for Howard Kirn after five straight victories. The C.G.E. earned a run off Kirn in each of the first two innings by bunching hits, and they added a third in the fifth off Hap Harrison, who pitched the last three innings. The last counter was a gift, a fumble by Hap Wilgar on what should have been the third out sending a run in.

It was a snappy game of ball, with both teams fielding nicely. Cherrett had a couple of fast plays on slow rollers and McCarney in left field for C.G.E. gathered in a fly from Swanston's bat in nice style.

In th first for C.G.E. Cherrett singled over first base and stole second. McCarney beat out a perfect bunt, Cherrett going to third. McCarney stole second, Swanston nipping Cherrett off third by an accurate peg to Murray. McCarney scored on Corrin's infield out, Wilgar to Harrison. Holyman tossed out Ross.

In the Thistles' half Adams was safe on Cherrett's fumble, but was out trying to steal second, overrunning the bag. Lowe and Murray fanned.

C.G.E. scored another in the second. R. Rose grounded to Wilgar. Jackson singled to right centre. Frost fanned. Jackson stealing second on the third one. Collins singled to centre, scoring Jackson. L. Rose grounded to Wilgar.

Thistles went out in order—Swanston on a nice catch by McCarney, Harrison on strikes, and Shaughnessy on a foul to Ross.

The Electricians were easy in the third. Cherrett rolled to Harrison. McCarney missed three, and Corrin died on a tap to Kirn.

The Yeotes crew proved just as soft. Kirn was tossed out by Ray Rose. Holyman died on a roller in front of the plate, fielded by Ross, and Wilgar hit to Ray Rose, who got him at first.

Canadian General had a good chance in the fourth. Ross opened with a single over second. R. Rose struck out. Jackson hit to Murray, whose throw to second should have retired Ross, but Wilgar dropped the ball. Kirn got out of the hole by fanning Frost and grabbing Collins' high bounder with one hand and getting the batter at first.

For the Thistles Adams popped to Corrin, Cherret got Lowe at first by a fast play on a slow hit grounder, and Murray struck out.

Kirn and Harrison changed places in the fifth. L. Rose, the first man to face Harrison, was thrown out by Murray, but Cherrett doubled to left, the ball taking a bad hop as it reached Shaughnessy. McCarney sacrificed Cherrett to third. Corrin should have been the third out, but Wilgar missed his easy roller, and he was safe. Cherrett registering. Ross walked, but R. Rose died, Murray to Kirn.

In the Thistles' half, Cherrett threw out Swanston, McCarney grabbed Harrison's fly to left, and Shaughnessy struck out.

Both teams went out in order in the sixth. For the C.G.E., Jackson rolled to Murray, Frost fanned, and Harrison got Collins on a tap to the box.

For the Thistles Kirn and Holyman struck out and Wilgar rolled to Lornie Rose.

In the seventh, L. Rose died, Wilgar to Kirn. Cherrett was retired on strikes. McCarney singled to right, but died stealing.

In the Thistles' half, Adams was out, Cherrett to Corrin. Lowe spoiled a no-hit game by doubling to left, but Murray fanned and Swanston did likewise, the last strike hitting him after he swung at the ball.

THE FIRST GAME.

The first game, in which the War Veterans were beaten 14 to 4 by the Canadian Woollens, was a weird affair and there was a sigh of relief from weary fans when the game was finally called at the end of the sixth. The Veterans were shy over half of their regulars and had to pick up two or three men at the last moment and borrow Lefty McClintock from the Woollens to complete a line-up.

Under the circumstances they performed as well as could be expected. Woollens bunched five hits with a flock of errors and two bases on balls in the first innings for seven runs, and came back with three in the second. The losers steadied down and blanked the winners for three innings, but in the sixth the Mulhall gang bagged four more. The Vets scored three in the first and one in the third. Heenan pitched good ball for the winners, allowing only five hits. Altogether the two teams managed to pile up eighteen errors in six innings, which is a good criterion of the style of ball played. RUTH STILL HAS 61 GAMES IN WHICH TO ADD TO HIS RECORD.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Now that Babe Ruth has equaled his home run record, the guessing on the figure which he will reach in the current campaign takes on new interest. There is no way to get a real line on what the king of sluggers will accomplish owing to the fact that, as home runs increase, so do passes from opposing pitchers, and his opportunities will be restricted to a great extent, more so than in the past. It seems next to certain, however, that Ruth will go beyond forty home runs this season and possibly he may pass the half century mark, as the Yankees have sixty-one more games to play this season. On this date last year Ruth had only eleven circuit drives to his credit and he added eighteen during the latter part of the season. Ruth got his twenty-ninth home run last season on Sept. 27 against Pitcher Jordan of the Washington team at Washington.

MUST BEAT PETERBOROUGH.

Fans should turn out in hundreds to see the game next Wednesday afternoon between Peterborough and Lindsay, says the Lindsay Warder. The Petes and the Greybirds have ever been rivals, and are just as much so to-day as they ever were.

If there is one team in the league Lindsay must defeat it is the Peterborough nine. That goes without saying. Consequently it should be a great game.

Fans have not been patronizing the team as well as they might, but the Peterborough attraction should bring out a bumper crop of fans.

FOOTBALL EXECUTIVE MEETING TO-NIGHT

A special meeting will be held to-night in Mr. Fred. Sutcliffe's barber shop at 7.30 prompt.

CLEVELAND AND YANKEES BEGIN CRUCIAL SERIES ON WEDNESDAY

SPEAKER'S TRIBE HAVE THE EDGE ON YANKS, WINNING FIVE OF EIGHT GAMES PLAYED THIS YEAR.

(By Ernest J. Lanigan.)

July's most crucial series, from present indications, will be that fought in Gotham between the Yankees and the Indians, starting Wednesday, the 21st, and continuing for four days. The two teams have met eight times this year, and at present the westerners have the edge on the easterners, five games to three. There was an even division of the spoils in the first set, and the Tribe captured three out of four decisions in the second. In each Cleveland defeat the Indians failed to get a run, Shawkey keeping them from the plate twice, and Quinn doing so once. The Yanks also have been blanked, Coveleskie turning the trick.

The games between the two pennant contenders thus far have been mighty speculiar, and the dope shows that the two are most evenly matched, though the games, most of them, have been lop-sided. The two close battles were those of May 15, when Jack Quinn beat Stanley Coveleskie, 2 to 0, and June 12, when Ray Caldwell beat Coveleskie's conqueror, 5 to 4. Look at the other side of the picture, the games that haven't been close:

Cleveland Victories.

May 16—8 to 2, Bagby against Mays.

May 19—5 to 0, Coveleskie against Mogridge.

June 14—7 to 1, Coveleskie against Thormahlen.

June 15—10 to 2, Bagby against Mays.

New York Victories.

May 18—11 to 0, Shawkey against Myers.

June 13—14 to 0, Shawkey against Uhle.

Naps' Hitting.

The Indians have hit for .292 in the series, and the Yankees for .268, certain pitchers being remarkably effective and certain pitchers being remarkably ineffective. Coveleskie has pitched .167 ball, Shawkey .234, Quinn .233, Bagby .238, Caldwell .258, Mogridge .286, Faeth .393, Shore .333, Myers .355, Collins .360, Thormahlen .377, Mays .471, and Uhle .545.

OSHAWA AND ONTARIOS WIN

PORT HOPE VICTORIOUS FOR THE FIRST TIME THIS SEASON—OSHAWA BEAT COBOURG.

OSHAWA, July 17.—In a Central Ontario League game here this afternoon, Oshawa defeated Cobourg, 10 to 4. The scrap was interesting for the first six innings, but in the seventh Oshawa chased four runs across and two in the eighth, while Cobourg came back with three in the ninth. Clark, pitching for the losers, got poor support.

PORT HOPE, July 17.—Port Hope broke into the win column to-day for the first time this season, when they defeated Lindsay by a score of 9 to 6. Batteries, Lindsay, McElory and Coombs; Port Hope, McDonald and Chalk.

BENEFIT BALL GAME FOR SMOKE

DELORO TEAM WILL MEET THE PETERBORO CENTRAL LEAGUE TEAM ON SATURDAY.

The City League games called for Saturday afternoon has been postponed and instead the fans will have an opportunity of seeing the Peterbor Central League team in action against Deloro, the undefeated leaders of the Trent Valley League in an exhibition game, the proceeds of which will be turned over to help pay the expenses of Albert Smoke, Peterboro's representative on the Canadian Olympic team. Deloro have a nice snappy ball club, beating the Petes several weeks ago in an exhibition game on their own grounds. Kirn, Rose and Harrison all worked three innings against the Trent Valley Leaguers and they worked their delivery for eight runs, while the best the Petes could get was eight. The Refiners haven't lost a game this season and they should provide a fine battle on Saturday. Riverside Park is being given free of charge for the day and the ball fans are asked to turn out and help swell the Olympic fund.

GAME POSTPONED.

At the request of the Oshawa golf team, the game which was arranged to be played there on Thursday next, has been postponed for a week or two at the request of the Oshawa club. Members will receive due notice of the game when the new arrangements are made.

BIG BENEFIT FIELD DAY FOR RUNNER

FOOTBALL GAME ON THURSDAY—OTHER ATTRACTIONS.

The arrangements for the benefit football game and exhibition run for Albert Smoke to be held at the Exhibition grounds on Thursday afternoon by the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association are going forward. The arrangements with the G. W.V.A. Band have not been completed, but it is expected that a pipe band will be present.

In the exhibition run by Smoke six local men will compete against him as a relay. The race will be 3 miles.

The Football Association executive is meeting to-night to make the final arrangements for the football match.

Benefit Baseball Game.

This morning Gordon Matthews and Jake Solomon offered to put on a benefit game between the Peterborough Central League team and the Deloro Mines team on Saturday afternoon in Smoke's interests and this offer was accepted. This will be the only baseball game in the city on Saturday afternoon and should draw a large crowd. The Association hopes that on account of the fact that it is a benefit game in such a worthy cause that the proprietor of Riverside park will grant the free use of the grounds.

TWO GIRLS CAUGHT SMUGGLING LIQUOR

BODIES WERE TOO PLUMP TO PASS EAGLE EYES OF OFFICERS.

BURLINGTON, Vt., July 19.—Because United States' immigration officers thought their bodies too plump for their faces, Alein Rimmard, Eva R. Boyer and Margot Deperes, Montreal, were held and examined at the border while attempting to enter the United States. In consequence they are to be arraigned on the charge of smuggling spirits into the land of the 18th amendment.

The Misses Rimmard and Boyer were spoted at Newport, Vermont. The matron of the immigration office, who searched them, found that each carried two cans of a gallon each, containing high class wines, in specially constructed skirts.

About the waist of each girl, say the immigration people, was another specially devised garment with many pockets. In these waists each had eight pints of high wines.

Miss Deperes was arraigned under similar circumstances at Richmond, the officials say.

QUEBEC, July 19.—The last of Czechs-Slovak troops stationed at Valcartier Camp numbering about thirty-five hundred entrained last night for Halifax when they will sail for Europe. Previous to their departure Brigadier-General Landry commanding M. D. No. 5, presented them with two flags of Dominion as souvenirs of their stay in Canada.

Bombs for use with air machines originally weighed 20 pounds, but at the end of the war the largest weighed as much as a ton and a half.

CENTRAL LEAGUERS PRACTICE TO-NIGHT

The Peterboro Central League team will practice at Riverside Park to-night. This will be the last practice before the Lindsay game on Wednesday and a full turnout is expected.

DAMAGE SLIGHT.

Electric Storm Did Little Harm to City's Power System.

Considering the severity of last night's storm, very little damage was done to the electric light system in the city and to date only a few fuses have been reported knocked out of commission, and one switch at the sub-station out.

Of course, Mr. H. D. Fiske stated, by evening there will probably be numerous complaints of light out due to burned fuses, as with the general public, such complaints are left over till the last thing in the evening when the men have practically all gone off duty.

In ordinary cases where a fuse goes out or any trouble results from the storm, every precaution is taken by the Hydro, and should the storm occur in the night, repairs are left over until the first thing in the morning, although the management is insistently called to the neighborhood where trouble has been caused, by householders evidently valuing their light more highly than the safety of the repair men. Mr. Fiske said that he would advise all persons to lay in a stock of wax candles for the summer as a precaution against damage which may occur to the lighting system during the next four months.

MEXICAN SOCIETY GIRLS IN GOLDWYN PICTURE

Two charming girls of high social standing in the City of Mexico recently left their country to visit friends in Los Angeles. They are Miss Josephine Pena and her sister, Miss Maria Pena. A third sister married the Mexican consul to Belgium and a fourth, the Mexican consul to Bolivia. The Misses Pena have never played in motion pictures, that is professionally, but through the medium of influential Mexican friends in Los Angeles, they obtained permission to visit the Goldwyn Studios while Geraldine Farrar was playing in her latest picture, "The Woman and the Puppet." They were asked to join the Spanish actresses used in the Spanish plaza scene and play for the first tme in motion pitcures. The Misses Pena were enthusiastic. Director Reginald Barker told the studio wardrobe designer that these well known Mexican girls must be given distinctive costumes, so in the photoplay they appear in dainty white lace mantillas which form a high headdress and extend to the hems of their satin gowns. All the other ladies wear black mantillas, characteristic of the middle class women of Spain, but the white mantilla is a mark of high and noble birth.

"The Woman and the Puppet" will be shown at the Allen Theatre, beginning to-day.

FIRST ONIONS FROM SPAIN SINCE DAYS OF 1914 SEASON

For the first time since the commencement of the war onions grown in Spain have been brought to America and the wholesalers contend that there is every reason to believe that Europe has more fruit and vegetables on hand than she will consume, which condition will eventually result in a much lower price in America presently.

Potatoes are still high in price in the city retailing at $4.50 a bushel. Crop reports at the wholesale houses indicate a splendid crop acreage in Canada, while the United States is 20 per cent short and ready to handle Canada's surplus. Beets, carrots and cabbage are coming in freely retailing at five cents a bunch for the former two and about thirty cents for cabbage.

Heavy Canning.

Due to the heavy canning being done at the wholesale canneries the supply for the public is comparatively limited and by the end of this week there will be practically off the market. They have already advanced in price, an eleven quart basket wholesaling at $1.85 retailing at $2.25. The quality of the fruit is the best in years. Raspberries are commencing to appear on the local market and are selling from 30 to 35 cents a box, gossberries at 30 cents a quart and red currants at 20 cents a box.

So far the high price of sugar has not effected the sale of fresh fruit in any way and as much is being retailed this year as at any former time.

GIRL STARVED AND KICKED BY UNCLE

CRUELTY CHARGE LAID AGAINST TORONTO MAN—WHIPPED HIS YOUNG NIECE.

TORONTO, July 19.—To be whipped, kicked and hand-cuffed and left for hours in a cellar, her only food a cup of water and a dry crust of bread: such was the experience of eight-year-old Alice Budd at the hands of her uncle, William Farr, Ivy avenue. Farr is in custody on a charge of cruelty, and comes up in the Juvenile Court this morning.

The child's story is a sordid one. It is to the effect that she was routed from her bed about 5 o'clock Saturday morning by Farr, so that she might assist in preparing for the departure of Farr and his wife on a pleasure trip. She asked for something to eat, and promptly was disciplined by Farr by being kicked. Farr is then alleged to have carried the girl to the cellar, and having procured a pair of heavy steel army handcuffs, fastened her by the ankles to the banisters of the staircase, whipped her across the almost naked back with a whip, and thrown her, a pitiful, screaming object to the cellar floor. On leaving the house, so that the death of the child should not be at his door, he is alleged to have placed a dry husk of bread and a cup of water on the cellar steps for the tot to partake of.

Somewhat recovered from the terrible lashing inflicted upon her, the girl strove to free herself. Her hands had been left untied, so that she might reach the spare food and drink set for her, and with these she managed to unlace one of her boots, take off one, and slide the steel anklet from her foot. This allowed the chain of the handcuff to fall free of the banisters and so the child gained her freedom. She then sat on the verandah. Neighbors observed her crying, inquired, learned her story and called P. C. Waghorne. Waghorne took the child to the house of a resident nearby, where she was given her fill of eatables. When a piece of bread and butter was set before her, the police say, the child remarked naively, pointing to the butter:

Never Saw Butter Before.

"What is that yellow stuff?" When questioned, she stated that she had never seen butter before.

Farr was arrested on his return at 11 o'clock Saturday night. When taken to Pape Avenue station he is said to have admitted whipping the child because she asked for something to eat. Farr is 27 years of age, a returned soldier, and he took over the care of his niece when the child's parents separated some time ago. The child was also taken to the station, where the remaining handcuff was filed from her ankle.

The residents of Ivy Avenue are up in arms over the occurrence, and only the arrest of Farr prevented a hostile demonstration on the street Saturday night.

WEDDING BELLS

TANNER—HINCHCLIFFE.

A very pretty wedding took place at 7.00 o'clock this morning in St. John's Church when Miss Elinor Hinchcliffe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hinchcliffe, 553 Chamberlain St., was united in matrimony to Mr. William Tanner, of Kingston, Rev. Archdeacon Davidson officiating. The witnesses to the ceremony were Rev. Robert Pogue and Mr. J. W. Tully. The bride wore a costume of midnight blue satin with vestee of filet lace and hat to match and wore a corsage bouquet of roses. The young couple left on the 7.45 train for Toronto and on their return will reside in Kingston.

The wedding march was played by Mr. Devey, who also rang the chimes.

OBITUARY

LOLA M. CLEGG.

The death occurred last night of Lola Mary Clegg, the 10-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell Clegg, 266 George street.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. Service at the house at 3 o'clock. Rev. James Rollins will officiate.

MRS. JANE GIFFORD.

The death occurred on Saturday of Mrs. Jane Gifford at the Protestant Home.

Funeral will take place to Port Hope, leaving by motor at noon.

DAVID HANNA.

The death occurred at Manvers on July 15, 1920, of David Hanna, aged 67 years. Besides a sorrowing wife he leaves one son, James at home, and two daughters, Isabell and Lillian. His eldest son, Albert, died on Feb. 26, 1920, in Galt Hospital, Lethbridge, Alberta.

In religion he was a Presbyterian. Rev. Mr. Walker of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. Mr. Beckel, of the Methodist church, conducted the funeral service.

WILLIAM BYERS.

The death occurred last night of William Byers at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Robert Johnson, 156 Douro street, Ashburnham.

The deceased was born in Cavan Township, 87 years ago, and with the exception of 11 years, which he spent in the West, had resided in this district all his life. He is survived by five sons, Robert, David, William and Egerton, of Saskatchewan, and James, of Rochester, N.Y.; three daughters, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Peterboro; Mrs. J. W. White, Bailieboro, and Mrs. Melvin Barbery, Detroit, Mich.; nine brothers, Robert, of Bethany; David, of Peterboro; Charles, of Regina; Josiah and Albert, of Toronto, and Joseph, James, Levi and Lewis, of Bailieboro; and also by two sisters, Mrs. John Graham, of Pontypool, and Mrs. Reid, of Toronto. Deceased's wife predeceased him 24 years ago.

The funeral will be held from his daughter's residence, 156 Douro street, to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the service being at the house at 1 o'clock. Rev. J. A. MacKenzie will officiate.

HOSANNA BRIOUX.

Death claimed another victim on Saturday afternoon in the person of Hosanna Brioux, who resided at No. 70, Park street. The deceased, who was in his sixty-third year, has been suffering from ill-health for some time, but with apparently no immediate danger. It was with a shock, therefore, that the word of his sudden passing came to those who loved him.

He leaves a sorrowing wife, one brother, Mr. Thomas Brioux, of this city, and three sisters, Mrs. Celina Rishea, Mrs. Melina Barrete, of Peterboro, and Mrs. Belinese Guerin, of Montreal.

The funeral will take place to-morrow morning from his residence to the Church of the Sacred Heart, and thence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

HAY CROP SUFFERING.

Mr. A. A. Knight, District Representative of Agriculture, reports that he never saw crops in Victoria County looking so good at this time of the year. "Of course," he remarked, "there are some poor fields, but on the whole the crops are looking fine and the prospects are for a bountiful harvest. The only crop suffering from the rain is the hay crop."

AIRPLANE LANDING STAGE ON HOTEL ASTOR ROOF

NEW YORK, July 19.—An airplane landing stage—the first on Manhattan Island—will be constructed upon the roof of the Hotel Astor, it was announced here to-day. Plans for the platform, it was stated, are being prepared by architects and engineers, and, when completed, will provide for a landing stage, runaways and take-off.

WANY WOUNDED IN STREET FIGHTING

CORK'S NIGHT OF TERROR—TWO LORRIES OF SOLDIERS BOMBED.

(Canadian Press)

CORK, July 19.—Two military lorries loaded with soldiers, which passed through the streets of Cork at 3 o'clock this morning, were attacked by civilians with bombs and were blown up. Between sixty and seventy soldiers were injured. Twenty-nine bombs were thrown. This attack followed a night of terror into which the city was plunged as a result of street fighting, in which Sinn Feiners and the military participated. Two men were killed and some forty injured in gun fighting which brought the total of casualties well over the hundred mark. Sinn Feiners used guerilla tactics, which had been outlined in plan of campaign of republican army.

Commissioner Shot.

BELFAST, July 18.—Commissioner Smyth of the Royal Irish Constabulary was shot dead in the Country Club at Cork last night by 14 armed men, who forced their way past the doormen. Smith was found by the intruders sitting with friends, one of them District Inspector Craig. Several of the men fired point blank at Commissioner Smyth, who rose but fell dead while endeavoring to reach the door. Mr. Craig was wounded during the fighting and returned to the Divisional Commissioner for the Munster Royal Irish Constabulary. It is reported that some arrests have been made in connection with the shooting.

Smyth was a captain of the Fifteen Sikihs during the war, and won the Victoria Cross. He lost his left arm during the fusillade. Mr. Smith was England with the rank of Colonel. He received his Commissionership a few months ago.

To Shoot With Effect.

Mr. Smyth's name figured prominently in the House of Commons during the past week in connection with a speech made to the police at Listowell, County Kerry, June 19, in which it was declared he ordered his men not to be afraid to shoot with effect. He had just returned to Ireland from London, where he gave the IrishOffice an explanation of affairs in Ireland.

BURNED TO DEATH NEAR BELLEVILLE

BELLEVILLE, Ont., July 19.—Mr. Dow Munn, an elderly bachelor, lost his life at an early hour on Saturday morning, when his brother's dwelling in Sidney Township was destroyed by fire. Mystery surrounds the origin of the fire in Mr Charles Munn's place. A young son of the latter was awakened by the odor of smoke and he aroused the inmates. His uncle was asleep upstairs where the fire originated. Later, when an attempt was made to go up stairs for Munn it was impossible to do so, and he perished. The loss is estimated at $4,000, partially covered by insurance. Munn was 72 years of age, and was a native of Sidney Township.

TWO KILLED IN AIRPLANE

TULSA, Okla., July 19. — Albert W. Newsom, Union Point, Ga., and Robert A. Midkiff, an adopted son of Madame Schumann-Heink, the prima donna, and son of a minister at Decatur, Illinois, were killed instantly in an airplane fall here Saturday. According to reports, the machine was manoeuvring for a landing when one of the wings suddenly dropped off and the plane fell about 3500 feet.

Canadian Railway Employees Share in Big Wage Award

Big Wage Increase

U.S. RAILWAY LABOUR BOARD AWARD $600,000,000 TO ORGANIZED RAILWAY WORKERS.

2,000,000 MEN SHARE IT

(Canadian Press)

CHICAGO, July 20.—The U. S. Railway Labor Board today awarded nearly two million organized railway workers wage increases totalling six hundred million dollars. The increase amounts to practically twenty-one per cent. of present rates of pay.

Demanded a Billion.

The railway workers had demanded wage increases aggregating $1,100,000,000. It forms the climax to eighteen months of insistent demands by the railway men. The outlaw strike last April, which paralyzed transportation in Chicago and New York, and in a lesser degree, in other important railway centres, was declared by brotherhood officials to be due to a delay in the granting of the wage increases.

The Railway Board's announcement represents the months of painstaking labour. Thousands of schedules presented by the workers were considered. An express car was required to carry the records to Chicago to aid the Board in its deliberations.

Award Retroactive.

The award is retroactive to May 1 of this year. Increases follow:

Passenger service — Engineers, firemen, motormen, helpers, 80 cents day.

Freight service—Engineers, firemen, helpers, conductors, flagmen, brakemen, $1.04 day.

Yard service—Engineers, firemen, helpers, 18 cents hour.

Passenger service — Conductors, ticket collectors, baggagemen, flagmen and brakemen, $30 month.

Suburban passenger employees, $30 month.
